SEGMENT INFORMATION

(a) Segment results and other information

In previous years, the Group reported three segments that comprised independent operations, operations under joint arrangements and trading business. The Group is engaged worldwide in the upstream operating activities of the conventional oil and gas, shale oil and gas, oil sands and other unconventional oil and gas business. Segmental reporting has been changed with effect from 2012, in line with the change in the way the Group's businesses are managed by the chief operating decision makers. The Group now reports the business through three reporting segments: exploration and production ("E&P"), trading business and corporate. Within each segment, geographical segments are presented as well. Segment information for the year ended 31 December 2011 has been restated to conform to current year's presentation.

The following table presents the segment financial information for the Group for the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011.

As of 31 December 2012, management of the Company has not provided any deferred tax liabilities related to earnings derived by the Company from its overseas subsidiaries since the timing of the reversal of the taxable temporary differences can be controlled by the Company and it is probable that the temporary differences would not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Others	0.2	-
Group's effective income tax rate	29.4	24.1

*The higher effective tax rate for the year ended 31 December 2012 was primarily due to the full utilisation of investment tax credits applicable to Nigeria OML130 Project in 2011.

- (d) The sales include crude oil, condensate oil, liquefied petroleum gas, natural gas and liquefied natural gas to the CNOOC Group. Individual sales contracts were entered into from time to time between the Group and the CNOOC Group.
- (e) It is the market practice for sales terms to be determined based on the estimated reserves and production profile of the relevant gas fields. The long term sales contracts usually last for 15 to 20 years.
- (f) CNOOC Finance is a 31.8% owned associate of the Company and also a subsidiary of CNOOC. Under the renewed financial services framework agreement with CNOOC Finance dated 20 August 2010, CNOOC Finance continues to provide to the Group settlement, depository, discounting, loans and entrustment loans services. The renewal agreement is effective from 1 January 2011 to 31 December 2013. The depository services were exempted from independent shareholders' approval requirements under the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the "Listing Rules"). The stated deposits in (iv) (b) above represent the maximum daily outstanding balance for deposits (including accrued interest, excluding funds placed for the purpose of extending entrustment loan services) during the period.

Coalbed Methane Resources Exploration and Development Cooperation Agreement with China United Coalbed Methane Corporation Limited

On 3 August 2012, CNOOC China Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, entered into the Coalbed Methane Resources Exploration and Development Cooperation Agreement (the "Cooperation Agreement") with China United Coalbed Methane Corporation Limited ("CUCBM") in connection with the exploration, development, production and sale of Coalbed Methane ("CBM") and CBM products within the contract areas (as defined in the Cooperation Agreement). The term of the Cooperation Agreement commences on the effective date and expires on the later of (i) 30 years from the effective date of the Cooperation Agreement, and (ii) the end of the production period of the last CBM field (as defined in the Cooperation Agreement) in the contract areas, unless otherwise agreed by CNOOC China Limited and CUCBM. The Cooperation Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder were approved by independent shareholders of the Company on 21 August 2012. As at the date of the Cooperation Agreement, CNOOC China Limited expected to incur total expenses of RMB9,933.3 million (being (1) RMB9,713.3 million for the initial three years of the five years' exploration period, plus (2) the minimum exploration costs of RMB220 million as required under the applicable PRC laws and regulations for the remaining two years of the exploration period).

CUCBM is a connected person of the Company, hence the Cooperation Agreement constitutes a connected transaction of the Company under the Listing Rules. As of 31 December 2012, the accumulated investment incurred was RMB211 million.

Capital injection into CNOOC Finance

For the purpose of meeting external regulatory requirements as well as enhancing risk resilience and developmental strength, CNOOC China Limited, China Offshore Oil & Gas Development & Utilisation Company (“CNOOC Oil & Gas”), an enterprise in the PRC and a wholly-owned subsidiary of CNOOC, CNOOC, the controlling shareholder of the Company, and Offshore Oil Engineering Co., Ltd. (“COOEC”), a company limited by shares incorporated in the PRC with its shares listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange and with CNOOC as its controlling shareholder, entered into a Capital Injection Agreement (the “Capital Injection Agreement”) on 27 August 2012 with CNOOC Finance, which is a subsidiary of CNOOC and therefore a connected person of the Company by virtue of being an associate of CNOOC as defined by the Listing Rules. Pursuant to the Capital Injection Agreement, CNOOC China Limited, CNOOC, CNOOC Oil & Gas and COOEC agreed to inject further capital into CNOOC Finance according to their respective holding of equity interests in CNOOC Finance as at the date of the Capital Injection Agreement (the “Capital Injection”). Under the Capital Injection Agreement, CNOOC China Limited subscribed for CNOOC Finance’s increased registered capital according to its holding of equity interests therein, which was RMB822,084,806 at the date of the Capital Injection Agreement. Upon completion of the Capital Injection, the respective holding of equity interests of CNOOC China Limited, CNOOC, CNOOC Oil & Gas and COOEC in CNOOC Finance will remain unchanged, being approximately 31.80%, 62.90%, 3.53% and 1.77% respectively.

The related party transactions in respect of items listed above also constitute connected transactions or continuing connected transactions as defined in Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules.

The amount due to the parent company and amounts due from/to related parties are unsecured, interest-free and are repayable on demand, unless otherwise disclosed.

33. RETIREMENT AND TERMINATION BENEFITS

All the Group’s full-time employees in the PRC are covered by a state-managed retirement benefit plan operated by the government of the PRC, and are entitled to an annual pension. The PRC government is responsible for the pension liabilities to these retired employees. The Group is required to make annual contributions to the state-managed retirement benefit plan at rates ranging from 11% to 22% of the employees’ basic salaries.

The Company is required to make contributions to a defined contribution mandatory provident fund at a rate of 5% of the basic salaries of all full-time employees in Hong Kong. The related pension costs are expensed as incurred.

The Group provides retirement and termination benefits for all local employees in Indonesia in accordance with Indonesian labour law, and provides employee benefits to expatriate staff in accordance with the relevant employment contracts.

During the year, the Group’s pension costs charged to the consolidated financial statement of comprehensive income amounted to RMB178 million (2011: RMB123 million).

The above table includes a commitment of approximately RMB1,379 million (2011: RMB1,783 million) to the CNOOC Group.

(iii) Contingencies

(a) On 8 January 2006, the Company signed a definitive agreement with South Atlantic Petroleum Limited (“SAPETRO”) to acquire a 45% working interest in the Offshore Oil Mining Lease 130 (“OML130”) in Nigeria (the “OML130 Transaction”) and the OML130 Transaction was completed on 20 April 2006.

In 2007, a local tax office in Nigeria (the “Nigerian Local Tax Office”) conducted a tax audit on SAPETRO. According to the preliminary tax audit results, the Nigerian Local Tax Office has raised a disagreement with the tax filings made for the OML130 Transaction.

The tax audit assessment made by the Nigerian Local Tax Office has been contested by the Company in accordance with Nigerian laws. The Company then filed a suit in the Nigerian Federal High Court (“FHC”). In March 2011, the FHC delivered a binding judgement in favour of the Company, agreeing that the Company is not subject to Value Added Tax for the OML130 Transaction. The judgement was appealed by counterparties to the High Court. After seeking legal advice, the Company’s management believes that the Company has reasonable grounds in defending for such appeal. Consequently, no provision has been made for any expenses which might arise as a result of the dispute.

(b) On 26 October 2011, the Company received a notice of assessment from Federal Inland Revenue Service of Nigeria (“FIRS”), confirming that the effective Petroleum Profit Tax (“PPT”) and related tax in the year of 2010 for the Company’s investment in OML130 project, shall be calculated and payable on the basis of the PPT Tax Return prepared by Nigerian National Petroleum Corporation. The Company contested the notice of assessment. On 13 January 2012, the Company, together with SAPETRO (collectively referred to as the “PSC Partners”), has filed an appeal in relation thereto to the local Tax Appeal Tribunal (“TAT”).

The Company received a notice of assessment issued by FIRS on 13 June 2012, stating that the investment tax allowance (“ITA”), instead of investment tax credit (“ITC”) should be applied for the PPT calculation of the Company’s investment in OML130 project. In July 2012, the PSC Partners filed an appeal in relation thereto to the TAT. However, whether TAT has jurisdiction over this dispute is uncertain under the Nigerian Law. In order to protect the right of action, the PSC Partners filed an application to the FHC on 13 September 2012, seeking the permission to file a lawsuit over the application of ITA/ITC dispute at the FHC. The appeal over ITA/ITC dispute at TAT was withdrawn on 9 November 2012.

No verdict has been issued to date, and the results of the appeals are still uncertain.

(c) As a Chinese Resident Enterprise, the Company may be liable to pay taxes on the deemed interest income for the funding provided to its overseas subsidiaries starting from 1 January 2008. The Company has prepared contemporaneous documentation in accordance with applicable PRC tax laws and regulations and is currently awaiting confirmation from its in-charge tax authority.

(d) Two oil spill accidents occurred on 4 June and 17 June 2011 respectively at Platforms B and C of Penglai 19-3 oilfield, which is being operated under a production sharing contract (“PSC”) among CNOOC China Limited, the subsidiary of the Company, and two subsidiaries of ConocoPhillips (“ConocoPhillips”), a US based oil company, among which ConocoPhillips China Inc. (“COPC”) is the operator and responsible for the daily operations of the oilfield.

On 21 June 2012, the State Oceanic Administration of the PRC (the “SOA”) announced the Accident Investigation and Settlement Report by a Joint Investigation Team on the Penglai 19-3 Oilfield Oil Spill Accidents, pointing out that “the Joint Investigation Team has concluded that COPC violated the oilfield Overall Development Program, had defects in its operation procedures and management, and failed to take necessary precautionary measures against foreseen risks, all of which eventually resulted in the oil spills. The Penglai 19-3 Oilfield Oil Spill Accidents were accidents involving liabilities, causing significant marine pollution by oil spill. Pursuant to the PSC, COPC (the operator of the oilfield) shall bear full responsibility for the oil spill accidents.” On 16 February 2013, the SOA announced, through its official website, that following a series of rectification measures, COPC was permitted to gradually resume the production of the Penglai 19-3 oilfield.

The Company is of the view that the Company's obligations, if any, arising from the above mentioned accidents shall be determined in accordance with relevant laws and regulations, the PSC and related agreements, among others. Based on evaluations performed as of the date of these financial statements, the Company believes that it is not possible to determine provisions, if any, for the above mentioned accidents in these financial statements. The financial impact of such oil spill accidents on the Company is still uncertain, and the Company has not made any provision for the accidents in these financial statements.

(e) On 11 October 2012, the Company was served with a purported class action complaint filed by Sam Sinay, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (the "Complaint"). The Complaint is lodged against the Company and certain of its officers, which alleges that during the period between 27 January 2011 and 16 September 2011, the Company made materially false and misleading statements regarding its business and financial results and the oil spill accidents occurred at the Penglai 19-3 oilfield.

The Company believes that the allegations and the claims in the Complaint are without merit and intends to defend itself vigorously against such claims and no provision has been made in these financial statements. On 21 December 2012, the Company filed a motion to dismiss the Complaint in the same court.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Fair value of financial instruments

The carrying values of the Group's cash and cash equivalents, time deposits, trade receivables, other current assets, trade and accrued payables and other payables approximated to their fair values at the reporting date due to the short maturity of these instruments.

The fair value of the Group's long term bank loans with floating interest rates approximated to the carrying amount of RMB3,533 million as at 31 December 2012 (2011: RMB4,063 million).

The estimated fair value of the Group's long term guaranteed notes based on current market interest rates was approximately RMB31,577 million as at 31 December 2012 (2011: RMB20,097 million), which was determined by reference to the market price as at 31 December 2012.

Fair value hierarchy

The Group uses the following hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurement:

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
 Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
 Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

As at 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011, the Group held the following financial instruments measured at fair value for each hierarchy respectively:

	31 December 2012	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3
Assets measured at fair value
Available-for-sale financial assets - current
Private equity funds (1)	15	-	15	-

Available-for-sale financial assets-non current
Equity investment in MEG (2)	5,516	5,516	-	-

Edgar Filing: CNOOC LTD - Form 6-K

	7,365	7,365	-	-
Liabilities measured at fair value
Foreign exchange forward contracts (3)	38	-	38	-

(1) The fair values of the private equity funds and corporate wealth management products are based on the fund managers' quotations.

(2) The fair values of the liquidity funds and equity investment in MEG are based on quoted market prices.

(3) The fair value of the foreign exchange forward contracts was determined using forward exchange rates as at 31 December 2012 and 2011, respectively.

These contracts are entered into for a 12-month period consistent with the US dollars payment exposures, which are not designated as cash flows, fair value or net investment hedge. These foreign exchange forward contracts are categorised as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. Changes in fair value of these contracts were recognised in the statement of comprehensive income in other finance costs (note 9).

37. CONCENTRATION OF CUSTOMERS

A substantial portion of the oil and gas sales of the Group is made to a small number of third parties on credit. Details of the gross sales to these top five customers are as follows:

	2012	2011
China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation*	44,622	52,026
PetroChina Company Limited*	18,259	33,591
Chesapeake Exploration, LLC	3,574	110
Shandong Changyi Petrochemical Ltd.*	3,363	2,607
Nexen Inc.	2,527	270

* These transactions are with other state owned enterprises.

38. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group's principal financial instruments comprise bank loans, long term guaranteed notes, available-for-sale financial assets, cash and short term deposits. The Group has various other financial assets and liabilities such as trade receivables and trade payables, which arise directly from its operations.

The Group is exposed to credit risk, oil and gas price risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, business risk and liquidity risk.

The Group's senior management oversees the management of these risks. The Group's senior management is supported by various departments that advise on financial risks and the appropriate financial risks governance framework for the Group. Those departments provide assurance to the Group's senior management that the Group's financial risk-taking activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with group policies and group risk appetite.

(i) Credit risk

The carrying amounts of the Group's cash and cash equivalents, time deposits and liquidity funds investments, trade receivables and other receivables, and other current assets except for prepayments represent the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to its financial assets.

The significant portion of the Group's trade receivables is related to the sale of oil and natural gas to third party customers. The Group performs ongoing credit evaluations of the customers' financial condition and generally does not require collateral on trade receivables. The Group made an impairment allowance on doubtful receivables and actual losses have been within management's expectation.

Since the Group trades only with recognised and creditworthy third parties, there is no requirement for collateral.

Concentrations of credit risk are managed by customer/counterparty and by geographical region. At the reporting date, the Group has certain concentrations of credit risk as 12% (2011: 22%) and 24% (2011: 36%) of the Group's trade receivables were due from the Group's largest customer and the five largest customers, respectively.

No other financial assets carry a significant exposure to credit risk.

(ii) Oil and gas price risk

Since the Company makes reference to international oil prices to determine its realised oil price, fluctuations in international oil price would have a significant impact on the Company's sales revenue and profit. In addition, the Company's natural gas sales contracts are incorporated with price adjustment provisions. Any changes in international oil prices, inflation rate and domestic natural gas price policies may result in changes in natural gas prices, which will affect the Company's profitability.

(iii) Currency risk

Substantially all of the Group's oil and gas sales are denominated in Renminbi and United States dollars ("US dollars"). Starting from 21 July 2005, China reformed the exchange rate regime by moving into a managed floating exchange rate regime based on market supply and demand with reference to a basket of currencies. Renminbi would no longer be pegged to the US dollars. From 1 January 2012 to 31 December 2012 (the last working day in 2012), Renminbi has appreciated by approximately 0.25% against the US dollars. At the reporting date, approximately 92.2% (2011: 86.0%) of the Group's cash and cash equivalents and time deposits with maturity over three months were denominated in Renminbi, and the remaining amounts were denominated in US dollars and Hong Kong dollars.

Management has assessed the Group's exposure to foreign currency risk by using a sensitivity analysis on the change in foreign exchange rate of the US dollars, to which the Group is mainly exposed to as at 31 December 2011 and 2012. Based on management's assessment, a 5% change in the foreign exchange rate of the US dollars at 31 December 2012 would have impacted the profit for the year of the Group by 0.84% and the equity of the Group by 1.20%. This analysis has been determined assuming that the change in foreign exchange rates had occurred at the balance sheet date and had been applied to the foreign currency balances to which the Group has significant exposure with all other variables held constant. The analysis is performed on the same basis for 2011.

Senior management are closely monitoring the Group's net exposure to foreign currency risk. The appreciation of Renminbi against the US dollars may have the following impact on the Group. On one hand, since the benchmark oil and gas prices are usually in US dollars against Renminbi, the Group's oil and gas sales may decrease due to the depreciation of the US dollars against Renminbi. On the other hand, the depreciation of the US dollars against Renminbi will also decrease the Group's costs for imported equipment and materials, most of which are denominated in the US dollars. In addition, the debt repayment by the Group will decrease since all of the Group's debts are also denominated in the US dollars.

(iv) Interest rate risk

The interest rate risk is closely monitored by the Group's senior management. As at the end of 2012, the interest rates for 48.6% of the Group's debts were fixed. The weighted average term of the Company's debt balance outstanding was approximately 7.11 years. The fixed interest rates can reduce the volatility of finance costs under uncertain environments and the Group's exposure to changes in interest rates is not expected to be material.

(v) Business risk

The operations of the Group are conducted in the PRC and many other countries and accordingly are subject to special considerations and significant risks not typically associated with investments in equity securities of the United States of America and Western European companies. These include risks associated with, among others, the oil and gas industry, the political, economic and legal environments, influence of the national authorities over price setting and competition in the industry.

(vi) Liquidity risk

The Group manages its liquidity risk by regularly monitoring its liquidity requirements and its compliance with debt covenants to ensure that it maintains sufficient cash and cash equivalents, and readily realisable available-for-sale financial assets, and adequate time deposits to meet its liquidity requirements in the short and long term. In addition, bank facilities have been put in place for contingency purposes.

The Group's trade and accrued payables, other payables and accrued liabilities are all due for settlement within six months after the reporting date.

(vii) Capital management

The primary objectives of the Group's capital management are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and to maintain healthy capital ratios in order to support its business and maximise shareholders' value.

The Group manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may return capital to shareholders, raise new debt or issue new shares. No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the years end 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011.

The Group monitors capital on the basis of the debt to capital ratio, which is calculated as interest-bearing debts divided by total capital (equity attributable to owners of the parent plus interest-bearing debts).

	2012	2011
Interest-bearing debts	57,886	37,995
Equity attributable to owners of the parent	309,780	262,856
Total capital	367,666	300,851
Gearing ratio	15.7 %	12.6 %

39. CHARGE OF ASSETS

CNOOC NWS Private Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Group, together with the other joint venture partners and the operator of the NWS Project, signed a Deed of Cross Charge and an Extended Deed of Cross Charge whereby certain liabilities incurred or to be incurred, if any, by the Company in respect of the NWS Project are secured by its interest in the NWS Project.

40. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Group has no other subsequent events needed to be disclosed in the consolidated financial statements, except that disclosed in note 4(ii) and note 35(iii)d.

41. COMPARATIVE AMOUNTS

Certain comparative amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation, and those reclassifications are not significant.

42. APPROVAL OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The financial statements were approved and authorised for issue by the Board of Directors on 22 March 2013.

Supplementary Information on Oil and Gas Producing Activities (Unaudited)
31 December 2012

(All amounts expressed in millions of Renminbi unless otherwise stated)

The following disclosures are included in accordance with the FASB Accounting Standard Codification 932 “Extractive Activities-Oil and Gas (the “ASC 932”).

The regional analysis presented below is on a continent basis, with separate disclosure for countries that contain 15% or more of the total proved reserve, in accordance with SEC and FASB requirements.

(a) Reserve quantity information

Crude oil and natural gas reserve estimates are determined through analysis of geological and engineering data which appear, with reasonable certainty, to be economically producible in the future from known oil and natural gas reservoirs under existing economic and operating conditions. The reserve data that we disclosed were all based on the definitions and disclosure guidelines contained in the US Securities and Exchange Commission’s final rules on “Modernization of oil and Gas Reporting” (the “SEC Final Rule”).

For the years 2012, 2011 and 2010 approximately 36%, 23% and 11% respectively, of our total proved reserves were evaluated by us, and the remaining were evaluated by independent third party.

We implemented rigorous internal control system that monitors the entire reserves estimation procedure and certain key metrics in order to ensure that the process and results of reserves estimates fully comply with the relevant SEC rules.

For the year ended 31 December 2012, the reserves evaluated independently by CNOOC were implemented rigorous in-house technical scrutiny and compliance audit, while third party consulting firms (Ryder Scott Company) were engaged to perform annual procedural audit of all the independently evaluated reserves that monitors the entire reserves estimation procedure and certain key metrics in order to ensure market transparency and compliance.

We established the Reserve Management Group, or RMG, which is led by our Executive Vice Presidents and comprises the general managers of the relevant departments.

The RMG’s main responsibilities are to:

- review our reserves policies;
- review our proved reserves and other categories of reserves; and
- select our reserves estimators and auditors.

The RMG follows certain procedures to appoint our internal reserves estimators and reserves auditors, who are required to have undergraduate degrees and five years and ten years, respectively, or more of experience related to reserves estimation.

The reserves estimators and auditors are required to be members of China Petroleum Society, or CPS, and are required to take the professional trainings and examinations provided by CPS and us.

The RMG delegates its daily operation to our Reserves Office, which is led by our Chief Reserve Supervisor. The Reserves Office is mainly responsible for supervising reserves estimates and auditing. It reports to the RMG periodically and is independent from operating divisions such as the exploration, development and production departments. Our Chief Reserve Supervisor has 31 years' experience in oil and gas industry.

The Group's net proved reserves consist of its percentage interest in reserves, comprised of a 100% interest in its independent oil and gas properties and its participating interest in the properties covered under the production sharing contracts in the PRC, less (i) an adjustment for the Group's share of royalties payable by the Group to the PRC government and the Group's participating interest in share oil payable to the PRC government under the production sharing contracts, and less (ii) an adjustment for production allocable to foreign partners under the PRC production sharing contracts as reimbursement for exploration expenses attributable to the Group's participating interest, and plus the participating interest in the properties covered under the production sharing contracts in oversea countries, less adjustments, if any, of share oil attributable to the host government and the domestic market obligation.

Pursuant to SEC Final Rule, the Group uses the average, first-day-of-the-month oil price during the 12-month period before the ending date of the period covered by the consolidated financial statements to estimate its proved oil and gas reserves.

The Company determines its net entitlement oil and gas reserves under production sharing contracts using the economic interest method.

The development costs include estimated future dismantlement costs of dismantling offshore oil platforms and gas properties.

(e) Standardised measure of discounted future net cash flows and changes therein

Pursuant to FASB Topic 932, the average of first-day-of-the-month oil price during the 12-month period before the year end, were used to estimate annual future production from proved reserves to determine future cash inflows.

Future development costs are estimated based upon constant price assumptions and the assumption of the continuation of existing economic, operating and regulatory conditions. Future income taxes are calculated by applying the year-end statutory rate to estimate future pre-tax cash flows after provision for the tax cost of the oil and natural gas properties based upon existing laws and regulations. The discount was computed by the application of a 10% discount factor to the estimated future net cash flows.

Management believes that this information does not represent the fair market value of the oil and natural gas reserves or the present value of estimated cash flows since no economic value is attributed to potential reserves, the use of a 10% discount rate is arbitrary, and prices change constantly.

Present value of estimated future net cash flows:

CEO's Statement

Dear Shareholders,

2012 was the inaugural year that we implemented our “A New Leap Forward” strategy. Facing complex and adverse domestic and global economic environments of 2012, the Company adhered to the strategic roadmap of “A New Leap Forward” and made outstanding achievements in exploration and development and overseas expansion through dedicated efforts of the whole company, and also successfully reached our major production and operation targets, enlarging the resource base for our future development and further diversifying our asset portfolio.

On one hand, we continued to build up our sustainable development capability. The encouraging results from shallow water and deepwater exploration offshore China and overseas exploration bring a greater momentum to the future development of the Company.

During 2012, in order to enhance shallow water exploration offshore China, a number of thorough discussions were made to further clarify our line of thinking, i.e. to increase our investment and deploy innovative approaches in our efforts to search for large and medium size oil and gas fields. Through this line of thinking, the Company successfully discovered and appraised several large scale oil and gas structures including Penglai 9-1, building a solid foundation for our future reserves and production growth in offshore China. It further strengthened our confidence in the medium to long term sustainable development offshore China.

In order to realize a better resource replacement, we continued to promote and further strengthened the guidance for deepwater exploration and development. We made our debut in independent deepwater drilling in the South China Sea in 2012, marking the “first year” of our independent deepwater exploration endeavors. The efforts resulted in a new independent natural gas discovery, which signified a breakthrough in this regard.

In addition, we achieved satisfactory results in our overseas exploration endeavors with important discovery made under the HBR permit onshore Algeria.

On the other hand, we continued to take the prudent and down-to-earth attitude in the course of our overseas expansion and achieved successful results.

In July 2012, we announced the acquisition of Nexen Inc. (“Nexen”) in Canada. The transaction was completed with considerable success. Through the acquisition, an important platform has been established for our overseas development. The transaction would not only bring rich resources and diversified asset portfolio for the long term development of the Company, but also veteran management and staff of Nexen who had extensive working experience in major oil and gas producing areas around the world. We strongly believe that the acquisition of Nexen conforms to our development strategy and will bring long-term benefit for our shareholders. We are full of expectation to the future prospects of the newly established North and Central America operation platform.

Over years of overseas expansion, we have broadened our vision and strengthened our development platform with accumulated operational and managerial experiences. In the future, we will continue to enhance our capability in overseas operational management, resource integration and risk management, developing and nurturing our new home base overseas.

While ensuring the stable development of the Company, we continued to adhere to the high standards of our efforts in health, safety and environmental protection. During 2012, we maintained an excellent safety record and continued to strengthen our efforts in the protection of nature and the marine environment. Looking ahead, we will continue to promote harmonious growth between corporate and community and between human and the nature.

For more than a decade since the Company's listing, we have been strictly following the laws and regulations of the host countries and listing places. We also followed the best practices of the international petroleum industry. Our transparency and governance standards were well recognized by the general public and investors. In corporate governance, we made outstanding achievements and won a lot of awards in 2012: the Company was awarded the "Best Managed Asian Company in the Oil/Gas sector" for the third consecutive year by Euromoney Magazine, and the "Asia's Best Company 2012" and "Best Natural Resource Company" by Finance Asia Magazine.

In view of the Company's financial position and to reward our shareholders, the Board of Directors has recommended a final dividend of HK$0.32 per share (tax inclusive).

If 2012 is the year where CNOOC Limited embarked on its "A New Leap Forward", 2013 will be a year in which we quest and set sail afar for future development. As long as you are with us and continue to give us support and care, we will be able to create an even better future together.

WANG Yilin

We focused on exploration, development and production, maintained high standards on health, safety and environmental protection, and achieved all the targets set at the beginning of the year. We also made great progress in our overseas development with announced acquisition of Nexen Inc. (“Nexen”) in Canada. Expanding our horizon to the whole world, CNOOC Limited actively copes with the challenges faced by the global energy industry, commits to supplying energy for social development in a safe and sustainable way, and remaining a responsible international energy player. Through this acquisition and our continuous efforts, our vision is gradually turning into reality.

SOLIDIFYING THE FOUNDATION FOR FUTURE DEVELOPMENT

In 2012, the Company delivered satisfactory results once again. Major exploration breakthroughs were made in shallow water and deepwater offshore China as well as overseas. We overcame various unfavorable factors and met the annual net production target. Significant progress was made in overseas expansion and our financial position remained healthy.

First, exploration: with innovative approach and increased investment, we made historical breakthroughs. Medium to large size discoveries such as Dongfang 13-2 and Luda 21-2 were made in shallow water offshore China. Two large-size hydrocarbon-bearing structures, Penglai 9-1 and Qinhuangdao 29-2/29-2 East, were successfully appraised. In the deepwater area of South China Sea, a new discovery, Liuhua 29-2, was made, representing a significant step forward of the Company's deepwater strategy. Overseas exploration saw important discovery in the HBR permit onshore Algeria, in which the Company holds 24.5% interests. In 2012, the Company's reserve replacement ratio reached 188%.

The success of our exploration efforts laid a solid foundation for our company to implement our “A New Leap Forward” strategy and to realize sustainable development, motivating us to stride forward for a brighter future.

Second, development and production: the Company was confronted with many challenges to meet our 2012 production target. We have taken various measures to cope with the challenges, for example, through meticulous planning, five new projects commenced production on schedule; production enhancement measures such as infill drilling and development wells were implemented to stabilize the producing fields. Through tremendous hard work during the year, our net production reached 342.4 million BOE and accomplished the full year production target.

Meanwhile, we actively push forward the construction of new development projects under the guidance of “comprehensive adjustment” and “regional development”, which will contribute to the Company's production growth targets for 2011 to 2015.

In addition, following a series of rectification measures, Penglai 19-3 oilfield has recovered to its normal state, with operating requirements satisfied. The oilfield was permitted to gradually resume production.

Third, overseas expansion: in July 2012, the Company announced the acquisition of Nexen, a Canadian energy company. With the approval of the shareholders of Nexen and respective regulatory bodies, the transaction was successfully closed in February 2013. The Company also completed the acquisition of partial working interests in each of Exploration Areas 1, 2 and 3A in Uganda. Other projects, including the Eagle Ford shale oil and gas project in the U.S., the Missan oilfields in Iraq and the Egina oilfield in Nigeria, also progressed smoothly.

Fourth, financial performance: for the year 2012, the Company realized a net profit of RMB63.69 billion; basic earnings per share amounted to RMB1.43. The Company's financial position remained healthy, with stable credit ratings from the market.

ENHANCING OUR INTERNATIONAL PROFILE

With years of overseas expansion, the Company's assets are now spread in various countries and regions over six continents. The proportions of our overseas reserves, production and assets have increased accordingly. Our overseas asset portfolio consists of both conventional and unconventional resources and our overseas operations extended to both exploration and production activities. The international profile of the Company has been enhanced significantly.

The acquisition of Nexen marked an important milestone on the Company's road of internationalization. While we are excited about this unique opportunity to further enhance the level of our international profile, we are fully aware of the arduousness of "integration" following the transaction. Facing the challenges, instead of skimming, we will make a deep dive to manage long-term results; instead of sitting on previous success, we will keep a humble and open mind. We will work closely with the management of Nexen to ensure a smooth integration process and cultivate a new corporate culture that represents the core values of the two companies. We will continue to participate in the economic and social development of the host countries and local communities. At the same time, we will stick to the "win-win" philosophy and learn from the experienced industry peers so as to push forward the stable development of the Company in a new era.

PLANNING FOR 2013

In 2013, the Company will commit to enhancing the capability for sustainable development while ensuring health, safe and environmental-friendly operations.

First, optimize the operation resources allocation to ensure on schedule startup of new development projects and achieve the full year production target.

Second, continue to enhance our exploration and development efforts. In 2013, the Company will promote in full swing oil and gas exploration in shallow water, deepwater, overseas and unconventional field and will push ahead the project pipeline for 24 new projects under construction.

Third, strengthen overseas operations. While focusing on the integration with Nexen, we will continue to improve the operational efficiency of existing overseas assets, and enhance overseas business reliability and controllability.

Fourth, tighten cost control and further improve efficiency. The Company will continue its efforts to control costs, enhance profitability and create greater value for our shareholders.

Looking ahead into 2013, we will carefully cope with the uncertainties of the world economy and the unstable international geopolitical situation, dedicate our efforts to the transformation of the Company to a global energy company, supply more energy for the world, and make greater contributions to our shareholders, communities and the society.

Business Overview

OVERVIEW

CNOOC Limited is an upstream company specializing in the exploration, development and production of oil and natural gas. It is the dominant oil and natural gas producer in offshore China and, in terms of reserves and production, is also one of the largest independent oil and natural gas exploration and production companies in the world. As of the end of 2012, the Company had net proved reserves of 3.49 billion BOE (including approximately 0.29 billion BOE in its equity method investees). In 2012, the Company had a total net oil and gas production of 935,615 BOE per day (including 46,767 BOE per day in its equity method investees).

In offshore China, the Company engages in oil and natural gas exploration, development and production in Bohai, Western South China Sea, Eastern South China Sea and East China Sea, either independently or through cooperation with foreign partners by production sharing contracts (“PSCs”). As of the end of 2012, approximately 69.0% of the Company’s net proved reserves and approximately 78.0% of its net production were located in offshore China.

For independent operations, the Company has been adding more reserves and production mainly through independent exploration and development in offshore China. As of the end of 2012, approximately 79.6% of the Company’s net proved reserves and approximately 75.3% of its production in offshore China were derived from independent projects.

For PSC operations, China National Offshore Oil Corporation (“CNOOC”), the Company’s controlling shareholder, has the exclusive right to explore and develop oil and natural gas in offshore China with foreign partners through PSCs. CNOOC has transferred to the Company all of its rights and obligations under all the PSCs (except those relating to its administrative functions), including new PSCs that will be signed in the future. As of the end of 2012, the Company had 27 PSCs with 22 partners in force.

Overseas, the Company holds interests in oil and natural gas blocks in Indonesia, Australia, Nigeria, Uganda, Argentina, the U.S., Canada, the United Kingdom and various other countries. As of 31 December 2012, the Company’s overseas net proved reserves and net production accounted for approximately 31.0% and 22.0%, respectively, of the Company’s total net proved reserves and total net production.

EXPLORATION

Exploration is a top priority for the Company. In 2012, the Company increased its investment in and refreshed its strategic thinking about exploration, and achieved remarkable results in both shallow water and deepwater areas offshore China as well as overseas. The Company’s reserve replacement ratio amounted to 188% in 2012.

As of the end of 2012, the Company's major exploration areas are shown in the table below:

Areas	Major Exploration Areas Acreage (Net) (km ²)
Bohai	43,068
Western South China Sea	73,388

The Company's exploration investment and activities reached a record high in offshore China, approximately 16,100 km 2D seismic data and 26,700 km² 3D seismic data were acquired and 99 exploration wells were drilled. An aggregate of 12 new discoveries were made and 14 oil and gas structures were successfully appraised in offshore China, resulting in a success rate of 53%-68%.

In 2012, our achievements in exploration in offshore China mainly included:

1. the successful appraisal of the large-scale oil and gas structure Penglai 9-1 due to our concentrated research and technological advancement, which has the potential to be developed into a large oilfield.
2. the successful appraisal of the Qinhuangdao 29-2/29-2 East structure, which is expected to be built into another large-scale light oil field in Bohai.
3. the discovery of the large-scale natural gas structure, Dongfang 13-2, marking another breakthrough in high-temperature and high-pressure natural gas exploration.
4. the discovery of the medium scale oil and gas structure Luda 6-2.

In 2012, the Company made its first important move in independent exploration in deepwater areas. Three independent deepwater exploration wells were drilled and the natural gas discovery of Liuhua 29-2 was made in the deepwater areas of South China Sea.

Furthermore, the Company achieved record breakthroughs in overseas exploration with nine new discoveries and five successful appraisals of oil and gas structures. Among these achievements, important discoveries were made in HBR permit in Algeria, where the Company holds 24.5% interests. Four new discoveries were made in Indonesia.

These achievements indicated great potential and our unique advantages for exploration, in offshore China, as well as good prospects for the Company's deepwater and overseas exploration.

Engineering Construction, Development and Production

In 2012, more than 10 new projects were under construction. The Company carefully allocated operational resources and made good progress in engineering construction.

Four new projects, namely, Yacheng 13-4 gas field, Panyu 4-2/5-1 adjustment, Liuhua 4-1 oilfield and Weizhou 6-9/6-10 oilfield, commenced production in 2012 as scheduled. In 2013, the Company is going to see a new peak for construction work with its full capacity to be utilized for on-land construction and offshore installation. A total of 24 new projects will be constructed, among which 10 new oil and gas fields are expected to commence production in 2013, including Liwan 3-1, the first large-scale deepwater gas field in China, as well as Suizhong 36-1 Phase II adjustment project. Other projects are expected to commence production in the coming years and will provide additional momentum for the Company's growth in mid-to-long term and its production growth target for 2011-2015.

The Company overcame a lot of challenges in oil and gas development and production in 2012. Adverse factors included the decrease in the number of new projects, the shutdown of production of Penglai 19-3 oilfield, frequent typhoons that affected production operation, as well as delays of some overseas projects, all of which created significant pressure for the Company's production. Despite this grim situation, the Company still managed to accomplish its annual production target mainly through focusing on the following areas:

First, maintaining productivity of existing oilfields. This mainly includes: strengthening the dynamic management of water injection, maintaining reasonable reservoir pressure and low decline rate in mature oilfields; refining daily operation especially oil well management to enhance production efficiency as well as optimising water production scheme in order to achieve stable oil production.

Second, bringing on stream new oil and gas fields for production contribution. With careful arrangements, new oilfields including Panyu 4-2/5-1 adjustment projects, Liuhua 4-1 oilfield and Yacheng 13-4 gas field came on stream during the year, making a significant contribution to production for the year.

Third, through optimising construction process and procedures and the selection of favourable time windows, suspension time of significant projects due to maintenance was shortened and loss in production was reduced accordingly.

Fourth, the Company proactively communicated and cooperated with operators, to facilitate the production performance of overseas project including the U.S. Eagle Ford project.

Through efforts of all staff of the Company, its net production for oil and gas reached 342.4 million BOE, representing an increase of 3.2% year over year and achieving a stable production growth.

In 2012, the Company also adhered to its strategies on comprehensive adjustments and regional development to accelerate the development of oil and gas fields. Panyu 4-2/5-1 adjustment projects were brought on stream as scheduled. The construction of Suizhong 36-1 Phase II adjustment and Qikou 18-1 adjustment projects were proceeding smoothly, both of which are expected to commence production in 2013. For regional development, the Company conducted research on a few oil and gas fields in East China Sea, and organised the regional development for the gas fields near Dongfang 13-2 and Bozhong 28/34 oilfields. These initiatives enhanced the economic return and reduced development barriers for oil and gas fields.

In addition, following a series of rectification measures, Penglai 19-3 oilfield has recovered to normal state, with operating conditions. The revised Overall Development Plan as well as the recomposed Environmental Impact Assessment prepared by Conocophillips China Inc. ("COPC"), the operator of Penglai 19-3 oilfield have been approved, and COPC is permitted to gradually resume the production of Penglai 19-3 oilfield.

Our task in 2013 would be to focus on accomplishing our annual production target with emphasis on the following areas:

First, to carefully allocate and coordinate resources for operation with a view to maintain and enhance production of existing oilfields, providing a solid base for accomplishment of the annual production target. The Company will also strengthen daily operation management and innovate technology in order to achieve this target.

Second, to facilitate timely commencement of production of new oil and gas fields. 10 new projects will come on stream in 2013, including the large-scale deepwater gas field Liwan 3-1, Weizhou 6-12, Suizhong 36-1 Phase II adjustment project and Qikou 18-1 adjustment project. The commencement of these projects will provide significant support for our production growth in the coming years.

Third, to focus on technology research and development to improve recovery factor of producing oilfields through the application of heavy oil thermal production technology and particular development technology on oilfields with low permeability.

Fourth, to strengthen the management of overseas projects and actively coordinate with local partners to ensure the safe and stable production of each project.

Through the above mentioned emphasis, the Company will strive to achieve its production growth target for 2011-2015 and lay a solid foundation for long-term growth.

Overseas Development

In recent years, the Company has greatly extended its global presence and raised its international profile to a new level. From a geographic perspective, the Company's operations are located in Asia, Africa, Oceania, North America, South America and Europe. For resource types, it has expanded from conventional oil and gas resources to unconventional resources such as shale oil and gas and oil sands. Overseas reserves, production and oil and gas sales revenue accounted for 31.0%, 22.0% and 14.7%, respectively, of the Company's total, thereby becoming an integral part of the Company's assets. With the combination of conventional and unconventional resources, as well as exploration and production assets, our global operational capability has been significantly enhanced.

In 2012, the overseas development of the Company made significant progress. In July 2012, the Company entered into a definitive agreement with Nexen. Total consideration for the acquisition of Nexen's common and preferred shares was approximately US$15.1 billion, and Nexen's debt of approximately US$4.3 billion remains outstanding. The acquisition of Nexen was completed in February 2013.

The acquisition of Nexen is important to both near-term and mid-to-long term growth of the Company:

First, reserve and production growth. Based on the reserve and production as at the end of 2012, Nexen will add approximately 20% net production and 24% proved reserves to the Company.

Second, diversified portfolio. We strategically entered into North Sea and Horn River Basin, and strengthened our existing position in Canadian oil sands, Gulf of Mexico and offshore Nigeria. Furthermore, more than 90% of Nexen's reserves are located in OECD countries.

Third, new overseas platform. We will establish Calgary as the head office of North and Central American operations. Also, we plan to retain Nexen's current management and employees, which will enhance the development of our overseas business.

In the future, the Company will focus on the integration of corporate culture, management system and technologies, etc, and strive to create a win-win situation.

At the beginning of 2012, the Company completed the acquisition of the partial working interests in each of Exploration Areas of 1, 2 and 3A in Uganda. Since the Lake Albert Basin is the key basin yet to be developed in East Africa, the project is expected to become one of Africa's largest onshore oil and gas development projects in coming years.

Other overseas projects progressed in sound track. The production volume of Eagle Ford shale oil and gas project in the U.S. maintained steady growth; the Missan oilfields in Iraq officially entered its recovery period; and the development of the Egina oilfield in Nigeria was also in smooth progress.

Along with the growth of our overseas business, we will further study the trend and dynamics of the international energy sector and enhance our global vision. Meanwhile, we will strive to strengthen our overseas operational capability, including management, resource integration and risk control, in order to further raise the degree of internationalization of the Company. We will continue to optimize our overseas assets according to three major factors including resources, return and risk profile.

REGIONAL OVERVIEW

OFFSHORE CHINA

Bohai

Bohai is the most important crude oil producing area for the Company. The crude oil produced in this region is mainly heavy oil. As of the end of 2012, the reserve and daily production volume in Bohai were 1,165.9 million BOE and 432,285 BOE/day, respectively, representing approximately 33.4% and 46.2% of the Company's total reserves and daily production, respectively. The operation area in Bohai is mainly shallow water with a depth of 10 to 30 meters.

Bohai has rich oil and gas resources and has been one of the Company's primary areas for exploration and development. In recent years, the Company has made several commercial discoveries in this region each year. In 2012, the Company made seven successful discoveries in Bohai, namely Penglai 15-2, Qinhuangdao 27-3, Luda 21-2, Kenli 2-1, Luda 6-2, Bozhong 34-1 North and Caofeidian 21-3. In addition, the Company also successfully appraised seven oil and gas structures, namely Penglai 9-1, Qinhuangdao 29-2 East, Luda 6-2, Qinhuangdao 33-3, Penglai 15-2, Bozhong 34-1 North and Kenli 9-1. The Company's major accomplishments in Bohai included:

First, the successful appraisal of Penglai 9-1 large oil and gas structure as a result of our concentrated research and technological advancement. Since its discovery in 2009, the Company intensified the geological research programs and combined a number of innovative testing techniques. Penglai 9-1 has the potential to be developed into a large oilfield.

Second, the Company successfully appraised another large-scale light oil field in Bohai, i.e. Qinhuangdao 29-2/29-2 East, through new researches and better understanding of reservoirs.

Third, the Company discovered Luda 6-2 mid-scale oil and gas structure through retuning its understanding of the underground reservoir and implementing advanced technology.

Benefiting from the new discoveries and successful appraisals, crude oil reserve replacement ratio reached 144% in Bohai, reflecting Bohai's potential as the core production major region for the Company.

For development and production, the Bohai region faced a number of challenges in 2012. There was no new start-up oilfield in Bohai and Penglai 19-3 oilfield did not resume full production for the whole year. To address these challenges, the Company strengthened its management of producing oil and gas fields, and actively implemented measures such as infill drilling and water injection. As a result, production in Caofeidian 11-6, Bozhong 34-1 and Suizhong 36-1 outperformed our expectation.

With regard to oilfields with high decline rate of post-commencement production, such as Qikou 18-2, we seek to understand the underground fractures through careful study of the 3D seismic data to locate our infill drilling wells. The production of those oilfields increased and maintained at a high level after new wells were put into production. The drilling technology and reservoirs studies had been applied to other adjustment programs in oilfields with medium-to-deep formation as well as with medium to low permeability, which contributed to the steady performance of mature oilfields in Bohai.

The Company, through its efforts, overcame various adverse factors and achieved a slight increase in net production in Bohai.

Western South China Sea

Western South China Sea is one of the most important natural gas production areas for the Company. Currently, the typical water depth of the Company's operation area in this region ranges from 40 to 120 meters. As of the end of 2012, the reserves and daily production volume in Western South China Sea reached 622.2 million BOE and 135,007 BOE/day, respectively, representing approximately 17.8% and 14.4%, respectively, of the Company's total reserves and daily production.

In 2012, the Company had one independent new discovery, Dongfang 13-2, and one PSC new discovery, Weizhou 6-12 North, in Western South China Sea, and successfully appraised three oil and gas structures, including Dongfang 13-2, Weizhou 11-7 North and Weizhou 11-4 North.

For the Yinggehai Basin, the Company continued to achieve exploration results of natural gas under the high temperature and high pressure environment. In addition to the successful appraisal of Dongfang 13-1 medium formation, which was discovered in 2011, the Company again discovered Dongfang 13-2 large-scale gas field, further enhancing the exploration performance in this field.

As for development and production, the Company continued to implement streamlined management, and optimize the production process for all oil and gas fields. Meanwhile, the Company minimized the impact of typhoons and maintenance downtime on its production activities through thorough planning.

Eastern South China Sea

Eastern South China Sea is one of the Company's most important crude oil producing areas. Currently, the typical water depth of the Company's operating area in this region ranges from 100 to 300 meters. The crude oil produced is mostly of light to medium gravity. As of the end of 2012, the reserves and daily production volume in Eastern South China Sea reached 550.0 million BOE and 155,070 BOE/day, respectively, representing approximately 15.8% and 16.6%, respectively, of the Company's total reserves and production.

The Company made breakthroughs in deepwater exploration and continued to achieve new discoveries from rolling exploratory activities in Eastern South China Sea in 2012. The Company achieved three independent discoveries, namely, Liuhua 29-2, Enping 18-1 and Lufeng 15-1, in 2012. In addition, the Company successfully appraised one oil and gas structure, Panyu 35-1. The discovery of Liuhua 29-2 deepwater gas field marked an important step of the Company's independent deepwater exploration endeavours.

In 2012, the Company overcame unfavorable factors such as typhoons and equipment modification for oil and gas fields. Net oil and gas production derived from Eastern South China Sea rose steadily, mainly attributable to the active implementation of infill drilling in mature oilfields. The full deployment of enhanced recovery measures also helped to increase production. For example, the infill drilling has significantly increased the production of Xijiang 24-3 oilfield. Also, the increased infill drilling activities of Xijiang 30-2 oilfield and Lufeng 13-1 oilfield contributed to production growth.

The Company actively coordinated with its partner to promote the development and construction of the first large-scale deepwater natural gas project, Liwan 3-1, in offshore China. Currently, the project has been making steady progress and is expected to commence production at the end of 2013.

East China Sea

East China Sea is the least explored area among the Company's four principal producing regions in offshore China. The typical water depth of the Company's operation area in this region is approximately 90 meters. As of the end of 2012, approximately 2.1% of the Company's reserves and 0.8% of the Company's production were derived from East China Sea.

In 2012, the Company continued to focus on exploration surrounding the existing production facilities and oil and gas fields and strengthen the exploration and development of oil and gas reservoirs with low permeability, which achieved positive results and laid a strong foundation for future growth in production.

In addition, the Company has actively promoted regional development of gas fields in East China Sea, consolidated design work, reviewed and negotiated gas prices with downstream users, and ensured the progress of projects as scheduled.

In 2012, as a result of increased gas delivery volume to downstream users, the Company's production volume in East China Sea increased significantly.

OVERSEAS

Asia

Asia was the first overseas region that the Company entered into and has become one of its major overseas oil and gas producing areas. Currently, the Company holds oil and gas assets in Asia mainly in Indonesia and Iraq. As of the end of 2012, the reserves and daily production volume derived from Asia (excluding China) reached 207.5 million BOE and 43,752 BOE/day, respectively, representing approximately 5.9% and 4.7%, respectively, of the Company's total reserves and daily production.

Indonesia

In Indonesia, the Company maintains ownership interests in primarily the following contracts: the SES PSC, the Malacca Strait PSC and the Poleng Technical Assistance Contract. Among these, the Company is the operator of the SES block and owns approximately 65.54% of its interests. All these contracts are currently at the production stage.

The Company also owns approximately 13.90% interests in the Tangguh LNG Project in Indonesia. Located in West Papua and comprised three blocks, namely Berau, Muturi and Wiriagar, this project commenced production in 2009.

In addition, the Company owns interests in the following PSCs: the South East Palung Aru PSC, the Batanghari PSC and the Madura Strait PSC.

In Indonesia, the Company made four new discoveries in 2012, all located in established regions. The production facilities of our existing oil and gas fields could be leveraged for economic development of these new discoveries.

In 2012, given that the oil and gas fields in the SES areas are matured fields with high water concentration and decline rate, the Company adopted measures to stabilize and increase production and to control decline rate.

Iraq

In 2010, the Company entered into a technical service contract for the development and production of the Missan oilfields in Iraq, pursuant to which the Company acts as the lead contractor and holds 63.75% participating interest.

Through the Company's efforts, the project reached its required production level in 2012, and entered the cost recovery period, starting to make contribution to the Company's production growth.

As the Missan Project is a technical service contract, its cost of operation is relatively high and consequently raised the cost for the Company. Nevertheless, major oil and gas companies in the world have all entered into the exploration and development industry in the Middle East through technical service contracts, demonstrating an industry consensus on the future growth of the area.

Other Regions in Asia

The Company owns interests in several blocks in Myanmar, Papua New Guinea and Qatar. These blocks are still under exploration.

Oceania

Currently, the Company's oil and gas resources in Oceania are all located in Australia. As of the end of 2012, the reserves and daily production volume derived from Oceania reached 96.8 million BOE and 24,628 BOE/day, respectively, representing approximately 2.8% and 2.6%, respectively, of the Company's total reserves and daily production.

Australia

The Company owns 5.3% of the interests in Australia's North West Shelf Project. The project has commenced production and is currently supplying gas to end-users including the Dapeng LNG Terminal in Guangdong, China.

In 2012, the North West Shelf Project generated stable production and healthy returns.

Africa

The Company has a relatively large reserve base in Africa. The Company's assets in Africa are primarily located in Nigeria and Uganda. As of the end of 2012, the reserves and daily production volume derived from Africa reached 135.7 million BOE and 56,998 BOE/day, respectively, representing approximately 3.9% and 6.1%, respectively, of the Company's total reserves and daily production.

Nigeria

The Company owns a 45% interest in the OML 130 block in Nigeria, which is a deepwater project and comprises four oilfields, namely, Akpo, Egina, Egina South and Preowei. The Akpo oilfield commenced production in March 2009. In 2012, the Akpo oilfield generated stable production.

In 2012, the Company continued to carry out preliminary development work with the operator of the other three oilfields, including the Egina oilfield. The Egina oilfield is expected to commence comprehensive construction in 2013.

Uganda

In 2011, the Company entered into a sales and purchase agreement with Tullow and TOTAL S.A. to acquire one-third of the interest in each of Exploration Areas ("EA") 1, 2 and 3A in Uganda from Tullow. EA 1, 2 and 3A are located at the Lake Albert Basin in Uganda, which is one of the most promising basins with oil and gas resources in Africa.

In February 2012, the Company and Tullow completed the acquisition. The Company will operate the new Kanywataba exploration license in the former EA 3A, and the Kingfisher production license which was converted due to the discovery in the former EA 3A. Tullow and TOTAL S.A. will operate EA 2 and EA 1, respectively.

In 2013, the Company will actively facilitate the development of the Kingfisher oilfield.

Other Regions in Africa

Apart from Nigeria and Uganda, the Company also owns interests in several blocks in Equatorial Guinea, the Republic of Congo, Algeria and the Gabonese Republic. These blocks are currently under exploration.

North America

The Company holds interests in the oil and gas exploration areas in the U.S., Canada and Trinidad and Tobago in North America, as well as part of the shares of MEG Energy Corporation ("MEG") in Canada. As of the end of 2012, the Company's reserve and daily production volume derived from North America reached 353.7 million BOE and 36,183 BOE/day, respectively, representing approximately 10.1% and 3.9%, respectively, of the Company's total reserves and production.

The U.S.

The Company has acquired a 33.3% interest in each of two shale projects in the U.S., namely the Eagle Ford project, which is located in South Texas with 600,000 net acres, and the Niobrara project, which is located in northeast Colorado and southeast Wyoming with 800,000 net acres. Chesapeake is the operator of these projects.

The Eagle Ford project commenced production in 2012 and saw a considerable increase in production volume. In addition, the Niobrara project has accelerated its contribution to the production of the Company.

The shale oil and gas resources has become one of the growth areas for the world's oil and gas exploration and development. The Company expects that participation in this field could support its sustainable growth in the future.

In addition, the Company owns several exploration blocks in Alaska.

Canada

Canada is one of the countries with rich oil sands resources. As oil sands are expected to become one of the new growth areas of oil and gas exploration and development in the future, the Company believes that participation in oil sands development would enable us to achieve sustainable growth.

In 2005, the Company acquired part of shares of MEG in Canada. In August 2010, MEG's shares started trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange in Canada, resulting in considerable appreciation of the value of the Company's shares in MEG. As of the end of 2012, the Company owns 12.39% of the shares of MEG.

In 2011, the Company completed the acquisition of OPTI Canada Inc. ("OPTI"), an oil sands producer in Canada. The major assets of OPTI includes a 35% working interest in Long Lake and interests in three other oil sands projects located in the Athabasca region of northeastern Alberta.

In addition, the Company owns a 60% interest in Northern Cross (Yukon) Limited, which owns oil and gas exploration blocks in the Yukon area in Canada.

Trinidad and Tobago

In 2009, the Company acquired a 12.5% interest in the 2C block and a 12.75% interest in the 3A block in Trinidad and Tobago. The 2C block commenced production of crude oil in 2005. With natural gas field start up in 2011, the production volume in this region increased significantly.

South America

The Company mainly holds a 50% interest in Bidas Corporation ("Bidas"). The Company's interest in this project is accounted by the equity method. As of the end of 2012, the Company's reserves and daily production volume derived from South America reached 287.6 million BOE and 44,634 BOE/day, respectively, representing approximately 8.2% and 4.8%, respectively, of the Company's total reserves and production.

Argentina

In March 2010, the Company announced to form a 50%-50% joint venture with Bidas Energy Holding Ltd. ("BEH") in Bidas Corporation for a consideration of approximately US$3.1 billion in cash. The transaction was already completed. Each of the Company and BEH holds a 50% interest in Bidas and makes management decisions jointly. Bidas holds a 40% interest in Pan American Energy in Argentina ("PAE").

Through its affiliates (including the interest in PAE), Bidas has oil and gas exploration and production activities in Argentina. Following the acquisition, the Company designated senior management staff to participate in the daily management of Bidas. In 2012, the production enhancement measures in Bidas' major producing blocks worked well to maintain stable production.

Newly Added Assets After the Nexen Deal

The Company completed the acquisition of Nexen Inc. in Canada in February 2013 and further diversified its overseas portfolio. The Company will establish its North and Central America headquarter in Calgary of Canada to manage Nexen's global operations and the Company's existing assets in North and Central America.

In Canada, through this acquisition, we hold 100% of the interests in the Long Lake project and partial interests in several other projects. The Long Lake project is in the production oil stage. The Company also holds interests in Syncrude oil sands project, which has been producing for over 34 years. The Company has also entered into the Horn River and Liard Basins through this acquisition. Horn River Basin, with a total of 300,000 acres, is one of the regions in North America with the highest quality shale gas, and with great potential for development.

In the Gulf of Mexico in the U.S., the Company gets to own more than 200 exploration blocks with more than 100 exploration targets, containing considerable exploration potential.

In the United Kingdom, the Company for the first time entered into the North Sea, and the acquired portfolio consists of producing, development and exploration assets, mainly including: 43.2% interest in Buzzard oilfield, which enables the Company to become the second largest producer in the North Sea, and 36.5% interests in Golden Eagle block.

In Nigeria, we get to own 20% interests in each of Usan and Usan West offshore oilfields as well as several other discoveries and exploration targets.

SALES AND MARKETING

Sales of Crude Oil

The Company sells its crude oil produced in offshore China to the PRC market through CNOOC China Limited, its wholly owned subsidiary. The Company sells its crude oil produced overseas to international and domestic markets through China Offshore Oil (Singapore) International Pte Ltd, also its wholly owned subsidiary.

The Company's crude oil sale prices are mainly determined by the prices of international benchmark crude oil of similar quality, with certain premiums or discounts subject to prevailing market conditions. Although the prices are quoted in US dollars, customers in China usually pay Renminbi. The Company currently sells three types of crude oil in China, namely, heavy crude, medium crude and light crude, which are benchmarked by Duri, Daqing, and Tapis, respectively. The Company's major customers in China are Sinopec, PetroChina and CNOOC.

In 2012, the sluggish growth in the global economy, in particular the economic downturn in developed countries, put a halt to the growth of demand for energy. On the other hand, the U.S. Cushing crude oil inventory has continued to increase due to the increases in proved reserves and production in the U.S. together with the glitches on transportation pipelines network, thus putting pressure on WTI oil price. Since Asia maintained a strong demand for crude oil, product oil and fuel oil, the realized price for mid to heavy benchmark crude oil in the Far East was rather high, approaching the price level of Brent crude oil.

Capturing the opportunities of strong demand for crude oil in China and the higher benchmark oil prices in the Far East, the Company has been closely monitoring market movements and striving to meet customer demand and realized relatively high oil price. In 2012, the Company's average realized oil price was US$110.48/barrel, representing an increase of 0.7% year over year.

Sales of Natural Gas

The Company's natural gas sale prices are determined by the Company's negotiations with its customers. The Company's natural gas sales agreements are generally long-term contracts, which normally provide a periodic price adjustment mechanism. The Company's natural gas customers are primarily located on the south-eastern coast of China, including Hong Kong Castle Peak Power Company Limited, CNOOC Gas and Power Group, and China BlueChemical Ltd.

The LNG sourced by the Company from the North West Shelf Project in Australia and the Tangguh LNG Project in Indonesia is mainly based on long-term supply contracts and is sold to various customers in the Asia-Pacific region, including LNG Terminals in Guangdong Dapeng and Fujian Putian, China.

In 2012, the Company's average realized gas price was US$5.77/mcf, representing a 12.0% increase over the previous year, primarily due to: (i) the Company's negotiation with major customers that increased the sales price following the Chinese government's onshore natural gas price reform in the past few years; (ii) higher realized price of natural gas produced from new oil and gas fields; and (iii) higher sales price for certain production of Tangguh LNG in Indonesia in the spot market.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

In 2012, the Company continued to focus on the R&D of offshore oil and gas exploration, development and engineering construction to secure stable growth in reserves and production. Certain research findings have applied to operations and have generated positive results. One of the exploration research findings was honored with the Second-Class National Technological Progress Award of China in 2012.

Major Scientific Project Development

With a view to strengthen key technologies and to proactively develop technologies for the Company's sustainable development in the mid to long term, the Company has established a number of major projects in 2012, primarily including new areas and technologies for offshore oil exploration, efficient development and enhanced oil recovery of offshore oilfield, deepwater oilfield development projects, and exploration technology for oil and gas fields with low porosity and low permeability.

In addition, the Company has completed its research for all of the six major research projects, including the "deepwater high-precision seismic exploration technology", which have obtained the approval and acceptance from China's expert team.

Innovative Development of Key Technologies

To provide strong technical support for new discoveries of oil and gas reserves and to maintain oil and gas production, the Company has enhanced its efforts in the research and application of exploration and development technology in 2012. Our research breakthroughs, including technologies involving the exploration of oil and gas fields with low porosity and low permeability and the recovery of heavy oil in complex thermal fluid, have been utilized in the exploration and development of oil and gas fields, and generated satisfactory results.

In the meantime, the research findings of the "deepwater high-precision seismic exploration technology" has been applied in the exploration and development activities in South China Sea. This marks our success in research in relation to offshore high-precision seismic data acquisition and processing technologies.

INTERNAL CONTROL AND RISK MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

Since its establishment, the Company has treated internal control and risk management as a top priority. The Company clearly recognizes that it is the duty and obligation of its management to establish and maintain an internal control and risk management system, which serves the Company's strategic objectives and meets the Company's business practice.

The Company established an Investment and Risk Management Committee ("IRMC"), which is responsible for investment decisions and risk management. All critical decisions should be approved by at least two-thirds of the members of the IRMC. The Company cannot invest in any projects that have been vetoed by the IRMC. Therefore, decision-making risks can be minimized by IRMC implementing the appropriate mechanisms.

In addition, the IRMC is responsible for setting the objective of risk management, assessing key risks in major investments, important events and key business procedures, reviewing and approving solutions to major risks, and submitting the risk management reports to the Board periodically.

The "Sarbanes-Oxley Act" promulgated in the U.S. in 2002 and the "Code on Corporate Governance Practices" issued by the Hong Kong Stock Exchange in 2004 (as amended from time to time and now known as the Corporate Governance Code) imposed stricter regulatory requirements on corporate governance and internal control. The Company's management believes that such regulations not only represent regulatory requirements imposed by the market, but also motivate the Company to improve its management system and create value for its shareholders.

In terms of internal control, the Company introduced the internal control framework developed by COSO Committee (“Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission”) of the United States, which established an internal control system and mechanism over finance and accounting, business operation and corporate governance. Such internal control system has been continuously reviewed and evaluated to ensure timely, accurate and complete information disclosure.

In respect of risk management, in 2007, the Company officially adopted the COSO-ERM framework to ensure that all key risk factors are closely monitored and to keep the risk impact to the minimum.

Listed in both Hong Kong and the U.S., the Company will continue to strictly comply with all regulatory requirements, strengthen its internal control and risk management system, and maintain a high standard of corporate governance to assure the Company of a more robust development.

HEALTH, SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION (“HSE”)

As an offshore exploration and production company, we face significant operational risks and always emphasize on HSE. The Company promotes the philosophy and culture of HSE among its employees. The Company strives to establish a comprehensive management system to improve employees’ awareness of HSE during operations and to strengthen their ability of risk identification and risk management skills.

In 2012, as the Company was rapidly developing its deepwater and overseas businesses, the scope of management in health, safety and environmental protection also expanded accordingly, and the Company faced greater challenges. For this reason, the Company continued to improve the environmental protection management system, promote intrinsic safety management and strengthen inspection and training, ensuring overall stability in health, safety and environmental protection performance. In 2012, the Company met its objectives related to annual health, safety and environmental protection. In production activities, the health, safety and environmental protection system was effectively implemented. There was no accident causing critical casualties throughout the year, and neither was there any liability claims for losses of over RMB1 million.

At the same time, we strictly comply with the regulatory requirements imposed by the governmental authorities, and carry out risk identification and targeted prevention works. Our efforts have been recognized by the governmental authorities.

For health, safety and environmental protection information system protection, the Company utilized the environmental management information system to successfully track pollutants in 2012, and adopted categorized management in the risk identification system.

In 2012, the Company’s headquarter started to develop an emergency response system to track typhoons, and proactively provided warnings of 14 typhoons, which helped to respond to 12 typhoons that affected our operations. Such well-planned preparation contributed to eventual zero casualties.

In 2012, there was no accident causing critical casualties. The Company’s Occupational Safety and Health Administration (“OSHA”) statistics were maintained at a good level, and the Company’s performance continued to improve.

CORPORATE CITIZEN

Striving to be a good corporate citizen has always been a goal of CNOOC Limited and fulfilling social responsibility is an act that the Company would never be slow to assume. While constantly trying to raise its core competitiveness, achieve sustainable development and create value for its shareholders, the Company also cares about stakeholders and mutual needs in order to achieve harmonious growth of enterprises and society, as well as of human and nature.

Our social responsibilities are: to build CNOOC Limited into a driving force for sustainable energy supply, a leading force for clean, healthy and green energy development, and a motivating force for mutual progress with stakeholders and the society.

While continuing to be guided by such beliefs, the Company fulfilled its social responsibilities in 2012 in the following three key areas:

First, a driving force for sustainable energy supply

In 2012, the Company achieved significant progress in the areas of exploration, development and production, with stable growth in oil and gas reserves and production. In offshore China, 12 new discoveries were made and successful appraisals of oil and gas structures including Penglai 9-1 were achieved. In deepwater South China Sea, the Company made a new discovery of Liuhua 29-2, marking a significant step in the implementation of the Company's deepwater strategy. Overseas, the Company made important progress in the Algeria HBR permit. In 2012, the Company achieved a reserve replacement ratio of 188%. In addition, the Company overcame a number of difficulties to ensure the timely commencement of production of new oil and gas fields and the steady performance of producing fields, and eventually accomplished its annual production target.

Meanwhile, the Company also made significant progress in overseas development through the acquisition of Nexen in Canada in February 2013, providing a resource base for its long term development and building a new platform for overseas development.

With increasing reserves and production volume, the Company has gradually broadened its energy supply to China and the world and become a driving force for sustainable energy supply. We regard this as the most important part of our social responsibility endeavors.

Second, a leading force for clean, healthy and green energy development

While continuing to develop on its conventional oil and gas business in 2012, the Company enhanced its effort in the development of unconventional natural gas resources. In China, the Company strengthened its management of unconventional resources such as shale gas as well as coal-bed methane. Overseas, we communicated with the partners and streamlined the projects management and achieved steady production increase. Looking ahead, we will continue to develop clean energy for the creation of a better environment.

In 2012, the Company strengthened its safety and environmental protection measures and effectively improved its HSE capability.

In addition, the Company continued to encourage energy conservation. For example, we adopted an electricity-for-gas replacement project in the Nanshan terminal, resulting in the effective conservation of unit energy consumption and carbon dioxide emissions.

Third, a motivating force for mutual progress with stakeholders and the society

In 2012, the Company participated in various charitable activities such as helping the low-income people, providing disaster reliefs and making donations to students in need. The Company also assisted in improving the learning environment of children in Anhui, Guizhou, Guangdong and other regions through financing the construction of schools, sponsoring stationery and books as well as monetary donations. In addition, the Company proactively helped to enhance infrastructures including village roads and irrigation system to accelerate the pace of poverty relief for the economically underdeveloped regions.

To protect the ocean environment, the Company strengthened the control and treatment measures on pollutants and continued to promote the upgrade of water treatment system and re-injection of production water. In addition, to perform its social responsibility, the Company also actively participated in the fishery stocking in Bohai.

The Company also actively participated in community building by encouraging a harmonious environment between enterprises and communities in order to achieve mutual benefits and growth. Like in previous years, our operating vessels were dispatched in a number of marine rescues in 2012. The Company deployed its vessels and helicopters to participate in the emergency response drill related to oil spill held by Beihai City, Guangxi Province, and was highly appraised by the local government.

Overseas, the Company has provided sponsorship of approximately RMB1.55 million to Uganda for the filming of a travel documentary for the promotion of the country's tourism business. Moreover, through a donation of US$20,000 to the Cambodian Red Cross and a sponsorship to the 8th Canada-China Energy and Environment Forum, the Company strengthened its communication with the countries where it operates its business, realizing mutual benefits with those communities.

In 2012, the Company published its "Corporate Social Responsibility Report 2010-2011" to summarize its social responsibility performance during 2010 and 2011. The report can be downloaded at its website www.cnooltd.com.

HUMAN RESOURCES

We always consider human resources as the treasure of the Company. Throughout the years, the Company has built a professional and highly efficient workforce which is capable of tackling the challenges. This is essential to the Company's success. In order to meet the growing demand for human resources as a result of its rapid development, in 2012, the Company focused on the innovation of the management system, the enhancement of the management skills, the exploration of the compensation incentives scheme, and the development of a high-end international talent pool.

As for our human resources policies, our priority is to satisfy the demand for production and technical research talents and focus on allocating human resources to key projects. We accelerated the review and approval process of the staffing plan for base-level frontline, the production operation and technical research.

Consolidating management foundation through continued improvement

In 2012, the Company continued to promote the "five-good platforms" building and scientific, standardized and regulated offshore management, which achieved favorable results. In 2013, the Company will also proactively pursue the application of the "five-good platforms" building in overseas.

Establishing performance-linked compensation scheme to incentivize base-level staff

The Company entered into labor contracts with some offshore platform workers in 2012, which helped to strengthen their sense of belonging and responsibility and to revitalize team energy, all of which will improve the efficiency in offshore production activities.

In addition, the Company implemented the "Major Contribution Reward Scheme for Major Discoveries in Oil and Gas Exploration, Development and Production, Drilling and Completion, and Construction Engineering". The scheme further motivated the general workforce to excel diligently.

Benchmarking world-class peers and cultivating top-notch professionals

In 2012, the Company further improved its team-building plan for technical talents and strengthened its efforts in building expert teams in order to nurture the dedication of technical research and development personnels. We cultivated more than 100 staff members with an international background, covering key professional areas including unconventional oil and gas exploration, development, drilling and completion, international fiscal regimes of oil industry, modern engineering project management, and operating and management.

In 2012, the Company conducted more than 6,000 trainings with over 75,000 participants (person-times).

A.2

Chairman and Chief Executive power and authority, so that power is not concentrated in any one individual.”

•The roles of the Chairman and CEO of the Company are separate and are not performed by the same individual. Mr. Wang Yilin serves as the Chairman of the Board and Mr. Li Fanrong serves as the CEO of the Company.

•The Chairman ensures that all Directors are properly briefed on issues arising at Board meetings and is responsible for ensuring that Directors receive, in a timely manner, adequate information, which must be accurate, clear, complete and reliable.

One of the important roles of the Chairman is to provide leadership for the Board. The clear division of responsibilities between the Chairman and the CEO ensures a balance of power and authority, as well as efficient management and operation of the Company, which help to contribute to the success of the Company.

A.3 Board composition

Principle: "The board should have a balance of skills and experience appropriate for the requirements of the issuer's business. It should ensure that changes to its composition can be managed without undue disruption. It should include a balanced composition of executive and non-executive directors (including independent non-executive directors) so that there is a strong independent element on the board, which can effectively exercise independent judgment. Non-executive directors should be of sufficient calibre and number for their views to carry weight."

The Board, as representatives of the shareholders of the Company, is committed to the achievement of business success and the enhancement of long-term shareholder's value with the highest standards of integrity and ethics. The role of the Board is to direct, guide and oversee the conduct of the Company's business and to ensure that the interests of the shareholders are being served.

Both of them are engineers who are familiar with the Company's businesses and have cooperated with leading global players in the oil and gas industry. Both Mr. Wu Guangqi and Mr. Li Fanrong have around 30 years experience in petroleum exploration and operation.

• The Non-executive Directors of the Company are all individuals with immense experiences in the parent company's respective fields of operation. Most of them have over 30 years of experiences in petroleum exploration and operation.

The Company is therefore of the view that all of the Independent Non-executive Directors are independent.

A.4 & A.5 Appointments, re-election and removal &

Nomination Committee

Principle: "There should be a formal, considered and transparent procedure for the appointment of new directors. There should be plans in place for orderly succession for appointments. All directors should be subject to re-election at regular intervals. An issuer must explain the reasons for the resignation or removal of any director."

• The Company has established a Nomination Committee which consisted of two Independent Non-executive Directors (Mr. Lawrence J. Lau and Mr. Wang Tao) and a Non-executive Director (Mr. Wang Yilin) as of 31 December 2012. Mr. Wang Yilin, the Chairman of the Board, was appointed as the Chairman of the Nomination Committee in succession to Mr. Zhou Shouwei on 28 March 2012. A list of the present members of the Nomination Committee is set out under the section headed "Company Information" on page 143 of the annual report.

• The role of the Nomination Committee is to determine the policy and establish proper procedures for the selection of the Company's leadership positions, upgrade the quality of Board members and perfect the Company's corporate governance structure.

• The main authorities and responsibilities of the Nomination Committee are to nominate candidates to serve as Directors and senior management of the Company for approval by the Board, to review the structure and composition of the Board, and to evaluate the leadership abilities of Executive Directors, so as to ensure the competitiveness of the Company.

When nominating a particular candidate, the Nomination Committee will consider (1) the breadth and depth of the management and/or leadership experience of the candidate; (2) financial literacy or other professional or business experience of the candidate that are relevant to the Company and its business; and (3) the experience in or knowledge of international operations of the candidate. All candidates must be able to meet the standards set out in Rules 3.08 and 3.09 of the Listing Rules. When nominating an Independent Non-executive Director who has served the Company for more than nine years, the Board will propose that the shareholders vote by way of a separate resolution on any decision to retain such Independent Non-executive Director and include in the circular and/or explanatory statement accompanying the notice of the relevant general meeting to shareholders the reasons why the Board considers such Director to still be independent and shall be re-elected.

• The Nomination Committee is also responsible for evaluating the contributions and independence of incumbent Directors so as to determine whether they should be recommended for re-election. Based on such evaluation, the Nomination Committee will recommend to the Board candidates for re-election at general meetings and appropriate replacements (if necessary). The Board, based on the recommendation of the Nomination Committee, will propose to the shareholders the candidates for re-election at the relevant general meetings.

• A Director appointed by the Board to fill a casual vacancy or as an addition shall hold office until the next extraordinary general meeting and/or annual general meeting (as appropriate).

• Our Non-executive Directors are appointed for a term of one year. However, none of our existing Independent Non-executive Directors are appointed for a specific term, which constitutes a deviation from the CG Code provision. Further explanation is set out under the section of “Compliance with the Corporate Governance Code” on page 40.

• All Directors, including those appointed for a specific term are subject to retirement by rotation once every three years and are subject to re-election in accordance with the Articles of Association of the Company (as amended and adopted by special resolution of the Company on 27 May 2009) (the “Articles”) and the CG Code.

Given the essential unitary nature of the board, non-executive directors have the same duties of care and skill and fiduciary duties as executive directors.”

• The Company regularly updates its Directors with changes in laws and regulations relevant to their roles as Directors of the Company.

• All Directors newly appointed to the Board receive a comprehensive, formal and tailored induction on appointment and appropriate briefing and training from the Company. The senior management and the Joint Company Secretaries will also conduct subsequent briefings as and when necessary to ensure that the Directors are kept apprised of the latest developments relevant to the operations and business of the Company, and their responsibilities under statutes and common law, the Listing Rules, legal and other regulatory requirements as well as the Company’s business and governance policies, so that they are able to discharge their responsibilities properly. Certain Directors attended trainings organized by external professional parties on Listing Rules and other regulatory updates as well as obligations of directors. In addition, they also read other materials which they thought appropriate and necessary for their fulfillment of their roles.

- The Non-executive Directors and the Independent Non-executive Directors actively participate in Board meetings and Board Committees meetings to exercise their independent judgement on issues of strategy, policy, performance, accountability, resources, key appointments and standards of conduct of the Company. They are responsible for taking the lead where potential conflicts of interest arise.

The Non-executive Directors and the Independent Non-executive Directors are invited to serve on the Audit, Remuneration and Nomination Committees of the Company.

During 2012, each Non-executive Director or Independent Non-executive Director attended or otherwise appointed an alternate to attend all regularly scheduled meetings of the Board and Committees on which such Non-executive Director or Independent Non-executive Director sat in, and reviewed the meeting materials distributed in advance for such meetings and shared their skills and expertise with the Board or the relevant Committee. Principle: "Directors should be provided in a timely manner with appropriate information in the form and quality to enable them to make an informed decision and perform their duties and responsibilities."

The Company's senior management regularly provides the Board and its Committees with adequate information in a timely manner to enable them to make informed decisions. Senior management also organises presentations to the Board by professional advisers on specific transactions as appropriate.

B. REMUNERATION OF DIRECTORS AND SENIOR MANAGEMENT AND BOARD EVALUATION

B.1 The level and make-up of remuneration and disclosure

Principle: “An issuer should disclose its directors’ remuneration policy and other remuneration related matters. The procedure for setting policy on executive directors’ remuneration and all directors’ remuneration packages should be formal and transparent. Remuneration levels should be sufficient to attract and retain directors to run the company successfully without paying more than necessary. No director should be involved in deciding his own remuneration.”

The Remuneration Committee currently comprises two Independent Non-executive Directors (Mr. Chiu Sung Hong and Mr. Tse Hau Yin, Aloysius) and one Non-executive Director (Mr. Wu Zhenfang) with Mr. Chiu Sung Hong as the Chairman of the Remuneration Committee. The Remuneration Committee is delegated with the authority of determining and approving all Executive Directors’ salaries, bonuses, share option packages, performance appraisal systems and retirement plans. A list of members of the Remuneration Committee is set out in “Company Information” on page 143 of the annual report.

The major responsibilities and authorities of the Remuneration Committee include making recommendations to the Board on the Company’s policy and structure of the remuneration of Directors and senior management of the Company and on the establishment of a formal and transparent procedure for developing remuneration policy, determining the service contracts and specific remuneration packages for all Executive Directors and senior management, such as benefits in kind, pension rights and compensation payments, including any compensation payable for loss or termination of their office or appointment, and making recommendations to the Board on the remuneration of Non-executive Directors and Independent Non-executive Directors.

The Company’s emolument policy is to maintain fair and competitive packages with reference to industry standards and prevailing market conditions. The Remuneration Committee is mindful that levels of remuneration must be sufficient to attract and retain the Directors and senior management is needed to run the Company successfully, but at the same time the Company should avoid setting remunerations which are in excess of those necessary for this purpose. The Directors’ emolument package comprises the Director’s fees, basic salaries and allowances, bonuses, share options and others. The following factors are considered in determining the Directors’ remuneration package:

— Business needs, company goals and objectives;

— Responsibilities of the Directors and their individual contribution; and — Changes in relevant markets, for example, supply/demand fluctuations and changes in competitive conditions.

Details of the remuneration, as well as the share option benefits of Directors for the year ended 31 December 2012, are set out on pages 88 to 90 of the annual report.

No individual Director or senior management of the Company is permitted to determine his/her own remuneration.

The Company seeks to apply similar principles when determining the remuneration packages for senior management with reference to the board’s corporate goals and objectives. Other general staff, and employees are rewarded on a performance-rated basis with other fringe benefits such as social insurance, pension funds and medical cover.

Please refer to notes 10 to 11 to the financial statements on pages 88 to 91 for details of Directors' remuneration and senior management's remuneration by band and the five highest paid individuals in the Company.

The remuneration of Non-executive Directors and Independent Non-executive Directors recommended by the Remuneration Committee is determined by the Board where the vote of the Directors concerned will not be counted in relation to their remuneration.

The Remuneration Committee also administers the Company’s share option schemes and all other employee equity-based compensation plans, with full authority to make all other determinations in the administration thereof, but subject to the limitations prescribed by laws and the rules of such plans and programs.

C.1 Financial reporting

Principle: “The board should present a balanced, clear and comprehensible assessment of the company’s performance, position and prospects.”

The Company has established a mechanism for reporting to the Board, by providing a monthly management report, to ensure that the Board fully understands the operating conditions and the relevant financial position of the Company. The Board is responsible for preparing accounts that give a true and fair view of the Group's financial position on a going-concern basis and other financial disclosures. Management provides the Board with the relevant information it needs to fulfill these responsibilities.

Directors of the Company will discuss the operating budget for the next year and approve the operating budget at the end of each year and will review the execution of the operating budget for the whole year. Management will also provide sufficient explanations and information to the Board. All significant changes in the operating conditions and investment decisions will be discussed in sufficient details by the Board.

Directors of the Company will also discuss and analyse the performance of the Group, the long term business model and corporate strategies of the Company for achieving the Company's objectives and generating or preserving value over the longer term. Please refer to the relevant section in Management's Discussion and Analysis on pages 56 to 61 for details.

If necessary, the Directors will also engage professional independent consultants so that the Directors can gain an in-depth and comprehensive understanding and assessment of the relevant matters, in order to make well-grounded assessments.

In response to Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act promulgated by the U.S. Congress in 2002 to safeguard the interests of investors, increase the accuracy and effectiveness of financial reporting and financial information disclosure, the management has issued a statement on the responsibility and effectiveness of internal control based on financial reporting, and the auditors of the Company have also audited the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting.

The Company regularly updates investors with progress of development and performance of the Company through formal channels such as annual reports, interim reports and announcements made through the Hong Kong Stock Exchange's website and the Company's website, as well as through press releases. The Company also issues quarterly operational statistics and announces its strategy at the beginning of the year to enhance transparency about its performance and to give details of the latest development of the Company in a timely manner.

The Company provides a balanced, clear and understandable assessment in its interim and annual reports, other financial disclosures required by the Listing Rules, reports to the regulators and information disclosed under statutory requirements to enable investors to appraise its development over the period and its financial position.

The Company has also engaged independent technical consultant firms to conduct a review of its oil and gas information and discloses details of its oil and gas properties in its annual report (as set out on pages 124 to 136).

The Company's Directors are not aware of any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt upon the Company's ability to continue as a going concern as referred to in C.1.3 of the CG Code.

The statement by the auditor of the Company regarding its reporting responsibilities on the financial statements of the Group is set out in the Independent Auditors' Report on page 62.

C.2 Internal controls

Principle: "The board should ensure that the issuer maintains sound and effective internal controls to safeguard shareholders' investment and the issuer's assets."

The Directors regularly, and at least annually, receive reports from the management of the Company regarding the establishment, review and evaluation of the Company's financial, operational and compliance control, internal control and risk management. All major risks are reported to the Board. The Board will also evaluate the corresponding risks and the response plan. The Company will continue to improve such system to comply with the regulatory requirements and to enhance corporate governance of the Company.

• The management has evaluated the design and operating effectiveness of the internal control regarding the financial report as of 31 December 2012, and has not discovered any material weakness through the evaluation. On the basis of such evaluation, the Directors consider that as of 31 December 2012, internal control of the Company in relation to financial reporting was effective.

- The Board is the ultimate decision-making body of the Company, other than those matters reserved to shareholders of the Company. The Board oversees and provides strategic guidance to senior management in order to enhance the long-term value of the Company for its shareholders. •

The day-to-day management is conducted by senior management and employees of the Company, under the direction of the CEO and the oversight of the Board. • The Board recognizes the importance of good and effective communication with all shareholders. With a policy of being transparent, strengthening investor relations, and providing consistent and stable returns to shareholders, the Company seeks to ensure transparency through establishing and maintaining different communication channels with shareholders.

• The Company has a professionally-run investor relations department to serve as an important communication channel between the Company and its shareholders and other investors.

• A key element of effective communication with shareholders and investors is prompt and timely dissemination of information in relation to the Company. In addition to announcing its interim and annual results to shareholders and investors, the Company also publicises its major business developments and activities through press releases, announcements and the Company’s website in accordance with relevant rules and regulations. Press conferences and analyst briefings are held from time to time on financial performance and major transactions.

- The results of the poll are published on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange’s website and the Company’s website.

F. COMPANY SECRETARY

Principle: “The company secretary plays an important role in supporting the board by ensuring good information flow within the board and that board policy and procedures are followed. The company secretary is responsible for advising the board through the chairman and/or the chief executive on governance matters and should also facilitate induction and professional development of directors.”

Mr. Zhong Hua and Ms. Tsue Sik Yu, May are the Joint Company Secretaries of the Company. On 22 March 2012, Mr. Jiang Yongzhi resigned as Joint Company Secretary and Mr. Zhong Hua was appointed as Joint Company Secretary of the Company with effect from the same day. STRATEGIES AND RISKS

Growth Strategy

As one of the largest independent oil and gas exploration and production companies, we mainly engage in exploration, development, production and sales of oil and natural gas. The principal components of our strategy are as follows:

Focus on reserve and production growth

As an upstream company specializing in the exploration, development, production and sales of oil and natural gas, we consider reserve and production growth as top priority. We plan to increase our reserves and production through drill bits and value-driven acquisitions. We will continue to concentrate independent exploration efforts on major operating areas, especially in offshore China. In the meantime, we will continue to enter into PSCs with foreign partners to lower capital requirements and exploration risks. In 2012, we achieved a reserve replacement ratio of 188%.

We increase production primarily through the development of proved undeveloped reserves. As of 31 December 2012, approximately 58.5% of our proved reserves were classified as proved undeveloped, which gives us the opportunity to achieve future production growth, as long as these proved undeveloped reserves are developed faster than the depletion rate of our currently producing reserves.

Develop natural gas business

We plan to capitalize on the growth potential of the PRC natural gas market, and continue to explore and develop natural gas fields. To the extent we invest in businesses and geographic areas where we have limited experience and expertise, we plan to structure our investments as alliances or partnerships with partners possessing the relevant experience and expertise.

In 2013, the large-size gas field Liwan 3-1 in deepwater South China Sea will commence production. We expect that our natural gas production would continue to increase accordingly.

Maintain prudent financial policy

We will continue to maintain our prudent financial policy. As an essential part of our corporate culture, we continue to promote the cost consciousness among both our management team and other employees. Also, in our performance evaluation system, cost control is always one of the most important key performance indicators.

Aiming to reduce production cost, we plan to actively promote the regional development of oil and gas field groups and to apply up-to-date offshore engineering, drilling and production technologies to our operations.

Currently, we have a strong financial position with a low gearing ratio. We intend to maintain our financial strength by managing key measures such as capital expenditures, cash flows and costs per BOE. We also intend to actively manage our account receivables and inventories to enhance liquidity and improve profitability. We will continue to monitor our foreign currency denominated asset and debts and to manage exposure to foreign exchange rate fluctuations.

RISK FACTORS

The exploration and production of the oil and gas industry involves a high degree of risks. Our market risk exposures primarily consist of fluctuations in oil and gas prices, changes in reserves, HSE, changes in fiscal regimes and regulatory rules and policies and changes in exchange rates and interest rates.

Fluctuations in oil and gas prices

Since the Company's realized oil prices mainly benchmark to international oil prices, fluctuations in international oil prices would have a significant impact on the Company's sales revenue and profit. In addition, the Company's natural gas sales contracts consist of price adjustment provisions. Any changes in international oil prices, inflation rate and domestic natural gas price policies may result in changes in natural gas prices, which will affect the Company's profitability.

Changes in reserves

High-risk and capital-intensiveness are characteristics of the exploration and development of oil and gas. The Company's exploration and development activities are exposed to various risks, including its inability to encounter any commercial discoveries.

In addition, reserve appraisal depends on a number of factors, including the quantity and quality of technical and economic data, assumptions in oil price assessment, production curve as well as fiscal terms. If these factors and assumptions were proven to be inaccurate, the Company might need to adjust its reserves.

HSE

The Company is exposed to blowout, fire and spillage risks arising from the exploration, development and production operations. Any accident which may lead to casualties, property damage and environmental pollution may have an impact on the Company's operational and financial conditions.

Changes to fiscal regimes and regulatory rules and policies

The Company has oil and gas assets in the PRC and various countries in overseas. Any change in fiscal regimes of these countries, including the introduction of new taxes and increases in tax rates, may affect the profitability of the Company.

Other changes in regulatory rules, including policies on oil and gas prices, resource nationalization and exchange controls, may affect the Company's operational and financial position.

Currency risk

The Company's oil and gas sales are substantially denominated in Renminbi and US dollars. On 21 July 2005, China reformed its exchange rate regime by adopting a managed floating exchange rate approach that is based on market supply and demand and with reference to a basket of currencies. Renminbi is no longer pegged to US dollars. From 1 January 2012 to 31 December 2012 (the last working day in 2012), Renminbi appreciated approximately 0.25% against US dollars. At the reporting date, 92.2% (2011: 86.0%) of the Group's cash and cash equivalents and time deposits with maturity over three months were denominated in Renminbi, and the remaining amounts were denominated in US dollars and Hong Kong dollars.

Interest rate risk

As at the end of 2012, the interest rates of 48.6% of the Company's debts were fixed. The weighted average term of the Company's debt balance outstanding was approximately 7.11 years.

Please also refer to note 38 to the consolidated financial statements on pages 122 to 123 for other financial risks of the Company.

2012 OVERVIEW

In 2012, the European economies were still tramped in sovereign debt crisis and the developed economies faced numerous difficulties in economic growth. The global economic recovery was still slow. On the other hand, China maintained a steady and rapid economic growth. Affected by economic conditions and supply-demand relationship, international oil prices experienced fluctuations in 2012, but generally maintained at a high level.

During the year, faced by complex external conditions, the Company overcame various unfavorable factors, seized opportunity to lay a solid foundation for development, and achieved satisfactory results.

In 2012, the Company achieved its annual production target, with a net oil and gas production of 342.4 million BOE, representing a 3.2% increase year over year. The Company also made new breakthroughs in exploration in shallow water and deepwater offshore China and overseas, achieving a reserve replacement ratio of 188%.

In 2012, the Company made significant progress in its overseas development and successfully acquired Nexen. This transaction laid down resources base for the Company's long-term development and built a new overseas platform for the Company.

The Company maintained a solid financial position in 2012. Its oil and gas sales were RMB194,774 million (US$30,860.1 million, with the exchange rates applicable for 2012 at 6.3115), representing an increase of 2.9% year over year. Net profit was RMB63,691 million (US$10,091.3 million), representing a decrease of 9.3% over last year.

For the year ended 31 December 2012, the Company's basic and diluted earnings per share were RMB1.43 and RMB1.42, respectively. The Company's board of directors recommended the payment of a final dividend of HK$0.32 per share (tax inclusive).

The 2013 outlook of the global political and economic situation remains complex and tough. The global economic recovery continued to be largely uncertain. On the other hand, China will continue to implement a proactive fiscal policy and prudent monetary policy, and by adhering to the overall goal of "pursuing growth cautiously" for economic and social development, China's economy is expected to maintain steady growth.

Facing a complex and tough external conditions in 2013, the Company is committed to solidifying its foundation for development and carrying out various works in accordance with the Company's blueprint of "A New Leap Forward". The Company's key tasks include:

First, to strive to achieve the annual production target.

Second, to continue to enhance exploration and development efforts.

Third, to strengthen overseas operations.

Fourth, to tighten cost control and further improve efficiency.

BUSINESS REVIEW

For details, please refer to "Business Overview" on page 13 of the annual report.

FINANCIAL RESULTS

Consolidated net profit

Our consolidated net profit decreased 9.3% to RMB63,691 million (US$10,091.3 million) in 2012 from RMB70,255 million in 2011. Benefitting from the stable growth in production, oil and gas sales increased continuously in 2012. However, due to the increased investments in exploration and the increased workload on maintenance, workover and well stimulation, the increased proportion of shale oil and gas and oil sands projects with relatively higher costs, as well as the full utilisation of investment tax credits applicable to Nigeria OML130 project in 2011, our net profit decreased compared with last year.

Revenues

Our oil and gas sales, realized prices and sales volume in 2012 are as follows:

	2012	2011	Change	Change (%)
Oil and gas sales (RMB million)	194,774	189,279	5,495	2.9	%
Crude oil	181,825	176,703	5,122	2.9	%
Natural gas	12,949	12,576	373	3.0	%
Sales volume (million BOE)	322.6	314.0	8.6	2.7	%
Crude oil (million barrels)	260.8	249.3	11.5	4.6	%
Natural gas (bcf)	356	378	(22)	(5.8)	%
Realized prices
Crude oil (US$/barrel)	110.48	109.75	0.73	0.7	%
Natural gas (US$/mcf)	5.77	5.15	0.62	12.0	%
Net production (million BOE)	342.4	331.8	10.6	3.2	%
China	267.0	261.9	5.1	1.9	%
Overseas	75.4	69.9	5.5	7.9	%

The increase of our oil sales was primarily due to the significant increase of production in North American shale oil and gas projects and the production from the acquired oil sands project in Canada at the end of 2011.

The increase of our gas sales was primarily due to the commencement of production of Yacheng 13-4 in offshore China and the increase in realized overseas gas prices as a result of our increased gas sales in the spot market by capturing the opportunities from the increase of spot market gas prices in Southeast Asia.

In 2012, our oil and gas net production was 342.4 million BOE (including our interest in equity-accounted investees), of which offshore China and overseas operations contributed 267.0 million BOE and 75.4 million BOE, respectively. The overseas production accounted for 22.0% of our total net production in 2012, compared with 21.1% in 2011.

Operating expenses

Our operating expenses increased 17.4% to RMB21,445 million (US$3,397.8 million) in 2012 from RMB18,264 million in 2011. Operating expenses per BOE increased 13.3% to RMB65.9 (US$10.44) per BOE in 2012 from RMB58.2 (US$9.01) per BOE in 2011. Operating expenses per BOE offshore China increased 8.1% to RMB57.8 (US$9.16) per BOE in 2012 from RMB53.5 (US$8.28) per BOE in 2011, mainly attributable to the increased workload on maintenance, workover and well stimulation. Overseas operating expenses per BOE increased 25.4% to RMB102.5 (US$16.24) per BOE in 2012 from RMB81.7 (US$12.65) per BOE in 2011. These increases were primarily contributed by the increased production proportion from oil sands in Canada, which has higher operating cost than conventional projects, and the commencement of production of Iraq technical service contract.

Taxes other than income tax

Our taxes other than income tax increased 51.3% to RMB15,632 million (US$2,476.7 million) in 2012 from RMB10,332 million in 2011, primarily as a result of payment of resource tax for operations in offshore China since November 2011.

Exploration expenses

Our exploration expenses increased 73.3% to RMB9,043 million (US$1,432.8 million) in 2012 from RMB5,220 million in 2011, primarily as a result of our continuously enhancing exploratory activities in offshore China. In 2012, we acquired 16,100 km² 2D seismic data and 26,700 km² 3D seismic data in offshore China, among which the collection of 3D seismic data represented an increase of 3,300 km² from 2011. Our continuing efforts in exploration has led to a series of important reserves discoveries and upgrade. In addition, our investment in drilling also increased continuously. Our independent exploration activities consisted of 96 exploration wells, increased by 17.1% from 82 exploration wells. Dry hole expenses increased 101.4% to RMB3,999 million (US$633.6 million) in 2012 from RMB1,986 million in 2011, including costs of some uncertain wells those were capitalized previously and written off according to appraisal result this year. In addition, due to the unfavorable exploration drilling results, some of the unproved properties of shale oil and gas project located in North America were written off in 2012, which also contributed to the increase of exploration expenses.

Depreciation, depletion and amortization

Our depreciation, depletion and amortization increased 7.8% to RMB32,903 million (US$5,213.2 million) in 2012 from RMB30,521 million in 2011. Our average depreciation, depletion and amortization per BOE, excluding the dismantlement-related depreciation, depletion and amortization, increased 5.9% to RMB92.1 (US$14.59) per BOE in 2012 from RMB86.9 (US$13.45) per BOE in 2011. These increases were mainly attributable to the increased production proportion from shale oil and gas and oil sands projects overseas, which have higher depreciation per BOE.

The dismantlement-related depreciation, depletion and amortization costs decreased 9.6% to RMB2,946 million (US$466.8 million) in 2012 from RMB3,258 million in 2011. Our average dismantling costs per BOE decreased 12.8% to RMB9.06 (US$1.43) per BOE in 2012 from RMB10.38 (US$1.61) per BOE in 2011. The main reason for these decreases was because, according to the latest estimated dismantlement scheme in 2012, the Company adjusted the dismantlement obligations of some oil and gas fields in offshore China.

Special Oil Gain Levy

Our Special Oil Gain Levy decreased 17.8% to RMB26,293 million (US$4,165.9 million) in 2012 from RMB31,982 million in 2011, primarily benefiting from the PRC government's increase in the levy threshold from US$40 to US$55 (effective from November 2011).

Selling and administrative expenses

Our selling and administrative expenses increased 18.3% to RMB3,377 million (US$535.1 million) in 2012 from RMB2,854 million in 2011. Our selling and administrative expenses per BOE increased 14.1% to RMB10.38 (US$1.64) per BOE in 2012 from RMB9.10 (US$1.41) per BOE in 2011. These increases were primarily due to the continuous increase in technical research expenses, which was in accordance with the Company's strategy of leading future development through technology innovation in the Company's blueprint of "A New Leap Forward".

Finance costs/Interest income

Our finance costs decreased 6.1% to RMB1,603 million (US$254.0 million) in 2012 from RMB1,707 million in 2011, primarily due to the interest and fees paid by the Company upon the early redemption of the first lien notes of Canada oil sand project in 2011. Our interest income decreased 16.2% to RMB1,002 million (US$158.8 million) in 2012 from RMB1,196 million in 2011, mainly as a result of less interest earned from the narrowed scale of banking deposits in 2012 and the decreased effective interest rates to increase liquidity for preparation of the closing of the acquisition project of Nexen.

Exchange gains, net

Our net exchange gains decreased 43.6% to RMB359 million (US$56.9 million) in 2012 from RMB637 million in 2011, primarily as a result of the reduced exchange gain of Renminbi/US dollars and Renminbi/HK dollars, partially offset by the increased exchange gain of Canadian/US dollars during 2012.

Investment income

Our investment income increased 30.9% to RMB2,392 million (US$379.0 million) in 2012 from RMB1,828 million in 2011, primarily attributable to the increase in investments on corporate wealth management products and the optimization of investment portfolios under the condition that the products and portfolios are of good liquidity and low risk.

Share of profits/losses of associates/a joint venture

Due to changes in local preferential tax policy applicable to our joint venture, our share of losses of associates/a joint venture was RMB27 million (US$4.3 million) in 2012, while in 2011, we shared a profit of RMB567 million.

Income tax expense

Our income tax expense increased 18.7% to RMB26,481 million (US$4,195.7 million) in 2012 from RMB22,310 million in 2011, and the effective tax rate increased to 29.4% in 2012 from 24.1% in 2011. The increase in effective tax rate was mainly attributable to the full utilisation of investment tax credits applicable to Nigeria OML130 project in 2011.

Capital Resources and Liquidity

Overview

Our primary source of cash during 2012 was cash flows from operating activities. We used cash primarily to fund capital spending program and dividends.

	RMB million	2012 US$ million	2011 RMB million	RMB million	Change %
Generated from operating activities	92,574	14,667.5	116,171	(23,597)	(20.3 %)
Used in investing activities	(63,797)	(10,108.1)	(99,036)	35,239	(35.6 %)
Acquisition activities	(11,141)	(1,765.2)	(24,831)	13,690	(55.1 %)
Capital expenditure	(54,331)	(8,608.3)	(36,823)	(17,508)	47.5 %
Generated from/used in financing activities	2,584	409.4	(20,246)	22,830	(112.8 %)

Cash generated from operating activities

In 2012, the decrease in cash inflow from operating activities was mainly attributable to the increase of tax payment and operating expense.

Cash used in investing activities

In 2012, cash outflow from investing activities mainly included the payments of (1) RMB7,863 million for the acquisition of Uganda assets; (2) RMB1,610 million for the acquisition by Bridas of downstream refinery; (3) RMB822 million for the increased investment in Finance; and (4) RMB708 million to fund Chesapeake's share of drilling and completion costs pursuant to a commitment made at the acquisition of the Niobrara project.

In 2012, our capital expenditures (other than for the acquisitions mentioned above) increased 47.5% to RMB54,331 million (US$8,608.3 million), primarily as a result of the increase in exploration activities and the development of projects under construction. Our development expenditures in 2012 primarily related to the development of the Eagle Ford Shale project, Liwan 3-1 and Suizhong 36-1 Phase II, as well as the expenses incurred for improving recovery factors of the oilfields in production.

In addition, our cash used in investing activities was also attributable to purchase of available-for-sale and held-to-maturity financial assets of RMB151,292 million (US$23,970.8 million). Our cash generated from investing activities was mainly from the proceeds from the sales of available-for-sale and held-to-maturity financial assets in the amount of RMB140,359 million (US$22,238.6 million). Our time deposits with maturity of more than three months decreased by RMB7,586 million (US$1,201.9 million) in 2012.

Cash generated from financing activities

In 2012, the increase in net cash inflow from financing activities was mainly due to the proceeds of bank borrowings of RMB21,459 million (US$3,400.0 million) and RMB12,571 million (US$1,991.8 million) from the issuance of guaranteed notes, partially offset by the cash outflow of the distribution of dividends of RMB15,635 million (US$2,477.2 million), the repayment of bank loans of RMB10,825 million (US$1,715.1 million) and guaranteed notes of RMB3,150 million (US$499.1 million).

At the end of 2012, our total outstanding debt was RMB57,886 million (US$9,171.5 million), compared to RMB37,995 million at the end of 2011. The increase in debt in 2012 was primarily attributable to the issuance of guaranteed notes of US$2 billion and the increase of short-term bank loans. Our gearing ratio, which is defined as interest-bearing debt dividend by the sum of interest-bearing debt plus equity, was 15.7%, higher than that of 12.6% in 2011.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

31 December 2012

(All amounts expressed in millions of Renminbi unless otherwise stated)

1. CORPORATE INFORMATION

CNOOC Limited (the “Company”) was incorporated in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (“Hong Kong”) of the People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”) on 20 August 1999 to hold the interests in certain entities thereby creating a group comprising the Company and its subsidiaries (hereinafter collectively referred to as the “Group”). During the year, the Group was principally engaged in the exploration, development, production and sale of crude oil, natural gas and other petroleum products.

The registered office address of the Company is 65/F, Bank of China Tower, 1 Garden Road, Hong Kong.

In the opinion of the directors of the Company (the “Directors”), the parent and the ultimate holding company of the Company is China National Offshore Oil Corporation (“CNOOC”), a company established in the PRC.

2.1 STATEMENT OF COMPLIANCE

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards “IFRSs” (which also include International Accounting Standards (“IASs”) and Interpretations) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the “IASB”), Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards “HKFRSs” (which also include Hong Kong Accounting Standards (“HKASs”) and Interpretations) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the “HKICPA”), accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong and the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. A summary of the significant accounting policies adopted by the Group is set out below.

2.2 CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICY AND DISCLOSURES

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the year ended 31 December 2011 (including the early adoption of the following accounting standards before their mandatory effective date of 1 January 2013: IFRS 10/HKFRS 10 – Consolidated Financial Statements; IFRS 11/HKFRS 11 – Joint Arrangements; IFRS 12/HKFRS 12 – Disclosures of Interests in Other Entities; IAS 27 (Revised)/HKAS 27 (Revised) – Separate Financial Statements; and IAS 28 (Revised)/HKAS 28 (Revised) – Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures), except for a number of amendments to IFRSs/HKFRSs effective as of 1 January 2012 primarily with a view to removing inconsistencies and clarifying wording. The adoption of those amendments upon their effective dates did not have any material impact on the accounting policies, financial position or performance of the Group.

The Group has not applied the following new and revised IFRSs/HKFRSs, that have been issued but are not yet effective, in these financial statements:

IFRS 9/HKFRS 9	Financial Instruments ³
IFRS 13/HKFRS 13	Fair Value Measurement ²
IAS 1 Amendments/HKAS 1 Amendments	Presentation of Financial Statements – Presentation of Items of Other Comprehensive Income ¹
IAS 19 (2011)/HKAS 19 (2011)	Employee Benefits ²

IFRIC-Int 20/HK(IFRIC)-Int 20

Stripping Costs in the Production Phase of a Surface
Mine²

- 1 Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 July 2012
 - 2 Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2013
 - 3 Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2015

Further information about those changes that are expected to significantly affect the Group is as follows:

IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 issued in November 2009 is the first part of phase 1 of a comprehensive project to entirely replace IAS 39/HKAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. This phase focuses on the classification and measurement of financial assets. Instead of classifying financial assets into four categories, an entity shall classify financial assets as subsequently measured at either amortised cost or fair value, on the basis of both the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets. This aims to improve and simplify the approach for the classification and measurement of financial assets compared with the requirements of IFRS 39/HKAS 39.

In 2010, the IASB/HKICPA issued additions to IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 to address financial liabilities (the "Additions") and incorporated in IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 the current derecognition principles of financial instruments of IAS 39/HKAS 39. Most of the Additions were carried forward unchanged from IAS 39/HKAS 39, while changes were made to the measurement of financial liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss using the fair value option ("FVO"). For these FVO liabilities, the amount of change in the fair value of a liability that is attributable to changes in credit risk must be presented in other comprehensive income ("OCI"). The remainder of the change in fair value is presented in profit or loss, unless presentation of the fair value change in respect of the liability's credit risk in OCI would create or enlarge an accounting mismatch in profit or loss. However, loan commitments and financial guarantee contracts which have been designated under the FVO are scoped out of the Additions.

IAS 39/HKAS 39 is aimed to be replaced by IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 in its entirety. Before this entire replacement, the guidance in IAS 39/HKAS 39 on hedge accounting and impairment of financial assets continues to apply. The Group expects to adopt IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 from 1 January 2015.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparation

These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for available-for-sale financial assets and derivative financial instruments, which have been measured at fair value. These financial statements are presented in Renminbi ("RMB") and all values are rounded to the nearest million except when otherwise indicated.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended 31 December 2012.

The results of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date of acquisition, being the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases. The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the parent company, using consistent accounting policies.

The results of subsidiaries are included in the Company's statement of comprehensive income to the extent of dividends received and receivable. The Company's interests in subsidiaries are stated at cost less any impairment losses.

All intra-group balances, income and expenses and unrealised gains and losses and dividends resulting from intra-group transactions are eliminated in full.

Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred is measured at acquisition date fair value which is the sum of the acquisition date fair values of assets transferred by the Group, liabilities assumed by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree. For each business combination, the Group elects whether it measures the non-controlling interests in the acquiree either at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. All other components of non-controlling interests are measured at fair value. Acquisition related costs incurred are expensed and included in administrative expenses.

When the Group acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. This includes the separation of embedded derivatives in host contracts by the acquiree.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, the acquisition date fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date through profit or loss.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Contingent consideration classified as an asset or liability that is a financial instrument and within the scope of IAS 39/HKAS 39 is measured at fair value with changes in fair value either recognised in profit or loss or as a change to other comprehensive income. If the contingent consideration is not within the scope of IAS 39/HKAS 39, it is measured in accordance with the appropriate IFRS/HKFRS. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not remeasured and subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred, the amount recognised for non-controlling interests and any fair value of the Group's previously held equity interests in the acquiree over the identifiable net assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the sum of this consideration and other items is lower than the fair value of the net assets of the subsidiary acquired, the difference is, after reassessment, recognised in profit or loss as a gain on bargain purchase.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill is tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired. The Group performs its impairment test of goodwill at each reporting date. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units, or groups of cash-generating units, that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the Group are assigned to those units or groups of units.

Impairment is determined by assessing the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) to which the goodwill relates. Where the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in a subsequent period.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the operation disposed of is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on the disposal. Goodwill disposed of in these circumstances is measured based on the relative value of the operation disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all those entities over which the Group has power over the investee such that the Group is able to direct the relevant activities, has exposure or rights to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to use its power over the investee to affect the amount of the investor's returns.

Associates

Based on the Group's ownership percentage (considering its direct ownership as well as potentially exercisable or convertible shares) and other contractual rights, the Group has significant influence over its associates, rather than the power to control.

The Group's investments in associates are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any impairment losses. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist. The Group's share of the post-acquisition results and reserves of associates is included in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income and consolidated reserves, respectively. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's investments in the associates, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Goodwill arising from the acquisition of associates is included as part of the Group's investments in associates and is not individually tested for impairment.

The results of associates are included in the Company's comprehensive income statement to the extent of dividends received and receivable. The Company's investments in associates are treated as non-current assets and are stated at cost less any impairment losses.

When an investment in an associate is classified as held for sale, it is accounted for in accordance with IFRS 5/HKFRS 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations.

Joint arrangements

Certain of the Group's activities are conducted through joint arrangements. Joint arrangements are classified as either a joint operation or joint venture, based on the rights and obligations arising from the contractual obligations between the parties to the arrangement.

Joint operations

Some arrangements have been assessed by the Group as joint operations as both parties to the contract are responsible for the assets and obligations in proportion to their respective interest, whether or not the arrangement is structured through a separate vehicle. This evaluation applies to both the Group's interests in production sharing arrangements and certain jointly-controlled entities.

The Group entered into numerous production sharing arrangements or similar agreements in China and overseas countries. The Group's participating interest may vary in each arrangement. The Group, as one of the title owners under certain exploration and/or production licenses or permits, is required to bear exploration (with some exceptions in China), development and operating costs together with other co-owners based on each owner's participating interest. Once production occurs, a certain percentage of the annual production or revenue will first be distributed to the local government, which, in most cases, with the nature of royalty and other taxes or expenses, and the rest of the annual production or revenue will be allocated among the co-owners.

Joint venture

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the arrangement.

The Group's investments in joint ventures are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any impairment losses. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist. The Group's share of the post acquisition results and reserves of joint ventures is included in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income and consolidated reserves, respectively. Where the profit sharing ratios is different to the Group's equity interest, the share of post-acquisition results of the joint ventures is determined based on the agreed profit sharing ratio. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Groups investments in the joint ventures, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Goodwill arising from the acquisition of joint ventures is included as part of the Group's investments in joint ventures and is not individually tested for impairment.

The results of joint ventures are included in the Company's comprehensive income statement to the extent of dividend received and receivable. The Company's investments in joint ventures are treated as non-current assets and are stated at cost less any impairment losses.

When an investment in a joint venture is classified as held for sale, it is accounted for in accordance with IFRS 5/HKFRS 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations.

Related parties

A party is considered to be related to the Group if:

- (a) the party is a person or a close member of that person's family and that person

- (i) has control or joint control over the Group;
- (ii) has significant influence over the Group; or
- (iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or of a parent of the Group;
- (b) the party is an entity where any of the following conditions applies:
 - (i) the entity and the Group are members of the same group;
 - (ii) one entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or of a parent, subsidiary or fellow subsidiary of the other entity);
 - (iii) the entity and the Group are joint ventures of the same third party;
 - (iv) one entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity;
 - (v) the entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Group or an entity related to the Group;
 - (vi) the entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a); and
 - (vii) a person identified in (a)(i) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).

Impairment of non-financial assets other than goodwill

Where an indication of impairment exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required (other than inventories, deferred tax assets, financial assets and goodwill), the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's value in use and its fair value less costs to sell, and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

An impairment loss is recognised only if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. An impairment loss is charged to profit or loss in the period in which it arises in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at the end of each reporting period as to whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognised impairment loss of an asset other than goodwill is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount of that asset, but not to an amount higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any depreciation/amortisation) had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of such an impairment loss is credited to profit or loss in the period in which it arises.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment comprise oil and gas properties, and vehicles and office equipment and others.

Oil and gas properties

For oil and gas properties, the successful efforts method of accounting is adopted. The Group capitalises the initial acquisition costs of oil and gas properties. Impairment of initial acquisition costs is recognised based on exploratory experience and management judgement and charged to profit and loss as exploration expenses. Upon discovery of commercial reserves, acquisition costs are transferred to proved properties. The costs of drilling and equipping successful exploratory wells, all development expenditures on construction, installation or completion of infrastructure facilities such as platforms, pipelines, processing plants and the drilling of development wells and the building of enhanced recovery facilities, including those renewals and betterments that extend the economic lives of the assets, and the related borrowing costs are capitalised. The costs of unsuccessful exploratory wells and all other exploration costs are expensed as incurred.

The Group carries exploratory well costs as an asset when the well has found a sufficient quantity of reserves to justify its completion as a producing well and where the Group is making sufficient progress assessing the reserves and the economic and operating viability of the project. Exploratory well costs not meeting these criteria are charged to expenses. Exploratory wells that discover potentially economic reserves in areas where major capital expenditure will be required before production would begin and when the major capital expenditure depends upon the successful completion of further exploratory work remain capitalised and are reviewed periodically for impairment.

Producing oil and gas properties are depreciated on a unit-of-production basis over the proved developed reserves. Common facilities that are built specifically to service production directly attributed to designated oil and gas properties are depreciated based on the proved developed reserves of the respective oil and gas properties on a pro-rata basis. Common facilities that are not built specifically to service identified oil and gas properties are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. Costs associated with significant development projects are not depreciated until commercial production commences and the reserves related to those costs are excluded from the calculation of depreciation.

Capitalised acquisition costs of proved properties are depreciated on a unit-of-production method over the total proved reserves of the relevant oil and gas properties.

(b) Vehicles, office equipment and others

Vehicles, office equipment and others are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. The straight-line method is adopted to depreciate the cost less any estimated residual value of these assets over their expected useful lives. The Group estimates the useful lives of vehicles and office equipment to be five years; and the useful lives of other assets are in line with their beneficial periods.

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost of that item is allocated on a recoverable basis among the parts and each part is depreciated separately.

Residual values, useful lives and the depreciation method are reviewed and, adjusted if appropriate, at each reporting date.

Any gains and losses on disposals of property, plant and equipment (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) are recognised in profit or loss.

Intangible assets (other than goodwill)

Intangible assets with finite lives are carried at cost, less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is the fair value as at the date of acquisition. Intangible assets with finite lives except for gas processing rights, are amortised on the straight-line basis over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at each financial year end.

The intangible asset regarding the gas processing rights has been amortised upon the commercial production of the liquefied natural gas on a unit-of-production basis over the total proved reserves of the relevant asset. The intangible assets regarding software have been amortised on the straight-line basis over three to five years.

Major maintenance and repairs

Expenditure on major maintenance refits or repairs comprises the cost of replacement assets or parts of assets and overhaul costs. Where an asset or part of an asset that was separately depreciated and is now written off is replaced and it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group, the replacement expenditure is capitalised. Where part of the asset was not separately considered as a component, the replacement value is used to estimate the carrying amount of the replaced assets which is immediately written off. All other maintenance costs are expensed as incurred.

Research and development costs

All research costs are expensed as incurred.

Expenditure (other than that relating to oil and gas properties discussed above) incurred on projects to develop new products is capitalised and deferred only when the Group can demonstrate the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale, its intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset, how the asset will generate future economic benefits, the availability of resources to complete the project and the ability to measure reliably the expenditure during the development. Product development expenditure which does not meet these criteria is expensed when incurred. No development costs were capitalised during the year.

Investments and other financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets within the scope of IAS 39/HKAS 39 are classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables, held-to-maturity investments, and available-for-sale financial assets, as appropriate. The Group determines the classification of its financial assets at initial recognition. When financial assets are recognised initially, they are measured at fair value plus transaction costs, except in the case of financial assets recorded at fair value through profit or loss.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace (regular way purchases or sales) are recognised on the trade date, that is, the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

The Group's financial assets include cash and bank balances, trade and other receivables, quoted and unquoted financial instruments, and derivative financial instruments.

Subsequent measurement

The subsequent measurement of financial assets depends on their classifications as follows:

(a) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss. Financial assets at fair value through profit and loss are carried in the statement of financial position at fair value with net changes in fair value recognised in other income and gains or finance costs in profit or loss in the period. These net fair value changes do not include any dividends or interest earned on these financial assets, which are recognised in accordance with the policies set out for "Revenue recognition" below.

(b) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. After initial measurement, such assets are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method less any allowance for impairment. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and includes fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the loans and receivables are derecognised or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

(c) Held-to-maturity investments

Non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity are classified as held to maturity when the Group has the positive intention and ability to hold them to maturity. Held-to-maturity investments are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method less any allowance for impairment. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the investments are derecognised or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

(d) Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets in listed and unlisted equity investments and debt securities. Equity investments classified as available for sale are those which are neither classified as held for trading nor designated at fair value through profit or loss. Debt securities in this category are those which are intended to be held for an indefinite period of time and which may be sold in response to needs for liquidity or in response to changes in market conditions.

After initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets are measured at fair value, with unrealised gains or losses recognised as other comprehensive income in the available-for-sale investment revaluation reserve until the investment is derecognised, at which time the cumulative gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss, or until the investment is determined to be impaired, when the cumulative gain or loss is reclassified from the available-for-sale investment revaluation reserve to profit or loss. Interest and dividends earned whilst holding the available-for-sale financial investments are reported as interest income and dividend income, respectively and are recognised in profit or loss in accordance with the policies set out for “Revenue recognition” below.

When the fair value of unlisted equity investments cannot be reliably measured because (a) the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is significant for that investment or (b) the probabilities of the various estimates within the range cannot be reasonably assessed and used in estimating fair value, such investments are stated at cost less any impairment losses.

Fair value

The fair value of financial instruments that are traded in active markets at each reporting date is determined by reference to quoted market prices or dealer price quotations, without any deduction for transaction costs.

For financial instruments not traded in an active market, the fair value is determined using appropriate valuation techniques. Such techniques may include using recent arm’s length market transactions; reference to the current fair value of another instrument that is substantially the same; a discounted cash flow analysis or other valuation models.

An analysis of fair values of financial instruments and further details as to how they are measured are provided in note 36.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group assesses at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired.

(a) Assets carried at amortised cost

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments carried at amortised cost has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset’s carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset’s original effective interest rate (the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). The carrying amount of the asset is reduced either directly or through the use of an allowance account. The amount of the impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss.

If, in a subsequent year, the amount of the estimated impairment loss increases or decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is increased or reduced by adjusting the allowance account. Any subsequent reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss, to the extent that the carrying value of the asset does not exceed amortised cost at the reversal date.

In relation to trade and other receivables, a provision for impairment is made when there is objective evidence (such as the probability of insolvency or significant financial difficulties of the debtor and significant changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have an adverse effect on the debtor) that the Group will not be able to collect all of the amounts due under the original terms of an invoice.

(b) Assets carried at cost

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has been incurred on an unquoted equity instrument that is not carried at fair value because its fair value cannot be reliably measured, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. Impairment losses on these assets are not reversed.

(c) Available-for-sale financial assets

If an available-for-sale asset is impaired, an amount comprising the difference between its cost (net of any principal payment and amortisation) and its current fair value, less any impairment loss previously recognised in profit or loss, is removed from other comprehensive income and recognised in profit or loss.

Equity investments are impaired if there is a significant or prolonged decline in fair value of the investment below its cost or where other objective evidence of impairment exists. Impairment of debt instruments is assessed based on the same criteria as assets carried at amortised cost. Impairment losses on equity instruments are not reversed through profit or loss; increases in their fair value after impairments are recognised directly in equity. Impairment losses on debt instruments are reversed through profit or loss, if the increase in fair value of the instruments can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised in profit or loss.

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognised where:

- i) the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired;
- ii) the Group retains the rights to receive cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; or
- iii) the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Where the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognised to the extent of the Group's continuing involvement in the asset. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Group could be required to repay.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost (including interest-bearing loans and borrowings)

Financial liabilities including trade and other payables and interest-bearing loans and borrowings are initially stated at fair value less directly attributable transaction costs and are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method. The related interest expense is recognised within "Finance costs" in profit or loss.

Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the amortisation process.

Financial guarantee contracts

A financial guarantee contract is recognised initially at its fair value including transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issue of the guarantee. Subsequent to initial recognition, the liability is measured at the higher of the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the reporting date and the amount recognised less cumulative amortisation.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled, or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and a recognition of a new liability, and the difference between the respective carrying amounts is recognised in profit or loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the consolidated statement of financial position, if and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Inventories and supplies

Inventories primarily consist of oil and supplies, including items for repairs and maintenance of oil and gas properties. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs of inventories and supplies represent purchase or production cost of goods and are determined on a weighted average basis.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at banks and on hand and short term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less.

Provisions

General

A provision is recognised when a present obligation (legal or constructive) has arisen as a result of a past event and it is probable that a future outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, provided that a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the effect of discounting is material, the amount recognised for a provision is the present value at the reporting date of the future expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. The increase in the discounted present value amount arising from the passage of time is included in “Finance costs” in profit or loss.

Dismantlement liability

Dismantlement liability is recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of the past events, and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made. A corresponding amount equivalent to the provision is also recognised as part of the cost of the related property, plant and equipment. The amount recognised is the estimated cost of dismantlement, discounted to its present value using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Changes in the estimated timing of dismantlement or dismantlement cost estimates are dealt with prospectively by recording an adjustment to the provision, and a corresponding adjustment to property, plant and equipment. The unwinding of the discount on the dismantlement provision is included as a finance cost.

The Group recognises a deferred tax asset and deferred tax liability regarding the temporary difference on the dismantlement liability and the dismantlement asset respectively.

Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognised in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, either as an expense as it relates to operating activities or as a component of the applicable categories of other comprehensive income or loss.

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantially enacted, by the reporting date, in the countries where the Group operates and generates taxable income.

Deferred tax is provided, using the liability method, on all temporary differences at the reporting date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- when the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; and

- in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

As at 31 December 2012, deferred tax liabilities related to undistributed earnings of certain of the Company's subsidiaries have not been recognised, since the timing of the reversal of the taxable temporary difference can be controlled by the Company and it is probable that the temporary difference would not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carryforward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, the carryforward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- when the deferred tax assets relating to the deductible temporary differences arise from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; and

- in respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it is probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and when the revenue can be measured reliably, on the following bases:

(a) Oil and gas sales

Oil and gas sales represent the invoiced value of sales of oil and gas attributable to the interests of the Group, net of royalties and the government share oil that is lifted and sold on behalf of the government. Revenue from the sale of oil is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred, which is when title passes to the customer. This generally occurs when product is physically transferred into a vessel, pipe or other delivery mechanisms. Revenue from the production of oil in which the Group has an interest with other producers is recognised based on the Group's working interest and the terms of the relevant production sharing contracts. Differences between production sold and the Group's share of production are not significant.

Oil and gas lifted and sold by the Group above or below the Group's participating interests in the production sharing contracts results in overlifts and underlifts. The Group records these transactions in accordance with the entitlement method under which overlifts are recorded as liabilities and underlifts are recorded as assets at year-end oil prices. Settlement will be in kind or in cash when the liftings are equalised or in cash when production ceases.

The Group has entered into gas sale contracts with customers, which contain take-or-pay clauses. Under these contracts, the Group makes a long term supply commitment in return for a commitment from the buyer to pay for minimum quantities, whether or not it takes delivery. These commitments contain protective (force majeure) and adjustment provisions. If a buyer has a right to get a "make up" delivery at a later date, revenue recognition is deferred. If no such option exists according to the contract terms, revenue is recognised when the take-or-pay penalty is triggered.

(b) Marketing revenues

Marketing revenues principally represent the sale of oil and gas purchased from the foreign partners under the production sharing contracts and revenues from the trading of oil and gas through the Company's subsidiaries. The title, together with the risks and rewards of the ownership of such oil purchased from the foreign partners, is transferred to the Group from the foreign partners and other unrelated oil and gas companies before the Group sells such oil to its customers. The cost of the oil and gas sold is included in "Crude oil and product purchases".

(c) Other income

Other income mainly represents project management fees charged to foreign partners, handling fees charged to customers and income from disposal of oil and gas properties and is recognised when the services have been rendered or the properties have been disposed of. Reimbursement of insurance claims is recognised when the compensation becomes receivable.

(d) Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Group's right to receive payment is established.

(e) Interest income

Interest income is recognised as it accrues using the effective interest method.

The Group presents taxes collected from customers in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income on a net basis.

Share-based payment transactions

Employees (including directors) of the Group receive remuneration in the form of share-based payment transactions, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments ("equity-settled transactions").

The cost of equity-settled transactions with employees is measured by reference to the fair value at the date at which they are granted. The fair value is determined by using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, further details of which are given in note 30.

The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at the end of the each reporting period until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The charge or credit to profit or loss for a period represents the movement in the cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period.

No expense is recognised for awards that do not ultimately vest for the Group.

No equity-settled award was cancelled or modified during the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011.

The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of earnings per share.

Retirement and termination benefits

The Group participates in defined contribution plans in accordance with local laws and regulations for full-time employees in the PRC and other countries in which it operates. The plans provide for contributions ranging from 11% to 22% of the employees' basic salaries. The Group's contributions to these defined contribution plans are charged to profit or loss in the year to which they relate.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly relating to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the respective assets. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

Foreign currencies

These financial statements are presented in Renminbi ("RMB"). Each entity in the Group maintains its books and records in its own functional currency. Foreign currency transactions recorded by the entities of the Group are initially recorded using their respective functional currency rates ruling at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the functional currency rates of exchange ruling at the end of the reporting period. All differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are taken to profit or loss. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. The gain or loss arising on retranslation of a non-monetary item is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on change in fair value of the item.

The functional currencies of certain entities within the Group are currencies other than RMB. As at the end of the reporting period, the assets and liabilities of these entities are translated into the presentation currency of the Group at the exchange rates ruling at the reporting date, and their statement of comprehensive income are translated into RMB at the weighted average exchange rates for the year. The resulting exchange differences are included in the cumulative translation reserve. On disposal of a foreign operation, the deferred cumulative amount recognised in equity relating to that particular foreign operation is recognised in profit or loss.

Operating leases

Leases where substantially all the rewards and risks of ownership of assets remain with the lessor are accounted for as operating leases. Where the Group is the lessee, rentals payable under operating leases are charged to profit or loss on the straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Prepaid land lease payments under operating leases are initially stated at cost and subsequently recognised on the straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Contingencies

A contingent liability is disclosed when the existence of an obligation will only be confirmed by future events or when the amount of the obligation cannot be measured reliably.

A contingent asset is not recognised in the financial statements, but is disclosed when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRSs and HKFRSs requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Estimates and judgements are continuously evaluated and are based on management's experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. However, actual outcomes can differ from these estimates.

In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, the Directors have made the following judgements, estimates and assumptions, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements:

(a) Reserve base

Oil and gas properties are depreciated on a unit-of-production basis at a rate calculated by reference to proved reserves. Commercial reserves are determined using estimates of oil in place, recovery factors and future oil prices, the latter having an impact on the proportion of the gross reserves which are attributable to the host government under the terms of the production sharing contracts. The level of estimated commercial reserves is also a key determinant in assessing whether the carrying value of any of the Group's oil and gas properties has been impaired.

Pursuant to the oil and gas reserve estimation requirements under US Securities and Exchange Commission's rules, the Group uses the average, first-day-of-the-month oil price during the 12-month period before the ending date of the period covered by the consolidated financial statements to estimate its proved oil and gas reserves.

(b) Carrying value of oil and gas assets

The calculation of the unit-of-production rate for oil and gas properties amortisation could be impacted to the extent that actual production in the future is different from current forecast production based on proved reserves. This would generally result from significant changes in any of the factors or assumptions used in estimating reserves. These factors could include changes in proved reserves, the effect on proved reserves of differences between actual commodity prices and commodity price assumptions and unforeseen operational issues.

(c) Impairment indicators

The recoverable amounts of cash-generating units and individual assets have been determined based on the higher of value in use and fair value less costs to sell. These calculations require the use of estimates and assumptions. It is reasonably possible that the oil price assumption may change which may then impact the estimated life of the field and may then require a material adjustment to the carrying value of tangible assets. The Group monitors internal and external indicators of impairment relating to its tangible and intangible assets.

(d) Dismantlement costs

Dismantlement costs will be incurred by the Group at the end of the operating life of certain of the Group's facilities and properties. The ultimate dismantlement costs are uncertain and cost estimates can vary in response to many factors including changes to relevant legal requirements, the emergence of new restoration techniques or experience at other production sites. The expected timing and amount of expenditure can also change, for example, in response to changes in reserves or changes in laws and regulations or their interpretation. As a result, there could be significant adjustments to the provisions established which would affect future financial results.

(e) Taxes

Uncertainties exist with respect to the interpretation of complex tax regulations (including those applicable to tax credits) and the amount and timing of future taxable income. Given the wide range of international business relationships and the long term nature and complexity of existing contractual agreements, differences arising between the actual results and the assumptions made, or future changes to such assumptions, could necessitate future adjustments to tax income and expense already recorded. The Group establishes provisions, based on best estimates, for possible consequences of audits by the tax authorities of the respective countries in which it operates. The amount of such provisions is based on various factors, such as the Group's experience of previous tax audits and differing interpretations of tax regulations by the taxable entity and the responsible tax authority. Such differences of interpretation may arise on a wide variety of issues depending on the conditions prevailing in the respective group company's domicile.

4. ACQUISITIONS AND OTHER VENTURES

- (i) On 29 March 2011, CNOOC Uganda Ltd, a wholly-owned subsidiary of CNOOC International Limited, entered into a sales and purchase agreement with Tullow Uganda Limited and Tullow Uganda Operations Pty Ltd., wholly-owned subsidiaries of Tullow Oil Plc., to acquire a one-third working interest in each of Uganda Exploration Areas 1, 2 and 3A (the "Uganda Assets") at an initial cash consideration of US$1.467 billion. The acquisition of the Uganda Assets was completed on 21 February 2012. Together with the related price adjustment, the cash consideration mentioned above has been recorded as an acquisition cost of oil and gas properties.
- (ii) On 23 July 2012, the Company, CNOOC Canada Holding Ltd. and Nexen Inc. entered into an arrangement agreement in relation to the Company's acquisition (through its wholly-owned subsidiary, CNOOC Canada Holding Ltd.) of all the Nexen Inc. common shares and preferred shares, pursuant to a plan of arrangement under the Canada Business Corporations Act.

The aggregate consideration of the acquisition was approximately US$15.1 billion (approximately HK$117.2 billion), and was paid in cash. The consideration is related to acquisition of common shares and preferred shares and settlement of share options. The indebtedness of Nexen Inc. at the acquisition date remains outstanding. Details of the acquisition have been set out in the Company's circular to the shareholders dated 20 December 2012. The acquisition of Nexen Inc. was subsequently completed on 26 February 2013 (Beijing time). On 19 February 2013, the Company (through its wholly-owned subsidiary, CNOOC Canada Holding Ltd.) signed a short-term bank loan agreement with the maturity of one year of approximately US$6 billion, for the payment of the consideration related to the acquisition of Nexen Inc.

Due to the timing of the transaction, the Group is still assessing the allocation of fair values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The Group has not yet been able to analyse all books and records of Nexen Inc., and therefore the initial accounting for the business combination is still incomplete. Accordingly, certain disclosures in relation to the business combination as at the date of the acquisition, such as fair values of assets acquired and liabilities assumed, goodwill recognised (if any) and acquisition-related costs, have not been presented.

(i) The Company and Bidas Energy Holdings Ltd. (“BEH”), through Bidas Corporation, a 50% owned joint venture, entered into a share purchase agreement with BP PLC (“BP”) on 28 November 2010, pursuant to which Bidas Corporation would acquire a 60% equity interest in Pan America Energy LLC (“PAE”) from BP for a consideration of approximately US$7.06 billion. On 5 November 2011, Bidas Corporation sent to BP a letter to terminate the above mentioned transaction to acquire a 60% equity interest in PAE from BP.

(ii) On 29 January 2011, CNOOC International Limited (“CNOOC International”) through its wholly-owned subsidiary, OOGC America, Inc., signed a purchase agreement with Chesapeake Exploration, LLC, a subsidiary of Chesapeake Energy Corporation to purchase a 33.3% undivided interest in the Denver-Julesburg and Powder River Basins in northeast Colorado and southeast Wyoming (the “Niobrara Project”) with a cash consideration of US$570 million. In addition, CNOOC International has agreed to fund 66.7% of Chesapeake’s share of drilling and completion costs in the project until an additional US$697 million has been paid. US$180 million was paid in 2011. The acquisition was closed on 11 February 2011.

(iii) On 20 July 2011, the Company entered into an arrangement agreement, through its indirect wholly-owned subsidiary, CNOOC Luxembourg S.à r.l, to acquire OPTI Canada Inc. (“OPTI”), a public company listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (“TSX”), with a total consideration of approximately US$2.1 billion, which included an aggregate cash consideration of US$1.25 billion paid to the OPTI shareholders (US$34 million or approximately RMB214 million) and the Second Lien Noteholders (US$1.216 billion or approximately RMB7.69 billion). In addition, due to a change in control of OPTI as a result of the transaction, OPTI must redeem all of its outstanding First Lien Notes in December 2011 at a price equal to 102% of the principal amount of the First Lien Notes plus accrued interest (totaling US$878 million) pursuant to the indentures thereof. The acquisition was completed on 28 November 2011. In connection with the acquisition, the OPTI shares have been delisted from the TSX. OPTI Canada Inc. subsequently changed its name to CNOOC Canada Inc. on 15 December 2011.

The fair values of the identifiable assets and liabilities of OPTI as at the date of acquisition are as follows:

	Fair value recognised on acquisition
Property, plant and equipment	14,600
Cash and cash equivalents	1,008
Trade receivables	326
Other current assets	105
Trade payables	(560)
Other current liabilities	(659)
Loans and borrowings	(14,262)
Other non-current liabilities	(344)
Goodwill on acquisition	–
Satisfied by cash	214

An analysis of the net outflow of cash and cash equivalents in respect of the acquisition is as follows:

Cash consideration	214
Purchase of Second Lien Notes	7,690
Cash and cash equivalents acquired	(1,008)
Net outflow of cash and cash equivalents in respect of the acquisition	6,896

Since the acquisition, CNOOC Canada Inc. contributed approximately RMB255 million to the Group's turnover and approximately RMB15 million to the consolidated profit for 2011.

If the acquisition had taken place at the beginning of 2011, CNOOC Canada Inc. would have contributed approximately RMB2,418 million to the Group's turnover and reduced the consolidated profit by approximately RMB268 million for the year ended 31 December 2011.

SHARE CAPITAL

As at the Latest Practicable Date, 44,646,305,984 Shares were in issue and fully paid. Assuming that there are no changes from the Latest Practicable Date to the date of the Annual General Meeting in the Company's issued and fully paid share capital and subject to the passing of the ordinary resolution approving the Repurchase Mandate, the maximum number of Shares that may be repurchased by the Company pursuant to the Repurchase Mandate will be 4,464,630,598 Shares.

DIRECTORS AND CONNECTED PERSONS

None of the Directors nor, to the best of the knowledge and belief of the Directors having made all reasonable enquiries, any of their respective associates (as defined under the Listing Rules) has a present intention, in the event that the Repurchase Mandate is approved by the Shareholders, to sell Shares to the Company or its subsidiaries.

No persons who are connected persons (as defined under the Listing Rules) have notified the Company that they have a present intention to sell Shares to the Company or have undertaken not to sell any of the Shares held by them to the Company, in the event that the Company is authorised to make purchases of Shares, on the Stock Exchange.

DIRECTORS' UNDERTAKING

The Directors have undertaken to the Stock Exchange to exercise the powers of the Company to make purchases pursuant to the Repurchase Mandate in accordance with the Listing Rules and all applicable laws of Hong Kong.

APPENDIX I EXPLANATORY NOTES TO REPURCHASE MANDATE

EFFECT OF THE HONG KONG CODE ON TAKEOVERS AND MERGERS

If as a result of a repurchase of Shares by the Company, a Shareholder's proportionate interest in the voting rights of the Company increases, such increase will be treated as an acquisition for the purpose of the Hong Kong Code on Takeovers and Mergers (the "Takeovers Code"). As a result, a Shareholder, or a group of Shareholders acting in concert, depending on the level of increase of its or their shareholding, could obtain or consolidate control of the Company and become obliged to make a mandatory offer in accordance with Rules 26 and 32 of the Takeovers Code.

As at the Latest Practicable Date, the immediate controlling shareholder of the Company, CNOOC (BVI) Limited ("CNOOC BVI"), was recorded in the register required to be kept by the Company under section 336(1) of the Securities and Futures Ordinance as having an interest in 28,772,727,268 Shares, representing approximately 64.45% of the issued share capital of the Company as at that date. CNOOC BVI is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Overseas Oil & Gas Corporation, Ltd. ("OOGC"), which is in turn a wholly owned subsidiary of China National Offshore Oil Corporation ("CNOOC"). Accordingly, CNOOC BVI's interests are recorded as the interests of OOGC and CNOOC. OOGC also has a direct interest in 5 Shares. If the Repurchase Mandate is exercised in full, CNOOC BVI, OOGC and CNOOC will be regarded as being interested in approximately 71.60% of the reduced issued share capital of the Company. Regardless of such increase in shareholding, none of CNOOC BVI, OOGC or CNOOC would become obliged to make a mandatory offer for all securities not already owned by it or its concert parties under Rule 26 of the Takeovers Code.

PUBLIC FLOAT

The Directors do not have a present intention to exercise the Repurchase Mandate to such extent, causing the public float of the securities of the Company to fall below 25%.

LISTING RULES FOR REPURCHASE OF SHARES

Reasons for Repurchase

The Directors consider that the Repurchase Mandate will provide the Company with the flexibility to make such repurchases when appropriate and beneficial to the Company and its Shareholders. Such purchases may, depending on the market conditions and funding arrangements at the time, lead to an enhancement of the net asset value per Share and/or earnings per Share.

Source of Funds

Repurchases must be made from internal resources, borrowings and/or other funds legally available for the purpose in accordance with the Company's Articles, the Listing Rules and applicable laws and regulations in Hong Kong.

 APPENDIX I EXPLANATORY NOTES TO REPURCHASE MANDATE

On the basis of the consolidated financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2012 (being the date to which the latest published audited financial statements of the Company have been made up) and in particular the working capital position and gearing ratio of the Company and the number of Shares in issue, the Directors consider that there will not be a material impact on the working capital or the gearing position of the Company in the event that the proposed repurchases were to be carried out in full at any time during the proposed repurchase period. No repurchase would be made in circumstances that would have a material adverse impact on the working capital of the Company (as compared with the position disclosed in the latest published audited financial statements) unless the Directors consider that such purchases were in the best interests of the Company and its Shareholders as a whole.

SHARE REPURCHASE MADE BY THE COMPANY

In 2011, the Company cancelled 10,019,000 of the 22,894,000 shares repurchased and the remaining 12,875,000 shares were cancelled on 10 January 2012. Save as described above, there was no purchase, sale or redemption of the Company's shares by the Company or any of its subsidiaries during the year ended 31 December 2012.
