Purchase Agreement

On March 9, 2016, Nasdaq, Inc. (Nasdaq) entered into a Stock Purchase Agreement (the Purchase Agreement) with Deutsche Boerse AG (DB) and Eurex Frankfurt AG (Eurex and together with DB, Sellers). The Purchase Agreement provides that, at the closing, Nasdaq will purchase 100% of the equity interests in U.S. Exchange Holdings, Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, ISE), which is the indirect owner of three electronic options exchanges: International Securities Exchange, ISE Gemini and ISE Mercury, for $1.1 billion in cash (the Transaction).

The closing of the Transaction is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions set forth in the Purchase Agreement, including the expiration or termination of the waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended, and approval by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission of the applications under Rule 19b-4 under the U.S. Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, for the Transaction. The Transaction is currently expected to close in the second half of 2016, subject to the closing conditions noted above.

The Purchase Agreement contains customary representations, warranties and covenants relating to the operation of ISE s business between signing and closing and provides for indemnification of and by the parties.

The foregoing description of the Purchase Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such document, a copy of which is filed with this Current Report on Form 8-K as Exhibit 2.1. The Purchase Agreement has been included to provide investors with information regarding its terms. It is not intended to provide any other factual information about Nasdaq. The representations, warranties and covenants contained in the Purchase Agreement were made only for purposes of the Purchase Agreement as of the specific dates therein, were solely for the benefit of the parties to the Purchase Agreement, may be subject to limitations agreed upon by the contracting parties, including being qualified by confidential disclosures made for the purposes of allocating contractual risk between the parties to the Purchase Agreement instead of establishing these matters as facts, and may be subject to standards of materiality applicable to the contracting parties that differ from those applicable to investors. Investors are not third-party beneficiaries under the Purchase Agreement and should not rely on the representations, warranties and covenants or any descriptions thereof as characterizations of the actual state of facts or condition of the parties thereto or any of their respective subsidiaries or affiliates. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of representations and warranties may change after the date of the Purchase Agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in Nasdaq s public disclosures.
