The accompanying notes are an integral part of these consolidated financial statements.

1 Nature of operations

Western Silver Corporation (the Company) is an exploration stage company that is incorporated under the British Columbia Business Corporations Act and is engaged directly, and through joint ventures and subsidiaries, in exploring the future development of mineral properties in Mexico and Canada. The recoverability of the amounts shown for mineral property assets is dependent upon the existence of economically recoverable reserves, securing and maintaining title and beneficial interest in the properties, and the ability of the Company to obtain the necessary financing to continue the exploration and future development of its mining properties, or realizing the carrying amount through a sale.

2 Significant accounting policies

Principles of consolidation

These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Western Silver Corporation and its wholly owned subsidiaries, as listed below. All material intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated.

Western Copper International Ltd. (BVI)
WCI (Peñasquito) Limited (BVI)
Minera Peñasquito, S.A. de C.V. (Mexico)
WCI (Nicolas) Limited (BVI)
Minera Western Copper, S.A. de C.V. (Mexico)
Minera Faja de Plata Limited, (BVI)
Minera Faja de Plata, S.A. de C.V. (Mexico)
WCI (Geronimo) Limited (BVI)
WCI Jeronimo Mexico, S.A. de C.V. (Mexico)
Carmacks Copper Ltd.

Western Silver Corporation has mineral properties that it operates through interests in joint ventures where the Company shares joint control. These joint ventures are accounted for using the proportionate consolidation method.

Use of estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and the related notes. Significant areas where management's judgement is applied include the calculation of net present value of mineral properties, the realization of future income tax benefits, and the assumptions used to calculate stock-based compensation and the value assigned to warrants. Actual results could differ from those reported by a material amount.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash and short-term investments at banks with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

Long-term investments

Long-term investments are categorized as available for sale and valued at cost unless there has been an other than temporary impairment in value, in which case they are written down to net realizable value.

Property, plant, and equipment

Plant, property and equipment are carried at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Mineral properties

The Company records its interest in mineral properties at cost. Exploration and development expenditures relating to properties that have indicated economically recoverable reserves or significant mineralization requiring additional exploration, as well as interest and costs to finance those expenditures, are deferred and will be amortized against future production following commencement of commercial production, or written off if the properties are sold, allowed to lapse, abandoned, or become impaired.

Option payments are made at the discretion of the optionee and, accordingly, are accounted for on a cash basis.

Management of the Company reviews the net carrying value of each mineral property when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. Where information is available and conditions suggest impairment, estimated future net cash flows from each property are calculated using estimated future prices, reserves and resources, and operating, capital and reclamation costs on an undiscounted basis. If the net carrying value of the property exceeds the estimated future net cash flows, the property will be written down to the fair value as determined by using discounted cash flows.

Where estimates of future net cash flows are not available and where other conditions suggest impairment, management assesses whether carrying value can be recovered. This assessment may be estimated by using quantifiable evidence of a geological resource or reserve or the Company's assessment of its ability to sell the property for an amount greater than the carrying value.

Management's estimates of mineral prices, recoverable proven and probable reserves and resources, and operating, capital and reclamation costs are subject to certain risks and uncertainties which may affect the assessment of recoverability of mineral property costs. Although management has made its best estimate of these factors, it is possible that changes could occur in the near term which could have a material adverse effect on the estimate of future net cash flows to be generated from the properties.

The acquisition of title to mineral properties is a detailed and time-consuming process. The Company has taken steps, in accordance with industry standards, to verify title to mineral properties in which it has an interest. Although the Company has taken reasonable precautions to ensure that legal title to its properties is properly recorded in the name of the Company, there can be no assurance that such title will ultimately be secured.

Loss per common share

Loss per share is calculated based on the weighted average number of common shares issued and outstanding during the year. The effect of potential issuances of shares under options and warrants would be anti-dilutive, and therefore basic and diluted losses per share are the same.

Translation of foreign currency

The accounts of certain of the Company's subsidiaries are translated into Canadian dollars using the temporal method of translating integrated operations. The temporal method is consistent with the method used by the Canadian operation to translate its foreign currency transactions.

Monetary assets and liabilities are translated into Canadian dollars using year-end exchange rates. Non-monetary items are translated at rates prevailing at acquisition or transaction date. Expense items are translated into Canadian dollars at the rate of exchange in effect at the date of the related transaction. All exchange gains or losses arising on translation are included in results of operations for the year.

Stock-based compensation

Effective October 1, 2003, pursuant to the amendments to the CICA standard on accounting for stock-based compensation, the fair value of all stock options granted by the Company to employees, and non-employees, are treated as compensation costs. These costs are charged to the statement of loss, or are capitalized, over the vesting period of the stock options granted. The Company's allocation of stock-based compensation is consistent with its treatment of other types of compensation. The value of stock-based compensation awards is determined by using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The standard was adopted on a prospective basis in 2004.

Prior to 2004, stock options granted to employees and directors were shown on a pro-forma basis only. The granting of stock options to non-employees was required to be accounted for using the fair value method.

Income taxes

The Company uses the liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under this method, future income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for temporary differences between tax and accounting basis of assets and liabilities. Future income tax assets or liabilities are calculated using the tax rates anticipated to apply in the periods that the temporary differences are expected to reverse. Future income tax assets are recognized to the extent that they are considered more likely than not to be realized.

a) Faja de Plata

i) Peñasquito

Effective June 28, 2001, the Company's interest in Peñasquito, through its subsidiary Minera Peñasquito, S.A. de C.V., reverted back to 100% following the termination of an option agreement with Mauricio Hochschild & Cia. Ltda. (Hochschild). During the term of the agreement, Hochschild, besides incurring exploration expenditures, made a US$500,000 land purchase payment, leaving two such payments to be made by the Company.

The Company negotiated a deferral of the remaining Peñasquito property payments, and US$621,000 was paid on July 3, 2002 and a further US$654,000 was paid on July 3, 2003. These payments represent the major portion of the total Peñasquito acquisition costs incurred during 2002 and 2003, respectively.

On November 11, 2005, the Company released an independent feasibility study relating to its wholly owned Peñasquito property. Refer to the Subsequent Event note (note 14) for more information.

Kennecott Exploration Company (Kennecott) retains an uncapped royalty on Peñasquito of 2%. Minera Catasillas also retains a 3% NSR royalty on 100 hectares centered on Peñasco, which the Company can buy out at any time for US$5 million. The Minera Catasillas royalty would include production from Peñasco but not from Chile Colorado.

ii) San Jeronimo

The Company, through its subsidiary WCI Jeronimo Mexico, S.A. de C.V., signed a definitive agreement dated August 24, 2000 with Hochschild, whereby Hochschild could earn a 68% interest in San Jeronimo by making exploration expenditures totalling US$1.75 million over the next three years.

On July 10, 2001, Hochschild terminated its option to earn the 68% interest. As a result, the Company's interest in San Jeronimo reverted back to 100% effective September 8, 2001.

Effective June 1, 2002, the Company and Apex Silver Mines Limited (Apex) entered into an agreement whereby Apex had an option to earn a 70% interest in the property by making US$45,000 in option payments to the Company, and making all underlying option and tax payments on the property through March 2005. The underlying option payments totalled US$1,180,000.

As at September 28, 2004, Apex terminated the agreement after drilling six core holes. As a result, the Company's interest in San Jeronimo reverted back to 100% effective September 28, 2004. The Company wrote down the costs associated with the property during fiscal 2004.

Subsequent to September 30, 2005, the Company made a US$25,000 payment to acquire the core claims at San Jeronimo.

Kennecott retains an uncapped royalty on San Jeronimo of 2%.

iii) Ramos

Minera Teck S.A. de C.V. (Minera Teck) and Minera Western Copper, S.A. de C.V. (Minera Western) formed a joint venture in fiscal 1999 with each having a 55% and 45% interest, respectively, by merging their respective land positions adjacent to the El Salvador joint venture area. During fiscal 2003, Minera Teck agreed to drop its interest in Ramos. Minera Western dropped a portion of Ramos, but retained the most promising portion of the property. After reviewing the results of a drilling program carried out in December 2004, the Company decided to write off the costs associated with the property in fiscal 2004.

b) El Salvador, San Nicolas and Tamara

The El Salvador, San Nicolas and Tamara properties are located in the state of Zacatecas, Mexico. The Company, through its subsidiary Minera Western, holds the properties as a joint venture with Minera Teck (a subsidiary of Teck Cominco Ltd.), pursuant to a July 1, 1997 agreement. The joint venture has no other significant assets. Minera Western's proportionate share of the mineral properties is disclosed.

Under this agreement, Minera Western held a 45% interest and Minera Teck held a 55% interest in the joint venture, with each Company being responsible for its share of the exploration costs.

As a result of amendments to the agreement in 1999 and 2000, Minera Teck holds 65% of the shares of Minera Tama, a Mexican corporation formed to hold the properties, and Minera Western holds the remaining 35%. Within the El Salvador project, approximately one-third of the property, including the San Nicolas deposit area, is held 60% by Minera Tama (participating interest) and 40% by Teck Cominco Limited (Teck Cominco) through its acquisition of Sanluis Corporation, S.A. de C.V. (the Sanluis Interest) in the form of a carried interest. On completion of a positive feasibility study, Teck Cominco has the right to elect to convert the Sanluis Interest to a 15% carried interest or a 25% participating interest. The balance of the El Salvador project is held by Minera Tama.

Future funding will be on a Minera Teck 65% Minera Western 35% basis. Minera Teck retains the right to elect to acquire an additional 10% participating interest by arranging 100% of the financing required to put San Nicolas into production. Depending on the options Minera Teck and Teck Cominco elect to exercise, Minera Western will retain an interest in San Nicolas ranging from 19% to 30%.

The San Nicolas massive sulphide deposit, along with the adjoining El Salvador and Tamara properties, has been on care and maintenance status since 2002. Costs incurred include tenure holding costs, limited drilling and acquisition of small parcels of land.

During 2005, the Company reevaluated its long-term plan for the El Salvador properties and concluded that the Tamara property does not contain economic mineral deposits. The Company does not expect there to be any future cash flow from the property. As a result, all costs associated with the Tamara property were written off.

c) Almoloya

The Company staked claims at the Almoloya silver prospect, about 45 kilometres northeast of Parral, state of Chihuahua, Mexico.

Pursuant to a letter agreement dated May 22, 2002, the Company and Anglo American Exploration (Canada) Ltd. (Anglo) agreed to combine certain properties held by each company into a single joint venture. During fiscal 2003, Anglo decided to abandon the project. The Company therefore controls all the property formerly included in the joint venture.

On July 28, 2005, the Company and Queenston Mining Inc. signed a letter of intent. Under the agreement Queenston Mining Inc. can earn a 60% interest in the property through staged exploration expenditures of US$1.5 million over a four year period, with minimum expenditures of US$200,000 in the first year. Queenston can earn an additional 15% interest by completing a feasibility study and making a production decision at which time the Company can either elect to contribute 25% of capital expenditures required to achieve production or convert its participating interest to a 15% net profits interest.

d) Bacanora

In fiscal 2003, the Company entered into an agreement to acquire 100% of the Bacanora property located in the state of Sonora. Further exploration is anticipated.

e) Carmacks Copper Project

In 1989, the Company acquired 50% of the Carmacks Copper Project, which consists of 232 unpatented mineral claims in the Whitehorse Mining district of the Yukon Territory, Canada. Under an arrangement dated September 30, 1996, the Company acquired the remaining 50% of the Carmacks Copper Project. At the time, the Company was in the process of obtaining the necessary permits to commence commercial production. This process was suspended when copper prices fell below the break-even point for the project and remained at levels for which the project was not economic. Accordingly, in the year ended September 30, 2001, the property was written down to its estimated realizable value of $4,000,000. Deferred acquisition and exploration costs and a deferred gain, totalling $7,902,556, were written off.

The previous owners of the property shall, at the Company's election, retain either a 15% net profits royalty or a 3% net smelter royalty. The Company is required to make an advance royalty payment of $100,000 for any year in which the average daily copper price reported by the London Metal Exchange is US$1.10 per pound or greater. A payment of $100,000 was made by the Company on December 31, 2004.

The Company has signed a project agreement with the Yukon Government and has recommenced the permitting process. An updated project description has been accepted by the Yukon Government and the assessment process is in progress.

The value of warrants was based on the following assumptions:

Average risk-free interest rate	2004 3.30%
Expected dividend yield
Expected stock price volatility	70%

Expected warrant life in years 1.00

Pricing models require the input of highly subjective assumptions including the expected price volatility. Changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate, and therefore the existing models do not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of the warrants issued by the Company during the year.

e) Stock options

Effective April 4, 2005, the shareholders adopted a 10% rolling stock option plan (Rolling Plan). All previously existing plans and stock options were incorporated into the Rolling Plan. At any point in time, the Company may issue stock options for the purchase of up to 10% of issued capital. The exercise price of the stock options shall be not less than the market value of the common shares on the last trading day immediately preceding the date of grant. Stock options are fully vested and exercisable in full at the date of grant unless otherwise determined by the directors. The maximum stock option term is 10 years. As at September 30, 2005, the Company can issue an additional 1,868,858 stock options.

A summary of the Company's stock options outstanding at September 30, 2005, 2004 and 2003, and the changes for the years then ended, is presented below:

During the year ended September 30, 2005, 860,000 options were granted at an average value per option of $4.82. The fair value of options that vested during 2005 was $2,651,654. Of this amount $1,486,405 was charged to the statement of loss and $1,165,249 was allocated to mineral properties.

During the year ended September 30, 2004, 975,000 options were granted at an average value per option of $4.39. The fair value of options that vested in 2004 was $3,698,659. This amount was charged to the statement of loss.

During the year ended September 30, 2003, the fair value, as determined by the Black-Scholes option pricing model, of options granted to directors and employees that vested was $835,819. The total amount was disclosed as pro forma information only, and was not charged to the statement of loss. Had the fair value of the options been charged to the statement of loss, the pro forma net loss for the year would have been $2,675,800 and the basic and diluted loss per share would have been $0.08.

During the year ended September 30, 2003, the Company also granted options to non-employees. The fair value of these options was $269,257. This amount was charged to the statement of loss.

The fair value of stock options granted was based on the following assumptions:

Average risk-free interest rate	3.27%	3.28%	3.70%
Expected dividend yield
Expected stock price volatility	65%	70%	75%
Expected option life in years	3.58	3.50	3.50

Option pricing models require the input of highly subjective assumptions including the expected price volatility.

Changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate, and therefore the existing models do not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of the Company's stock options granted and/or vested during the year.

The consolidated statements of cash flows include a subtotal before changes in non-cash working capital items under operating activities. No such subtotal would be presented under US GAAP.

d) Mineral property exploration expenditures

Mineral property exploration expenditures are accounted for in accordance with Canadian GAAP as disclosed in note 2.

For U.S. GAAP purposes, the amounts shown for mineral properties represent acquisition costs, less recoveries, incurred to date and do not necessarily reflect present or future values. The Company capitalizes all acquisition costs on a property-by-property basis. Mineral property acquisition costs include the cash consideration and the fair value of common shares and warrants issued for mineral property interests, pursuant to the terms of the relevant agreement. Mineral properties are written off if the property is sold, allowed to lapse or abandoned, or when impairment in value has been determined to have occurred. Mineral property sales proceeds or option payments received for exploration rights are treated as cost recoveries. Mineral property exploration expenditures, periodic option payments relating to mineral properties for which commercial feasibility has not yet been established, and administrative expenditures are expensed as incurred.

Mineral property acquisition costs and development expenditures incurred subsequent to the determination of the feasibility of mining operations are deferred until the property to which they relate is placed into production, sold, allowed to lapse or abandoned, or when impairment in value has been determined to have occurred.

The accumulated costs of properties that are developed to the stage of commercial production will be amortized to operations by unit-of-production depletion.

e) Available-for-sale securities

Under U.S. GAAP, securities that are available-for-sale are recorded at fair value and unrealized gains or losses are excluded from earnings and recorded in Other Comprehensive Income.

f) Recent accounting developments

In December 2004, the FASB issued FAS No. 123 (revised 2004) (FAS 123R), Share-Based Payment , which is a revision of FAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-based Compensation . FAS 123R requires all share-based payments to employees, including grants of employee stock options, to be recognized in the financial statements based on their fair values and does not allow the previously permitted pro forma disclosure as an alternative to financial statement recognition. Liability classified awards are remeasured to fair value at each balance sheet date until the award is settled. FAS 123R supersedes Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25 Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees , and related interpretations and amends FAS No. 95 Statement of Cash Flows . FAS 123R is scheduled to be effective beginning fiscal 2006 for the Company. On August 31, 2005, the FASB issued FSP FAS 123R-1 to defer the requirement that a freestanding financial instrument originally subject to FAS 123R becomes subject to the recognition and measurement requirements of other applicable generally accepted accounting principles when the rights conveyed by the instrument to the holder are no longer dependent on the holder being an employee of the entity. On October 18, 2005, the FASB issued FSP FAS 123R-2 to provide further guidance on the application of grant date as defined in FAS 123R. The Company is currently assessing the impact of FAS 123R and related FSPs on its consolidated financial statements.

In December 2004, the FASB issued FAS No. 153 Exchanges of Non-monetary Assets, which amends APB Opinion No. 20, Accounting for Non-monetary Transactions to require that all non-monetary exchanges be accounted for at fair value except for exchanges of non-monetary assets that do not have commercial substance. An exchange is considered to have commercial substance if the future cash flows of the entity are expected to change significantly as a result of the exchange. FAS 153 is effective for non-monetary asset exchanges occurring in periods beginning after June 15, 2005.

In May 2005, the FASB issued FAS No. 154 Accounting Changes and Error Corrections a replacement of APB Opinion No. 20 and FAS Statement No. 3. FAS 154 requires an entity to account for the adoption of a new accounting policy by applying the new principle to prior accounting periods as if the principle had always been adopted, or retrospective application. Under existing GAAP, a new principle is not applied to prior periods; rather, the cumulative effect of the change is recognized in earnings in the period of the change. FAS 154 also carries forward without change the guidance from Opinion No. 20 for reporting the correction of an error in previously issued financial statements and the accounting for changes in estimate. The provisions of FAS 154 will be effective for accounting changes and corrections of errors made in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005.

14 Subsequent event

On November 11, 2005, the Company announced that an independent feasibility study has concluded that the Peñasco and Chile Colorado deposits contained within its wholly owned Peñasquito property in Central Mexico can be developed economically.

These costs are charged to the statement of loss, or are capitalized, over the stock option vesting period. The Company's allocation of stock-based compensation is consistent with its treatment of other types of compensation. The accompanying notes are an integral part of these consolidated financial statements.

Western Silver Corporation

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited)

(expressed in Canadian dollars)

The valuation of stock options is determined at the time of grant. The most recent stock option grant occurred in August 2005. The valuation of those stock options was based on the following assumptions:

Average risk-free interest rate	3.27%
Expected dividend yield
Expected stock price volatility	65%
Expected option term, in years	3.58

Option pricing models require the input of highly subjective assumptions including the expected price volatility. Changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate, and therefore the existing models do not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of the company's stock options granted and/or vested during the year.

5 Change in accounting policy

Effective October 1, 2005, the Company adopted the new Accounting Guideline 15 (AcG-15)

Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities. The new standard establishes when a company should consolidate a variable interest entity in its financial statements. AcG-15 provides the definition of a variable interest entity and requires a variable interest entity to be consolidated if a company is at risk of absorbing a majority of the variable interest entity's expected losses, or is entitled to receive a majority of the variable interest entity's residual returns, or both. The adoption of this guideline had no impact on the Company's financial results.

6 Contract commitments

The Company subleases office space. The agreement expires October 29, 2009. The total amount of payments remaining during the course of the agreement is $938,037, of which $261,778 is due during in the next 12 months. The remaining $676,259 is due between April 1, 2007 and October 29, 2009.

7 Segmented information

The Company operates in one reportable operating segment – the acquisition, exploration and development of resource properties.

Interest income is earned in Canada.

The Company's mineral properties are located in Canada and Mexico. The geographic breakdown of mineral properties is shown in note 2.

All other non-current assets are held in Canada.

Under its contract with Major, Western believes that it would be fully indemnified by Major if any damages were awarded against the Company. No damage amount has been set out and the writ has not been served on the Company.

Notes to Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

(Expressed in United States dollars)

Three months ended March 31, 2006

Year ended December 31, 2005

1. Plan of arrangement and basis of presentation:

The accompanying pro forma consolidated financial statements have been compiled for purposes of inclusion in a Business Acquisition Report of Glamis Gold Ltd. (Glamis). These pro forma consolidated financial statements give effect to the acquisition by Glamis of all the issued and outstanding shares of Western Silver Corporation (Western Silver) under a plan of arrangement approved by the shareholders of Western Silver on May 3, 2006. Under the terms of the plan of arrangement, Western Silver created a new wholly-owned subsidiary company (Western Copper), and transferred to Western Copper cash in the amount of approximately CDN$37.0 million and all of Western Silver's right, title and interest in and to specified exploration properties and assets located in Canada and Mexico. Pursuant to the plan of arrangement Western Silver shareholders exchanged each of their Western Silver shares held for 0.688 of a Glamis share and one common share of Western Copper. In addition, each Western Silver share purchase optionholder received a Glamis option right exercisable into 0.688 of a Glamis share at an adjusted exercise price and a Western Copper share purchase option.

These pro forma consolidated financial statements have been prepared by management of Glamis in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) to give effect to the transaction pursuant to the plan of arrangement described above. For accounting purposes, the transaction has been recorded as an acquisition of the assets of Western Silver by Glamis and the net assets acquired have been recorded at their estimated fair value.

These pro forma consolidated financial statements include:

- (a) a pro forma consolidated balance sheet as at March 31, 2006, which has been prepared from the March 31, 2006 unaudited consolidated balance sheet of Glamis and the March 31, 2006 unaudited consolidated balance sheet of Western Silver, converted to U.S. dollars at the March 31, 2006 Canadian/U.S. dollar exchange rate of 1.1680, and gives effect to the acquisition by Glamis of the Western Silver assets and liabilities and the assumptions as described in note 2, as if these transactions occurred on March 31, 2006.
- (b) pro forma consolidated statements of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and the year ended December 31, 2005 prepared from the unaudited consolidated statement of operations of Glamis for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and the audited consolidated statement of operations of Glamis for the year ended December 31, 2005 and from the unaudited consolidated statements of operations of Western Silver for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and for the twelve months ended December 31, 2005 prepared as described in note 5, as if the transactions had occurred on January 1, 2005.

These pro forma consolidated financial statements are not necessarily indicative of the financial position of Glamis as at the time of closing of the transaction referred to above, nor of the future operating results of Glamis as a result of the transactions.

1. Plan of arrangement and basis of presentation (continued):

The pro forma consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the unaudited consolidated financial statements of Glamis for the three months ended March 31, 2006, the audited consolidated financial statements of Glamis as at and for the year ended December 31, 2005, the audited consolidated financial statements of Western Silver for the year ended September 30, 2005 and unaudited interim consolidated financial statements of Western Silver for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and the three months ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, all of which have been prepared in accordance with Canadian GAAP.

2. Pro forma assumptions:

The pro forma consolidated balance sheet gives effect to the following transactions and assumptions as if they had occurred on March 31, 2006:

- (a) The proceeds of $0.4 received on exercise of options by Western Silver option holders prior to the acquisition of the Western Silver shares by Glamis.
- (b) The transfer of approximately CDN$37.0 million cash (U.S.$31.7 million) to Western Copper and the incurrence of costs related to the transaction by Western Silver of $10.7 million. In addition, any remaining net working capital and other assets of Western Silver at the date of closing of the transactions was transferred to Western Copper. Accordingly, it is assumed that the remaining accounts receivable and prepaid expenses of $1.1 million, other assets of $0.2 million and accounts payable and accrued liabilities of $3.3 million of Western Silver are not acquired/assumed by Glamis in the March 31, 2006 pro forma consolidated balance sheet.
- (c) The total assumed purchase price of $1,039.1 million is determined as follows:

Western Silver shares outstanding at May 3, 2006	49,246,413
Exchange ratio	0.688
Glamis shares to be issued	33,881,532
Market price	$ 29.36

2. Pro forma assumptions (continued):

(c) Continued:

- (1) The fair value of a Glamis option right has been estimated based on the market price of a Glamis share of $29.36, an average exercise price of CDN$9.37 (U.S.$8.43) and assuming an expected life of the option of 0.5 years, expected stock price volatility of 46%, expected dividend yield of nil and a risk free rate of return of 3.87%.

The assets acquired and liabilities assumed are to be recorded at their estimated fair values, which are based on preliminary management estimates and are subject to final valuation adjustments.

The preliminary allocation of the purchase price is as follows:

	(millions)
Mineral property, plant and equipment	$ 1,436.7
Future income taxes	(397.6)
	$ 1,039.1

- (d) The elimination of the existing share capital, contributed surplus and deficit of Western Silver.

The pro forma consolidated statement of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and for the year ended December 31, 2005 gives effect to the following adjustments and assumptions as if the transactions described above had occurred on January 1, 2005:

- (e) An increase in exploration expense by Western Silver of $11.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2005 to conform with Glamis' accounting policy of expensing exploration expenditures on properties not advanced enough to identify their development potential. A feasibility study was completed by Western Silver in November, 2005 on its Pénasquito property at which time, under Glamis' accounting policy, further development costs would be capitalized. Accordingly, no adjustment is required in the pro forma consolidated statement of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2006.
- (f) An increase in stock-based compensation of $0.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and $1.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2005 deferred by Western Silver to properties in the exploration stage which would be expensed under Glamis' accounting policies.
- (g) The reduction of interest income of Western Silver to nil for the three months ended March 31, 2006 and for the year ended December 31, 2005 as Glamis is not acquiring any cash under the transactions.

5. Western Silver pro forma statement of operations:

The Western Silver pro forma statement of operations for the twelve months ended December 31, 2005 has been prepared by adding the statement of operations for the three months ended December 31, 2005 to the results for the year ended September 30, 2005 and deducting the interim results for the three months ended December 31, 2004, and then converting the results to U.S. dollars based on the average Canadian/U.S. dollar exchange rate for the year ended December 31, 2005 of 1.2114, as follows:
