Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

As previously reported, on October 14, 2011, GeoMet, Inc. (the Company) entered into definitive purchase agreements to purchase certain coalbed methane assets, a license to use Z-Pinnate drilling technology and certain natural gas hedge contracts. The transaction closed on November 18, 2011. The adjusted purchase price at closing was approximately $79 million. No preferential purchase rights were exercised in connection with the transaction.

The Company financed this acquisition through its revolving credit facility which was amended and restated and became effective upon the closing of the above-referenced definitive purchase agreements. Principle amendments included: (i) the notional amount of the credit agreement was increased from $180 million to $250 million, and the borrowing base was increased from $90 million to $180 million, (ii) the bank group, with Bank of America as Administrative Agent, BNP Paribas as Syndication Agent, and US Bank and Bank of Scotland as Co-Documentation Agents, was increased from five to six banks, (iii) the new credit facility has a four-year maturity, (iv) the interest rate margins were reduced by one-half of 1%, (v) the debt to EBITDA financial covenant was set at 4.25 to 1.0 through 2012 and thereafter reduced to 4.0 to 1.0, and (vi) the restriction upon the ability of the Company to pay cash dividends on its preferred stock was modified to allow the Company to pay a minimum of $2 million in cash dividends annually.

The foregoing descriptions are summaries of the material terms of the coalbed methane assets purchase agreement, the natural gas hedge contracts purchase agreement, and the amended and restated revolving credit facility. They do not purport to be complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the coalbed methane assets purchase agreement, natural gas hedge contracts purchase agreement, and the amended and restated revolving credit facility, copies of which are attached to this Form 8-K as Exhibits 10.1, 10.2 and 10.3, respectively.
