ITEM 1. BUSINESS

"Newell" or the "Company" refers to Newell Rubbermaid Inc. alone or with its wholly-owned subsidiaries, as the context requires.

GENERAL

The Company is a global manufacturer and full-service marketer of name-brand consumer products serving the needs of volume purchasers, including discount stores and warehouse clubs, home centers and hardware stores, and office superstores and contract stationers. The Company's basic business strategy is to merchandise a multi-product offering of everyday consumer products, backed by an obsession with customer service excellence and new product development, in order to achieve maximum results for its stockholders. The Company's multi-product offering consists of name-brand consumer products in five business segments: Rubbermaid; Parker/Eldon; Levolor/Hardware; Calphalon/WearEver and Little Tikes/Graco. The Company's financial objectives are to achieve above-average sales and earnings per share growth, maintain a superior return on investment and maintain a conservative level of debt. To accomplish these objectives, the Company established five key measures to measure financial performance: internal sales growth, operating income as a percent of sales, working capital as a percent of sales, free cash flow and return on invested capital. The Company defines free cash flow as cash provided from operating activities less capital expenditures and dividends.

In an effort to achieve superior performance in the five key financial measures, the Company introduced six transformational strategic initiatives in 2001 as follows: Productivity, New Product Development, Marketing, Key Accounts, Streamlining, and Collaboration.

Productivity is the initiative to reduce the cost of manufacturing a product by at least five percent per year, annually. New Product Development represents the commitment to develop and introduce cutting-edge, innovative new products to the market. The marketing initiative represents the Company's commitment to transform from a push to pull marketing organization, focusing on the end-user. The Key Account initiative represents the Company's intention to allocate resources to those strategic retailers the Company believes will continue to grow in the near future. Streamlining is the commitment to reduce non-value added costs and cut out excess layers, in an effort to be the low-cost supplier. Collaboration is the Company's initiative for the divisional operating units to work together and maximize economies of scale and the use of best-practices.

Forward-looking statements in this Report are made in reliance upon the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such forward-looking statements may relate to, but are not limited to, information or assumptions about sales, income, earnings per share, return on equity, return on invested capital, capital expenditures, working capital, dividends, capital structure, free cash flow, debt to capitalization ratios, interest rates, internal growth rates, Euro conversion plans and related risks, impact of changes in accounting standards, pending legal proceedings and claims (including environmental matters), future economic performance, operating income improvements, synergies, management's plans, goals and objectives for future operations and growth or the assumptions relating to any of the forward-looking statements. The Company cautions that forward-looking statements are not guarantees since there are inherent difficulties in predicting future results. Actual results could differ materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause actual results to differ include, but are not limited to, those matters set forth in this Report and Exhibit 99 to this Report.

Growth Strategy

The Company's growth strategy emphasizes internal growth and acquisitions. The Company has grown internally principally by introducing new products, entering new domestic and international markets, adding new customers, cross-selling existing product lines to current customers and supporting its U.S.-based customers' international expansion. The Company has supplemented internal growth, both domestically and internationally, by acquiring businesses with brand name product lines and improving the profitability of such businesses through an integration process referred to as "Newellization." Since 1990, the Company has completed more than 20 major acquisitions (excluding Rubbermaid) representing more than $3 billion in additional sales.

Internal Growth

An important element of the Company's growth strategy is internal growth. Internal growth is accomplished through introducing new products, entering new domestic and international markets, adding new customers, cross-selling existing product lines to current customers and supporting its U.S.-based customers' international expansion. Internal growth is defined by the Company as growth from its "core businesses," which include continuing businesses owned more than one year and minor acquisitions. The Company's goal is to achieve above-average internal growth, and is committed to achieving 5% internal growth by the end of 2004.

ACQUISITIONS AND INTEGRATION

Acquisition Strategy

The Company supplements internal growth by acquiring businesses and product lines with a strategic fit with the Company's existing businesses. It also seeks to acquire product lines with a number one or two position in the markets in which they compete, a low technology level, a long product life cycle and the potential to reach the Company's standard of profitability. In addition to adding entirely new product lines, the Company uses acquisitions to round out existing businesses and fill gaps in its product offering, add new customers and distribution channels, expand shelf space for the Company's products with existing customers, and improve operational efficiency through shared resources. The Company intends to continue to pursue acquisition opportunities to complement internal growth.

Newellization

"Newellization" is the Company's well-established profit improvement and productivity enhancement process that is applied to integrate newly acquired product lines. The Newellization process includes establishing a more focused business strategy, improving customer service, reducing corporate overhead through centralization of administrative functions and tightening financial controls. In integrating acquired businesses, the Company typically centralizes accounting systems, capital expenditure approval, cash management, order processing, billing, credit, accounts receivable and data processing operations. To enhance efficiency, Newellization also focuses on improving manufacturing processes, eliminating non-productive lines, reducing inventories, increasing accounts receivable turnover, extending accounts payable terms and trimming excess costs. The Newellization process usually takes approximately two to three years to complete.

Selective Globalization

The Company is pursuing selective international opportunities to further its internal growth and acquisition objectives. The rapid growth of consumer goods economies and retail structures in several regions outside the U.S., particularly Europe, Mexico and South America, makes them attractive to the Company by providing selective opportunities to acquire businesses, develop partnerships with new foreign customers and extend relationships with the Company's domestic customers whose businesses are growing internationally. The Company's recent acquisitions, combined with existing sales to foreign customers, increased its sales outside the U.S. to approximately 27% of total sales in 2001 from 25% in 2000 and 23% in 1999.

Additional information regarding acquisitions of businesses is included in Item 6 and Footnote 2 to the consolidated financial statements.

STRATEGIC INITIATIVES

Productivity

The Company's objective is to reduce the cost of manufacturing a product by at least five percent per year on an ongoing basis in order to become the low-cost supplier to our customers. To achieve productivity, the Company will focus on reducing purchasing costs, materials handling costs, manufacturing inefficiencies, and excess overhead costs to reduce the overall cost of manufacturing products.

New Product Development

The Company is determined to become the leader in introducing cutting-edge, innovative, and patented new products to the marketplace. The Company seeks to employ the best and brightest new product engineers in order to achieve this goal through the implementation and execution of a world-class product development process. The Company's intention is to become a "new product machine" that will enhance the brand image and help secure additional store listings.

Marketing

The Company's objective is to develop long-term, mutually beneficial partnerships with its customers and become their supplier of choice. To achieve this goal, the Company has a value-added marketing program that offers a family of leading brand name staple products, tailored sales programs, innovative merchandising support, in-store services and responsive top management.

The Company's marketing skills help customers stimulate store traffic and sales through timely advertising and innovative promotions. The Company also assists customers in differentiating their offerings by customizing products and packaging. Through self-selling packaging and displays that emphasize good-better-best value relationships, retail customers are encouraged to trade up to higher-value, best quality products.

The Company is also committed to selective media advertising, including national television advertising, where appropriate in order to increase brand awareness among end-users of the product.

Customer service also involves customer contact with top-level decision makers at the Company's divisions. As part of its decentralized structure, the Company's division presidents are the chief marketing officers of their product lines and communicate directly with customers. This structure permits early recognition of market trends and timely response to customer problems.

Multi-Product Offering

The Company's increasingly broad product coverage in multiple product lines permits it to more effectively meet the needs of its customers. With families of leading, brand name products and profitable new products, the Company also can help volume purchasers sell a more profitable product mix. As a potential single source for an entire product line, the Company can use program merchandising to improve product presentation, optimize display space for both sales and income and encourage impulse buying by retail customers.

Customer Service

The Company believes that one of the primary ways it distinguishes itself from its competitors is through customer service. The Company's ability to provide superior customer service is a result of its information technology, marketing and merchandising programs designed to enhance the sales and profitability of its customers and consistent on-time delivery of its products

Key Accounts

In 2001, the Company introduced the Key Account Program, establishing sales organizations specifically to handle Wal*Mart, The Home Depot and Lowe's. As part of this program, the Company established President level positions to more effectively manage the relationships with these accounts. The program allows the Company to present these customers with "one face" to enhance the Company's response time and understanding of the customer's needs, ensuring the best possible relationship.

Phoenix Program

In 2001, the Company introduced its Phoenix program. This initiative is an action-oriented field sales force consisting of approximately 500 recent university graduates. The team works in the field, primarily within our Key Account structure performing product demonstrations, merchandising product, interacting with the end-user, and maintaining an ongoing relationship with store personnel. This initiative allows the Company to ensure product placement and minimize stock outages. As a result of this program, the Company will leverage their relationship with these Key Accounts to maximize shelf space potential.

Streamlining

The streamlining initiative represents the Company's commitment and focus on reducing nonvalue-added activities and excess layers within the organization. The Company's goal is to use the savings generated from streamlining to fund marketing and other key initiatives, without increasing total expenses. The Company is vigilant in creating a leaner organization that is more flexible in its response time, both internally and externally.

Collaboration

Collaboration represents the Company's focus to benefit from the sharing of best-practices and the reduction of costs achieved through economies of scale. For example, functions, such as purchasing and distribution and transportation, have been centralized to increase buying power across the Company.

Additionally, certain administrative functions are centralized at the corporate level including cash management, accounting systems, capital expenditure approvals, order processing, billing, credit, accounts receivable, data processing operations and legal functions. Centralization concentrates technical expertise in one location, making it easier to observe overall business trends and manage the Company's businesses.

OTHER INFORMATION

On-Time Delivery

A critical element of the Company's customer service is consistent on-time delivery of products to its customers. Retailers are pursuing a number of strategies to deliver the highest-quality, lowest-cost products to their customers. A growing trend among retailers is to purchase on a "just-in-time" basis in order to reduce inventory costs and increase returns on investment. As retailers shorten their lead times for orders, manufacturers need to more closely anticipate consumer buying patterns. The Company supports its retail customers' "just-in-time" inventory strategies through investments in improved forecasting systems, more responsive manufacturing and distribution capabilities and electronic communications. The Company manufactures the vast majority of its products and has extensive experience in high-volume, cost-effective manufacturing. The high-volume nature of its manufacturing processes and the relatively consistent demand for its products enables the Company to ship most products directly from its factories without the need for independent warehousing and distribution centers. For 2001, approximately 98% of the items ordered by customers were shipped on time, typically within two to three days of the customer's order.

Foreign Operations

Information regarding the Company's 2001, 2000 and 1999 foreign operations is included in Footnote 14 to the consolidated financial statements and is incorporated by reference herein.

Raw Materials

The Company has multiple foreign and domestic sources of supply for substantially all of its material requirements. The raw materials and various purchased components required for its products have generally been available in sufficient quantities.

Backlog

The dollar value of unshipped factory orders is not material.

Seasonal Variations

The Company's product groups are only moderately affected by seasonal trends. The Rubbermaid, Little Tikes/Graco and Calphalon/WearEver business segments typically have higher sales in the second half of the year due to retail stocking related to the holiday season; the Levolor/Hardware business segment has higher sales in the second and third quarters due to an increased level of do-it-yourself projects completed in the summer months; and the Parker/Eldon business segment has higher sales in the second and third quarters due to the back-to-school season. Because these seasonal trends are moderate, the Company's consolidated quarterly sales do not fluctuate significantly, unless a significant acquisition is made.

Patents and Trademarks

The Company has many patents, trademarks, brand names and trade names, none of which is considered material to the consolidated operations.

Competition

The Company competes with numerous other manufacturers and distributors of consumer products, many of which are large and well-established. The Company's principal customers are large mass merchandisers, such as discount stores, home centers, warehouse clubs and office superstores. The rapid growth of these large mass merchandisers, together with changes in consumer shopping patterns, have contributed to a significant consolidation of the consumer products retail industry and the formation of dominant multi-category retailers, many of which have strong bargaining power with suppliers. This environment significantly limits the Company's ability to recover cost increases through selling prices. Other trends among retailers are to foster high levels of competition among suppliers, to demand that manufacturers supply innovative new products and to require suppliers to maintain or reduce product prices and deliver products with shorter lead times. Another trend, in the absence of a strong new product development effort or strong end-user brands, is for the retailer to import generic products directly from foreign sources. The combination of these market influences has created an intensely competitive environment in which the Company's principal customers continuously evaluate which product suppliers to use, resulting in pricing pressures and the need for strong end-user brands, the ongoing introduction of innovative new products and continuing improvements in customer service.

For more than 30 years, the Company has positioned itself to respond to the challenges of this retail environment by developing strong relationships with large, high-volume purchasers. The Company markets its strong multi-product offering through virtually every category of high-volume retailer, including discount, drug, grocery and variety chains, warehouse clubs, department, hardware and specialty stores, home centers, office superstores, contract stationers and military exchanges. The Company's largest customer, Wal*Mart (including Sam's Club), accounted for approximately 16% of net sales in 2001. Other top ten customers included The Home Depot, Lowe's, Toys 'R Us, Target, Kmart, The Office Depot, JC Penney, United Stationers, and Staples.

The Company's other principal methods of meeting its competitive challenges are high brand name recognition, superior customer service (including industry leading information technology, innovative "good-better-best" marketing and merchandising programs), consistent on-time delivery, decentralized manufacturing and marketing, centralized administration, and experienced management.

Environment

Information regarding the Company's environmental matters is included in the Management's Discussion and Analysis section of this report and in Footnote 15 to the consolidated financial statements and is incorporated by reference herein.

Employees

The Company has approximately 49,425 employees worldwide, of whom 9,705 are covered by collective bargaining agreements or, in certain countries, other collective arrangements decreed by statute.

ITEM 2. REAL PROPERTIES

The following table shows the location and general character of the principal operating facilities owned or leased by the Company. The properties are listed within their designated business segment: Rubbermaid Group; Calphalon/WearEver Group; Parker/Eldon Group; Levolor/Hardware Group; and Little Tikes/Graco Group. These are the primary manufacturing locations and in many instances also contain administrative offices and warehouses used for distribution of our products. The Company also maintains sales offices throughout the United States and the world. The executive offices are located in Rockford, IL, which is a leased facility occupying approximately 9,800 square feet. The corporate offices are located in Illinois in owned facilities at Freeport (approximately 91,000 square feet). Most of the idle facilities, which are excluded from the following list, are subleased while being held pending sale or lease expiration. The Company's properties are generally in good condition, well-maintained, and are suitable and adequate to carry on the Company's business.

ACQUISITIONS OF BUSINESSES

2001, 2000 and 1999

Information regarding businesses acquired in the last three years is included in Footnote 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

1998

On January 21, 1998, the Company acquired Curver Consumer Products. Curver is a manufacturer and marketer of plastic housewares products in Europe and operates as part of Rubbermaid Europe.

On March 27, 1998, the Company acquired Swish Track and Pole from Newmond plc. Swish is a manufacturer and marketer of decorative and functional window furnishings in Europe and operates as part of Newell Window Fashions Europe.

On May 19, 1998, the Company acquired certain assets of Century Products. Century is a manufacturer and marketer of infant products such as car seats, strollers and infant carriers and operates as part of the Graco/Century division.

On June 30, 1998, the Company purchased Panex S.A. Industria e Comercio, a manufacturer and marketer of aluminum cookware products based in Brazil. Panex operates as part of the Mirro division.

On August 31, 1998, the Company purchased the Gardinia Group, a manufacturer and supplier of window treatments based in Germany. Gardinia operates as part of Newell Window Fashions Europe.

On September 30, 1998, the Company purchased the Rotring Group, a manufacturer and supplier of writing instruments, drawing instruments, art materials and color cosmetic products based in Germany. The writing and drawing instruments portion of Rotring operates as part of Sanford International. The art materials portion of Rotring operates as part of Sanford North America. The color cosmetic products portion of Rotring operates as a separate U.S. division, Cosmolab.

For the acquisitions made in 1998, the Company paid $615.7 million in cash and assumed $99.5 million in debt. The finalized purchase price allocations for these acquisitions resulted in trade names and goodwill of approximately $387.1 million.

1997

On March 5, 1997, the Company purchased the Rolodex business, a marketer of office products such as card files, personal organizers and paper punches, from Insilco Corporation. Rolodex was integrated into Eldon.

On May 30, 1997, the Company acquired the Kirsch business, a manufacturer and distributor of drapery hardware and custom window coverings, from Cooper Industries Incorporated. The Kirsch North American operations were combined with Newell Window Furnishings and Levolor Home Fashions; the Kirsch European portion operates as part of Newell Window Fashions Europe.

For the acquisitions made in 1997, the Company paid $514.2 million in cash and assumed $4.3 million in debt. The finalized purchase price allocations for these acquisitions resulted in trade names and goodwill of approximately $351.3 million.

(1) Quarterly gross income amounts differ from those disclosed in the Form 10-Q for each respective quarter due to the reclassification of restructuring charges related to discontinued product lines to conform with the 2001 presentation. Charges reclassified from Restructuring Costs to Cost of Products Sold in 2001 were (in thousands): $87, $888, $485 and $4,091 for the first, second, third and fourth quarters, respectively; the full year 2000 reclassification totaled $5,551.

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION

The following discussion and analysis provides information which management believes is relevant to an assessment and understanding of the Company's consolidated results of operations and financial condition. The discussion should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements and footnotes thereto.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following table sets forth for the periods indicated items from the Consolidated Statements of Income as a percentage of net sales:

Year Ended December 31,	2001	2000	1999
Net sales	100.0%	100.0%	100.0%

Cost of products sold	73.0	73.7	74.1
Gross Income	27.0	26.3	25.9
Selling, general and administrative expenses	16.9	13.0	16.5
Restructuring costs	1.0	0.6	3.6

Operating Income	8.3	12.0	5.1
Nonoperating expenses:

Other, net	0.3	0.2	0.2
Net Nonoperating Expenses	2.3	2.1	1.7
Income before income taxes	6.0	9.9	3.4
Income taxes	2.2	3.8	2.0
Net Income	3.8%	6.1%	1.4%

2001 VERSUS 2000

Net sales for 2001 were $6,909.3 million, representing a decrease of $25.4 million, or 0.4%, from $6,934.7 million in 2000. The sales decline was primarily due to shelf space losses at key customers and a significant downturn in the US economy partially offset by $498.5 million of sales contributions from Paper Mate/Parker (acquired December 2000). Net sales for each of the Company's segments (and the primary reasons for the year-to-year changes) were as follows:

Year Ended December 31,	2001	2000	% Change
(In millions)
Rubbermaid (1)	$1,819.3	$1,946.5	(6.5)%
Parker/Eldon (2)	1,673.5	1,288.0	29.9
Levolor/Hardware (1)	1,382.6	1,455.0	(5.0)
Calphalon/WearEver (1)	1,161.7	1,246.9	(6.8)
Little Tikes/Graco (1)	872.2	998.3	(12.6)
	$6,909.3	$6,934.7	(0.4)%

Primary reasons for changes:

(1) Internal sales decline primarily due to shelf space losses at key customers and a significant downturn in the US economy.*

(2) $498.5 million of sales contribution from the Paper Mate/Parker acquisition+ (December 2000) offset by internal sales decline of 8.8% primarily due to softness in the commercial channel and a significant downturn in the US economy.

* Internal sales growth/decline is defined by the Company as growth/decline from its core businesses, which include continuing businesses owned more than one year and minor acquisitions.

\+ Acquisitions and divestitures are described in Footnote 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Gross income as a percentage of net sales in 2001 was 27.0%, or $1,862.7 million, versus 26.3%, or $1,826.0 million, in 2000. Excluding restructuring related and other charges relating to integration costs of recent acquisitions of $7.4 million ($4.7 million after taxes) and $7.9 million ($4.9 million after taxes) in 2001 and 2000, respectively, gross income as a percent of net sales was 27.1%, or $1,870.1 million in 2001 versus 26.4%, or $1,833.9 million in 2000. This improvement in gross income is primarily due to the implementation of a productivity initiative throughout the Company and contributions from the Paper Mate/Parker acquisition. The Company's productivity objective is to reduce the cost of manufacturing a product by at least five percent per year on an ongoing basis in order to become the low-cost supplier to our customers. To achieve productivity improvements, the Company will focus on reducing purchasing costs, materials handling costs, manufacturing inefficiencies, and excess overhead costs to reduce the overall cost of manufacturing products. The Company's productivity in 2001 was affected primarily by the increased costs associated with slowed manufacturing in an effort to reduce inventory levels (net inventories decreased $148.8 million during 2001) offset by improved raw material costs.

Selling, general and administrative expenses ("SG&A") in 2001 were 16.9% of net sales, or $1,168.2 million, versus 13.0%, or $899.4 million, in 2000. Excluding charges relating to integration costs of recent acquisitions of $12.0 million ($7.7 million after taxes) and $8.8 million ($5.4 million after taxes) in 2001 and 2000, respectively, SG&A as a percent of net sales was 16.7% or $1,156.2 million in 2001 compared to 12.8% or $890.6 million in 2000. The increase in SG&A is a result of the Paper Mate/Parker acquisition and planned investments in marketing initiatives, including the Company's Key Account and Phoenix Programs, supporting the Company's brand portfolio and key account strategy.

In 2001, the Company introduced the Key Account Program, establishing sales organizations specifically for Wal*Mart, The Home Depot and Lowe's. As part of this program, the Company established President-level positions to more effectively manage the relationships with these accounts. The program allows the Company to present these customers with "one face" to enhance the Company's response time and understanding of the customer's needs, to support the best possible relationship.

In 2001, the Company also introduced its Phoenix Program. This initiative is an action-oriented field sales force consisting of approximately 500 recent university graduates. The team works in the field, primarily within our Key Account structure, performing product demonstrations, merchandising product, interacting with the end-user, and maintaining an ongoing relationship with store personnel. This initiative allows the Company to enhance product placement and minimize stock outages and, together with the Key Account Program, to maximize shelf space potential. This program, implemented July 2001, gained traction throughout the year. Impact from this initiative is expected to translate to the Consolidated Financial Statements through the impact of shelf space gains going forward.

During 2001, the Company recorded pre-tax restructuring charges associated with the Company's strategic restructuring plan. The restructuring plan is intended to streamline the Company's supply chain to ensure its position as the low cost global provider throughout the Company's product portfolio. The plan consists of reducing worldwide headcount over the three years beginning in 2001, and includes consolidating duplicate manufacturing facilities. As part of this plan, the Company incurred employee severance and termination benefit costs for approximately 1,700 employees. Additionally, the Company incurred facility exit costs related primarily to the closure of 14 facilities (four at Rubbermaid, one at Parker/Eldon, six at Levolor/Hardware and three at Calphalon/WearEver). See Footnote 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for a review of the charges.

During 2000, the Company recorded pre-tax restructuring charges related primarily to the continued Rubbermaid integration and plant closures in the Home Decor segment. The Company incurred employee severance and termination benefit costs related to approximately 700 employees terminated in 2000. Such costs included severance and government mandated settlements for facility closures at Rubbermaid Europe, change in control payments made to former Rubbermaid executives, employee terminations at the domestic Rubbermaid divisions and severance at the Home Decor segment. The Company incurred merger transaction costs related primarily to legal settlements for Rubbermaid's 1998 sale of a former division and other merger related contingencies resolved in 2000. Additionally, the Company incurred facility and other exit costs related primarily to the closure of five European Rubbermaid facilities, three window furnishings facilities as well as the exit of various Rubbermaid product lines. See Footnote 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for a review of the charges.

For the year ended December 31, 2001, goodwill amortization and other as a percentage of net sales were 0.8%, or $57.0 million, versus 0.7%, or $51.9 million, for the year ended December 31, 2000. The increase in goodwill amortization is a result of additional goodwill associated with the Paper Mate/Parker acquisition in December 2000.

Operating income in 2001 was 8.3% of net sales, or $570.9 million, versus 12.0% of net sales, or $831.7 million, in 2000. Excluding restructuring and other charges of $86.1 million ($54.8 million after taxes) in 2001 and $59.7 million ($36.7 million after taxes) in 2000, operating income was $657.0, or 9.5%, of net sales in 2001 versus $891.4 million, or 12.9%, of net sales in 2000. The decrease in operating margins was primarily due to planned investment in marketing initiatives supporting the Company's brand portfolio and key account strategy.

Net nonoperating expenses in 2001 were 2.3% of net sales, or $155.0 million, versus 2.1%, or $146.2, million in 2000. The increased expenses in 2001 are a result of the Company's increased average level of debt, partially offset by lower interest rates.

The effective tax rate was 36.4% for the year ended December 31, 2001 versus 38.5% in the prior year. See Footnote 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for an explanation of the effective tax rate.

Net income for 2001 was $264.6 million compared to net income of $421.6 million in 2000. Basic and diluted earnings per share in 2001 decreased to $0.99 versus $1.57 in 2000. Excluding 2001 pre-tax charges of $86.1 million ($54.8 million after taxes) as discussed above, net income in 2001 was $319.4 million. Excluding 2000 pre-tax charges of $59.7 million ($36.7 million after taxes), net income in 2000 was $458.3 million. Diluted earnings per share, calculated on the same basis, decreased 29.8% to $1.20 versus $1.71 in 2000. The decrease in net income and earnings per share for 2001 was primarily due to internal sales declines and planned investment in the Company's marketing initiatives.

34

2000 VERSUS 1999

Net sales for 2000 were $6,934.7 million, representing an increase of $222.9 million, or 3.3%, from $6,711.8 million in 1999. Net sales for each of the Company's segments (and the primary reasons for the year-to-year changes) were as follows:

Year Ended December 31,	2000	1999	% Change
(IN MILLIONS)
Rubbermaid	$1,946.5	$2,004.3	(2.9)%
Parker/Eldon (1)	1,288.0	1,218.0	5.7
Levolor/Hardware	1,455.0	1,400.6	3.9
Calphalon/WearEver (2)	1,246.9	1,186.0	5.1
Little Tikes/Graco (3)	998.3	902.9	10.6
	$6,934.7	$6,711.8	3.3%

Primary reasons for changes:

(1) Internal sales growth of 3.8% enhanced by $30.6 million of sales contribution from the acquisitions of Rotring and Reynolds.

(2) Internal sales decline of 1.4% offset by $77.1 million of sales contribution from the acquisitions of Ceanothe, Mersch, Brio and Panex.

(3) Internal sales growth due to shelf space gains at key retailers.

Gross income as a percent of net sales in 2000 was 26.3%, or $1,826.0 million, versus 25.9%, or $1,736.4, million in 1999. Excluding costs associated with the Rubbermaid merger and certain realignment and other charges of $7.9 million and $111.0 million in 2000 and 1999, respectively, gross income as a percent of net sales was 26.4%, or $1,833.9 million, in 2000 versus 27.5%, or $1,847.4 million, in 1999. This decrease in gross margins in 2000 was primarily attributable to lower sales volume and higher material costs.

SG&A in 2000 was 13.0% of net sales, or $899.4 million versus 16.5%, or $1,104.5 million, in 1999. Excluding costs associated with the Rubbermaid merger and certain realignment and other charges of $8.8 million and $178.8 million in 2000 and 1999, respectively,

SG&A as a percent of net sales was 12.8%, or $890.6 million, in 2000 versus 13.8%, or $925.7 million, in 1999. The decrease in SG&A expenses is primarily the result of integration cost savings at Rubbermaid Home Products, Rubbermaid Europe and Little Tikes and tight spending control throughout the rest of the Company's core businesses.

During 2000, the Company recorded pre-tax restructuring charges related primarily to the continued Rubbermaid integration and plant closures in the Home Decor segment. The Company incurred employee severance and termination benefit costs related to approximately 700 employees terminated in 2000. Such costs included severance and government mandated settlements for facility closures at Rubbermaid Europe, change in control payments made to former Rubbermaid executives, employee terminations at the domestic Rubbermaid divisions and severance at the Home Decor segment. The Company incurred merger transaction costs related primarily to legal settlements for Rubbermaid's 1998 sale of a former division and other merger related contingencies resolved in 2000. Additionally, the Company incurred facility and other exit costs related primarily to the closure of five European Rubbermaid facilities, three window furnishings facilities as well as the exit of various Rubbermaid product lines. See Footnote 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for a review of the charges.

During 1999, the Company recorded pre-tax restructuring charges related primarily to the integration of the Rubbermaid business into Newell. Merger transaction costs related primarily to investment banking, legal and accounting costs for the Newell/Rubbermaid merger. Employee severance and termination benefits related to approximately 750 employees terminated in 1999. Such costs included change in control payments made to former Rubbermaid executives and severance and termination costs at Rubbermaid's former headquarters, Rubbermaid Home Products division, Little Tikes division, Rubbermaid Commercial Products division and Newell divisions. Facility and other exit costs representing impaired Rubbermaid centralized computer software (abandoned as a result of converting Rubbermaid onto existing Newell centralized computer software) and costs related to discontinued product lines, the closure of seven Rubbermaid facilities, write-off of assets associated with abandoned projects and impaired assets and other exit costs. See Footnote 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for a review of the charges.

Goodwill amortization as a percentage of net sales was 0.7% in 2000 and 1999.

Operating income in 2000 was 12.0% of net sales, or $831.7 million, versus 5.1% of net sales, or $343.6 million, in 1999. Excluding restructuring and other charges of $59.7 million in 2000 and $531.4 million in 1999, operating income was $891.4, or 12.9%, of net sales in 2000 versus $875.0 million, or 13.0%, of net sales in 1999.

Net nonoperating expenses in 2000 were 2.1% of net sales, or $146.2 million, versus 1.7%, or $112.7 million, in 1999. The increased expenses in 2000 are a result of the Company's increased level of debt and higher interest rates.

For 2000 and 1999, the effective tax rates were 38.5% and 58.7%, respectively. The higher rate in 1999 was primarily due to nondeductible transaction costs associated with the Rubbermaid merger. See Footnote 12 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for an explanation of the effective tax rate.

Net income for 2000 was $421.6 million, representing an increase of $326.2 million from 1999. Basic and diluted earnings per share in 2000 increased to $1.57 versus $0.34 in 1999. Excluding 2000 pre-tax charges of $59.7 million ($36.7 million after taxes) as discussed above, net income in 2000 was $458.3 million. Excluding 1999 pre-tax charges of $531.4 million ($369.6 million after taxes), net income in 1999 was $465.0 million. Diluted earnings per share, calculated on the same basis, increased 3.6% to $1.71 in 2000 versus $1.65 in 1999. The decrease in net income for 2000 was primarily due to increased raw material costs and lower sales volume, offset partially by Rubbermaid integration cost savings, tight spending control at other core businesses and internal growth. Diluted earnings per share increased in 2000 versus 1999 as a result of the lower share base due to the stock repurchase program.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Sources

The Company's primary sources of liquidity and capital resources include cash provided from operations and use of available borrowing facilities.

Cash provided by operating activities in 2001 was $865.4 million, compared to $623.5 and $554.0 million for 2000 and 1999, respectively. The increase in operating cash flows is primarily due to improved working capital management, principally in the areas of inventory and accounts payable. In 2001, the Company announced an increased focus on working capital which resulted in reduced inventory of $148.8 million and increased accounts payable of $158.9 million. As a result, the Company generated free cash flow (defined by the Company as cash provided by operating activities less capital expenditures and dividends) of $391.6 million compared to $81.8 million and $128.1 million in 2000 and 1999, respectively.

The Company has short-term foreign and domestic uncommitted lines of credit with various banks which are available for short-term financing. Borrowings under the Company's uncommitted lines of credit are subject to the discretion of the lender. The Company's lines of credit do not have a material impact on the Company's liquidity. Borrowings under the Company's lines of credit at December 31, 2001 totaled $19.1 million.

The Company has a revolving credit agreement of $1,300.0 million that will terminate in August 2002. The Company intends to extend the revolving credit agreement beyond 2002. During 2000, the Company entered into a 364-day revolving credit agreement in the amount of $700.0 million which expired in October 2001. As of December 31, 2001, there were no borrowings under the remaining $1,300.0 million revolving credit agreement.

In lieu of borrowings under the Company's revolving credit agreement, the Company may issue up to $1,300.0 million of commercial paper. The Company's revolving credit agreement provides the committed backup liquidity required to issue commercial paper. Accordingly, commercial paper may only be issued up to the amount available for borrowing under the Company's revolving credit agreement. At December 31, 2001, $707.5 million (principal amount) of commercial paper was outstanding. Because the backup revolving credit agreement expires in August 2002, the entire $707.5 million is classified as current portion of long-term debt. The Company plans to extend maturities by replacing a portion of current debt with longer-term debt facilities. By extending maturities, the Company can reduce its reliance on the current commercial paper program.

The revolving credit agreement permits the Company to borrow funds on a variety of interest rate terms. The agreement requires, among other things, that the Company maintain a certain Total Indebtedness to Total Capital Ratio and limits Subsidiary Indebtedness, as defined in the agreement. As of December 31, 2001, the Company was in compliance with this agreement.

The Company had outstanding at December 31, 2001 a total of $1,012.5 million (principal amount) of medium-term notes. The maturities on these notes range from 3 to 30 years at an average interest rate of 6.34%. Of the outstanding amount of medium-term notes, $100.0 million is classified as the current portion of long-term debt and the remaining $912.5 million is classified as long-term debt. A $779.5 million universal shelf registration statement became effective in July 1999. As of December 31, 2001, $449.5 million of Company debt and equity securities may be issued under the shelf.

On September 18, 2001, the Company entered into an agreement with a financial institution creating a financing entity which is consolidated in the Company's financial statements. Under the agreement, the Company regularly enters into transactions with the financing entity to sell an undivided interest in the Company's receivables. In the quarter ended September 30, 2001, the financing entity issued $450.0 million in preferred debt securities to a financial institution. Those preferred debt securities must be retired or redeemed before the Company can have access to the financing entity's receivables. The receivables and the corresponding $450.0 million preferred debt issued by the subsidiary to the financial institution are recorded on the consolidated accounts of the Company. The proceeds of this debt were used to pay down commercial paper. Because this debt matures in 2008, the entire amount is considered to be long-term debt. The provisions of the debt agreement allow the entire outstanding debt to be called upon certain events including the Company's long-term senior unsecured debt rating falling below Baa2 (Moody's) or BBB (Standard & Poor's) and certain levels of accounts receivable write-offs. As of December 31, 2001, the Company was in compliance with the agreement.

Uses

The Company's primary uses of liquidity and capital resources include acquisitions, dividend payments and capital expenditures.

In 2001, cash used for 2001 acquisitions and deferred payments on prior acquisitions was $107.5 million. The Company made several minor acquisitions in 2001 for cash purchase prices totaling $61.2 million. In 2000, cash used for 2000 acquisitions and deferred payments on prior acquisitions was $597.8 million. The Company acquired Mersch, Brio and Paper Mate/Parker and made other minor acquisitions in 2000 for cash purchase prices totaling $635.2 million. In 1999, cash used for 1999 acquisitions and deferred payments on prior acquisitions was $345.9 million. The Company acquired Ateliers, Reynolds, McKechnie, Ceanothe and made other minor acquisitions for cash purchase prices totaling $397.3 million in 1999.

The following table summarizes the Company's contractual obligations as of December 31, 2001:

Contractual Obligations	Payments Due by Period (in mil
	Total	Less than 1 year	1-3 years
Notes Payable to Banks	$ 9.1	$ 19.1	-
Long-term Debt	2,172.5	807.5	415.5
Operating Leases	180.3	56.6	68.9
Total Contractual Obligations	$2,379.1	$891.9	$484.1

In 2001, the Company made payments on long-term debt, net of proceeds, of $354.7 million, compared to net additional borrowings of $836.8 million in 2000 and $194.7 million in 1999. The Company's ability to pay down additional debt was due primarily to increased focus on working capital management (primarily inventory and accounts payable) and current year cash earnings.

Cash used for restructuring activities was $49.7 million, $32.9 million and $145.5 million for the years ended December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Such payments represent primarily employee termination benefits and facility closure and other exit costs related to the Company's strategic restructuring plan and recent acquisitions.

Capital expenditures were $249.8 million, $316.6 million and $200.1 million in 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Aggregate dividends paid during 2001, 2000 and 1999 were $224.0, $225.1 million and $225.8 million, respectively.

On February 7, 2000, the Company announced a stock repurchase program of up to $500.0 million of the Company's outstanding common stock. During 2000, the Company repurchased 15.5 million shares of its common stock at an average price of $26 per share, for a total cash price of $403.0 million under the program. The repurchase program remained in effect until December 31, 2000 and was financed through the use of working capital and commercial paper.

Retained earnings increased in 2001 and 2000 by $40.4 million and $196.3 million, respectively. The decrease in the earnings growth rate between 2001 and 2000 was primarily due to reduced net income from lower than expected sales volume and planned investment in marketing initiatives supporting the Company's brand portfolio and key account strategy.

Working capital at December 31, 2001 was $316.8 million compared to $1,329.5 million at December 31, 2000 and $1,108.7 million at December 31, 1999. The decrease in working capital is primarily due to reclassifying $707.5 million in long-term debt in 2000 as current in 2001, as discussed above, and the Company's increased focus on working capital management.

The current ratio at December 31, 2000 was 1.13:1 compared to 1.86:1 at December 31, 2000 and 1.68:1 at December 31, 1999.

Total debt to total capitalization (total debt is net of cash and cash equivalents, and total capitalization includes total debt, company-obligated mandatorily redeemable convertible preferred securities of a subsidiary trust and stockholders' equity) was .43:1 at December 31, 2001, .46:1 at December 31, 2000 and .33:1 at December 31, 1999.

The Company believes that cash provided from operations and borrowing facilities will continue to provide adequate support for the cash needs of existing businesses; however, certain events, such as significant acquisitions, could require additional external financing.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company's accounting policies are more fully described in Footnote 1 of the Footnotes to the Consolidated Financial Statements. As disclosed in Footnote 1, the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions about future events that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying footnotes. Future events and their effects cannot be determined with absolute certainty. Therefore, the determination of estimates requires the exercise of judgment. Actual results inevitably will differ from those estimates, and such differences may be material to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The most significant accounting estimates inherent in the preparation of the Company's financial statements include estimates as to the recovery of accounts receivable, inventory, goodwill and other long-lived assets as well as those used in the determination of liabilities related to litigation, product liability, customer discounts, taxation, restructuring, post-retirement and pension benefits and environmental matters. Various assumptions and other factors underlie the determination of these significant estimates. The process of determining significant estimates is fact specific and takes into account factors such as historical experience, current and expected economic conditions, product mix, and in some cases, actuarial techniques. The Company re-evaluates these significant factors as facts and circumstances dictate. Historically, actual results have not differed significantly from those determined using the estimates described above.

Sales of merchandise and freight billed to customers, net of provisions for cash discounts, returns, customer discounts (such as volume or trade), co-op advertising and other sales discounts are recognized as revenue upon shipment to customers and when all substantial risks of ownership change.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

At the beginning of 2001, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("FAS") No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities." This statement requires companies to record derivatives on the balance sheet as assets or liabilities, measured at fair value. Any changes in fair value of these instruments are recorded in the income statement or other comprehensive income. The impact of adopting FAS No. 133 on January 1, 2001 resulted in a cumulative after-tax gain of approximately $13.0 million, recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income. The cumulative effect of adopting FAS No. 133 did not materially impact the results of operations.

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Boards ("FASB") issued FAS No. 141, "Business Combinations", and FAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets". FAS No. 141 requires all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 to be accounted for using the purchase method of accounting. Historically, all acquisitions by the Company have been accounted for as purchases, thus there was no effect on the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements upon adoption of this standard, in contrast, all mergers have been accounted for as poolings of interest. FAS No. 142 becomes effective in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001, with early adoption permitted. The Company plans to early adopt the provisions of FAS No. 142 beginning in the first quarter of fiscal 2002. In accordance with this standard, goodwill will no longer be amortized but will be subject to annual assessment for impairment by applying a fair-value-based test. All other intangible assets will continue to be amortized over their estimated useful lives. Goodwill amortization expense was $57.0 million for the twelve months ended December 31, 2001. The Company anticipates that the application of the nonamortization provisions will increase annual net income by approximately $41.0 million, or $0.15 per share. During 2001 and the first quarter 2002, the Company performed the required impairment tests of goodwill and indefinite lived intangible assets as of January 1, 2002. Subject to final analysis, the Company expects to record a pre-tax goodwill impairment charge of $500.0 million to $550.0 million in the first quarter of 2002.

In August 2001, the FASB issued FAS No. 144, "Accounting for Impairment of Disposal of Long-Lived Assets." This statement established a single accounting model for long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale and provides additional implementation guidance for assets to be held and used and assets to be disposed of other than by sale. The statement supersedes FAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of" and amends the accounting and reporting provisions of Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 30 related to the disposal of a segment of a business. The statement is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. The Company adopted FAS No. 144 on January 1, 2002, and the standard did not have a material impact on its financial position or results of operations.

In August 2001, the Emerging Issues Task Force ("EITF") issued EITF No. 01-09 "Accounting for Consideration Given by Vendor to a Customer or a Reseller of Vendor's Product" which codified and reconciled the Task Force's consensuses in EITF 00-14 "Accounting for Certain Sales Incentives", EITF 00-22 "Accounting for Points and Certain Other Time Based Sales Incentives or Volume Based Sales Incentive Offers, and Offers of Free Products or Services to Be Delivered in the Future", and EITF 00-25 "Vendor Income Statement Characterization of Consideration Paid to a Reseller of the Vendor's Products". These EITF's prescribe guidance regarding the timing of recognition and income statement classification of costs incurred for certain sales incentive programs to resellers and end consumers. EITF No. 01-09 did not impact results of operations because the Company recognizes sales incentives upon recognition of revenue and classifies them as reductions of gross revenue and recognizes free goods as a cost of goods sold when shipped, both in accordance with the prescribed rules.

In May 2000, the EITF issued EITF No. 00-10 "Accounting for Shipping and Handling Fees and Costs." EITF No. 00-10 requires that amounts billed to customers related to shipping and handling costs be classified as revenue and all expenses related to shipping and handling be classified as a cost of products sold. Historically, these revenues and costs had been netted together and deducted from gross sales to arrive at net sales. The net sales and cost of products sold have been restated for this change. The impact of this change increased net sales and cost of products sold by $286.1 million and $298.7 million for the years ended December 31, 2000 and December 31, 1999, respectively. There was no impact on gross income resulting from this change.

LEGAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS

The Company is subject to legal proceedings and claims, including various environmental matters, in the ordinary course of its business. Such legal proceedings are more fully described in Footnote 15 to the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements. Although management of the Company cannot predict the ultimate outcome of these legal proceedings with certainty, it believes that the ultimate resolution of the Company's legal proceedings, including any amounts it may have to pay in excess of amounts reserved, will not have a material effect on the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements.

INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS

The Company's non-U.S. business is growing at a faster pace than its business in the United States. This growth outside the U.S. has been fueled by recent international acquisitions, primarily in Europe. For the years ended December 31, 2001, December 31, 2000 and December 31, 1999, the Company's non-U.S. business accounted for approximately 27%, 25% and 23% of net sales, respectively (see Footnote 14 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). Growth of both U.S. and non-U.S. businesses is shown below:

43

Year Ended December 31,	2001	2000	% Change
(IN MILLIONS)
Net sales:
U.S.	$5,040.6	$5,191.5	(2.9)%
Non-U.S.	1,868.7	1,743.2	7.2
	$6,909.3	$6,934.7	(0.4)%

Year Ended December 31,	2000	1999	% Change
(IN MILLIONS)
Net sales:
U.S.	$5,191.5	$5,135.4	1.1%
Non-U.S.	1,743.2	1,576.4	10.6
	$6,934.7	$6,711.8	3.3%

MARKET RISK

The Company's market risk is impacted by changes in interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and certain commodity prices. Pursuant to the Company's policies, natural hedging techniques and derivative financial instruments may be utilized to reduce the impact of adverse changes in market prices. The Company does not hold or issue derivative instruments for trading purposes.

The Company's primary market risk is interest rate exposure, primarily in the United States. The Company manages interest rate exposure through its conservative debt ratio target and its mix of fixed and floating rate debt. Interest rate exposure was reduced significantly in 1997 from the issuance of $500.0 million 5.25% Company-Obligated Mandatorily Redeemable Convertible Preferred Securities of a Subsidiary Trust, the proceeds of which reduced commercial paper. Interest rate swaps may be used to adjust interest rate exposures when appropriate based on market conditions, and, for qualifying hedges, the interest differential of swaps is included in interest expense.

The Company's foreign exchange risk management policy emphasizes hedging anticipated intercompany and third-party commercial transaction exposures of one-year duration or less. The Company focuses on natural hedging techniques of the following form:

* offsetting or netting of like foreign currency cash flows,

* structuring foreign subsidiary balance sheets with appropriate levels of debt to reduce subsidiary net investments and subsidiary cash flows subject to conversion risk,

* converting excess foreign currency deposits into U.S. dollars or the relevant functional currency and

* avoidance of risk by denominating contracts in the appropriate functional currency.

In addition, the Company utilizes short-term forward contracts to hedge commercial and intercompany transactions. Gains and losses related to qualifying hedges of commercial and intercompany transactions are deferred and included in the basis of the underlying transactions. Derivative instruments are recorded on the Company's balance sheet at fair value, and any changes in fair value of these instruments are recorded in the income statement or other comprehensive income.

Due to the diversity of its product lines, the Company does not have material sensitivity to any one commodity. The Company manages commodity price exposures primarily through the duration and terms of its vendor contracts.

The amounts shown below represent the estimated potential economic loss that the Company could incur from adverse changes in either interest rates or foreign exchange rates using the value-at-risk estimation model. The value-at-risk model uses historical foreign exchange rates and interest rates to estimate the volatility and correlation of these rates in future periods. It estimates a loss in fair market value using statistical modeling techniques and including substantially all market risk exposures (specifically excluding equity-method investments). The fair value losses shown in the table below do not have an impact on current results of operations or financial condition, but are shown as an illustration of the impact of adverse changes in interest rates.

	Amount	Time Period	Confidence Level
(IN MILLIONS)
Interest rates	$14.5	1 day	95%
Foreign exchange	$0.5	1 day	95%

The 95% confidence interval signifies the Company's degree of confidence that actual losses would not exceed the estimated losses shown above. The amounts shown here disregard the possibility that interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates could move in the Company's favor. The value-at-risk model assumes that all movements in these rates will be adverse. Actual experience has shown that gains and losses tend to offset each other over time, and it is highly unlikely that the Company could experience losses such as these over an extended period of time. These amounts should not be considered projections of future losses, since actual results may differ significantly depending upon activity in the global financial markets.

EURO CURRENCY CONVERSION

On January 1, 1999, the "Euro" became the common legal currency for 11 of the 15 member countries of the European Union. On that date, the participating countries fixed conversion rates between their existing sovereign currencies ("legacy currencies") and the Euro. On January 4, 1999, the Euro began trading on currency exchanges and became available for noncash transactions, if the parties elected to use it. On January 1, 2001, another country (Greece) also adopted the Euro, fixing the conversion rate against their legacy currency. The legacy currencies remained legal tender through December 31, 2001. On January 1, 2002, participating countries introduced Euro-denominated bills and coins, and effective July 1, 2002, legacy currencies will no longer be legal tender.

After the dual currency phase, all businesses in participating countries must conduct all transactions in the Euro and must convert their financial records and reports to be Euro-based. The Company has substantially completed this conversion process and has deemed its information systems to be Euro compliant. As a result of the Euro conversion, the Company experienced no adverse impact to its business or financial condition on a consolidated basis.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Forward-looking statements in this Report are made in reliance upon the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such forward-looking statements may relate to, but are not limited to, information or assumptions about sales, income, earnings per share, return on equity, return on invested capital, capital expenditures, working capital, dividends, capital structure, free cash flow, debt to capitalization ratios, interest rates, internal growth rates, Euro conversion plans and related risks, impact of changes in accounting standards, pending legal proceedings and claims (including environmental matters), future economic performance, operating income improvements, synergies, management's plans, goals and objectives for future operations and growth or the assumptions relating to any of the forward-looking information. The Company cautions that forward-looking statements are not guarantees since there are inherent difficulties in predicting future results. Actual results could differ materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause actual results to differ include, but are not limited to, those matters set forth in this Report and Exhibit 99 to this Report.

ITEM 7A. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

The information required by this item is incorporated herein by reference to the section entitled "Market Risk" in the Company's Management's Discussion and Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Condition (Part II, Item 7).

ITEM 8. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY DATA

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The management of Newell Rubbermaid Inc. is responsible for the accuracy and internal consistency of all information contained in this annual report, including the Consolidated Financial Statements. Management has followed those generally accepted accounting principles, which it believes to be most appropriate to the circumstances of the Company, and has made what it believes to be reasonable and prudent judgments and estimates where necessary.

Newell Rubbermaid Inc. operates under a system of internal accounting controls designed to provide reasonable assurance that its financial records are accurate, that the assets of the Company are protected and that the financial statements fairly present the financial position and results of operations of the Company. The internal accounting control system is tested, monitored and revised as necessary.

Four directors of the Company, not members of management, serve as the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors and are the principal means through which the Board oversees the performance of the financial reporting duties of management. The Audit Committee meets with management and the Company's independent auditors several times a year to review the results of the external audit of the Company and to discuss plans for future audits. At these meetings, the Audit Committee also meets privately with the independent auditors to assure its free access to them.

The Company's independent auditors, Arthur Andersen LLP, audited the financial statements prepared by the management of Newell Rubbermaid Inc. Their opinion on these statements is presented below.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Stockholders of Newell Rubbermaid Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Newell Rubbermaid Inc. (a Delaware corporation) and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999 and the related consolidated statements of income, Stockholders' equity and comprehensive income and cash flows for the years then ended. These consolidated financial statements and the schedule referred to below are the responsibility of Newell Rubbermaid Inc.'s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements and schedule based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Newell Rubbermaid Inc. and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999 and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The schedule listed in Part IV Item 14(a)(2) of this Form 10-K is presented for the purposes of complying with the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and is not part of the basic financial statements. This schedule has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, fairly states in all material respects the financial data required to be set forth therein in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

FOOTNOTE 1

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

PRINCIPLES OF CONSOLIDATION: The Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of Newell Rubbermaid Inc. and its majority owned subsidiaries (the "Company") after elimination of intercompany accounts and transactions.

On March 24, 1999, Newell Co. ("Newell") completed a merger with Rubbermaid Incorporated ("Rubbermaid") in which Rubbermaid became a wholly owned subsidiary of Newell. Simultaneously with the consummation of the merger, Newell changed its name to Newell Rubbermaid Inc. The merger was accounted for as a pooling of interests and the financial statements have been restated to combine retroactively Rubbermaid's financial statements with those of Newell as if the merger had occurred at the beginning of the earliest period presented.

USE OF ESTIMATES: The preparation of these financial statements required the use of certain estimates by management in determining the Company's assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses and related disclosures. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

RECLASSIFICATIONS: Certain 2000 and 1999 amounts have been reclassified to conform with the 2001 presentation.

REVENUE RECOGNITION: Sales of merchandise and freight billed to customers, net of provisions for cash discounts, returns, customer discounts (such as volume or trade discounts), co-op advertising and other sales related discounts are recognized upon shipment to customers and when all substantial risks of ownership change. Staff Accounting Bulletin ("SAB") No. 101, which clarified the existing accounting rules for revenue recognition, did not impact the Company's net sales for any years presented. In conformity with SAB 101, revenue is recognized when all of the following circumstances are satisfied: pervasive evidence of an arrangement exists, the price is fixed or determinable, collection is reasonably assured and delivery has occurred.

In August 2001, the Emerging Issues Task Force ("EITF") issued EITF No. 01-09 "Accounting for Consideration Given by Vendor to a Customer or a Reseller of Vendor's Product" which codified and reconciled the Task Force's consensuses in EITF 00-14 "Accounting for Certain Sales Incentives", EITF 00-22 "Accounting for Points and Certain Other Time Based Sales Incentives or Volume Based Sales Incentive Offers, and Offers of Free Products or Services to Be Delivered in the Future", and EITF 00-25 "Vendor Income Statement Characterization of Consideration Paid to a Reseller of the Vendor's Products". These EITF's prescribe guidance regarding the timing of recognition and income statement classification of costs incurred for certain sales incentive programs to resellers and end consumers. EITF No. 01-09 did not impact results of operations because the Company recognizes sales incentives upon recognition of revenue and classifies them as reductions of gross revenue and recognizes free goods as a cost of goods sold when shipped, both in accordance with the prescribed rules.

In May 2000, the EITF issued EITF No. 00-10 "Accounting for Shipping and Handling Fees and Costs." EITF No. 00-10 requires that amounts billed to customers related to shipping and handling costs be classified as revenue and all expenses related to shipping and handling be classified as a cost of products sold. Historically, these revenues and costs had been netted together and deducted from gross sales to arrive at net sales. The net sales and cost of products sold have been restated for this change. The impact of this change increased net sales and cost of products sold by $286.1 million and $298.7 million for the years ended December 31, 2000 and December 31, 1999, respectively. There was no impact on gross income resulting from this change.

DISCLOSURES ABOUT FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS: The Company's financial instruments include cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, notes payable, short and long-term debt and Company-obligated Mandatorily Redeemable Convertible Securities of a Subsidiary Trust. The fair value of these instruments approximates carrying values due to their short-term duration, except as follows:

Derivative Instruments: The fair value of the Company's derivative instruments is recorded in the Consolidated Balance Sheets and is described in more detail in Footnote 7.

Long-term Debt: The fair value of the Company's long-term debt issued under the medium-term note program is estimated based on quoted market prices which approximate cost as of December 31, 2001. All other significant long-term debt is pursuant to floating rate instruments whose carrying amounts approximate fair value.

Company-Obligated Mandatorily Redeemable Convertible Preferred Securities of a Subsidiary Trust: The fair value of the $500.0 million company-obligated mandatorily redeemable convertible preferred securities of a subsidiary trust was $377.5 million at December 31, 2001, based on quoted market prices.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS: Cash and highly liquid short-term investments having a maturity of three months or less.

ALLOWANCES FOR DOUBTFUL ACCOUNTS: Allowances for doubtful accounts at December 31 totaled $57.9 million in 2001, $36.1 million in 2000 and $41.9 million in 1999. On January 22, 2002, one of the Company's largest customers filed for bankruptcy under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Company increased bad debt provisions throughout 2001 to adequately reserve for this bankruptcy.

INVENTORIES: Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market value. Cost of certain domestic inventories (approximately 63%, 59% and 67% of total inventories at December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively) was determined by the "last-in, first-out" ("LIFO") method; for the balance, cost was determined using the "first-in, first-out" ("FIFO") method. If the FIFO inventory valuation method had been used exclusively, inventories would have increased by $20.1 million, $15.9 million and $11.4 million at December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Inventory reserves (excluding LIFO reserves) at December 31 totaled $117.3 million in 2001, $114.6 million in 2000 and $119.4 million in 1999. The components of net inventories were as follows:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Materials and supplies	$223.2	$244.8	$240.0
Work in process	162.0	165.3	149.5
Finished products	728.6	852.5	645.3
	$1,113.8	$1,262.6	$1,034.8

OTHER LONG-TERM INVESTMENTS: The Company has a 49% ownership interest in American Tool Companies, Inc., a manufacturer of hand tools and power tool accessory products marketed primarily under the Vise-Grip{R} and Irwin{R} trademarks. This investment is accounted for on the equity method with a net investment of $79.5 million at December 31, 2001. The Company's share of undistributed earnings of the investment included in consolidated retained earnings was $43.9 million at December 31, 2001.

LONG-TERM MARKETABLE EQUITY SECURITIES: Long-term marketable equity securities classified as available for sale are carried at fair value with adjustments to fair value reported separately, net of tax, as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income (and excluded from earnings). Gains and losses on the sales of long-term marketable equity securities are based upon the average cost of securities sold. The Company sold all of its marketable equity securities in December 2001, and realized a $5.0 million pre-tax loss. Long-term marketable equity securities for prior years are summarized as follows:

December 31,	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Aggregate market value	$9.2	$10.8
Aggregate cost	11.0	10.6
Unrealized pre-tax (loss) ga in	$(1.8)	$0.2

PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT: Replacements and improvements are capitalized. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense. Depreciation expense is calculated to amortize, principally on the straight-line basis, the cost of the depreciable assets over their depreciable lives. Maximum useful lives determined by the Company are: buildings and improvements (20-40 years) and machinery and equipment (3-12 years). Property, plant and equipment consisted of the following:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Land	$59.5	$60.7	$63.4
Buildings and improvements	732.5	736.1	691.3
Machinery and equipment	2,546.2	2,421.6	2,200.7
	3,338.2	3,218.4	2,955.4
Accumulated depreciation	(1,649.0)	(1,461.5)	(1,407.2)
	$1,689.2	$1,756.9	$1,548.2

TRADE NAMES AND GOODWILL: In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("FAS") No. 141, "Business Combinations" and No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets" effective for fiscal years beginning after December 31, 2001. Under the new rules, goodwill and intangible assets deemed to have indefinite lives will no longer be amortized, but will be subject to periodic impairment tests in accordance with the statements. Other intangible assets will continue to be amortized over their useful lives. The statement also required business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 to be accounted for using the purchase method of accounting, and broadens the criteria for recording intangible assets separate from goodwill.

Effective January 1, 2002, all amortization expense on goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives will stop. The Company anticipates that the application of the nonamortization provisions will increase annual net income by approximately $41.0 million or $0.15 per diluted share. During 2001 and the first quarter 2002, the Company performed the required impairment tests of goodwill and indefinite lived intangible assets as of January 1, 2002. Subject to final analysis, the Company expects to record a pre-tax goodwill impairment charge of $500.0 million to $550.0 million in the first quarter of 2002.

The cost of trade names and goodwill represents the excess of cost over identifiable net assets of businesses acquired. Prior to the adoption of FAS 141, the Company did not allocate such excess cost to trade names separate from goodwill, but allocated it to other identifiable intangible assets recorded in long-term Other Assets. Through the year ended December 31, 2001, trade names and goodwill were amortized over 40 years and other identifiable intangible assets were amortized over 5 to 20 years. Trade names and goodwill consisted of the following:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Cost	$2,671.6	$2,485.8	$2,270.5
Accumulated amortization	(354.7)	(295.9)	(245.6)
	$2,316.9	$2,189.9	$2,024.9

Other identifiable intangible assets (recorded in Other Assets) consisted of the following:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Cost	$82.0	$96.1	$93.0
Accumulated amortization	(36.7)	(34.7)	(34.3)
	$45.3	$61.4	$58.7

LONG-LIVED ASSETS: Subsequent to acquisition, the Company periodically evaluates whether later events and circumstances have occurred that indicate the remaining estimated useful life of long-lived assets may warrant revision or that the remaining balance of long-lived assets may not be recoverable. If factors indicate that long-lived assets should be evaluated for possible impairment, the Company uses an estimate of the relevant business' undiscounted net cash flow over the remaining life of the long-lived assets in measuring whether the carrying value is recoverable. An impairment loss would be measured by reducing the carrying value to fair value, based on a discounted cash flow analysis.

In August 2001, the FASB issued FAS No. 144, "Accounting for Impairment of Disposal of Long-Lived Assets." This statement established a single accounting model for long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale and provides additional implementation guidance for assets to be held and used and assets to be disposed of other than by sale. The statement supersedes FAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of" and amends the accounting and reporting provisions of Accounting Principles Board ("APB") Opinion No. 30 related to the disposal of a segment of a business. The statement is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. The adoption of FAS No. 144 on January 1, 2002 will require separate presentation of the discontinued operations for the Company's pending divestiture of Anchor Hocking Glass ("Anchor"), as disclosed further in Footnote 2.

OTHER ACCRUED LIABILITIES: Customer accruals are promotional allowances and rebates given to customers in exchange for their selling efforts. The self-insurance accrual is primarily casualty liability such as workers' compensation, general and product liability and auto liability and is estimated based upon historical loss experience. Accrued liabilities included the following:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Customer accruals	$253.3	$240.7	$296.6
Accrued self-insurance liability	107.2	99.9	92.0

FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION: Foreign currency balance sheet accounts are translated into U.S. dollars at the rates of exchange in effect at fiscal year end. Income and expenses are translated at the average rates of exchange in effect during the year. The related translation adjustments are made directly to accumulated other comprehensive income. International subsidiaries operating in highly inflationary economies translate nonmonetary assets at historical rates, while net monetary assets are translated at current rates, with the resulting translation adjustment included in net income as other nonoperating (income) expenses. Foreign currency transaction losses were $1.9 million, $1.9 million and $1.1 million in 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

ADVERTISING COSTS: The Company expenses advertising costs as incurred, including cooperative advertising programs with customers. Total cooperative advertising expense was $196.8 million, $209.2 million and $205.3 million for 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Cooperative advertising is recorded in the Consolidated Financial Statements as a reduction of sales because it is viewed as part of the negotiated price of products. All other advertising costs are charged to selling, general and administrative expenses and totaled $100.3 million, $80.0 million and $80.0 million in 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT COSTS: Research and development costs relating to both future and present products are charged to selling, general and administrative expenses as incurred. These costs aggregated $67.2 million, $49.4 million and $49.9 million in 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

EARNINGS PER SHARE: The calculation of basic and diluted earnings per share for the years ended December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively, is shown below (IN MILLIONS, EXCEPT PER SHARE DATA):

64

2001	Basic Method	"In the Money" Stock Options (1)	Convertible Preferred Securities (2)	Diluted Method
Net income	$264.6	-	-	$264.6
Weighted average shares outstanding	266.7	0.3	-	267.0
Earnings per share	$0.99			$ 0.99
2000
Net income	$421.6	-	-	$421.6
Weighted average shares outstanding	268.4	0.1	-	268.5
Earnings per share	$1.57			$ 1.57
1999
Net income	$ 95.4	-	-	$ 95.4
Weighted average shares outstanding	281.8	0.2	-	282.0
Earnings per share	$ 0.34			$ 0.34

(1) The weighted average shares outstanding for 2001, 2000 and 1999 exclude the dilutive effect of approximately 3.9 million, 7.6 million and 4.2 million options, respectively, since such options had an exercise price in excess of the average market value of the Company's common stock during the respective years.

(2) The convertible preferred securities are anti-dilutive in 2001, 2000 and 1999 and, therefore, have been excluded from diluted earnings per share. Had the convertible preferred shares been included in the diluted earnings per share calculation, net income would be increased by $16.8 million, $16.4 million and $16.3 million in 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively, and weighted average shares outstanding would have increased by 9.9 million shares in all years.

COMPREHENSIVE INCOME: Comprehensive income and accumulated other comprehensive income encompass net income, net after-tax unrealized gains or losses on securities available for sale, foreign currency translation adjustments, net losses on derivative instruments and net minimum pension liability adjustments in the Consolidated Statements of Stockholders' Equity and Comprehensive Income. The following table displays the components of accumulated other comprehensive income or loss (IN MILLIONS):

For these and for other minor acquisitions made in 1999, the Company paid $397.3 million in cash and assumed $45.1 million of debt.

The transactions summarized above were accounted for as purchases; therefore, results of operations are included in the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements since their respective acquisition dates. The acquisition costs for the 2001 acquisitions were allocated on a preliminary basis to the fair market value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The Company's finalized integration plans may include exit costs for certain plants and product lines and employee termination costs. The final adjustments to the purchase price allocations are not expected to be material to the Consolidated Financial Statements. The preliminary purchase price allocations for the 2001 acquisitions and the finalized purchase price allocations for the 2000 and 1999 acquisitions resulted in trade names and goodwill of approximately $705.9 million.

The Company began to formulate integration plans for the Paper Mate/Parker, Brio and Mersch SA acquisitions as of their respective dates of acquisition. The integration plans for these acquisitions were finalized during 2001 and resulted in integration plan liabilities of $67.9 million for facility and other exit costs, $32.6 million for employee severance and termination benefits and $3.4 million for other pre-acquisition contingencies. These reserves are primarily related to the closure of Paper Mate manufacturing facilities in California and integration of Paper Mate's European operations into existing Newell European writing instruments businesses. In addition, integration reserves were established for the closure of several Mersch and Brio facilities as these businesses are integrated into existing Newell European picture frame businesses. As of December 31, 2001, $32.4 million of integration plan reserves remain related to the 2000 and 1999 acquisitions.

None of the 2001 acquisitions were included in the pro forma calculations because their effect was immaterial. The unaudited consolidated results of operations for the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000 on a pro forma basis, as though the 2000 acquisitions of Mersch, Brio and Paper Mate/Parker had been acquired on January 1, 2000, are as follows (unaudited):

Year Ended December 31,	2001	2000
(IN MILLIONS, EXCEPT PER SHARE AMOUNTS)
Net sales	$6,909.3	$7,489.7
Net income	264.0	382.5
Earnings per share (basic)	$0.99	$1.43

MERGERS

On March 24, 1999, the Company completed the Rubbermaid merger. The merger qualified as a tax-free exchange and was accounted for as a pooling of interests. Newell issued .7883 Newell Rubbermaid shares (those of the Company as a combined entity) for each outstanding share of Rubbermaid common stock. A total of 119.0 million shares (adjusted for fractional and dissenting shares) of the Company's common stock were issued as a result of the merger, and Rubbermaid's outstanding stock options were converted into options to purchase approximately 2.5 million Newell Rubbermaid common shares.

No adjustments were made to the net assets of the combining companies to adopt conforming accounting practices or fiscal years other than adjustments to eliminate the accounting effects related to Newell's purchase of Rubbermaid's office products business ("Eldon") in 1997. Because the Newell Rubbermaid merger was accounted for as a pooling of interests, the accounting effects of Newell's purchase of Eldon have been eliminated as if Newell had always owned it.

The following table presents a reconciliation of net sales and net income (loss) for Newell and Rubbermaid individually to those presented in the accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements:

Year Ended December 31,	1999
(In millions)
Net sales:
Newell	$4,146.8
Rubbermaid	2,565.0
	$6,711.8
Net income (loss):
Newell	$285.2

Rubbermaid	(189.8)

PENDING DIVESTITURE

On June 18, 2001, the Company announced the sale of Anchor for $322.0 million. On January 14, 2002, the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC") filed a complaint challenging the legality of the sale of Anchor. The FTC believes the sale of Anchor to the current buyer could create a monopoly in the market for glassware in the foodservice industry. On January 21, 2002, the Company signed an amended agreement with the buyer to divest of Anchor, excluding the foodservice business, for $277.5 million. The Company is defending the restructured transaction. Annual net sales from Anchor (including the foodservice business) totaled $196.6 million, $206.7 million and $210.8 million for the years ended December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Anchor is included in the Calphalon/WearEver segment.

Effective January 1, 2002, the carrying amount of Anchor will be classified as held for sale in the Consolidated Balance Sheets in accordance with FAS No. 144. The results of operations for Anchor will be reported separately in the Consolidated Statements of Income as a discontinued operation. The expected gain from this divestiture will be recognized when the sale is finalized.

RESTRUCTURING COSTS

Certain expenses incurred in the reorganization of the Company's operations are considered to be restructuring expenses. Pre-tax restructuring costs consisted of the following:

Year Ended December 31,	2001	20
(IN MILLIONS)
Facility and other exit costs	$34.6	$
Employee severance and termination benefits	28.5
Exited contractual commitments	1.0	-

Recorded as Restructuring Costs	$66.7	$
Discontinued Product Lines (in Cost of Sales)	3.8
Total Costs Related to Restructuring Plans	$70.5	$

Restructuring provisions were determined based on estimates prepared at the time the restructuring actions were approved by management. An analysis of the Company's restructuring plan reserves is as follows (IN MILLIONS):

	12/31/99 Balance	Provision	Co Inc
Facility and other exit costs	$9.9	$19.6	$(
Employee severance and termination benefits	0.6	26.8	(
Exited contractual commitments	7.4	-
Other	-	2.2
	$17.9	$48.6	$(

	12/31/00 Balance	Provision	C In
Facility and other exit costs	$11.8	$38.4	$(
Employee severance and termination benefits	3.3	28.5	(
Exited contractual commitments	4.6	1.0
Other	2.2	2.6
	$21.9	$70.5	$(

* Cash paid for restructuring activities was $49.7 million, $32.9 million and $145.5 million in 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

The facility and other exit cost reserves of $20.1 million at December 31, 2001 are primarily related to future minimum lease payments on a vacated Levolor/Hardware European facility and closure costs related to six additional facilities (one at Rubbermaid, one at Parker/Eldon, two at Levolor/Hardware and two at Calphalon/WearEver). Severance reserves of $6.2 million at December 31, 2001 are primarily related to payments to approximately 25 former Newell executives who are receiving severance payments under employment agreements. As of December 31, 2001, $1.9 million of reserves remain for restructuring charges recorded in 1999 for contractual commitments on abandoned Rubbermaid computer software. No other restructuring reserves remain from the 2000 and 1999 restructuring charges.

2001

During 2001, the Company recorded pre-tax restructuring charges associated with the Company's strategic restructuring plan. The restructuring plan is intended to streamline the Company's supply chain to ensure its position as the low cost global provider throughout the Company's product portfolio. The plan consists of reducing worldwide headcount over the three years beginning in 2001, and includes consolidating duplicate manufacturing facilities. As part of this plan, the Company incurred employee severance and termination benefit costs for approximately 1,700 employees. Additionally, the Company incurred facility exit costs related primarily to the closure of 14 facilities (four at Rubbermaid, one at Parker/Eldon, six at Levolor/Hardware and three at Calphalon/WearEver).

2000

During 2000, the Company recorded pre-tax restructuring charges related primarily to the continued Rubbermaid integration and plant closures in the Home Decor segment. The Company incurred employee severance and termination benefit costs related to approximately 700 employees terminated in 2000. Such costs included severance and government mandated settlements for facility closures at Rubbermaid Europe, change in control payments made to former Rubbermaid executives, employee terminations at the domestic Rubbermaid divisions and severance at the Home Decor segment. The Company incurred merger transaction costs related primarily to legal settlements for Rubbermaid's 1998 sale of a former division and other merger related contingencies resolved in 2000. Additionally, the Company incurred facility and other exit costs related primarily to the closure of five European Rubbermaid facilities, three window furnishings facilities as well as the exit of various Rubbermaid product lines.

1999

During 1999, the Company recorded pre-tax restructuring charges related primarily to the integration of the Rubbermaid business into Newell. Merger transaction costs related primarily to investment banking, legal and accounting costs for the Newell/Rubbermaid merger. Employee severance and termination benefits related to approximately 750 employees terminated in 1999. Such costs included change in control payments made to former Rubbermaid executives and severance and termination costs at Rubbermaid's former headquarters, Rubbermaid Home Products division, Little Tikes division, Rubbermaid Commercial Products division and Newell divisions. Facility and other exit costs representing impaired Rubbermaid centralized computer software (abandoned as a result of converting Rubbermaid onto existing Newell centralized computer software) and costs related to discontinued product lines, the closure of seven Rubbermaid facilities, write-off of assets associated with abandoned projects and impaired assets and other exit costs.

CREDIT ARRANGEMENTS

The Company has short-term foreign and domestic uncommitted lines of credit with various banks which are available for short-term financing. Borrowings under the Company's uncommitted lines of credit are subject to the discretion of the lender. The Company's uncommitted lines of credit do not have a material impact on the Company's liquidity. The following is a summary of borrowings under foreign and domestic lines of credit:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Notes payable to banks:
Outstanding at year-end
- borrowing	$ 19.1	$ 23.5	$97.3

LONG-TERM DEBT

The following is a summary of long-term debt:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Medium-term notes	$1,012.5	$1,012.5	$859.5
Commercial paper	707.5	1,503.7	718.5
Preferred debt securities	450.0	-	-
Other long-term debt	2.5	7.1	27.9
Total debt	2,172.5	2,523.3	1,605.9
Current portion of long-term debt	(807.5)	(203.7)	(150.1)
Long-term Debt	$1,365.0	$2,319.6	$1,455.8

The Company has a revolving credit agreement of $1,300.0 million that will terminate in August 2002. During 2000, the Company entered into a 364-day revolving credit agreement in the amount of $700.0 million. The 364-day revolving credit agreement terminated in October 2001. At December 31, 2001, there were no borrowings under the remaining $1,300.0 million revolving credit agreement.

In lieu of borrowings under the Company's revolving credit agreement, the Company may issue commercial paper. The Company's revolving credit agreement provides the committed backup liquidity required to issue commercial paper. Accordingly, commercial paper may only be issued up to the amount available for borrowing under the Company's revolving credit agreement. At December 31, 2001, $707.5 million (principal amount) of commercial paper was outstanding. Because the backup revolving credit agreement expires in August 2002, the entire $707.5 million is classified as current portion of long-term debt.

The revolving credit agreement permits the Company to borrow funds on a variety of interest rate terms. The agreement requires, among other things, that the Company maintain a certain Total Indebtedness to Total Capital Ratio and limits Subsidiary Indebtedness, as defined in the agreement. As of December 31, 2001, the Company was in compliance with this agreement.

The Company had outstanding at December 31, 2001 a total of $1,012.5 million (principal amount) of medium-term notes. The maturities on these notes range from 3 to 30 years at an average interest rate of 6.34%. Of the outstanding amount of medium-term notes, $100.0 million is classified as current portion of long-term debt and $912.5 million is classified as long-term debt. A $779.5 million universal shelf registration statement became effective in July 1999. As of December 31, 2001, $449.5 million of Company debt and equity securities may be issued under the shelf registration statement.

On September 18, 2001, the Company entered into an agreement with a financial institution creating a financing entity which is consolidated in the Company's financial statements. Under the agreement, the Company regularly enters into transactions with the financing entity to sell an undivided interest in the Company's trade receivables to the financing entity. In the quarter ended September 30, 2001, the financing entity issued $450.0 million in preferred debt securities to a financial institution. Those preferred debt securities must be retired or redeemed before the Company can have access to the financing entity's receivables. The receivables and the corresponding $450.0 million preferred debt issued by the subsidiary to the financial institution are recorded in the Consolidated Balance Sheets of the Company. The proceeds of this debt were used to pay down commercial paper issued by the Company. Because this debt matures in 2008, the entire amount is considered to be long-term debt. The provisions of the debt agreement allow the entire outstanding debt to be called upon certain events including the Company's debt rating falling below investment grade (Baa2; Moody's debt rating and BBB; Standard & Poor's debt rating), and certain levels of accounts receivable write-offs. As of December 31, 2001, the Company was in compliance with the agreement.

The aggregate maturities of long-term debt outstanding are as follows:

December 31,	Aggregate Maturities
(IN MILLIONS)
2002	$ 807.5
2003	415.5
2004	-
2005	22.0

Thereafter	777.5

FOOTNOTE 6

COMPANY-OBLIGATED MANDATORILY REDEEMABLE CONVERTIBLE PREFERRED SECURITIES OF A SUBSIDIARY TRUST

The Company fully and unconditionally guarantees 10.0 million shares of 5.25% convertible preferred securities issued by a 100% owned finance subsidiary of the Company, which are callable at 103.15% of the liquidation preference, decreasing over time to 100% by December 2007. Each of these "Preferred Securities" is convertible into 0.9865 of a share of Company common stock, and is entitled to a quarterly cash distribution at the annual rate of $2.625 per share.

The proceeds of the Preferred Securities were invested in $500.0 million of the Company 5.25% Junior Convertible Subordinated Debentures. The Debentures are the sole assets of the subsidiary trust, mature on December 1, 2027, bear interest at an annual rate of 5.25%, are payable quarterly and became redeemable by the Company beginning in December 2001. The Company may defer interest payments on the Debentures for a period of up to 20 consecutive quarters, during which period distribution payments on the Preferred Securities are also deferred. Under this circumstance, the Company may not declare or pay any cash distributions with respect to its common or preferred stock or debt securities that do not rank senior to the Debentures.

As of December 31, 2001, the Company has not elected to defer interest payments. The $500.0 million of the Preferred Securities is classified as Company-Obligated Mandatorily Redeemable Convertible Preferred Securities of a Subsidiary Trust in the Consolidated Balance Sheet.

FOOTNOTE 7

DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

At the beginning of 2001, the Company adopted FAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities." This statement requires companies to record derivatives on the balance sheet as assets or liabilities, measured at fair value. Any changes in fair value of these instruments are recorded in the income statement or other comprehensive income. The impact of adopting FAS No. 133 on January 1, 2001 resulted in a cumulative after-tax gain of approximately $13.0 million, recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income. The cumulative effect of adopting FAS No. 133 did not materially impact the results of operations.

The Company has limited involvement with derivative financial instruments and does not use them for trading purposes. Derivative financial instruments are used to manage certain interest rate and foreign currency risks. These instruments include interest rate swaps, long-term cross currency interest rate swaps, and short-term forward exchange contracts.

The Company entered into several interest rate swap agreements, designated as cash flow hedging relationships, as a means to mitigate the risk of rising interest rates in future periods by converting certain floating rate debt instruments into fixed rate debt. Gains and losses on these instruments, to the extent that the hedge relationship has been effective, are deferred in other comprehensive income and recognized in interest expense over the period in which the Company recognizes interest expense on the related debt instrument. Any ineffectiveness on these instruments is immediately recognized in interest expense in the period that the ineffectiveness occurs. During 2001, the ineffectiveness related to these instruments was insignificant. The maximum length of time over which the Company is hedging its interest rate exposure through the use of interest rate swap agreements is seven years, and the Company expects approximately $10.9 million of losses, net of tax, deferred in other comprehensive income to be recognized in earnings over the 12 months ended December 31, 2002. At December 31, 2001, the Company had interest rate swaps with an outstanding notional principal amount of $372.0 million, with accrued interest payable of $1.6 million.

The Company utilizes forward exchange contracts to manage foreign exchange risk related to both known and anticipated intercompany transactions and third-party commercial transaction exposures of one year duration or less. The Company also utilizes long-term cross currency interest rate swaps to hedge long-term intercompany transactions. The maturities on these long-term cross currency interest rate swaps range from three to five years. At December 31, 2001, the Company had long-term cross currency interest rate swaps with an outstanding notional principal amount of $337.3 million, with accrued interest receivable of $2.9 million.

Gains and losses related to qualifying forward exchange contracts, which hedge intercompany transactions or third-party commercial transactions, are deferred in other comprehensive income with a corresponding asset or liability until the underlying transaction occurs and are considered to have a cash flow hedging relationship. The gains and losses reported in accumulated other comprehensive income will be reclassified to earnings upon completion of the underlying transaction being hedged. The net loss recognized in 2001 for matured cash flow forward exchange contracts was $1.0 million, which was recognized in the income statement. The Company estimates that $0.6 million of losses, net of tax, deferred in accumulated other comprehensive income will be recognized in earnings over the 12 months ending December 31, 2002.

Derivative instruments used to hedge intercompany loans are marked to market with the corresponding gains or losses included in accumulated other comprehensive income and are considered to have a fair value hedging relationship. The net gain recognized in 2001 for forward exchange contracts and cross currency interest rate swaps was $2.2 million, which was recognized as part of interest income on the income statement.

The following table summarizes the Company's short-term forward exchange contracts and long-term cross currency interest rate swaps in U.S. dollars by major currency and contractual amount. The "buy" amounts represent the U.S. equivalent of commitments to purchase foreign currencies, and the "sell" amounts represent the U.S. equivalent of commitments to sell foreign currencies according to the local needs of the subsidiaries. The contractual amounts of significant short-term forward exchange contracts and long-term cross currency interest rate swaps and their fair values as of December 31, 2001 were as follows:

December 31,	2001		2000
(IN MILLIONS)	Buy	Sell	Buy	Sell
British Pounds	$174.9	$178.2	$1.6	$165.2
Canadian Dollars	207.8	31.6	149.4	24.0
Euro	43.7	232.2	0.2	350.2
Other	23.9	9.8	-	8.6
	$450.3	$451.8	$151.2	$548.0
Fair Value recorded in the Consolidated Balance Sheet	$440.0	$448.2	$146.9	$508.4

79

The Company's short-term forward exchange contracts and long-term cross currency interest rate swaps do not subject the Company to risk due to foreign exchange rate movement, since gains and losses on these instruments generally offset gains and losses on the assets, liabilities, and other transactions being hedged. The Company does not obtain collateral or other security to support derivative financial instruments subject to credit risk, but monitors the credit standing of the counterparties.

FOOTNOTE 8

LEASES

The Company leases manufacturing and warehouse facilities, real estate, transportation, data processing and other equipment under leases which expire at various dates through the year 2013. Rent expense was $112.0 million, $102.9 million and $91.9 million in 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. Future minimum rental payments for operating leases with initial or remaining terms in excess of one year are as follows:

Year ending December 31,	Minimum Payments
(IN MILLIONS)
2002	$56.6
2003	40.3
2004	28.6
2005	18.5
2006	12.2
Thereafter	24.1
	$180.3

FOOTNOTE 9

EMPLOYEE BENEFIT AND RETIREMENT PLANS

As of December 31, 2001, the Company continued to maintain various deferred compensation plans with varying terms. The total liability associated with these plans was $52.3 million, $49.2 million and $49.6 million as of December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. These liabilities are included in Other Noncurrent Liabilities in the Consolidated Balance Sheet. These plans are partially funded with asset balances of $41.9 million, $39.6 million and $37.6 million as of December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. These assets are included in Other Noncurrent Assets in the Consolidated Balance Sheet.

Effective January 1, 2002, the Company adopted a deferred compensation plan pursuant to which certain management and highly compensated employees are eligible to defer up to 50% of their regular compensation and up to 100% of their bonuses, and nonemployee board members are eligible to defer up to 100% of their directors compensation. The compensation deferred under this plan along with earnings is fully vested at all times.

The Company has a Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan ("SERP"), which is a nonqualified defined benefit plan pursuant to which the Company will pay supplemental pension benefits to certain key employees upon retirement based upon the employees' years of service and compensation. The SERP is being funded through a trust agreement with the Northern Trust Company, as trustee, that owns life insurance policies on key employees. At December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, the life insurance contracts had a cash surrender value of $56.0 million, $44.1 million and $30.0 million, respectively. These assets are included in Other Noncurrent Assets in the Consolidated Balance Sheet. The amount of coverage is designed to provide sufficient reserves to cover all costs of the plan. The projected benefit obligation was $59.8 million, $57.1 million and $44.8 million at December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively. The SERP liabilities are included in the pension table below; however, the Company's investment in the life insurance contracts are excluded from the table as they do not qualify as plan assets under FAS No. 87, Employers' Accounting for Pensions.

The Company and its subsidiaries have noncontributory pension, profit sharing and contributory 401(k) plans covering substantially all of their foreign and domestic employees. Pension plan benefits are generally based on years of service and/or compensation. The Company's funding policy is to contribute not less than the minimum amounts required by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended or local statutes to assure that plan assets will be adequate to provide retirement benefits. The Company's common stock comprised $56.6 million, $46.7 million and $48.7 million of noncontributory pension plan assets at December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

The Company's matching contributions to the profit sharing plans were $15.4 million, $14.5 million and $12.3 million for the years ended December 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999, respectively.

In addition, several of the Company's subsidiaries currently provide retiree health care and life insurance benefits for certain employee groups.

The following provides a reconciliation of benefit obligations, plan assets and funded status of the Company's noncontributory pension plans, SERP and postretirement benefit plans within the guidelines of FAS No. 132:

Prior service cost recognized	(1.1)	(0.5)	(0.4)	-
Actuarial (gain) loss	(0.3)	(1.3)	0.8	-
Net pension (income) expense	$(3.0)	$(7.8)	$4.3	$14.3

The projected benefit obligation, accumulated benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets for the pension plans with accumulated benefit obligations in excess of plan assets are as follows:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Projected benefit obligation	$(443.0)	$103.7	$145.2
Accumulated benefit obligation	(404.1)	85.3	131.0
Fair value of plan assets	307.0	-	50.8

Assumed health care cost trends have been used in the valuation of postretirement benefits. The trend rate is 6% in 2001, but will increase to 10% (for retirees under age 65) and 12% (for retirees over age 65) in 2002, declining to 6% for all retirees in 2009 and thereafter. The Company increased the medical care cost trend due to significant increases in actual medical costs.

The health care cost trend rate significantly affects the reported postretirement benefit costs and obligations. A one percentage point change in the assumed rate would have the following effects:

	1% Increase	1% Decrease
(IN MILLIONS)

Effect on total of service and interest cost components	$1.8	$(1.6)
Effect on postretirement benefit obligations	17.5	(16.1)

STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

At December 31, 2001, the Company's common stock consists of 800.0 million authorized shares with a par value of $1.00 per share.

On February 7, 2000, the Company announced a stock repurchase program of up to $500.0 million of the Company's outstanding common stock. During 2000, the Company repurchased 15.5 million shares of its common stock at an average price of $26.00 per share, for a total cash price of $403.0 million under the program. The repurchase program remained in effect until December 31, 2000 and was financed through the use of working capital and commercial paper.

Each share of common stock includes a stock purchase right (a "Right"). Each Right will entitle the holder, until the earlier of October 31, 2008 or the redemption of the Rights, to buy the number of shares of common stock having a market value of two times the exercise price of $200.00, subject to adjustment under certain circumstances. The Rights will be exercisable only if a person or group acquires 15% or more of voting power of the Company or announces a tender offer after which it would hold 15% or more of the Company's voting power. The Rights held by the 15% stockholder would not be exercisable in this situation.

Furthermore, if, following the acquisition by a person or group of 15% or more of the Company's voting stock, the Company was acquired in a merger or other business combination or 50% or more of its assets were sold, each Right (other than Rights held by the 15% stockholder) would become exercisable for that number of shares of common stock of the Company (or the surviving company in a business combination) having a market value of two times the exercise price of the Right.

The Company may redeem the Rights at $0.001 per Right prior to the occurrence of an event that causes the Rights to become exercisable for common stock.

FOOTNOTE 11

STOCK OPTIONS

The Company's stock option plans are accounted for under APB Opinion No. 25. As a result, the Company grants fixed stock options under which no compensation cost is recognized. Had compensation cost for the plans been determined consistent with FAS No. 123, the Company's net income and earnings per share would have been reduced to the following pro forma amounts:

Year Ended December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(In millions, except per share data)
Net income:
As reported	$264.6	$421.6	$95.4
Pro forma	249.1	410.5	88.2
Diluted earnings per share:
As reported	$0.99	$1.57	$0.34
Pro forma	0.93	1.53	0.31

Because the FAS No. 123 method of accounting has not been applied to options granted prior to January 1, 1995, the resulting pro forma compensation cost may not be representative of that to be expected in future years.

The Company has authorized 16.1 million shares of common stock to be issued under various stock option plans. As of January 1, 2001, under the Company's primary 1993 Stock Option Plan, the Company could grant options for up to 13.3 million shares, of which the Company has granted 12.0 million options and canceled 2.4 million options through December 31, 2001. Under this plan, the option exercise price equals the common stock's closing price on the date of the grant, and options vest over a five-year period and expire ten years from the date of grant.

The following summarizes the changes in the number of shares of common stock under option, including options to acquire common stock resulting from the conversion of options under pre-merger Rubbermaid option plans:

INCOME TAXES

The provision for income taxes consists of the following:

Year Ended December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Current:
Federal	$90.8	$154.8	$120.6
State	11.6	14.9	6.3

Foreign	23.3	34.4	18.2
	125.7	204.1	145.1
Deferred	25.5	59.8	(9.6)
	$151.2	$263.9	$135.5

The non-U.S. component of income before income taxes was $69.9 million in 2001, $84.7 million in 2000 and $56.3 million in 1999.

The components of the net deferred tax asset are as follows:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Deferred tax assets:
Accruals not currently deductible for tax purposes	$173.5	$158.7	$198.0
Postretirement liabilities	76.2	81.8	80.5
Inventory reserves	48.3	42.2	28.4
Self-insurance liability	36.1	32.1	29.5
Foreign net operating losses	109.2	70.6	26.6
Amortizable intangibles	-	9.6	27.2

Amortizable intangibles	(9.2)	-	-
Other	(18.8)	(24.7)	(16.2)
	(205.4)	(203.1)	(207.4)

90

Net deferred tax asset	$250.1	$191.9	$188.8
Valuation allowance	(85.3)	(53.2)	(23.9)
Net deferred tax asset after valuation allowance	$164.8	$138.7	$164.9

At December 31, 2001, the Company had the following net operating loss ("NOL") carryovers:

Country	Tax Benefit of NOL Carryover	Valuation Allowance	Expiration
(IN MILLIONS)
France	$37.1	$31.2	2005-2007

Germany	20.1	12.1	No expiration
Luxembourg	6.2	6.2	No expiration
Netherlands	6.6	4.3	No expiration
United Kingdom	26.8	21.7	No expiration
Other	12.4	9.8	No expiration
	$109.2	$85.3

The Company generated losses in certain jurisdictions and legal entities for which management believes it is unlikely that such benefits will be realized and, therefore, provided a valuation allowance against such benefits. Approximately $17.4 million of the total net operating loss benefits relate to the acquisition of the Gillette Stationery Products Group in 2000. To the extent that these losses are utilized in the future, such benefits will reduce goodwill associated with this acquisition.

The net deferred tax asset is classified in the Consolidated Balance Sheets as follows:

December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN MILLIONS)
Current net deferred income tax asset	$238.5	$231.9	$250.6
Noncurrent deferred income tax liability	(73.7)	(93.2)	(85.7)
	$164.8	$138.7	$164.9

91

A reconciliation of the U.S. statutory rate to the effective income tax rate is as follows:

Year Ended December 31,	2001	2000	1999
(IN PERCENT)
Statutory rate	35.0%	35.0%	35.0%
Add (deduct) effect of:
State income taxes, net of federal income tax effect	2.8	2.2	2.7

Foreign rate differential	5.1	.7	(.6)
Federal, state and foreign audit settlements and other	(6.6)	(.2)	(2.3)
Effective rate	36.4%	38.5%	58.7%

No U.S. deferred taxes have been provided on the undistributed non-U.S. subsidiary earnings which are considered to be permanently invested. At December 31, 2001, the estimated amount of total unremitted non-U.S. subsidiary earnings is $72.7 million.

FOOTNOTE 13

OTHER NONOPERATING EXPENSES (INCOME)

Total other nonoperating expenses (income) consist of the following:

INDUSTRY SEGMENT INFORMATION

On April 2, 2001, the Company announced the realignment of its operating segment structure. This realignment reflects the Company's focus on building large consumer brands, promoting organizational integration and operating efficiencies and aligning the businesses with the Company's key account strategy. The five new segments have been named for leading worldwide brands in the Company's product portfolio. The realignment streamlines what had previously been six operating segments. Based on this management structure, the Company's segment results are as follows (IN MILLIONS):

FOOTNOTE 15

LITIGATION

The Company is involved in legal proceedings in the ordinary course of its business. These proceedings include claims for damages arising out of use of the Company's products, allegations of infringement of intellectual property, commercial disputes and employment matters as well as the environmental matters described below. Some of the legal proceedings include claims for punitive as well as compensatory damages, and a few proceedings purport to be class actions.

As of December 31, 2001, the Company was involved in various matters concerning federal and state environmental laws and regulations, including matters in which the Company has been identified by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and certain state environmental agencies as a potentially responsible party ("PRP") at contaminated sites under the Federal Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act ("CERCLA") and equivalent state laws.

In assessing its environmental response costs, the Company has considered several factors, including: the extent of the Company's volumetric contribution at each site relative to that of other PRPs; the kind of waste; the terms of existing cost sharing and other applicable agreements; the financial ability of other PRPs to share in the payment of requisite costs; the Company's prior experience with similar sites; environmental studies and cost estimates available to the Company; the effects of inflation on cost estimates; and the extent to which the Company's and other parties' status as PRPs is disputed.

The Company's estimate of environmental response costs associated with these matters as of December 31, 2001 ranged between $14.2 million and $18.1 million. As of December 31, 2001, the Company had a reserve equal to $15.8 million for such environmental response costs in the aggregate. No insurance recovery was taken into account in determining the Company's cost estimates or reserve, nor do the Company's cost estimates or reserve reflect any discounting for present value purposes, except with respect to two long-term (30 year) operations and maintenance CERCLA matters which are estimated at present value.

Because of the uncertainties associated with environmental investigations and response activities, the possibility that the Company could be identified as a PRP at sites identified in the future that require the incurrence of environmental response costs and the possibility of additional sites as a result of businesses acquired, actual costs to be incurred by the Company may vary from the Company's estimates.

Although management of the Company cannot predict the ultimate outcome of these legal proceedings with certainty, it believes that the ultimate resolution of the Company's legal proceedings, including any amounts it may be required to pay in excess of amounts reserved, will not have a material effect on the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements.

ITEM 9. CHANGES IN AND DISAGREEMENTS WITH ACCOUNTANTS ON ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE

None.

PART III

ITEM 10. DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS OF THE REGISTRANT

Information regarding executive officers of the Company is included as a Supplementary Item at the end of Part I of this Form 10-K.

Information regarding the Directors of the Company is set forth below:

Alton F. Doody, age 67, has been President and Chief Executive Officer of The Alton F. Doody Co. (a marketing consulting company) since 1984. Dr. Doody was co-founder of Management Horizons, Inc., now a division of PriceWaterhouseCoopers. For 12 years, Dr. Doody served as a Professor of Marketing and Business Strategy at The Ohio State University. Dr. Doody has been a director of the Company since 1976. His term as a director expires at the 2002 annual meeting of stockholders.

William D. Marohn, age 61, retired in December 1998 as Vice Chairman of the Board of Whirlpool Corporation (a manufacturer and marketer of major home appliances), a post he held since February 1997. From October 1992 through January 1997, Mr. Marohn served as the President and Chief Operating Officer of Whirlpool Corporation. From January through October 1992, he was President of Whirlpool Europe, B.V. From April 1989 through December 1991, Mr. Marohn served as Executive Vice President of Whirlpool's North American Operations and from 1987 through March 1989 he was President of Whirlpool's Kenmore Appliance Group. Prior to retirement, Mr. Marohn had been associated with Whirlpool since 1964. Mr. Marohn has been a director of the Company since 1999. 101

1989. She is also a director of UNUM Provident Corporation (an insurance company) and 28 mutual funds managed by Merrill Lynch & Co. or one of its subsidiaries. Ms. Montgomery has been a director of the Company since 1995. Her term as a director expires at the 2004 annual meeting of stockholders.

Allen P. Newell, age 55, has been a private investor for more than five years. Mr. Newell has been a director of the Company since 1982. His term as a director expires at the 2004 annual meeting of stockholders.

Gordon R. Sullivan, age 64, General, U.S. Army (Ret.), has been President of the Association of the United States Army since February 1998. From 1995 through 1997, Mr. Sullivan served as President of Coleman Federal, a division of Coleman Research Corporation (a systems engineering company and a subsidiary of Thermo Electron Corporation). From 1991 through 1995, Mr. Sullivan served as the 32nd Chief of Staff of the United States Army and as a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Prior thereto, Mr. Sullivan served as Vice Chief of Staff and Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations and Plans of the United States Army. Mr. Sullivan has been a director of the Company since 1999. His term as a director expires at the 2004 annual meeting of stockholders.

SECTION 16(a) BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP COMPLIANCE REPORTING

Based solely upon a review of reports on Forms 3, 4 and 5 and any amendments thereto furnished to the Company pursuant to Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and written representations from the executive officers and directors that no other reports were required, the Company believes that all of such reports were filed on a timely basis by executive officers and directors during 2001, except that Mr. Galli filed a late Form 3 and that Dr. Cowen filed a late Form 4 with respect to one stock option exercise.

ITEM 11. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

COMPENSATION OF DIRECTORS

Directors of the Company who are not also employees of the Company are paid an annual retainer of $40,000, plus a $2,000 fee for each Board meeting attended and a $1,000 fee for each committee meeting attended, unless such meetings are conducted telephonically, in which case the fee is $500 for each meeting. Committee chairmen receive an additional $1,000 fee for each committee meeting attended, whether in person or telephonically. Non-employee directors of the Company are eligible to receive options to purchase shares of common stock under the Newell Rubbermaid Inc. Amended 1993 Stock Option Plan (the "1993 Option Plan"). Under the 1993 Option Plan, each non-employee director receives an automatic grant of an option to purchase

102

10,000 shares of common stock at the time he or she is first elected or appointed as a director of the Company and again on the fifth anniversary of the initial grant. All options are granted at the market value of the common stock on the date of the grant and become exercisable in annual cumulative installments of 20%, commencing one year from the date of grant, with full vesting occurring on the fifth anniversary of the date of grant.

The Company has a consulting agreement with Dr. Katz which provides that the Company will pay Dr. Katz $5,000 per month for corporate strategy consulting services, plus reimbursement of travel expenses and other reasonable out-of-pocket costs incurred on the Company's behalf. Unless canceled prior to 90 days before its expiration, the consulting agreement renews automatically each year. Dr. Katz received a consulting fee of $60,000 in 2001.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

(1) All options granted in 2001 become exercisable in annual cumulative installments of 20%, commencing one year from date of grant, with full vesting occurring on the fifth anniversary date of the date of grant. Vesting may be accelerated as a result of certain changes in control of the Company.
(2) All options were granted at market value on the date of grant, based on the closing price of the common stock on the New York Stock Exchange as reported in THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.
(3) Potential realizable value is reported net of the option exercise price but before taxes associated with exercise. These amounts assume annual compounding results in total appreciation of approximately 63% (5% per year) and approximately 159% (10% per year). Actual gains, if any, on stock option exercises are dependent on the future performance of the common stock, overall market conditions and the continued employment of the Named Officer. There can be no assurance that the amounts reflected in this table will be achieved.

OPTION EXERCISES IN 2001

The table below sets forth certain information for fiscal year 2001 concerning the exercise of options to purchase shares of common stock granted under the Newell 1984 Amended and Restated Stock Option Plan (the "1984 Option Plan") and the 1993 Option Plan by each of the Named Officers and the value of unexercised options granted under the 1984 Option Plan and 1993 Option Plan held by each of the Named Officers as of December 31, 2001.

The Pension Plan covers full-time salaried and clerical employees of the Company and its subsidiaries who have completed one year of service. A participant is eligible for normal retirement benefits under the Pension Plan if his or her employment terminates at or after age 65. For service years prior to 1982, benefits accrued on a straight life annuity basis, using a formula that takes into account the five highest consecutive years of compensation in the ten years before 1982 and years of service, reduced by a portion of expected primary Social Security payments. For service years from and after 1982 and before 1989, benefits accumulated at the rate of 1.1% of compensation not in excess of $25,000 for each year plus 2.3% of compensation in excess of $25,000. For service years from and after 1989, benefits accumulate at the rate of 1.37% of compensation not in excess of $25,000 for each year plus 1.85% of compensation in excess of $25,000. No more than 30 years of service is taken into account in determining benefits. Under the Pension Plan, compensation includes regular or straight-time salary or wages (unreduced for amounts deferred pursuant to the Newell 401(k) Plan and the Flexible Benefits Account Plan), the first $3,000 in bonuses and 100% of commissions. If a participant has completed 15 years of service, upon attainment of age 60, the Pension Plan also provides for an early retirement benefit equal to the benefits described above, reduced by .5% for each month the benefits commence before age 65.

In 1982, the Supplemental Retirement Plan was established, funded by cost recovery life insurance, which covers 241 current officers and key executives, including the Named Officers, and 12 former officers and key executives. The Supplemental Retirement Plan adds to retirement benefits under the Pension Plan so that at age 65, a covered employee receives a maximum aggregate pension equal to 67% of his or her average compensation for the five consecutive years in which it was highest (multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the participant's credited service (not to exceed 25) and the denominator of which is 25). The benefit is reduced by primary Social Security. Compensation includes salary and bonus (unreduced for amounts deferred pursuant to the Newell 401(k) Plan and the Flexible Benefits Accounts Plan). Both the Pension Plan and the Supplemental Retirement Plan provide a death benefit for surviving spouses and dependent children. The Supplemental Retirement Plan also provides for an early retirement benefit upon attainment of age 60 equal to the benefits described above, reduced by .5% for each month the benefits commence before age 65.

As of year end 2001, Mr. Galli had eight years and 11 months of credited service, Mr. Sovey had 26 years, Mr. Parker had ten years, Mr. Cooley had 18 years, Mr. Klatt had nine months, Mr. Alldredge had 19 years, and Mr. Roberts had nine months.

EMPLOYMENT SECURITY AND OTHER AGREEMENTS

The Company has Employment Security Agreements with Mr. Galli, Mr. Parker, Mr. Cooley, Mr. Klatt, Mr. Alldredge, Mr. Roberts and certain other executive officers (collectively, the "Covered Officers"). The agreements provide for the continuation of salary, bonus and certain employee benefits for a severance period of 24 months (but not beyond age 65) following the termination of employment of the Covered Officer within 12 months (but prior to age 65) after certain changes in control of the Company. In the event of such termination of employment, the Covered Officer will continue to receive his base salary and bonus (based upon his average bonus for the three full fiscal years preceding the change in control) during the severance period. The Covered Officer also will receive all benefits accrued under the incentive and retirement plans of the Company to the date of termination of employment and will be given service credit for all purposes of these plans during the severance period. All options held by the Covered Officer with respect to common stock will become immediately exercisable upon the date of termination of employment and remain exercisable for a period of 90 days thereafter.

During the severance period, the Covered Officer and his spouse will continue to be covered by all welfare plans of the Company, and the Company will continue to reimburse the Covered Officer for automobile expenses. However, the amount of any benefits or reimbursement the Covered Officer or his spouse receives will be reduced by the amounts received from another employer or from any other source. If the Covered Officer dies during the severance period, all amounts payable during the remainder of the severance period shall be paid to his surviving spouse, and his spouse will continue to be covered under all applicable welfare plans. No amounts are payable if the employment of the Covered Officer is terminated by the Company for good cause (as defined in the agreements) or if the Covered Officer voluntarily terminates his employment without good reason (as defined in the agreements).
