Through our subsidiaries, Virtual Academics.com, Inc. is engaged in the online distance learning industry with a focus on the international, mid-career adult and corporate training markets. Our management has been engaged in this business since 1993, through various predecessor entities. We own and operate an online distance learning university and nutrition academy that offers licensed certificate and degree programs in a variety of concentrations to students in over 80 countries worldwide. We are licensed by the State Education Departments of the States of Alabama and Florida and recognized by the provincially run education agencies of China. In addition to online training, we develop wireless applications for schools and enterprise companies. Virtual Academics international educational portal is located at www.virtualacademics.com. None of the information on our website should be considered included in or incorporated into this prospectus.

Virtual Academic's History

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Virtual Academics began operating in the online distance learning industry in December 1999, when Steven M. Bettinger and Robert K. Bettinger transferred their interests in International Educational Group, LLC and its subsidiaries, Barrington University, Inc. and Spanish University of America Foundation, Inc., in exchange for approximately 66 2/3% of the then outstanding common stock received from Virtual Academics' former principal stockholder. Virtual Academics was incorporated in Delaware in 1988, but had no significant business operations until the transaction in 1999. Our executive offices are located at 6421 Congress Ave, Suite 201, Boca Raton, Florida 33487 and our telephone number is (561) 994-4446.

RISKS OF INVESTING IN VIRTUAL ACADEMICS SHARES

You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described below before making an investment decision. Our business, financial condition and operating results could be adversely affected by any of the following factors, which could cause the trading price of our common stock to decline, and you could lose part or all of your investment. Additional risks and uncertainties not now known to us, or that we currently think are immaterial, may also impair our business operations.

We have previously experienced losses and may not be able to operate profitably in the future.

For the year ended June 30, 2001, we reported net income of $322,766 after experiencing a net loss of $408,546 for the year ended June 30, 2000. As of June 30, 2001, we had an accumulated deficit of $198,115. There can be no assurance that we will continue to operate profitably in the future. Losses in the future could materially and adversely affect our business.

Our common stock is listed on the OTC Bulletin Board and is not actively traded, with the result that the trading price can be strongly affected by various factors.

Few shares of our common stock trade on the OTC Bulletin Board on any given day. Therefore, the trading price of our common stock has been, and in the future is expected to be, strongly affected by a number of factors, including:

- o current and anticipated results of operations;
- o changes in our business, operations or financial results;
- o general market and economic conditions;
- o the number of shares outstanding and freely tradable; and
- o the number of market makers in our stock.

The trading price of our common stock can be affected if our stockholders sell substantial amounts of our common stock, including shares being registered in this offering as well as those issued upon the exercise of outstanding options. If that occurs, the market price of our common stock is likely to fall. In addition to 8,604,617 shares of common stock currently outstanding, our officers, directors, employees and consultants own options to purchase up to 671,000 additional shares of common stock. As of June 30, 2001, options exercisable for a total of 103,333 shares had vested.

Our financial performance depends in part on our ability to increase awareness of the programs offered by us among adult students and corporate employees, and we may not be successful in doing so.

Increased awareness of the programs offered by us among working adult students and corporate employees seeking continued education is critical to the continued acceptance and growth of our programs. If Virtual Academics is unable to increase awareness of the programs we offer, this could limit our enrollments and negatively impact our ability to increase revenues and maintain profitability.

The following are some of the factors that could prevent us from successfully increasing awareness of our programs:

- o customer dissatisfaction with our programs and services;
- o the emergence of more successful competitors;
- o performance problems with our online systems; or
- o our failure to maintain or expand our brand.

We cannot adjust expenses for any particular quarter in response to revenue shortfalls.

A significant amount of our operating costs and expenses are fixed over the short-term, with faculty compensation and allocated inter-group expenses representing the only costs that vary directly with revenue. As a result, if revenue for a particular quarter is below expectations, we could not proportionately reduce operating expenses for that quarter. Any revenue shortfall would therefore have an adverse effect on our expected operating results for that quarter.

We operate in a highly competitive market with rapid technology changes, and we may not have the resources needed to compete successfully.

Online education is a highly fragmented and competitive market that is subject to rapid technological change. Competitors vary in size and organization from traditional colleges and universities, many of which have some form of online education programs, to for-profit schools, corporate universities, and software companies providing online education and training software. We also rely, in some part, on third-party technology, particularly with respect to our wireless operations. We expect the online education and training market to be subject to rapid changes in technologies. We may not have the resources necessary to compete with the rapidly changing technologies being developed by our competitors, and our success will depend on our ability to adapt to these changing technologies.

Virtual Academics depends on its schools' government authorizations to operate, and the failure to maintain those authorizations could prevent Virtual Academics from operating its current business.

Barrington University operates under a license granted by the Alabama Department of Education. Additionally, the Academy of Health Science and Nutrition, Inc. operates under a provisional license granted by the Florida Department of Education and Wuhan Barrington College operates under an authorization by the Hubei TV University Province Labor Union Branch. As a result, Virtual Academics depends on its respective schools to remain in good standing with the respective government agencies. Loss of any of these authorizations to operate could prevent us from operating our business. Further, we are in the process of completing our application for full licensure from the State of Florida for the Academy of Health Science and Nutrition, Inc. Failure to receive this license could prevent us from continuing the programs now offered by the Academy of Health Science and Nutrition, Inc.

The loss of the services of one or more of our key personnel could disrupt our operations and damage our ability to grow our business.

Our performance is substantially dependent on the continued services and on the performance of our executive officers. The loss of the services of Steven M. Bettinger, our president and chief executive officer, or Robert K. Bettinger, our chairman of the Board of Directors, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations or financial condition.

Purchasers of our shares will not have significant voting power because management will maintain voting control after this offering.

Our executive officers and directors beneficially own as a group approximately 46% of our outstanding common stock, and Steven M. Bettinger and Robert K. Bettinger are our largest shareholders. As a result, management will be able to control all matters requiring stockholder approval, including the election of directors and approval of significant corporate transactions. This control may have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in control of Virtual Academics.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain important factors may affect our actual results and could cause those results to differ materially from any forward-looking statements made in this prospectus or that are otherwise made by us or on our behalf. "Forward-looking statements" are not based on historical facts and are typically phrased using words such as "may," "will," "expect," "believe," "anticipate," "intend," "could," "estimate" or "continue" and similar expressions or variations.

The reader is cautioned that all forward-looking statements are necessarily speculative and there are certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those referred to in any forward-looking statements. Differences in actual results may be caused by factors such as those discussed in "Risks of Investing in Virtual Academics Shares" as well as those discussed elsewhere in this prospectus and in our filings with the SEC.

Although we believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee that they will be achieved. Except as we are required by applicable law, we do not intend to update any of the forward-looking statements to conform these statements to actual results.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We will receive no proceeds from the shares being offered by the selling stockholders under this prospectus.

DIVIDEND POLICY

We have never paid any cash dividends on our common stock. We do not currently anticipate paying cash dividends for the foreseeable future, but instead we plan to retain any earnings to fund our growth. The decision to pay dividends on our common stock in the future will depend on our ability to generate earnings, our need for capital, our overall financial condition and other factors that our Board of Directors may consider to be relevant.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Our common stock has been traded in the over-the-counter market and quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board under the symbol "VADC.OB" since January 4, 2000. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

General

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the financial statements appearing elsewhere in this prospectus. These financial statements reflect our consolidated financial position and operations for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2001.

Through our subsidiaries, we are engaged in the online distance learning business with a focus on the international, second-career adult and corporate training markets. We currently operate our main school, Barrington University, from Mobile, Alabama, where the State of Alabama Department of Education, Code of Alabama, Title 16-46-1 through 10, licenses the school. We offer degrees and training programs to students in over 80 countries and in multiple languages. The programs are "virtual" in their delivery format and can be completed from a laptop, home computer or through a wireless device.

Our branch school in China, Wuhan Barrington College, was approved by the Hubei Province Education Department on November 3, 2000 - File [2000]#115. This Wuhan Barrington College is licensed in cooperation with the Hubei Union University, which now has over 2,000 students. We also have established a dual degree program with the Universidad Yacambu of Lara Venezuela to offer Spanish language degree programs. With this agreement, we will now have governmental approved curriculum in Spanish to market to the global Hispanic community. In addition to degree completion programs, we are focusing on training corporate personnel, continuing education courses and wireless technology for education, which we believe is a major growth area.

Additionally, we are currently developing affordable wireless platforms to provide companies with quality training services for their employees. Our staff will work directly with human resource departments to ensure the training is scalable and applicable to their employees' needs. We will enable our wireless application protocol technology to provide seamless information to all employees, regardless if they are at home, in the office or out in the field.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Through a pilot program, we are currently offering a limited number of our business courses through the wireless Palm Pilot and other wireless application protocol enabled equipment. This technology will provide students the means to post messages, communicate with instructors and fellow students, complete exams, and to review syllabi and grades.

We have received full licensure from the Alabama Department of Education for Barrington University, which is owned by Virtual Academics.com, Inc.

Seasonality in Results of Operations

We experience seasonality in our results of operations primarily as a result of changes in the level of student enrollments and course completion. While we enroll students throughout the year, average enrollments and course completion and related revenues generally are lower in December and January than in other quarters due to seasonal breaks in December and January. Accordingly, costs and expenses historically increase as a percentage of tuition and other net revenues as a result of certain fixed costs not significantly affected by the seasonal second quarter declines in net revenues.

We experience a seasonal increase in new enrollments in August of each year when most other colleges and universities begin their fall semesters. As a result, instructional costs and services and selling and promotional expenses historically increase as a percentage of tuition and other net revenues in the fourth quarter due to increased costs in preparation for the August peak enrollments.

We anticipate that these seasonal trends in the second and fourth quarters will continue in the future.

Results of Operations

Year Ended June 30, 2001 compared to Year Ended June 30, 2000

Revenues

For fiscal 2001, we had a 128.7% increase in earned revenues to $2,632,037 from $1,150,664 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2000. The increase in revenues is due primarily to an increase in the number of students that have been registered. Substantial increases in revenue and profitability can be achieved through modest improvements in student course completion rates. Unearned revenue represents the portion of tuition revenue invoiced but not earned and is reflected as a liability in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets. Since we will recognize tuition and registration revenue based on the number of courses actually completed in each student's course of study, student course completion efforts, if successful, are extremely beneficial to operating results. School personnel typically employ an approach based upon establishing personal relationships with students; for example, students may receive a telephone call from a school counselor if they have not completed courses. Our operating results may be impacted negatively by the registration of new students because we incur costs to enroll students but registration fees are initially deferred and then recognized with tuition over the course of the study period, under the guidelines of SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin 101.

For the year ended June 30, 2001, unearned revenues' activity consisted of the following:

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Unearned revenue at the beginning of fiscal 2001:	$1,444,665
Tuition from students during fiscal 2001:	4,438,369
Earned revenue:	(2,632,037)

Unearned revenue at the end of fiscal 2001:	$3,250,997

Instruction and Educational Support

Instruction and educational support expenses consist primarily of student supplies such as textbooks as well as postage and shipping, credit card fees, computer related expenses, and printing fees. For fiscal 2001, instructional and educational support expenses increased by 66% to $423,951 or 16% of net revenues as compared to $254,832 or 22% of net revenues for fiscal 2000. The increase in instructional and educational support expenses was attributable to Virtual Academics' growth as well as the increased cost of postage and delivery incurred for shipping books and supplies to our foreign students and increased credit card fees due to the fact that we encourage students to join our tuition payment program whereby students pay monthly by credit card. Instructional and educational support expenses decreased as a percentage of net revenue due to the fact that computer-related expenses remained relatively stable in relation to the increase in net revenues.

Selling and Promotion

Selling and promotion expense consists primarily of recruiting fees and advertising. For fiscal 2001, selling and promotion expenses increased by 14% to $426,831 or 16% of net revenues as compared to $374,943 or 32% of net revenues for fiscal 2000. The increase in selling and promotion expenses is attributable to our increased advertising efforts. For fiscal 2001, advertising expense amounted to approximately $218,300 as compared to $59,500 for fiscal 2000. Additionally, our recruiting fees decreased to $163,458 for fiscal 2001 from $216,300 for fiscal 2000. The decrease is attributable to our decreased use of recruiters to obtain students. The decrease in selling costs as a percentage of revenue is due to the increased level of sales. Although we are currently running advertisements in various national publications and newspapers in order to attract more students, we expect our advertising budget to remain constant through the end of fiscal 2002.

General and Administrative Expenses

General and administrative expenses, which includes payroll, professional fees, rent, travel and entertainment, insurance, bad debt, and other expenses, were $1,666,621 for fiscal 2001 as compared to $942,598 for fiscal 2000. This amounted to 63% of net revenues for fiscal 2001 as compared to 82% for fiscal 2000. The increase was primarily due to three factors:

First, personnel-related costs increased by 135% to $596,123 for fiscal 2001 from $280,345 for the fiscal 2000. This reflected a growth in the number of employees from five at June 30, 2000 to 15 at June 30, 2001 as a result of the growth that we are experiencing. Our staffing increases were needed to handle student relations, develop new programs, perform administrative tasks and develop our wireless technologies. Second, we incurred bad debt expense of $448,481 for fiscal 2001 as compared to $43,764 for fiscal 2000. The increase in bad debt expense is primarily due to the following two factors: (1) the dramatic growth that Virtual Academics experienced in fiscal 2001 and (2) increasing delinquency of certain student accounts.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Interest Income

Interest income was $93,451 for fiscal 2001 as compared to $7,031 for fiscal 2000. In connection with the collection of the $550,000 promissory note related to the private placement, we collected approximately $54,000 of interest income. We currently invest our excess cash balances in primarily two interest-bearing accounts with two financial institutions.

As a result of the foregoing factors, as well as the recognition of the deferred tax benefit of approximately $115,000, we recognized net income of $322,766 or $.04 per share for fiscal 2001 as compared to a net loss of $(408,546) or $(.06) per share for fiscal 2000.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of June 30, 2001, we had $1,775,206 in cash and equivalents on hand to meet our obligations, which represented an increase of $1,309,523 from the beginning of fiscal 2001.

In February 2000, we consummated a private placement to an investor of 2,200,000 shares of common stock. This private placement raised a total of $990,000. Of the 2,200,000 shares sold, 1,100,000 shares were sold for $440,000 in cash and the balance of the shares were sold for a $550,000, 7% unsecured promissory note, which was paid in May 2001. All of the funds from this private placement will be used as working capital.

For fiscal 2001 and 2000, we had a positive cash flow from operating activities of $820,818 and $115,932, respectively. We expect that our operations will continue to provide positive cash flows.

We feel that with continued positive cash flow, we are well capitalized to fund our operations over the ensuing 12-month period, including the expected growth during this period.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statements of Financial Accounting Standards No. 141, Business Combinations, and No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Statement No. 141 is effective for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001, while Statement No. 142 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. Under the new rules, goodwill and intangible assets deemed to have indefinite lives will no longer be amortized but will be subject to annual impairment tests in accordance with Statements 141 and 142. Other intangible assets will continue to be amortized over their useful lives. Virtual Academics will apply the new rules on accounting for goodwill and other intangible assets beginning in the first quarter of 2002. Application of the non-amortization provisions of Statement No. 142 are not expected to have a material effect on Virtual Academics' financial position or results of operations.

In December 1999, the Securities and Exchange Commission released Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101 ("SAB 101"), Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements, which was adopted in fiscal 2001. SAB 101 did not have a material effect on our financial position or results of operations in fiscal 2001.

ABOUT VIRTUAL ACADEMICS

Background

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Through our subsidiaries, Virtual Academics is engaged in the online distance learning industry with a focus on the international, mid-career adult and corporate training markets. Our management has been engaged in this business since 1993, through various predecessor entities. We own and operate an online distance learning university and nutrition academy that offers licensed certificate and degree programs in a variety of concentrations to students in over 80 countries worldwide. We are licensed by the State Education Department of the State of Alabama, have received a provisional license from the Florida State Board of Nonpublic Career Education, and are recognized by the provincially run education agencies of China. In addition to online training, we develop wireless applications for schools and enterprise companies. Virtual Academics' international educational portal is located at www.virtualacademics.com. None of the information on our website should be considered included in or incorporated into this prospectus.

Strategy

Our goal is to strengthen our position within the rapidly growing online distance education industry, estimated at $5.5 billion by Piper Jaffray, who is projecting a $50 billion industry by 2005. Key components of our strategy currently include:

Marketing Relationships with Business Entities. We have realized growth from continuing marketing relationships with businesses that reimburse employees to take educational courses, including:

- United States Postal Service;
- Chase Manhattan Bank;
- Intel;
- Lucent; and
- Chrysler Corp.

Although these employees represent a small part of our current student population, we expect this segment to be a growing part of the student population in the future.

Typically, we provide customized distance learning educational services through our partners or to the workforce of its partners. Frequently, our corporate partners sponsor students by paying directly or reimbursing their employees' educational efforts.

Forge Strategic Alliances with State-owned Educational Institutions Worldwide. Through alliances such as an agreement with Renmin University, Peking University and other universities in the Peoples Republic of China, we offer dual-degree programs online throughout various countries. We anticipate growth through this and other initiatives in Asia. By means of an agreement with Yacambu and Santa Maria Universities of Venezuela, we plan to expand into Latin America.

Expand Global Enrollment and Recruitment Program. We intend to increase our enrollment through a team of representatives. The representatives are currently based in areas characterized by what management believes to be a large number of students, including:

- Canada;
- Malaysia;
- Argentina;
- Spain;

We pay each representative a referral fee for every student enrolled in one of our courses. We intend to continue to develop relationships with additional representatives in geographic areas where we are not currently represented.

Expand through Acquisition. We are currently seeking to acquire traditional educational institutions so that we may offer their traditional curricula online. We will consider acquisitions of carefully selected Internet-based educational institutions. While we continually evaluate certain acquisition opportunities, we are not currently party to any definitive agreements.

Provide Turnkey Wireless Solutions. Using resources obtained through research and development and certain partnerships, our wireless division has the ability to provide turnkey wireless services to schools and enterprise businesses that desire to expand their technology and presence.

Market

The United States and international education market may be divided into the following segments:

- o Kindergarten through 12th grade (and overseas counterparts) schools;
- o Vocational and technical training schools;
- o Workplace and consumer training; and
- o Higher education, degree-granting colleges and universities.

11

We operate in the higher education and workplace and consumer training segments. The U.S. Department of Education estimated that adults over 24 years of age comprised approximately 6.1 million, or 39.3%, of the 15.5 million students enrolled in higher education programs in 1998. Currently, the U.S. Bureau of Census estimates that approximately 76% of students, over the age of 24, work while attending school. The Department of Education estimates that by the year 2003, the number of adult students over the age of 24 will remain approximately the same at 6.1 million, or 40.1%, of the 15.2 million students projected to be enrolled in higher education programs.

We serve the needs of mid-career, working adults, American and foreign, by providing:

- o Convenient access to a learning environment (primarily through our website);
- o Degree programs offered by licensed institutions that can be completed in a reasonable amount of time for a reasonable cost;
- o Programs that provide knowledge and skills with immediate practical value in the workplace;
- o Education provided by qualified faculty members with current practical experience in fields related to the subjects they instruct; and
- o Learning resources available electronically to all students in many languages regardless of geographical location.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

We believe that the requirements of the adult working population represent a significant market opportunity to higher education institutions that can offer programs that meet these unique needs.

Most colleges and universities feature a more capital-intensive teaching and learning structure characterized by:

- o Dormitories, student unions and other significant plant assets to support the needs of students;
- o Fully configured library facilities and related full-time staff;
- o A high percentage of full-time tenured faculty with doctoral degrees; and
- o An emphasis on research and the related staff and facilities.

In addition, the majority of colleges and universities provide the bulk of their educational programming from September to mid-December and from mid-January to May. As a result, most full-time faculty members only teach during that limited period of time. While this structure serves the needs of the full-time 18- to 24-year-old student, it limits the educational opportunity for working adults who must delay their education for up to five months during these spring, summer and winter breaks. In addition, this structure generally requires working adults to attend one or more courses three times a week, commute to a central site, take work time to complete course requirements and, in undergraduate programs, participate passively in an almost exclusively lecture-based learning format primarily focused on a theoretical presentation of the subject matter. For the majority of working adults, earning an undergraduate degree in this manner would take seven to ten years. In recent years, many traditional colleges and universities have begun offering more flexible programs for working adults, although their focus appears to remain on 18- to 24-year-old students.

Virtual Academics Entities

We own and operate several educational entities, including:

- o Virtual Academics.com - www.virtualacademics.com is a web site through which all of our products, services and alliances can be accessed.
- o Barrington University - Founded in 1991, Barrington is licensed by the State of Alabama Department of Education and offers Bachelor and Master degrees via the traditional and wireless Internet.
- o Academy of Health Science and Nutrition, Inc.- Founded in 2001, the Academy was granted a provisional license by the Florida State Board of Nonpublic Career Education and offers certificate training in nutrition awareness via the traditional and wireless Internet.
- o VADC Wireless- Founded in 2001, we have developed wireless solutions for universities and enterprise businesses. Applications include the Campus Concierge, which enables schools to create a wireless environment for their administration, students and beyond. Additional applications include the Real Estate Concierge, which enables the Real Estate professional community to have wireless access to multiple listing services. See www.vadcrealty.com.

Academic Programs

We offer several specialty academic programs, including:

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Certification Programs. We offer a complete certificate-training library for the working adult, including certification in the following areas:

- Windows 98;
- HTML 4;
- Java;
- Windows NT 4;
- Windows NT MCSE;
- Microsoft Exchange Server;
- Visual C++; and
- Visual Basic.

Teaching Structure

VADC's teaching structure has the following major characteristics:

Tuition. All of our students must pay a registration fee to cover the costs of books, study manuals and other materials necessary for their studies. Generally, registration fees are approximately $450 and tuition fees range from $850 to $6,500 per program. Scholarships and discounts are available to certain students who demonstrate financial need. Frequently, tuition qualifies as a tax-deductible expense incurred as part of an effort to maintain or improve job-related skills.

Curriculum. The standardized curriculum for each program is designed to provide students with specified levels of knowledge and skills regardless of delivery method or location. The curriculum provides for the achievement of specific educational goals and is designed to integrate academic theory and professional practice with a focus on application to the workplace. Although we are responsible for academic requirements and educational goals, students and their employers often provide input to our faculty in designing curricula, and class projects are typically based on issues relevant to the companies and the human resource departments of companies that employ our students.

Faculty. Faculty applicants must possess an earned master's degree from an accredited institution and have a minimum of five years' professional experience in a field related to the subject matter in which they seek to mentor. To help promote quality delivery of the curricula, faculty members are required to:

- o Complete an initial assessment conducted by staff and faculty;
- o Complete a series of certification workshops related to grading, teaching, oversight of study group activities, adult learning theory, and use of the Internet;
- o Participate in ongoing development activities; and
- o Receive ongoing performance evaluations by students, peer faculty and staff.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

The results of these evaluations are used to establish plans to improve individual faculty performance and to determine continued eligibility of faculty members to instruct.

Our faculty is comprised of approximately 25 part-time persons. Most faculty members are recruited as the result of referrals from faculty, students and corporate contacts. All part-time faculties are contracted with on a course-by-course basis.

Online Chat. Our students are encouraged to participate in an interactive live-chat email center, which provides a forum for potential candidates or students to discuss any aspect of the educational process. This feature is available 24-hours a day, seven days a week.

Interactive Learning. Courses are designed to combine individual and group activity with interaction between and among students and the instructor. The curriculum requires a high level of student participation in order to enhance the student's ability to complete the courses.

Learning Resources. Students and faculty members are provided with electronic and other learning resources for their information needs. These extensive electronic resources minimize our need for capital-intensive library facilities and holdings.

Low Attrition Rate. The Virtual Academic schools currently have less than a 15% student dropout rate, which management believes is lower than that experienced by traditional universities. We feel that our customer service and our targeted client, the mid-career adult, are the reasons for this success.

Academic Quality. Any student having earned a high school diploma, General Equivalency Diploma or international equivalent may apply to earn any Virtual Academic certificate or enter into a bachelor's degree program. Any student having earned a Bachelor's degree or international equivalent, or registered in one of the Virtual Academic universities' combination Bachelor's/Master's degree programs may apply to enter into any Virtual Academic master's degree program.

Other Operations

Wireless Technologies. We recognized very early on that wireless technology would serve as an effective agent for communication and the delivery of information. In doing so, we have recently allocated resources to develop a business model to best capitalize on this burgeoning technology. We have split our wireless business into three distinct areas: wireless applications, enterprise solutions, and wireless training. Rather than focus strictly on proprietary wireless applications, or third-party development, we are attempting to position ourselves as a premier end-to-end wireless solutions provider. To meet the demands of these new markets, in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2001, we have enhanced our operations by upgrading to carrier-grade wireless technology and industry-leading hardware, have enhanced security measures, and have hired qualified information technology professionals to properly design and implement customized wireless solutions.

We believe that the suite of services currently being developed by us are diversified enough to meet the demands of any size client. Rather than limit our targeted market and services to strictly mid-to-large size companies, we have decided to offer affordable wireless services and solutions to any size client seeking to go wireless.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

The following describes some of the main applications we are currently developing:

Campus Concierge - Our wireless campus solution, "Campus Concierge" provides any size school with the wireless faculty and student services they need. By integrating our Campus Concierge in existing systems, schools can now increase their reach by extending services beyond campus boundaries.

By simply using their handheld wireless devices, students can access grades and syllabi, contact professors, learn of campus events, and access course content. Faculty and staff also may access important department information, interact with students, and gain mobile access to their personal information. In addition, the Campus Concierge can integrate with existing campus security and police, and emergency services for one-touch communication, and thus increasing campus safety.

Real Estate Concierge- Our wireless Real Estate Concierge application offers real-time access to the Multiple Listing Service database for real estate agents to use while in the field. This service allows real estate agents to have the most current information on the Multiple Listing Service listings without having to return to their computer, or otherwise connect with a host database. In addition, the Real Estate Concierge offers a client management program to organize contacts.

Convention Concierge- We believe that the convention market is a significant and underserved market. We are developing a working model that will allow the convention attendee to have access to all of the exhibitors, plus various points-of-interest in the host city-all via a wireless handheld device. Instead on having to carry cumbersome brochures, the attendee can now access a database with all the exhibitors and their locations. Beyond the convention walls, the Convention Concierge provides a complete search reference and guide to various highlights within the host city.

The wireless products discussed above are currently being developed and in the testing stage. We currently have not generated any revenues from these products and there can be no assurances that we will be able to do so in the future.

Competition

General. The market for online distance learning services is relatively new, intensely competitive, rapidly evolving and subject to rapid technological change as the market is characterized by an increasing number of entrants that have introduced or developed products and services similar to those offered by us. We expect competition not only to persist, but also to increase. Increased competition may result in course price reductions, reduced margins and loss of market share. Competitors fall into several categories, including other online distance learning providers, traditional "snail mail" correspondence courses and traditional universities and colleges expanding their course offerings online. Several current and potential competitors have longer operating histories, larger established student bases, greater name recognition, longer relationships with students and the public and significantly greater financial, technical, marketing and public relations resources.

Admissions Standards. To gain admission to the undergraduate programs, applicants must have a high school diploma or General Equivalency Diploma and satisfy certain minimum grade point average, employment and age requirements. Additional requirements may apply to individual programs. Students already in undergraduate programs elsewhere may petition to be admitted on provisional status if they do not meet certain admission requirements.

To gain admission to the graduate programs, students must have an undergraduate degree from an accredited college or university or international equivalent and satisfy minimum grade point average, work experience and employment requirements.

Additional requirements may apply to individual programs. Students in graduate programs may petition to be admitted on provisional status if they do not meet certain admission requirements.

Academic Accountability. We utilize an institution-wide system for the assessment of the educational outcomes of our students. The information generated is used to improve the quality of the curriculum, the instruction and the teaching/learning model. Our undergraduate and graduate students complete a comprehensive cognitive (core degree subject matter) and affective (educational, personal and professional values) assessment prior to and upon the completion of their core degree requirements.

Students in our programs evaluate both academic and administrative quality. This evaluation begins with a registration survey and continues with the evaluation of the curriculum, faculty, delivery method, instruction and administrative services upon the conclusion of each course. The evaluation also includes a survey of a random selection of graduates 2-3 years following their graduation. The results provide an ongoing basis for improving our approach to teaching, our selection of educational programs, and our instructional quality.

Customers

Our customers consist of working adult students, colleges and universities, governmental agencies and employers. The following is an approximate breakdown of students by the level of program they are seeking, as of September 1, 2001:

Combined bachelor's/master's program	12%
Master's degree	46%
Bachelor's degree	41%
Certificate level	1%

Total programs	100%

Based on surveys we perform, the average age of our student is 35 years old and approximately 65% of our students are male and 35% are female. Additionally, our average student has some college experience and averages approximately seven years of work experience.

Marketing

To date, the bulk of our marketing efforts have revolved around word of mouth efforts. We also have been advertising in USA Today, Business Week and other traditional print publications. In addition, we market ourselves over the Internet through techniques to increase the number of times our website is selected by search engines.

Employees

As of September 1, 2001, we had approximately 15 full-time employees and 25 part-time faculty members. None of our employees are represented by a labor union. We have not experienced any work stoppages and generally believe that our relationship with our employees is good.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Government Regulation

General. With the exception of state licensing regulation described below, we are subject to little governmental regulation other than the securities laws and regulations applicable to all publicly owned companies and laws and regulations applicable to businesses generally. Relatively few laws or regulations are currently directly applicable to access to, or commerce on, the Internet. Due to the increasing popularity and use of the Internet, it is likely that a number of laws and regulations may be adopted at the local, state, national or international levels with respect to the Internet. Any new legislation could inhibit the growth in use of the Internet and decrease the acceptance of the Internet as a communications and commercial medium, which could in turn decrease the demand for our services or otherwise have a material adverse effect on our future operating performance.

Licensing. Barrington University is licensed by the State Education Department of Alabama, which provides the basis for recognition and acceptance by employers, other higher education institutions and governmental entities of the degrees and credits earned by students. Barrington's license has been accepted until June 2002. Additionally, the Florida State Board of Nonpublic Career Education has granted us a provisional license through May 31, 2002 for the Academy of Health Sciences and Nutrition, Inc. Under the provisional license, we are permitted to begin official operations, advertise, solicit and enroll students and collect fees. Each school seeking a regular license to operate must submit to the State Board evidence of having met the state's minimum requirements. The minimum requirements include, among other things:

- o submission of a copy of the applicant's articles of incorporation;
- o submission of the applicant's financial statements;
- o establishing standard practices related to the instructional program;
- o maintaining minimum standards for school operations;
- o maintaining a qualified administrative staff and organization;
- o developing training for school administrators; and
- o developing student services.

Particularly with respect to distance education and correspondence schools, an applicant will also have to provide copies of:

- o the first 25% of lessons and an outline of the balance;
- o an inventory of equipment and material to be provided to students;
- o a detailed description of how each program will be conducted;
- o if the retention rate is less than 20%, a description of the school's retention policy; and
- o if the placement percentage is less than 60%, a description of the placement process and statistical placement information.

We are in the process of seeking full licensure from the Florida State Board of Nonpublic Career Education for the Academy of Health Sciences. There can be no assurances, however, that the Academy will be able to become fully licensed.

Accreditation. Accreditation is a system for recognizing educational institutions and their programs for performance, integrity and quality. In the

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

United States, this recognition comes primarily from regional associations. Colleges and universities depend on accreditation in evaluating transfers of credit and applications to graduate schools. Also, certain scholarship grants are restricted to students attending institutions accredited by certain associations.

Our schools are members of the International Association of Universities and Schools, an international membership organization that is not recognized by the United States Department of Education.

Description of Property

Our corporate headquarters are located at 6421 Congress Avenue, Suite 201, Boca Raton, Florida. This facility consists of approximately 5,000 square feet of office space, leased from a non-affiliated third party at an annual rent of approximately $39,000. The lease expires in July 2005. Additionally, we maintain an office in Mobile, Alabama for administrative purposes and it consists of approximately 1,500 square feet of office space, which we lease from a non-affiliated third party.

Our Canadian operations maintain approximately 3,500 square feet of space in Vancouver, British Columbia, which is paid for by our representative at that location.

All of the foregoing facilities are in good condition and are adequate for currently anticipated needs. We believe that in the event that the leases with respect to any of the aforementioned facilities should not be renewed, alternative space will be available at comparable rates.

Legal Proceedings

The Trade School Review Association filed a complaint against us on July 3, 2001 in the Superior Court for the State of California for the County of San Diego. The association alleges in its complaint that we have violated California's Private Postsecondary and Vocational Education Reform Act of 1989, California's false advertising statutes and California's Consumer Legal Remedies Act and seeks an injunction against unlawful practices, disgorgement of profits, restitution and attorneys' fees, all in unspecified amounts. We intend to vigorously contest this lawsuit. In October 2001, we received a proposal from the association regarding a possible settlement, to which we are currently analyzing our response. Inasmuch as this matter is in its preliminary stages, we are not able at this time to assess the likelihood of a favorable or unfavorable outcome to the litigation or whether a settlement can be reached.

Other litigation is from time to time pending against us is in the ordinary course of business and we believe this litigation will not have a material adverse effect on our financial condition.

CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS

Steven M. Bettinger and Robert K. Bettinger are also the majority stockholders of a consulting company that renders Internet consulting services to us. During the years ended June 30, 2001 and 2000, fees paid to the consulting company amounted to approximately $48,000 and $31,000, respectively.

In February 2000, Virtual Academics entered into a subscription agreement with Gilder Funding Corp. for a total of 2,200,000 shares of common stock. The shares were purchased for an aggregate amount of $990,000. The purchase price was payable as $440,000 in cash for the initial 1,100,000 shares of common stock and the issuance of a 7% promissory note in the principal amount of $550,000 for the remaining 1,100,000 shares of common stock. The note matured on February 2, 2001 and was paid in full in May 2001. The remaining shares of common stock were issued in June 2001. The funds raised from the sale of common stock are being used as working capital. The subscription agreement also provided that Virtual Academics register the resale of these shares on behalf of the stockholders.

OUR SECURITIES

The following summarizes the important provisions of our capital stock. For more information about our capital stock, please see our restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, that has been incorporated by reference into the registration statement of which this prospectus forms a part.

Under our restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, the authorized but unissued and unreserved shares of our capital stock will be available for issuance for general corporate purposes, including possible stock dividends, future mergers or acquisitions, or private or public offerings. Except as may otherwise be required by applicable law or regulations, stockholder approval will not be required for the issuance of those shares.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Our authorized capital stock consists of 10,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $.001 per share, and 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $.001 per share. As of the date of this prospectus, 8,604,617 shares of common stock and no shares of preferred stock are outstanding.

Common Stock

Each share of our common stock entitles the holder to one vote on all matters submitted to a vote of the stockholders. The holders of common stock are entitled to receive dividends, when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors, in its discretion, from funds legally available therefor. We do not currently intend to declare or pay cash dividends in the foreseeable future, but rather intend to retain any future earnings to finance the expansion of our businesses. If we liquidate or dissolve, the holders of our common stock are entitled to share ratably in our assets, if any, legally available for distribution to stockholders after the payment of all of our debts and liabilities and payment of the liquidation preference of any outstanding shares of preferred stock.

Our common stock has no preemptive rights and no subscription, redemption or conversion privileges. Our common stock does not have cumulative voting rights, which means that the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of our common stock voting for the election of directors can elect all members of the Board of Directors. A majority vote is also sufficient for other actions that require the vote or concurrence of stockholders.

Preferred Stock

Our Board of Directors has the authority to issue up to 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock in one or more series. The Board of Directors can determine the number of shares in each series, as well as the voting and other rights of the series, including the dividend rights and dividend rate, terms of redemption, conversion rights and liquidation preferences. The Board of Directors has the authority to determine these rights without any further vote or action by the stockholders. As of the date of this Prospectus, no shares of our preferred stock have been issued.

"Anti-Takeover" Provisions

Although the Board of Directors is not currently aware of any takeover attempts, our restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, and bylaws contain certain provisions that may be deemed to be "anti-takeover" because they may deter, discourage or make more difficult the assumption of control of the company by another corporation or person through a tender offer, merger, proxy contest or similar transaction or series of transactions. These provisions were adopted unanimously by our Board of Directors and approved by our stockholders.

Authorized but Unissued Shares. We authorized 10,000,000 shares of common stock and 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock. These shares were authorized for the purpose of providing our Board of Directors with as much flexibility as possible to issue additional shares for proper corporate purposes, including equity financing, acquisitions, stock dividends, stock splits, other grants of stock options, and other purposes. The issuance of shares of preferred stock may have an adverse effect on the holders of our common stock. Our stockholders do not have preemptive rights with respect to the purchase of any shares. Therefore, such issuances could result in a dilution of voting rights and book value per share as to our common stock.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

No Cumulative Voting. Our bylaws do not contain any provisions for cumulative voting. Cumulative voting entitles stockholders to as many votes as equal the number of shares owned by such holder multiplied by the number of directors to be elected. A stockholder may cast all these votes for one candidate or distribute them among any two or more candidates. Thus, cumulative voting for the election of directors allows a stockholder or group of stockholders that hold less than 50% of the outstanding shares voting to elect one or more members of a board of directors. Without cumulative voting for the election of directors, the vote of holders of a plurality of the shares voting is required to elect any member of a board of directors and would be sufficient to elect all the members of the board being elected.

General Effect of Anti-Takeover Provisions. The overall effect of these provisions may be to deter a future tender offer or other takeover attempt that some stockholders might view to be in their best interest, as the offer might include a premium over the market price of our common stock at that time. In addition, these provisions may have the effect of assisting our current management in retaining its positions and better enable it to resist changes that some stockholders may want to make if dissatisfied with the conduct of our business.

SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

Of the 8,604,617 shares of our common stock outstanding as of the date of this prospectus, 6,845,029 shares of common stock are restricted securities, as that term is defined in Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act.

Of the 8,604,617 shares currently outstanding, 3,940,000 shares are owned by our affiliates, as that term is defined under the Securities Act. Pursuant to an SEC interpretive letter, the resale of the shares owned by affiliates of a blank check company may be carried out only pursuant to a registered offering, such as under this prospectus. A "blank check company" is a development stage company that has no specific business plan or purpose or has indicated its business plan is to engage in a merger or acquisition with an unidentified entity or person. The SEC also follows this position with respect to shares of a blank check company sold directly to non-affiliates in an unregistered offering.

When a company is no longer considered a blank check company, Rule 144 may be available for resales of the company's shares acquired after that time. Under Rule 144, if certain other conditions are satisfied, a person who has beneficially owned restricted shares for at least one year is entitled to sell within any three-month period a number of shares up to the greater of 1% of the total number of outstanding shares of common stock, or if the common stock is quoted on Nasdaq or an exchange, the average weekly trading volume during the four calendar weeks preceding the sale. A person who has not been our affiliate for at least three months immediately preceding the sale, and who has beneficially owned the shares of common stock for at least two years, is entitled under Rule 144, if the rule is available, to sell the shares without regard to any of the volume limitations described above.

No prediction can be made as to the effect, if any, that sales of shares or the availability of shares for sale as described above will have on the market prices of the common stock prevailing from time to time. Nevertheless, the possibility that substantial amounts of common stock may be sold in the public market may adversely affect prevailing prices for the common stock and could impair our ability to raise capital in the future through the sale of equity securities.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

HOW THE SHARES MAY BE DISTRIBUTED

The selling stockholders may sell shares of common stock in various ways and at various prices. Some of the methods by which the selling stockholders may sell shares include:

- o ordinary brokerage transactions and transactions in which the broker solicits purchasers or makes arrangements for other brokers to participate in soliciting purchasers;
- o privately negotiated transactions;
- o block trades in which the broker or dealer will attempt to sell the shares as agent but may position and resell a portion of the block as principal to facilitate the transaction;
- o purchases by a broker or dealer as principal and resale by that broker or dealer for the selling stockholder's account under this prospectus in the over-the-counter market at prices and on terms then prevailing in the market;
- o sales under Rule 144, if available, rather than using this prospectus;
- o a combination of any of these methods of sale; and
- o any other legally permitted method.

The applicable sales price may be affected by the type of transaction.

The selling stockholders may also pledge shares as collateral for margin loans under their customer agreements with their brokers. If there is a default by the selling stockholders, the brokers may offer and sell the pledged shares. When selling shares of common stock, the selling stockholders intend to comply with the prospectus delivery requirements under the Securities Act, by delivering a prospectus to each purchaser. We may file any supplements, amendments or other necessary documents in compliance with the Securities Act that may be required in the event a selling stockholder defaults under any customer agreement with brokers.

28

Brokers and dealers may receive commissions or discounts from the selling stockholders or, in the event the broker-dealer acts as agent for the purchaser of the shares, from that purchaser, in amounts to be negotiated. These commissions are not expected to exceed those customary in the types of transactions involved.

We cannot estimate at the present time the amount of commissions or discounts, if any, that will be paid by the selling stockholders in connection with the sales of the shares.

The selling stockholders and any broker-dealers or agents that participate with a selling stockholder in sales of the shares may be deemed to be "underwriters" within the meaning of the Securities Act in connection with such sales. In that event, any commissions received by the broker-dealers or agents and any profit on the resale of the shares purchased by them may be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts under the Securities Act.

Under the securities laws of certain states, the shares may be sold in those states only through registered or licensed broker-dealers. In addition, the shares may not be sold unless the shares have been registered or qualified for sale in the relevant state or unless the shares qualify for an exemption from registration or qualification.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

We have agreed to pay all of our out-of-pocket expenses and our professional fees and expenses incident to the registration of the shares.

The selling stockholders and other persons participating in the distribution of the shares offered under this prospectus are subject to the applicable requirements of Regulation M promulgated under the Exchange Act in connection with sales of the shares.

DISCLOSURE OF COMMISSION POSITION ON INDEMNIFICATION FOR SECURITIES ACT LIABILITIES

Our restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, generally provides for indemnification of each director, employee or agent as long as these individuals acted in good faith and in a manner he or she believed to be in or not opposed to our best interest and had no reasonable cause to believe that such conduct was unlawful.

The SEC is of the opinion that indemnification of directors, officers and controlling persons for liabilities arising under the Securities Act is against public policy and is, therefore, unenforceable.

LEGAL MATTERS

The legality of the securities offered by this prospectus will be passed upon by Broad and Cassel, a partnership including professional associations, Miami, Florida.

Certain partners of Broad and Cassel own a total of 250,000 shares of our common stock, which were acquired by them as personal investments and not in connection with any legal services provided to us.

Virtual Academics.com, Inc. and Subsidiaries
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
June 30, 2001

NOTE A - OWNERSHIP AND OPERATIONS

Virtual Academics.com, Inc. (the "Company") is engaged in distance learning through its subsidiaries to provide Internet education to students throughout the world. The business is conducted under the names of Barrington University (the "School") and Virtual Academics.com, Inc.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

The International Association of Universities and Schools and the Global Accreditation Association accredits the School; the Alabama Department of Education licenses the School. The Company's administrative and sales offices are located in Boca Raton, Florida and Mobile, Alabama. There are also arrangements with several international universities that confer dual degrees with the School whereas, based on the School's approval of the curriculum, a degree will be issued by the School upon completion of the students' studies at an international university. The Company caters to a wide variety of students.

On December 8, 1999, Steve Bettinger and Robert Bettinger (the "Bettingers") acquired 4,200,000 shares of Donnebrooke Corp. from a principal stockholder. After the purchase of these shares, Donnebrooke Corp. had 6,346,733 shares outstanding. Accordingly, the Bettingers owned approximately 66% of Donnebrooke Corp.'s outstanding common shares after the purchase. In connection with the purchase of Donnebrooke Corp.'s shares, the Bettingers, also owners of International Educational Group, LLC, and its subsidiaries, Barrington University, Inc., an Alabama Corporation, and Spanish University of America Foundation, Inc., transferred their interests in these companies to Donnebrooke Corp. Donnebrooke Corp. then changed its name to Virtual Academics.com, Inc.

Since Donnebrooke was inactive and had no operations at the time of these transactions, for accounting purposes the acquisitions of the Bettingers' entities were accounted for as a reverse merger and recapitalization. Therefore, the financial statements of the Company reflect the assets, liabilities and operations of the Bettingers' entities as if they had been the reporting entity since inception.

NOTE B - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its subsidiaries, all of which are wholly owned. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

Management Estimates

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and

F-7

Virtual Academics.com, Inc. and Subsidiaries
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
June 30, 2001

expenses during the reported period. Examples are the provision for doubtful accounts, unearned revenue, and prepaid and accrued recruiting fees. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less and money market accounts to be cash equivalents.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

The carrying value of cash and cash equivalents, tuition receivables and accounts payable approximate fair value due to the short term maturities of these instruments.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation and amortization are provided using the straight-line method over the estimated economic lives of the assets, which are from five to seven years. Depreciation expense was approximately $16,620 and $7,600 for the years ended June 30, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

Expenditures for major renewals and betterments that extend the useful lives of property and equipment are capitalized. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred.

Stock-based Compensation

Options granted under the Company's Performance Equity Plan are accounted for under APB 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees", and related interpretations. The Company's policy is to grant options with an exercise price equal to the quoted market price of its stock on the grant date. Accordingly, no compensation cost is recognized for those options granted. Stock issued in lieu of compensation is valued at the fair market value of the stock at the date of issuance.

Revenue Recognition

The school's curriculum is designed to allow a student to earn a degree or certificate by self-study. Each student, upon registration, is given an identification number and a password to begin his/her studies. Enrollment is completed upon the receipt of an initial payment at which time all of the course materials, which include core textbooks, are delivered to the student. The school offers a variety of degree and certificate programs and students are requested to complete payment within one year of enrollment, but two-year payment plans are offered upon request. All payment plans are without interest. Degrees are not conferred if a student has not fully paid. Through September 2000, revenue was recognized as earned as the student completed his or her course of study. A 24-month period was used as the estimated time period for the average degree completion, and revenue was recognized on the straight-line method over this 24-month period. Revenue earned from students participating in dual degree programs with foreign universities was recognized when the degree was issued upon graduation.

The Company has developed a new database of student activity, which allows it to more easily and accurately track student data including student progress on a course-by-course basis. Accordingly, the Company changed its method of calculating revenue to be recognized each quarter. For students registering on or after October 1, 2000, the Company recognizes tuition and registration revenue based on the number of courses actually completed in each student's course of study. For example, if a student completes three out of his or her nine required courses, the Company will recognize 33% of the tuition regardless of the amount of time that the student has taken to fulfill these requirements. The Company will utilize the previous method for all students registered prior to October 1, 2000. The change in accounting method did not have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

In fiscal 2001 and 2000, one recruiter's recruiting efforts accounted for approximately 20% and 25% of the Company's total revenues, respectively.

Tuition Receivable

The Company, in the ordinary course of business finances the tuition, without interest, over a period of up to twenty-four months. Because a significant part of the tuition is deferred, the Company does not impute interest with respect to receivables that mature in more than one year.

Tuition receivables are stated at the amount of unpaid principal, reduced by an allowance for loan losses. Provisions for estimated losses on student loans are charged to income in amounts sufficient to maintain the allowance at a level considered adequate to cover the losses of tuition receivables based upon historical trends, economic conditions and other information. In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2001 and 2000, the Company increased the provision for estimated losses on student loans by approximately $56,000 and $38,000, respectively.

Recruiting Fees

Students learn about the School via the Internet or are recruited through a worldwide network of recruiters. Recruiters are paid upon receipt of tuition payment by the student. Recruiting fees are accrued for the tuition due the Company, and prepaid for the revenue that has been deferred. The Company amortizes recruiting fees using the same method as the Company recognizes the related tuition revenue.

Research and Development

All costs incurred for research and development are expensed. These costs were insignificant in both fiscal 2001 and 2000.

Instruction and Education Support

Instruction and educational support consists of supplies such as textbooks to students, computer software and Internet expenses.

Advertising

Advertising is expensed as incurred. Advertising expenses for the years ended June 30, 2001 and 2000 totaled $217,675 and $59,506, respectively.

Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded based on the difference between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes. In addition, the current or deferred tax consequences of a transaction are measured by applying the provisions of enacted tax laws to determine the amounts of taxes payable currently or in future years.

Computer Software

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

The Company accounts for the costs of computer software developed or obtained for internal use in accordance with Statement of Position 98-1, "Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use". The Company capitalized software development costs amounting to $12,000. Computer software costs are recorded at cost and are being amortized using the straight-line method over five years.

Earnings Per Share

Basic net earnings per share equals net earnings (loss) divided by the weighted average shares outstanding during the year. The computation of diluted net earnings per share does not include dilutive common stock equivalents in the weighted average shares outstanding as they would be antidilutive in 2000. The reconciliation between the computations is as follows:

	Net (Loss) Income	Basic Shares	Diluted Shares
	-----	-----	-----
2001	$ 322,766	7,532,576	7,786,459
2000	$ (408,546)	6,804,506	6,804,506

Not included in basic shares are the weighted average common stock equivalents of 457,500 because they are anti-dilutive in 2000. In 2001, the dilutive weighted average shares outstanding includes 253,883 dilutive common stock equivalents (i.e., effect of the options).

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statements of Financial Accounting Standards No. 141, Business Combinations, and No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Statement No. 141 is effective for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001, while Statement No. 142 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. Under the new rules, goodwill and intangible assets deemed to have indefinite lives will no longer be amortized but will be subject to annual impairment tests in accordance with the Statements. Other intangible assets will continue to be amortized over their useful lives. The Company will apply the new rules on accounting for goodwill and other intangible assets beginning in the first quarter of 2002. Application of the non-amortization provisions of the Statement are not expected to have a material effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

In December 1999, the Securities and Exchange Commission released Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101 ("SAB 101"), Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements, which was adopted in fiscal 2001. SAB 101 did not have a material effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations in fiscal 2001.

NOTE C - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Employment Agreements

The Company has entered into employment agreements with two of its executive officers for a 24-month period ending January 1, 2003, subject to automatic renewals of 12-month terms unless terminated by the Company or the employee with 30-days' prior written notice.

In addition to an annual salary of $250,000 and $85,000 for the President and Chief Executive Officer and the Chairman of the Board and Secretary, respectively, the agreements entitle the officers to receive options to purchase 100,000 shares of common stock of the Company each year of employment at fair market value. These options, a total of 200,000 options each for fiscal 2001 and 2000, were issued under the Company's stock option plan (see Note D). These options vest 1/3 per year, beginning one year from the date of grant. The agreements also provide for the receipt of an annual bonus at the discretion of the Board of Directors.

Leases

The Company leases its Florida and Alabama offices under leases that expire through fiscal 2006. The office lease agreements have certain escalation clauses and renewal options. Future minimum rental payments required under this operating lease is as follows:

Rent expense for the twelve-month periods ended June 30, 2001 and 2000 was $50,638 and $51,722, respectively.

Capital Raising

On June 21, 2000, the Company entered into an agreement with an investment banker to arrange a private placement or series of private placements of debt or equity securities of the Company. No warrants or additional compensation were issued or paid to the investment banker in fiscal 2001 and as of June 30, 2001 the agreement had expired. The Company does not intend to renew or extend the agreement.

Litigation

The Company is involved in litigation in the ordinary course of business, which would not have a material effect on our business or results of operations. In particular, the Trade School Review Association ("Trade School") filed a complaint against the Company on July 3, 2001 in the Superior Court for the State of California for the County of San Diego. Trade School alleges in its complaint that the Company have violated the Private Postsecondary and Vocational Education Reform Act of 1989, California's false advertising statutes, and the Consumer Legal Remedies Act. The Company intends to vigorously contest the lawsuit. Inasmuch as the lawsuit is in its preliminary stages, the Company cannot express an opinion as to the likelihood of a favorable or unfavorable outcome to the litigation.

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

NOTE D - COMMON STOCK

On February 1, 2000, the Company adopted a stock option plan (the "2000 Performance Equity Plan") for periods not to exceed ten years. The majority stockholders of the Company approved the Plan. The plan provides options exercisable for a maximum of 1,000,000 shares of common stock to be granted. Both incentive and nonqualified stock options may be granted under the Plan. The exercise price of options granted pursuant to this plan is determined by a committee but may not be less than 100% of the fair market value on the day of grant. For holders of 10% or more of the combined voting power of all classes of the Company's stock, options may not be granted at less than 110% of the fair value of the common stock at the date of grant and the option may not exceed 5 years. There were no options exercised during the fiscal years 2001 and 2000. There were 147,500 and no options forfeited during fiscal 2001 and 2000, respectively.

The exercise prices of all options granted by the Company equal the market price at the dates of grant. No compensation expense has been recognized. Had compensation cost for the stock option plan been determined based on the fair value of the options at the grant dates consistent with the method of SFAS 123, "Accounting for Stock Based Compensation", the Company's net earnings and earnings per share would have been changed to the pro forma amounts indicated below for the year ended June 30, 2001:

Additionally, the Company cancelled 30,000 options during fiscal 2001. There were no options exercised during the fiscal year ended 2001.

The exercise price of all options granted by the Company equals the market price at the date of grant. Accordingly, no compensation expense has been recognized on options granted to employees. The Company granted 66,000 options to consultants. These options were valued using the Black-Scholes pricing method at a fair value of $.27 per option. Accordingly, the Company recorded consulting expense of $17,820.

In February 2000, the Company entered into a subscription agreement for a total of 2,200,000 shares of common stock. The shares were purchased for an aggregate amount of $990,000. The purchase price was payable as $440,000 in cash for the initial 1,100,000 shares of common stock and the issuance of a 7% promissory note in the principal amount of $550,000 for the remaining 1,100,000 shares of common stock. The note matured on February 2, 2001 and was paid in full in May 2001. The remaining shares of common stock were issued by the Company in June 2001.

On December 26, 2000, the Board of Directors authorized the Company to repurchase, in the open market, up to 200,000 shares of the common stock of the Corporation, to demonstrate its belief that the per share price of the Company's common stock is significantly undervalued and to indicate to outside investors its confidence in the current and future business prospects of the Company. As of June 30, 2001, no shares have been repurchased.

In fiscal 2000, the Company agreed to issue 20,834 shares of common stock as compensation to consultants. Accordingly, expense of $55,305 was recorded based upon the fair value of the stock at issuance and paid-in capital was correspondingly credited in fiscal 2000. The Company issued these shares on July 25, 2000.

On May 16, 2001, the Company issued 1,000 shares of common stock as compensation to an independent contractor. Expense of $1,800 was recorded based upon the fair value of the stock at issuance and paid-in capital was correspondingly credited.

NOTE E - INCOME TAXES

Benefit for income taxes for the year ended June 30, 2000 of $6,132 represents an accrual that was reversed which was made prior to the reverse merger.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are provided for significant income and expense items recognized in different years for tax and financial reporting purposes. Temporary differences, which give rise to net deferred tax assets follow:

	2001

Deferred tax benefits (liability) - current
Allowance for doubtful accounts	$ 86,325
Cash to accrual conversion
Deferred tax benefits - noncurrent
Depreciation	2,363
Net operating loss carryforward	25,993
Other, net	--

Edgar Filing: VIRTUAL ACADEMICS COM INC - Form SB-2/A

Total deferred tax assets	114,681
Less: Valuation allowance	--

	$ 114,681

In fiscal 2000, the Company's effective tax rate is lower than the statutory rate due to the 100% valuation allowance on the deferred tax assets. The Company recorded a full valuation allowance for the deferred tax assets at June 30, 2000 as the Company's ability to realize these benefits is not "more likely than not". Accordingly, no net deferred tax assets are reported in the accompanying balance sheets at June 30, 2000. As of June 30, 2001, the Company is not recording a valuation allowance on the deferred tax assets because the Company's ability to realize these benefits is "more likely than not". The deferred tax asset is reported in the accompanying balance sheet at June 30, 2001.

NOTE F - RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company's Chief Executive Officer and President, and its Chairman of the Board and Secretary, are also both the majority stockholders of a consulting company that renders Internet consulting services to the Company.
