NOTE 2 - GOING CONCERN

The Company's consolidated financial statements are prepared using generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. However, the Company does not have significant cash or other material assets, nor does it have an established source of revenues sufficient to cover its operating costs. Additionally, the Company has accumulated significant losses, has negative working capital, and a deficit in stockholders' equity. All of these items raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. The Company has expanded its product line to include three additional educational labs, which they believe will significantly boost future revenues. The Company also intends to continue offerings of its common stock to raise the capital necessary to cover operating costs not provided for by current revenues. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to successfully accomplish this plan and to eventually attain profitable operations. The accompanying consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.
