GOL Launches New Flights between Southern Brazil and Buenos Aires

São Paulo, September 13, 2005 GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes (Bovespa: GOLL4 e NYSE: GOL), Brazil's low-fare, low-cost airline, will begin operating direct flights from Porto Alegre in the state of Rio Grande do Sul (10.2 million inhabitants) and Florianópolis in the state of Santa Catarina (5.5 million inhabitants) to Buenos Aires, Argentina, on September 16, 2005. The Company decided to offer these new routes in order to meet customer demand in the southern region of Brazil for travel to Buenos Aires.

GOL's flights to Buenos Aires, its first international destination, have been very successful since they began eight months ago, as shown by a recent customer satisfaction study. The survey, which was completed by passengers on flights to and from Buenos Aires between April and July of this year, revealed that 83 percent of the Argentine passengers were very satisfied or satisfied with the airline. The results also showed the public's loyalty to the brand, with more than 92 percent of respondents saying they would fly GOL again and 89 percent of respondents saying they would definitely recommend GOL's services to friends and family.

We believe that there is considerable demand for these flights, particularly given that Santa Catarina and Rio Grande do Sul are Brazilian States with strong economic, cultural and tourism ties to Argentina, said Tarcísio Gargioni, Vice-president of Marketing and Services for GOL. In offering flight options between Santa Catarina and Buenos Aires, we intend to attract Argentine tourists that have a particular interest in the beaches of this region of Brazil. The non-stop flight between Porto Alegre and Buenos Aires during the week will cater to corporate clients who travel between the region and Argentina, he added.
