BARRISTER GLOBAL SERVICES NETWORK, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. In the opinion of Management, the accompanying financial statements present fairly the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the periods shown. The second quarter results for each year represent operations for the quarters ended September 30, 2001 and September 30, 2000. The financial data included herein was compiled in accordance with the same accounting policies applied to the Company's audited annual financial statements. Any adjustments made were of a normal recurring nature.

The results of operations for the six month period ended September 30, 2001 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year.

2. Cash and equivalents consist of cash and liquid debt instruments with maturity of three months or less from the date of purchase. Cash and equivalents are stated at cost plus accrued interest, which approximates market value. Short-term investments and marketable securities are classified as held-to-maturity securities based on the Company's ability and intent to hold the securities until maturity. The securities are recorded at amortized cost adjusted for the accretion of discounts or cost plus accrued interest. Short-term investments consist of certificates of deposits and corporate debt instruments. Marketable securities consist of mortgage-backed securities and are expected to mature in less than two years.

3. On May 5, 2000, the Company sold substantially all of the assets of the Company's software business to Keystone Solutions US, Inc. (Keystone), a wholly owned subsidiary of Keystone Software PLC. The Company has agreed to indemnify Keystone with respect to any breach of its representations and warranties (subject to a $50,000 basket and a cap of the purchase price paid) or any breach of any covenant of the Company contained in the Asset Purchase Agreement. The Company agreed to indemnify Keystone with respect to claims or actions pending at or arising after the closing date (May 5, 2000) that related to the operation of the software business prior to that date.

The pre-tax net gain on the sale of the software business recorded in the first six months of the prior year was $3,467,000. The net gain less applicable income taxes (see note 4) is shown in the statements of operations under the caption discontinued operations.

4. The income tax benefit recorded in each of the comparable quarters on the net loss from continuing operations approximated the statutory tax rate. No additional tax benefits were established in the statements of operations for the comparable periods, since the Company has fully reserved for the tax effect of net deductible temporary differences and loss carryforwards. These benefits will be recorded in future periods as they are realized or as their realization becomes predictable.

The income tax provision associated with the gain from the sale of the software business (see note 3) was higher than the statutory tax rate since goodwill valued at $986,000 on the books had a zero basis for tax purposes. The provision includes current taxes of $894,000 and deferred taxes of $800,000. The deferred taxes resulted from the use of tax loss carryforwards from prior years, the reversal of temporary differences between book and tax on the assets sold, and the temporary difference created by the treatment of a portion the proceeds which were held in escrow.

5. The Company adopted SFAS No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities beginning April 1, 2001. SFAS No. 133 requires all derivatives to be recorded on the balance sheet at fair value and establishes new accounting rules for hedging instruments. The Company does not enter into hedging transactions or acquire derivative instruments, accordingly, SFAS No. 133 had no impact on the financial statements.

The Company will adopt SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations and SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets on April 1, 2002. SFAS No. 141 requires that the purchase method be used for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001. SFAS No. 142 changes the accounting for goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives from an amortization method to an impairment approach. The pronouncements are not expected to have an impact on the financial statements.

Table of Contents

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Financial Condition

Cash and equivalents, short-term investments and marketable securities totaled $3,875,000 at September 30, 2001 and $4,357,000 at March 31, 2001. The net decrease of $482,000 was primarily a result of debt repayments of $211,000, net cash used by operating activities of $191,000 and additions to equipment and leasehold improvements of $78,000.

The principal cash requirements expected for fiscal 2002 are debt repayments approximating $424,000, and additions to equipment and leasehold improvements which are expected to decrease from amounts spent in the prior year. The Company continues to explore the potential of a move of its headquarters into more suitable space. The Company had entered into a contingent lease for such a move, but decided to let this lease expire. It is expected that if any move takes place, the earliest that it would occur would be next fiscal year. The Company's cash and short term investments will be sufficient to cover working capital, capital expenditure requirements and debt repayments in fiscal 2002.

Results of Operations

For the quarter ended September 30, 2001, revenues increased 14.4% from the same quarter in 2000. For the six month period ended September 30, 2001, revenues increased 20.2% compared with the first six months of the prior year. These increases resulted from growth in revenues from hardware maintenance contracts and from services provided on a time and materials basis. For the comparative second quarters, revenues from hardware maintenance contracts grew to $2,287,000, an increase of 10.3% and for the comparative first six months these revenues grew to $4,570,000, an increase of 17.4%. These increases principally resulted from the capture of new contracts in the prior year and one large contract which started in September of this year. Time and material revenues increased by 21.3% to a total of $756,000 for the comparable second quarters and by 28.3% to a total of $1,501,000 for the comparative six month periods. The principal reasons for these increases were business generated from a new customer obtained from a reseller that started in April, 2001, the continuation of services outsourced by a direct customer, which commenced in the second half of the previous fiscal year, and services provided on a new large contract, which started in September of this year.

The cost of services as a percentage of revenues remained approximately the same for the comparable second quarters, amounting to 74.6% for the second quarter of the current year compared to 75.1% for the second quarter of the prior year. Similar results were realized for the comparable first six months, as these costs amounted to 74.6% of revenues for the first six months of this year compared to 74.8% of revenues for the first six months of the prior year.

Selling, general and administrative expenses were 30.3% of revenues for the second quarter of this year compared to 31.0% of revenues for the comparable quarter last year. For the comparable six month periods, these expenses were 29.7% of revenues compared to 31.1% of revenues in the previous year. The primary reason for these decreases is that the increases in revenues have been achieved without a commensurate growth in general and administrative expenses.

The decrease in interest income for the comparable second quarters was primarily based on a drop in interest rates, which impacted earnings from the Company's investments. An increase in interest income was realized for the comparable six month periods since the net proceeds from the sale of the Company's software business was received in May, 2000. Prior to that date, the Company did not have any investments and was incurring interest expense on certain borrowings.

The income tax benefit recorded in each of the comparable quarters and six month periods on the net loss from continuing operations approximated the statutory tax rate. No additional tax benefits were established in the statements of operations for the comparable periods, since the Company has fully reserved for the tax effect of net deductible temporary differences and loss carryforwards. These benefits will be recorded in future periods as they are realized or as their realization becomes predictable.

The pre-tax net gain on discontinued operations recognized in the first six months of the prior year is based on the sale of the Company's software business to Keystone on May 5, 2000. The income tax provision associated with the gain from the sale of the software business is higher than the statutory tax rate since goodwill valued at $986,000 on the books had a zero basis for tax purposes. The provision included current taxes of $894,000 and deferred taxes of $800,000. The deferred taxes resulted from the use of tax loss carryforwards from prior years, the reversal of temporary differences between book and tax on the assets sold and the temporary difference created by the treatment of a portion of the proceeds which were held in escrow.
