PROXY STATEMENT

ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

April 13, 2010

Lakeland Financial Corporation, an Indiana corporation, with its principal executive offices located in Warsaw, Indiana, is the holding company for Lake City Bank. We also own all of the common securities of Lakeland Statutory Trust II, a Connecticut business trust created for the issuance of trust preferred securities. Lake City Bank owns all of the common stock of LCB Investments II, Inc. (a subsidiary formed in 2006), formed to manage a portion of the Bank's securities portfolio. LCB Investments II, Inc. owns all of the common stock of LCB Funding, Inc. (a subsidiary formed in 2006), a real estate investment trust.

This proxy statement is being furnished to shareholders in connection with the solicitation by our board of directors of proxies to be used at the annual meeting to be held at Fort Wayne Country Club, located at 5221 Covington Road in Fort Wayne, Indiana on Tuesday, April 13, 2010 at 4:00 p.m., or at any adjournments or postponements of the meeting. Our summary annual report to shareholders, including the consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2009 and a copy of our Form 10-K that we filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, accompanies this proxy statement, which is first being mailed to shareholders on or about March 16, 2010. This proxy statement is also available on the Internet at www.lakecitybank.com.

The following is information regarding the meeting and the voting process, presented in a question and answer format.

Why am I receiving this proxy statement and proxy card?

You are receiving a proxy statement and proxy card from us because on February 24, 2010, the record date for the annual meeting, you owned shares of Lakeland Financial's common stock. This proxy statement describes the matters that will be presented for consideration by the shareholders at the annual meeting. It also gives you information concerning the matters to assist you in making an informed decision.

When you sign the enclosed proxy card or otherwise vote pursuant to the instructions set forth on the proxy card, you appoint the proxy holder as your representative at the meeting. The proxy holder will vote your shares as you have instructed in the proxy card, thereby ensuring that your shares will be voted whether or not you attend the meeting. Even if you plan to attend the meeting, you should instruct the proxies how to vote your shares in advance of the meeting just in case your plans change.

If you have signed and returned the proxy card and an issue comes up for a vote at the meeting that is not identified on the card, the proxy holder will vote your shares, pursuant to your proxy, in accordance with his or her judgment.

What matters will be voted on at the meeting?

You are being asked to vote on the election of three directors of Lakeland Financial for a term expiring in 2013, the ratification of the appointment of Crowe Horwath LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the 2010 fiscal year and on a non-binding, advisory proposal on the compensation of certain executive officers. These matters are more fully described in this proxy statement.

How do I vote?

After reviewing this document, submit your proxy using any of the proxy delivery or voting methods indicated on the proxy card. By submitting your proxy, you authorize the individuals named in it to represent you and vote your shares at the special meeting in accordance with your instructions. Your vote is important. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please submit your proxy promptly in the enclosed envelope or vote telephonically or through the Internet by following the instructions on the proxy card.

If you sign and return your proxy card but do not mark the card to provide voting instructions, the shares represented by your proxy card will be voted "for" all three nominees named in this proxy statement, “for” the ratification of the appointment of our auditors, and “for” the non-binding, advisory proposal on compensation of certain executive officers.

If you are a beneficial owner and a broker or other fiduciary is the record holder (or in what is usually referred to as “street name”), then you received this proxy statement from the record holder. The record holder should have given you instructions for directing how the record holder should vote your shares. It will then be the record holder’s responsibility to vote your shares for you in the manner you direct.

If you want to vote in person, please come to the meeting. We will distribute written ballots to anyone who wants to vote at the meeting. Please note, however, that if your shares are held in the name of a broker or other fiduciary, you will need to arrange to obtain a proxy from the record holder in order to vote in person at the meeting. Even if you plan to attend the annual meeting, you should complete and return your proxy card in advance of the annual meeting in case your plans change.

If I hold shares in the name of a broker, who votes my shares?

Under the rules of various national and regional securities exchanges, brokers and other fiduciaries may generally vote on routine matters, such as the ratification of an independent registered public accounting firm, but cannot vote on non-routine matters, such as an amendment to the certificate of incorporation or the adoption of a equity incentive plan, unless they have received voting instructions from the person for whom they are holding shares. As of January 1, 2010, the election of directors is now considered a non-routine matter. We therefore encourage you to provide directions to your broker as to how you want your shares voted on all matters to be brought before the meeting. You should do this by carefully following the instructions your broker gives you concerning its procedures.

What does it mean if I receive more than one proxy card?

It means that you have multiple holdings reflected in our stock transfer records and/or in accounts with stockbrokers. Please sign and return ALL proxy cards to ensure that all of your shares are voted.

What if I change my mind after I return my proxy card?

If you hold your shares in your own name, you may revoke your proxy and change your vote at any time before the polls close at the meeting. You may do this by:

- signing another proxy card with a later date and returning that proxy card to our transfer agent at:

American Stock Transfer and Trust Company
59 Maiden Lane
New York, New York 10038;

- timely submitting another proxy via the telephone or Internet;
- sending notice to us that you are revoking your proxy; or
- voting in person at the meeting.

If you hold your shares in the name of your broker and desire to revoke your proxy, you will need to contact your broker to revoke your proxy.

How many votes do we need to hold the annual meeting?

A majority of the shares that are outstanding and entitled to vote as of the record date must be present in person or by proxy at the meeting in order to hold the meeting and conduct business.

Shares are counted as present at the meeting if the shareholder either:

- is present and votes in person at the meeting; or
- has properly submitted a signed proxy card or other form of proxy (through the telephone or Internet).

On February 24, 2010, the record date, there were 16,096,861 shares of common stock issued and outstanding. Therefore, at least 8,048,431 shares need to be present at the annual meeting.

What happens if a nominee is unable to stand for re-election?

The board may, by resolution, provide for a lesser number of directors or designate a substitute nominee. In the latter case, shares represented by proxies may be voted for a substitute nominee. Proxies cannot be voted for more than three nominees. We have no reason to believe any nominee will be unable to stand for re-election.

What options do I have in voting on each of the proposals?

You may vote “for” or “withhold authority to vote for” each nominee for director. You may vote “for,”

“against” or “abstain” on the ratification of the appointment of our independent registered public accounting firm, the non-binding, advisory proposal on compensation and on any other proposal that may properly be brought before the meeting.

How many votes may I cast?

Generally, you are entitled to cast one vote for each share of stock you owned on the record date. The proxy card included with this proxy statement indicates the number of shares owned by an account attributable to you.

How many votes are needed for each proposal?

Directors will be elected by a plurality and the three individuals receiving the highest number of votes cast “for” their election will be elected as directors of Lakeland Financial. As referenced above, as of January 1, 2010, director elections are now considered to be non-routine matters. As a result, if your shares are held by a broker or other fiduciary, it cannot vote your shares in the election of our directors unless it has received voting instructions from you.

The ratification of the appointment of our independent registered public accounting firm and all other matters must receive the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares present in person or by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote. Broker non-votes will not be counted as entitled to vote, but will count for purposes of determining whether or not a quorum is present.

Approval of the executive compensation policies and procedures would require that the number of votes cast in favor exceed the number of votes cast against it. Abstentions and broker non-votes will not be counted as votes cast, and therefore will not affect the vote. Because this shareholder vote is advisory, it will not be binding upon the Board of Directors.

Where do I find the voting results of the meeting?

If available, we will announce voting results at the meeting. The voting results will also be disclosed on a Form 8-K that we will file within four business days after the meeting.

Who bears the cost of soliciting proxies?

We will bear the cost of soliciting proxies. In addition to solicitations by mail, officers, directors or employees of Lakeland Financial or its subsidiaries may solicit proxies in person or by telephone. These persons will not receive any special or additional compensation for soliciting proxies. We may reimburse brokerage houses and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses for forwarding proxy and solicitation materials to shareholders.

Important Notice Regarding the Availability of Proxy Materials for the Shareholder Meeting to be Held on April 13, 2010.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

General

The board has adopted guidelines on significant corporate governance matters that, together with our Code of Conduct and other policies, creates our corporate governance standards. You may view the Corporate Governance Guidelines in the Investor Relations section of our website at www.lakecitybank.com.

Generally, the board oversees our business and monitors the performance of our management. In accordance with our corporate governance procedures, the board does not involve itself in the day-to-day operations of Lakeland Financial, which is monitored by our executive officers and management. Our directors fulfill their duties and responsibilities by attending regular meetings of the board, which convene monthly, and through committee membership, which is discussed below. Our directors also discuss business and other matters with Mr. Kubacki, our President and Chief Executive Officer, other key executives and our principal external advisers (legal counsel, auditors and other consultants). All members of our board of directors also serve as members of Lake City Bank's board of directors.

With the exception of Mr. Kubacki, all of our current directors are "independent" as defined by The NASDAQ Global Select Market, or Nasdaq, and we have determined that the independent directors do not have other relationships with us that prevent them from making objective, independent decisions. The board of directors has established an Audit Committee, a Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee and a Compensation Committee, among other committees. The current charters of each of these committees are available on our website. Also posted on the web site is a general description regarding our company and links to our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Our board of directors held 12 meetings during 2009. All of the directors attended at least 75% of the board meetings and meetings of committees of which they were members, except for Mr. Hiatt, who did not attend the only meeting of the Nominating and Governance Committee in 2009. While we do not have a specific policy regarding attendance at the annual shareholder meeting, all directors are encouraged and expected to attend the meeting. All of our directors attended last year's annual meeting.

Audit Committee

In 2009, the Audit Committee was comprised of Charles E. Neimier, Robert E. Bartels, Jr., Emily E. Pichon, Richard L. Pletcher, Terry L. Tucker and M. Scott Welch, each of whom is expected to serve on the committee through 2010. Each of the members is considered "independent" according to the Nasdaq listing requirements and the regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The board of directors has determined that Mr. Niemier qualifies as an "audit committee financial expert" under the regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The board based this decision on Mr. Niemier's education, his professional experience at an audit firm and his experience as former Chief Financial Officer and board member of Biomet, Inc., a company whose common stock was quoted on the Nasdaq until September 25, 2007, when the company was acquired by a private equity consortium and ceased trading as a public company.

The functions performed by the Audit Committee include, among other things, the following:

- overseeing our accounting and financial reporting;

- selecting, appointing and overseeing our independent registered public accounting firm;
- reviewing actions by management on recommendations of the independent registered public accounting firm and internal auditors;
- meeting with management, the internal auditors and the independent registered public accounting firm to review the effectiveness of our system of internal control and internal audit procedures; and
- reviewing reports of bank regulatory agencies and monitoring management's compliance with recommendations contained in those reports.

To promote independence of the audit function, the committee consults separately and jointly with the independent registered public accounting firm, the internal auditors and management. We have adopted a written charter for the committee, which sets forth the committee's duties and responsibilities. Our current charter is available on our website at www.lakecitybank.com. In 2009, the committee met five times.

Compensation Committee

During 2009, the Compensation Committee was comprised of L. Craig Fulmer, Charles E. Niemier, Emily E. Pichon, Richard L. Pletcher and Terry L. Tucker, each of whom is expected to serve on the committee through 2010. Each of the members is considered "independent" according to the Nasdaq listing requirements, an "outside" director pursuant to Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code and a "non-employee" director under Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The purpose of the committee is to determine the salary and bonus to be paid to Mr. Kubacki, our Chief Executive Officer, and to make a recommendation regarding his compensation to the full board for approval. The committee also reviews and recommends to the board for approval the salaries and bonuses for our other executive officers. Further, the committee administers our equity incentive plans, our long term incentive plan and our executive incentive bonus plan. Additionally, because the Company has participated in the Capital Purchase Program, the Compensation Committee is also charged with evaluating the risks associated with all employee compensation plans. We have adopted a written charter for the committee, which sets forth the committee's duties and responsibilities. Our current charter is available on our website at www.lakecitybank.com. In 2009, the committee met three times.

Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee

We also have a Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. In 2009, the members of the committee were Thomas A. Hiatt, Steven D. Ross, Donald B. Steininger and M. Scott Welch. Mr. Hiatt, Mr. Ross and Mr. Welch are expected to serve on the committee through 2010. Due to Mr. Steininger's indication that he does not wish to seek re-election, Robert E. Bartles, Jr. has joined the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. Each of these members is considered "independent" according to the Nasdaq listing requirements. The primary purposes of the committee are to identify and recommend individuals to be presented to our shareholders for election or re-election to the board of directors and to review and monitor our policies, procedures and structure as they relate to corporate governance. We have adopted a written charter for the committee, which sets forth the committee's duties and responsibilities. Our current charter is available on our website at www.lakecitybank.com. The committee met one time in 2009.

Director Nominations and Qualifications

For the 2010 annual meeting, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee nominated for re-election to the board the three incumbent directors, whose terms are set to expire in 2010. This nomination was further approved by the full board. We did not receive any shareholder nominations for director for the 2010 annual meeting.

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee evaluates all potential nominees for election, including incumbent directors, board nominees and shareholder nominees, in the same manner. As described in our Corporate Governance Guidelines, the committee believes that, at a minimum, directors should possess certain qualities, including the highest personal and professional ethics and integrity, a sufficient educational and professional background, demonstrated leadership skills, sound judgment, a strong sense of service to the communities which we serve and an ability to meet the standards and duties set forth in our code of conduct. Additionally, all nominees must be under the age of 70, which is the mandatory retirement age established by the board. While we do not have a separate diversity policy, the committee does consider the diversity of its directors and nominees in terms of knowledge, experience, skills, expertise, and other demographics which may contribute to the board. The committee also evaluates potential nominees to determine if they have any conflicts of interest that may interfere with their ability to serve as effective board members and to determine whether they are “independent” in accordance with Nasdaq requirements (to ensure that at least a majority of the directors will, at all times, be independent). The committee has not, in the past, retained any third party to assist it in identifying candidates.

The committee identifies nominees by first evaluating the current members of the board whose term is set to expire at the upcoming annual shareholder meeting and are willing to continue in service. Current members of the board with skills and experience that are relevant to our business and who are willing to continue in service are considered for re-nomination. If any member of the board does not wish to continue in service or if the committee or the board decides not to re-nominate a member for re-election, the committee would identify the desired skills and experience of a new nominee in light of the criteria above.

Shareholder Communication with the Board, Nomination and Proposal Procedures

General Communications with the Board. Shareholders may contact Lakeland Financial’s board of directors by contacting Kristin L. Pruitt, Corporate Secretary, at Lakeland Financial Corporation, P.O. Box 1387, Warsaw, Indiana, 46581-1387 or (574) 267-6144. Ms. Pruitt will generally not forward communications that are primarily commercial in nature or related to an improper or irrelevant topic.

Nominations of Directors. In accordance with our bylaws, a shareholder may nominate a director for election to the board at an annual meeting of shareholders by delivering written notice of the nomination to our President not fewer than 10 days nor more than 50 days prior to the date of the annual meeting. The shareholder’s notice of intention to nominate a director must include the name and address of the proposed nominee, the principal occupation of the proposed nominee, the name and address of the shareholder making the nomination, and the number of shares of capital stock of Lakeland Financial owned by the notifying shareholder. We may request additional information after receiving the notification.

For a shareholder nominee to be considered by our board as a company nominee and included in our proxy statement, the nominating shareholder must file a written notice of the proposed director nomination with our corporate secretary, at the above address, at least 120 days prior to the date the previous year’s proxy statement was mailed to shareholders. Nominations must include the full name and address of the proposed nominee and a brief description of the proposed nominee’s business experience for at least the previous five years. All submissions must be accompanied by the written consent of the proposed nominee to be named as a nominee and to serve as a director if elected. The committee may request additional information in order to make a determination as to whether to nominate the person for director.

Other Shareholder Proposals. For all other shareholder proposals to be considered for inclusion in our proxy statement and form of proxy relating to our annual meeting of shareholders to be held in 2011, shareholder proposals must be received by Kristin L. Pruitt, our Corporate Secretary, at the above address, no later than November 9, 2010, and must otherwise comply with the rules and regulations set forth by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Board Leadership Structure

The positions of Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Lakeland Financial have historically been combined, and Mr. Kubacki currently holds both positions. We believe this board leadership structure is the most appropriate because of the efficiencies achieved in having the role of CEO and Chairman combined, and because the detailed knowledge of our day-to-day operations and business that the CEO possesses greatly enhances the decision-making processes of the board as a whole. We have a strong governance structure in place, including a designated lead independent director, to ensure the powers and duties of the dual role are handled responsibly. Furthermore, consistent with Nasdaq listing requirements, the independent directors regularly have the opportunity to meet without Mr. Kubacki in attendance and in 2009 there were ten such sessions.

In 2003, the board of directors created the position of a lead independent director, and the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee appointed L. Craig Fulmer as our lead independent director. This appointment is reviewed annually by the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. The lead independent director assists the board in assuring effective corporate governance and serves as chairperson of the independent director sessions, and chairs board meetings during any meetings or portions of meetings if Mr. Kubacki is absent.

Code of Ethics

We have a code of conduct in place that applies to all of our directors and employees. The code sets forth the standard of ethics that we expect all of our directors and employees to follow, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer. The code of conduct is posted on our website at www.lakecitybank.com. We intend to satisfy the disclosure requirements under Item 10 of Form 8-K regarding any amendment to or waiver of the code with respect to our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, and persons performing similar functions, by posting such information on our website.

Board's Role in Risk Oversight

Risk is inherent with every business, and how well a business manages risk can ultimately determine its success. We face a number of risks, including general economic risks, credit risks, regulatory risks, audit risks, reputational risks and others, such as the impact of competition. Management is responsible for the day-to-day management of risks the company faces, while the board, as a whole and through its committees, has responsibility for the oversight of risk management. In its risk oversight role, the board of directors has the responsibility to satisfy itself that the risk management processes designed and implemented by management are adequate and functioning as designed.

While the full board of directors is charged with ultimate oversight responsibility for risk management, various committees of the board and members of management also have responsibilities with respect to our risk oversight. In particular, the Audit Committee plays a large role in monitoring and assessing our financial, legal, and operational risks, and receives regular reports from the management team's senior risk officer regarding comprehensive organizational risk as well as particular areas of concern. The board's Compensation Committee monitors and assesses the various risks associated with compensation policies, and oversees incentives that encourage a level of risk-taking consistent with our overall strategy. Additionally, our chief credit officer and loan review staff are directly responsible for overseeing our credit risk.

We believe that establishing the right "tone at the top" and providing for full and open communication between management and the board of directors are essential for effective risk management and oversight. Our executive management meets regularly with our other senior officers to discuss strategy and risks facing the company. Senior officers attend many of the board meetings, or, if not in attendance, are available to address any questions or concerns raised by the board on risk management-related and any other matters. The board has an annual offsite meeting with senior management to discuss strategies, key challenges, and risks and opportunities for the company.

Additionally, each of our board-level committees provides regular reports to the full board and apprises the board of our comprehensive risk profile and any areas of concern.

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Introduction

This Compensation Discussion and Analysis describes Lakeland Financial's compensation philosophy and policies for 2009 as applicable to the executive officers named in the Summary Compensation Table on page 27. This section explains the structure and rationale associated with each material element of the executives' compensation, and it provides important context for the more detailed disclosure tables and specific compensation amounts provided following the section.

The Compensation Committee has overall responsibility for evaluating the compensation plans, policies and programs relating to the executive officers of Lakeland Financial Corporation.

The committee relies upon Mr. Kubacki's assessment of each executive officer's individual performance, which considers the executive's efforts in achieving his or her individual goals each year, managing and developing employees and the enhancement of long-term relationships with customers, if applicable to his or her position. Individual goals for executive officers are established by Mr. Kubacki in consultation with each executive officer.

The committee's charter gives it the authority to hire outside consultants to further its objectives and responsibilities. In 2009, the committee continued to consult Frederic W. Cook & Co., Inc., a compensation consulting firm, to assess the effectiveness and structure of our overall executive compensation program. Additionally, on occasion, the committee has consulted with external compensation experts, which have included various consulting firms such as The Delves Group, Clark Consulting and Amalfi Consulting, Inc. In addition, the committee reviews compensation survey data from industry sources such as the Indiana Bankers Association.

Changing Regulatory Environment

In order to more fully understand the Compensation Committee's decisions with respect to compensation during 2009 and 2010, the committee believes it is beneficial to understand the changing regulatory context in which these decisions were made. In some cases, the regulatory changes clearly impacted the Compensation Committee's decisions with respect to compensation paid to the named executive officers, while in other cases the regulatory changes simply required the committee to reconfirm its existing processes and procedures for determining executive compensation.

On February 27, 2009, Lakeland Financial accepted capital from the U.S. Department of the Treasury and became a participant in the Capital Purchase Program implemented as a component of the Troubled Asset Relief Program under the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 ("EESA"), as subsequently amended by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, which was enacted on February 17, 2009 ("ARRA"). As a participant, Lakeland Financial is subject to certain executive compensation restrictions established under EESA, as amended by ARRA. Accordingly, Lakeland Financial is now subject to additional limitations on executive compensation, including a provision for recovery of bonus, retention awards, or incentive compensation paid based on earnings, revenue, gains or other criteria later found to be materially inaccurate, a prohibition on making golden parachute payments, a prohibition on paying or accruing any bonus, retention award or incentive compensation (except for certain grants of qualifying restricted stock), and providing tax gross-ups. These restrictions and prohibitions apply to various Lakeland Financial officers, as discussed in greater detail below. These executive compensation restrictions under EESA have impacted certain aspects of our compensation programs for 2009, and will continue to impact compensation programs in 2010. Most notable of the restrictions is the prohibition on paying cash bonuses to our named executive officers. Lakeland

Financial and the committee have worked with legal counsel and other advisors to ensure that we have fully complied with the executive compensation restrictions required under EESA.

In addition to the foregoing limitations and restrictions, the EESA rules and regulations will require the Compensation Committee to undertake a semi-annual risk assessment with respect to certain of the compensation plans, programs and arrangements maintained by Lakeland Financial, regardless of whether the individual employee(s) covered by the plan, program or arrangement is a named executive officer. The risk assessments are intended to reduce the chance that any employee will be incentivized to take unacceptable risks in order to maximize his or her compensation under such plans, programs and arrangements.

Similar to the semi-annual risk assessment process required by EESA, in late 2009, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve issued proposed guidance that set forth a framework for assessing the soundness of incentive compensation plans, programs and arrangements maintained by financial institutions. Although the guidance is designated as proposed, the Federal Reserve has indicated that it expects current compliance with the guidance. The Federal Reserve's framework focuses on balanced risk-taking incentives, compatibility with effective controls and risk management, and strong corporate governance.

The Compensation Committee believes that an awareness and assessment of the impact of risk has always been, and will continue to be, a component of its analysis of executive compensation. As such, the committee recognizes the role of risk assessment in the overall processes and procedures for establishing such executive compensation. In this regard, the committee believes that the semi-annual risk assessment required by EESA and the Federal Reserve's proposed rules will serve as a framework for reconfirming the appropriateness of the process and procedure the committee has previously followed in reaching its decisions with respect to compensation-related matters.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

The overall objectives of Lakeland Financial's compensation programs are to align executive officer compensation with the success of meeting long-term strategic operating and financial goals. The programs are designed to create meaningful incentives, as permitted under EESA, to manage the business successfully with a constant focus on short-term and long-term performance versus the strategic plan and the key operating and financial objectives. Our philosophy is intended to align the interests of executive management with those of our shareholders and manage the risks that may be associated with any of the compensation plans. The executive compensation program is structured to accomplish the following objectives:

- encourage a consistent and competitive return to shareholders over the long-term;
- maintain a corporate environment which encourages stability and a long-term focus for the primary constituencies of Lakeland Financial; including employees, shareholders, communities, clients and government regulatory agencies;
- maintain a program which:
  - clearly motivates personnel to perform and succeed according to our current goals;
- provides management with the appropriate empowerment to make decisions that benefit the primary constituents;
  - retains key personnel critical to our long-term success;

- provides for management succession planning and related considerations;
- emphasizes formula-based components, such as performance-based bonus plans and long-term incentive plans, in order to better focus management efforts in its execution of corporate goals;

- encourages increased productivity;
- provides for subjective consideration in determining incentive and compensation components; and
  - ensure that management:
    - fulfills its oversight responsibility to its primary constituents;
    - conforms its business conduct to the highest ethical standards;
- remains free from any influences that could impair or appear to impair the objectivity and impartiality of its judgments or treatment of our constituents; and
- continues to avoid any conflict between its responsibilities to Lakeland Financial and each executive officer's personal interests.

Compensation Factors

General. The committee's decisions regarding each named executive officer are based, in part on the committee's subjective judgment and take into account qualitative and quantitative factors, as will be set forth in the discussion below. In reviewing an executive officer's compensation, the committee considers and evaluates all components of the officer's total compensation package.

Corporate Performance. In establishing executive compensation, the committee measures Lakeland Financial's performance compared to management's and the board's goals and objectives as well as to our peer group performance for financial institutions of comparable size and complexity. The committee believes that using Lakeland Financial's performance as a factor in determining an executive officer's compensation is effective in helping to align the executive's interests with those of our shareholders. With that in mind, the committee focuses on performance versus key financial performance criteria, such as return on beginning equity, return on average assets, revenue growth, diluted earnings per share growth, capital adequacy, the efficiency ratio and asset quality. As part of the evaluation and review of these criteria, the committee will also take into account various subjective issues, such as general economic conditions, including the interest rate environment and its impact on performance, and how they may affect Lakeland Financial's performance.

For purposes of peer analysis in assessing performance, Lakeland Financial generally considers peer groups that include commercial banks of similar asset size. The peer groups used in 2008 generally included financial institutions with total assets of $1.0 billion to $3.0 billion, with a focus on banks located in the central region of the United States. Given the ever-changing landscape within the banking industry, there is no specifically defined group of banks that are utilized for this analysis. The committee engaged Frederic W. Cook & Co., Inc. in 2008 to assess the effectiveness of the Company's executive compensation programs. This analysis was not repeated in 2009, and the Compensation Committee continued to rely on the 2008 data. For comparative analysis, Frederick W. Cook & Co., Inc. compiled a market reference group of 20 publicly-traded bank holding companies headquartered in the Indiana, Ohio, Illinois or Michigan, with median assets of $2 billion.

The companies included in this peer group are as follows:

First Merchants Corp – Muncie, IN	Taylor Capital Group, Inc. – Rosemont, IL
First Financial Bancorp, Inc. – Hamilton, OH	Integra Bancorp – Evansville, IN
Independent Bank Corp – Ionia, MI	Old Second Bancorp, Inc. – Aurora, IL
Mainsource Financial Group, Inc. – Greensburg, IN	First Financial Corp. – Terre Haute, IN
Macatawa Bank Corp – Holland, MI	Mercantile Bank Corp – Grand Rapids, MI
Peoples Bancorp, Inc. – Marietta, OH	Mercantile Bancorp, Inc. – Quincy, IL
MBT Financial Corp – Monroe, MI	QCR Holdings, Inc. – Moline, IL
Firstbank Corp – Alena, IL	Centrue Financial Corp – Ottawa, IL
Horizon Bancorp – Michigan City, IN	German American Bancorp, Inc. – Jasper, IN
First Citizens Banc Corp – Sandusky, OH	Princeton National Bancorp, Inc. – Princeton, IL

In addition, the committee reviews compensation survey data that is readily available to Lakeland Financial from industry sources such as the Indiana Bankers Association.

Other factors of corporate performance that may affect an executive’s compensation include succession planning consideration, individual performance and experience, Lakeland Financial’s market share reputation in the communities which it serves, turnover level of employees, as well as less subjective performance considerations. In addition, the committee takes into consideration indirect and intangible business factors such as community involvement and leadership when reviewing executive compensation.

Benchmarking. In establishing the compensation of the named executive officers, the committee utilizes market data regarding the compensation practices of other financial institutions of a similar size and complexity. The committee believes that benchmarking is useful to stay competitive in the marketplace and for attracting and retaining qualified executives. While the committee believes that it is prudent to consider benchmarking in determining compensation practices, it does not set strict parameters using this data. Rather, the committee uses benchmarking data to ensure that executive compensation is not inconsistent with appropriately defined peer organizations. Generally, the committee believes that the current executive management of the bank has established a track record of long-term performance pursuant to the compensation philosophy and objectives described above that warrant consideration of top quartile or better compensation among similarly situated financial institutions. Additionally, the committee will consider data from outside the peer comparison when reviewing compensation practices if that comparison identifies similarities, such as business-line focus and long-term operating and financial stability, which should be considered. For example, institutions with a similar focus on complex commercial lending may be considered by the committee. In addition, the committee considers, among other individual factors, tenure, performance, overall capabilities and future career potential. The peer groups used for comparative purposes in 2008 and for 2009 were generally comprised of banks with total assets of $1.0 billion to $3.0 billion, with a focus on banks located in the central region of the United States. In addition, Frederic W. Cook & Co., Inc.’s 20 bank holding company peer group described above was used to benchmark compensation. The committee did not update the benchmarking analysis in 2009 for 2010, as the committee believed that the information was unlikely to have changed significantly.

Individual Performance. When evaluating an executive officer’s individual performance, the committee relies upon Mr. Kubacki’s assessment of individual performance, which considers the executive’s efforts in achieving his or her individual goals each year, managing and developing employees and the enhancement of long-term relationships with customers, if applicable to his or her position. The executive officer’s individual performance and/or individual contribution to the overall company performance depends, to a degree, on what steps are taken to increase revenues and implement cost-saving strategies and the outcome of such strategies. Each executive officer has different goals established that contribute to the long-term strategic goals of the company. Individual goals for executive officers are established by Mr. Kubacki in consultation with each executive officer.

Compensation Decisions

This section describes the decisions made by the committee with respect to the compensation for the named executive officers for 2009 and 2010. As noted previously, the executive compensation restrictions included in EESA have a significant impact on the decisions made for 2010 (and future years during which Treasury continues to hold an equity interest in Lakeland Financial), including the payment of bonuses to the named executive officers in restricted stock rather than cash, and capping the amount that Mr. Kubacki could receive as a bonus, in the form of qualifying restricted stock, relative to his base salary. The impact of those restrictions are discussed more fully below.

Executive Summary. The major components of executive officer compensation are base salary, bonus, equity awards, long-term incentive awards and additional benefit plans. As previously stated, in reviewing an executive officer's compensation, the committee considers and evaluates all components of the officer's total compensation package through the use of tally sheets, as well as traditional performance monitoring and measurement tools. We have continued to apply the compensation principles described above in determining the compensation of the executive officers named in Summary Compensation Table on page 27. Our compensation decisions for 2009 factored in Lakeland Financial's performance versus key financial criteria, including return on beginning equity, revenue growth and diluted earnings per share growth. Although Lakeland Financial did not achieve some of its targeted goals in net income and other key measures of financial performance in 2009, the committee believes that this was primarily related to the general economic climate in our geographical areas. The committee further believes that Lakeland Financial's financial performance in 2009 was very strong despite the adverse operating conditions. When compared to its peer group, the committee believes Lakeland Financial's performance was good and, therefore, the committee weighed heavily Lakeland Financial's relative performance when compared to its peers. Additionally, the committee determined that the named executive officers performed well versus their individual goals for 2009.

Notwithstanding the relatively strong performance in 2009, Mr. Kubacki recommended that the salaries for himself, the executive vice presidents and the senior vice presidents (including all of the named executive officers) be frozen for 2010 given the continuing economic uncertainty and economic volatility. The committee accepted Mr. Kubacki's recommendation regarding the salary freeze.

The following is a brief summary of the compensation decisions the committee affected for 2009 and 2010:

- we increased base salaries for the named executive officers, on average 4.7% for 2009 compared to 2008, and as previously indicated, froze salaries for the named executive officers for 2010;
- bonus payments to named executive officers for 2009 performance, payable in 2010, increased from bonuses for 2008 performance, although pursuant to the requirements under EESA, such payments will be made in the form of qualifying restricted stock rather than cash;
- we continued the long-term incentive plan in 2009 to strengthen our retention tools for key senior and executive management;
- the amount of total compensation paid to Mr. Kubacki was less in 2009 than he otherwise would have earned due to the restrictions under EESA on the amount of a bonus that could be paid to him;
- benefits and perquisites remained substantially similar between 2008 and 2009 and we expect that will continue through 2010.

The committee strives to provide each executive officer with a competitive total compensation package. Because the executive compensation restrictions under EESA serve to limit or prohibit the use by the committee of one or more forms of compensation, the committee may revisit and adjust the composition of each executive's total compensation package in the future so that it can continue to provide each executive with a competitive total compensation package of similar value to that described herein.

Base Salary. We annually review the base salaries of the named executive officers to determine whether or not they will be adjusted, as described above. The salaries for 2009, determined by the committee at the end of 2008, are set forth in the Summary Compensation Table on page 27. In determining these salary levels, we considered the following factors, with no specific weighting applied to any single factor:

- the compensation philosophy and guiding principles described above;
- the performance versus key financial objectives, as described above, in 2008;
- the base salary paid to the officers in comparable positions at companies in the peer groups, generally using the top quartile or higher percentile as our point of reference if the officer's overall performance and experience warrants such consideration;
- the overall professional experience and background and the industry knowledge of the named executive officers, their tenure in leadership positions, and the quality and effectiveness of their leadership at Lakeland Financial;
- all of the components of executive compensation, including base salary, bonus, stock options, retirement and death benefits, as well as benefits and perquisites (to the extent permitted under EESA);
- the performance of Lakeland Financial's stock price, although it is not a key factor in considering compensation as the committee believes that the performance of the stock price is subject to factors outside the control of executive management; and
- internal pay equity among Lakeland Financial executives.

As mentioned above, at the end of 2009, the committee determined that the base salaries of the named executive officers would not increase for 2010. The base salaries for 2010 are currently set as follows:

Name	Position	2009 and 2010 Base Salary
Michael L. Kubacki	Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer	$440,000
David M. Findlay	Executive Vice President – Administrative and Chief Financial Officer	$275,000
Charles D. Smith	Executive Vice President – Commercial	$224,000
Kevin L. Deardorff	Executive Vice President – Retail	$183,000
Eric H. Ottinger	Senior Vice President – Wealth Advisory Group	$165,000

Bonus. The committee determines eligibility for bonus payments using the parameters defined in the company's Executive Incentive Plan, which is a performance-based bonus plan for selected Lake City Bank corporate officers, including the executive officers. Pursuant to the plan, eligible participants may earn a performance-based bonus. As a result of the prohibition under EESA on the payment of cash bonuses, bonuses to executive officers for 2009 were paid in qualifying restricted stock rather than cash. The amount of all such bonuses, including Mr. Kubacki's (although his ultimate payout was reduced in order to comply with the provisions of EESA), were determined pursuant to the plan, which is reviewed at least annually by the committee. This program applies to all of our executive officers, as well as designated officers of Lake City Bank. As established, the committee retains the right to modify the program and/or withhold payment at any time. Since the plan's inception in 2002, Lakeland Financial's performance has warranted payments under the plan.

Eligible participants in the bonus program may earn a performance-based bonus based on Lakeland Financial's overall performance as well as the individual participant's performance. Our performance is based on our actual net income for that year compared to the budgeted net income. We calculate this by using our net income after the 401(k) match and incentive compensation costs and excluding non-recurring gain/loss on sale of fixed assets, investments, business assets and extinguishment of debt. The committee approves a budgeted net income amount after reviewing the previous year's actual net income in conjunction with the board's and management's expectations for that particular year. The amount of budgeted net income is generally increased each year in order to provide a proper level of incentive to the officers and, in the committee's view, it is not at a level that guarantees the target threshold will be obtained.

The budgeted net income used for 2009 was $21,779,746. Bonus payments under this plan are determined by the formulas described below, although the committee reserves the right to modify the payouts in its sole discretion. At the end of 2008, the committee determined that beginning in 2009, the plan would pay a percentage of the bonus amount equal to the percentage amount of actual net income achieved against the budgeted net income. For example, if actual net income equals 95% of the budgeted net income amount, the bonus payout would be at the 95% level. Bonuses under the program provide for bonus payments of 3% to 50% of eligible salary. In 2009, the bonus program provided that our President and Chief Executive Officer would receive a bonus up to 50% of his salary, Executive Vice Presidents would receive up to 40% of their salaries and certain Senior Vice Presidents would receive up to 30% of their salaries. Bonuses for officers receiving promotions during the year were prorated.

The amount of the bonus is also determined, in part, on the individual's overall performance compared to the individual's performance goals that are established in the beginning of the year by the individual and the other executives. The board determined that the named executive officers performed well against their respective individual performance goals in 2009, which are set forth below:

Michael L. Kubacki

- Meet or exceed 2009 financial targets set forth in the 2009 Profit Plan.
- Maintain the Lake City Bank's reputation for service quality and community involvement.
  - Maintain effective board process.
  - Lead the bank's management team.
- Maintain the bank's leadership position in the local and regional markets.

David M. Findlay

- Work with retail department to fund Lake City Bank's growth in a manner that maximizes net interest income.
  - Grow fee-equivalent income.
- Work with all areas of management to keep expenses within budget.
- Lead compliance process in order to achieve acceptable compliance and Community Reinvestment Act ratings.
  - Take on special projects and manage transactional opportunities as they arise.

Charles D. Smith

- Contribute to an improved compliance and Community Reinvestment Act environment in 2009.

Kevin L. Deardorff

- Achieve the financial targets set out in the retail goal sheets.
- Work with financial management to fund Lake City Bank's growth in a manner that maximizes net interest income.
  - Begin to implement a growth strategy aimed at the younger demographic segment.
- Implement the new Microloan, USDA and FHA loan programs designed to improve Community Reinvestment Act performance.
  - Keep retail expenses within budget.

Eric H. Ottinger

- Achieve existing commercial banking growth goals that were established by the Commercial business unit.
  - Achieve Wealth Advisory Group financial goals as established in the 2009 budget.
  - Continue to provide sales and relationship management leadership in the Fort Wayne market.
  - Fully integrate the Wealth Advisory Group business plan with other key business units.

For 2009, our actual net income, calculated as described above, equaled 87% of the budgeted net income threshold, and bonuses were, therefore, paid out at that same level. This resulted in aggregated bonus payments of approximately $1.4 million paid to 170 employees. The bonuses paid to Mr. Kubacki and the other named executive officers are set forth in the Summary Compensation Table on page 27 of this Proxy Statement and were established pursuant to the bonus program. Bonuses under this plan were paid to the named executive officers in the form of qualifying restricted stock units in accordance with the provisions of the EESA. The restricted stock units were paid to the named executive officers on February 5, 2010, and were valued at $17.52, the closing price on that day.

Long-Term Incentive Plan. In 2006, we implemented a long-term incentive ("LTI") plan based on recommendations received from a compensation consultant in 2005. The plan was designed to provide for performance-based payouts based upon key financial criteria, including average revenue growth rate, average diluted earnings per share growth rate and average return on beginning equity over a rolling three year period. The committee made grants under the LTI plan in 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009. Beginning with the grants made in 2009 under the LTI plan, awards are denominated in Lakeland Financial shares rather than cash to provide for additional alignment with shareholders and stock price performance over the performance period. Grants made prior to 2009 were denominated in cash, but according to the plan amendment are allowed to be paid in stock.

The purpose of the LTI plan is to motivate select officers to collectively produce outstanding results, encourage superior performance, increase productivity and aid in attracting and retaining key employees. Mr. Kubacki recommends, subject to the committee's approval, the performance measures and performance targets to be used for each performance period and the LTI bonus to be paid if certain required conditions are met. Performance targets are based on a combination of Lakeland Financial's goals, business unit and/or individual goals or on such other factors that the committee may determine and approve. Different performance targets may be established for different participants for any performance period, although currently all executives have the same performance targets.

The plan measures performance against three key criteria over a three-year performance period: revenue growth, diluted earnings per share growth and average return on equity. Unless the committee determines otherwise, a new three-year performance period will begin each year. Thus, the maximum number of performance periods open to measurement at any time is three. Executive officers have the ability to receive LTI plan bonus payouts on a yearly basis at the conclusion of each successive three-year performance period.

The amount of the LTI bonus awarded for each performance period is based upon achieving certain performance thresholds for each of the three measurement criteria. Under the plan, performance on each of the three measurement criteria is computed for the three-year period from the start date and constitutes 33.33% of the overall vesting calculation. For the 2007-2009 performance periods, the target performance levels were 5.00% revenue growth, 10.00% diluted earnings per share growth and 15.00% average return on equity growth. For both the 2008-2010 and 2009-2011 performance periods, the target performance levels were 6.00% revenue growth, 5.00% diluted earnings per share growth and 11.00% average return on equity growth. The Committee directed management to accrue for the open periods at an amount equal to the sum of the percentages of the actual financial performance against the targeted thresholds, with each of the three criteria valued at 33.33% of the total accrual.

The LTI plan allows the committee, at its discretion, to adjust performance goals and/or performance measure results for extraordinary events or accounting adjustments resulting from significant asset purchases or dispositions or other events not contemplated or otherwise considered by the committee when the performance measures and targets were set. Because of Lakeland Financial's successful sale of 3.6 million shares of common stock in the fourth quarter of 2009, the committee has equitably adjusted the performance thresholds for the remaining performance periods under the open plans and for the 2010-2012 performance periods. The performance target for return on equity was adjusted to 8%. This change reflects the impact of the additional equity created by the common stock offering, which increased shareholder equity by $58 million. The revenue growth and earnings per share performance targets remain unchanged at 6% and 5%, respectively. To arrive at the new performance target for return on equity, the committee determined that the net income used in the target calculation would remain unchanged. The Company does not believe that it would be consistent with its historically conservative approach to balance sheet management to leverage this capital rapidly or to any significant degree. Further, the Company intends to consider repayment of a portion, or all, of its TARP funds during 2010. As a result, Management does not believe that any significant leveraging of the capital raised from the successful common stock offering would be prudent or in the best interest of shareholders. In addition, the prevailing low interest rate environment does not create attractive investment yields on conservative alternative assets in which the Company is investing these funds. Therefore, the net income impact is nominal from these investments. Given these considerations, the Company adjusted the book value of equity to reflect the favorable impact of the common stock offering and did not change the net income target. That calculation resulted in the adjustment in the performance target for return on equity to 8%. In addition, to account for the additional equity, the committee determined to amend the performance targets for the open 2008 and 2009 plan years to provide for, as closely as possible, the dilutive effect of the equity grant.

At the end of 2008, the first performance period ended under the LTI plan. As discussed in last year's proxy statement, although our financial performance did not meet 100% of some of the targets established under the LTI plan, the committee determined that we should pay out the first awards under the LTI plan at 67% given our overall strong financial performance. The second performance period ended at the end of 2009. In accordance with the formula for payout, a total of $232,900 to 12 individuals was paid out under this plan. Under this plan, Mr. Kubacki would have been entitled to receive a payout equal to $97,500, and Mr. Findlay would have been entitled to receive a payout equal to $45,000. However, due to the limit under EESA on bonus payments as a percentage of total compensation, Mr. Kubacki was only entitled to receive $28,600 and Mr. Findlay was only entitled to receive $41,800. Bonuses under this plan were paid to the named executive officers in the form of qualifying restricted stock units in accordance with the provisions of the EESA. The restricted stock units were paid to the named executive officers on February 5, 2010, and were valued at $17.52, the closing price on that day.

The payouts to the named executive officers for the first performance period in 2009 and in 2010 were as follows:

Name	Performance Period 2006 – 2008 Payout Amounts	Performance Period 2007-2009 Payout Amounts (paid in restricted stock)
Michael L. Kubacki	$87,100	$28,600
David M. Findlay	$40,200	$41,800
Charles D. Smith	$26,800	$30,000
Kevin L. Deardorff	$20,100	$22,500
Eric H. Ottinger	$13,400	$15,000

The target award that each named executive officer may earn under the 2008-2010, 2009-2011 and 2010-2012 performance periods is as follows:

Name	Performance Period 2008-2010 Target Cash Award Payable in 2011	Performance Period 2009-2011 Target Share Award Payable in 2012	Performance Period 2010-2012 Target Share Award Payable in 2013
Michael L. Kubacki	$150,000	10,000 shares	10,000 shares
David M. Findlay	90,000	6,000	6,000
Charles D. Smith	60,000	4,000	4,000
Kevin L. Deardorff	30,000	3,000	3,000
Eric H. Ottinger	20,000	2,000	3,000

As with the annual bonus component of compensation, the restrictions under EESA prevent Lakeland Financial from paying or accruing any long-term incentives for the executive officers under the LTI plan during any years during which Treasury holds an equity interest in Lakeland Financial. Therefore, the committee may revisit and reevaluate the long-term incentive component of the executive officers' total compensation packages.

Equity Awards. No stock options were issued in 2009 to the named executive officers under that plan, as set forth on the Outstanding Equity Awards at Fiscal Year End table on page 29. Under the executive compensation restrictions under EESA, Lakeland Financial is prohibited from granting stock options to the executive officers during the period during which Treasury holds an equity interest in Lakeland Financial.

All Other Compensation and Perquisites. While the committee reviews and monitors the level of other compensation offered to the named executive officers, the committee typically does not adjust the level of benefits offered on an annual basis. The committee does consider the benefits and perquisites offered to the named executive officers in its evaluation of the total compensation received by each. It is our belief that perquisites for executive officers should be very limited in scope and value and reflective of similar perquisites from competitive employers both in the industry and the region. Due to this philosophy, Lakeland Financial has generally provided nominal benefits to executives that are not available to all full time employees and we plan to continue this approach in the future. The benefits offered in 2009 to the named executive officers will continue for 2010, unless such benefits are in the future determined to be limited or prohibited under EESA, and the perquisites received by the named executive officers in 2009 are reported in the Summary Compensation Table on page 27.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT

We have reviewed and discussed the foregoing Compensation Discussion and Analysis with management. We certify that: (1) we have reviewed with Ms. Pruitt, the senior risk officer, the senior executive officer (SEO) compensation plans and have made all reasonable efforts to ensure that these plans do not encourage SEOs to take unnecessary and excessive risks that threaten the value of Lakeland Financial; (2) we have reviewed with Ms. Pruitt the employee compensation plans and have made all reasonable efforts to limit any unnecessary risks these plans pose to Lakeland Financial; and (3) we have reviewed the employee compensation plans to eliminate any features of these plans that would encourage the manipulation of reported earnings of Lakeland Financial to enhance the compensation of any employee.

Based on our review and discussion with management, we have recommended to the Board of Directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in this Proxy Statement and in Lakeland Financial's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009.

Risk Assessment

The Compensation Committee has met with Ms. Pruitt, the senior risk officer, and undergone a thorough review of all compensation programs offered at Lake City Bank, including those described in this section, to determine whether any aspect of the plans or programs encourages excessive or unnecessary risk that would adversely affect the long-term value or performance of Lakeland Financial or would encourage an employee to manipulate earnings in order to enhance the benefits payable under such plans or programs. Based on the risk assessment process, more fully described below, the committee concluded that the compensation plans and programs, considered individually and as a whole, do not encourage excessive risk taking or encourage the manipulation of earnings to enhance the benefits payable under such plans or programs.

The committee compiled an inventory of the design features of all incentive compensation plans and programs for purposes of assessing the potential for encouraging excessive or unnecessary risk-taking that could threaten the value of the enterprise or encourage the manipulation of earnings, including:

- Plan name
- Participants
- Timing (Goal-setting, measurement period, payment)
- Funding approach (e.g. flat fee or target award approach)
- Metrics (Financial versus non-financial, number of measures, weightings)
- Size of incentive opportunities (relative to salary)
- Award determination (Automatic/formulaic, discretionary, adjustments)

The committee then considered how the structure of each plan or program impacted risk-taking of plan participants. With respect to the LTI plan, the committee concluded that the plan was well designed to align the company's strategic objectives with long-term value creation for the following reasons:

- Performance metrics factor in risk of capital and measures that take into consideration balance sheet, income statement and equity factors.
- Threshold goals are reasonably achievable with good performance, are sufficiently challenging but not overly difficult. The LTI plan does not include steep cliffs for not achieving nor exponential upside to achieving them. Reasonable leverage above threshold to achieve maximum payout.

- Incentive capped at reasonable levels.
- Maximum award an appropriate portion of total pay.

- Three year performance period discourages measures that do not benefit company over long term.
- Denomination in company stock gives incentive to focus on sustained value creation.

In analyzing the risks inherent in the bonus plan, the committee determined as follows:

- Bonus amounts tied to financial performance and personal performance against individualized goals, including non-financial goals.
- Threshold goals are reasonably achievable with good performance, are sufficiently challenging but not overly difficult.
  - Payouts interpolated based on percentage of net income achieved.
  - Reasonable bonus maximums as part of overall balanced pay mix.

The committee did a similar analysis for the following compensation programs available to employees, and concluded that the amounts are reasonable as part of balanced pay mix and appropriately incentivize performance without encouraging the manipulation of earnings in order to enhance the benefits payable under such plans.

- 401(k) plan matching contribution based on overall bank performance;
  - Mortgage commissions and incentives;
- Referrals (Wealth Advisory Group, Brokerage Department, New Hires, Sure Pay, Credit Card applications);
  - Account opening incentives based on accounts opened;
  - Insurance commissions for credit life and GAP coverage sold on loan products;
  - Brokerage Department commissions and incentives based on products sold;
  - Business development commissions for one employee;
  - After-hours service bonus (i.e. alarm response, ATM service);
  - Training bonuses for completion of Lake City University specialty tracks; and
  - Special recognition rewards for exceptional service or project completion.

The committee then reviewed the executive compensation structure overall and reached the following conclusions, based on key risk categories:

- Strategic Risk: The committee determined that overall, the performance metrics used are aligned with the company's strategy and objectives for long-term value creation for shareholders, properly reward various performance outcomes, and account for risk over a longer-term time horizon.
- Cultural Risk: Lakeland Financial has a strong set of corporate values that emphasize ethical behavior, actions that contribute to building long-term value, rather than short-term performance, teamwork and investment in people and infrastructure. The senior executives have little incentive to be overly focused on short-term stock price performance.
- Governance Risk: The committee is independent, has access to consultants and other advisers independent of management, has an appropriate level of expertise and is fully educated on all significant incentive plans and programs.

Pay-Mix Risk: Lakeland Financial has market-competitive salaries to reduce pressure on short-term performance to earn reasonable annual compensation. The mix between longer-term incentives is appropriately balanced with motivation for short-term performance.

- Performance Measurement Risk: The committee has a disciplined process of establishing goals for and evaluating performance of Mr. Kubacki in executive sessions. Financial performance measures consider the income statement, balance sheet and statement of cash flows so that management is accountable for all aspects of Lakeland Financial's financial health. The committee considers both financial and non-financial performance outcomes in assessing executives' performance and compensation.

- Annual Incentive Risk: Executives' annual bonuses are earned based on both financial performance and non-financial performance. Goals for achieving target bonuses are reasonably achievable with good performance, challenging, but not overly difficult. The bonus payout curves do not use steep cliffs for target bonus or exponential payouts for maximum payouts.
- Long-Term Incentive Risk: The LTI plan uses different performance metrics and measurement periods than annual incentives so that short-term performance is not over-emphasized. Restricted stock units under the LTI plan do not use overly stretched goals, accelerated payout curves. The target and maximum payouts under the LTI plan are reasonable in light of the overall pay mix. Long-term incentives focus on measures of sustainable value creation for long-term investors.

Conclusion

After considering all components of the compensation paid to the named executive officers, the committee has determined that the compensation plans and programs are reasonable and not excessive, and do not encourage imprudent risk-taking.

In making this determination, we considered many factors, including the following:

- management has positioned Lakeland Financial for future success through the planning and execution of Lakeland Financial's strategic plan;
  - management has consistently led Lakeland Financial to record levels of performance in recent years;
- the shareholder return performance of Lakeland Financial over the past five years has outpaced the performance of companies in Lakeland Financial's peer group; and
- Lakeland Financial is well positioned in the communities it serves as a result of the direction that this management team has taken the company.

Grants of Plan Based Awards

The following table provides information on possible non-equity performance amounts that are payable under the Executive Incentive Plan and the Lakeland Financial Corporation Long-Term Cash Incentive Plan. These plans are described in more detail in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis section. The estimated amounts set forth in the table are subject to the terms of the respective plan and company and individual performance, as described in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis section. Future payouts may be prohibited as a result of restrictions on executive compensation that apply to companies that are participants in Treasury's TARP Capital Purchase Program. Further, payment or accrual of any amounts pursuant to the plans during the period during which Treasury holds an equity interest in Lakeland Financial will likely be prohibited by the executive compensation restrictions under EESA. In light of these considerations, there can be no assurance that the future payouts will ever be realized.
