Hello, I'm Philip Asherman, President and CEO of CB&I.

We are very pleased to announce that CB&I has signed an agreement to acquire The Shaw Group Inc. The combination of CB&I and Shaw will create one of the world's largest engineering and construction companies focused on the global energy industry.

Just like CB&I, Shaw is a leader in the markets it serves. Shaw's Power Group ranks as one of the industry leaders in the design and construction of fossil fuel and nuclear power plants. Shaw is one of the largest providers of maintenance and modification services for the nuclear industry. It provides environmental remediation and infrastructure services for government and private-sector clients worldwide. And Shaw is a leader in piping and structural steel fabrication, as well as module prefabrication and assembly.

The strategic intent of this acquisition is to create a combined organization that will be unique in its ability to respond to the growing demand for energy infrastructure around the world. We believe that joining our two companies will enable each entity to capitalize on the other's strengths and provide a wide range of products and services to our customers.

We believe the combination provides significant value for all shareholders involved and will set the stage for growth opportunities in the future.

We expect the transaction will close by the end of this year or shortly thereafter. In the meantime, CB&I will continue to deliver the safety performance, quality, value and disciplined project execution that our customers expect and deserve.

To all of our stakeholders, I thank you for both your interest in and support of CB&I. Our company has a very bright future and we are thrilled that you are part of it.
