GLASS LEWIS RECOMMENDS FOREST LABS STOCKHOLDERS
VOTE THE GOLD PROXY CARD

Recommends that stockholders do not vote management's white proxy card

New York, New York - August 9, 2011 - The Icahn Group announced today that Glass, Lewis & Co., Inc. ("Glass Lewis"), one of the leading independent proxy voting advisory firms, recommends Forest Labs shareholders use the GOLD proxy card to vote. Glass Lewis recommends a vote FOR Dr. Richard Mulligan on the Icahn Group's GOLD proxy card.

Edgar Filing: FOREST LABORATORIES INC - Form DFAN14A

In making their recommendation, Glass Lewis points out the following corporate governance flaws at Forest Labs:

"We believe that there are various aspects of the Company's corporate governance that could suggest that the board has become entrenched."

"... In this case, we believe that the Forest Labs board has had ample opportunities to identify and appoint an independent chairman or presiding director. However, we see that the incumbent directors instead appointed a presiding director whose independence is highly questionable. In our view, the appointment of Mr. Goodman as presiding director leaves us feeling highly dubious of the board's ability to enact truly positive corporate governance reforms and only serves to drive home the Icahn Group's argument that the Company's board is filled with entrenched directors."

Glass Lewis also seems unconcerned by Forest's claims of conflict:

"... Although the Company believes that there may be potential business development overlap between Forest Labs and Biogen Idec, the Icahn Group notes that none of Biogen's 2010 net sales were derived from products that compete with Forest Labs products. The Icahn Group also notes that Mr. Mulligan has worked with existing directors of these companies to drive operational and R&D changes to enhance shareholder value."

In addressing Forest Labs stock price performance, Glass Lewis states:

"We find that the Company's stock price performance was better than that of the Peer Group over the recent one-year period but has been worse than the Peer Group over the longer term."

In reaching their conclusion recommending holders vote the GOLD card, Glass Lewis states:

"... we believe that shareholders should support the nomination of Richard Mulligan. Mr. Mulligan currently serves on the boards of Biogen Idec ("Biogen") and Enzon, both of which are companies where the Icahn Group has sought and successfully obtained board seats. We note that share prices of Biogen and Enzon have both increased since Mr. Mulligan became involved with those respective boards."

Additionally, Forest Labs' executive compensation practices receive a D grade in Glass Lewis' proprietary pay-for-performance model, which uses 36 measurement points. Glass Lewis further states:

"The company paid more compensation to its top officers (as disclosed by the Company) than the median compensation for 35 similarly sized companies with a median enterprise value of $6 billion; more than a sector group of 21 large health care companies with enterprise values ranging from $3.8 billion to $9.3 billion; and less than a sub-industry group of 12 pharmaceuticals companies. The CEO was paid above the median CEO in these peer groups. Overall, the Company PAID MORE than its peers, but PERFORMED MODERATELY WORSE than its peers."(Emphasis Added)

Dr. Alex Denner stated, "The Glass Lewis recommendation should send a strong signal to the stockholders of Forest Laboratories that change is warranted at the board level, and the Icahn Group's nominees can provide a fresh perspective and relevant experience to the Forest Laboratories board of directors."

The Icahn Group thanks Glass Lewis for their incisive report and recommendation to use the GOLD proxy card to vote. It is time to send a signal to this entrenched Board. We strongly encourage all stockholders to vote for ALLFOUR
