Joint Announcement by ASE and SPIL

June 30, 2016 – Advanced Semiconductor Engineering, Inc. (TWSE code: 2311, NYSE code: ASX, hereafter “ASE”) and Siliconware Precision Industry Co., Ltd. (TWSE code: 2325, NASDAQ code: SPIL, hereafter “SPIL”) jointly announced today that each party’s respective board of directors has adopted resolution to approve the entering into and execution of a joint share exchange agreement between ASE and SPIL (the “Agreement”) and agreement to establish a new holding company (the “Holdco”). Major terms of the Agreement are set forth below:

1. ASE and SPIL jointly agree to establish Holdco, which will be listed in the Taiwan Stock Exchange and whose American depositary shares will be listed in the New York Stock Exchange. Upon the establishment of the HoldCo, ASE and SPIL will become wholly-owned subsidiaries of the HoldCo and become sibling companies. Through this parallel operation model which incentivizes healthy internal competition and promotes cooperation, ASE and SPIL will strive to improve each company’s operating efficiency, economies of scale as well as research and development and innovation results, thereby creating an environment of mutual assistance and win-win mentality, strengthening competitiveness and improving the performance of Holdco, with the main goals of improving the quality of customer service, creating shareholders value and benefiting the employees.

2. Upon the establishment of the Holdco, ASE and SPIL will each maintain its legal status as separate entities, retain its respective legal entity name as well as independent business and operation model. ASE and SPIL will each retain its respective management team and employees and maintain its current organizational structure, compensation and relevant benefits and personnel policies.

3. The share exchange will be conducted (1) at an exchange ratio of one ASE common share for 0.5 HoldCo common share, and (2) at NT$55 in cash for each of SPIL's common shares, with ASE and SPIL becoming wholly-owned subsidiaries of HoldCo. The cash consideration of NT$55 has been adjusted to NT$51.2 after excluding the NT$2.8 per share cash dividend distribution approved by resolution at SPIL's annual shareholders' meeting in 2016 as well as a NT$1.0 per share payment from capital reserve. The NT$51.2 cash consideration aforementioned will not be subject to further adjustment if the cash dividends distribution by SPIL in 2017 is less than 85% of SPIL's after-tax net profit for the year 2016.

4. The long stop date of the Agreement (the “Long Stop Date”), which means the expiration of the Agreement, is set at 18 months after the execution date of the Agreement (i.e., December 31, 2017) or a later date otherwise agreed upon in writing by both parties. If the closing of this transaction cannot be consummated due to failure of the conditions precedent to be satisfied on or before the Long Stop Date, the Agreement shall be terminated automatically at 0:00 on the day immediately following the Long Stop Date, unless otherwise agreed in writing.

5. The closing of the transaction will be subject to the execution of the Agreement, the necessary approvals by relevant domestic and foreign competent authorities, the approvals by ASE and SPIL’s respective shareholders’ meeting as well as the satisfaction of other conditions precedent.

The management teams of ASE and SPIL have agreed to jointly plan, with the utmost sincerity and determination and on the basis of equality, reciprocity and mutual benefit, the establishment of the HoldCo to consolidate the current operations and excellent talents of ASE and SPIL. The collaboration between the parties will result in synergies that can create competitive advantages and opportunities for the future development and sustained growth of the semiconductor industry by enhancing efficiency and economies of scale as well deeply strengthening research and development and innovation capabilities, thereby providing customers with higher quality, more efficient, and well-rounded packaging and testing services. ASE and SPIL have always strived for research and development innovation and improving economies of scale and operating efficiency to maximize shareholder value and improve the semiconductor packaging and testing industry's advantage. Both parties also believe that one of their main tasks and social responsibilities is to continue to cultivate and nurture excellent talents for years to come.
