ONLINE RESOURCES CORPORATION
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)

1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Online Resources Corporation (the Company) is a leading outsourcer of Internet banking, payment and consumer contact services to financial institution clients nationwide. The Company offers services, branded in the clients name, that integrate seamlessly into a single-vendor, end-to-end solution, supported by 24x7 customer care, targeted consumer marketing, training and other network and technical professional products and services.

INTERIM FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The accompanying unaudited financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions for Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed, or omitted, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. In the opinion of management, the statements include all adjustments necessary (which are of a normal and recurring nature) for the fair presentation of the results of the interim periods presented. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with our audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2002, included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 31, 2003 and the amended Form 10-K filed as part of an 8-K on June 27, 2003. The results of operations for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations for any other interim period or for a full fiscal year.

2. REVENUE RECOGNITION

The Company generates revenues from service fees, professional services, and other revenues. Revenues from service fees are reported in the statements of operations based on three business lines, banking services, payment services and consumer contact services. In prior years, revenues from these business lines were reported as service fees. Revenue amounts reported in prior periods have been reclassified to conform to the 2003 presentation. Service fee revenue from these three business lines includes account access fees, transaction fees, customer service, new user setup, communications and other services. Revenue from banking services, payment services and consumer contact services are recognized over the term of the contract as the services are provided. Professional services and other revenues are generated from the linking of the Company's financial institution clients to the Company's Quotien e-financial suite through various networks and the Company's gateways and the sale of software used to access the e-financial suite. Other revenue also includes termination fees, which are recognized at the date of termination of a contract. Implementation revenue and direct implementation costs are recognized on a straight-line basis over the contract term. In prior years, professional services and other fees were included as implementation and other revenues. Although the Company separately reports its revenues from its three business lines, it does not track costs and expenses at the business line level.

3. MAJOR CUSTOMER

For the three months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, one of the Company's financial institution clients, California Federal Bank (Cal Fed), accounted for approximately $0 and $1.3 million, or 0% and 16% of the Company's revenue, respectively. For the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, Cal Fed accounted for approximately $3.3 million and $3.6 million, or 12% and 15% of the Company's revenue, respectively. Citigroup acquired Cal Fed and during the first quarter of 2003 converted the Cal Fed customers to the Citigroup banking and bill payment platform. Of the $3.3 million in revenue earned from Cal Fed during the first nine months of 2003, $2.2 million represented a one-time fee resulting from the conversion of Cal Fed customers to the Citigroup platform.

4. NET INCOME (LOSS) PER SHARE

Basic and diluted net income (loss) per share is calculated by dividing the net income (loss) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. The Convertible Notes are antidilutive for all periods presented.

Diluted	$ 0.02	$ 0.01	$ 0.15	$ (0.06)

(1) Stock options are antidilutive due to the Company's net loss position.

5. NOTES PAYABLE

On September 28, 2000, the Company completed the private placement of $20 million in Convertible Notes to a group of accredited investors and received proceeds of $18.7 million net of expenses. The Convertible Notes carry an 8% coupon and interest payment dates are April 1 and October 1 of each year. The Convertible Notes were initially convertible at a price of $4.75 per share but are subject to an annual reset under certain circumstances. In no event can the conversion price under the terms of the Convertible Notes be reset to a price of less than $4.00 per share. Subject to certain conditions, the Company may redeem all or part of the Convertible Notes prior to maturity. (See Note 9)

During 2001, the Company paid $2.2 million to repurchase $3.5 million of the Convertible Notes in privately negotiated transactions and converted $3.5 million of the Convertible Notes, under separately negotiated agreements with several holders of the Convertible Notes. On March 27, 2002, $1.0 million of the Convertible Notes were converted at $3.39 per common share, instead of the $4.00 conversion price that otherwise existed under the Convertible Notes. The induced conversion which occurred on March 27, 2002 resulted in the issuance of 295,031 shares, or 45,031 additional shares had the Convertible Notes been converted at the $4.00 per common share conversion price. For the quarter ending March 31, 2002, the Company recognized a $141,848 non-cash debt conversion expense and wrote off $49,959 of related debt issuance costs in connection with the transaction.

On May 30, 2003 and June 9, 2003, the Company repurchased $1.9 million and $2.0 million, respectively, of the Convertible Notes at par. This removed 975,000 shares from possible future issuance in conjunction with conversion of the repurchased Convertible Notes. For the quarter ended June 30, 2003, the Company wrote off $181,179 of related debt issuance costs in connection with the transaction. As of September 30, 2003, $8.1 million of the Convertible Notes remained outstanding and mature on September 30, 2005. Based on the established $4.00 conversion price, the outstanding Convertible Notes are convertible into 2,025,000 shares of the Company's common stock at September 30, 2003. The remaining $8.1 million in Convertible Notes are callable by the Company after October 1, 2003 at a 2 percent premium over par (See Note 9).

Interest expense and amortization of the debt issuance costs related to the Convertible Notes for the three months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 were $202,503 and $302,397. Interest expense and amortization of the debt issuance costs related to the Convertible Notes for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 were $774,236 and $928,087, respectively. As of September 30, 2003 and 2002, accrued interest on the Convertible Notes totaled $324,000 and $480,000, respectively.

6. EQUITY

Edgar Filing: ONLINE RESOURCES CORP - Form 10-Q

During the nine months ended September 30, 2003, employees purchased 12,365 shares of common stock under the Company's employee stock purchase plan and exercised 572,807 shares of common stock under the Company's stock option plan with net proceeds to the Company of approximately $1,399,052. On June 9, 2003, the Company increased its stockholders' equity by $4.4 million through a private placement of 1,336,000 newly issued common shares to a group of institutional investors. This transaction was priced at a discount to the Online Resources volume weighted average closing share price for the 10 trading days prior to the seventh trading day before closing. (See Note 9)

7. COMPONENTS OF COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

Comprehensive income includes the Company's net income (loss) adjusted for changes, net of tax, of unrealized gains (losses) on investments in marketable securities. Comprehensive income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 is as follows:

	THREE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30,		NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30,
	2003	2002	2003	2002
Comprehensive income:
Net income (loss)	$ 363,804	$ 92,593	$ 2,338,761	$ (847,197)
Unrealized gain (loss) on investments in marketable securities	3,340	2,333	(7,338)	(13,006)
Total comprehensive income (loss):	$ 367,144	$ 94,926	$ 2,331,423	$ (860,203)

8. STOCK BASED COMPENSATION

The Company has elected to follow the accounting provisions of Accounting Principles Board Opinion (APB) No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, for stock-based compensation and to furnish the pro forma disclosures required under SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure. In electing to continue to follow APB No. 25 for expense recognition purposes, the Company is obliged to provide the expanded disclosures required under SFAS No. 148 for stock-based compensation granted, including, if materially different from reported results, disclosure of pro forma net earnings or losses and earnings or losses per share had compensation expense relating to grants been measured under the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS No. 123.

The weighted-average fair values at date of grant for options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 were $4.32 and $2.24, respectively and during the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 were $3.01 and $2.26, respectively. The weighted-average fair values were estimated using the Black-Scholes option valuation model with the following weighted-average assumptions:

	THREE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30,		NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30,
	2003	2002	2003	2002

Expected volatility	91%	101%	92%	104%
Risk-free interest rate	3.13%	4.18%	2.82%	4.93%
Expected life in years	5.0	5.8	5.2	6.6

A reconciliation of the Corporation's net income (loss) to pro forma net income (loss), and the related basic and diluted pro forma net income (loss) per share amounts, for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, is provided below. For purposes of pro forma disclosure, stock-based compensation expense is recognized in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 123. Further, pro forma stock-based compensation expense is amortized to expense on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Between October 1 and October 28, 2003, holders of the Convertible Notes due 2005 converted $7.5 million into 1,875,000 shares of the Company's common stock at $4.00 per share and on October 29, 2003, the conversion price was reset to $4.75 per share as defined by the terms of the Convertible Notes. The Company has called the remaining Convertible Notes at 102 percent of the principal amount plus accrued interest, as defined by the terms of the Convertible Notes. Remaining Noteholders may still choose to convert their Notes before November 19, 2003. If all remaining Notes are converted, the Company will issue an additional 126,315 shares on the Redemption Date.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OPERATIONS.

CAUTIONARY NOTE

The following management's discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the accompanying Financial Statements and Notes thereto. This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, including, but not limited to:

Any statement in this document that are not statements of historical fact may be considered forward-looking;

Statements regarding trends in our revenues, expense levels, and liquidity and capital resources;

Statements about the sufficiency of the proceeds from the sale of securities and cash balances to meet currently planned working capital and capital expenditure requirements for at least the next twelve months; and

Other statements identified or qualified by words such as likely, will, suggest, may, would, could, should, expects, anticipates, plans, projects, believes, seek, intend and other similar words that signify forward-looking statements.

These forward-looking statements represent our best judgment as of the date of the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, and we caution readers not to place undue reliance on such statements. Actual performance and results of operations may differ materially from those projected or suggested in the forward-looking statements due to certain risks and uncertainties, including but not limited to, the risks and uncertainties described or discussed in the section Risk Factors in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 31, 2003. These risks include, among others, the following:

our history of prior losses and lack of certainty as to our continuing profitability; possible fluctuations of our quarterly financial results;

our potential need for additional capital to achieve continued revenue and profit growth;

our customer base may not continue to increase;

our dependence on the marketing efforts of third parties;

our dependence on our financial institution clients to market our services;

the possibility that we may not be able to expand to meet increased demand for our services and related products;

the potential adverse impact that a loss of a material client or restructure of our agreement with a material customer may have on our financial results;

our potential inability to compete with larger, more established businesses offering similar products or services;

our inability to attract and retain qualified management and technical personnel and our dependence on our executive officers and key employees;

possible security breaches or system failures disrupting our business and the liability associated with these disruptions;

the possibility of the development of defective new products;

the potential obsolescence of our technology or the offering of new, more efficient means of conducting Internet banking and bill payment; reduction or elimination of the fees we charge for some services due to the consumer demand for low-cost or free online financial services;

the potential impact of the consolidation of the banking and financial services industry;

interference with our business from the adoption of government regulations;

our need to maintain satisfactory ratings from federal depository institution regulators;

the potential of litigation;

the potential control of the management and affairs of the Company by our executives and directors;

our volatile stock price;

the trading of a substantial number of shares adversely impacting the price of our shares;

the possibility of discouraging a takeover as a result of the adoption of a Stockholder Rights Plan; and the possibility of terrorism and further acts of violence.

OVERVIEW

We are a leading outsourcer of Internet banking, payment and consumer contact services to financial institution clients nationwide. Our services, branded in the clients' name, integrate seamlessly into a single-vendor, end-to-end solution, supported by 24x7 customer care, targeted consumer marketing, training and other network and technical professional products and services. Our Annual Report on Form 10-K discusses the critical accounting policies considered by management to be critical for an understanding of our financial statements.

Registered customers are the major driver of our revenue. The number of customers using our services as of the end of the third quarter of 2003 increased by 37% compared to the third quarter of 2002, resulting in a 15% increase in services revenue. While we have seen some reduction in recurring revenue per user, this has been more than offset by declining costs per user. In the third quarter of 2003, we reduced our cost of revenue, driving down our recurring cost per user by 17%, keeping our gross margin constant at 57%.

We have long-term service contracts with our financial institution clients. The majority of our revenue is recurring, though these contracts also provide for implementation, set-up and other non-recurring fees. Banking services revenue is based either on a monthly license fee allowing our financial institution client to register an unlimited number of customers, or on a monthly fee for each registered customer. Payment services revenue is based on either a monthly fee for each customer enrolled, a fee per executed transaction, or a combination of the two. Our financial institution clients pay all of our fees and then determine if or how they want to pass these costs on to their customers. They typically provide Internet banking services to customers free of charge, as they derive significant potential benefits including account retention, delivery and paper cost savings, account consolidation and cross-selling of other products. Almost all of our financial institution clients, however, charge their customers for providing payment services.

As a network-based service provider, we have made substantial up-front investments in our infrastructure, particularly for our proprietary systems. While we continue to incur ongoing development and maintenance costs, we believe the infrastructure we have built provides us with significant operating leverage. Beginning in 2003, we are undertaking an effort to upgrade and rewrite certain of our applications infrastructure over a period of two to three years. We expect that this effort will require incremental capital expenditures, primarily for additional development labor, of between $3.0 million and $5.0 million over that period.

We continue to automate processes and develop applications that allow us to make only small increases in labor and other operating costs relative to increases in customers and transactions. We believe our financial and operating performance will be based primarily on our ability to leverage additional users and transactions over this relatively fixed cost base.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

While we have achieved net income profitability for four of the past five quarters and expect our annual profitability to be sustainable, we have historically experienced operating losses and negative cash flow due to the initial costs of developing our infrastructure and the early revenues typical of an emerging market segment. As a result, at September 30, 2003 we had an accumulated deficit of $83.4 million. We have funded our operations primarily through the issuance of equity and debt securities. Our ongoing working capital requirements consist primarily of personnel costs related to providing our services and operating, enhancing and maintaining our systems.

We believe that cash, cash equivalents and investment balances will be sufficient to meet our current anticipated operating requirements for at least the next twelve months. However, there can be no assurance that additional capital beyond the amounts currently forecasted by us will not be required or that any such required additional capital will be available on reasonable terms, if at all, at such time as required. We intend to invest our cash in excess of current operating requirements in marketable government, corporate and mortgage-backed securities.

Cash and investments in securities available for sale were $11.4 and $6.8 million as of September 30, 2003 and December 31, 2002, respectively. The $4.6 million increase in cash and investments resulted primarily from cash provided by operating activities of $4.7 million. Total liabilities decreased significantly from $15.8 million as of December 31, 2002 to $11.6 million as of September 30, 2003. The $4.2 million decrease is primarily the result of the repurchase of $3.9 million of Convertible Notes.

During 2002, Citigroup acquired our largest client, California Federal Bank, also known as Cal Fed. During the first quarter of 2003, Cal Fed customers were converted to the Citigroup banking and bill payment platform. For the quarter ended September 30, 2002, Cal Fed accounted for approximately $1.3 million, or 16% of the Company's revenue whereas no revenue was generated from this client during the quarter ended September 30, 2003. For the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, Cal Fed accounted for approximately $3.3 million and $3.5 million, or 12% and 15% of the Company's revenue, respectively. Of the $3.3 million earned from Cal Fed during the first nine months of 2003, $2.2 million represented a one-time fee resulting from the conversion of Cal Fed customers to the Citigroup platform. Additionally, BB&T Corporation acquired our second largest client, First Virginia Banks, Inc., and migrated First Virginia's customers to BB&T's Internet banking and bill payment platform in the third quarter of 2003. Given the timing of this transaction however, the migration will have little or no effect on expected 2003 financial performance. For the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003, we derived approximately $0.3 and $0.8 million, respectively, in revenue from the banking and customer care portion of services to First Virginia and approximately $0.2 and $0.6 million in revenue, respectively, from the bill payment portion of services. First Virginia accounted for $0.5 million or 5% of our revenue for the quarter ended September 30, 2003, and $1.4 million or 5% of our revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2003.

As with similar service providers, we are vulnerable to a loss of business associated with the acquisition of our clients. Though the loss of Cal Fed and the loss of First Virginia in October 2003 may have a temporary impact on our revenue base, the growth in usage among our remaining clients and our ability to attract new clients remains unaffected. We expect the loss of Cal Fed and of First Virginia as a client to have little effect on our long-term growth trends. Additionally, our remaining client base contains very little concentration of revenues. Once Cal Fed and First Virginia are removed from our client base, our next largest remaining client represents approximately 5% of revenue and no other individual client accounts for more than 3% of revenue.

THREE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2003 COMPARED TO THE THREE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2002.

Revenue. We generate revenue from Internet banking services, payment services, consumer contact services and professional services and other revenues. Revenue increased $1.1 million, or 14%, to $9.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2003, from $8.2 million for the same period of 2002. During the third quarter of 2003, Internet banking services revenue declined $0.3 million from $1.3 million to $1.0 million primarily as a result of the cessation of our relationship with Cal Fed in March 2003. Payment services revenue increased 43% to $5.7 million, driven by a 60% increase in the number of quarter-end bill pay customers and a 61% increase in the number of bill payment transactions processed during the quarter. Consumer contact services revenue decreased 9% to $2.1 million as a result of the discontinuance of our business with Cal Fed. Additionally, professional services and other revenues decreased 4% to $0.5 million during the quarter ended September 30, 2003, primarily due to a decline in recognized deferred implementation revenues.

Cost of Revenue. Cost of revenue includes the direct expenses associated with providing our services. These expenses include telecommunications, payment processing, systems operations, customer service, implementation and related products. Cost of revenues increased $0.5 million to $4.0 million for the three months ended September 30, 2003 primarily due to a $0.2 million decrease in customer service costs offset by $0.4, $0.1 and $0.1 million increases in bill payment processing costs, telecommunications costs and systems support costs, respectively. The decrease in customer service costs was due to a reduction in headcount resulting from technological efficiencies implemented since the first quarter of 2002. The increase in telecommunications and systems support costs is the result of a 37% increase in our user base, while the increase in payment processing costs resulted from increases in the number of bill pay customers and payment transactions. The number of payment transactions processed increased by 61% from 4.3 million during the third quarter of 2002 to 6.9 million during the same period in 2003. Due to a 37% increase in the number of customers using our services over the third quarter of 2002 coupled with only a 13% increase in the total cost of revenue compared to the third quarter of 2002, the recurring monthly cost per user decreased by 17% from $1.94 to $1.60. Beginning in the third quarter of 2003, the Company has begun to offset payment costs with idle funds it recaptures from bill payment transactions that have not been completed after twelve months from the authorization of the transactions. The amount of funds recovered and recognized in the current quarter was $0.1 million.

Gross Profit. Gross profit increased to $5.2 million for the three months ended September 30, 2003 from $4.6 million for the same period of 2002. Despite declining average revenue per user, gross profit as a percentage of revenue remained constant at 57% as compared to the prior year due to increased service fees leveraged over our relatively fixed cost of revenue. Gross profit also improved as a result of improved efficiency from technology development and cost control initiatives.

General and Administrative. General and administrative expenses primarily consist of salaries for executive, administrative and financial personnel, consulting expenses and facilities costs such as office leases, insurance, and depreciation. General and administrative expenses increased $0.2 million, or 13%, to $2.0 million in the third quarter of 2003, from $1.8 million for the same period in 2002. The increase in general and administrative expenses is primarily attributable to increased depreciation expenses resulting from increased capitalization of software development costs and increased salary and benefits costs as a result of additional personnel, the restoration of salaries and the implementation of a profit sharing plan in 2003. General and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenue remained constant at 22% when compared to the corresponding quarter of the prior year.

Sales and Marketing. Sales and marketing expenses include salaries and commissions paid to sales and marketing personnel, consumer marketing costs, public relations costs, and other costs incurred in marketing our services and products. Sales and marketing expenses increased $0.2 million, or 14%, to $1.6 million in the third quarter of 2003, from $1.4 million for the same period of 2002. The primary reason for the increase in sales and marketing expenses was due to increased salary and benefits as a result of the restoration of salaries and the implementation of a profit sharing plan in 2003.

Systems and Development. Systems and development expenses include salaries of personnel in the systems and development department, consulting fees and all other expenses incurred in supporting the research and development of new services and products, and new technology to enhance existing products. Systems and development expenses remained flat at $1.0 million. In accordance with Statement of Position 98-1,

Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use, the Company capitalized $0.3 and $0.2 million of software development costs for the three months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Income from Operations. Income from operations increased $0.2 million, or 49%, to $0.6 million for the three months ended September 30, 2003, from $0.4 million for the same period in 2002. The increase in income from operations was primarily due to increases in service fee revenue leveraged over relatively fixed costs.

Other Income and Expenses. Interest income decreased $6,000, or 24%, to $20,000 for the three months ended September 30, 2003, from $26,000 for the same period in 2002. The decrease was due to lower interest rates. Interest and other expense decreased $0.1 million, or 34%, to $0.2 million in the third quarter of 2003, as compared to $0.3 million in the same quarter of 2002, as the result of lower interest expense and amortization of debt issuance costs due to the repurchase of Convertible Notes.

Edgar Filing: ONLINE RESOURCES CORP - Form 10-Q

Net Income and Income Per Share. Net income was $0.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2003, compared to $0.1 million for the same period of 2002. Basic and diluted income per share was $0.02 for the three months ended September 30, 2003 compared to basic and diluted income per share of $0.01 for the three months ended September 30, 2002.

NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2003 COMPARED TO THE NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2002.

Revenue. We generate revenue from Internet banking services, payment services, consumer contact services and professional services and other revenues. Revenue increased $4.8 million, or 20%, to $28.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003, from $23.9 million for the same period of 2002. During the first nine months of 2003, Internet banking services revenue declined $0.7 million as a result of the cessation of our relationship with Cal Fed in March 2003. Payment services revenue increased 38% to $15.1 million, driven by a 60% increase in the number of period-end bill pay customers and a 45% increase in the number of bill payment transactions processed during the past nine months. Consumer contact services revenue decreased slightly by 2% to $6.5 million as a result of the cessation of our relationship with Cal Fed in March 2003 offset by an increase of 37% in the number of period-end customers utilizing either banking or bill payment services. Additionally, professional services and other revenues increased 68% to $3.8 million during the nine month period ended September 30, 2003, primarily due to $2.2 million in fee income resulting from the conversion of Cal Fed customers to the Citigroup platform.

Edgar Filing: ONLINE RESOURCES CORP - Form 10-Q

Cost of Revenue. Cost of revenue encompasses the direct expenses associated with providing our services. These expenses include telecommunications, payment processing, systems operations, customer service, implementation and related products. Cost of revenues increased by 4% to $11.6 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 primarily due to a $0.8 million increase in bill payment processing costs and a $0.3 million increase in systems support costs offset by a $0.6 million decrease in customer service costs. The increase in payment processing costs resulted from increases in the number of bill pay customers and payment transactions, while the increase in systems support costs is due to a 37% increase in our user base. The number of payment transactions processed increased by 45% from 11.9 million during the first nine months of 2002 to 17.2 million during the same period in 2003. The decrease in customer service costs was due to a reduction in headcount resulting from technological efficiencies implemented since the first quarter of 2002. Although the total cost of revenue increased compared to the first nine months of 2002, the recurring monthly cost per user decreased by 21%, due to a 37% increase in the number of customers using our services. Beginning in the third quarter of 2003, the Company has begun to offset payment costs with idle funds it recaptures from bill payment transactions that have not been completed after twelve months from the authorization of the transactions. The amount of funds recovered and recognized during the first nine months of 2003 was $0.1 million.

Gross Profit. Gross profit increased to $17.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 from $12.7 million for the same period of 2002. Gross profit as a percentage of revenue improved to 60% from 53% in the prior year due to increased service fees leveraged over our relatively fixed cost of revenue and the $2.2 million of fee income received from Cal Fed for which no costs were incurred. Exclusive of the Cal Fed $2.2 million fee, gross profit as a percentage of revenue would have improved to 56%. Gross profit also improved as a result of improved efficiency from technology development and cost control initiatives.

General and Administrative. General and administrative expenses primarily consist of salaries for executive, administrative and financial personnel, consulting expenses and facilities costs such as office leases, insurance, and depreciation. General and administrative expenses increased $1.1 million, or 21%, to $6.3 million in the first nine months of 2003, from $5.2 million for the same period in 2002. The increase in general and administrative expenses is primarily attributable to increased depreciation expenses resulting from increased capitalization of software development costs and increased salary and benefits costs as a result of additional personnel, the restoration of salaries and the implementation of a profit sharing plan in 2003. General and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenue remained flat at 22%.

Sales and Marketing. Sales and marketing expenses include salaries and commissions paid to sales and marketing personnel, consumer marketing costs, public relations costs, and other costs incurred in marketing our services and products. Sales and marketing expenses increased $0.6 million, or 16%, to $4.6 million in the first nine months of 2003, from $4.0 million for the same period of 2002. The primary reason for the increase in sales and marketing expenses was due to increased salary and benefits as a result of the restoration of salaries and the implementation of a profit sharing plan in 2003.

Systems and Development. Systems and development expenses include salaries of personnel in the systems and development department, consulting fees and all other expenses incurred in supporting the research and development of new services and products, and new technology to enhance existing products. Systems and development expenses decreased $0.4 million, or 13%, to $2.9 million in the first nine months of 2003, from $3.3 million for the same period in 2002. The decrease in systems and development expenses was mainly due to a reduction in compensation and consulting costs incurred for the period. In accordance with Statement of Position 98-1, Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use, the Company capitalized $1.0 and $0.6 million of software development costs for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Income (Loss) from Operations. Income from operations increased $3.0 million to $3.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003, from a $0.3 million loss for the same period in 2002. The significant increase in income from operations was primarily due to increases in service fee revenue leveraged over relatively fixed costs, and the $2.2 million in fee income received from the conversion of Cal Fed.

Other Income and Expenses. Interest income decreased $50,000, or 47%, to $57,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003, from $107,000 for the same period in 2002. The decrease was due to lower interest rates. Interest and other expense decreased $0.2 million, or 22%, to $0.8 million in the first nine months of 2003, as compared to $1.0 million in the first nine months of 2002, as the result of lower interest expense and amortization of debt issuance costs due to the conversion and repurchase of Convertible Notes. The conversion of $1.0 million in Convertible Notes in March 2002 resulted in a non-cash debt conversion expense of $0.2 million attributable to the issuance of 45,031 incremental shares of common stock. Additionally, the Company repurchased $3.9 million of Convertible Notes in the second quarter of 2003 resulting in the acceleration of $0.2 million of debt issuance costs. Until September 2005, unless the Convertible Notes are earlier converted or repurchased, we will continue to incur interest expense related to the Convertible Notes.

Net Income (Loss) and Income (Loss) Per Share. Net income was $2.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003, compared to a net loss of $0.8 million for the same period of 2002. Basic and diluted income per share was $0.16 and $0.15, respectively, for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 compared to a basic and diluted loss per share of $(0.06) for the nine months ended September 30, 2002.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Edgar Filing: ONLINE RESOURCES CORP - Form 10-Q

Cash and investments in available for sale securities increased $4.6 million to $11.4 million from $6.8 million as of September 30, 2003 and December 31, 2002, respectively, primarily as a result of cash provided by operating activities of $4.7 million.

Net cash provided by operating activities was $4.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003. Approximately $2.2 million of the $4.7 million is the result of non-recurring fee income earned from Cal Fed.

Net cash used by investing activities for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 was $3.3 million, which was the result of net cash used to purchase $1.5 million of available for sale securities and capital expenditures of $1.8 million.

Net cash provided by financing activities was $1.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 which was the result of $5.8 million in proceeds from the issuance of common stock net of the repurchase of $3.9 million of Convertible Notes. At September 30, 2003, we had cash and cash equivalents of $5.4 million, investments in available for sale securities of $6.0 million, working capital of $13.5 million, long-term obligations of $8.1 million and stockholders' equity of $13.6 million.

We have no material commitments other than our Convertible Notes and obligations under our operating and capital leases. Our material commitments under these obligations are as follows:

	Total	2003	2004	2005	Thereafter
Convertible notes	$8,100,000	$	$	$8,100,000	$
Capital lease obligations	164,464	48,361	105,087	11,016
Operating lease	1,042,083	312,625	729,458
Total Obligations	$9,306,547	$360,986	$834,545	$8,111,016	$

We believe that cash, cash equivalents and investment balances will be sufficient to meet our current anticipated operating requirements for at least the next twelve months. However, there can be no assurance that additional capital beyond the amounts currently forecasted by us will not be required or that any such required additional capital will be available on reasonable terms, if at all, at such time as required. We intend to invest our cash in excess of current operating requirements in marketable government, corporate and mortgage-backed securities.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK.

We invest primarily in short-term, investment grade, marketable government, corporate, and mortgage-backed debt securities. The Company's interest income is most sensitive to changes in the general level of U.S. interest rates. We do not have operations subject to risks of foreign currency fluctuations, nor do we use derivative financial instruments in our operations or investment portfolio. We have classified all of our investments as available-for-sale financial instruments. The following table provides information about our available-for-sale investments that are sensitive to changes in interest rates.

	SEPTEMBER 30, 2003
	AMORTIZED COST	FAIR VALUE	INTEREST RATE
U.S. government treasury obligations	$4,568,558	$4,575,735	1.05%
Commercial obligations	1,419,391	1,419,531	1.08%
Total investments	$5,987,949	$5,995,266

Long-term debt as of September 30, 2003 is comprised of Convertible Notes with an 8% fixed interest rate and capital lease obligations with interest rates ranging from 4% to 13%. Since these Convertible Notes have a fixed interest rate, we are not exposed to fluctuations in interest rates in this portion of our long-term debt.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

(a) As of the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, an evaluation was performed under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and Chief Financial Officer (CFO) of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)). Based on that evaluation, the CEO and CFO have concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were adequate and effective to ensure that material information relating to us, was made known to them by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q was being prepared.

(b) The CEO and CFO have indicated that there have been no significant changes in our internal control over financial reporting, identified in connection with the above-mentioned evaluation of such internal control that occurred during our last fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

We are not a party to any pending material litigation nor are we aware of any pending or threatened litigation that would have a material adverse effect on the Company, our business or results of operation.

ITEM 2. CHANGES IN SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS.

(c) On June 9, 2003, the Company through a private placement issued 1,336,000 shares of common stock to a group of institutional investors at an aggregate purchase price of $4.4 million. No agent or underwriter was used for this placement. We relied upon Rule 506 of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 4(2) of this act in exempting the issuance of the shares from the registration requirements of the act.

ITEM 3. DEFAULTS UPON SENIOR SECURITIES.

None

ITEM 4. OTHER INFORMATION.
