The ExOne Company (the Company) has been delayed in filing its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2015. In January 2015, the Company implemented the first phase of its new Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software system in ExOne GmbH, its largest operating subsidiary. The ERP system is intended to improve the Company's financial reporting disclosure controls. However, unforeseen difficulties with respect to the implementation have resulted in inefficiencies and delays in accounting for the results of the first quarter. Accordingly, the necessary work could not be completed without unreasonable effort and expense in sufficient time to permit filing of the Form 10-Q on the required due date of May 11, 2015. The Company is working to finalize its results and currently expects to file its Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2015 in early June 2015.

If answer is no, identify report(s). Yes  No

- (3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof? Yes  No

On May 11, 2015, the Company issued a press release announcing that it will delay filing its Form 10-Q due to the difficulties described above and filed a Current Report on Form 8-K with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. The amounts in our consolidated financial statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014 remain as filed.

Due to the difficulties described above, the Company is not able to definitively quantify the changes in its results of operations for the period ended March 31, 2015 compared to the period ended March 31, 2014 until the Company's accounting for the first quarter of 2015 has been completed. The Company, however, is reconfirming its guidance for the 2015 fiscal year that it previously announced on March 16, 2015, as further discussed in the Company's May 11, 2015 press release.
