Table of Contents*ROCKWELL AUTOMATION, INC.NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS(Unaudited)*1. Basis of Presentation and Accounting Policies

In the opinion of management of Rockwell Automation, Inc. (the Company or Rockwell Automation), the unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements contain all adjustments necessary to present fairly the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the periods presented and, except as otherwise indicated, such adjustments consist only of those of a normal recurring nature. These statements should be read in conjunction with our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2011. The results of operations for the three month period ended December 31, 2011 are not necessarily indicative of the results for the full year. All date references to years and quarters herein refer to our fiscal year and fiscal quarter unless otherwise stated.

Receivables

Receivables are stated net of allowances for doubtful accounts of $28.5 million at December 31, 2011 and $26.1 million at September 30, 2011. In addition, receivables are stated net of an allowance for certain customer returns, rebates and incentives of $9.5 million at December 31, 2011 and $8.0 million at September 30, 2011.

Short-term Investments

Short-term investments include time deposits and certificates of deposit with original maturities of more than three months but no more than one year at the time of purchase. These investments are stated at cost, which approximates fair value.

Earnings Per Share

The following table reconciles basic and diluted earnings per share (EPS) amounts (in millions, except per share amounts):

9. Derivative Instruments and Fair Value Measurement

We use foreign currency forward exchange contracts to manage certain foreign currency risks. We enter into these contracts to offset changes in the amount of future cash flows associated with certain third-party and intercompany transactions denominated in foreign currencies expected to occur within the next two years (cash flow hedges). Certain of our locations have assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than their functional currencies resulting from intercompany loans and other transactions with third parties denominated in foreign currencies. We also enter into foreign currency forward exchange contracts that we do not designate as hedging instruments to offset the transaction gains or losses associated with some of these assets and liabilities.

We value our forward exchange contracts using a market approach. We use an internally developed valuation model based on inputs including forward and spot prices for currency and interest rate curves. We did not change our valuation techniques during the three months ended December 31, 2011. The notional values of our forward exchange contracts outstanding at December 31, 2011 were $860.9 million, of which $661.3 million were designated as cash flow hedges. Currency pairs (buy/sell) comprising the most significant contract notional values were United States dollar (USD)/euro, USD/Canadian dollar, Swiss franc/USD, Swiss franc/Canadian dollar and USD/Singapore dollar.

We also use foreign currency denominated debt obligations to hedge portions of our net investments in non-U.S. subsidiaries. The currency effects of the debt obligations are reflected in accumulated other comprehensive loss within shareholders' equity where they offset gains and losses recorded on our net investments globally. At December 31, 2011 we had $14.1 million of foreign currency denominated debt designated as net investment hedges.

U.S. GAAP defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (exit price) in an orderly transaction between market participants in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability. U.S. GAAP also classifies the inputs used to measure fair value into the following hierarchy:

Level 1: Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, or inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

Approximately $4.7 million ($2.9 million net of tax) of net unrealized gains on cash flow hedges as of December 31, 2011 will be reclassified into earnings during the next 12 months. We expect that these net unrealized gains will be offset when the hedged items are recognized in earnings.

The pre-tax amount of (losses) gains reclassified from accumulated other comprehensive loss into the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations related to derivative forward exchange contracts designated as cash flow hedges, which offset the related gains (losses) on the hedged items during the periods presented, was:

Various lawsuits, claims and proceedings have been or may be instituted or asserted against us relating to the conduct of our business, including those pertaining to product liability, environmental, safety and health, intellectual property, employment and contract matters. Although the outcome of litigation cannot be predicted with certainty and some lawsuits, claims or proceedings may be disposed of unfavorably to us, we believe the disposition of matters that are pending or have been asserted will not have a material adverse effect on our business or financial condition.

We (including our subsidiaries) have been named as a defendant in lawsuits alleging personal injury as a result of exposure to asbestos that was used in certain components of our products many years ago. Currently there are a few thousand claimants in lawsuits that name us as defendants, together with hundreds of other companies. In some cases, the claims involve products from divested businesses, and we are indemnified for most of the costs. However, we have agreed to defend and indemnify asbestos claims associated with products manufactured or sold by our former Dodge mechanical and Reliance Electric motors and motor repair services businesses prior to their divestiture by us, which occurred on January 31, 2007. We are also responsible for half of the costs and liabilities associated with asbestos cases against the former Rockwell International Corporation's (RIC's) divested measurement and flow control business. But in all cases, for those claimants who do show that they worked with our products or products of divested businesses for which we are responsible, we nevertheless believe we have meritorious defenses, in substantial part due to the integrity of the products, the encapsulated nature of any asbestos-containing components, and the lack of any impairing medical condition on the part of many claimants. We defend those cases vigorously. Historically, we have been dismissed from the vast majority of these claims with no payment to claimants.

Edgar Filing: ROCKWELL AUTOMATION INC - Form 10-Q

We have maintained insurance coverage that we believe covers indemnity and defense costs, over and above self-insured retentions, for claims arising from our former Allen-Bradley subsidiary. Following litigation against Nationwide Indemnity Company (Nationwide) and Kemper Insurance (Kemper), the insurance carriers that provided liability insurance coverage to Allen-Bradley, we entered into separate agreements on April 1, 2008 with both insurance carriers to further resolve responsibility for ongoing and future coverage of Allen-Bradley asbestos claims. In exchange for a lump sum payment, Kemper bought out its remaining liability and has been released from further insurance obligations to Allen-Bradley. Nationwide entered into a cost share agreement with us to pay the substantial majority of future defense and indemnity costs for Allen-Bradley asbestos claims. We believe that this arrangement with Nationwide will continue to provide coverage for Allen-Bradley asbestos claims throughout the remaining life of the asbestos liability.

The uncertainties of asbestos claim litigation make it difficult to predict accurately the ultimate outcome of asbestos claims. That uncertainty is increased by the possibility of adverse rulings or new legislation affecting asbestos claim litigation or the settlement process. Subject to these uncertainties and based on our experience defending asbestos claims, we do not believe these lawsuits will have a material adverse effect on our financial condition.

We have, from time to time, divested certain of our businesses. In connection with these divestitures, certain lawsuits, claims and proceedings may be instituted or asserted against us related to the period that we owned the businesses, either because we agreed to retain certain liabilities related to these periods or because such liabilities fall upon us by operation of law. In some instances, the divested business has assumed the liabilities; however, it is possible that we might be responsible to satisfy those liabilities if the divested business is unable to do so.

In connection with the spin-offs of our former automotive component systems business, semiconductor systems business and Rockwell Collins avionics and communications business, the spun-off companies have agreed to indemnify us for substantially all contingent liabilities related to the respective businesses, including environmental and intellectual property matters.

In connection with the sale of our Dodge mechanical and Reliance Electric motors and motor repair services businesses, we agreed to indemnify Baldor Electric Company for costs and damages related to certain legal, legacy environmental and asbestos matters of these businesses arising before January 31, 2007, for which the maximum exposure would be capped at the amount received for the sale.

In many countries we provide a limited intellectual property indemnity as part of our terms and conditions of sale. We also at times provide limited intellectual property indemnities in other contracts with third parties, such as contracts concerning the development and manufacture of our products, the divestiture of businesses and the licensing of intellectual property. Due to the number of agreements containing such provisions, we are unable to estimate the maximum potential future payments.

13. Income Taxes

At the end of each interim period, we estimate a base effective tax rate that we expect for the full fiscal year based on our most recent forecast of pre-tax income, permanent book and tax differences and global tax planning strategies. We use this base rate to provide for income taxes on a year-to-date basis, excluding the effect of significant unusual or extraordinary items and items that are reported net of their related tax effects. We record the tax effect of significant unusual or extraordinary items and items that are reported net of their tax effects in the period in which they occur.

The effective tax rate for the quarter ended December 31, 2011 was 24.5 percent. The effective rate was lower than the U.S. statutory rate of 35 percent because we benefited from lower non-U.S. tax rates.

The amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits was $75.7 million ($30.8 million net of offsetting tax benefits) at December 31, 2011 and $75.1 million ($30.2 million net of offsetting tax benefits) at September 30, 2011. These unrecognized tax benefits would reduce our effective tax rate if recognized. Offsetting tax benefits primarily consist of tax receivables and deposits that were recorded in other assets and a foreign tax credit item that was recorded in deferred income taxes.

There was no material change in the amount of unrecognized tax benefits in the first three months of 2012. We believe it is reasonably possible that the amount of unrecognized tax benefits could be reduced by up to $9.3 million and the amount of offsetting tax benefits could be reduced by up to $0.9 million during the next 12 months as a result of the resolution of worldwide tax matters and the lapses of statutes of limitations.

We recognize interest and penalties related to tax matters in tax expense. Accrued interest and penalties were $18.9 million and $16.9 million at December 31, 2011 and at September 30, 2011, respectively.

We conduct business globally and are routinely audited by the various tax jurisdictions in which we operate. We are no longer subject to U.S. federal income tax examinations for years before 2009 and are no longer subject to state, local and foreign income tax examinations for years before 2003.

Interest expense	(15.0)	(14.8)
Income tax provision	(59.6)	(36.6)

Among other considerations, we evaluate performance and allocate resources based upon segment operating earnings before income taxes, interest expense, costs related to corporate offices, certain nonrecurring corporate initiatives, gains and losses from the disposition of businesses and incremental acquisition related expenses resulting from purchase accounting adjustments such as intangible asset amortization, depreciation, inventory and purchased research and development charges. Depending on the product, intersegment sales within a single legal entity are either at cost or cost plus a mark-up, which does not necessarily represent a market price. Sales between legal entities are at an appropriate transfer price. We allocate costs related to shared segment operating activities to the segments using a methodology consistent with the expected benefit.

In the United States, Canada and certain other countries, we sell primarily through independent distributors in conjunction with our direct sales force. In the remaining countries, we sell through a combination of our direct sales force and to a lesser extent, through independent distributors. Sales to our largest distributor in the three months ended December 31, 2011 and 2010 were approximately 10 percent of our total sales.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Shareowners of Rockwell Automation, Inc.

Milwaukee, Wisconsin

We have reviewed the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheet of Rockwell Automation, Inc. and subsidiaries (the Company) as of December 31, 2011, and the related condensed consolidated statements of operations and cash flows for the three-month periods ended December 31, 2011 and 2010. These condensed consolidated interim financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management.

We conducted our reviews in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our reviews, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to such condensed consolidated interim financial statements for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We have previously audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the consolidated balance sheet of Rockwell Automation, Inc. and subsidiaries as of September 30, 2011, and the related consolidated statements of operations, cash flows, shareowners' equity, and comprehensive income (loss) for the year then ended (not presented herein); and in our report dated November 14, 2011, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheet as of September 30, 2011 is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the consolidated balance sheet from which it has been derived.

Overview

We are a leading global provider of industrial automation power, control and information solutions that help manufacturers achieve a competitive advantage for their businesses. Overall demand for our products and services is driven by:

investments in manufacturing, including upgrades, modifications, and expansions of existing facilities or production lines, and the creation of new facilities or production lines;

our customers' needs for productivity and cost reduction, sustainable production (cleaner, safer and more energy efficient), quality assurance and overall global competitiveness;

industry factors that include our customers' new product introductions, demand for our customers' products or services, and the regulatory and competitive environments in which our customers operate;

levels of global industrial production and capacity utilization;

regional factors that include local political, social, regulatory and economic circumstances;

the seasonal spending patterns of our customers due to their annual budgeting processes and their working schedules; and investments in basic materials production capacity, partly in response to higher commodity pricing.

Long-term Strategy

Our vision of being the most valued global provider of innovative industrial automation and information products, services and solutions is supported by our growth and performance strategy, which seeks to:

achieve growth rates in excess of the automation market by expanding our served market and strengthening our technology and customer-facing differentiation;

diversify our revenue streams by increasing our capabilities in new applications, broadening our solutions and service capabilities, advancing our global presence and serving a wider range of industries;

grow market share by gaining new customers and by capturing a larger share of our Original Equipment Manufacturer machine builders (OEMs) and end user customers' spending; enhance our market access by building our channel capability and partner network;

Edgar Filing: ROCKWELL AUTOMATION INC - Form 10-Q

make acquisitions that serve as catalysts to organic growth by adding complementary technology, expanding our served market, increasing our domain expertise or continuing our geographic diversification;

deploy human and financial resources to strengthen our technology leadership and our intellectual capital business model; and continuously improve quality and customer experience, drive 3-4 percent annual cost productivity, and optimize end-to-end business processes.

By implementing the strategy above, we seek to achieve our long-term financial goals that include revenue growth of 6-8 percent, double-digit EPS growth and 60 percent of our revenue outside the U.S.

Table of Contents*ROCKWELL AUTOMATION, INC.U. S. Industrial Economic Trends

In the first quarter of 2012, sales to U.S. customers accounted for 49 percent of our total sales. The various indicators we use to gauge the direction and momentum of our served U.S. markets include:

The Industrial Production Index (Total Index), published by the Federal Reserve, which measures the real output of manufacturing, mining, and electric and gas utilities. The Industrial Production Index is expressed as a percentage of real output in a base year, currently 2007. Historically there has been a meaningful correlation between the Industrial Production Index and the level of automation investment made by our U.S. customers in their manufacturing base.

The Manufacturing Purchasing Managers Index (PMI), published by the Institute for Supply Management (ISM), which is an indication of the current and near-term state of manufacturing activity in the U.S. According to the ISM, a PMI measure above 50 indicates that the U.S. manufacturing economy is generally expanding while a measure below 50 indicates that it is generally contracting.

Industrial Equipment Spending, which is an economic statistic compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA). This statistic provides insight into spending trends in the broad U.S. industrial economy. This measure over the longer term has proven to demonstrate a reasonable correlation with our domestic growth.

Capacity Utilization (Total Industry), which is an indication of plant operating activity published by the Federal Reserve. Historically there has been a meaningful correlation between Capacity Utilization and levels of U.S. industrial production.

The table below depicts the trends in these indicators since the quarter ended September 2010. Industrial production and capacity utilization have steadily increased and the PMI has remained above 50, indicating expansion of manufacturing activity. These indicators are among the factors that lead us to be cautiously optimistic about a continued recovery with slow, uneven growth.

Non-U.S. Regional Trends

In the first quarter of 2012, sales to non-U.S. customers accounted for 51 percent of our total sales. These customers include both indigenous companies and multinational companies with expanding global presence. In addition to the global factors previously mentioned, international demand, particularly in emerging markets, has historically been driven by the strength of the industrial economy in each region, investments in infrastructure and expanding consumer markets.

We use changes in Gross Domestic Product (GDP) as one indicator of the growth opportunities in each region where we do business. Underlying macroeconomic growth in emerging markets moderated during fiscal 2011 into fiscal 2012. However, we still expect that emerging markets in Asia will be the fastest growing automation markets over the long term. In Europe, sovereign debt concerns have put downward pressure on industrial growth and forecasts for that region have been deteriorating. While these trends indicate slower growth than recently experienced, overall macroeconomic trends and forecasts make us cautiously optimistic that the global recovery will continue throughout fiscal 2012.

Table of Contents*ROCKWELL AUTOMATION, INC.*Summary of Results of Operations

Sales in the first quarter of 2012 increased 8 percent compared to the first quarter of 2011. We continued to execute our key initiatives, which contributed to our positive performance:

Sales related to our process initiative grew 22 percent as compared to the first quarter of 2011.

Logix sales increased 10 percent year over year.

Sales in emerging markets increased only 3 percent as compared to the first quarter of 2011 partially due to a strong quarter a year ago, the timing of sales in our solutions businesses, and fiscal tightening impacting underlying demand, particularly in the emerging markets of Asia-Pacific. Emerging markets represented 21 percent of total company sales in the quarter.

Sales to our OEM customers, including sales of safety components and safety systems, grew at a rate above the company average. The improvements in gross margin and operating margin were primarily due to volume leverage. Price and lower performance-based compensation expense also made a positive contribution. These positive factors were partially offset by increased spending to support growth.

General corporate expenses in the prior year were net of a $3.8 million gain resulting from the sale of an investment.

Our effective tax rate during the quarter was 24.5 percent compared to 19.6 percent a year ago. The 2011 first quarter effective tax rate included benefits of $3.5 million related to the retroactive extension of the U.S. federal research tax credit.

The following table reflects our sales and operating results for the three months ended December 31, 2011 and 2010 (in millions, except per share amounts):

Sales

Our sales increased $108.1 million, or 8 percent, from $1,365.8 million in the first quarter of 2011 to $1,473.9 million in the first quarter of 2012. Organic sales also increased 8 percent as acquisitions contributed 1 percentage point to the increase and currency translation reduced sales by 1 percentage point. Pricing contributed approximately 1 percentage point to growth during the period. Product sales grew 6 percent year over year, while sales in our solutions and services businesses increased 12 percent year over year.

The table below presents our sales, attributed to the geographic regions based upon country of destination, for the quarter ended December 31, 2011 and the change from the quarter ended December 31, 2010 (in millions, except percentages):

	September 30, Three Months Ended Dec. 31, 2011	September 30, Change vs. Three Months Ended Dec. 31, 2010	September 30, Change in Organic Sales vs. Three Months Ended Dec. 31, 2010 <sup>1</sup>
United States	$ 717.6	8%	8%
Canada	105.2	10%	11%
Europe, Middle East and Africa	315.0	11%	9%
Asia-Pacific	213.2	1%	0%
Latin America	122.9	8%	14%
Total Sales	$ 1,473.9	8%	8%

Organic sales growth in the United States was led by heavy industries and transportation.

Organic sales growth in Canada and Latin America was driven primarily by mining and oil and gas industries.

Europe's strong organic sales growth was driven primarily by heavy industries.

Flat organic sales in Asia-Pacific resulted from weakness in emerging markets as inflation concerns and liquidity issues dampened investment.

Income before Income Taxes

Income before income taxes increased 30 percent from $186.7 million in the first quarter of 2011 to $242.9 million in the first quarter of 2012. Gross margin increased to 42.0 percent from 39.8 percent a year ago. Increased volume contributed to the significant year-over-year income and gross margin improvements along with price and lower performance-based compensation, which each increased segment operating margin by approximately one percentage point. These positive factors were partially offset by increased spending to support growth.

General corporate expenses were $20.9 million in the first quarter of 2012 compared to $15.7 million in the first quarter of 2011. The increase was primarily due to a sale of an investment that resulted in a $3.8 million gain in the first quarter of 2011.

The effective tax rate for the first quarter of 2012 was 24.5 percent compared to 19.6 percent in the first quarter of 2011. During the first quarter of 2011, we recognized discrete tax benefits of $3.5 million related to the retroactive extensive of the U.S. federal research tax credit.

Architecture & Software

Sales

Architecture & Software sales increased 6 percent to $650.5 million in the first quarter of 2012 compared to $613.9 million in the first quarter of 2011. Organic sales increased 7 percent as currency translation had a negative effect of 1 percentage point. United States, Canada and Asia-Pacific year-over-year sales increases were greater than the segment average rate of increase. Year-over-year sales increases in EMEA and Latin America were less than the segment average rate of increase. Logix sales increased 10 percent in the first quarter of 2012 compared to the first quarter of 2011.

Operating Margin

Architecture & Software segment operating earnings were $186.3 million in the first quarter of 2012, up 22 percent from $153.1 million in the same quarter of 2011. Operating margin increased 3.7 points to 28.6 percent in the first quarter of 2012 as compared to the first quarter of 2011. The increase was primarily due to volume leverage. Price, currency and lower performance-based compensation expense also made a positive contribution. These positive factors were partially offset by increased spending to support growth.

Control Products & Solutions

(in millions, except percentages)	September 30, 2012	September 30, 2011	September 30, Change
Sales	$ 823.4	$ 751.9	$ 71.5
Segment operating earnings	97.5	68.9	28.6
Segment operating margin	11.8%	9.2%	2.6pts

Sales

Control Products & Solutions sales were $823.4 million in the first quarter of 2012, up 10 percent from $751.9 million in the first quarter of 2011. Organic sales increased 9 percent and acquisitions contributed 2 percentage points to the increase offset by a negative effect from currency translation of 1 percentage point. The segment's solutions and services businesses grew by 12 percent year over year, while the segment's product businesses grew at a rate similar to our Architecture & Software segment. Canada, EMEA and Latin America reported above average year-over-year overall segment growth. Year-over-year sales increases to customers in the United States and Asia-Pacific were less than the segment average rate of increase.

Operating Margin

Control Products & Solutions segment operating earnings were $97.5 million in the first quarter of 2012, up 42 percent from $68.9 million in the same quarter of 2011. Operating margin increased by 2.6 points to 11.8 percent in the first quarter of 2012 as compared to 9.2 percent the first quarter of 2011. The increase was primarily due to volume leverage. Price and lower performance-based compensation expense also made a positive contribution. These positive factors were partially offset by increased spending to support growth.

Table of Contents*ROCKWELL AUTOMATION, INC.*Financial Condition

The following is a summary of our cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities, as reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows (in millions):

	September 30, Three Months Ended December 31, 2011	September 30, 2010
Cash (used for) provided by:
Operating activities	$ (189.0)	$ 12.6
Investing activities	(190.7)	(16.2)
Financing activities	294.9	(37.7)
Effect of exchange rate changes on cash	(19.9)	(2.6)
Cash used for continuing operations	$ (104.7)	$ (43.9)

The following table summarizes free cash flow (in millions):

Cash (used for) provided by continuing operating activities	$ (189.0)	$ 12.6
Capital expenditures	(31.6)	(20.3)
Excess income tax benefit from share-based compensation	9.8	12.1
Free cash flow	$ (210.8)	$ 4.4

Our definition of free cash flow, which is a non-GAAP financial measure, takes into consideration capital investments required to maintain the operations of our businesses and execute our strategy. Cash provided by continuing operating activities adds back non-cash depreciation expense to earnings and thus does not reflect a charge for necessary capital expenditures. Our definition of free cash flow excludes the operating cash flows and capital expenditures related to our discontinued operations. Operating, investing and financing cash flows of our discontinued operations are presented separately in our statement of cash flows. Our accounting for share-based compensation requires us to report the related excess income tax benefit as a financing cash flow rather than as an operating cash flow. We have added this benefit back to our calculation of free cash flow in order to generally classify cash flows arising from income taxes as operating cash flows. In our opinion, free cash flow provides useful information to investors regarding our ability to generate cash from business operations that is available for acquisitions and other investments, service of debt principal, dividends and share repurchases. We use free cash flow as one measure to monitor and evaluate performance. Our definition of free cash flow may differ from definitions used by other companies.

Free cash flow was a use of $210.8 million for the first quarter of 2012 compared to a source of $4.4 million for the first quarter of 2011. This decrease in free cash flow is primarily due to a $300 million discretionary pre-tax contribution to our U.S. qualified pension trust, partially offset by improvements in current year earnings. Additionally, in the prior year there were working capital increases largely attributable to significant increases in receivables.

We purchased $150 million of short-term investments in the first quarter of 2012.

We repurchased approximately 122,000 shares of our common stock in the first quarter of 2012. The total cost of these shares was $8.0 million. We also paid $1.7 million in the first quarter of 2012 for unsettled share repurchases outstanding at September 30, 2011. We repurchased approximately 707,000 shares of our common stock in the first quarter of 2011. The total cost of these shares was $48.9 million, of which $6.5 million was recorded in accounts payable at December 31, 2010 and was related to shares that did not settle until January 2011. We also paid

$1.2 million in the first quarter of 2011 for unsettled share repurchases outstanding at September 30, 2010. Our decision to repurchase stock in the remainder of 2012 will depend on business conditions, free cash flow generation, other cash requirements and stock price. At December 31, 2011, we had approximately $194.0 million remaining for stock repurchases under our existing board authorization. See Part II, Item 2, Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds, for additional information regarding share repurchases.

We expect future uses of cash to include working capital requirements, capital expenditures, additional contributions to our pension plans, acquisitions of businesses, dividends to shareowners, repurchases of common stock and repayments of debt. We expect capital expenditures in 2012 to be about $140 million. We expect to fund these future uses of cash with a combination of existing cash balances, cash generated by operating activities, commercial paper borrowings or a new issuance of debt or other securities.

Given our extensive international operations, a significant amount of our cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments are held in foreign subsidiaries where our undistributed earnings are permanently reinvested. We have not and do not expect to encounter any difficulty meeting the liquidity requirements of our global operations.

In addition to cash generated by operating activities, we have access to existing financing sources, including the public debt markets and unsecured credit facilities with various banks. Commercial paper is our principal source of short-term financing. At December 31, 2011, commercial paper borrowings outstanding were $350.0 million, with a weighted average interest rate of 0.33 percent. We had no commercial paper borrowings outstanding during the year ended September 30, 2011. Our debt-to-total-capital ratio was 40.4 percent at December 31, 2011 and 34.1 percent at September 30, 2011.

At December 31, 2011 and September 30, 2011, our total current borrowing capacity under our unsecured revolving credit facility, which expires in March 2015, was $750.0 million. We have not drawn down under this credit facility at December 31, 2011 or September 30, 2011. Borrowings under this credit facility bear interest based on short-term money market rates in effect during the period the borrowings are outstanding. The terms of this credit facility contain covenants under which we would be in default if our debt-to-total-capital ratio was to exceed 60 percent. We were in compliance with all covenants under this credit facility at December 31, 2011 and September 30, 2011. Separate short-term unsecured credit facilities of approximately $125.3 million at December 31, 2011 were available to non-U.S. subsidiaries.

Among other uses, we can draw on our credit facility as a standby liquidity facility to repay our outstanding commercial paper as it matures. This access to funds to repay maturing commercial paper is an important factor in maintaining the short-term credit ratings set forth in the table below. Under our current policy with respect to these ratings, we expect to limit our other borrowings under our credit facility, if any, to amounts that would leave enough credit available under the facility so that we could borrow, if needed, to repay all of our then outstanding commercial paper as it matures.

The following is a summary of our credit ratings as of December 31, 2011:

Credit Rating Agency	September 30, Short-Term Rating	September 30, Long-Term Rating	September 30, Outlook
Standard & Poor's	A-1	A	Stable
Moody's	P-2	A3	Stable
Fitch Ratings	F1	A	Stable

Our ability to access the commercial paper market, and the related costs of these borrowings, is affected by the strength of our credit rating and market conditions. We have not experienced any difficulty in accessing the commercial paper market to date. If our access to the commercial paper market is adversely affected due to a change in market conditions or otherwise, we would expect to rely on a combination of available cash and our unsecured committed credit facility to provide short-term funding. In such event, the cost of borrowings under our unsecured committed credit facility could be higher than the cost of commercial paper borrowings.

We regularly monitor the third-party depository institutions that hold our cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments. Our emphasis is primarily on safety and liquidity of principal and secondarily on maximizing yield on those funds. We diversify our cash and cash equivalents among counterparties to minimize exposure to any one of these entities.

We enter into contracts to offset changes in the amount of future cash flows associated with certain third-party sales and intercompany transactions denominated in foreign currencies forecasted to occur within the next two years and to offset transaction gains or losses associated with some of our assets and liabilities that are denominated in currencies other than their functional currencies resulting from intercompany loans and other transactions with third parties denominated in foreign currencies. Our foreign currency forward exchange contracts are usually denominated in currencies of major industrial countries. We diversify our foreign currency forward exchange contracts among counterparties to minimize exposure to any one of these entities.

Information with respect to our contractual cash obligations is contained in Item 7, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2011. We believe that at December 31, 2011, there has been no material change to this information.

We translate sales of subsidiaries operating outside of the United States using exchange rates effective during the respective period. Therefore, changes in currency exchange rates affect our reported sales. Sales by businesses we acquired also affect our reported sales. We believe that organic sales, defined as sales excluding the effects of changes in currency exchange rates and acquisitions, which is a non-GAAP financial measure, provides useful information to investors because it reflects regional performance from the activities of our businesses without the effect of changes in currency exchange rates and acquisitions. We use organic sales as one measure to monitor and evaluate our regional performance. We determine the effect of changes in currency exchange rates by translating the respective period's sales using the same currency exchange rates that were in effect during the prior year. We determine the effect of acquisitions by excluding sales in the current period for which there are no sales in the comparable prior period. Organic sales growth is calculated by comparing organic sales to reported sales in the prior year. We attribute sales to the geographic regions based on the country of destination.
