Forward-Looking Statements and Qualifications

Statements in this report (or those made during the March 24, 2004 investor presentation) that are not strictly historical are forward-looking and are based upon current expectations and assumptions of management. Statements included herein (or therein), as well as statements made by or on behalf of PXRE in its communications and discussions with investors and analysts in the normal course of business through meetings, phone calls and conference calls, which are not historical in nature are intended to be, and are hereby identified as, "forward-looking statements" for purposes of the safe harbor provided by Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as amended. These forward-looking statements, identified by words such as "anticipate," "expect," "outlook," or variations of such words or similar expressions, are based upon current expectations and are subject to risk and uncertainties. PXRE cautions investors and analysts that actual results or events could differ materially from those set forth or implied by the forward-looking statements and related assumptions, depending on the outcome of certain important factors including, but not limited to, the following: (i) significant catastrophe losses or losses under other coverages, the timing and extent of which are difficult to predict; (ii) changes in the level of competition in the reinsurance or primary insurance markets that impact the volume or profitability of business (these changes include, but are not limited to, the intensification of price competition, the entry of new competitors, existing competitors exiting the market and competitors' development of new products); (iii) the lowering or loss of one of the financial or claims paying ratings of PXRE's or one or more of PXRE's subsidiaries; (iv) changes in the demand for reinsurance, including changes in the amount of risk that PXRE's clients elect to maintain for their own account; (v) adverse development on loss reserves related to business written in current and prior years; (vi) lower than estimated retrocessional recoveries on unpaid losses, including the effects of losses due to a decline in the creditworthiness of PXRE's retrocessionaires; (vii) increases in interest rates, which cause a reduction in the market value of PXRE's interest rate sensitive investments, including its fixed income investment portfolio and potential underperformance in PXRE's finite coverages; (viii) decreases in interest rates causing a reduction of income earned on net cash flow from operations and the reinvestment of the proceeds from sales, calls or maturities of existing investments and shortfalls in cash flows necessary to pay fixed rate amounts due to finite contract counterparties; (ix) market fluctuations with respect to PXRE's portfolio of hedge funds and other privately held securities: liquidity risk, credit risk and market risk; (x) foreign currency fluctuations resulting in exchange gains or losses; (xi) a contention by the United States Internal Revenue Service that PXRE or PXRE's offshore subsidiaries are subject to U.S. taxation; and (xii) changes in tax laws, tax treaties, tax rules and interpretations. In addition to the factors outlined above that are directly related to PXRE's business, PXRE is also subject to general business risks, including, but not limited to, adverse state, federal or foreign legislation and regulation, adverse publicity or news coverage, changes in general economic factors, the loss of key employees and other factors set forth in PXRE's SEC filings. The factors listed above should not be construed as exhaustive. Therefore, actual results or outcomes may differ materially from what is expressed or forecasted in such forward-looking statements.

PXRE undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events (including catastrophe events), or otherwise.
