Dear Fellow Shareholder:

On October 22, 2014 we announced that we had reached an agreement whereby TrustAtlantic Financial Corporation and its subsidiary, TrustAtlantic Bank (the "Bank"), would be acquired by First Horizon National Corporation (NYSE: FHN), headquartered in Memphis, Tennessee. As outlined at that time, the proposed transaction was structured such that TrustAtlantic shareholders could choose to receive 1.4240 shares of First Horizon common stock for each TrustAtlantic share, subject to potential adjustments as provided for in the merger agreement. Alternatively, TrustAtlantic shareholders could elect an equivalent amount of cash based on a formula contained in the merger agreement. The stock and cash election is subject to 75 percent of the overall transaction consideration being in stock and 25 percent in cash.

On November 6, 2014, four commercial banking officers in the Bank's Raleigh headquarters office simultaneously resigned with the stated intent of starting a Raleigh commercial lending office for a competitor bank not currently operating in the market. A substantial portion of the Bank's commercial loan accounts in the Raleigh-Cary market had been assigned to these four individuals to service the relationships. Additionally, two support staff employees subsequently resigned employment at the Bank to join the four commercial bankers.

First Horizon expressed to TrustAtlantic its belief that these departures constituted a Material Adverse Effect under the provisions of the merger agreement, because the departures could negatively impact the future results of TrustAtlantic and the resulting banking operations of First Horizon in this market after the acquisition. To address this concern, First Horizon proposed adjusting the exchange ratio. After extensive review and discussions and consultation with its advisors, the board of directors of TrustAtlantic Financial Corporation determined that it was still in the best interests of shareholders to proceed with the transaction. In order to do so, the parties agreed to amend the exchange ratio such that TrustAtlantic shareholders may choose to receive 1.3261 shares of First Horizon common stock for each TrustAtlantic share, or an equivalent amount in cash. The stock and cash election will remain subject to the overall transaction consideration being 75 percent stock and 25 percent cash.

Based on First Horizon's closing price of $13.71 on December 26, 2014, the amended transaction would be valued at $18.18 per TrustAtlantic share.

With total assets of approximately $24 billion at September 30, First Horizon is the parent company of First Tennessee Bank, a financial institution with a rich, 150 year history of service to its customers and communities.

I encourage you to call me at 919.844.1699 or our Chief Financial Officer, Rick Edwards, at 919.277.8712 if you have any questions. We currently anticipate that the transaction will close during the first half of 2015.

Sincerely,

James A. Beck

President and Chief Executive Officer
