Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

On September 18, 2007, American Express Company (the "Company") issued a press release announcing that it has agreed to sell its international banking subsidiary, American Express Bank Ltd. ("AEB"), to Standard Chartered PLC ("Standard Chartered"). A copy of such press release is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and is incorporated herein by reference.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN EXPRESS CO - Form 8-K

CERTAIN FINANCIAL INFORMATION OF THE AMERICAN EXPRESS BANK LTD. & AMERICAN EXPRESS INTERNATIONAL DEPOSIT COMPANY ("AEIDC") BUSINESSES BEING SOLD

	As of June 30, 2007 -----
Assets	$21.3 billion
Equity Value	$772 million
	Year Ended December 31, 2006 -----	Six Months Ended June 30, 2007 -----
After-tax income (loss)	$45 million	$(42) million

THE AMOUNTS ABOVE WILL NOT BE FULLY REPRESENTATIVE OF THE RESULTS THE COMPANY WILL ULTIMATELY PRESENT AS DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS DUE TO COSTS RELATED TO CERTAIN INTERCOMPANY ALLOCATIONS THAT WILL REMAIN IN CONTINUING OPERATIONS, AND DUE TO THE TIMING OF THE SALE OF AEIDC AS DISCUSSED IN THE ATTACHED PRESS RELEASE.

DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

The operations of AEB will be reported by the Company as discontinued operations commencing with the third quarter of 2007. AEIDC will be included in discontinued operations one year prior to its sale to Standard Chartered, which is contracted to occur 18 months following the sale of AEB. All reported historical periods will be restated to reflect the discontinued operations classification.

LICENSES FOR AMERICAN EXPRESS CARD AND TRAVEL OPERATIONS

No card or travel businesses of the Company are part of the sale to Standard Chartered. In countries where certain card or travel operations are conducted through AEB or one of its subsidiaries, the Company is in the process of acquiring new licenses or transferring the operations to other subsidiaries of the Company. These countries include Argentina, Austria and India.

INVESTMENT PORTFOLIO

The underlying portfolio supporting the AEIDC certificate business includes $4.8 billion of investments (not including cash equivalents), of which the majority is invested in mortgage-backed securities, asset-backed securities and corporate obligations. These securities continue to produce the yields and cash flows that were expected at their time of purchase. The $50 million after-tax charge discussed in the attached press release is a result of the AEB transaction and its impact on the Company's strategy with respect to the holding period for certain investments supporting AEB's certificate business. The charge reflects the reduction in value within the AEIDC portfolio attributable to market interest rate movements since the date that the investment securities were purchased.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN EXPRESS CO - Form 8-K

The charges related to the AEIDC investment portfolio discussed above are the result of this transaction's impact on management's investment strategy, which does not extend beyond the AEIDC portfolio.

A summary analysis of the Company's investment portfolio by legal entity is as follows at August 31, 2007:

(Millions, except percentages)

	Book Value	Market Value	Market Value % of Total	Unrealized Gain	Unrealized Loss

At August 31, 2007, approximately $922 million, or 23 percent of total asset backed holdings were backed by assets other than first-lien residential mortgages, including home equity, auto and student loans as well as commercial mortgages. Of these securities 99 percent were AAA-rated. The $177 million of subprime mortgages represented underlying assets within AAA-rated securities whose cash flows are heavily protected from possible credit problems in the underlying assets. The cash flows the Company receives from these securities exceed the coupon amounts; the excess amount has been retiring principal.

-4-

Of the $3.1 billion in securities backed by first residential mortgages: 99 percent were rated AAA and the remaining 1 percent are rated AA. There were no holdings rated below AA backed by residential first mortgages. These securities are valued by independent pricing services based upon observable market prices.

More than 72 percent of the securities backed by first residential mortgages, or $2.2 billion, were primarily guaranteed by three government-sponsored entities: Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac or Ginnie Mae. These consisted primarily of pass-through securities in which a mortgage pool's cash flows support one class of securities. A smaller portion involve securities in which a pool supports several classes of structured securities with different cash flow characteristics but identical credit characteristics as all classes are guaranteed by one of the agencies. The net unrealized loss in this portfolio was approximately $50 million as of August 31, 2007 and was due to changes in fixed rates.

The remaining non-agency securities backed by residential mortgages consisted of securities in structured transactions, or collateralized mortgage obligations. Of these securities 96 percent are rated AAA; the remaining 4 percent are rated AA. The net unrealized loss in these securities was approximately $20 million as of August 31, 2007.
