Item 5.03      Amendments to Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws; Change in Fiscal Year.

On December 4, 2018, the Board of Directors of ABM Industries Incorporated (“ABM”) approved and adopted amendments to the Amended and Restated Bylaws of ABM.

Among other things, the amendments to the bylaws added a new forum selection provision that provides that, unless ABM consents in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, the sole and exclusive forum for any (1) derivative action or proceeding brought on behalf of ABM, (2) action asserting a claim of breach of a fiduciary duty owed by any current or former director, officer or other employee of ABM to ABM or its stockholders, (3) action asserting a claim arising pursuant to any provision of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the “DGCL”) or ABM’s certificate of incorporation or bylaws or (4) action asserting a claim governed by the internal affairs doctrine, will be the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware (or, if that court does not have jurisdiction, the federal district court for the District of Delaware).

In addition, the amendments to the bylaws include (1) certain non-substantive, clarifying and/or conforming changes and (2) revisions requiring additional disclosure obligations for stockholders bringing stockholder proposals and/or director nominations.

The foregoing summary description of the amendments to the bylaws is qualified in its entirety by the full text of the bylaws, a copy of which is filed as Exhibit 3.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and is incorporated herein by reference.

ABM’s Board of Directors believes that, by ensuring that lawsuits relating to intra-corporate disputes are heard in the Delaware Court of Chancery, an exclusive forum provision furthers ABM’s goal of fair, predictable and cost-effective outcomes and will provide substantial benefits to ABM and its stockholders:

ABM and its stockholders could benefit from having any future covered disputes resolved by the Delaware Court of Chancery because ABM is incorporated in the State of Delaware, and that Court is widely regarded for its expertise in and deep experience with Delaware corporate law issues;

ABM and its stockholders could benefit from greater predictability regarding the outcome of claims, and avoid the risk that Delaware law would be misapplied by a court in another jurisdiction with less familiarity with complex Delaware corporate matters;

ABM's Board of Directors believes that the forum selection provision will reduce the risk of ABM's involvement in duplicative litigation with the associated duplication of litigation expenses and the potential for inconsistent outcomes of cases brought in multiple forums; and ABM's Board of Directors retains the ability to consent to an alternative forum where ABM determines that its interest and those of its stockholders are best served by permitting such a dispute to proceed in any other forum.

Moreover, ABM's Board of Directors narrowly tailored the forum selection provision to apply only to certain suits. Specifically, as described above, the forum selection provision provides the sole and exclusive forum only for certain derivative actions, fiduciary duty claims, claims arising pursuant to the DGCL and claims governed by the internal affairs doctrine that should be brought in Delaware. As a result, the provision does not affect the ability of stockholders to bring other types of lawsuits, such as lawsuits under the federal securities laws that are not derivative in nature, in any appropriate forum.
