SUMMARY

This summary highlights selected information about us and the offering. This summary is not complete and does not contain all of the information that may be important to you. You should read carefully this entire prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus, including the Risk Factors section, and the other documents that we refer to and incorporate by reference herein for a more complete understanding of us and the offering. In particular, we incorporate by reference important business and financial information into this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus.

Our Business

We are the largest stand-alone pharmacy benefit management (PBM) company in the United States, offering a full range of services to our clients, which include managed care organizations, health insurers, third-party administrators, employers, union-sponsored benefit plans, workers compensation plans, government health programs, providers, clinics, hospitals and others. We put medicine within reach of patients while helping health benefit providers improve access and affordability to prescription drugs. We improve patient outcomes and help control the cost of the drug benefit by:

providing products and solutions that focus on improving patient outcomes and assist in controlling costs;

evaluating drugs for efficacy, value and price to assist clients in selecting a cost-effective formulary; offering cost-effective home delivery pharmacy and specialty services that result in cost savings for plan sponsors and better care for members;

leveraging purchasing volume to deliver discounts to health benefit providers; and promoting the use of generics and lower-cost brands.

We work with clients, manufacturers, pharmacists and physicians to improve members health outcomes and satisfaction, increase efficiency in drug distribution and manage costs in the pharmacy benefit. We believe our clients can achieve the best financial and health outcomes when they use our comprehensive set of solutions to manage drug spend. For example, our management toward greater use of generic drugs and lower-cost brand drugs has resulted in significant reductions in spending for commercially insured consumers and their employers.

We have two business segments based on products and services offered: PBM and Other Business Operations.

Our revenues are generated primarily from the delivery of prescription drugs through our contracted network of retail pharmacies, our home delivery pharmacies and our specialty pharmacies. Revenues from the delivery of prescription drugs to our members represented 98.3%, 98.1%, 98.0%, 98.4% and 98.8% in the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015 and the years ended December 31, 2015, 2014 and 2013, respectively. Revenues from services, such as the fees associated with the administration of retail pharmacy networks contracted by certain clients, medication counseling services and certain specialty distribution services, accounted for the remainder of our revenues.

Prescription drugs are dispensed to members of the health plans we serve primarily through networks of retail pharmacies under non-exclusive contracts with us and through home delivery fulfillment pharmacies, specialty drug pharmacies and fertility pharmacies we operate. More than 70,000 retail pharmacies, which represent over 97% of all United States retail pharmacies, participated in one or more of our networks as of March 31, 2016. The top ten retail pharmacy chains in the United States represent approximately 63% of the total number of stores in our largest network.

- (1) Includes retail pharmacy co-payments of $2,541.0 and $2,634.3 for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively, and $9,170.0, $10,272.7 and $12,620.3 for the years ended December 31, 2015, 2014 and 2013, respectively.
- (2) Primarily consists of the results of operations from the discontinued operations of our acute infusion therapies line of business, various portions of our United BioSource (UBC) line of business and our European operations. Our acute infusion therapies line of business was classified as a discontinued operation in 2013. Portions of UBC and our European operations were classified as discontinued operations in 2012.
- (3) Includes an adjustment to certain network claims to reflect an approximate 30-day equivalent fill and reflects home delivery claims multiplied by three, as home delivery claims typically cover a time period three times longer than network claims.
- (4) EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts is earnings before income taxes, depreciation and amortization and other expense. EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts is presented because it is a widely accepted indicator of a company's ability to service indebtedness and is frequently used to evaluate a company's performance. EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts, however, should not be considered as an alternative to net income, as a measure of operating performance, as an alternative to cash flow, as a measure of liquidity or as a substitute for any other measure computed in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. In addition, our definition and calculation of EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts may not be comparable to that used by other companies.
- (5) Represents EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts for all other periods.

- (6) EBITDA / Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts and EBITDA / Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts per adjusted claim are supplemental measurements used by analysts and investors to help evaluate overall operating performance. We have calculated Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts excluding transaction and integration costs recorded each year and a legal settlement, as these charges are not considered an indicator of ongoing company performance. EBITDA / Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts per adjusted claim is calculated by dividing EBITDA / Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts, as applicable, by the adjusted claim volume for the period. This measure is used as an indicator of EBITDA / Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts, as applicable, performance on a per-unit basis. EBITDA / Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts, as applicable, and, as a result, EBITDA / Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts, as applicable, per adjusted claim, are each affected by the changes in claims volume between retail and home delivery and the relative representation of brand name, generic and specialty pharmacy drugs, as well as the level of efficiency in the business.
- (7) Represents EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts per adjusted claim for the three months ended March 31, 2016 and Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts per adjusted claim for all other periods.
- (8) For purposes of calculating the ratio of earnings to fixed charges, earnings represent income from continuing operations before income taxes, adjusted to include distributed equity income from joint venture, plus fixed charges less income attributable to non-controlling interest. Fixed charges include interest expense and our estimate of the interest component of rental expense, which is estimated to be one third of rental expense.
- (9) Balances as of March 31, 2016 and December 31, 2015 reflect the prospective change to the balance sheet presentation of deferred taxes in conjunction with the adoption of ASU 2015-17. Under this guidance, all deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as long-term.

Provided below is a reconciliation of net income attributable to Express Scripts to each of EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts and Adjusted EBITDA from continuing operations attributable to Express Scripts as we believe it is the most directly comparable measure calculated under GAAP.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the notes involves certain risks. Before making an investment decision, you should carefully read and consider the risk factors described below as well as the matters discussed under Risk Factors in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015 and the other information included or incorporated by reference in this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus, as the same may be updated from time to time by our future filings with the SEC under the Exchange Act. Our business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially adversely affected by any of these risks. You may lose all or part of your investment. In addition, please read Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements in this prospectus supplement where we describe additional uncertainties associated with our business and the forward-looking statements included or incorporated by reference in this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus. Please note that additional risks not presently known to us or that we currently deem immaterial may also impair our business and operations.

Risks Related to the Offering

Higher levels of indebtedness and increased debt service obligations will effectively reduce the amount of funds available for other business purposes and may adversely affect us.

We have a significant amount of indebtedness. As of March 31, 2016, after giving pro forma effect to the offering and the anticipated use of proceeds therefrom, we would have had approximately $16,749.8 million of indebtedness outstanding. We intend to use a portion of the net proceeds from the offering to repay approximately $1,500 million principal amount of the 2017 Term Loan, to fund the purchase price and accrued and unpaid interest for the Tender Notes validly tendered and accepted for payment in the Tender Offers, and to fund the redemption price and accrued and unpaid interest for any of the Any and All Tender Notes that remain outstanding after the completion or termination of the Any and All Tender Offer. We intend to use the remaining proceeds for general corporate purposes, which may include the repayment of our other indebtedness, working capital and repurchases of our common stock. Accordingly, it is likely that most of the proceeds from the offering will not be used to make any investments that could potentially increase our earnings or enhance our ability to service our increased levels of indebtedness.

The offering is not conditioned on the tender of the Tender Notes in the Tender Offers or any redemption of the Any and All Tender Notes, and we cannot assure you that any holders of the Tender Notes will tender their Tender Notes in the Tender Offers or that we will redeem any remaining Any and All Tender Notes on the terms described in this prospectus supplement or at all.

We may also incur additional long-term debt and working capital lines of credit to meet future financing needs, subject to certain restrictions under our indebtedness, including the notes, our existing revolving facility, our existing term facility and our existing senior notes, which would increase our total debt.

Interest costs related to the notes will be substantial and our increased level of indebtedness could reduce funds available for acquisitions, capital expenditures or other business purposes, impact our ratings, restrict our financial and operating flexibility or create competitive disadvantages compared to other companies with lower debt levels.

Our ability to make payments of principal and interest on our indebtedness, including the notes, depends upon our future performance, which will be subject to general economic conditions and financial, business and other factors affecting our consolidated operations, many of which are beyond our control. If we are unable to generate sufficient cash flow from operations in the future to service our debt and meet our other cash requirements, we may be required, among other things:

to seek additional financing in the debt or equity markets;

to refinance or restructure all or a portion of our indebtedness, including the notes;

S-11

Table of Contents

to sell selected assets or businesses; or to reduce or delay planned capital or operating expenditures.

Such measures might not be sufficient to enable us to service our debt, including the notes, and meet our other cash requirements. In addition, any such financing, refinancing or sale of assets might not be available at all or on economically favorable terms.

As a holding company, we require cash from our subsidiaries to make payments on the notes.

The issuer of the notes is a holding company. As a holding company, our cash flow and ability to service our indebtedness, including the notes, is dependent upon the earnings of our subsidiaries and the distribution of those earnings to us or upon the payment of funds to us by those subsidiaries. Our subsidiaries are separate and distinct legal entities that have no obligation, contingent or otherwise, to pay any amounts due pursuant to the notes (other than in respect of the guarantees of the notes by the guarantors) or to make funds available to us. The payment of dividends and the making of loans and advances to us by our subsidiaries may be subject to contractual or statutory restrictions, is contingent upon the earnings of those subsidiaries and is subject to various business considerations. As a holding company, if we are unable to obtain cash from our subsidiaries, we may be unable to fund required payments in respect of the notes.

Upon a change of control triggering event with respect to a particular series of notes, we may not be able to repurchase all of such notes, which would result in a default under the indenture in respect of such notes.

Upon the occurrence of a change of control triggering event in respect of a particular series of notes, we will be required to offer to repurchase the notes of such series at a price of 101% of the aggregate principal amount of the notes repurchased plus accrued and unpaid interest. For more information, see Description of Debt Securities Purchase of Debt Securities Upon a Change of Control Triggering Event in the accompanying prospectus. However, we may not have sufficient funds to repurchase such notes. In addition, our ability to repurchase notes may be limited by law or the terms of other agreements relating to our indebtedness. The failure to make such repurchase would result in a default under the notes. A change of control may also require us to make an offer to repurchase certain of our other indebtedness and may give rise to a default under our credit facilities. We may not have sufficient funds to repurchase all of the affected indebtedness and repay the amounts owing under our credit facilities.

The limited covenants in the indenture governing the notes and the terms of the notes will not provide protection against significant events that could adversely impact your investment in the notes.

The indenture governing the notes does not:

restrict our ability to issue additional unsecured debt;

require us to maintain any financial ratios or specific levels of net worth, revenues, income, cash flow or liquidity and, accordingly, does not protect holders of the notes in the event that we experience significant adverse changes in our financial condition or results of

restrict our subsidiaries' ability to issue securities or otherwise incur indebtedness that would be senior to our equity interests in our subsidiaries;

restrict our ability to repurchase or prepay our securities; restrict our or our subsidiaries' ability to make investments or to repurchase or pay dividends or make other payments in respect of our common stock or other securities ranking junior to the notes; or restrict our or our subsidiaries' ability to incur additional indebtedness, including secured indebtedness, that could effectively rank senior to the notes and to engage in sale-leaseback arrangements, subject to certain limits.

Furthermore, the definition of Change of Control Triggering Event in the indenture governing the notes contains only limited protections. We and our subsidiaries could engage in many types of transactions, such as certain acquisitions, refinancings or recapitalizations, that could substantially affect our capital structure and the value of the notes.

As a result of the foregoing, when evaluating the terms of the notes, you should be aware that the terms of the indenture and the notes will not restrict our ability to engage in, or otherwise be a party to, a variety of corporate transactions, circumstances and events that could have an adverse impact on your investment in the notes.

The notes are unsecured.

The notes are unsecured. While the indenture governing the notes does contain some restrictions on our ability to incur secured indebtedness, the amount of secured indebtedness that we can incur could be substantial. Holders of any secured indebtedness will have claims that are prior to your claims as holders of the notes, to the extent of the value of the assets securing such indebtedness, in the event of any bankruptcy, liquidation or similar proceeding involving us.

The notes are structurally subordinated to all liabilities of our subsidiaries that do not guarantee the notes.

The notes will not be guaranteed by certain of our current and future subsidiaries, and under certain circumstances subsidiaries guaranteeing the notes may be released from their guarantees. See Description of the Notes Guarantees. Accordingly, claims of holders of the notes will be structurally subordinated to the claims of creditors of such non-guarantor subsidiaries, including trade creditors. All obligations of such non-guarantor subsidiaries will have to be satisfied before any of the assets of such subsidiaries would be available for distribution, upon a liquidation or otherwise, to us or a guarantor of the notes. As of March 31, 2016, our non-guarantor subsidiaries had an aggregate of approximately $523.8 million of total liabilities outstanding.

Federal and state fraudulent transfer laws may permit a court to void the guarantees, and, if that occurs, you may not receive any payments on the notes or in respect of such guarantees.

Federal and state fraudulent transfer and conveyance statutes may apply to the issuance of the notes and the incurrence of the guarantees. Under federal bankruptcy law and comparable provisions of state fraudulent transfer or conveyance laws, which may vary from state to state, the notes or guarantees could be voided as a fraudulent transfer or conveyance if (1) we or any of the guarantors, as applicable, issued the notes or incurred the guarantees with the intent of hindering, delaying or defrauding creditors or (2) we or any of the guarantors, as applicable, received less than reasonably equivalent value or fair consideration in return for either issuing the notes or incurring the guarantees and, in the case of (2) only, one of the following is also true at the time thereof:

we or any of the guarantors, as applicable, were insolvent or rendered insolvent by reason of the issuance of the notes or the incurrence of the guarantees;

the issuance of the notes or the incurrence of the guarantees left us or any of the guarantors, as applicable, with an unreasonably small amount of capital to carry on the business;

we or any of the guarantors intended to, or believed that we or such guarantor would, incur debts beyond our or such guarantor's ability to pay as they mature; or we or any of the guarantors was a defendant in an action for money damages, or had a judgment for money damages docketed against us or such guarantor if, in either case, after final judgment, the judgment is unsatisfied.

If a court were to find that the issuance of the notes or the incurrence of a guarantee was a fraudulent transfer or conveyance, the court could void the payment obligations under the notes or such guarantee or subordinate the notes or such guarantee to our or the applicable guarantors' presently existing and future indebtedness, or require the holders of the notes to repay any amounts received with respect to the notes or any such guarantee. If it is found that a fraudulent transfer or conveyance has occurred, you may not receive any repayment on the notes or in respect of the applicable guarantee. Further, if the notes or guarantees are voided, it could result in an event of default with respect to our and our subsidiaries' other debt and that could result in acceleration of such debt.

We cannot be certain of the standards that a court would use to determine whether or not we or the guarantors were solvent at the relevant time or, regardless of the standard that a court uses, that the issuance of the notes and the guarantees would not be further subordinated to our or any of our guarantors' other debt. Generally, however, an entity would be considered insolvent if, at the time it incurred indebtedness:

the sum of its debts, including contingent liabilities, was greater than the fair saleable value of all its assets;

the present fair saleable value of its assets was less than the amount that would be required to pay its probable liability on its existing debts, including contingent liabilities, as they become absolute and mature; or it could not pay its debts as they become due.

Although each guarantee will contain a provision that the obligations of the applicable guarantor under its note guarantee will be limited so as not to constitute a fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer under applicable law, this provision may not be effective to protect such guarantee from being voided under fraudulent transfer law.

There is currently no established trading market for the notes. We cannot assure you that an active trading market for the notes will develop.

Each series of notes is a new issue of securities with no established trading market. We currently do not intend to apply to li
