The following email was sent to elected officers of Edison International and Southern California Edison Company on April 8, 2014:

Subject: Edison International Proxy Materials

To: Edison International and Southern California Edison Officers

If you own Edison International shares in a Wells Fargo account or the Edison 401(k) Savings Plan, you will receive a full set of proxy materials at your home. We have requested that a full set be delivered to you in addition to the Notice of Internet Availability that you should have received a couple weeks ago. If you already voted your shares online, you do not need to do anything further. If you haven't voted, you may vote by returning the proxy card included in the materials, or you may vote online at www.edison.com/annualmeeting using the control number on the proxy card or on the Notice that you previously received. It doesn't matter if you vote the shares more than once since only the last vote received will count.

If you own Edison International shares in a brokerage account, a Notice of Internet Availability with respect to these shares also should have arrived in the mail. For your vote to be fully counted, you need to also vote these shares. The Notice sent by your broker will contain separate control numbers for you to vote those shares. Please note that the broker envelopes do not identify the company as "Edison International," so please make sure to open any mail from your broker. Below is an example of what the envelope looks like for shares held through a broker such as Morgan Stanley Smith Barney:

Please make sure to vote the shares held in each account.

Thanks.
