Item 1.01 Conflict Minerals Disclosure and Report

Insulet Corporation (the “Company”) has determined that conflict minerals (as defined in Item 1.01(d)(3) of Form SD) are necessary to the functionality or the production of products that were contracted to be manufactured for the Company during the 2014 calendar year. Accordingly, the Company conducted in good faith a reasonable country of origin inquiry (“RCOI”) that was reasonably designed to determine whether any of those conflict minerals originated in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (the “DRC”) or any adjoining country (as defined in Item 1.01(d)(1) of Form SD), or were from recycled or scrap sources (as defined in Item 1.01(d)(6) of Form SD).

Conflict Minerals Disclosure

Based on the Company’s RCOI, the Company has reason to believe that some of the necessary conflict minerals in products contracted to be manufactured for the Company during 2014 originated in the DRC or an adjoining country and may not be from recycled or scrap sources. Accordingly, the Company is filing the attached Conflict Minerals Report, which describes the Company’s due diligence efforts that have been undertaken in connection with attempting to determine the source of the conflict minerals in such products. The Company has no reason to believe, based upon its due diligence efforts, that any such conflict minerals in its products directly or indirectly finance or benefit armed groups (as defined in Item 1.01(d)(2) of Form SD) in the DRC or an adjoining country.

The Company’s Conflict Minerals Report has been posted on the Company’s Internet website, and can be found <http://files.shareholder.com/downloads/AMDA-HCNX4/242482367x0x758584/4C06C927-229D-4B13-82A0-B615DB46B311>
