The Board of Directors
Liquid Audio, Inc.
800 Chesapeake Drive
Redwood City, California 94063

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Steel Partners II, L.P. ("Steel Partners"), the largest shareholder of Liquid Audio, Inc. (the "Company"), is stunned by the pathetic performance of the Company during the first quarter. As reported in the Company's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2002, the Company's revenues were down approximately 82% from the previous quarter and gross profit was negative. Even if we disregard the intercompany revenues from the previous quarter, revenues were still down approximately 32% sequentially.

We fail to understand how management can describe the reduction of the "cash burn" by an immaterial amount during the first quarter as an improvement when the Company's performance was an utter disaster by any financial measurement. To further prove how terrible the Company's performance was, allow us to provide some financial analysis. Revenues for the quarter were $135,000 or an average of $1,500 per day. Based on 100 employees, an approximate number of employees the Company employs to date, the average revenue attributable to each employee was $15 per day. Unbelievably, the Company would have generated more revenues if it sent its employees to work for minimum wage rather than allowing them to pursue the Company's "business strategy."

During the May 14, 2002 conference call, management discussed its technological leadership position. The Company's stockholders are tired of hearing about the "value" and "opportunity" in the assets and do not believe there is any value beyond the Company's cash and deferred tax assets (the only asset the Company grows on a consistent basis). If the Company truly has valuable technology, prove us wrong and sell it immediately to the highest bidder and distribute all of the cash to shareholders. Please note that it is not just your two largest shareholders who feel this way. We continue to receive multiple calls and letters from a broad range of shareholders who share our view.

As you can see in the most recent Schedule 13D filed by Steel Partners, we increased our ownership position to approximately 9.0% of the Company's outstanding shares and we are prepared to replace management and directors in favor of responsible owners. We have asked you before to avoid a pointless proxy fight and invite the musicmaker.com nominees onto the Board. Short of selling the Company immediately, we still believe this is the most appropriate course of action.

Finally, we would like to caution you against wasting valuable cash by making an acquisition that would further destroy shareholder value. The only transaction you should be considering is one that will yield a substantial amount of the Company's cash to shareholders. We, along with many other shareholders, strongly believe that an acquisition would be considered a waste of corporate assets and a breach of your duty of care and loyalty to the Company's shareholders, an action that could subject you to personal liability. Again, we implore you to take immediate steps to maximize shareholder value and not pursue this business plan any further.

If you would like to further discuss any of the above ideas, please call me at (310) 246-3741.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Josh Schechter
