PART I

Item 1. Business

We were incorporated as Sierra Concepts, Inc. on September 16, 2008 in the State of Nevada for the purpose of developing a web-based service for consumers designed to assist them with proper household budgeting, setting financial priorities, and dealing effectively with debt. Our service, which we plan to offer through the website www.24yearfitness.com, is currently under development.

Our planned service will feature a series of exercises and tools which members can access through the website in order to address different areas of personal financial health and different issues which commonly affect the typical consumer. In exchange for a reasonable monthly fee, our members will be able to access our various personal planning and decision making tools any time they wish. Through use of our service over time, members will have the ability to gradually improve the long term health and soundness of their personal finances. The name of our service and website – “24 Year Fitness” – reflects our philosophy that one must put forth continual effort year after year in order to maintain a fit and healthy financial life. Our founder and executive officer, David Davis, is the inventor of the “24 Year Fitness” concept and is the primary developer of our web-based service.

The “24 Year Fitness” Service

Our planned “24 Year Fitness” service will be centered on the customer’s use of a group of ongoing exercises designed to assist the user to gain positive control over both their short term and long term personal financial life. Although we anticipate that we will develop and improve our service and add to its component exercises on a continual basis, we anticipate that the initial website will be built around three basic financial tools for consumers: (1) the “Sisyphus” system; (2) the “Decider” tool; and (3) a utility known as the “List.”

(1) The Sisyphus System

Named for the mythological Greek king Sisyphus, who was compelled by the gods to roll a huge rock up a steep hill over and again for eternity, this financial tool is built around the idea that continual effort is required in order put one’s personal finances in order and to keep them there. Sisyphus begins with an interview of the customers about their financial situation. During the interview, the user will input the sum total of their monthly bills and other expenses, the sum total of their savings and other liquid assets, and the total of their monthly or other periodic income. Based on this and similar information, Sisyphus will use proprietary algorithms and other coding to design a group of concrete goals for each individual user. Each user’s group of concrete goals will be his financial workout 'set' and will feature MIN, MID, and IDEAL levels for each area.

Table of Contents

As an example, Sisyphus might determine the following types of goals for a particular user based on the information given during the interview stage:

Exercise 1 – maintain appropriate checking account balance

MIN: $200

MID: $1,500

IDEAL: 1 month's income

Exercise 2 – maintain appropriate savings account balance

MIN: $500

MID: $1,500

IDEAL: 6 month's income

Exercise 3 – make scheduled monthly payments for utilities and secured debts

MIN: make minimum mortgage payment due; pay minimum car payment due plus 1% of outstanding balance; pay utilities payment due

MID: all MIN requirements, except pay minimum car payment due plus 3% of the outstanding balance

IDEAL: car is paid off, no mortgage payments projected after age 50

Exercise 4 – make scheduled monthly payments for unsecured debts (credit cards)

MIN: minimum payment, plus second monthly payment = 10% of total balance

MID: minimum payment, plus second monthly payment = 30% of total balance

IDEAL: pay balances in full monthly

Exercise 5 – eliminate unnecessary expenses

MIN: eliminate cable TV bill (may reinstate after MID level achieved)

Exercise 6 – limit consumption expenses

MIN: limit gas and restaurant food to $120 per week (may revise slightly after MID level achieved)

The user's personal financial fitness zone will be determined by his ability to complete all of the assigned these types of assigned financial exercise 'sets' over time. The program will feature a levels system based upon three color-coded "zones" of personal financial fitness. The three zones are described as follows:

Red Zone – Users in the Red Zone are unable to meet their minimum basic requirements for personal financial responsibility. One or more of the MIN level goals established by Sisyphus is not being met by the user. These users are advised to cease spending except for their most basic needs. Depending on the situation, the user may be advised to consult a financial professional.

Yellow Zone – Users in the Yellow Zone are meeting all of their MIN level goals and their personal financial situation is stable or improving. Users in this zone are actively working toward achieving their MID level goals. Generally, Yellow Zone users will be advised to improve on their rate of savings and to be prudently cautious with their spending habits.

Green Zone – Users in the Green Zone are meeting all of their MID level goals and are working toward achieving their IDEAL goals. These users will have established consistent and disciplined personal spending habits. Users in this zone will typically have established a strong habit of personal savings. Depending on the circumstances, these users may be referred to a licensed investment advisor to explore wealth-building strategies beyond the simple personal savings account.<sup>1</sup>

Over time, the system will also become progressive in the MIN requirements it sets for the user until the IDEAL level for each set is reached. Once a MIN level is reached, the criteria stay at that level indefinitely. The idea is to allow a user who is not in good financial position to hit some goals without feeling completely overwhelmed. As steady progress is made, the goal criteria are raised until the MIN criteria are at certain standard levels.

We believe the Sisyphus system will give our users a unique ability to set personalized financial goals, to progress systematically toward their goals, and to maintain personal financial fitness once it has been achieved.

(2) The Decider Tool

A common financial problem for consumers is the overwhelming number of choices they face in the marketplace for most types of major purchases. Consumers often have difficult choices to make with options to choose from and many factors to consider. Because major consumer choices can cause a lot of stress, "The Decider" will help the users make the best individual decisions for them.

If the user is choosing from some well-known product decisions, much of the basic information will already be entered for them in a proprietary database. For example, if the user is trying to choose the right vehicle for them, "The Decider" will already know about most of the product details for the vehicles they are considering. For less common product decisions, the user will need assist the system by typing in the key attributes of each product.

In addition to the basic product information, users will be able to prioritize which aspects are more important to them than others. When choosing vehicles, for example, the user will be able to say that 'color' is more important than 'mileage' which is more important than 'number of seats' and the tool will help them find the right vehicle automatically.

The user can search for 2 or more choices to compare. (For example, Ford vs. Chevy).

All choices must share a common 'category' to be comparable.

1 Sierra Concepts, Inc. will not provide any services as an investment advisor within the definition of the Investment Advisors Act of 1940. We will not provide our customers any advice as to value of any securities or as to the advisability of investing in, purchasing, or selling any securities.

Table of Contents

Sample screen:

Choice -->	Ford	Chevy
(Parameter)
Color	Black	Red
Mileage	12 mpg	20 mpg
Seats	4	2

The user will be able to drag the order of parameters to sort which ones are more important. In this example, the user can specify that Color is more important to them than Mileage, which is more important than Number of Seats. The Decider will allow the user to click on the choice they prefer for each parameter (i.e.: "Black" vs. "Red"), and will then weight their parameter choices with the order of the choices and output a "which is better?" decision that is customized to the user's personal preferences.

(3) The List

Consumers are often in the habit of buying things based on impulse and many of them may find it difficult to prioritize and/or to limit compulsive spending.

"The List" is a utility designed to help consumers take control of their spending habits by deferring and prioritizing purchases. The basic concept behind the List is that users will, whenever they feel the urge to purchase something, add it to a running list which tracks their interest in purchasing particular items. The List is a simple management program that allows its data to be easily be imported, sorted, and exported.

Users will be assigned an email address such as joe_plumber@list.24yearfitness.com. Security measures will help pair incoming addresses to this account. When a compulsory urge hits while the user is in a store or elsewhere, the user can text message (SMS) a description of the item desired to the assigned email address. Users will also have the option of assigning an initial priority or "want level" to each item. Email can also be sent from a regular account.

Full-text searching will help the user determine which items are similar and combine them on 'the list'. When items are combined, their explicit prioritization will be increased. Priority levels will be integer: -2, -1, 0, +1, +2, etc. Anytime a duplicate request is made, the priority will be increased by +1.

For example, if the same 'special Barbie' is requested every time, the 'list' will help it 'bubble up' by determining that it is a consistent request, grouping similar items together, either automatically or by suggestion with manual intervention.

Items will be manually taken off the list. They can also be taken off by sending an email such as "remove ___".

The core of the List is a proprietary system which:

- tracks when an item is added -- the older an item is, when it remains on the list, the more 'valid' the item is
  - track the 'want' level explicitly entered by the user
    - automatically sort the list
  - allow easy import and export of data

Table of Contents

The idea is to create an easy outlet for either an entire family, or an individual, whenever an 'I want' situation arises. Lists can be coordinated and viewed by family members, especially useful on special occasions (i.e.: birthdays).

A scheduled (daily, weekly, monthly) report of the list can be sent out to users. The list will show the top 3 items at any time. Longer reports may be generated at 'special' times of the year (Christmas, Birthday, etc.).

Pricing and Revenue Model

The base of our intended pricing structure will be monthly subscription dues paid to access the Sisyphus system, which we believe will be core feature of our service. The Decider and the List will be included with a Sisyphus subscription, but may also be available separately. After the initial sign-up, monthly fees will be charged automatically to the user's credit or debit card. An initial minimum subscription of six months will be required for Sisyphus, with subscription renewing monthly thereafter until cancelled. We anticipate that our initial fee structure will be as follows:

Subscription to Sisyphus: $40 sign-up fee, plus $20 per month
Six month minimum original contract, with automatic renewal thereafter until cancelled. The List and the Decider are also included.

Subscription to the List only: $5 per month, with automatic renewal thereafter until cancelled.

The Decider only: $5 for one-time use, or unlimited use for $10 per month

We believe this pricing model offers an affordable point of entry for the types of consumers who will be most attracted to our "24 Year Fitness" service. At the same time, however, we believe that it will position us to begin earning residual revenues without significant addition costs beyond the development and launching of our website.

Competition

We believe that our planned service will be relatively unique once it is fully developed and offered to the public. Currently, there are numerous non-profit websites and related organizations dedicated to providing general financial advice and counseling, but these all lack the type of customization, personal tailoring, and ongoing interaction and guidance that we believe our planned service can provide.

Packaged financial management software (like "Quickbooks") is, of course, widely available, but these systems typically require micro-management of finances. Detailed line item dual-entry accounting transactions must be accurately maintained for these types of programs to create great value for the customer. Our planned service will work at a manageable and practical macro-level, with the minimum resolution being a monthly view of the consumer's finances.

If we are successful in generating traffic to our website and in providing a quality experience to our first users, we believe that the customization and ease of use over time featured by our system will provide a significant competitive advantage.

Table of Contents

Intellectual Property

Some aspects of our planned system will depend on proprietary algorithms, coding, and systems design. Although no copyrights have yet been filed on these materials, we plan to protect our rights in these materials when our website “goes live” under trade secret, unfair competition, and copyright laws.

While there can be no assurance that registered copyrights will protect our proprietary information, we intend to assert our intellectual property rights against any infringer. Although any assertion of our rights can result in a substantial cost to, and diversion of effort by, our company, management believes that the protection of our intellectual property rights is a key component of our operating strategy.

Regulatory Matters

We are unaware of and do not anticipate having to expend significant resources to comply with any governmental regulations applicable to our planned operations. We are subject to the laws and regulations which are generally applicable to business operations, such as business licensing requirements, income taxes and payroll taxes.

Employees

We have no other employees other than our sole officer and director, David Davis. Mr. Davis is our President, CEO, CFO, and sole member of the Board of Directors. Mr. Davis oversees all responsibilities in the areas of corporate administration, product development, and marketing. As our planned operations commence and as we begin to generate revenues, we may expand our current management in the future to retain skilled directors, officers, and employees with experience relevant to our business focus.

Environmental Laws

We have not incurred and do not anticipate incurring any expenses associated with environmental laws.

Market Information

Our common stock is currently quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board ("OTCBB"), which is sponsored by FINRA. The OTCBB is a network of security dealers who buy and sell stock. The dealers are connected by a computer network that provides information on current "bids" and "asks", as well as volume information. Our shares are quoted on the OTCBB under the symbol "SRRC."

The following table sets forth the range of high and low bid quotations for our common stock for each of the periods indicated as reported by the OTCBB. These quotations reflect inter-dealer prices, without retail mark-up, mark-down or commission and may not necessarily represent actual transactions.

Penny Stock

The SEC has adopted rules that regulate broker-dealer practices in connection with transactions in penny stocks. Penny stocks are generally equity securities with a market price of less than $5.00, other than securities registered on certain national securities exchanges or quoted on the NASDAQ system, provided that current price and volume information with respect to transactions in such securities is provided by the exchange or system. The penny stock rules require a broker-dealer, prior to a transaction in a penny stock, to deliver a standardized risk disclosure document prepared by the SEC, that: (a) contains a description of the nature and level of risk in the market for penny stocks in both public offerings and secondary trading; (b) contains a description of the broker's or dealer's duties to the customer and of the rights and remedies available to the customer with respect to a violation of such duties or other requirements of the securities laws; (c) contains a brief, clear, narrative description of a dealer market, including bid and ask prices for penny stocks and the significance of the spread between the bid and ask price; (d) contains a toll-free telephone number for inquiries on disciplinary actions; (e) defines significant terms in the disclosure document or in the conduct of trading in penny stocks; and (f) contains such other information and is in such form, including language, type size and format, as the SEC shall require by rule or regulation.

The broker-dealer also must provide, prior to effecting any transaction in a penny stock, the customer with (a) bid and offer quotations for the penny stock; (b) the compensation of the broker-dealer and its salesperson in the transaction; (c) the number of shares to which such bid and ask prices apply, or other comparable information relating to the depth and liquidity of the market for such stock; and (d) a monthly account statement showing the market value of each penny stock held in the customer's account.

In addition, the penny stock rules require that prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from those rules, the broker-dealer must make a special written determination that the penny stock is a suitable investment for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written acknowledgment of the receipt of a risk disclosure statement, a written agreement as to transactions involving penny stocks, and a signed and dated copy of a written suitability statement.

These disclosure requirements may have the effect of reducing the trading activity for our common stock. Therefore, stockholders may have difficulty selling our securities.

Holdings of Our Common Stock

As of November 17, 2009, we had 8,400,000 shares of our common stock issued and outstanding, held by 32 shareholders of record.

Dividends

There are no restrictions in our articles of incorporation or bylaws that prevent us from declaring dividends. The Nevada Revised Statutes, however, do prohibit us from declaring dividends where after giving effect to the distribution of the dividend:

1. we would not be able to pay our debts as they become due in the usual course of business, or;
2. our total assets would be less than the sum of our total liabilities plus the amount that would be needed to satisfy the rights of shareholders who have preferential rights superior to those receiving the distribution.

We have not declared any dividends and we do not plan to declare any dividends in the foreseeable future.

Securities Authorized for Issuance under Equity Compensation Plans

We do not have any equity compensation or incentive plans.

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements, other than purely historical information, including estimates, projections, statements relating to our business plans, objectives, and expected operating results, and the assumptions upon which those statements are based, are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These forward-looking statements generally are identified by the words "believes," "project," "expects," "anticipates," "estimates," "intends," "strategy," "plan," "may," "will," "would," "will be," "will continue," "will likely result," and similar expressions. V such forward-looking statements to be covered by the safe-harbor provisions for forward-looking statements contained in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, and are including this statement for purposes of complying with those safe-harbor provisions. Forward-looking statements are based on current expectations and assumptions that are subject to risks and uncertainties which may cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements. Our ability to predict results or the actual effect of future plans or strategies is inherently uncertain. Factors which could have a material adverse affect on our operations and future prospects on a consolidated basis include, but are not limited to: changes in economic conditions, legislative/regulatory changes, availability of capital, interest rates, competition, and generally accepted accounting principles. These risks and uncertainties should also be considered in evaluating forward-looking statements and undue reliance should not be placed on such statements. We undertake no obligation to update or revise publicly any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Further information concerning our business, including additional factors that could materially affect our financial results, is included herein and in our other filings with the SEC.

Website Development

The "24 Year Fitness" service is currently in development. We expect that design and programming activities, directed principally by our President, Mr. Davis, to continue into the first part of our second full fiscal year. We had originally estimated that the "beta" version of our website would be launched sometime during our third quarter. Our president, however, has experienced unusual demands on his time at his outside place of employment. In addition, we have been working on certain adjustments to our algorithms in an attempt to account for certain changes indicated by the continuing severity of the recent financial crisis. These adjusted algorithms are being alpha-tested. In the Spring of 2009, we also launched a single-user proof-concept version of our "List" product www.thesqueakiestwheel.com. Currently, we hope to launch the beta version of our site by the end of the 2009 calendar year.

Once the beta version of our site is launched, it will be tested, modified, and perfected based on the experience and feedback of real-world volunteer users who will be allowed to use the service for free in exchange for sharing their experiences and working with us on the development and improvement of the "24 Year Fitness" service.

If development of our website goes as currently planned, we estimate that the fully-functional service will "go live" at www.24yearfitness.com in the early part of 2010. Inevitably, the experience and feedback of paying customers to site will lead to additional improvements and developments for the "24 Year Fitness" service.

Table of Contents

Initial Marketing Efforts

Our initial efforts to direct traffic to our website will include generating "buzz" among Internet users about our service through postings on online communities such as Yahoo! Groups and other methods of getting Internet users to refer others to our website by e-mail or word of mouth and search engine optimization. Our President, Mr. Davis, will be primarily responsible for these efforts. In addition we may chose to market our website via search engines by purchasing sponsored placement in search results on a limited basis. In addition, we may enter into affiliate marketing relationships with other website providers to increase our access to Internet consumers Until our planned service establishes positive cash flow, however, we expect to rely on viral marketing as the primary source of traffic to our website, with search engine optimization and affiliate marketing as secondary sources.

Personnel

During the next year of operations, our sole officer and director, David Davis, will provide his time to the business at no charge. Mr. Davis will be responsible for all administrative duties as well as overseeing the ongoing development, testing, improvement, and the launch of the "24 Year Fitness" online service.

As we have limited financial resources, Mr. Davis has committed to dedicating approximately 10-15 hours per week in order to attend to needs of the business.

Expected Changes In Number of Employees, Plant, and Equipment

We do not have plans to purchase any physical plant or any significant equipment or to change the number of our employees during the next twelve months.

Results of Operations for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009 and September 30, 2008.

We have not earned any revenues from inception through the fiscal year ending September 30, 2009. During the fiscal year ending September 30, 2009, we focused primarily developing our planned web-based service. We currently do not anticipate earning any revenues until the middle part of calendar year 2010. We are presently in the development stage of our business and we can provide no assurance that we will produce significant revenues from the sale of our services or if revenues are earned, that we will be profitable.

We incurred expenses and net losses in the amount of $50,605 during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009 (our first full fiscal year) and in the amount of $3,500 during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009. We incurred total expenses and net losses in the amount of $54,105 from our inception on September 16, 2008 through the year ending September 30, 2009. Our operating expenses from inception through September 30, 2009 have consisted of professional fees and general and administrative expenses. Our losses are attributable to our operating expenses combined with a lack of revenues during our current stage of development. We anticipate our operating expenses will increase as we continue with our plan of operations.

Table of Contents

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of September 30, 2009, we had total current assets of $14,519, consisting entirely of cash. We had current liabilities of $50,624 as of September 30, 2009. Accordingly, we had a working capital deficit of $36,105 as of September 30, 2009.

Our ability to operate on a sustained basis over the next fiscal year will be contingent upon us obtaining additional financing and/or upon realizing significant revenues from operations. We do not have any formal commitments or arrangements for the sales of stock or the advancement or loan of funds at this time. There can be no assurance that any additional financing will be available to us on acceptable terms, or at all.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

As of September 30, 2009, there were no off balance sheet arrangements.

Going Concern

Our financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis. We have a working capital deficit of $36,105 as of September 30, 2009 and have accumulated deficit of $54,105 since inception. Our ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon our ability to generate profitable operations in the future and/or to obtain the necessary financing to meet our obligations and repay our liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due. The outcome of these matters cannot be predicted with any certainty at this time. These factors raise substantial doubt that we will be able to continue as a going concern. Management plans to continue to provide for our capital needs by the issuance of common stock and related party advances.

Item 9A(T). Controls and Procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures are controls and other procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in company reports filed or submitted under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Exchange Act”) is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission’s rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in company reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to management, including our chief executive officer and treasurer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

As required by Rules 13a-15 and 15d-15 under the Exchange Act, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer carried out an evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2009. Based on his evaluation, he concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective.

Our internal control over financial reporting is a process designed by, or under the supervision of, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer and effected by our board of directors, management and other personnel, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of our financial reporting and the preparation of our financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Internal control over financial reporting includes policies and procedures that pertain to the maintenance of records that in reasonable detail accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of our assets; provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of our financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that our receipts and expenditures are being made only in accordance with the authorization of our board of directors and management; and provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of our assets that could have a material effect on our financial statements.

Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our chief executive officer, we conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting based on the criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (“COSO”). Based on this evaluation under the criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework, our management concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was effective as of September 30, 2009.

This annual report does not include an attestation report of our registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management’s report was not subject to attestation by our registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission that permit us to provide only management’s report in this annual report.

During the most recently completed fiscal quarter, there has been no change in our internal control over financial reporting that has materially affected or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Our sole executive officer holds substantial ownership in the Company and is motivated by a strong entrepreneurial interest in developing our operations and potential revenue base to the best of his ability. As our business and operations expand and mature, we expect to develop a formal system of compensation designed to attract, retain and motivate talented executives.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Directors of
Sierra Concepts, Inc.
Reno, Nevada

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Sierra Concepts, Inc. (the "Company") as of September 30, 2009 and 2008, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficit), and cash flows for the periods then ended and for the period from September 16, 2008 (Date of Inception) through September 30, 2009. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Sierra Concepts, Inc. as of September 30, 2009 and 2008 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the periods then ended and the period from September 16, 2008 (Date of Inception) through September 30, 2009 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company has limited working capital, has not yet received revenue from sales of products or services, and has incurred losses from operations. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans with regard to these matters are described in Note 2. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

SIERRA CONCEPTS, INC.
(A DEVELOPMENT STAGE COMPANY)
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
September 30, 2009

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Business

Sierra Concepts, Inc. (“Sierra” or the “Company”) was incorporated in Nevada on September 16, 2008. Sierra is a development stage company and has not yet realized any revenues from its planned operations. Sierra is currently in the process of developing a web-based service to assist consumers with financial decisions.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the balance sheet. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Basic Loss Per Share

Basic loss per share has been calculated based on the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period.

Comprehensive Income

The Company has which established standards for reporting and display of comprehensive income, its components and accumulated balances. When applicable, the Company would disclose this information on its Statement of Stockholders’ Equity (Deficit). Comprehensive income comprises equity except those resulting from investments by owners and distributions to owners. The Company has not had any significant transactions that are required to be reported in other comprehensive income.

Income Tax

Deferred income taxes reflect the net effect of (a) temporary difference between carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial purposes and the amounts used for income tax reporting purposes, and (b) net operating loss carry-forwards. No net provision for refundable Federal income tax has been made in the accompanying statement of loss because no recoverable taxes were paid previously. Similarly, no deferred tax asset attributable to the net operating loss carry-forward has been recognized, as it is not deemed likely to be realized.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with the original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Sierra does not expect the adoption of recently issued accounting pronouncements to have a significant impact on the Company’s results of operations, financial position or cash flow.

NOTE 2 - GOING CONCERN

Sierra has limited working capital and has a deficit accumulated during the development stage of $54,105 as of September 30, 2009. Sierra's financial statements are prepared using the generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. However, Sierra has no current source of revenue. Without realization of additional capital, it would be unlikely for Sierra to continue as a going concern. Sierra's management plans on raising cash from public or private debt or equity financing, on an as needed basis and in the longer term, revenues from the acquisition, Development and development of mineral interests, if found. Sierra's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on these additional cash financings, and, ultimately, upon achieving profitable operations through the development of mineral interests.

NOTE 3 – INCOME TAXES

The provision for Federal income tax consists of the following:

	September 30, 2009	September 30, 2008
Refundable Federal income tax attributable to:
Current Operations	$ 17,206	$ 1,190
Less: valuation allowance	(17,206)	(1,190 )
Net provision for Federal income taxes	$ -	$ -

The cumulative tax effect at the expected rate of 34% of significant items comprising our net deferred tax amount is as follows:

	September 30, 2009	September 30, 2008
Deferred tax asset attributable to:
Net operating loss carryover	$ 18,396	$ 1,190
Less: valuation allowance	(18,396)	(1,190 )
Net deferred tax asset	$ -	$ -

At September 30, 2009, Sierra had an unused net operating loss carryover approximating $54,105 that is available to offset future taxable income; it expires beginning in 2027.
