ITEM 8.01 OTHER EVENTS.

News Corporation ( News Corporation ) announced on March 3, 2005, that it is increasing the exchange ratio in its previously announced exchange offer for all of the outstanding shares of Fox Entertainment Group, Inc. s ( Fox ) Class A common stock that News Corporation does not already own. Pursuant to the terms of the increased exchange offer, holders of Fox Class A common stock will receive 2.04 shares of News Corporation Class A common stock in exchange for each outstanding share of Fox Class A common stock validly tendered and not withdrawn in the exchange offer. Except for the increase in the exchange ratio, the other terms and conditions of the exchange offer remain unchanged.

News Corporation also announced on March 3, 2005, that it has been informed by the special committee of the Fox board of directors, comprised solely of independent directors, formed to consider the exchange offer that the committee intends to recommend that Fox stockholders accept the increased exchange offer and tender their shares.

News Corporation also announced on March 3, 2005, the settlement in principle of a purported consolidated class action lawsuit filed in the Delaware Court of Chancery and purported class action lawsuits filed in the Supreme Court of the State of New York County of New York and the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York, in each case, brought on behalf of stockholders of Fox other than News Corporation challenging the exchange offer.

News Corporation also announced on March 3, 2005, that it has extended the exchange offer, previously scheduled to expire at midnight on March 4, 2005, until midnight, New York City time, on March 18, 2005.

A copy of the press release announcing the exchange ratio increase is attached hereto as exhibit 99.1.
