NOTICE TO THE MARKET

São Paulo, May 17, 2010. On Wednesday May 12, at a meeting with investors in São Paulo, Grupo Pão de Açúcar executives declared that the Company will keep its investment focus on the C income group, consumers who buy a few products for their daily needs and non-food hypermarket products.

The Company plans to open 100 new stores in 2010, comprising four Extra Hiper, four Extra Compacto, ten Extra Supermercado, 60 Extra Fácil, four Pão de Açúcar and 18 Assaí stores. We will be focusing on the atacarejo (wholesale/retail) format (Assaí) and on convenience stores (Extra Fácil), which require low investments and offer healthy returns," declared Enéas Pestana, the Company's CEO.

Annual investments are estimated at R$ 1.6 billion, including the remodeling of existing stores and the acquisition of sites, versus R$ 723 million in 2009. "The Group has never been as competitive as it is now," remarked Abilio Diniz, Chairman of Grupo Pão de Açúcar's Board of Directors. Assaí, the Group's wholesale/retail format, will expand into the Midwest and Northeast of Brazil, which jointly account for 30% of the country's consumption.

Grupo Pão de Açúcar expects 2010 gross sales, including the Ponto Frio chain, of more than R$ 33 billion, 26% up on the R$ 26.2 billion recorded last year. Of this total, R$ 26 billion refers to Grupo Pão de Açúcar itself and the remaining R$ 7 billion to Ponto Frio. Enéas Pestana believes the Group will maintain growth of between 10% and 12% in the food segment and between 17% and 18% in the non-food segment.

Under the same-store-concept (stores operating for at least 12 months), the Company expects real sales growth (excluding inflation) of between 4% and 5% over 2009.

Grupo Pão de Açúcar should close the year with EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization) of more than R$ 1.8 billion. In 2009, cash flow totaled R$ 1.5 billion.
