Gildan Activewear Responds to Solidarity Fund QFL Announcement

Montreal, Wednesday, November 12, 2003 Gildan Activewear Inc. (NYSE: GIL; TSX: GIL.A) today confirmed that the Solidarity Fund QFL had informed the Company of its intention to sell, in an orderly manner, its entire equity position in Gildan, amounting to close to 2.5 million class A subordinate voting shares. The Solidarity Fund QFL, which is the investment arm of the Quebec Federation of Labour, a large Quebec-based labour union, has indicated that it has reached this decision due to its inability to reach a consensus with Gildan regarding an isolated event involving a small group of workers at one of Gildan's sewing facilities in Honduras in November 2002. The Solidarity Fund QFL believes that Gildan engaged in actions to hinder union organization at that time, an interpretation of events which Gildan vigorously contests.

Gildan appreciates the long and mutually beneficial relationship which it has enjoyed with the Solidarity Fund QFL since 1996, when it first invested in Gildan prior to the Company's initial public offering in 1998. Gildan wishes to recognize that the Solidarity Fund QFL has been an important partner in Gildan's growth and success over the past 7 years. Gildan also wishes to express its appreciation for the contribution made by Daniel Laporte as the representative of the Solidarity Fund QFL on its Board of Directors over the past 5 years.

In responding to the announcement by the Solidarity Fund QFL, Gildan emphasized that it is proud of the fact that it operates all of its facilities in an ethical, stimulating work environment offering beneficial working conditions to its employees, and that the Company complies with all applicable legislation in every geographical location where it has operations. Gildan is committed to continuing to set a high standard within its industry for socially responsible behaviour. Gildan has recently become the first Canadian company and the first manufacturer in the wholesale imprinted activewear industry to become a Participating Company of the Fair Labor Association (FLA), recognized internationally as one of the most highly respected independent verification agencies. The FLA promotes adherence to international labour standards and improving working conditions.

In addition, the Corporation has had its own code of conduct for a number of years to monitor proper working conditions in Canada, the U.S. and abroad, both in its own facilities and those of any sub-contractors. Furthermore, four of Gildan's sewing plants have been certified by the Worldwide Responsible Apparel Production (WRAP). Freedom of association is a core principle of the FLA, WRAP and Gildan codes of conduct, and four of Gildan's Canadian facilities are unionized. Gildan's contribution to corporate social responsibility was recognized last February when the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) presented the Company with its Award for Excellence in Corporate Social and Ethical Responsibility.
