CVRD Clarifies News Published by the Brazilian Press

Rio de Janeiro, May 7, 2003 Companhia Vale do Rio Doce (CVRD) clarifies its improper inclusion in the list of companies in default with the Brazilian Social Security Institute (INSS), recently released in local news agencies.

For years, INSS has been exercising continuous inspection over CVRD's contributions to social security related to the payments to the Company's employees.

In various occasions, CVRD and INSS has come to divergent understanding about what is stated by the Brazilian legislation regarding the obligation of some contributions to social security.

CVRD has been discussing some of its obligations in court. At the same time, CVRD made deposits guaranteeing the fulfillment of its potential obligations. Thus, until the end of these litigations and a final decision of the Judiciary in favor of INSS, CVRD can not be considered in default.

This press release may contain statements that express management's expectations about future events or results rather than historical facts. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in forward-looking statements, and CVRD cannot give assurance that such statements will prove correct. These risks and uncertainties include factors: relating to the Brazilian economy and securities markets, which exhibit volatility and can be adversely affected by developments in other countries; relating to the iron ore business and its dependence on the global steel industry, which is cyclical in nature; and relating to the highly competitive industries in which CVRD operates. For additional information on factors that could cause CVRD's actual results to differ from expectations reflected in forward-looking statements, please see CVRD's reports filed with the Brazilian Comissão de Valores Mobiliários and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
