CAUTIONARY NOTE CONCERNING FACTORS THAT MAY AFFECT FUTURE RESULTS

This report contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. You should not place undue reliance on these statements. These forward-looking statements give current expectations or forecasts of future events and reflect the views and assumptions of senior management with respect to the business, financial condition, operations and prospects of Cash America International, Inc. and its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Company”). When used in this report, terms such as “believes,” “estimates,” “should,” “could,” “would,” “plans,” “expects,” “anticipates,” “may,” “forecast,” “project” and similar variations as they relate to the Company or its management are intended to identify forward-looking statements.

Forward-looking statements address matters that involve risks and uncertainties that are beyond the ability of the Company to control and, in some cases, predict. Accordingly, there are or will be important factors that could cause the Company’s actual results to differ materially from those indicated in these statements. Key factors that could cause the Company’s actual financial results, performance or condition to differ from the expectations expressed or implied in such forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, the following:

the effect of and compliance with domestic and foreign pawn, consumer credit, tax and other laws and government rules and regulations applicable to the Company’s business, including changes in such laws, rules and regulations, or changes in the interpretation or enforcement thereof, and the regulatory and examination authority of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau with respect to providers of consumer financial products and services in the United States and the Financial Conduct Authority in the United Kingdom;

- the deterioration of the political, regulatory or economic environment in foreign countries where the Company operates or in the future may operate;
- the Company’s ability to process or collect consumer loans through the Automated Clearing House system;
- risks related to the potential separation of the Company’s online lending business that comprises its E-Commerce Division, Enova International, Inc.;
- the actions of third parties who provide, acquire or offer products and services to, from or for the Company;
- public perception of the Company’s business, including the Company’s consumer loan business and the Company’s business practices;
- the effect of any current or future litigation proceedings and any judicial decisions or rule-making that affects the Company, its products or the legality or enforceability of its arbitration agreements;
- fluctuations, including a sustained decrease, in the price of gold or a deterioration in economic conditions;
- a prolonged interruption in the Company’s operations of its facilities, systems or business functions, including the Company’s information technology and other business systems;
- changes in demand for the Company’s services and changes in competition;
- the Company’s ability to maintain an allowance or liability for estimated losses on consumer loans that are adequate to absorb credit losses;
- the Company’s ability to attract and retain qualified executive officers;
- the Company’s ability to open new locations in accordance with plans or to successfully integrate newly acquired businesses into its operations;
- interest rate and foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations;
- changes in the capital markets, including the debt and equity markets;
- changes in the Company’s ability to satisfy the Company’s debt obligations or to refinance existing debt obligations or obtain new capital to finance growth;
- cyber-attacks or security breaches;
- acts of God, war or terrorism, pandemics and other events;
- the effect of any of the above changes on the Company’s business or the markets in which the Company operates; and other risks and uncertainties described in this report or from time to time in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC").

The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive and new factors may emerge or changes to these factors may occur that would impact the Company's business. Additional information regarding these and other factors may be contained in the Company's filings with the SEC, especially on Forms 10-K, 10-Q and 8-K. If one or more events related to these or other risks or uncertainties materialize, or if management's underlying assumptions prove to be incorrect, actual results may differ materially from what the Company anticipates. The Company disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances occurring after the date of this report. All forward-looking statements are expressly qualified in their entirety by the foregoing cautionary statements.

CASH AMERICA INTERNATIONAL, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

1. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements include all of the accounts of Cash America International, Inc. and its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Company”). All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

The financial statements presented as of March 31, 2014 and 2013 and December 31, 2013 and for the three-month periods ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 are unaudited but, in management’s opinion, include all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair statement of the results for such interim periods. The year-end consolidated balance sheet data was derived from audited financial statements, but does not include all disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (“GAAP”). Operating results for the three-month period are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full fiscal year.

These financial statements and related notes should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013.

Adopted Accounting Standards

In July 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) No. 2013-11, Presentation of an Unrecognized Tax Benefit When a Net Operating Loss Carryforward, a Similar Tax Loss, or a Tax Credit Carryforward Exists (“ASU 2013-11”), which provides guidance on the presentation of unrecognized tax benefits when net operating loss carryforwards, similar tax losses, or tax credit carryforwards exist. The amendments in this update are effective for fiscal years (and interim periods within those years) beginning after December 15, 2013. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments should be applied prospectively to all unrecognized tax benefits that exist at the effective date. Retrospective application is permitted. The Company prospectively adopted ASU 2013-11 on January 1, 2014, and the adoption did not have a material effect on its financial position or results of operations.

In March 2013, the FASB issued ASU No. 2013-05, Foreign Currency Matters (Topic 830): Parent’s Accounting for the Cumulative Translation Adjustment upon Derecognition of Certain Subsidiaries or Groups of Assets within a Foreign Entity or of an Investment in a Foreign Entity (a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force) (“ASU 2013-05”), which applies to the release of the cumulative translation adjustment into net income when a parent either sells all or a part of its investment in a foreign entity or no longer holds a controlling financial interest in a subsidiary or group of assets that is a business (other than a sale of in substance real estate or conveyance of oil and gas mineral rights) within a foreign entity. ASU 2013-05 is effective prospectively for fiscal years (and interim reporting periods within those years) beginning after December 15, 2013. The Company adopted ASU 2013-05 on January 1, 2014, and the adoption did not have a material effect on its financial position or results of operations.

In February 2013, the FASB issued ASU No. 2013-04, Obligations Resulting from Joint and Several Liability Arrangements for Which the Total Amount of the Obligation Is Fixed at the Reporting Date (“ASU 2013-04”). ASU 2013-04 requires an entity to measure obligations resulting from joint and several liability arrangements for which the total amount of the obligation is fixed at the reporting date as the amount the reporting entity agreed to pay plus additional amounts the reporting entity expects to pay on behalf of its co-obligors. The guidance further provides for disclosure of the nature and amount of the obligation. ASU 2013-04 is effective for interim and annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2013. The Company adopted ASU 2013-04 on January 1, 2014, and the adoption did not have a material effect on its financial position or results of operations.

Accounting Standards to be Adopted in Future Periods

In April 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-08, Presentation of Financial Statements (Topic 205) and Property, Plant, and Equipment (Topic 360): Reporting Discontinued Operations and Disclosures of Disposals of Components of an Entity ("ASU 2014-08"). The amendments in ASU 2014-08 change the criteria for reporting discontinued operations and enhance disclosures in this area. The new guidance requires expanded disclosures about discontinued operations that will provide financial statement users with more information about the assets, liabilities, income, and expenses of discontinued operations. The new guidance also requires disclosure of the pre-tax income or loss attributable to a disposal of an individually significant component of an organization that does not qualify for discontinued operations presentation in the financial statements. The Company is required to adopt ASU 2014-08 prospectively for all disposals (or classifications as held for sale) of components of an entity that occur within annual periods beginning after December 15, 2014 and interim periods within annual periods beginning on or after December 15, 2015. Early adoption is permitted. The Company is currently in the process of evaluating the impact of the adoption on its financial position and results of operations.

Revision of Prior Period Financial Statements

"Cash and cash equivalents" and "Accounts payable and accrued expenses" on the consolidated balance sheets as of March 31, 2013 and December 31, 2013 were revised to reclassify certain liabilities as in-transit cash disbursements due to the timing of payments for certain contracts. Management determined that the impact on all previously issued financial statements was immaterial. The correction resulted in the following increases (decreases) to amounts previously reported in the Company's financial statements (dollars in thousands):

	December 31, 2013	September 30, 2013	June 30, 2013	March 31, 2013	December 31, 2012	December 31, 2011

2. Acquisitions

Acquisition of 34 Pawn Lending Locations in Georgia and North Carolina

In December 2013, the Company completed the acquisition of substantially all of the assets of a 34-store chain of pawn lending locations in Georgia and North Carolina (31 locations in Georgia and three locations in North Carolina) owned by PawnMart, Inc. The aggregate purchase price for the acquisition was approximately $61.1 million. Of this amount, $60.6 million was paid in 2013 and $0.5 million, which was related to holdback, was paid during the three months ended March 31, 2014. The acquisition price was paid in cash and funded through borrowings under the Company's line of credit. The Company incurred approximately $0.6 million of acquisition costs related to the acquisition, which were expensed in 2013.

3. Credit Quality Information on Pawn Loans

The Company manages its pawn loan portfolio by monitoring the type and adequacy of collateral compared to historical gross profit margins. If a pawn loan defaults, the Company relies on the disposition of pawned property to recover the principal amount of an unpaid pawn loan, plus a yield on the investment, because the Company's pawn loans are non-recourse against the customer. In addition, the customer's creditworthiness does not affect the Company's financial position or results of operations. Generally, forfeited merchandise has historically sold for an amount in excess of the cost of goods sold (which is the lower of cost, or the cost basis in the loan or amount paid for purchased merchandise, or fair value). Goods pledged to secure pawn loans are tangible personal property items such as jewelry, tools, televisions and other electronics, musical instruments and other miscellaneous items. A pawn loan is considered delinquent if the customer does not repay or, where allowed by law, renew or extend the loan on or prior to its contractual maturity date plus any applicable grace period. Pawn loan fees and service charges do not accrue on delinquent pawn loans. When a pawn loan is considered delinquent, any accrued pawn loan fees and service charges are reversed and no additional pawn loan fees and service charges are accrued. As of March 31, 2014 and 2013 and December 31, 2013, the Company had current pawn loans outstanding of $210.6 million, $195.9 million and $251.9 million, respectively, and delinquent pawn loans outstanding of $7.5 million, $7.1 million and $9.2 million, respectively.

4. Consumer Loans, Credit Quality Information on Consumer Loans, Allowance and Liability for Estimated Losses on Consumer Loans and Guarantees of Consumer Loans

Consumer loan fee revenue generated from consumer loans for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 was as follows (dollars in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2014	2013
Interest and fees on short-term loans	$94,975	$140,215
Interest and fees on line of credit accounts	73,036	23,234
Interest and fees on installment loans	66,171	46,756
Total consumer loan revenue	$234,182	$210,205

Current and Delinquent Consumer Loans

The Company classifies its consumer loans as either current or delinquent. Short-term loans are considered delinquent when payment of an amount due is not made as of the due date. If a line of credit account or installment loan customer misses one payment, that payment is considered delinquent. If a line of credit account or installment loan customer does not make two consecutive payments, the entire account or loan is classified as delinquent. The Company allows for normal payment processing time before considering a loan delinquent but does not provide for any additional grace period.

The Company generally does not accrue interest on delinquent consumer loans and does not resume accrual of interest on a delinquent loan unless it is returned to current status. In addition, delinquent consumer loans generally may not be renewed, and if, during its attempt to collect on a delinquent consumer loan, the Company allows additional time for payment through a payment plan or a promise to pay, it is still considered delinquent. All payments received are first applied against accrued but unpaid interest and fees and then against the principal balance of the loan.

Allowance and Liability for Estimated Losses on Consumer Loans

The Company monitors the performance of its consumer loan portfolio and maintains either an allowance or liability for estimated losses on consumer loans (including fees and interest) at a level estimated to be adequate to absorb credit losses inherent in the portfolio. The allowance for losses on the Company's owned consumer loans reduces the outstanding loan balance in the consolidated balance sheets. The liability for estimated losses related to loans guaranteed under its credit services organization programs (“CSO programs”) is initially recorded at fair value and is included in “Accounts payable and accrued expenses” in the consolidated balance sheets.

In determining the allowance or liability for estimated losses on consumer loans, the Company applies a documented systematic methodology. In calculating the allowance or liability for loan losses, outstanding loans are divided into discrete groups of short-term loans, line of credit accounts and installment loans and are analyzed as current or delinquent. Increases in either the allowance or the liability, net of charge-offs and recoveries, are recorded as a "Consumer loan loss provision" in the consolidated statements of income.

The allowance or liability for short-term loans classified as current is based on historical loss rates adjusted for recent default trends for current loans. For delinquent short-term loans, the allowance or liability is based on a six-month rolling average of loss rates by stage of collection. For line of credit accounts and installment loan portfolios, the Company generally uses a migration analysis to estimate losses inherent in the portfolio. The allowance or liability calculation under the migration analysis is based on historical charge-off experience and the loss emergence period, which represents the average amount of time between the first occurrence of a loss event to the charge-off of a loan. The factors the Company considers to assess the adequacy of the allowance or liability include past due performance, historical behavior of monthly vintages, underwriting changes and recent trends in delinquency in the migration analysis.

The Company fully reserves and generally charges off consumer loans once the loan or a portion of the loan has been classified as delinquent for 60 consecutive days. If a loan is deemed uncollectible before it is fully reserved, it is charged off at that point. Consumer loans classified as delinquent generally have an age of one to 59 days from the date any portion of the loan became delinquent, as defined above. Recoveries on loans previously charged to the allowance are credited to the allowance when collected.

Guarantees of Consumer Loans

In connection with its CSO programs, the Company guarantees consumer loan payment obligations to unrelated third-party lenders for short-term loans and secured auto-equity loans and is required to purchase any defaulted loans it has guaranteed. The guarantee represents an obligation to purchase specific loans that go into default. Short-term loans that are guaranteed generally have terms of less than 90 days. Secured auto equity loans, which are included in the Company's installment loan portfolio, that are guaranteed typically have an average term of less than 24 months, with available terms of up to 42 months. As of March 31, 2014 and 2013 and December 31, 2013, the amount of consumer loans guaranteed by the Company was $42.2 million, $43.9 million and $59.0 million, respectively, representing amounts due under consumer loans originated by third-party lenders under the CSO programs. The liability for estimated losses on consumer loans guaranteed by the Company of $2.5 million, $2.1 million and $3.1 million, as of March 31, 2014 and 2013 and December 31, 2013, respectively, is included in “Accounts payable and accrued expenses” in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

6. Investments in Unconsolidated Subsidiaries

The Company records investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries at cost. The aggregate carrying values of the Company's investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries were $8.3 million as of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 and $7.2 million as of March 31, 2013 and were held in "Other assets" in the consolidated balance sheets. Carrying values for these investments are adjusted for cash contributions and distributions. The Company evaluates these investments for impairment if an event occurs or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of the investment below carrying value. If an impairment of the investment is determined to be other than temporary, the cost basis of the investment will be reduced and the resulting loss recognized in net income in the period the other-than-temporary-impairment is identified.

Based on the Company's impairment evaluation of these investments as of March 31, 2014, it determined that an impairment loss was not probable as of that date for its investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries. As of March 31, 2014, the Company owned a $6.0 million investment in the preferred stock of an early-stage privately-held developing consumer financial services entity that the Company accounts for under the cost method. The Company determined that as of March 31, 2014 it was at least reasonably possible that the Company could realize an impairment loss in the near future for this investment. The Company will continue to evaluate the impairment risk of this investment by monitoring and assessing the entity's ability to raise capital or generate profits to fund its future operations.

In July 2013, the Company changed its accounting for one of its investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries to the cost method from the equity method of accounting due to a decrease in its ownership percentage of the investment.

Domestic and Multi-Currency Line

On March 30, 2011, the Company and its domestic subsidiaries as guarantors entered into a Credit Agreement with a syndicate of financial institutions as lenders (the "Credit Agreement"). The Credit Agreement was amended on each of November 29, 2011 and May 10, 2013. The Credit Agreement, as amended, provides for a domestic and multi-currency line of credit totaling $280 million permitting revolving credit loans, including a multi-currency subfacility that gives the Company the ability to borrow up to $50.0 million that may be in specified foreign currencies, subject to the terms and conditions of the Credit Agreement (the "Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit"), and also subject to an accordion feature whereby the revolving line of credit may be increased up to an additional $100.0 million with the consent of any increasing lenders.

Interest on the Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit is charged, at the Company's option, at either the London Interbank Offered Rate for one week or one-, two-, three- or six-month periods, as selected by the Company ("LIBOR"), plus a margin varying from 2.00% to 3.25% or at the agent's base rate plus a margin varying from 0.50% to 1.75%. The margin for the Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit is dependent on the Company's cash flow leverage ratios as defined in the Credit Agreement entered into in connection with the Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit. The Company also pays a fee on the unused portion of the Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit ranging from 0.25% to 0.50% (0.50% as of March 31, 2014) based on the Company's cash flow leverage ratios. The weighted average interest rate (including margin) on the Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit was 3.20%, 3.04% and 3.30% as of March 31, 2014 and 2013 and December 31, 2013, respectively.

As of March 31, 2014, borrowings under the Company's Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit consisted of three pricing tranches with maturity dates ranging from one to 30 days, and as of March 31, 2013, borrowings under the Company's Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit consisted of three pricing tranches with maturity dates ranging from two to 30 days. The Company routinely refinances borrowings pursuant to the terms of its Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit; therefore, these borrowings are reported as part of the applicable line of credit and as long-term debt.

Variable Rate Senior Unsecured Notes

When the Company originally entered into the Credit Agreement in connection with its Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit, it also entered into a $50.0 million term loan facility under which it issued variable rate senior unsecured notes that are guaranteed by all of the Company's domestic subsidiaries. When the Company amended its Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit on May 10, 2013, it also extended the maturity date of its $50.0 million variable rate term loan facility from March 31, 2015 to March 31, 2018 (the "2018 Variable Rate Notes"). The 2018 Variable Rate Notes are payable in equal quarterly principal installments of $2.1 million with any outstanding principal remaining due at maturity on March 31, 2018. Interest on the 2018 Variable Rate Notes is charged, at the Company's option, at either LIBOR (as defined above) plus a margin of 3.50% or at the agent's base rate plus a margin of 2.00%. The weighted average interest rate (including margin) on the 2018 Variable Rate Notes was 3.69%, 3.75% and 3.69% as of March 31, 2014 and 2013 and December 31, 2013, respectively.

In connection with the amendment of the Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit and the 2018 Variable Rate Notes, the Company incurred debt issuance costs of approximately $1.8 million in 2013, which primarily consisted of commitment fees, legal and other professional expenses. These costs are being amortized over a period of five years and are included in "Other assets" in the consolidated balance sheets.

$300.0 million 5.75% Senior Unsecured Notes

On May 15, 2013, the Company issued and sold $300.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 5.75% Senior Notes due 2018 (the "2018 Senior Notes"). The Company offered and sold the 2018 Senior Notes to initial purchasers in reliance on the exemption from registration provided by Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The initial purchasers then resold the 2018 Senior Notes pursuant to the exemptions from registration under the Securities Act in reliance on Rule 144A and Regulation S. The 2018 Senior Notes bear interest at a rate of 5.75% annually on the principal amount, payable semi-annually in arrears on May 15 and November 15 of each year, beginning on November 15, 2013. The 2018 Senior Notes will mature on May 15, 2018. The 2018 Senior Notes are senior unsecured debt obligations of the Company and are guaranteed by all of the Company's domestic subsidiaries and one of its foreign subsidiaries (the "Guarantors").

The 2018 Senior Notes are redeemable at the Company's option, in whole or in part, at any time at 100% of the aggregate principal amount of 2018 Senior Notes redeemed plus the applicable "make whole" redemption price specified in the Indenture that governs the 2018 Senior Notes (the "2018 Senior Notes Indenture"), plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the redemption date. In addition, if a change of control occurs, as that term is defined in the 2018 Senior Notes Indenture, the holders of 2018 Senior Notes will have the right, subject to certain conditions, to require the Company to repurchase their 2018 Senior Notes at a purchase price equal to 101% of the aggregate principal amount of 2018 Senior Notes repurchased plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, as of the date of repurchase. As required by a registration rights agreement that the Company entered into with the initial purchasers when the 2018 Senior Notes were issued, the Company completed an exchange offer with respect to the 2018 Senior Notes in January 2014. All of the unregistered 2018 Senior Notes have been exchanged for identical new notes registered under the Securities Act.

In connection with the issuance and registration of the 2018 Senior Notes, the Company has incurred debt issuance and registration costs of approximately $8.7 million since initial issuance of the debt, which primarily consisted of underwriting fees, legal and other professional expenses. These costs are being amortized over a period of five years and are included in "Other assets" in the consolidated balance sheets.

The Guarantors have guaranteed fully and unconditionally, on a joint and several basis, the obligations to pay principal and interest for the 2018 Senior Notes. Cash America International, Inc. (“Parent Company”), on a stand-alone unconsolidated basis, has no independent assets or operations. The Guarantors are 100% owned by the Company. 2029 Convertible Notes

On May 19, 2009, the Company completed the offering of $115.0 million aggregate principal amount of 5.25% Convertible Senior Notes due May 15, 2029 (the "2029 Convertible Notes"). The 2029 Convertible Notes are senior unsecured obligations of the Company. The 2029 Convertible Notes bear interest at a rate of 5.25% per year, payable semi-annually on May 15 and November 15 of each year. The 2029 Convertible Notes will be convertible, in certain circumstances, at an initial conversion rate of 39.2157 shares per $1,000 aggregate principal amount of 2029 Convertible Notes (which is equivalent to a conversion price of approximately $25.50 per share), subject to adjustment upon the occurrence of certain events, into either, at the Company's election: (i) shares of common stock or (ii) cash up to their principal amount and shares of its common stock with respect to the remainder, if any, of the conversion value in excess of the principal amount. The Company may not redeem the 2029 Convertible Notes prior to May 15, 2014. The Company may, at its option, redeem some or all of the 2029 Convertible Notes on or after May 15, 2014. Holders of the 2029 Convertible Notes will have the right to require the Company to repurchase some or all of the outstanding 2029 Convertible Notes on May 15, 2014, May 15, 2019 and May 15, 2024 at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount plus any accrued and unpaid interest.

As of March 31, 2014 and 2013, the carrying amount of the 2029 Convertible Notes was $44.2 million and $111.0 million, respectively, which included an unamortized discount of $0.2 million and $4.0 million, respectively. The discount is being amortized to interest expense over a period of five years, through the first redemption date of May 15, 2014. The total interest expense recognized was $1.4 million and $2.3 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively, of which $0.5 million and $0.8 million represented the non-cash amortization of the discount for the quarter ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The contractual interest expense was $0.8 million and $1.5 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The 2029 Convertible Notes have an effective interest rate of 8.46% at both March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively. As of March 31, 2014, the if-converted value of the 2029 Convertible Notes exceeds the principal amount by approximately $26.2 million. See Note 8 for further discussion of the dilutive effect of the 2029 Convertible Notes on diluted net income per share.

During the three months ended March 31, 2014, the Company repurchased $58.6 million principal amount of the 2029 Convertible Notes in privately-negotiated transactions for aggregate cash consideration of $89.5 million plus accrued interest. In connection with these purchases, during the three months ended March 31, 2014, the Company recorded a loss on extinguishment of debt of approximately $1.5 million, which is included in "Loss on extinguishment of debt" in the consolidated statements of income and a $30.3 million decrease to additional paid-in capital, which is included in "Repurchase of convertible debt" in the consolidated statements of equity. The Company has notified the remaining holders of its outstanding 2029 Convertible Notes that on May 15, 2014, it will redeem all outstanding 2029 Convertible Notes. As a result of this notification, holders of 2029 Convertible Notes may elect to convert their 2029 Convertible Notes pursuant to the provisions described above. For all 2029 Convertible Notes that are properly surrendered for conversion, the Company intends to pay the principal amount of the 2029 Convertible Notes in cash and the remainder of the conversion value in excess of the principal amount in shares of common stock.

As of March 31, 2014 the carrying amount of the equity component recorded as additional paid-in capital was a negative value of $28.5 million, net of deferred taxes and equity issuance costs. The negative additional paid-in capital arose due to the substantially higher average stock price associated with the repurchases in relation to the conversion price associated with initial recording of the equity component for the 2029 Convertible Notes. As of March 31, 2013 and December 31, 2013, the carrying amount of the equity component recorded as additional paid-in capital was $9.4 million and $1.8 million, respectively.

In connection with the issuance of the 2029 Convertible Notes, the Company incurred approximately $3.9 million for issuance costs, which primarily consisted of underwriting fees, legal and other professional expenses. The unamortized balance of these costs as of March 31, 2014 is included in "Other assets" in the consolidated balance sheets. These costs are being amortized to interest expense over five years.

Other

When the Company entered into the Credit Agreement in connection with its Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit, it also entered into a Standby Letter of Credit Agreement (the "LC Agreement") for the issuance of up to $20.0 million in letters of credit (the "Letter of Credit Facility") that is guaranteed by the Company's domestic subsidiaries. In the event that an amount is paid by the issuing bank under a stand-by letter of credit, it will be due and payable by the Company on demand, and amounts due by the Company under the LC Agreement will bear interest annually at a rate that is the lesser of (a) 2% above the prime rate for Wells Fargo Bank, National Association or (b) the maximum rate of interest permissible under applicable laws. The LC Agreement also requires the Company to pay quarterly fees equal to the applicable margin set forth in the LC Agreement on the undrawn amount of the credit outstanding. When the Company amended its Credit Agreement on May 10, 2013, it also extended the maturity date of its Letter of Credit Facility from March 31, 2015 to March 31, 2018. The Company had standby letters of credit of $17.6 million under its Letter of Credit Facility as of March 31, 2014.

The Company's debt agreements for its Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit and its senior unsecured notes require the Company to maintain certain financial ratios. As of March 31, 2014, the Company was in compliance with all covenants or other requirements set forth in its debt agreements.

8. Net Income Per Share

Basic net income per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net income per share is calculated by giving effect to the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common shares were exercised and converted into common shares during the period. Restricted stock units issued under the Company's stock-based employee compensation plans are included in diluted shares upon the granting of the awards even though the vesting of shares will occur over time. Performance-based awards are included in diluted shares based on the level of performance that management estimates is the most probable outcome at the grant date. Throughout the requisite service period, management monitors the probability of achievement of the performance condition and, if material, adjusts the number of shares included in diluted shares accordingly.

(b) Includes shares related to unvested restricted stock unit awards.

The shares issuable with respect to the Company's 2029 Convertible Notes have been calculated using the treasury stock method. The Company has sent a notice of redemption to all holders of outstanding 2029 Convertible Notes (c) and intends to settle the principal portion of the convertible debt in cash for all 2029 Convertible Notes that are properly surrendered for conversion; therefore, only the shares related to the conversion spread have been included in weighted average diluted shares. See Note 7.

(d) There were 38 and 87 anti-dilutive shares for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

9. Operating Segment Information

The Company has two reportable operating segments: retail services and e-commerce. The retail services segment includes all of the operations of the Company's Retail Services Division, which is composed of both domestic and foreign storefront locations that offer some or all of the following services: pawn loans, consumer loans, the purchase and sale of merchandise, check cashing and other ancillary services such as money orders, wire transfers, prepaid debit cards, tax filing services and auto insurance. Most of these ancillary services offered in the retail services segment are provided through third-party vendors. The e-commerce segment includes the operations of the Company's E-Commerce Division, which is composed of the Company's domestic and foreign online lending channels through which the Company offers consumer loans. The Company reports corporate operations separately from its retail services and e-commerce segment information.

Corporate operations primarily include corporate expenses, such as legal, occupancy, executive oversight, insurance and risk management, public and government relations, internal audit, treasury, payroll, compliance and licensing, finance, accounting, tax and information systems (except for online lending systems, which are included in the e-commerce segment). Corporate income includes miscellaneous income not directly attributable to the Company's segments. Corporate assets primarily include corporate property and equipment, nonqualified savings plan assets, marketable securities, foreign exchange forward contracts and prepaid insurance.

During the first quarter of 2014, the Company changed the presentation of financial information within its e-commerce segment to report certain administrative and depreciation and amortization expenses within that segment separately from its domestic and foreign operating components. Administrative expenses in the e-commerce segment, which were previously allocated between the domestic and foreign components based on the amount of loans written and renewed, are included under the “Admin” heading within the e-commerce segment information in the following tables. Depreciation and amortization related to the e-commerce administrative function is also included in this category. For comparison purposes, amounts for prior years have been conformed to the current presentation.

10. Commitments and Contingencies

Litigation

2013 Litigation Settlement

On August 6, 2004, James E. Strong filed a purported class action lawsuit in the State Court of Cobb County, Georgia against Georgia Cash America, Inc., Cash America International, Inc. (together with Georgia Cash America, Inc., “Cash America”), Daniel R. Feehan (the Company’s chief executive officer), and several unnamed officers, directors, owners and “stakeholders” of Cash America. In August 2006, James H. Greene and Mennie Johnson were permitted to join the lawsuit as named plaintiffs, and in June 2009, the court agreed to the removal of James E. Strong as a named plaintiff. The lawsuit alleges many different causes of action, among the most significant of which is that Cash America made illegal short-term loans in Georgia in violation of Georgia’s usury law, the Georgia Industrial Loan Act and Georgia’s Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act. First National Bank of Brookings, South Dakota (“FNB”), and Community State Bank of Milbank, South Dakota (“CSB”), for some time made loans to Georgia residents through Cash America’s Georgia operating locations. The complaint in this lawsuit claims that Cash America was the true lender with respect to the loans made to Georgia borrowers and that FNB and CSB’s involvement in the process is “a mere subterfuge.” Based on this claim, the suit alleges that Cash America was the “de facto” lender and was illegally operating in Georgia. The complaint seeks unspecified compensatory damages, attorney’s fees, punitive damages and the trebling of any compensatory damages. In November 2009 the case was certified as a class action lawsuit.

This case was scheduled to go to trial in November 2013, but on October 9, 2013, the parties agreed to a memorandum of understanding (the “Settlement Memorandum”). Pursuant to the Settlement Memorandum, the parties filed a joint motion containing the full terms of the settlement (the “Settlement Agreement”) with the trial court for approval on October 24, 2013, and the trial court preliminarily approved the Settlement Agreement on November 4, 2013. On January 16, 2014, the trial court issued its final approval of the settlement and entered the Final Order and Judgment. The Settlement Agreement required a minimum payment by the Company of $18.0 million and a maximum payment of $36.0 million to cover class claims (including honorarium payments to the named plaintiffs) and the plaintiffs’ attorneys’ fees and costs (including the costs of claims administration) (the “Class Claims and Costs”), all of which will count towards the aggregate payment for purposes of determining whether the minimum payment has been made or the maximum payment has been reached. The Company denies all of the material allegations of the lawsuit and denies any and all liability or wrongdoing in connection with the conduct described in the lawsuit, but the Company agreed to the settlement to eliminate the uncertainty, distraction, burden and expense of further litigation. In accordance with ASC 450, Contingencies, the Company recognized a liability in 2013 in the amount of $18.0 million. The liability was recorded in “Accounts payable and accrued liabilities” in the consolidated balance sheets and “Operations and administration expense” in the consolidated statements of income for the year ended December 31, 2013. The Class Claims and Costs have been finalized, and the Company is required to pay $18.6 million in connection with the Class Claims and Costs, $18.3 million of which was paid during the three months ended March 31, 2014.

Ohio Litigation

On May 28, 2009, one of the Company’s subsidiaries, Ohio Neighborhood Finance, Inc., doing business as Cashland (“Cashland”), filed a standard collections suit in an Elyria Municipal Court in Ohio against Rodney Scott seeking judgment against Mr. Scott in the amount of $570.16, which was the amount due under his loan agreement. Cashland’s loan was offered under the Ohio Mortgage Loan Act (“OMLA”), which allows for interest at a rate of 25% per annum plus certain loan fees allowed by the statute. The Municipal Court, in Ohio Neighborhood Finance, Inc. v. Rodney Scott, held that short-term, single-payment consumer loans made by Cashland are not authorized under the OMLA, and instead should have been offered under the Ohio Short-Term Lender Law, which was passed by the Ohio legislature in 2008 for consumer loans with similar terms. Due to a cap on interest and loan fees at an amount that is less than permitted under the OMLA, the Company does not offer loans under the Ohio Short-Term Lender Law.

On December 3, 2012, the Ohio Ninth District Court of Appeals affirmed the Municipal Court's ruling in a 2-1 decision. Although this court decision is only legally binding in the Ninth District of Ohio, which includes four counties in northern Ohio where Cashland operates seven stores and where the Company has modified its short-term loan product in response to this decision, other Ohio courts may consider this decision.

The Supreme Court of Ohio heard the Company's appeal of the Ninth District Court's decision in December 2013, and a decision is expected during the first half of 2014. If the Ninth District Court's decision is upheld by the Ohio Supreme Court on appeal, the Company's Ohio operations may be adversely affected. The Company relies on the OMLA to make short-term loans in its retail services locations in Ohio, and if the Company is unable to continue making short-term loans under this law, it will alter its short-term loan product in Ohio. In addition, following the ruling by the Ninth District Court, four lawsuits were filed against the Company by customers in Ohio, three of which are purported class action complaints, alleging that the Company improperly made loans under the OMLA, and the Company may in the future receive other claims. Each of these four lawsuits has been stayed pending the outcome of the Supreme Court of Ohio's decision. The Company is currently unable to estimate a range of reasonably possible losses in connection with these lawsuits, as defined by ASC 450-20-20, Contingencies-Loss Contingencies-Glossary, for these litigation matters. The Company believes that the Plaintiffs' claims in these suits are without merit and will vigorously defend these lawsuits.

The Company is also a defendant in certain routine litigation matters encountered in the ordinary course of its business. Certain of these matters are covered to an extent by insurance. In the opinion of management, the resolution of these matters is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

On November 20, 2013, the Company consented to the issuance of a Consent Order by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (the "CFPB") pursuant to which it agreed, without admitting or denying any of the facts or conclusions made by the CFPB from its 2012 review of the Company, among other things, to set aside $8.0 million of cash for a period of 180 days to fund any further payments to eligible Ohio customers who make valid claims in connection with the Company's voluntary program that was announced in December 2012 to fully reimburse approximately 14,000 Ohio customers for all funds collected, plus interest accrued from the date collected, in connection with legal collections proceedings initiated by the Company in Ohio from January 1, 2008 through December 4, 2012 (the "Ohio Reimbursement Program"). The decision to make voluntary reimbursements in connection with the Ohio Reimbursement Program was made by the Company in 2012 because the Company determined that a small number of employees did not prepare certain court documents in many of its Ohio legal collections proceedings in accordance with court rules. As of March 31, 2014, the Company had refunded approximately $6.4 million in connection with this program.

11. Fair Value Measurements

Recurring Fair Value Measurements

In accordance with ASC 820-10, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures ("ASC 820-10"), certain of the Company's assets and liabilities, which are carried at fair value, are classified in one of the following three categories:

Level 1: Quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Observable market-based inputs or unobservable inputs that are corroborated by market data.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs that are not corroborated by market data.

(a) The nonqualified savings plan assets have an offsetting liability of equal amount, which is included in "Accounts payable and accrued expenses" in the Company's consolidated balance sheets.

(b) Cumulative unrealized total gains, net of tax, on these equity securities of $0.9 million as of March 31, 2013 are recorded in

"Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss)" in the Company's consolidated statements of equity.

The Company measures the fair value of its forward currency exchange contracts under Level 2 inputs as defined by ASC 820-10. For these forward currency exchange contracts, current market rates are used to determine fair value.

The significant inputs used in these models are derived from observable market rates. During the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, there were no transfers of assets in or out of Level 1 or Level 2 fair value measurements.

Cash and cash equivalents bear interest at market rates and have maturities of less than 90 days.

Pawn loans generally have maturity periods of less than 90 days. If a pawn loan defaults, the Company disposes of the collateral. Historically, collateral has sold for an amount in excess of the principal amount of the loan.

Short-term loans, line of credit accounts and installment loans are carried in the consolidated balance sheet net of the allowance for estimated loan losses, which is calculated by applying historical loss rates combined with recent default trends to the gross consumer loan balance. The unobservable inputs used to calculate the fair value of these loans include historical loss rates, recent default trends and estimated remaining loan terms; therefore, the carrying value approximated the fair value. Short-term loans and line of credit accounts have relatively short maturity periods that are generally 12 months or less. The fair value of unsecured and secured installment loans are estimated using a discounted cash flow analysis, which considers interest rates offered for loans with similar terms to borrowers of similar credit quality. The carrying values of the Company's installment loans approximate the fair value of these loans.

Pawn loan fees and service charges receivable are accrued ratably over the term of the loan based on the portion of these pawn loans deemed collectible. The Company uses historical performance data to determine collectability of pawn loan fees and service charges receivable. Additionally, pawn loan fee and service charge rates are determined by regulations and bear no valuation relationship to the capital markets' interest rate movements.

In connection with its CSO programs, the Company guarantees consumer loan payment obligations to unrelated third-party lenders for short-term loans and secured auto-equity loans and is required to purchase any defaulted loans it has guaranteed. The estimated fair value of the liability for estimated losses on consumer loans guaranteed by the Company of $2.5 million, $2.1 million and $3.1 million as of March 31, 2014 and 2013 and December 31, 2013, respectively. The Company measures the fair value of its liability for third-party lender-owned consumer loans under Level 3 inputs. The fair value of these liabilities is calculated by applying historical loss rates combined with recent default trends to the gross consumer loan balance. The unobservable inputs used to calculate the fair value of these loans include historical loss rates, recent default trends and estimated remaining loan terms; therefore, the carrying value of these liabilities approximated the fair value.

The Company measures the fair value of long-term debt instruments using Level 2 inputs. The fair values of the Company's long-term debt instruments are estimated based on market values for debt issues with similar characteristics or rates currently available for debt with similar terms. As of March 31, 2014, the Company's Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit had a higher fair market value than the carrying value due to the difference in yield when compared to recent issuances of similar lines of credit. As of March 31, 2014, the Company's senior unsecured notes had a lower fair market value than the carrying value due to the difference in yield when compared to recent issuances of similar senior unsecured notes. As of March 31, 2014, the 2029 Convertible Notes had a higher fair value than carrying value due to the Company's stock price as of March 31, 2014 exceeding the applicable conversion price for the 2029 Convertible Notes, thereby increasing the value of the instrument for noteholders.

12. Derivative Instruments

The Company periodically uses derivative instruments to manage risk from changes in market conditions that may affect the Company's financial performance. The Company primarily uses derivative instruments to manage its primary market risks, which are interest rate risk and foreign currency exchange rate risk.

The Company uses forward currency exchange contracts to hedge foreign currency risk in the United Kingdom and Australia. The Company's forward currency exchange contracts are non-designated derivatives. Any gain or loss resulting from these contracts is recorded as income or loss and is included in "Foreign currency transaction gain (loss)" in the Company's consolidated statements of income.

The Company's derivative instruments are presented in its financial statements on a net basis. The following table presents information related to the Company's derivative instruments as of March 31, 2014 and 2013 and December 31, 2013 (dollars in thousands):

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

The following discussion of financial condition, results of operations, liquidity and capital resources and certain factors that may affect future results, including economic and industry-wide factors, of Cash America International, Inc. and its subsidiaries (the "Company") should be read in conjunction with the Company's consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included under Part I, Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, as well as with Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013.

GENERAL

The Company provides specialty financial services to individuals through retail services locations and e-commerce activities.

The Company offers secured non-recourse loans, commonly referred to as pawn loans, in many of its retail services locations in the United States and Mexico. Pawn loans are short-term loans (generally 30 to 90 days) made on the pledge of tangible personal property. Pawn loan fees and service charges revenue is generated from the Company's pawn loan portfolio. A related activity of the pawn lending operations is the disposition of collateral from forfeited pawn loans and the liquidation of a smaller volume of merchandise purchased directly from customers or from third parties.

The Company originates, guarantees or purchases consumer loans (collectively referred to as "consumer loans" throughout this discussion). Consumer loans provide customers with cash, typically in exchange for an obligation to repay the amount advanced plus fees and any applicable interest. Consumer loans include short-term loans (commonly referred to as payday loans), line of credit accounts and installment loans.

Short-term loans include unsecured short-term loans written by the Company or by a third-party lender through the Company's credit services organization and credit access business programs ("CSO programs" as further described below) that the Company guarantees. Line of credit accounts include draws made through the Company's line of credit products. Installment loans are longer-term multi-payment loans that generally require the pay-down of portions of the outstanding principal balance in multiple installments and include unsecured loans written by the Company and auto equity loans, which are secured by a customer's vehicle. These secured installment loans may be written by the Company or by a third-party lender through the Company's CSO programs that the Company guarantees. The Company offers consumer loans in many of its retail services locations in the United States and over the internet under the names "CashNetUSA" and "NetCredit" in the United States, under the names "QuickQuid," "QuickQuid FlexCredit" and "Pounds to Pocket" in the United Kingdom and under the name "DollarsDirect" in Australia and Canada.

Through the Company's CSO programs, the Company provides services related to a third-party lender's consumer loan products in some markets by acting as a credit services organization or credit access business on behalf of consumers in accordance with applicable state laws. Services offered under the CSO programs include credit-related services such as arranging loans with independent third-party lenders and assisting in the preparation of loan applications and loan documents ("CSO loans"). Under the CSO programs, the Company guarantees consumer loan payment obligations to the third-party lender in the event that the customer defaults on the loan. CSO loans are not included in the Company's financial statements, but the Company has established a liability for the estimated losses in support of the guarantee on these loans in its consolidated balance sheets.

In addition, the Company provides check cashing and other ancillary products and services through many of its retail services locations and through its franchised check cashing centers. The ancillary products and services are described below.

The Company has two reportable operating segments: retail services and e-commerce. The retail services segment includes all of the operations of the Company's Retail Services Division, which is composed of both domestic and foreign storefront locations that offer some or all of the following services: pawn loans, consumer loans, the purchase and sale of merchandise, check cashing and other ancillary products and services such as money orders, wire transfers, prepaid debit cards, tax filing services and auto insurance. Most of these ancillary products and services offered in the retail services segment are provided through third-party vendors. The e-commerce segment includes the operations of the Company's E-Commerce Division, which is composed of the Company's domestic and foreign online lending channels through which the Company offers consumer loans. The e-commerce segment also includes administrative expenses that are specific to this segment's operations and are supplemental to the Company's administrative functions classified as corporate operations.

Corporate operations primarily include corporate expenses, such as legal, occupancy, executive oversight, insurance and risk management, public and government relations, internal audit, treasury, payroll, compliance and licensing, finance, accounting, tax and information systems (except for online lending information systems, which are included in the e-commerce segment). Corporate income includes miscellaneous income not directly attributable to the Company's segments. Corporate assets primarily include corporate property and equipment, assets related to nonqualified deferred compensation plans, marketable securities, foreign exchange forward contracts and prepaid insurance.

Retail Services Segment

The following table sets forth the number of domestic and foreign Company-owned and franchised locations in the Company's retail services segment offering pawn lending, consumer lending, and other services as of March 31, 2014 and 2013. The Company's domestic retail services locations operate under the names "Cash America Pawn," "SuperPawn," "Cash America Payday Advance," "Cashland" and "Mr. Payroll." In addition, some recently acquired domestic retail services locations operate under various names that are expected to be changed to "Cash America Pawn." The Company's foreign retail services locations operate under the name "Cash America casa de empeño."

Recent Developments

Review of Strategic Separation Alternatives for the E-commerce Business

On April 10, 2014, the Company announced that its Board of Directors has authorized management to review potential strategic alternatives, including a tax-free spin-off, for the separation of its online lending business that comprises its E-commerce Division, Enova International, Inc. ("Enova"). While a final decision has not been made, a spin-off would create a stand-alone, publicly traded online lending company. If a spin-off were to occur, the Company would be separated into two publicly traded companies: Enova International, Inc., which would own and operate the Company's online lending business that comprises its E-Commerce Division (or the e-commerce segment) with operations in the U.S., the U.K., Australia and Canada, and Cash America International, Inc., which would own and operate the Company's storefront lending businesses that comprise its Retail Services Division (or the retail services segment).

Management will analyze the potential separation and expects to make a final recommendation to the Company's Board of Directors in 2014. If the Board approves a separation, a transaction could be completed in late 2014 or early 2015, subject to market, regulatory and other conditions, including, if the separation takes the form of a tax-free spin-off, the receipt of a private letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service and an opinion from the Company's tax counsel. The Company currently expects that any spin-off would be in the form of a tax-free distribution of at least 80 percent of the Enova common stock to the Company's shareholders.

The separation is subject to a number of conditions, including final approval by the Board of Directors of transaction specifics. In addition, external events beyond the control of the Company and Enova could impact the timing or occurrence of a separation. There can be no assurance that any separation or other transaction will occur or, if one does occur, there can be no assurance as to its form, terms or timing.

Recent Regulatory Developments

Financial Conduct Authority

The Company offers consumer loans over the internet in the United Kingdom through its e-commerce segment. On April 1, 2014, pursuant to the Financial Services Act 2012, the Financial Conduct Authority (the "FCA") took over responsibility for regulating consumer credit in the United Kingdom from the Office of Fair Trading (the "OFT"). Under the new FCA regime, the Company has obtained interim permission to provide consumer credit and must be approved for full authorization from the FCA to continue to provide consumer credit, which will require that the Company satisfy, and continue to satisfy, certain minimum standards set out in the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and may result in additional tax and other costs to the Company. The FCA is expected to complete the process of considering whether to grant previous OFT license holders full authorization by April 1, 2016, and there is no guarantee that the Company will receive full authorization from the FCA.

In addition, on February 28, 2014, the FCA issued the Consumer Credit Sourcebook that contains the final regulations that will cover the conduct requirements for lenders of consumer credit in the U.K. such as the Company, including mandatory affordability checks on borrowers, limiting the number of rollovers to two, restricting how lenders can advertise, banning advertisements it deems misleading and introducing a limit of two unsuccessful attempts on the use of continuous payment authority (which provides a creditor the ability to directly debit a customer's account for payment when authorized by the customer to do so) to pay off a loan. Certain provisions took effect on April 1, 2014, and other provisions for high-cost short-term credit loans, such as the limits on rollovers, continuous payment authority and certain advertising practices, take effect on July 1, 2014. The Company previously made changes in its business practices in contemplation of these new rules and will make additional changes to its business practices going forward to address the FCA's requirements, including changes related to debt forbearance (or the Company's practices regarding customers who have indicated they are experiencing financial difficulty), debt collection, affordability assessments, advertising practices and establishing a physical presence (or office located) in the U.K. These changes could result in a decrease in the number of consumer loans that the Company is able to make, a decrease in the amounts loaned to customers, lower collections on loans made by the Company and additional operating expenses and taxes. An inability to make changes to the satisfaction of the FCA could also have an adverse impact on the Company's authorization from the FCA to continue to provide consumer credit. The Company is still assessing the potential impact of the changes and what effect such changes may have on its business, prospects, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. For further discussion of regulatory matters in the U.K, see "Part II. Item 1A. Risk Factors. The United Kingdom has recently taken a stricter approach to the regulation of the consumer loan industry as well as demonstrated an increasing interest in considering legislation or regulations that could further regulate or restrict the consumer loan products the Company offers" and "The FCA, as the successor to the OFT, has expressed, and continues to express, concerns about the Company's compliance with applicable U.K. regulations, which has caused and will continue to cause changes to the Company's business and could negatively impact its operations and results."

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Except as described below, since December 31, 2013, there have been no changes in critical accounting policies as described in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013.

RESULTS OF CONTINUING OPERATIONS

Overview and Highlights

The Company's financial results for the three months ended March 31, 2014 (the "current quarter") are summarized below.

Consolidated total revenue was $493.1 million, representing an increase of $25.0 million, or 5.3%, for the current quarter compared to the three months ended March 31, 2013 (the "prior year quarter").

Consolidated net revenue increased $23.1 million, or 8.5%, to $295.0 million for the current quarter from $271.9 million for the prior year quarter. The increase was primarily due to a $25.3 million, or 18.7%, increase in consumer loan net revenue, which consists of consumer loan fees, net of consumer loan loss provision.

Consolidated income from operations increased $6.6 million, or 8.5%, to $84.2 million in the current quarter compared to $77.6 million in the prior year quarter.

Consolidated net income increased $1.8 million, or 4.1%, to $45.7 million in the current quarter compared to $43.9 million in the prior year quarter.

Consolidated diluted net income per share increased 10.7%, or $0.15 per share, to $1.55 in the current quarter compared to $1.40 in the prior year quarter.

OVERVIEW

Consolidated Net Revenue

Consolidated net revenue is composed of total revenue less cost of disposed merchandise and consumer loan loss provision. Net revenue is the income available to satisfy all remaining expenses and is the measure management uses to evaluate top-line performance.

The following tables show the components of net revenue for the current quarter and prior year quarter for the Company's retail services and e-commerce segments, for the Company's corporate operations and on a consolidated basis (dollars in thousands):

For the current quarter, consolidated net revenue increased $23.1 million, or 8.5%, to $295.0 million from $271.9 million for the prior year quarter. Consumer loan net revenue accounted for 54.5% and 49.8% of total consolidated net revenue for the current quarter and prior year quarter, respectively. Consumer loan net revenue increased $25.3 million, to $160.7 million during the current quarter, mainly due to an increase in consumer loan fees that resulted from an increase in consumer loan balances in the e-commerce segment and a decrease in the loss provision as a percentage of consumer loan fees. Pawn-related net revenue accounted for 44.8% and 49.0% of total consolidated net revenue for the current quarter and prior year quarter, respectively. Pawn-related net revenue decreased $1.2 million, to $132.1 million during the current quarter from $133.3 million in the prior year quarter. The decrease in pawn-related net revenue was primarily attributable to lower commercial sales and a decrease in gross profit margin on the commercial disposition of merchandise, partially offset by higher pawn loan fees and service charges and higher gross profit on retail sales.

Non-GAAP Disclosure

In addition to the financial information prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (“GAAP”), the Company provides historical non-GAAP financial information. Management believes that presentation of non-GAAP financial information is meaningful and useful in understanding the activities and business metrics of the Company’s operations. Management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures reflect an additional way of viewing aspects of the Company’s business that, when viewed with its GAAP results, provide a more complete understanding of factors and trends affecting its business.

Management provides non-GAAP financial information for informational purposes and to enhance understanding of the Company’s GAAP consolidated financial statements. Readers should consider the information in addition to, but not instead of or superior to, its financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. This non-GAAP financial information may be determined or calculated differently by other companies, limiting the usefulness of those measures for comparative purposes.

Adjusted Earnings Measures

In addition to reporting financial results in accordance with GAAP, the Company has provided adjusted net income and diluted net income per shares attributable to the Company, adjusted earnings and adjusted earnings per share (collectively, the "Adjusted Earnings Measures"), which are non-GAAP measures. Management believes that the presentation of these measures provides investors with greater transparency and facilitates comparison of operating results across a broad spectrum of companies with varying capital structures, compensation strategies, derivative instruments and amortization methods, which provides a more complete understanding of the Company's financial performance, competitive position and prospects for the future. Management also believes that investors regularly rely on non-GAAP financial measures, such as the Adjusted Earnings Measures, to assess operating performance and that such measures may highlight trends in the Company's business that may not otherwise be apparent when relying on financial measures calculated in accordance with GAAP. In addition, management believes that the adjustments shown below, especially the adjustment for the loss on the extinguishment of a portion of the Company's convertible senior notes (the "Debt Extinguishment") and the charges related to the Company's settlement of a litigation matter in 2013 (the "2013 Litigation Settlement") are useful to investors in order to allow them to compare the Company's financial results for the current quarter with the prior year quarter, respectively.

The following table provides a reconciliation for the current quarter and prior year quarter, respectively, between net income attributable to the Company and diluted earnings per share calculated in accordance with GAAP to the Adjusted Earnings Measures, which are shown net of tax (dollars in thousands, except per share data):

Adjusted EBITDA

The table below shows adjusted EBITDA, a non-GAAP measure that the Company defines as earnings excluding depreciation, amortization, interest, foreign currency transaction gains or losses, loss on extinguishment of debt, equity in earnings or loss of unconsolidated subsidiary, taxes and including the net income or loss attributable to noncontrolling interests. Management believes adjusted EBITDA is used by investors to analyze operating performance and evaluate the Company's ability to incur and service debt and its capacity for making capital expenditures. Adjusted EBITDA is also useful to investors to help assess the Company's estimated enterprise value. In addition, management believes that the adjustments shown below, especially the adjustments for the closure of 36 consumer lending-only retail services locations in Texas during the second half of 2013 (the "Texas Consumer Loan Store Closures"), the penalty paid to the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau ("CFPB") in connection with the issuance of a consent order by the CFPB (the "Regulatory Penalty"), charges related to the 2013 Litigation Settlement, an income tax benefit related to the change of tax basis in the stock of one of its subsidiaries in connection with the Mexico Reorganization (as defined below) (the "Creazione Deduction"), the withdrawal in July 2012 of the proposed initial public offering by the Company's wholly-owned subsidiary, Enova ("Enova IPO"), the reorganization of the Company's Mexico-based pawn operations during 2012 (the "Mexico Reorganization") and a voluntary program to reimburse Ohio customers in connection with legal collections proceedings initiated by the Company in Ohio (the "Ohio Reimbursement Program"), including a decrease in the Company's remaining liability related to the Ohio Reimbursement Program during 2013 after the assessment of the claims made to date and related matters (the "Ohio Adjustment"), are useful to investors in order to allow them to compare the Company's financial results during the periods shown without the effect of each of these income and expense items. The computation of adjusted EBITDA as presented below may differ from the computation of similarly-titled measures provided by other companies (dollars in thousands):

Pawn Lending Activities

Pawn lending activities consist of pawn loan fees and service charges from the retail services segment and the profit on disposition of collateral from forfeited pawn loans, as well as the sale of merchandise acquired from customers directly or from third parties.

Pawn Loan Fees and Service Charges and Pawn Loan Balances

Consolidated pawn loan balances as of March 31, 2014 were $218.1 million, which was $15.1 million higher than March 31, 2013, primarily due to an increase in pawn loan balances from acquisitions in the Company's domestic pawn operations.

Table of Contents

Domestic Pawn Loan Balances

The average balance of domestic pawn loans outstanding during the current quarter increased by $13.7 million, or 6.1%, compared to the prior year quarter, primarily due to an increase in the loan balances as a result of the addition of 84 domestic pawn lending locations through acquisitions and de novo store growth since the prior year quarter. The increase was partially offset by lower average pawn loan balances in same-store domestic retail services locations (stores that have been open for at least 12 months), which decreased 3.8% in the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter. Management believes this decrease is primarily attributable to a reduction in demand for pawn loans by customers. The average amount per loan in domestic pawn operations decreased to $125 in the current quarter from $130 in the prior year quarter and was influenced by a greater mix of pawn loans being collateralized by non-jewelry merchandise, which generally have a lower average loan amount than loans collateralized by jewelry.

Domestic pawn loan fees and service charges increased $4.3 million, or 5.8%, to $78.5 million in the current quarter from $74.2 million in the prior year quarter. The increase was primarily driven by the higher average domestic pawn loan balances during the current quarter as compared to the prior year quarter, primarily due to acquisitions and de novo store growth. Pawn loan yield in the current quarter was relatively flat as compared to the prior year quarter at 134.6% in 2014 compared to 135.0% in 2013.

Foreign Pawn Loan Balances

The average balance of foreign pawn loans outstanding increased slightly in the current quarter to $4.7 million, from $4.5 million in the prior year quarter. Foreign pawn loan fees and service charges were relatively flat at $1.7 million in the current quarter and in the prior year quarter.

Proceeds from Disposition of Merchandise and Gross Profit

Profit from the disposition of merchandise represents the proceeds received from the disposition of merchandise in excess of the cost of disposed merchandise, which is the Company's cost basis in the pawn loan or the amount paid for purchased merchandise. Retail sales include the sale of jewelry and general merchandise direct to consumers through the Company's domestic and foreign retail services locations or over the internet through auction and other similar sites. Commercial sales include the sale of refined gold, platinum, silver and diamonds to brokers or manufacturers. The following table summarizes the proceeds from the disposition of merchandise and the related profit for the current quarter and the prior year quarter (dollars in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,			2013
	2014		Total	Retail	Commercial	Total
Proceeds from disposition	$142,293	$34,162	$176,455	$112,410	$66,307	$178,717
Gross profit on disposition	$49,352	$2,539	$51,891	$41,990	$15,392	$57,382
Gross profit margin	34.7	% 7.4	% 29.4	% 37.4	% 23.2	% 32.1	%
Percentage of total gross profit	95.1	% 4.9	% 100.0	% 73.2	% 26.8	% 100.0	%

As the table above indicates, the Company is placing a greater emphasis on retail disposition of merchandise in its retail services locations and placed much less reliance on the dispositions of commercial merchandise due to the prevailing lower market price for pure gold. Management expects this trend to continue and will focus on the aggregate profit on the disposition of merchandise. This shift is expected to result in higher levels of merchandise available for disposition and a decrease in inventory turnover ratio as more goods will be available for sale in retail services locations.

The total proceeds from disposition of merchandise decreased $2.3 million, or 1.3%, in the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter, and the total gross profit from the disposition of merchandise decreased $5.5 million, or

9.6%, during the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter. These decreases are primarily due to the decrease in commercial sales activity during the current quarter, partially offset by an increase in retail sales. The overall gross profit margin percentage decreased to 29.4% in the current quarter compared to 32.1% in the prior year quarter, primarily due to a decrease in gross profit margin on commercial sales. The consolidated merchandise turnover rate decreased to 2.5 times during the current quarter compared to 3.1 times in the prior year quarter, primarily due to management's decision to emphasize retail disposition activity rather than the Company's routine practice in recent years of disposing of a higher volume of merchandise through commercial sales. Commercial merchandise disposition activities typically have a higher turnover rate than retail merchandise disposition activities. Proceeds from retail dispositions of merchandise increased $29.9 million, or 26.6%, during the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter. Proceeds from retail dispositions in domestic retail operations increased $29.4 million, primarily due to management's emphasis on retail disposition activity and the addition of retail services locations through de novo store growth and acquisitions since the prior year quarter. Proceeds from retail dispositions in foreign retail operations increased $0.5 million in the current quarter from the prior year quarter.

Gross profit from retail dispositions increased to 95.1% of total gross profit compared to 73.2% in the prior year quarter, primarily due to the shift to emphasize more retail disposition activity over commercial sales activity. Consolidated gross profit from retail dispositions increased $7.4 million, which was almost entirely due to higher gross profit from retail dispositions in domestic operations. The consolidated gross profit margin on the retail disposition of merchandise decreased to 34.7% in the current quarter compared to 37.4% in the prior year quarter, primarily due to the discounting of merchandise prices to encourage retail sales activity.

Proceeds from commercial dispositions decreased $32.1 million, or 48.5%, during the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter. Proceeds from commercial dispositions from domestic operations decreased by $31.4 million, primarily due to a decrease in the volume of gold and diamonds sold as part of an effort to place a greater emphasis on retail disposition activity and due to a substantial decrease in the average market price of gold sold between these two periods.

Gross profit from commercial dispositions decreased $12.9 million, due almost entirely to lower gross profit from commercial dispositions in domestic operations. The decrease in consolidated gross profit margin from commercial sales, to 7.4% in the current quarter from 23.2% in the prior year quarter, was mainly due to a higher cost of gold sold relative to the market price per ounce of gold sold, partially offset by a slightly higher gross margin generated on the sale of loose diamonds in the current quarter.

In future periods, management expects the ratio of commercial sales to total sales to remain relatively consistent with current levels as part of the Company's initiative to emphasize retail sales of jewelry in its retail services locations. Management expects to continue to experience gross profit margin levels consistent with the current quarter on retail dispositions. Management also expects gross profit margin on commercial dispositions to be at these lower levels in future periods, mainly due to lower prevailing market prices for gold as compared to the prior year. The combination of these factors may cause overall gross profit margin in future periods to be lower than the prior year.

Consumer Loan Activities

Consumer Loan Fees

Consumer loan fees increased $24.0 million, or 11.4%, to $234.2 million in the current quarter compared to $210.2 million in the prior year quarter. The increase in consumer loan fees is primarily due to growth in consumer loan balances in the e-commerce segment, with domestic e-commerce operations contributing $18.4 million and foreign e-commerce operations contributing $8.1 million of the consolidated increase. Offsetting the increase from the e-commerce segment was a $2.5 million decrease in consumer loan fees in the retail services segment, primarily due to a decrease in the number of retail services locations offering the product, mainly as a result of the Texas Consumer Loan Store Closures, and reduced loan demand in the Company's retail services locations.

Consumer loan fees from the foreign component of the e-commerce segment were 47.7% of consumer loan fees for the e-commerce segment and 42.4% of consolidated consumer loan fees in the current quarter, compared to 50.2% of consumer loan fees for the e-commerce segment and 43.4% of consolidated consumer loan fees in the prior year quarter.

Consumer Loan Loss Provision

The consumer loan loss provision decreased by $1.4 million, or 1.8%, to $73.5 million in the current quarter from $74.9 million in the prior year quarter. The loss provision as a percentage of consumer loan fees decreased to 31.4% in the current quarter compared to 35.6% in the prior year quarter. The decrease was primarily due to the lower loss experience in the Company's installment loan product, as a result of fewer delinquent loans, increased collections and a higher percentage mix of customers with established payment histories during the current quarter as compared to the prior year quarter. In addition, the Company recently made refinements to its consumer loan underwriting models, which it believes also contributed to the recent improvements in loss rates. While the short-term consumer loan product was a less significant portion of the aggregate portfolio, loss experience for the product also decreased in the current quarter, contributing to the decrease in loan loss provision as a percentage of fees for the period. Management expects the loss provision as a percentage of fees will continue to be influenced by the mix of new and existing customers and the mix of outstanding loan products.

Combined Consumer Loans

In addition to reporting consumer loans owned by the Company and consumer loans guaranteed by the Company, which are either GAAP items or disclosures required by GAAP, the Company has provided combined consumer loans, which is a non-GAAP measure. In addition, the Company has reported consumer loans written and renewed, which is statistical data that is not included in the Company's financial statements. The Company also reports allowances and liabilities for estimated losses on consumer loans individually and on a combined basis, which are GAAP measures that are included in the Company's financial statements.

Management believes these measures, including ratios calculated using these measures, provide investors with important information needed to evaluate the magnitude of potential loan losses and the opportunity for revenue performance of the consumer loan portfolio on an aggregate basis. Management believes the comparison of the aggregate amounts from period to period is more meaningful than comparing only the residual amount on the Company's balance sheet since both revenue and the consumer loan loss provision are impacted by the aggregate amount of loans owned by the Company and those guaranteed by the Company as reflected in its financial statements.

Consumer Loan Balances

The outstanding combined portfolio balance of consumer loans, net of allowances and liability for estimated losses, increased $66.2 million, or 22.4%, to $361.8 million as of March 31, 2014 from $295.6 million as of March 31, 2013, primarily due to increased demand for the line of credit and installment loan products from the e-commerce segment in both domestic and foreign markets, partially offset by a decrease in short-term loans in the retail services and e-commerce segments. Management expects the loan balances in the line of credit account and installment loan products to continue to comprise a larger percentage of the total consumer loan portfolio, due to customer's preference for these products and the higher average amount per loan of installment loans relative to short-term loans and line of credit account products.

The combined consumer loan balance includes $399.8 million and $331.5 million as of March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively, of Company-owned consumer loan balances before the allowance for losses of $77.7 million provided in the consolidated financial statements for both March 31, 2014 and 2013. The combined consumer loan balance also includes $42.2 million and $43.9 million as of March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively, of consumer GAAP measure. The consumer loan balances guaranteed by the Company represent loans originated by third-party lenders through the CSO programs, so these balances are not recorded in the Company's financial statements.

(a) However, the Company has established a liability for estimated losses in support of its guarantee of these loans, which is reflected in the table above and included in its consolidated balance sheets.

(b) Except for allowance and liability for estimated losses, amounts represent non-GAAP measures.

Consumer Loans Written and Renewed

The amount of combined consumer loans written and renewed was $761.8 million in the current quarter, a decrease of $64.1 million, or 7.8%, from $825.9 million in the prior year quarter. The Company is experiencing a shift away from short-term consumer loans, as installment loans and line of credit balances comprise a greater percentage of consumer loans due to customers' preference for these products. Management believes that the consumer loans written and renewed statistics are becoming less meaningful than the change in the balances of consumer loans outstanding, which have increased in the current quarter as compared to the prior year quarter and will influence revenue in future periods.

Table of Contents

References throughout this discussion to renewed consumer loans include both renewals and extensions made by customers to their existing loans as discussed below. Where permitted by law and as long as a loan is not considered delinquent, a customer may choose to renew a short-term loan or installment loan or extend the due date on a short-term loan. In order to renew or extend a short-term loan, a customer must agree to pay the current finance charge for the right to make a later payment of the outstanding principal balance plus an additional finance charge. In some instances, customers agree to repay a new short-term loan in two or three payments, and in these cases the Company considers the obligation to make the first payment a new loan and the obligation to make the second and third payments renewals or extensions of that loan because the customer pays the finance charge due at the time of each payment, similar to a loan that has been renewed or extended. In order to renew an installment loan, the customer enters into a new installment loan contract and agrees to pay the principal balance and finance charge in accordance with the terms of the new loan contract.

Consumer Loans Written to New and Existing Customers in the E-commerce Segment

For its e-commerce segment, the Company measures the amount and number of consumer loans written and renewed that are Company-owned or guaranteed by the Company, as well as the mix between transactions with new customers and existing customers with whom it has a previous relationship. The amount and number of loans written to new customers reflect the Company's ability to acquire customers through its marketing programs and by providing new products, in addition to its ability to enter new markets. The amount and number of loans written to existing customers reflect the Company's ability to retain its customer base through high levels of customer service and customer satisfaction with the products offered by the Company. Loans written to existing customers include both loans with customers who have borrowed from the Company's e-commerce segment before, either in the current year or in prior years (including customers who may have borrowed through different consumer loan products or brands offered by the e-commerce segment), and loan renewals.

Consumer Loan Loss Experience

The Company monitors the performance of its consumer loan portfolio and maintains either an allowance or liability for estimated losses on consumer loans (including fees and interest) at a level estimated to be adequate to absorb credit losses inherent in the portfolio. The allowance for losses on the Company's owned consumer loans reduces the outstanding loan balance in the consolidated balance sheets. The liability for estimated losses related to loans guaranteed under the CSO programs is included in "Accounts payable and accrued expenses" in the consolidated balance sheets.

The allowance and liability for estimated losses as a percentage of combined consumer loans and fees receivable decreased to 18.1% in the current quarter from 21.2% in the prior year quarter, primarily due to improved performance of the consumer loan portfolios, partially related to the maturing of the Company's installment loan product, which experienced lower defaults and increased collections in the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter. The installment loan portfolio includes a higher percentage of customers with established payment histories in the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter, particularly in the e-commerce segment. New customers tend to have a higher risk of default than customers with a history of successfully repaying loans.

The consumer loan loss provision in the current quarter was $73.5 million, which was composed of $74.1 million related to Company-owned consumer loans, offset by $0.6 million related to loans guaranteed by the Company through the CSO programs. The consumer loan loss provision in the prior year quarter was $74.9 million, which was composed of $76.3 million related to Company-owned consumer loans, offset by $1.4 million related to loans guaranteed by the Company through the CSO programs. Consolidated charge-offs, net of recoveries, were $84.3 million in both the current quarter and prior year quarter, respectively.

Consumer Loan Loss Experience by Product

Management evaluates loss rates for all of its consumer loan products to determine credit quality and evaluate trends. For short-term loans, the Company evaluates consumer loan losses as a percentage of combined consumer loans written and renewed. For line of credit accounts and installment loans, the Company evaluates consumer loan losses as a percentage of the average consumer loan balance outstanding and the average combined consumer loan balance outstanding, respectively, for each portfolio.

Short-term Loans

Due to the nature of the short-term loan product and the high velocity of loans written and renewed, seasonal trends are evidenced in quarter-to-quarter performance. In the typical business cycle, the consumer loan loss provision as a percent of combined consumer loans written and renewed for short-term consumer loans is usually lowest in the first quarter and typically increases throughout the year. This seasonal trend was evidenced in the current quarter, and the loss provision as a percentage of combined consumer loans written and renewed was lower than the seasonally comparable prior year quarter. This decrease was primarily due to a decrease in demand for short-term consumer loans as the Company continued to experience a shift in customers' preference for the Company's line of credit and installment loan products over its short-term consumer loan product.

Line of Credit Accounts

The consumer loan loss provision as a percentage of average consumer loan balance for line of credit accounts exhibits a similar quarterly seasonal trend to short-term consumer loan loss rates as the ratio is typically lower in the first quarter and increases throughout the remainder of the year, peaking in the third and fourth quarters with higher loan demand.

Consumer loan loss provision as a percentage of consumer loan fees is generally higher for line of credit accounts because this product has recently been introduced into new markets and is attracting a greater mix of new customers.

This is particularly evident in periods of higher growth for line of credit account portfolios, which has been the case in recent years. Another factor contributing to the higher rate of losses as a percentage of consumer loan fees is that the loan yield for line of credit accounts is typically lower than the short-term loan products offered by the Company. The consumer loan loss provision as a percentage of consumer loan fees increased to 32.0% in the current quarter compared to 28.2% in the prior year quarter, primarily due to growth in the foreign e-commerce segment, which introduced the line of credit account product during 2013.

^(a) The average consumer loan balance for line of credit accounts is the simple average of the beginning and ending consumer loan balance for the quarter for line of credit accounts.

Installment Loans

For installment loans, the consumer loan loss provision as a percentage of combined average consumer loan balance is more consistent throughout the year than short-term loans or line of credit accounts. Due to the scheduled monthly or bi-weekly payments that are inherent with installment loans, the Company does not experience the higher levels of repayments in the first quarter for these loans as it experiences with short-term loans and to a lesser extent, line of credit accounts.

Consumer loan loss provision as a percentage of consumer loan fees are generally higher for the installment loan product than for other loan products partially because installment loans typically have a higher average amount per loan and the highest level of default is exhibited in the early stages of the loan, while revenue is recognized over the term of the loan. Another factor contributing to the higher rate of losses as a percentage of fees is that the loan yield for installment loans is typically significantly lower than the short-term loan products offered by the Company. During the current quarter, the Company experienced lower loss rates than it has been experiencing, primarily due to the maturing of the installment loan product. See "Consumer Loan Loss Experience" section above.

Table of Contents

Consolidated total expenses increased $16.5 million, or 8.5%, to $210.8 million in the current quarter compared to $194.4 million in the prior year quarter. Total expenses for the retail services segment increased $11.6 million, or 11.2%, to $115.1 million during the current quarter compared to $103.5 million in the prior year quarter. Total expenses for the e-commerce segment increased $2.3 million, or 3.2%, to $72.3 million in the current quarter.

Operations and Administration Expenses

Retail Services

Operations and administration expenses for the retail services segment increased $10.1 million, or 10.7%, to $104.4 million during the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter. Personnel expenses for the retail services segment increased $7.7 million, or 14.2%, primarily due to normal merit increases and the addition of 84 retail services locations through acquisitions and de novo store growth that occurred since the prior year quarter. Occupancy expenses, which include rent, property taxes, insurance, utilities and maintenance, increased $3.8 million, or 14.0%, primarily due to normal rent increases, acquisitions and de novo store growth. Offsetting these increases was a $1.3 million decrease in marketing costs, which was primarily due to a reduction in certain advertising activities in the current quarter as compared to the prior year quarter.

E-commerce

Operations and administration expenses for the e-commerce segment increased $2.6 million, or 3.9%, to $68.2 million during the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter.

Marketing expenses increased $0.5 million, or 1.6%, resulting from offsetting fluctuations in domestic and foreign marketing expenses. Domestic marketing expenses increased by approximately $2.1 million in the current quarter as compared to the prior year quarter. The increase was primarily due to higher television and pay-per-click internet advertising costs. This increase was primarily offset by a decrease of $1.6 million in foreign marketing expenses, primarily associated with lower pay-per-click internet expenses and lower lead generation expenses.

Personnel expenses increased $0.2 million, to $25.8 million, in the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter. Other operations and administration expenses increased by $1.6 million, or 17.2%, primarily related to higher accounting and legal professional services incurred in the current quarter in conjunction with the Company's recent decision to review strategic alternatives for the e-commerce segment and certain other matters. See "Recent Developments—Review of Strategic Separation Alternatives for the E-commerce Business."

Corporate

Corporate administration expenses increased $2.1 million, or 12.3%, to $19.0 million in the current quarter, primarily due to higher personnel expenses, primarily attributable to incentive and compensation increases in the current quarter compared to the prior year quarter.

Depreciation and Amortization Expenses

Consolidated depreciation and amortization expenses increased $1.7 million, or 9.9%, primarily due to an increase in these expenses in the retail services segment due to the addition of 84 retail services locations and the amortization of certain intangible assets related to acquisitions completed in 2013. Depreciation and amortization expenses at the retail services segment increased $1.5 million, or 16.4%, to $10.7 million. Depreciation and amortization expenses at the e-commerce segment decreased $0.3 million, or 7.3%, to $4.1 million. Depreciation and amortization expenses for corporate operations increased $0.5 million, or 14.1%, to $4.4 million.

Interest Expense

Interest expense increased $2.7 million, or 35.2%, to $10.1 million in the current quarter as compared to $7.4 million in the prior year quarter, primarily due to higher average levels of debt outstanding than the prior year quarter and, to a lesser extent, higher blended cost of debt outstanding. During the current quarter, the average amount of debt outstanding increased $160.1 million, to $703.7 million from $543.6 million during the prior year quarter, primarily due to borrowings related to the acquisitions of two pawn lending chains for an aggregate purchase price of $164.9 million in the second half of 2013. In addition, the Company issued $300.0 million of 5.75% senior unsecured notes due 2018 (the “2018 Senior Notes”) in May 2013 and paid down its bank line of credit at that time, which has a lower effective borrowing rate. The Company’s effective blended borrowing cost increased to 5.4% in the current quarter compared to 4.9% in the prior year quarter.

Income Taxes

The Company's effective tax rate was 37.0% for both the current quarter and the prior year quarter.

Cash Flows from Operating Activities

Net cash provided by operating activities was $158.4 million in current quarter, representing a decrease of $13.9 million, or 8.1%, from $172.3 million in the prior year quarter. The decrease was primarily related to an $18.3 million payment made in the current quarter related to the 2013 Litigation Settlement, which reduced accounts payable and accrued expenses, partially offset by a $2.3 million increase in accrued interest, mainly related to the Company's 2018 Senior Notes, which were issued in the second quarter of 2013.

Management believes that its expected cash flows from operations and available cash balances and borrowings will be sufficient to fund the Company's operating liquidity needs.

Cash Flows from Investing Activities

Net cash used in investing activities increased $1.3 million, or 22.8%, from $6.1 million in the prior year quarter to $7.4 million in the current quarter. During the current quarter, the Company used $14.5 million for purchases of software, property and equipment, which was $5.0 million more than the Company used in the prior year quarter. Offsetting this increase was a $4.8 million decrease in cash used for consumer loan activities, mainly due to increased payments and collections on consumer loans written and renewed. Cash used for pawn lending activities was $0.6 million lower in the current quarter as compared to the prior year quarter.

Management anticipates that expenditures for software, property and equipment related to its operations for the remainder of 2014 will be between $55 million and $65 million, excluding acquisitions, primarily for the remodeling of stores, facility upgrades, technology infrastructure and for the establishment of approximately 10 to 15 new retail services locations.

Cash Flows from Financing Activities

Net cash used in financing activities decreased $9.9 million, or 6.5%, from $152.6 million in the prior year quarter to $142.7 million in the current quarter. The decrease was primarily due a $22.0 million decrease in the repurchases of shares of Company common stock through open market transactions during the current quarter from the prior year quarter. See "Share Repurchases" below for additional information related to share repurchase activity. Offsetting this decrease was an aggregate $11.6 million increase in cash used for all payments and repurchases of long-term debt during the period. During the current quarter, the Company repurchased $58.6 million principal amount of the Company's senior unsecured convertible notes due 2029 ("2029 Convertible Notes") in privately-negotiated transactions for aggregate cash consideration of $89.5 million which includes the share value of the convertible feature plus interest accrued on the debt as of the repurchase date. The Company funded these repayments primarily through borrowings on its line of credit.

The Company has notified the remaining holders of its outstanding 2029 Convertible Notes that on May 15, 2014, it will redeem all outstanding 2029 Convertible Notes. For all 2029 Convertible Notes that are properly surrendered for conversion, the Company intends to pay the principal amount of the 2029 Convertible Notes in cash and the remainder of the conversion value in excess of the principal amount in shares of common stock. As of March 31, 2014 the remaining principal of the 2029 Convertible Notes was $44.2 million.

The Company's debt agreements require the Company to maintain certain financial ratios. As of March 31, 2014, the Company was in compliance with all covenants and other requirements set forth in its debt agreements. As of March 31, 2014, the Company's available borrowings under its domestic and multi-currency line of credit (the "Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit"), were $131.4 million. Management believes that the borrowings available under the Company's Domestic and Multi-currency Line of Credit, anticipated cash generated from operations and current working capital of $780.9 million is sufficient to meet the Company's anticipated capital requirements for its business, including the planned redemption in 2014 of the remainder of the Company's outstanding 2029 Convertible Notes.

Should the Company experience a significant decline in demand for the Company's products and services or other unexpected changes in financial condition, management would evaluate several alternatives to ensure that it is in a position to meet liquidity requirements. The Company's strategies to generate additional liquidity may include the sale of assets, reductions in capital spending, changes to the issuance of debt or equity securities and/or its management of its current assets. The characteristics of the Company's current assets, specifically the ability to rapidly liquidate gold jewelry inventory and adjust outflows of cash in its lending practices, gives the Company flexibility to quickly modify its business strategy to increase cash flow from its business, if necessary.

The Company had standby letters of credit of $17.6 million issued under its $20.0 million letter of credit facility as of March 31, 2014.

Share Repurchases

During the current quarter, the Company did not purchase any shares in open market transactions. However, the Company repurchased a portion of the outstanding 2029 Convertible Notes, which reduced the number of diluted weighted average shares outstanding for the current quarter.

On January 24, 2013, the Board of Directors of the Company authorized a new share repurchase program for the repurchase of up to 2.5 million shares of its common stock and canceled the Company's previous share repurchase authorization from January 2011. Management anticipates that it will periodically purchase shares under this authorization based on its assessment of market conditions, the liquidity position of the Company and alternative prospects for the investment of capital to expand the business and pursue strategic objectives. At March 31, 2014, there were 1,533,300 shares remaining under the 2013 authorization to repurchase shares. Generally, the Company retains the shares upon repurchase in treasury, which are not considered outstanding for earnings per common share computation purposes.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

In certain markets, the Company arranges for consumers to obtain consumer loan products from one of several independent third-party lenders through the CSO programs. For consumer loan products originated by third-party lenders under the CSO programs, each lender is responsible for providing the criteria by which the consumer's application is underwritten and, if approved, determining the amount of the consumer loan. The Company in turn is responsible for assessing whether or not the Company will guarantee such loans. When a consumer executes an agreement with the Company under the CSO programs, the Company agrees, for a fee payable to the Company by the consumer, to provide certain services to the consumer, one of which is to guarantee the consumer's obligation to repay the loan received by the consumer from the third-party lender if the consumer fails to do so. The guarantee represents an obligation to purchase specific loans if they go into default. Short-term loans that are guaranteed generally have terms of less than 90 days. Secured auto equity loans, which are included in the Company's installment loan portfolio, typically have an average term of less than 24 months, with available terms of up to 42 months.

As of March 31, 2014 and 2013, the gross amount of active consumer loans originated by third-party lenders under the CSO programs were $42.2 million and $43.9 million, respectively, which were guaranteed by the Company. The estimated fair value of the liability for estimated losses on consumer loans guaranteed by the Company of $2.5 million and $2.1 million as of March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively, was included in "Accounts payable and accrued expenses" in the consolidated balance sheets.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Market risks relating to the Company's operations result primarily from changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and gold prices. The Company does not engage in speculative or leveraged transactions, nor does it hold or issue financial instruments for trading purposes. There have been no material changes to the Company's exposure to market risks since December 31, 2013.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, management of the Company has evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the "Exchange Act") as of March 31, 2014 (the "Evaluation Date"). Based upon that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of the Evaluation Date, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective and provide reasonable assurance (i) to ensure that information required to be disclosed in reports that the Company files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms; and (ii) to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports that the Company files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures.

There was no change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended March 31, 2014 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

The Company's management, including its Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, does not expect that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures or internal controls will prevent or detect all possible misstatements due to error or fraud. The Company's disclosure controls and procedures and internal controls are, however, designed to provide reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives, and the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective at that reasonable assurance level.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

Except as set forth below, there have been no material changes from the Risk Factors described in "Part I. Item 1A. Risk Factors" of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013.

The United Kingdom has taken a stricter approach to the regulation of the consumer loan industry as well as demonstrated an increasing interest in considering legislation or regulations that could further regulate or restrict the consumer loan products the Company offers.

In the United Kingdom, the Company is subject to regulation by the FCA and must comply with the FCA's rules and regulations set forth in the FCA Handbook (the "Handbook"), the European Union Consumer Credit Directive and the applicable provisions of the Consumer Credit Act of 1974, as amended by the Consumer Credit Act of 2006 (the "CCA"), among other rules and regulations.

In December 2012, the U.K. Parliament passed the Financial Services Act 2012 (the "Act"), which created a new regulatory framework for the supervision and management of the banking and financial services industry in the United Kingdom, including the consumer lending industry in which the Company operates. The Act mandated that, in April 2014, the FCA take over responsibility for regulating consumer credit from the OFT, and it also made changes to the CCA and the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 ("FSMA"). Under the new FCA regime, the Company has obtained interim permission to provide consumer credit and must be approved for full authorization from the FCA to continue to provide consumer credit, which will require that the Company satisfy, and continue to satisfy, certain minimum standards set out in the FSMA and may result in additional tax and other costs to the Company. The FCA is expected to complete the process of considering whether to grant previous OFT license holders full authorization by April 1, 2016, and there is no guarantee that the Company will receive full authorization from the FCA.

The FCA will regulate consumer credit pursuant to the guidance of the FSMA and the Handbook, which includes prescriptive regulations and carries across many of the standards set out in the CCA and its secondary legislation as well as the OFT's previous Irresponsible Lending Guidance (the "Guidance"). Prescriptive regulations, as contrasted with principles-based regulations that formerly regulated the unsecured lending sector in the United Kingdom, define what a lender may and may not do with a specific product, similar to U.S. law. The FSMA gives the FCA the power to authorize, supervise, and bring enforcement actions against lenders, as well as to make rules for the regulation of consumer credit. On February 28, 2014, the Consumer Credit Sourcebook was issued under the Handbook and incorporates prescriptive regulations for consumer loans such as those offered by the Company, including mandatory affordability checks on borrowers, limiting the number of rollovers to two, restricting how lenders can advertise, banning advertisements it deems misleading, and introducing a limit of two unsuccessful attempts on the use of continuous payment authority to pay off a loan. Certain provisions of the Consumer Credit Sourcebook took effect on April 1, 2014, and other provisions for high cost short-term credit loans, such as the limits on rollovers, continuous payment authority and certain advertising practices, take effect on July 1, 2014. The FCA has indicated that it thinks the stricter regulation of the payday lending industry may force payday lenders with poorer practices out of business, which the FCA has indicated could include approximately a quarter of the high-cost short-term lenders in the U.K., while improving the practices of the others. See "The FCA, as successor to the OFT, has expressed, and continues to express, concerns about the Company's compliance with applicable U.K. regulations, which has caused and will continue to cause changes to the Company's business and could negatively impact its operations and results" below for a discussion of changes the Company has made and will make to its business practices to address the FCA's stricter requirements.

In addition, on December 18, 2013, the U.K. passed the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act, which includes an amendment that requires the FCA to introduce rules "with a view to securing an appropriate degree of protection for borrowers against excessive charges" on consumer loans by January 2, 2015. Pursuant to this amendment, the FCA could adopt fee caps, cost of credit limits or other restrictions that could reduce the volume or profitability of the consumer loans that the Company offers, could cause it to change the products that it offers or could cause the Company to cease offering certain types of consumer loans in the U.K.

Any of these legislative or regulatory activities could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, prospects, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows and could impair its ability to continue current operations in the United Kingdom.

The FCA, as successor to the OFT, has expressed, and continues to express, concerns about the Company's compliance with applicable U.K. regulations, which has caused and will continue to cause changes to the Company's business and could negatively impact its operations and results.

During the period of transition of regulatory responsibility over consumer credit from the OFT to the FCA, the OFT continued to fully and rigorously regulate consumer credit, including the short-term loan market. In February 2012, the OFT launched a review of the payday lending sector to assess the sector's compliance with the CCA, the Guidance and other relevant guidance and legal obligations. As part of this review, the OFT conducted examinations of a number of U.K. payday lenders, including the Company, to assess individual company compliance with these laws and guidance. In May 2013, the OFT sent the Company a letter of findings related to its examination of its U.K. short-term consumer loan (or payday) business, which indicated that it may not be complying fully with all aspects of the Guidance, the CCA and other relevant laws and guidance. This letter indicated the OFT's general and specific concerns in the following categories: advertising and marketing, pre-contract information and explanations, affordability assessments, rollovers, including deferred refinance and extended loans, debt forbearance and debt collection, and regulatory and other compliance issues. As requested by the OFT, in July 2013, the Company provided the OFT with an independent audit demonstrating its compliance in relation to each concern the OFT had identified in its letter. Through March 2014, the Company continued to receive additional requests for data and documentation from the OFT, and the Company complied with those requests.

The FCA has now assumed the examination and regulation of the Company, and the Company continues to receive additional requests for data and documentation from the FCA about its consumer loan products and has been complying with those requests. In addition, the Company has been informed by the FCA that it has concerns regarding the Company's ability to meet the enhanced regulatory requirements for the consumer lending industry under the FCA, noting concerns regarding the Company's debt forbearance and affordability assessment practices, as well as noting concerns regarding the FCA's ability to effectively supervise the Company when it has no physical presence (or office located) in the U.K. The FCA has also noted concerns regarding certain of the Company's advertising practices. The FCA has requested that the Company respond to these concerns, and the Company has been in communication with the FCA regarding these matters but has not yet resolved the FCA's concerns. In addition, the Company has made and will make additional changes to its business practices, such as its debt forbearance, debt collection, affordability assessment and advertising practices, to address the concerns of the FCA and to address the FCA's newly adopted requirements set out in the Consumer Credit Sourcebook. The Company also expects to establish an office in the U.K. to help alleviate the FCA's concerns about effective supervision. Changes to the Company's business practices to address the FCA's concerns and requirements could result in a decrease in the number of consumer loans that the Company is able to make, a decrease in the amounts loaned to customers, lower collections on loans made by the Company and additional operating expenses and taxes. Any inability to make changes to the satisfaction of the FCA could also have an adverse impact on the Company's authorization from the FCA to continue to provide consumer credit. The Company is still assessing the potential impact of these changes and what effect such changes may have on its business, prospects, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. The Company can provide no assurance as to whether it will be able to successfully resolve the concerns expressed by the FCA (and formerly the OFT) or as to the extent of the changes in the Company's business practices that the FCA may require. In addition, in addressing any future concerns raised by the FCA, the Company may need to change its business processes or consumer credit products in the United Kingdom in a manner that could materially adversely affect its business, prospects, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

In addition, in June 2013, the OFT referred the payday lending industry in the United Kingdom to the Competition Commission, which is now known as the Competition & Markets Authority, for review. The Competition & Markets Authority has been gathering data from industry participants, including the Company, in connection with its review of the U.K. payday lending industry to determine whether certain features of the payday lending industry prevent, restrict or distort competition and, if so, what remedial action should be taken. The Competition & Markets Authority is required to complete its report by June 26, 2015, although it has stated that it aims to complete the investigation in a shorter period. If the investigation finds remedial action is necessary, the Competition & Markets Authority will decide whether to order such remedial action itself or whether it should recommend certain actions or remedies be taken by the FCA.

Any of these legislative or regulatory activities could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, prospects, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows and could impair or impair its ability to continue current operations in the United Kingdom.

There are risks associated with the potential separation of Enova International, Inc.

On April 10, 2014, the Company announced its intent to review potential strategic alternatives, including a tax-free spin-off, for the separation of its online lending business that comprises its E-commerce Division, Enova International, Inc. ("Enova"). While a final decision has not been made, if a spin-off were to occur, the Company would be separated into two publicly traded companies: Enova International, Inc., which would own and operate the Company's online lending business that comprises its E-Commerce Division (or the e-commerce segment) with operations in the U.S., the U.K., Australia and Canada, and Cash America International, Inc., which would own and operate the Company's storefront lending businesses that comprise its Retail Services Division (or the retail services segment).

The Company has announced that management will analyze the potential separation of Enova and expects to make a final recommendation to the Company's Board of Directors in 2014. If the Board approves a separation, a transaction could be completed in late 2014 or early 2015, subject to market, regulatory and other conditions, including, if the separation takes the form of a tax-free spin-off, the receipt of a private letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service and an opinion from the Company's tax counsel. The Company currently expects that any spin-off would be in the form of a tax-free distribution of at least 80 percent of the Enova common stock to the Company's shareholders. The Company is also evaluating other potential separation alternatives.

To execute a transaction, a substantial amount of work is required on structure, governance, corporate finance strategy, compensation, tax planning, acquiring any necessary regulatory approvals and other significant matters. The separation is subject to a number of conditions, including final approval by the Board of Directors of transaction specifics. In addition, external events beyond the control of the Company and Enova could impact the timing or occurrence of a separation. There can be no assurance that any separation or other transaction will occur or, if one does occur, there can be no assurance as to its form, terms or timing.

Table of ContentsITEM 2. UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

The following table provides the information with respect to purchases made by the Company of shares of its common stock, par value $0.10 per share, during each of the months in the first three months of 2014:

Period	Total Number of Shares Purchased ^(a)	Average Price Paid Per Share	Total Number of Shares Purchased as Part of Publicly Announced Plan ^(b)	Maximum Number of Shares that May Yet Be Purchased Under the Plan ^(b)
January 1 to January 31	720	$37.20	—	1,533,300
February 1 to February 28	34,735	$37.23	—	1,533,300
March 1 to March 31	—	$0.00	—	1,533,300
Total	35,455	$37.23	—

Includes the following: shares withheld from employees as partial tax payments for shares issued under the Company's stock-based compensation plans of 720 and 34,708 shares for the months of January and February, respectively; and the reinvestment of dividends in the Company's nonqualified deferred compensation plan for its directors, which resulted in the purchase of 27 shares for the month of February.

On January 24, 2013, the Board of Directors authorized the Company's repurchase of up to a total of 2,500,000 shares of the Company's common stock. This repurchase authorization canceled and replaced the Company's previous authorization for the repurchase of up to a total of 2,500,000 shares of the Company's common stock that was approved by the Board of Directors on January 26, 2011.
