CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q contains, or incorporates by reference, certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements consist of any statement other than a recitation of historical facts and include, but are not limited to: (1) projections of revenues, expenses, income or loss, earnings or loss per share, cash flow, or other financial items; (2) statements of our plans and objectives, including those related to releases of products or services; (3) statements of future financial or operating performance; and (4) statements of assumptions underlying such statements. Activision Blizzard, Inc. generally uses words such as outlook, forecast, will, could, should, would, to be, plan, plans, believes, may, might, expects, intends, intends as, anticipates, estimate, future, positioned, potential, project, remain, scheduled, set to, subject to, upcoming and other similar expressions to help identify forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are subject to business and economic risks, reflect management's current expectations, estimates and projections about our business, and are inherently uncertain and difficult to predict.

The company cautions that a number of important factors could cause Activision Blizzard, Inc.'s actual future results and other future circumstances to differ materially from those expressed in any forward-looking statements. Such factors include, but are not limited to: sales levels of Activision Blizzard, Inc.'s titles, products, and services; concentration of revenue among a small number of titles; Activision Blizzard, Inc.'s ability to predict consumer preferences, including interest in specific genres and preferences among platforms; the diversion of management time and attention to issues relating to the operations of our acquired or newly started businesses; the amount of our debt and the limitations imposed by the covenants in the agreements governing our debt; the adoption rate and availability of new hardware (including peripherals) and related software; counterparty risks relating to customers, licensees, licensors, and manufacturers; maintenance of relationships with key personnel, customers, financing providers, licensees, licensors, manufacturers, vendors, and third-party developers, including the ability to attract, retain, and develop key personnel and developers that can create high-quality titles, products, and services; risks relating to the expansion into new businesses, including the potential impact on our existing businesses; changing business models within the video game industry, including digital delivery of content and the increased prevalence of free-to-play games; product delays or defects; competition, including from other forms of entertainment; rapid changes in technology and industry standards; possible declines in software pricing; product returns and price protection; the identification of suitable future acquisition opportunities and potential challenges associated with geographic expansion; the seasonal and cyclical nature of the interactive entertainment market; the outcome of current or future tax disputes; litigation risks and associated costs; protection of proprietary rights; shifts in consumer spending trends; capital market risks; the impact of applicable regulations; domestic and international economic, financial, and political conditions and policies; tax rates and foreign exchange rates; the impact of the current macroeconomic environment; and the other factors identified in Risk Factors included in Part I, Item 1A of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016.

The forward-looking statements contained herein are based on information available to Activision Blizzard, Inc. as of the date of this filing and we assume no obligation to update any such forward-looking statements. Although these forward-looking statements are believed to be true when made, they may ultimately prove to be incorrect. These statements are not guarantees of our future performance and are subject to risks, uncertainties and other factors, some of which are beyond our control and may cause actual results to differ materially from current expectations.

Activision Blizzard, Inc.'s names, abbreviations thereof, logos, and product and service designators are all either the registered or unregistered trademarks or trade names of Activision Blizzard, Inc. All other product or service names are the property of their respective owners.

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

1. Description of Business and Basis of Consolidation and Presentation

Activision Blizzard, Inc. is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive entertainment content and services. We develop and distribute content and services across all of the major gaming platforms, including video game consoles, personal computers (PC), and mobile devices. The terms Activision Blizzard, the Company, we, us, and our are used to refer collectively to Activision Blizzard, Inc. and its subsidiaries.

The Company was originally incorporated in California in 1979 and was reincorporated in Delaware in December 1992. We are the result of the 2008 business combination (the Business Combination) by and among the Company (then known as Activision, Inc.), Vivendi S.A. (Vivendi), and Vivendi Games, Inc. (Vivendi Games), an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Vivendi. In connection with the consummation of the Business Combination, Activision, Inc. was renamed Activision Blizzard, Inc.

The common stock of Activision Blizzard is traded on The NASDAQ Stock Market under the ticker symbol ATVI.

The King Acquisition

On February 23, 2016 (the King Closing Date), we acquired King Digital Entertainment, a leading interactive mobile entertainment company (King), by purchasing all of its outstanding shares (the King Acquisition), as further described in Note 14. Our condensed consolidated financial statements include the operations of King commencing on the King Closing Date.

Our Segments

As part of the continued implementation of our esports strategy, we instituted changes to our internal organization and reporting structure such that the Major League Gaming (MLG) business now operates as a division of Blizzard Entertainment, Inc. (Blizzard). As such, commencing with the second quarter of 2017, MLG, which was previously a separate operating segment, is now a component of the Blizzard operating segment. MLG will be responsible for the operations of the Overwatch League™, along with other esports events, and will also continue to serve as a multi-platform network for Activision Blizzard esports content.

Edgar Filing: Activision Blizzard, Inc. - Form 10-Q

Based upon our organizational structure, we conduct our business through three reportable segments as follows:

(i) Activision Publishing, Inc.

Activision Publishing, Inc. (Activision) is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive software products and entertainment content, particularly in console gaming. Activision primarily delivers content through retail channels or digital downloads, including full-game sales and in-game purchases, as well as licenses of software to third-party or related-party companies that distribute Activision products. Activision develops, markets, and sells products which are principally based on our internally-developed intellectual properties, as well as some licensed properties. We have also established a long-term alliance with Bungie to publish its game universe, Destiny.

Activision's key product franchises include: Call of Duty®, a first-person shooter for the console and PC platforms; Destiny, an online universe of first-person action gameplay (which we call a "shared-world shooter") currently for console platforms; and Skylanders®, a franchise geared towards children that brings physical toys to life digitally in the game, primarily for console platforms.

Table of Contents

(ii) Blizzard Entertainment, Inc.

Blizzard is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive software products and entertainment content, particularly in PC gaming. Blizzard primarily delivers content through retail channels or digital downloads, including subscriptions, full-game sales, and in-game purchases, as well as licenses of software to third-party or related party companies that distribute Blizzard products. Blizzard also maintains a proprietary online gaming service which facilitates digital distribution of Blizzard content, online social connectivity across all Blizzard games, and the creation of user-generated content for Blizzard's games. Commencing with the second quarter of 2017, Blizzard also includes the activities of our MLG business, which is devoted to esports.

Blizzard's key product franchises include: World of Warcraft®, a subscription-based massive multi-player online role-playing game for the PC; StarCraft®, a real-time strategy PC franchise; Diablo®, an action role-playing franchise for the PC and console platforms; Hearthstone®, an online collectible card franchise for the PC and mobile platforms; Heroes of the Storm®, a free-to-play team brawler for the PC; and Overwatch®, a team-based first-person shooter for the PC and console platforms.

(iii) King Digital Entertainment

King is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive entertainment content and services, particularly on mobile platforms, such as Android and iOS. King also distributes its content and services on online social platforms, such as Facebook and the king.com websites. King's games are free-to-play, however, players can acquire in-game virtual items, either with virtual currency the players purchase or directly using real currency.

King's key product franchises, all of which are for the PC and mobile platforms, include: Candy Crush®, which features match three games; Farm Heroes®, which also features match three games; Pet Rescue®, which is a clicker game; and Bubble Witch®, which features bubble shooter games.

Other

We also engage in other businesses that do not represent reportable segments, including:

- the Activision Blizzard Studios (Studios) business, which is devoted to creating original film and television content based on our library of globally recognized intellectual properties, and which, in October 2016, released the first season of the animated TV series Skylanders Academy on Netflix; and

- the Activision Blizzard Distribution (Distribution) business, which consists of operations in Europe that provide warehousing, logistics, and sales distribution services to third-party publishers of interactive entertainment software, our own publishing operations, and manufacturers of interactive entertainment hardware.

Basis of Consolidation and Presentation

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP) for interim reporting. Accordingly, certain notes or other information that are normally required by U.S. GAAP have been condensed or omitted if they substantially duplicate the disclosures contained in our annual audited consolidated financial statements. The year-end condensed consolidated balance sheet data was derived from audited financial statements but does not include all disclosures required by U.S. GAAP. Accordingly, the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016.

Table of Contents

The preparation of the condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the condensed consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for the fair statement of our financial position and results of operations in accordance with U.S. GAAP have been included in the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates and assumptions.

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts and operations of the Company. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. Certain reclassifications have been made to prior year amounts to conform to the current period presentation.

The Company considers events or transactions that occur after the balance sheet date, but before the financial statements are issued, to provide additional evidence relative to certain estimates or to identify matters that require additional disclosures.

Supplemental Cash Flow Information: Non-cash Investing and Financing activities

For the six months ended June 30, 2016, we had non-cash purchase price consideration of $89 million related to vested and unvested stock options and awards that were assumed and replaced with Activision Blizzard equity or deferred cash awards in the King Acquisition. Refer to Note 14 for further discussion.

6. Fair Value Measurements

Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) literature regarding fair value measurements for certain assets and liabilities establishes a three-level fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value. This hierarchy requires entities to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. The three levels of inputs used to measure fair value are as follows:

- Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data; and
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities, including certain pricing models, discounted cash flow methodologies, and similar techniques that use significant unobservable inputs.

The table below segregates all of our financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis into the most appropriate level within the fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used to determine the fair value at the measurement date (amounts in millions):

ARS represented the only level 3 investment held by the Company as of December 31, 2016. During the six months ended June 30, 2017 we sold our ARS investment. The realized gain on the sale of this investment was not material.

Foreign Currency Forward ContractsForeign Currency Forward Contracts Not Designated as Hedges

At June 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, we did not have any outstanding foreign currency forward contracts not designated as hedges.

Foreign Currency Forward Contracts Designated as Hedges (Cash Flow Hedges)

At June 30, 2017, the gross notional amount of outstanding Cash Flow Hedges was approximately $356 million. The fair value of these contracts, all of which have remaining maturities of 12 months or less, was $9 million of net unrealized losses. At June 30, 2017, we had approximately $1 million of net realized but unrecognized gains recorded within Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) associated with contracts that had settled but were deferred and will be amortized into earnings, along with the associated hedged revenues. Such amounts will be reclassified into earnings within the next 12 months.

Table of Contents

At December 31, 2016, the gross notional amount of outstanding Cash Flow Hedges was approximately $346 million. The fair value of these contracts was $22 million of net unrealized gains as of December 31, 2016.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2017 and 2016, there was no ineffectiveness relating to our Cash Flow Hedges. The amount of pre-tax net realized gains associated with these contracts that were reclassified out of Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) and into earnings was not material.

Fair Value Measurements on a Non-Recurring Basis

We measure the fair value of certain assets on a non-recurring basis, generally annually or when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be recoverable.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2017 and 2016, there were no impairment charges related to assets that are measured on a non-recurring basis.

7. Debt

Credit Facilities

At December 31, 2016, we had outstanding term loans A of approximately $2.7 billion (the 2016 TLA) and $250 million available under a revolving credit facility (the Revolver) pursuant to a credit agreement executed on October 11, 2013 (as amended thereafter and from time to time, the Credit Agreement).

On February 3, 2017, we entered into a sixth amendment (the Sixth Amendment) to the Credit Agreement. The Sixth Amendment: (i) provided for a new tranche of term loans A in an aggregate principal amount of $2.55 billion (the 2017 TLA and, together with the Revolver, the Credit Facilities) and (ii) released each of our subsidiary guarantors from their respective guarantees provided under the Credit Agreement. All proceeds of the 2017 TLA, together with additional cash on hand of $139 million, were used to fully retire the 2016 TLA, including all accrued and unpaid interest thereon. The terms of the 2017 TLA, other than the absence of the subsidiary guarantees, are generally the same as the terms of the 2016 TLA. The fees incurred as a result of the Sixth Amendment were not material. At June 30, 2017, the 2017 TLA bore interest at 2.48%. The 2017 TLA will mature on August 23, 2021. We were in compliance with the terms of the Credit Facilities as of June 30, 2017. To date, we have not drawn on the Revolver.

During the six months ended June 30, 2017, we reduced our total outstanding term loan balances by $1.7 billion. This included $139 million of cash used to retire the 2016 TLA, as discussed above, along with prepayments on the 2017 TLA of $361 million made on February 15, 2017 and

$1.2 billion made on May 26, 2017. The May prepayment was made using proceeds from a concurrent issuance of $1.2 billion in notes, as discussed further below. As part of that refinancing, we wrote-off unamortized discount and deferred financing costs of $12 million, which is included in Interest and other expense (income), net in the condensed consolidated statement of operations.

The prepayments made on our 2017 TLA have satisfied the remaining required quarterly principal repayments for the entire term of the Credit Agreement.

Refer to Note 11 contained in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016 for further details regarding our Credit Agreement, key terms, and amendments made to our Credit Agreement.

Unsecured Senior Notes

At December 31, 2016, we had the following unsecured senior notes outstanding:

- $750 million of 6.125% unsecured senior notes due September 2023 that we issued on September 19, 2013 (the 2023 Notes), in a private offering made in accordance with Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act); and
- $650 million of 2.3% unsecured senior notes due September 2021 (the Unregistered 2021 Notes) and $850 million of 3.4% unsecured senior notes due September 2026 (the Unregistered 2026 Notes) that we issued on September 19, 2016, in a private offering made in accordance with Rule 144A and Regulation S under the Securities Act.

In connection with the issuance of the Unregistered 2021 Notes and the Unregistered 2026 Notes, we entered into a registration rights agreement (the Registration Rights Agreement), among the Company, and the representatives of the initial purchasers of the Unregistered 2021 Notes and the Unregistered 2026 Notes. Under the Registration Rights Agreement, we were required to use commercially reasonable efforts to, within one year of the issue date of the Unregistered 2021 Notes and the Unregistered 2026 Notes, among other things, (1) file a registration statement with respect to an offer to exchange each series of the Unregistered 2021 Notes and the Unregistered 2026 Notes for new notes that were substantially identical in all material respects (except for the provisions relating to the transfer restrictions and payment of additional interest) (the Exchange Offer), and (2) cause that registration statement (the Exchange Offer Registration Statement) to be declared effective by the SEC under the Securities Act. The Exchange Offer Registration Statement was declared effective by the SEC on April 28, 2017 and we completed the Exchange Offer on June 1, 2017, such that all the Unregistered 2021 Notes and Unregistered 2026 Notes were exchanged for registered 2021 notes (the 2021 Notes) and registered 2026 notes (the 2026 Notes).

In addition, on May 26, 2017, in a public underwritten offering, we issued $400 million of 2.6% unsecured senior notes due June 2022 (the 2022 Notes), $400 million of 3.4% unsecured senior notes due June 2027 (the 2027 Notes), and $400 million of 4.5% unsecured senior notes due June 2047 (the 2047 Notes), and together with the 2021 Notes, the 2022 Notes, the 2023 Notes, the 2026 Notes, and the 2027 Notes, the Notes), which were outstanding at June 30, 2017.

We may redeem some or all of the 2022 Notes, the 2027 Notes and the 2047 Notes, in whole or in part, at any time on or after May 15, 2022, March 15, 2027 and December 15, 2046, respectively, and in each case at 100% of the aggregate principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest. In addition, we may redeem some or all of the 2022 Notes, the 2027 Notes, and the 2047 Notes prior to May 15, 2022, March 15, 2027 and December 15, 2046, respectively, and in each case at a price equal to 100% of the aggregate principal amount thereof plus a make-whole premium and accrued and unpaid interest.

Upon the occurrence of certain change of control events, we will be required to offer to repurchase the 2022 Notes, the 2027 Notes, and the 2047 Notes at a purchase price equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest. These repurchase requirements are considered clearly and closely related to the 2022 Notes, the 2027 Notes, and the 2047 Notes and were not accounted for separately upon issuance.

The 2022 Notes, the 2027 Notes, and the 2047 Notes contain covenants that place restrictions in certain circumstances on, among other things, the incurrence of secured debt, entry into sale or leaseback transactions, and certain merger or consolidation transactions.

The Notes are general senior obligations of the Company and rank pari passu in right of payment to all of the Company's existing and future senior indebtedness, including the Credit Facilities described above. The Notes are not secured and are effectively subordinated to any of the Company's existing and future indebtedness that is secured. The Company was in compliance with the terms of each of the Notes as of June 30, 2017.

Interest is payable semi-annually in arrears on March 15 and September 15 of each year for the 2021 Notes, the 2023 Notes, and 2026 Notes, and payable semi-annually in arrears on June 15 and December 15 of each year for the 2022 Notes, the 2027 Notes, and 2047 Notes. Accrued interest payable is recorded within Accrued expenses and other liabilities in our condensed consolidated balance sheets. As of June 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, we had accrued interest payable of $30 million and $25 million, respectively, related to the Notes.

Refer to Note 11 contained in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016 for further details regarding our key terms under our indentures that govern the 2021 Notes, the 2023 Notes, and the 2026 Notes.

Interest Expense and Financing Costs

Fees and discounts associated with the issuance of our debt instruments are recorded as debt discount, which reduces their respective carrying values, and is amortized over their respective terms. Amortization expense is recorded within Interest and other expense (income), net in our condensed consolidated statement of operations.

In connection with the May 2017 note issuances, we incurred approximately $20 million of discounts and financing costs that were capitalized and recorded within Long-term debt, net in our condensed consolidated balance sheet.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2017, interest expense was $36 million and $71 million, respectively; amortization of the debt discount and deferred financing costs was $2 million and $9 million, respectively; and commitment fees for the Revolver were not material. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, interest expense was $55 million and $107 million, respectively; amortization of the debt discount and deferred financing costs was $8 million and $13 million, respectively; and commitment fees for the Revolver were not material.

A summary of our debt is as follows (amounts in millions):

With the exception of the 2023 Notes, using Level 2 inputs (i.e., observable market prices in less-than-active markets), the carrying values of our debt instruments approximated their fair value as of June 30, 2017, as the interest rates are similar to current rates at which we can borrow funds over the selected interest periods. At June 30, 2017, based on Level 2 inputs, the fair value of the 2023 Notes was $809 million.

At December 31, 2016, the carrying value of the 2016 TLA approximated its fair value, based on Level 2 inputs. At December 31, 2016, based on Level 2 inputs, the fair values of the 2021 Notes, 2023 Notes, and 2026 Notes were $635 million, $818 million, and $808 million, respectively.

Table of Contents9. Operating Segments and Geographic Region

Currently, we have three reportable segments. Our operating segments are consistent with the manner in which our operations are reviewed and managed by our Chief Executive Officer, who is our chief operating decision maker (CODM). The CODM reviews segment performance exclusive of: the impact of the change in deferred revenues and related cost of revenues with respect to certain of our online-enabled games; share-based compensation expense; amortization of intangible assets as a result of purchase price accounting; fees and other expenses (including legal fees, expenses, and accruals) related to acquisitions, associated integration activities, and financings; certain restructuring costs; and other non-cash charges. The CODM does not review any information regarding total assets on an operating segment basis, and accordingly, no disclosure is made with respect thereto.

Our operating segments are also consistent with our internal organization structure, the way we assess operating performance and allocate resources, and the availability of separate financial information. We do not aggregate operating segments. As discussed in Note 1, commencing with the second quarter of 2017, we made changes to our operating segments which reflect the changes in our organization and reporting structure. Our MLG business, which was previously included in the non-reportable Other segments, is now presented within the Blizzard reportable operating segment. Prior period amounts have been revised to reflect this change. The change had no impact on consolidated net revenues or operating income.

Information on the reportable segments and reconciliations of total segment net revenues and total segment operating income to consolidated net revenues from external customers and consolidated income before income tax expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017 and 2016 are presented below (amounts in millions):

10. Income Taxes

The Company accounts for its provision for income taxes in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes, which requires an estimate of the annual effective tax rate for the full year to be applied to the interim period, taking into account year-to-date amounts and projected results for the full year. The provision for income taxes represents federal, foreign, state, and local income taxes. Our effective tax rate differs from the statutory U.S. income tax rate due to the effect of state and local income taxes, tax rates in foreign jurisdictions, and certain nondeductible expenses. Our effective tax rate could fluctuate significantly from quarter to quarter based on recurring and nonrecurring factors including, but not limited to: variations in the estimated and actual level of pre-tax income or loss by jurisdiction; changes in the mix of income by tax jurisdiction (as taxes are levied at relatively lower statutory rates in foreign regions and relatively higher statutory rates in the U.S.); research and development credits; changes in enacted tax laws and regulations, rulings, and interpretations thereof, including with respect to tax credits and state and local income taxes; developments in tax audits and other matters; recognition of excess tax benefits and tax deficiencies from share-based payments; and certain nondeductible expenses. Changes in judgment from the evaluation of new information resulting in the recognition, derecognition, or remeasurement of a tax position taken in a prior annual period are recognized separately in the quarter of the change.

The income tax expense of $50 million for the three months ended June 30, 2017, reflects an effective tax rate of 17%, which is higher than the effective tax rate of 10% for the three months ended June 30, 2016. The increase is due to a decrease in excess tax benefits from share-based payments and an increase in reserves for uncertain tax positions, partially offset by a higher mix of foreign earnings taxed at relatively lower statutory rates.

The income tax expense of $77 million for the six months ended June 30, 2017, reflects an effective tax rate of 10%, which is lower than the effective tax rate of 11% for the six months ended June 30, 2016. The decrease is due to an increase in excess tax benefits from share-based payments and a higher mix of foreign earnings taxed at relatively lower statutory rates, partially offset by an increase in reserves for uncertain tax positions.

The effective tax rate of 17% and 10% for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017, respectively, is lower than the U.S. statutory rate of 35%, primarily due to foreign earnings taxed at lower statutory rates, the recognition of excess tax benefits from share-based payments, and the recognition of federal and California research and development credits, partially offset by an increase in reserves for uncertain tax positions.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is currently examining Activision Blizzard's federal tax returns for the 2009, 2010, and 2011 tax years. During the second quarter of 2015, the Company transitioned the review of its transfer pricing methodology from the advanced pricing agreement review process to the IRS examination team. Their review could result in a different allocation of profits and losses under the Company's transfer pricing agreements. Such allocation could have a positive or negative impact on our provision for uncertain tax positions for the period in which such a determination is reached and the relevant periods thereafter. The Company also has several state level and non-U.S. audits pending.

As part of purchase price accounting for the King Acquisition, the Company assumed $74 million of uncertain tax positions, primarily related to the transfer pricing on King tax years occurring prior to the King Acquisition. The Company is currently in negotiations with the relevant jurisdictions and taxing authorities with respect to King's transfer pricing, which could result in a different allocation of profits and losses between the relevant jurisdictions.

Vivendi Games' results for the period from January 1, 2008 through July 9, 2008 are included in the consolidated federal and certain foreign state and local income tax returns filed by Vivendi or its affiliates, while Vivendi Games' results for the period from July 10, 2008 through December 31, 2008 are included in the consolidated federal and certain foreign, state and local income tax returns filed by Activision Blizzard. IRS Appeals proceedings concerning Vivendi Games' tax return for the 2008 tax year were concluded during July 2016, but that year remains open to examination by other major taxing authorities. The resolution of the 2008 IRS Appeals process did not have a material impact to the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements.

Certain of our subsidiaries are under examination or investigation or may be subject to examination or investigation by tax authorities in various jurisdictions, including France. These proceedings may lead to adjustments or proposed adjustments to our taxes or provisions for uncertain tax positions. Such proceedings may have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position, liquidity, or results of operations in the period or periods in which the matters are resolved or in which appropriate tax provisions are taken into account in our financial statements. If we were to receive a materially adverse assessment from a taxing jurisdiction, we would plan to vigorously contest it and consider all of our options, including the pursuit of judicial remedies.

The final resolution of the Company's global tax disputes is uncertain. There is significant judgment required in the analysis of disputes, including the probability determination and estimation of the potential exposure. Based on current information, in the opinion of the Company's management, the ultimate resolution of these matters is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position, liquidity, or results of operations, except as noted above.

Table of Contents11. Computation of Basic/Diluted Earnings Per Common Share

The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted earnings per common share (amounts in millions, except per share data):

	For the Three Months Ended June 30,		For the Six Months Ended June 30,
	2017	2016	2017	2016
Numerator:

Effect of potential dilutive common shares under the treasury stock method:
Employee stock options and awards	10	14	11	14
Denominator for diluted earnings per common share weighted-average common shares outstanding plus dilutive common shares under the treasury stock method	764	753	763	751
Basic earnings per common share	$ 0.32	$ 0.20	$ 0.89	$ 0.69
Diluted earnings per common share	$ 0.32	$ 0.20	$ 0.88	$ 0.68

Certain of our unvested restricted stock units meet the definition of participating securities as they participate in earnings based on their rights to dividends or dividend equivalents. Therefore, we are required to use the two-class method in our computation of basic and diluted earnings per common share. For both the three and six months ended June 30, 2017, on a weighted-average basis, we had outstanding unvested restricted stock units of less than 1 million shares of common stock that are participating in earnings. For both the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, on a weighted-average basis, we had outstanding unvested restricted stock units of 3 million shares of common stock that participated in earnings.

The vesting of certain of our employee-related restricted stock units and options are contingent upon the satisfaction of pre-defined performance measures. These shares are included in the weighted-average dilutive common shares only if the performance measures are met as of the end of the reporting period. Approximately 9 million shares are not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share for both the three and six months ended June 30, 2017 as their respective performance measures had not yet been met. Approximately 10 million shares are not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share for both the three and six months ended June 30, 2016 as their respective performance measures had not yet been met.

Potential common shares are not included in the denominator of the diluted earnings per common share calculation when the inclusion of such shares would be anti-dilutive. Therefore, options to acquire less than 1 million and 5 million shares of common stock were not included in the calculation of diluted earnings per common share for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017, respectively, and options to acquire 4 million shares of common stock were not included in the calculation of diluted earnings per common share for both the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, as the effect of their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

12. Capital Transactions

Repurchase Program

On February 2, 2017, our Board of Directors authorized a stock repurchase program under which we are authorized to repurchase up to $1 billion of our common stock during the two-year period from February 13, 2017 through February 12, 2019. As of June 30, 2017, we have not repurchased any shares under this program.

Dividends

On February 2, 2017, our Board of Directors approved a cash dividend of $0.30 per common share. On May 10, 2017, we made an aggregate cash dividend payment of $226 million to shareholders of record at the close of business on March 30, 2017. On May 26, 2017, we made related dividend equivalent payments of less than $1 million to certain holders of restricted stock units.

On February 2, 2016, our Board of Directors declared a cash dividend of $0.26 per common share. On May 11, 2016, we made an aggregate cash dividend payment of $192 million to shareholders of record at the close of business on March 30, 2016. On May 27, 2016, we made related dividend equivalent payments of $3 million to certain holders of restricted stock units.

13. Commitments and Contingencies

Legal Proceedings

We are party to routine claims, suits, investigations, audits, and other proceedings arising from the ordinary course of business, including with respect to intellectual property rights, contractual claims, labor and employment matters, regulatory matters, tax matters, unclaimed property matters, compliance matters, and collection matters. In the opinion of management, after consultation with legal counsel, such routine claims and lawsuits are not significant and we do not expect them to have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, or liquidity.

14. Acquisitions

King Digital Entertainment

On February 23, 2016, we completed the King Acquisition, purchasing all of King's outstanding shares. As a result, King became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Activision Blizzard. King is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive entertainment content and services, particularly on mobile platforms, such as Android and iOS, and on online and social platforms, such as Facebook and the king.com websites. King's results of operations since the King Closing Date are included in our condensed consolidated financial statements.

We made this acquisition because we believe that the addition of King's highly-complementary mobile business positions us as a global leader in interactive entertainment across console, PC, and mobile platforms, as well as positioning us for future growth.

The aggregate purchase price of the King Acquisition was approximately $5.8 billion, which was paid on the King Closing Date and funded primarily with $3.6 billion of existing cash and $2.2 billion of cash from new debt issued by the Company. We identified and recorded assets acquired and liabilities assumed at their estimated fair values at the King Closing Date and allocated the remaining value of approximately $2.7 billion to goodwill.

Table of Contents

The final purchase price allocation was as follows (amounts in millions):

	February 23, 2016	Estimated useful lives
Tangible assets and liabilities assumed:
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 1,151
Accounts receivable	162
Other current assets	72
Property and equipment	57	2 - 7 years
Deferred income tax assets, net	27
Other assets	47
Accounts payable	(9)
Accrued expenses and other liabilities	(272)
Other liabilities	(110)
Deferred income tax liabilities, net	(52)
Intangible assets
Internally-developed franchises	845	3 - 5 years
Customer base	609	2 years
Developed software	580	3 - 4 years
Trade name	46	7 years
Goodwill	2,675
Total purchase price	$ 5,828

During the six months ended June 30, 2016, the Company incurred $38 million of expenses related to the King Acquisition, which are included within General and administrative in the condensed consolidated statements of operations. In connection with the debt financing that occurred on the King Closing Date, we incurred $38 million of discounts and financing costs that were capitalized and recorded within Long-term debt, net on our condensed consolidated balance sheet.

Share-Based Compensation

In connection with the King Acquisition, a majority of the outstanding King options and awards that were unvested as of the King Closing Date were converted into equivalent options and awards with respect to shares of the Company's common stock, using an equity award exchange ratio calculated in accordance with the transaction agreement. As a result, replacement stock options and equity awards of 10 million and 3 million, respectively, were issued. The portion of the fair value related to pre-combination services of $76 million was included in the purchase price, while the remaining fair value will be recognized over the remaining service periods. As of December 31, 2016, the future expense for the converted King unvested stock options and equity awards was approximately $40 million, which will be recognized over a weighted average service period of approximately 1.6 years.

The remaining portion of outstanding unvested awards that were assumed were replaced with deferred cash awards. The cash proceeds were placed in an escrow-like account, with the cash releases occurring as future services are rendered in accordance with the awards' original vesting schedules. The cash associated with these awards is recorded in Other current assets and Other assets in our condensed consolidated balance sheet. The portion of the fair value related to pre-combination services of $22 million was included in the purchase price while the remaining fair value of approximately $9 million will be recognized over the remaining service periods.

Identifiable Intangible Assets Acquired and Goodwill

The internally-developed franchises, customer base, developed software, and trade name intangible assets will be amortized to Cost of revenues subscription, licensing, and other revenues: Software royalties, amortization, and intellectual property licenses, Sales and marketing, Cost of revenues subscription, licensing, and other revenues: Software royalties, amortization, and intellectual property licenses, and General and administrative, respectively. The intangible assets will be amortized over their estimated useful lives in proportion to the economic benefits received.

Table of Contents

The $2.7 billion of goodwill recognized is primarily attributable to the benefits the Company expects to derive from accelerated expansion as an interactive entertainment provider in the mobile sector, future franchises, and technology, as well as the management team's proven ability to create future games and franchises. Approximately $620 million of the goodwill is expected to be deductible for tax purposes in the U.S.

King Net Revenue and Earnings

The amount of net revenue and earnings attributable to King in the Company's condensed consolidated statement of operations during the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, the period of the King Acquisition, are included in the table below. The amounts presented represent the net revenues and earnings after adjustments for purchase price accounting, inclusive of amortization of intangible assets, share-based payments, and deferral of revenues and related cost of revenues.

(in millions)	For the Three Months Ended June 30, 2016		For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2016
Net revenues	$	458	$	641
Net loss	$	(49)	$	(99)

Pro Forma Financial Information

The unaudited financial information in the table below summarizes the combined results of operations of the Company and King for the six months ended June 30, 2016, on a pro forma basis, as though the acquisition had occurred on January 1, 2015. The 2016 pro forma financial information presented includes the effects of adjustments related to amortization charges from acquired intangible assets, employee compensation from replacement equity awards issued in the King Acquisition and the profit-sharing bonus plan established as part of the King Acquisition, and interest expense from the new debt, among other adjustments. We also adjusted for Activision Blizzard and King non-recurring acquisition related costs of approximately $64 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016.

The unaudited pro forma financial information as presented below is for informational purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of the results of operations that would have been achieved if the King Acquisition, and any borrowings undertaken to finance the King Acquisition, had taken place at the beginning of the earliest period presented, nor does it intend to be a projection of future results.

(in millions)	For the Three Months Ended June 30, 2016		For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2016
Net revenues	$	1,570	$	3,305
Net income	$	140	$	470

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

Inventory

In July 2015, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued new guidance related to the measurement of inventory which requires inventory within the scope of the guidance to be measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Net realizable value is defined as the estimated selling prices in the ordinary course of business, less reasonably predictable costs of completion, disposal, and transportation. We adopted this new standard as of January 1, 2017, and applied it prospectively. The adoption of this guidance did not have a material impact on our financial statements.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

Revenue Recognition

In May 2014, the FASB issued new accounting guidance related to revenue recognition. The new standard will replace all current U.S. GAAP guidance on this topic and eliminate all industry-specific guidance, providing a unified model to determine when and how revenue is recognized. The core principle is that a company should recognize revenue upon the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. This guidance will be effective for fiscal years and interim periods within those years beginning after December 15, 2017. We anticipate adopting the accounting standard on January 1, 2018, using the modified retrospective method, which recognizes the cumulative effect upon adoption as an adjustment to retained earnings at the adoption date.

As previously disclosed, we believe the adoption of the new revenue recognition standard may have a significant impact on the accounting for our sales of our games with significant online functionality for which we do not have vendor-specific objective evidence (VSOE) for unspecified future updates and ongoing online services provided. Under the current accounting standards, VSOE for undelivered elements is required. This requirement will be eliminated under the new standard. Accordingly, we will be required to recognize as revenue a portion of the sales price upon delivery of the software, as compared to the current requirement of recognizing the entire sales price ratably over an estimated offering period. We expect this difference to primarily impact revenues from our Call of Duty franchise. Many of our other franchises, such as Destiny, Overwatch, World of Warcraft, and Candy Crush, are hosted service arrangements and we do not expect any significant impact on the accounting for our sales of these games. Nonetheless, this difference may have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements upon adoption of the new guidance.

We are continuing to evaluate the additional impacts of this new accounting guidance on our financial statements and related disclosures.

Leases

In February 2016, the FASB issued new guidance related to the accounting for leases. The new standard will replace all current U.S. GAAP guidance on this topic. The new standard, among other things, requires a lessee to classify a lease as either an operating or financing lease, and lessees will need to recognize a lease liability and a right-of-use asset for their leases. The liability will be equal to the present value of lease payments. The asset will be based on the liability, subject to adjustment for initial direct costs, lease incentives received, and any prepaid lease payments. Operating leases will result in a straight-line expense pattern, while finance leases will result in a front-loaded expense pattern. Classification will be based on criteria that are largely similar to those applied in current lease accounting. The standard is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2018. Early adoption is permitted. The new standard must be adopted using a modified retrospective transition and will require application of the new guidance at the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented. We are evaluating the impact of this new accounting guidance on our financial statements. Currently, we do not plan to early adopt this new standard.

Financial Instruments

In January 2016, the FASB issued new guidance related to the recognition and measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities. The new standard, amongst other things, generally requires companies to measure investments in other entities, except those accounted for under the equity method, at fair value and recognize any changes in fair value in net income. The new standard also simplifies the impairment assessment of equity investments without readily determinable fair values. The new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2017, and the guidance should be applied by means of a cumulative-effect adjustment to the balance sheet as of the beginning of the fiscal year of adoption. The amendments related to equity investments without readily determinable fair values (including disclosure requirements) should be applied prospectively to equity investments that exist as of the date of adoption. We are evaluating the impact of this new accounting guidance on our financial statements.

Table of Contents

Statement of Cash Flows-Restricted Cash

In November 2016, the FASB issued new guidance related to the classification of restricted cash in the statement of cash flows. The new standard requires that a statement of cash flows explain any change during the period in total cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash. Therefore, restricted cash will be included with cash and cash equivalents when reconciling the beginning-of-period and end-of-period total amounts shown on the statement of cash flows. The new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, and should be applied retrospectively. Early adoption is permitted.

We are evaluating the impact, if any, of adopting this new accounting guidance on our financial statements. We expect there would be a significant impact to the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows for 2016, as this period includes, as an investing activity, the $3.6 billion movement in restricted cash resulting from the transfer of cash into escrow at December 31, 2015 to facilitate the King Acquisition and the subsequent release of that cash in 2016 in connection with the King Acquisition. Under this new standard, the restricted cash balance would be included in the beginning and ending total cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash balances and, hence, would not be included as an investing activity in the statement of cash flows.

Goodwill

In January 2017, the FASB issued new guidance which eliminates Step 2 from the goodwill impairment test. Instead, if any entity forgoes a Step 0 test, an entity will be required to perform its annual or interim goodwill impairment test by comparing the fair value of a reporting unit, as determined in Step 1 from the goodwill impairment test, with its carrying amount and recognize an impairment charge, if any, for the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the reporting unit's fair value, not to exceed the total amount of goodwill allocated to the reporting unit. The new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019 and should be applied prospectively. Early adoption is permitted. We are evaluating the impact, if any, of adopting this new accounting guidance on our consolidated financial statements.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Business Overview

Activision Blizzard, Inc. is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive entertainment content and services. We develop and distribute content and services across all of the major gaming platforms, including video game consoles, personal computers (PC), and mobile devices. The terms Activision Blizzard, the Company, we, us, and our are used to refer collectively to Activision Blizzard, Inc. and its subsidiaries.

The Company was originally incorporated in California in 1979 and was reincorporated in Delaware in December 1992. We are the result of the 2008 business combination (the Business Combination) by and among the Company (then known as Activision, Inc.), Vivendi S.A. (Vivendi), and Vivendi Games, Inc., an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Vivendi. In connection with the consummation of the Business Combination, Activision, Inc. was renamed Activision Blizzard, Inc.

The common stock of Activision Blizzard is traded on The NASDAQ Stock Market under the ticker symbol ATVI.

The King Acquisition

On February 23, 2016 (the King Closing Date), we acquired King Digital Entertainment, a leading interactive mobile entertainment company (King), by purchasing all of its outstanding shares (the King Acquisition). We made this acquisition because we believe that the addition of King's highly complementary mobile business positions us as a global leader in interactive entertainment across mobile, console, and PC platforms, as well as positioning us for future growth. The aggregate purchase price of approximately $5.8 billion was funded primarily with $3.6 billion of existing cash and $2.2 billion of cash from new debt issued by the Company. King's results of operations since the King Closing Date are included in our condensed consolidated financial statements.

Our Segments

As part of the continued implementation of our esports strategy, we instituted changes to our internal organization and reporting structure such that the Major League Gaming (MLG) business now operates as a division of Blizzard Entertainment, Inc. (Blizzard). As such, commencing with the second quarter of 2017, MLG, which was previously a separate operating segment, is now a component of the Blizzard operating segment. MLG will be responsible for the operations of the Overwatch League™, along with other esports events, and will also continue to serve as a multi-platform network for Activision Blizzard esports content.

Based on our organizational structure, we conduct our business through three reportable segments as follows:

(i) Activision Publishing, Inc.

Activision Publishing, Inc. ("Activision"), is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive software products and entertainment content, particularly in console gaming. Activision primarily delivers content through retail channels or digital downloads, including full-game sales and in-game purchases, as well as licenses of software to third-party or related-party companies that distribute Activision products. Activision develops, markets and sells products which are principally based on our internally-developed intellectual properties, as well as some licensed properties. We have also established a long-term alliance with Bungie to publish its game universe, Destiny.

Activision's key product franchises include: Call of Duty®, a first-person shooter for the console and PC platforms; Destiny, an online universe of first-person action gameplay (which we call a "shared-world shooter") currently for console platforms; and Skylanders®, a franchise geared towards children that brings physical toys to life digitally in the game, primarily for console platforms.

(ii) Blizzard Entertainment, Inc.

Blizzard is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive software products and entertainment content, particularly in PC gaming. Blizzard primarily delivers content through retail channels or digital downloads, including subscriptions, full-game sales, and in-game purchases, as well as licenses of software to third-party or related-party companies that distribute Blizzard products. Blizzard also maintains a proprietary online gaming service which facilitates digital distribution of Blizzard content, online social connectivity across all Blizzard games, and the creation of user-generated content for Blizzard's games. Commencing with the second quarter of 2017, Blizzard also includes the activities of our MLG business, which is devoted to esports.

Blizzard's key product franchises include: World of Warcraft®, a subscription-based massive multi-player online role-playing game (MMORPG) for the PC; StarCraft®, a real-time strategy PC franchise; Diablo®, an action role-playing franchise for the PC and console platforms; Hearthstone®, an online collectible card franchise for the PC and mobile platforms; Heroes of the Storm®, a free-to-play team brawler for the PC; and Overwatch®, a team-based first-person shooter for the PC and console platforms.

(iii) King Digital Entertainment

King is a leading global developer and publisher of interactive entertainment content and services, particularly on mobile platforms, such as Android and iOS. King also distributes its content and services on online social platforms, such as Facebook and the king.com websites. King's games are free-to-play, however, players can acquire in-game virtual items, either with virtual currency the players purchase, or directly using real currency.

King's key product franchises, all of which are for the PC and mobile platforms, include: Candy Crush®, which features match three games; Farm Heroes®, which also features match three games; Pet Rescue®, which is a clicker game; and Bubble Witch®, which features bubble shooter games.

Other

We also engage in other businesses that do not represent reportable segments, including:

- the Activision Blizzard Studios (Studios) business, which is devoted to creating original film and television content based on our library of globally recognized intellectual properties, and which, in October 2016, released the first season of the animated TV series Skylanders Academy on Netflix; and

- the Activision Blizzard Distribution (Distribution) business, which consists of operations in Europe that provide warehousing, logistics, and sales distribution services to third-party publishers of interactive entertainment software, our own publishing operations, and manufacturers of interactive entertainment hardware.

Business Results and Highlights

Financial Results

During the three months ended June 30, 2017:

- consolidated net revenues increased 4% to $1.63 billion and consolidated operating income increased 46% to $339 million, as compared to consolidated net revenues of $1.57 billion and consolidated operating income of $232 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016;
- revenues from digital online channels increased 15% to $1.31 billion, as compared to $1.14 billion for the three months ended June 30, 2016;

Table of Contents

- operating margin was 20.8%, as compared with 14.8% for the three months ended June 30, 2016, with the higher margin being primarily due to an increased percentage of revenues coming from higher-margin online digital channels;
- consolidated net income increased 61% to $243 million, as compared to $151 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016;
- consolidated net income included $13 million of excess tax benefits from share-based payments, as compared to $24 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016; and
- our diluted earnings per common share increased 60% to $0.32, as compared to $0.20 for the three months ended June 30, 2016.

During the six months ended June 30, 2017:

- consolidated net revenues increased 11% to $3.36 billion and consolidated operating income increased 20% to $831 million, as compared to consolidated net revenues of $3.03 billion and consolidated operating income of $693 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016;
- revenues from digital online channels increased 30% to $2.69 billion, as compared to $2.07 billion for the six months ended June 30, 2016;
- operating margin was 24.8%, as compared with 22.9% for the six months ended June 30, 2016, with the higher margin being primarily due to an increased percentage of revenues coming from higher-margin online digital channels;
- cash flows generated from operating activities were $676 million, a decrease of 20%, as compared to $840 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016;

Edgar Filing: Activision Blizzard, Inc. - Form 10-Q

- consolidated net income increased 30% to $669 million, as compared to $514 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016;
- consolidated net income included $82 million of excess tax benefits from share-based payments, as compared to $51 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016; and
- our diluted earnings per common share increased 29% to $0.88, as compared to $0.68 for the six months ended June 30, 2016.

Since certain of our games are hosted or include online functionality that represents an essential component of gameplay and, as a result, a more-than-inconsequential separate deliverable, we initially defer the software-related revenues from the sale of these games and recognize the attributable revenues over the relevant estimated service periods, which are generally less than a year. Net revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017 include a net effect of $213 million and $742 million, respectively, from the recognition of deferred net revenues. Operating income for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017 includes a net effect of $105 million and $501 million, respectively, from the recognition of deferred net revenues and related cost of revenues.

Release Highlights

Games and digital downloadable content that were released during the three months ended June 30, 2017 include:

- Activision's Continuum, the second downloadable content pack for Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare ;
- Activision's Call of Duty: Black Ops III Zombies Chronicles, a downloadable content pack of remastered zombies maps from Call of Duty: World at War, Call of Duty: Black Ops, and Call of Duty: Black Ops II;
- Activision's Crash Bandicoot N. Sane Trilogy, a remastered version for PlayStation 4 of the first three Crash Bandicoot games;
- Blizzard's Journey to Un'Goro , the latest expansion to Hearthstone; and
- Blizzard's Rise of the Necromancer , a downloadable content pack for Diablo III.

Table of ContentsMonthly Active Users: Measuring the Size of Our User Base

We monitor monthly active users (MAUs) as a key measure of the overall size of our user base. MAUs are the number of individuals who played a particular game in a given month. We calculate average MAUs in a period by adding the total number of MAUs in each of the months in a given period and dividing that total by the number of months in the period. An individual who plays two of our games would be counted as two users. In addition, due to technical limitations, for Activision and King, an individual who plays the same game on two platforms or devices in the relevant period would be counted as two users. For Blizzard, an individual who plays the same game on two platforms or devices in the relevant period would generally be counted as a single user.

The number of MAUs for a given period can be significantly impacted by the timing of new content releases, since new releases may cause a temporary surge in MAUs. Accordingly, although we believe that overall trending in the number of MAUs can be a meaningful performance metric, period-to-period fluctuations may not be indicative of longer-term trends. The following table details our average MAUs on a sequential quarterly basis for each of our reportable segments (amounts in millions):

	June 30, 2017	March 31, 2017	December 31, 2016	September 30, 2016	June 30, 2016	March 31, 2016
Activision	47	48	51	46	49	55
Blizzard	46	41	41	42	33	26
King	314	342	355	394	409	463
Total	407	431	447	482	491	544

Average MAUs decreased by 24 million, or 6%, for the quarter ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the quarter ended March 31, 2017. The decrease in King's average MAUs is due to decreases across franchises reflecting the maturity of released titles, as well as a decrease in Bubble Witch 3 Saga MAUs during the current quarter given the title launched in the prior quarter. The increase in Blizzard's average MAUs is due primarily to higher MAUs for the Hearthstone and Heroes of the Storm franchises, in part due to content and feature releases during the quarter.

Average MAUs decreased by 84 million, or 17%, for the quarter ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the quarter ended June 30, 2016. The decrease in King's average MAUs is due to decreases across King's franchises that are largely attributable to less engaged users leaving the network. This decrease is partially offset by the increase in Blizzard's average MAUs, driven by the release of Overwatch in May 2016, along with higher MAUs for the Hearthstone and Heroes of the Storm franchises.

Management's Overview of Business TrendsInteractive Entertainment and Mobile Gaming Growth

Our business participates in the global interactive entertainment industry. Games have become an increasingly popular form of entertainment, and we estimate the total industry has grown, on average, 19% annually over the last four calendar years. The industry continues to benefit from additional players entering the market as interactive entertainment becomes more commonplace across age groups and as more developing regions increasingly gain access to this form of entertainment.

Table of Contents

Further, the wide adoption of smart phones globally and the free-to-play business model on those platforms has increased the total addressable market for gaming significantly. Smart phones and associated free-to-play games have introduced gaming to new age groups and new regions and allowed gaming to occur more widely outside the home. Mobile gaming is now estimated to be larger than console and PC gaming and continues to grow at a significant rate. King is a leading developer of mobile and free-to-play games. In addition, our other business units have mobile efforts underway that present the opportunity for us to drive additional player investment from our franchises.

Opportunities to Expand Franchises Outside of Games

Our fans spend significant time investing in our franchises through purchases of our game content, whether through purchases of full games or downloadable content, or via microtransactions. Given the passion our players have for our franchises, we believe there are emerging opportunities to drive player investment outside of game purchases. These opportunities include esports, film and television, and consumer products. Our efforts to build these additional opportunities are still relatively nascent, but we view them as potentially significant sources of future revenues.

As part of our efforts to take advantage of the esports opportunity, and as announced in July 2017, we completed the sale of the first Overwatch League™ teams for major global cities to seven entrepreneurs and leaders from esports and traditional sports. The Overwatch League is the first major global professional esports league with city-based teams.

Concentration of Sales Among the Most Popular Franchises

The concentration of retail revenues among key titles has continued as a trend in the overall interactive software industry. According to The NPD Group, the top 10 titles accounted for 32% of the retail sales in the U.S. interactive entertainment industry in 2016. Similarly, a significant portion of our revenues have historically been derived from video games based on a few popular franchises and these video games were responsible for a disproportionately high percentage of our profits. For example, the Call of Duty, Candy Crush, World of Warcraft, and Overwatch franchises, collectively, accounted for 69% of our consolidated net revenues, and a significantly higher percentage of our operating income, for 2016.

The top titles in the industry are also becoming more consistent as players and revenues concentrate more heavily in established franchises. Each of the top 10 console franchises in 2016 was a previously established franchise. Similarly, according to U.S. rankings for the Apple App Store and Google Play Store, per App Annie Intelligence as of June 2017, the top 10 mobile games have an average tenure of 26 months.

In addition to investing in and developing sequels and content for our top titles, we are continually exploring additional ways to expand those franchises. Further, we invest in new properties in an effort to develop the future top franchises. In 2014, we released Hearthstone and Destiny, in 2015, we released Heroes of the Storm, and in 2016, we released Overwatch. There is no guarantee these investments will result in established franchises. Additionally, to diversify our portfolio of key franchises and increase our presence in the mobile market, on February 23, 2016, we acquired King.

Edgar Filing: Activision Blizzard, Inc. - Form 10-Q

Overall, we do expect that a limited number of popular franchises will continue to produce a disproportionately high percentage of our, and the industry's, revenues and profits in the near future. Accordingly, our ability to maintain our top franchises and our ability to successfully compete against our competitors' top franchises can significantly impact our performance.

Recurring Revenue Business Models

Increased consumer online connectivity has allowed us to offer players new investment opportunities and to shift our business to a more recurring and year-round model. Offering downloadable content and microtransactions, in addition to full games, allows our players to access and invest in new content throughout the year. This incremental content not only provides additional high-margin revenue, it can also increase engagement. Also, mobile games, and free-to-play games more broadly, are generally less seasonal.

Consolidated Net Revenues

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The increase in consolidated net revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- higher revenues recognized from Overwatch, which was released in May 2016; and
- higher revenues recognized from World of Warcraft, driven by the release of World of Warcraft: Legion in August 2016, with no comparable release in 2015.

The increase was partially offset by lower revenues recognized from the Call of Duty franchise, primarily due to the performance of Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare (which, when referred to herein, is inclusive of Call of Duty: Modern Warfare® Remastered), which was released in November 2016, as compared to the performance of Call of Duty: Black Ops III, the comparable 2015 title.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in consolidated net revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- higher revenues recognized from Overwatch;
- higher revenues from King titles, driven by the Candy Crush franchise, as the current period includes King revenues for the full year-to-date period, while the comparable prior period only included King revenues for the partial period following the King Closing Date; and
- higher revenues recognized from World of Warcraft, driven by the release of World of Warcraft: Legion in August 2016, with no comparable release in 2015.

The increase was partially offset by lower revenues recognized from the Call of Duty franchise, primarily due to the performance of Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare, as compared to the performance of Call of Duty: Black Ops III.

Change in Deferred Revenues Recognized

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The increase in net deferred revenues recognized for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to higher deferred revenues recognized from Overwatch. The increase was partially offset by lower deferred revenues recognized from Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare, as compared to Call of Duty: Black Ops III.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in net deferred revenues recognized for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- net deferred revenues recognized from Overwatch in 2017 as compared to a net deferral of revenues in the comparable prior period due to Overwatch's release in May 2016; and
- higher deferred revenues recognized from World of Warcraft, driven by deferred revenues recognized from World of Warcraft: Legion.

The increase was partially offset by lower deferred revenues recognized from the Call of Duty franchise, primarily due to the performance of Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare, as compared to Call of Duty: Black Ops III.

Foreign Exchange Impact

Changes in foreign exchange rates had a negative impact of $28 million and $61 million on Activision Blizzard's consolidated net revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017, respectively, as compared to the impact on net revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016. The changes are primarily due to changes in the value of the U.S. dollar relative to the Euro and British pound.

Operating Segment Results

Currently, we have three reportable segments. Our operating segments are consistent with the manner in which our operations are reviewed and managed by our Chief Executive Officer, who is our chief operating decision maker (CODM). The CODM reviews segment performance exclusive of: the impact of the change in deferred revenues and related cost of revenues with respect to certain of our online-enabled games; share-based compensation expense; amortization of intangible assets as a result of purchase price accounting; fees and other expenses (including legal fees, expenses, and accruals) related to acquisitions, associated integration activities, and financings; certain restructuring costs; and other non-cash charges. The CODM does not review any information regarding total assets on an operating segment basis, and accordingly, no disclosure is made with respect thereto.

Our operating segments are also consistent with our internal organization structure, the way we assess operating performance and allocate resources, and the availability of separate financial information. We do not aggregate operating segments. As discussed in the Business Overview above, commencing with the second quarter of 2017, we made changes to our operating segments which reflect the changes in our organization and reporting structure. Our MLG business, which was previously included in the non-reportable Other segments, is now presented within the Blizzard reportable operating segment. Prior period amounts have been revised to reflect this change. This change had no impact on consolidated net revenues or operating income.

Segment Net Revenues

Activision

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The decrease in Activision's net revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to lower revenues from Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare, which was released in the fourth quarter of 2016, as compared to Call of Duty: Black Ops III, the comparable 2015 title.

The decrease was partially offset by:

- revenues from the Call of Duty: Black Ops III downloadable content pack, Zombies Chronicles, which was released in May 2017, with no comparable prior year release, as well as continued in-game microtransactions from Call of Duty: Black Ops III; and
- revenues from the release of the Crash Bandicoot N. Sane Trilogy in June 2017.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The decrease in Activision's net revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to the same drivers and partially offsetting factors as those for the three months ended June 30, 2017 discussed above.

Blizzard

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The decrease in Blizzard's net revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to lower revenues from Overwatch, which was released in May 2016. The decrease was partially offset by the prior-year negative impact of a reserve established in the second quarter of 2016 due to a value-added tax (VAT) audit, with no comparable reserve established for the three months ended June 30, 2017.

Edgar Filing: Activision Blizzard, Inc. - Form 10-Q

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The decrease in Blizzard's net revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to lower revenues from Overwatch, partially offset by higher revenues from World of Warcraft.

King

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

King's net revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2017, were comparable to net revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2016. This was driven by slight declines in revenues across King's various franchises, partially offset by higher revenues from the Bubble Witch franchise due to the release of Bubble Witch 3 Saga at the beginning of 2017.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in King's net revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to the current period including King revenues for the full year-to-date period, while the comparable prior period only included King revenues for the partial period following the King Closing Date.

Segment Income from Operations

Activision

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

Activision's operating income for the three months ended June 30, 2017, was comparable to the three months ended June 30, 2016, despite the decrease in revenues discussed above. This was driven by:

- an increased percentage of revenues coming from higher-margin online digital channels;
- lower product development costs from the Skylanders franchise, as we do not have a new release title planned for 2017; and
- offset by, higher sales and marketing costs for the Destiny franchise given the expected Destiny 2 release in September 2017, with no comparable release in the prior year.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The decrease in Activision's operating income for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to the lower revenues discussed above. The decrease was also due to higher sales and marketing costs for the Destiny franchise given the expected Destiny 2 release in September 2017, with no comparable release in the prior year.

The decrease was partially offset by:

- lower product development costs, driven by lower costs for the Skylanders franchise and lower accrued bonuses; and

Edgar Filing: Activision Blizzard, Inc. - Form 10-Q

- lower sales and marketing costs for the Skylanders franchise, as we do not have a new release title planned for 2017.

Blizzard

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The decrease in Blizzard's operating income for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to the lower revenues discussed above. This was partially offset by lower sales and marketing costs for Overwatch given its launch in May 2016.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The decrease in Blizzard's operating income for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to higher product development costs resulting from lower capitalization of software development costs due to the timing of game development cycles. This was partially offset by lower sales and marketing costs for Overwatch given its launch in May 2016.

King

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The decrease in King's operating income for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to slightly higher product development and sales and marketing costs, partially offset by lower professional services fees.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in King's operating income for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to the current period including King's results of operations for the full year-to-date period, while the comparable prior period only included King's results of operations for the partial period following the King Closing Date.

Foreign Exchange Impact

Changes in foreign exchange rates had a negative impact of $18 million and $33 million on reportable segment net revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017, respectively, as compared to the impact on reportable segment net revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2016. The changes are primarily due to changes in the value of the U.S. dollar relative to the Euro and British pound.

Digital Online Channel Net Revenues

Net Revenues

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The increase in net revenues from digital online channels for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- higher revenues recognized from Overwatch, which was released in May 2016; and
- higher revenues recognized from World of Warcraft, driven by the release of World of Warcraft: Legion in August 2016, with no comparable release in 2015.

The increase in net deferred revenues recognized from digital online channels for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- net deferred revenues recognized from Overwatch in 2017, as compared to a net deferral of revenues in the comparable prior period, due to Overwatch's release in May 2016;
- higher deferred revenues recognized from the Call of Duty franchise (the weaker performance of Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare digital content in the current period as compared to Call of Duty: Blacks Ops III in the prior period has resulted in less deferrals of revenues from digital content in 2017 as compared to 2016 and, as a result, higher deferred revenues recognized in the current period); and
- higher deferred revenues recognized from World of Warcraft, driven by deferred revenues recognized from World of Warcraft: Legion.

Net revenues were comparable as the lower revenues recognized from the Call of Duty franchise, primarily due to the performance of Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare, which was released in November 2016, as compared to the performance of Call of Duty: Black Ops III, the comparable 2015 title, were partially offset by higher revenues recognized from Overwatch, which was released in May 2016.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in net revenues in the Americas region for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- higher revenues from King titles, driven by the Candy Crush franchise, as the current period includes King's revenues for the full year-to-date period, while the comparable prior period only included King's revenues for the partial period following the King Closing Date;
- higher revenues recognized from Overwatch; and
- higher revenues recognized from World of Warcraft, driven by the release of World of Warcraft: Legion in August 2016, with no comparable release in 2015.

The increase was partially offset by lower revenues recognized from the Call of Duty franchise, primarily due to the performance of Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare, as compared to the performance of Call of Duty: Black Ops III.

EMEA

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

Edgar Filing: Activision Blizzard, Inc. - Form 10-Q

The increase in net revenues in the EMEA region for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- the prior-year negative impact of a reserve established in the second quarter of 2016 due to a value-added tax (VAT) audit, with no comparable reserve established for the three months ended June 30, 2017; and
- higher revenues recognized from Overwatch.

The increase was partially offset by lower revenues recognized from the Call of Duty franchise, primarily due to the performance of Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare, as compared to the performance of Call of Duty: Black Ops III.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in net revenues in the EMEA region for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to the same drivers and partially offsetting factors as those for Americas region discussed above for the six months ended June 30, 2017.

Total consolidated net revenues	$ 1,631	$ 1,570	$ 61	$ 3,356	$ 3,025	$ 331

(1) Net revenues from Mobile and ancillary include revenues from mobile devices, as well as non-platform-specific game-related revenues, such as standalone sales of toys and accessories from our Skylanders franchise and other physical merchandise and accessories.

(2) Net revenues from Other include revenues from our Studios and Distribution businesses, as well as revenues from MLG.

Console

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The decrease in net revenues from the console platform for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to lower revenues recognized from the Call of Duty franchise, primarily due to the performance of Call of Duty: Infinite Warfare, which was released in November 2016, as compared to the performance of Call of Duty: Black Ops III, the comparable 2015 title. The decrease was partially offset by:

- higher revenues recognized from Overwatch, which was released in May 2016; and
- revenues from the release of the Crash Bandicoot N. Sane Trilogy in June 2017.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The decrease in net revenues from the console platform for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to the same drivers and partially offsetting factors as those for the three months ended June 30, 2017 discussed above. The decrease was also driven by lower revenues recognized from the Destiny franchise.

Total cost of revenues	$ 1,146	34%	$ 1,089	36%	$ 57

*Cost of Revenues Product Sales:*Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The decrease in product costs for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- lower product costs associated with the Skylanders franchise, which tends to have relatively higher product costs given the hardware components; and
- a relative increase in revenues coming from digital online channels, which typically have relatively lower product costs.

Software royalties, amortization, and intellectual property licenses related to product sales were comparable for the three months ended June 30, 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2016.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The decrease in product costs for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to the decrease in product sales for the period. This was partially offset by increased product costs resulting from the increased revenues of our relatively lower-margin Distribution business.

Table of Contents

The decrease in software royalties, amortization, and intellectual property licenses related to product sales for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- lower developer royalties and software amortization associated with the Destiny franchise, due to the timing of releases; and
- lower software amortization associated with Guitar Hero® Live, which was released in October 2015, with no comparable release in 2016.

The decrease was partially offset by software amortization from World of Warcraft: Legion, which was released in August 2016, with no comparable release in 2015.

Cost of Revenues Subscription, Licensing, and Other Revenues:

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

Game operations and distribution costs, and software royalties, amortization, and intellectual property licenses related to subscription, licensing, and other revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2017, were comparable to the three months ended June 30, 2016.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in game operations and distribution costs for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to higher online costs and platform provider fees associated with revenues from King, as the current period includes King's costs for a full year-to-date period, while the comparable prior period only included King's revenues and associated costs for the partial period following the King Closing Date.

The increase in software royalties, amortization, and intellectual property licenses related to subscription, licensing, and other revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to a full year-to-date period amortization of internally-developed franchise intangible assets acquired in the King Acquisition, while the comparable prior period only included a partial period of amortization of internally-developed franchise intangible assets following the King Closing Date.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in product development costs for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- higher Blizzard product development costs to support current and future releases and lower capitalization of software development costs due to the timing of game development cycles; and
- increased costs related to King, as the current period includes a full year-to-date period of costs, while the comparable prior period only included King's costs for the partial period following the King Closing Date.

The increase was partially offset by lower Activision product development costs, driven by lower accrued bonuses.

Q2 2017 vs. Q2 2016

The decrease in sales and marketing expenses for the three months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to lower sales and marketing costs for Overwatch given it launched in May 2016. The decrease was partially offset by higher sales and marketing costs for the Destiny franchise given the expected Destiny 2 release in September 2017, with no comparable release in the prior year.

YTD Q2 2017 vs. YTD Q2 2016

The increase in sales and marketing expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- increased amortization of the customer base intangible assets acquired in the King Acquisition and increased sales and marketing costs to support King's titles, as the current period includes a full year-to-date period of costs, while the comparable prior period only included King's costs for the partial period following the King Closing Date; and
- higher sales and marketing costs for the Destiny franchise given the expected Destiny 2 release in September 2017, with no comparable release in the prior year.

The increase in general and administrative expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to:

- increased personnel costs to support the growth of our business and expanding areas of opportunity; and
- the inclusion in the current period of a non-cash accounting charge to reclassify certain losses included in our cumulative translation adjustments into earnings due to the substantial liquidation of certain of our foreign entities.

The increase was partially offset by lower transaction costs, as the six months ended June 30, 2016 included the King Acquisition.

Three Months Ended	$ 46	3%	$ 65	4%	$ (19)
Six Months Ended	$ 85	3%	$ 117	4%	$ (32)

The decrease in interest and other expense (income), net for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2016, was primarily due to our lower total outstanding debt and lower interest rates on our current debt instruments as a result of our refinancing activities in 2016 and 2017.

The decreases were partially offset by write-offs of unamortized discount and deferred financing costs as a result of our debt refinancing and paydown activities. See further discussion below under Liquidity and Capital Resources.

Income Tax Expense (amounts in millions)

Six Months Ended	$ 77	10%	$ 62	11%	$ 15

Edgar Filing: Activision Blizzard, Inc. - Form 10-Q

The income tax expense of $50 million for the three months ended June 30, 2017, reflects an effective tax rate of 17%, which is higher than the effective tax rate of 10% for the three months ended June 30, 2016. The increase is due to a decrease in excess tax benefits from share-based payments and an increase in reserves for uncertain tax positions, partially offset by a higher mix of foreign earnings taxed at relatively lower statutory rates.

The income tax expense of $77 million for the six months ended June 30, 2017, reflects an effective tax rate of 10%, which is lower than the effective tax rate of 11% for the six months ended June 30, 2016. The decrease is due to an increase in excess tax benefits from share-based payments and a higher mix of foreign earnings taxed at relatively lower statutory rates, partially offset by an increase in reserves for uncertain tax positions.

The effective tax rate of 17% and 10% for the three and six months ended June 30, 2017, respectively, is lower than the U.S. statutory rate of 35%, primarily due to foreign earnings taxed at lower statutory rates, the recognition of excess tax benefits from share-based payments, and the recognition of federal and California research and development credits, partially offset by an increase in reserves for uncertain tax positions.

Table of Contents

Our effective tax rate differs from the statutory U.S. income tax rate due to the effect of state and local income taxes, tax rates in foreign jurisdictions, and certain nondeductible expenses. Our effective tax rate could fluctuate significantly from quarter to quarter based on recurring and nonrecurring factors including, but not limited to: variations in the estimated and actual level of pre-tax income or loss by jurisdiction; changes in the mix of income by tax jurisdiction (as taxes are levied at relatively lower statutory rates in foreign regions and relatively higher statutory rates in the U.S.); research and development credits; changes in enacted tax laws and regulations, rulings, and interpretations thereof, including with respect to tax credits, and state and local income taxes; developments in tax audits and other matters; recognition of excess tax benefits and tax deficiencies from share-based payments; and certain nondeductible expenses. Changes in judgment from the evaluation of new information resulting in the recognition, derecognition, or remeasurement of a tax position taken in a prior annual period are recognized separately in the quarter of the change.

Further information about our income taxes is provided in Note 10 of the notes to condensed consolidated financial statements included in Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We believe our ability to generate cash flows from operating activities is one of our fundamental financial strengths. In the near term, we expect our business to remain strong and to continue to generate significant operating cash flows. Our primary sources of liquidity, which are available to us to fund cash outflows such as our anticipated dividend payments, share repurchases, and scheduled debt maturities, include our cash and cash equivalents, short- and long-term investments, and cash flows provided by operating activities. With our cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments of $3.3 billion at June 30, 2017, and the expected cash flows provided by our operating activities, we believe that we have sufficient liquidity to meet daily operations for the foreseeable future. We also believe that we have sufficient working capital ($2.6 billion at June 30, 2017) to finance our operational and financing requirements for at least the next 12 months. Additionally, we have the availability of a $250 million revolving credit facility.

As of June 30, 2017, the amount of cash and cash equivalents held outside of the U.S. by our foreign subsidiaries was $2.1 billion, as compared to $1.9 billion as of December 31, 2016. If the cash and cash equivalents held outside of the U.S. are needed in the future for our operations in the U.S., we would accrue and pay the required U.S. taxes to repatriate these funds. However, our intent is to permanently reinvest these funds outside of the U.S. and our current plans do not demonstrate a need to repatriate them to fund our U.S. operations.

Furthermore, our cash provided from operating activities is somewhat impacted by seasonality. Working capital needs are impacted by weekly sales, which are generally highest in the fourth quarter due to seasonal and holiday-related sales patterns. On a continuing basis, we consider various transactions to increase shareholder value and enhance our business results, including acquisitions, divestitures, joint ventures, share repurchases, and other structural changes. These transactions may result in future cash proceeds or payments.

Net Cash Provided by Operating Activities

The primary drivers of net cash flows associated with our operating activities include the collection of customer receivables generated from the sale of our products and services. These collections are typically partially offset by: payments to vendors for the manufacturing, distribution, and marketing of our products; payments for customer service support for our consumers; payments to third-party developers and intellectual property holders; payments for interest on our debt; payments for software development; payments for tax liabilities; and payments to our workforce.

Net cash provided by operating activities for the six months ended June 30, 2017 was $676 million, as compared to $840 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016. The decrease was primarily due to the timing of the launches of our games, as the prior period included cash flows from the launch of Overwatch in May 2016, with no comparable launch in the current period. The decrease was partially offset by:

- higher net income for the six months ended June 30, 2017, as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2016, along with larger adjustments to net income for non-cash charges, which were primarily associated with the amortization of the acquired intangibles in the King Acquisition; and
- changes in our working capital due to the timing of collections and payments.

Net Cash Used in Investing Activities

The primary drivers of net cash flows associated with investing activities typically include capital expenditures, changes in restricted cash balances, and cash used for acquisitions.

Net cash used in investing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2017 was $41 million, as compared to $1.1 billion for the six months ended June 30, 2016. The decrease in the cash used was primarily due to cash used for the King Acquisition in the six months ended June 30, 2016, with no comparable transaction in the current period.

Net Cash (Used in) Provided by Financing Activities

The primary drivers of net cash flows associated with financing activities typically include the proceeds from, and repayments of, our long-term debt and transactions involving our common stock, including the issuance of shares of common stock to employees upon the exercise of stock options, as well as the payment of dividends.

Net cash used in financing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2017 was $652 million, as compared to net cash provided by financing activities of $746 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016. The change was primarily attributed to our debt financing activities. For the six months ended June 30, 2017, we had net debt repayments of $500 million, as compared to approximately $950 million of net debt proceeds for the six months ended June 30, 2016. The cash flows used in financing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2017 were partially offset by higher proceeds from stock option exercises of $130 million, as compared to $60 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016.

Effect of Foreign Exchange Rate Changes

Changes in foreign exchange rates had a positive impact of $50 million and a negative impact of $25 million on our cash and cash equivalents for the six months ended June 30, 2017 and 2016, respectively. The change was primarily due to changes in the value of the U.S. dollar relative to the British pound and the Euro.

Debt

As of December 31, 2016, our total outstanding debt was $4.9 billion, bearing interest at a weighted average rate of 2.92%.

On February 3, 2017, we entered into a sixth amendment (the Sixth Amendment) to our credit agreement, which was originally executed on October 11, 2013 (as amended thereafter and from time to time, the Credit Agreement). The Sixth Amendment: (i) provided for a new tranche of term loans A in an aggregate principal amount of $2.55 billion (the 2017 TLA) and (ii) released each of our subsidiary guarantors from their respective guarantees provided under the Credit Agreement. All proceeds of the 2017 TLA, together with additional cash on hand of $139 million, were used to fully retire the term loans then outstanding (the 2016 TLA) under the Credit Agreement, including all accrued and unpaid interest thereon. The terms of the 2017 TLA, other than the absence of the subsidiary guarantees, are generally the same as the terms of the 2016 TLA. The fees incurred as a result of the Sixth Amendment were not material. The 2017 TLA will mature on August 23, 2021.

On May 26, 2017, in a public underwritten offering, we issued three series of unsecured senior notes: $400 million of 2.6% unsecured senior notes due June 2022, $400 million of 3.4% unsecured senior notes due June 2027, and $400 million of 4.5% unsecured senior notes due June 2047. The proceeds from these unsecured senior notes, together with cash on hand, were used to make a prepayment of $1.2 billion on our 2017 TLA.

During the six months ended June 30, 2017, we reduced our total outstanding long-term debt by $500 million. This included $139 million of cash used to retire the 2016 TLA, as discussed above, along with a prepayment on the 2017 TLA of $361 million. The prepayment made on our 2017 TLA satisfied the remaining required quarterly principal repayments for the entire term of the Credit Agreement.

As a result of the above activities, our total outstanding debt as of June 30, 2017 was $4.4 billion, bearing interest at a weighted average rate of 3.52%. A summary of our debt as of June 30, 2017, is as follows (amounts in millions):

Dividends

On February 2, 2017, our Board of Directors approved a cash dividend of $0.30 per common share. On May 10, 2017, we made an aggregate cash dividend payment of $226 million to shareholders of record at the close of business on March 30, 2017. On May 26, 2017, we made related dividend equivalent payments of less than $1 million to certain holders of restricted stock units.

Capital Expenditures

For the year ending December 31, 2017, we anticipate total capital expenditures of approximately $135 million, primarily for leasehold improvements, computer hardware, and software purchases. During the six months ended June 30, 2017, capital expenditures were $52 million.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

At June 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, Activision Blizzard had no significant relationships with unconsolidated entities or financial parties, often referred to as structured finance or special purpose entities, established for the purpose of facilitating off-balance sheet arrangements or other contractually narrow or limited purposes, that have or are reasonably likely to have a material current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures, or capital resources.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our condensed consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP). These accounting principles require us to make certain estimates, judgments, and assumptions. We believe that the estimates, judgments, and assumptions upon which we rely are reasonable based upon information available to us at the time that they are made. These estimates, judgments, and assumptions can affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the periods presented. To the extent there are material differences between these estimates, judgments, or assumptions and actual results, our financial statements will be affected. The accounting policies that reflect our more significant estimates, judgments, and assumptions, and which we believe are the most critical to aid in fully understanding and evaluating our reported financial results, include the following:

- Revenue Recognition including Revenue Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables;
- Allowances for Returns and Price Protection;
- Allowance for Inventory Obsolescence;
- Software Development Costs;
- Income Taxes;
- Fair Value Estimates (including Business Combinations and Assessment of Impairment of Assets); and
- Share-Based Payments.

During the six months ended June 30, 2017, there were no significant changes to the above critical accounting policies and estimates. Refer to Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations contained in Part II, Item 7 of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016, for a more complete discussion of our critical accounting policies and estimates.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

Below are recently issued accounting pronouncements that were most significant to our accounting policy activities. For a detailed discussion of all relevant recently issued accounting pronouncements, see Note 15 of the notes to condensed consolidated financial statements included in Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

Inventory

In July 2015, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued new guidance related to the measurement of inventory which requires inventory within the scope of the guidance to be measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Net realizable value is defined as the estimated selling prices in the ordinary course of business, less reasonably predictable costs of completion, disposal, and transportation. We adopted this new standard as of January 1, 2017, and applied it prospectively. The adoption of this guidance did not have a material impact on our financial statements.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

Revenue Recognition

In May 2014, the FASB issued new accounting guidance related to revenue recognition. The new standard will replace all current U.S. GAAP guidance on this topic and eliminate all industry-specific guidance, providing a unified model to determine when and how revenue is recognized. The core principle is that a company should recognize revenue upon the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. This guidance will be effective for fiscal years and interim periods within those years beginning after December 15, 2017. We anticipate adopting the accounting standard on January 1, 2018, using the modified retrospective method, which recognizes the cumulative effect upon adoption as an adjustment to retained earnings at the adoption date.

As previously disclosed, we believe the adoption of the new revenue recognition standard may have a significant impact on the accounting for our sales of our games with significant online functionality for which we do not have vendor-specific objective evidence (VSOE) for unspecified future updates and ongoing online services provided. Under the current accounting standards, VSOE for undelivered elements is required. This requirement will be eliminated under the new standard. Accordingly, we will be required to recognize as revenue a portion of the sales price upon delivery of the software, as compared to the current requirement of recognizing the entire sales price ratably over an estimated offering period. We expect this difference to primarily impact revenues from our Call of Duty franchise. Many of our other franchises, such as Destiny, Overwatch, World of Warcraft, and Candy Crush, are hosted service arrangements and we do not expect any significant impact on the accounting for our sales of these games. Nonetheless, this difference may have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements upon adoption of the new guidance.

We are continuing to evaluate the additional impacts of this new accounting guidance on our financial statements and related disclosures.

Table of Contents

Leases

In February 2016, the FASB issued new guidance related to the accounting for leases. The new standard will replace all current U.S. GAAP guidance on this topic. The new standard, among other things, requires a lessee to classify a lease as either an operating or financing lease, and lessees will need to recognize a lease liability and a right-of-use asset for their leases. The liability will be equal to the present value of lease payments. The asset will be based on the liability, subject to adjustment for initial direct costs, lease incentives received, and any prepaid lease payments. Operating leases will result in a straight-line expense pattern, while finance leases will result in a front-loaded expense pattern. Classification will be based on criteria that are largely similar to those applied in current lease accounting. The standard is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2018. Early adoption is permitted. The new standard must be adopted using a modified retrospective transition and will require application of the new guidance at the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented. We are evaluating the impact of this new accounting guidance on our financial statements. Currently, we do not plan to early adopt this new standard.

Statement of Cash Flows-Restricted Cash

In November 2016, the FASB issued new guidance related to the classification of restricted cash in the statement of cash flows. The new standard requires that a statement of cash flows explain any change during the period in total cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash. Therefore, restricted cash will be included with cash and cash equivalents when reconciling the beginning-of-period and end-of-period total amounts shown on the statement of cash flows. The new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, and should be applied retrospectively. Early adoption is permitted.

We are evaluating the impact, if any, of adopting this new accounting guidance on our financial statements. We expect there would be a significant impact to the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows for 2016, as this period includes, as an investing activity, the $3.6 billion movement in restricted cash resulting from the transfer of cash into escrow at December 31, 2015 to facilitate the King Acquisition and the subsequent release of that cash in 2016 in connection with the King Acquisition. Under this new standard, the restricted cash balance would be included in the beginning and ending total cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash balances and, hence, would not be included as an investing activity in the statement of cash flows.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Market risk is the potential loss arising from fluctuations in market rates and prices. Our market risk exposures primarily include fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates.

Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk

We transact business in many different foreign currencies and may be exposed to financial market risk resulting from fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. Revenues and related expenses generated from our international operations are generally denominated in their respective local currencies. Primary currencies include Euros, British pounds, Australian dollars, South Korean won, Chinese yuan, and Swedish krona. To the extent the U.S. dollar strengthens against foreign currencies, the translation of these foreign currency-denominated transactions will result in reduced revenues, operating expenses, net income and cash flows from our international operations. Similarly, our revenues, operating expenses, net income, and cash flows will increase for our international operations if the U.S. dollar weakens against foreign currencies. Since we have significant international sales, but incur the majority of our costs in the United States, the impact of foreign currency fluctuations, particularly the strengthening of the U.S. dollar, may have an asymmetric and disproportional impact on our business. We monitor currency volatility throughout the year.

Table of Contents

To mitigate our foreign currency risk resulting from our foreign currency-denominated monetary assets, liabilities, and earnings and our foreign currency risk related to functional currency-equivalent cash flows resulting from our intercompany transactions, we periodically enter into currency derivative contracts, principally forward contracts. These forward contracts generally have a maturity of less than one year. The counterparties for our currency derivative contracts are large and reputable commercial or investment banks.

The fair values of our foreign currency contracts are estimated based on the prevailing exchange rates of the various hedged currencies as of the end of the period.

We do not hold or purchase any foreign currency forward contracts for trading or speculative purposes.

Foreign Currency Forward Contracts Not Designated as Hedges

At June 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, we did not have any outstanding foreign currency forward contracts not designated as hedges.

Foreign Currency Forward Contracts Designated as Hedges (Cash Flow Hedges)

At June 30, 2017, the gross notional amount of outstanding Cash Flow Hedges was approximately $356 million. The fair value of these contracts, all of which have remaining maturities of 12 months or less, was $9 million of net unrealized losses. At June 30, 2017, we had approximately $1 million of net realized but unrecognized gains recorded within Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) associated with contracts that had settled but were deferred and will be amortized into earnings, along with the associated hedged revenues. Such amounts will be reclassified into earnings within the next 12 months.

At December 31, 2016, the gross notional amount of outstanding Cash Flow Hedges was approximately $346 million. The fair value of these contracts was $22 million of net unrealized gains as of December 31, 2016.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2017 and 2016, there was no ineffectiveness relating to our Cash Flow Hedges and the amount of pre-tax net realized gains associated with these contracts that were reclassified out of Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) and into earnings was not material.

In the absence of hedging activities for the six months ended June 30, 2017, a hypothetical adverse foreign currency exchange rate movement of 10% would have resulted in a theoretical decline of our net income of approximately $63 million. This sensitivity analysis assumes a parallel adverse shift of all foreign currency exchange rates against the U.S. dollar; however, all foreign currency exchange rates do not always move in this manner and actual results may differ materially.

Interest Rate Risk

Our exposure to market rate risk for changes in interest rates relates primarily to our investment portfolio and variable rate debt under our Credit Agreement. We do not currently use derivative financial instruments to manage interest rate risk. As of June 30, 2017, and December 31, 2016, a hypothetical interest rate change on our variable rate debt of one percent (100 basis points) would have changed interest expense on an annual basis by approximately $10 million and $27 million, respectively. This estimate does not include a change in interest income from our investment portfolio that may result from such a hypothetical interest rate change, nor does it include the effects of other actions that we may take in the future to mitigate this risk, or any changes in our financial structure. Refer to Note 7 of the notes to condensed consolidated financial statements included in Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for disclosures regarding interest rates associated with our debt obligations.

Our investment portfolio consists primarily of money market funds and government securities with high credit quality and short average maturities. Because short-term securities mature relatively quickly and must be reinvested at the then-current market rates, interest income on a portfolio consisting of cash, cash equivalents, or short-term securities is more subject to market fluctuations than a portfolio of longer-term securities. Conversely, the fair value of such a portfolio is less sensitive to market fluctuations than a portfolio of longer-term securities. At June 30, 2017, our $3.28 billion of cash and cash equivalents was comprised primarily of money market funds.

The Company has determined that, based on the composition of our investment portfolio as of June 30, 2017, there was no material interest rate risk exposure to the Company's consolidated financial condition, results of operations, or liquidity as of that date.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Definition and Limitations of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our disclosure controls and procedures (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the Exchange Act)) are designed to reasonably ensure that information required to be disclosed in our reports filed under the Exchange Act is: (1) recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms, and (2) accumulated and communicated to management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures. A control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance that it will detect or uncover failures within the Company to disclose material information otherwise required to be set forth in our periodic reports. Inherent limitations to any system of disclosure controls and procedures include, but are not limited to, the possibility of human error and the circumvention or overriding of such controls by one or more persons. In addition, we have designed our system of controls based on certain assumptions, which we believe are reasonable, about the likelihood of future events, and our system of controls may therefore not achieve its desired objectives under all possible future events.

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our management, with the participation of our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures at June 30, 2017, the end of the period covered by this report. Based on this evaluation, the principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that, at June 30, 2017, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed by the Company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is (i) recorded, processed, summarized, and reported on a timely basis, and (ii) accumulated and communicated to our management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures.

Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

Our management, with the participation of our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, has evaluated any changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the fiscal quarter ended June 30, 2017. Based on this evaluation, the principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that, at June 30, 2017, there have not been any changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the most recent fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

We are party to routine claims, suits, investigations, audits, and other proceedings arising from the ordinary course of business, including with respect to intellectual property rights, contractual claims, labor and employment matters, regulatory matters, tax matters, unclaimed property matters, compliance matters, and collection matters. In the opinion of management, after consultation with legal counsel, such routine claims and lawsuits are not significant and we do not expect them to have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, or liquidity.
