LLOYDS TSB GROUP ANNOUNCES SALE OF THE NATIONAL BANK OF

NEW ZEALAND

Lloyds TSB Group has agreed the sale of its subsidiary, NBNZ Holdings Limited ("NBNZ"), comprising the Group's New Zealand banking and insurance operations, to Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited for the equivalent of GBP2.25 billion. This consists of a pre-close dividend from NBNZ equivalent to approximately GBP200 million and a cash consideration equivalent to some GBP2.05 billion. The net asset value at 30 June 2003 of the businesses sold, excluding goodwill, was some GBP930 million. NBNZ contributed GBP149 million to Group attributable profit in 2002.

Subject to completion, which is expected in early December 2003, an estimated profit after tax of some GBP1.1 billion, based on NBNZ net assets at 30 June 2003, will be recognised in the profit and loss account of Lloyds TSB Group for the year ending 31 December 2003. This is after writing off goodwill of approximately GBP200 million, GBP20 million of which has previously been charged to reserves, and disposal costs. The Group's reserves will increase by approximately GBP1.1 billion. NBNZ's risk-weighted assets as at 30 June 2003 were GBP10.1 billion.

Upon completion, the Board will consider its options for the application of the sale proceeds, which include supporting business growth, some strengthening of capital ratios, and other means of enhancing shareholder value, including the purchase of Group shares.

Eric Daniels, Lloyds TSB Group Chief Executive, said:

"Having conducted a strategic review of NBNZ and its prospects, we have concluded that a sale of the business at this time is in the best interest of the Group. The sale of NBNZ continues the process of managing the Group's business portfolio to focus on our core franchise."
