PART I.

Item 1. Business.

(a) General Development of Business

Discovery Holding Company was incorporated in the state of Delaware on March 9, 2005 as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty Media Corporation, which we refer to as Liberty. On July 21, 2005, Liberty completed the spin off of Discovery Holding Company to Liberty's shareholders. In the spin off, each holder of Liberty common stock received 0.10 of a share of our Series A common stock for each share of Liberty Series A common stock held and 0.10 of a share of our Series B common stock for each share of Liberty Series B common stock held. Approximately 268.1 million shares of our Series A common stock and 12.1 million shares of our Series B common stock were issued in the spin off, which is intended to qualify as a tax-free transaction.

We are a holding company. Through our wholly owned subsidiary, Ascent Media Group, LLC (Ascent Media), and our 50% owned equity affiliate Discovery Communications, Inc. (Discovery or DCI), we are engaged primarily in (1) the production, acquisition and distribution of entertainment, educational and information programming and software, (2) the retail sale and licensing of branded and other specialty products and (3) the provision of creative and network services to the media and entertainment industries. Our subsidiaries and affiliates operate in the United States, Europe, Latin America, Asia, Africa and Australia.

The assets and operations of Ascent Media are composed primarily of the assets and operations of 13 companies acquired by Liberty from 2000 through 2004, including The Todd-AO Corporation, Four Media Company, certain assets of SounDelux Entertainment Group, Video Services Corporation, Group W Network Services, London Playout Centre and the systems integration business of Sony Electronics. The combination and integration of these and other acquired entities allow Ascent Media to offer integrated outsourcing solutions for the technical and creative requirements of its clients, from content creation and other post-production services to media management and transmission of the final product to broadcast television stations, cable system head-ends and other destinations and distribution points.

Discovery is a leading global media and entertainment company. Discovery has grown from the 1985 launch in the United States of its core property, Discovery Channel, to current global operations in over 170 countries across six continents, with over 1.5 billion total cumulative subscription units. Discovery operates its businesses in three groups: Discovery networks U.S., Discovery networks international, and Discovery commerce, education and other.

On January 27, 2006, we acquired AccentHealth, LLC (AccentHealth) for cash consideration of $45 million, plus working capital adjustments of $1.8 million. AccentHealth operates an advertising-supported captive audience television network in doctor office waiting rooms nationwide. For financial reporting purposes, the results of operations of AccentHealth have been included in our consolidated results as part of Ascent Media's network services group.

uncertainties inherent in the development and integration of new business lines, acquired operations and business strategies;

changes in the distribution and viewing of television programming, including the expanded deployment of personal video recorders and other technology, and their impact on television advertising revenue;

rapid technological changes;

uncertainties associated with product and service development and market acceptance, including the development and provision of programming for new television and telecommunications technologies;

future financial performance, including availability, terms and deployment of capital;

fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and political unrest in international markets;

the ability of suppliers and vendors to deliver products, equipment, software and services;

the outcome of any pending or threatened litigation;

availability of qualified personnel;

the possibility of an industry-wide strike or other job action affecting a major entertainment industry union;

changes in, or failure or inability to comply with, government regulations, including, without limitation, regulations of the Federal Communications Commission, and adverse outcomes from regulatory proceedings;

changes in the nature of key strategic relationships with partners and joint venturers; competitor responses to our products and services, and the products and services of the entities in which we have interests; and threatened terrorists attacks and ongoing military action in the Middle East and other parts of the world.

These forward-looking statements and such risks, uncertainties and other factors speak only as of the date of this Annual Report, and we expressly disclaim any obligation or undertaking to disseminate any updates or revisions to any forward-looking statement contained herein, to reflect any change in our expectations with regard thereto, or any other change in events, conditions or circumstances on which any such statement is based. When considering such forward-looking statements, you should keep in mind the factors described in Item 1A, Risk Factors and other cautionary statements contained in this Annual Report. Such risk factors and statements describe circumstances which could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement.

(b) Financial Information About Operating Segments

We identify our reportable segments based on financial information reviewed by our chief operating decision maker, or his designee. We report financial information for our consolidated business segments that represent more than 10% of our consolidated revenue or earnings before taxes and equity affiliates whose share of earnings represent more than 10% of our earnings before taxes.

Based on the foregoing criteria, our three reportable segments are our Creative Services group and Network Services group, which are operating segments of Ascent Media, and Discovery, which is an equity affiliate. A fourth reportable segment, media management services group, existed for a portion of 2006, but was realigned within the Creative Services group and Network Services group during the third and fourth quarters of 2006. Financial information related to our operating segments can be found in note 17 to our consolidated financial statements found in Part II of this report.

(c) Narrative Description of Business

ASCENT MEDIA

Ascent Media provides a wide variety of creative and network services to the media and entertainment industries. Ascent Media's clients include major motion picture studios, independent producers, broadcast networks, programming networks, advertising agencies and other companies that produce, own and/or distribute entertainment, news, sports, corporate, educational, industrial and advertising content.

Following an operational realignment in 2006, Ascent Media's operations are organized into two main categories: Creative services and Network services.

Creative Services

Ascent Media's creative services group provides various technical and creative services necessary to complete principal photography into final products, such as feature films, movie trailers, documentaries and independent films, episodic television, TV movies and mini-series, television commercials, music videos, interactive games and new digital media, promotional and identity campaigns and corporate communications. These services are referred to generally in the entertainment industry as post-production services. In addition, the creative services group provides a full complement of facilities and services necessary to optimize, archive, manage and repurpose completed media assets for global distribution via freight, satellite, fiber and the Internet.

Ascent Media markets its creative services under various brand names that are well known in the entertainment industry, including Blink Digital, Cinetech, Company 3, Design Music Group (DMG), Digital Media Data Center (DMDC), Digital Symphony, Encore Hollywood, FilmCore, Level 3 Post, Method, Modern Music, One Post, POP Sound, R!OT, Rushes, Soho Images, Soundelux, Sound One, St. Anne's Post, Todd-AO and VisionText.

The creative services client base comprises major motion picture studios and their international divisions, independent television production companies, broadcast networks, advertising agencies, creative editorial companies, corporate media producers, independent owners of television and film libraries and emerging new media distribution channels. The principal facilities of the creative services group are in Los Angeles, New York, Northvale (New Jersey), Atlanta, San Francisco, Mexico City and London.

Key services provided by Ascent Media's creative services group include the following:

Dailies. Clients require daily screening of their previous day's recorded work in order to evaluate technical and aesthetic qualities of the production and to begin the creative editorial process. Ascent Media provides the film development, digital transfer from film to video and video processing necessary for clients to view principal photography on a daily basis, also known as dailies. For clients that record their productions on film, Ascent Media processes and prints film negatives for film projection. The company also delivers dailies that are transferred from film to digital media using telecine equipment. The transfer process is technically challenging and is used to integrate various forms of audio and encode the footage with feet and frame numbers from the original film. Dailies delivered as a digital file can be processed in high definition or standard definition video and can be screened in a nonlinear manner on a variety of playback equipment.

Telecine. Telecine is the process of transferring film into video (in either analog or digital medium). During this process, a variety of parameters can be manipulated, such as color and contrast. Because the color spectrum of film and digital media are different, Ascent Media has creative talent who utilize creative colorizing techniques, equipment and processes to enable its clients to achieve a desired visual look and feel for television commercials and music videos, as well as feature films and television shows. Ascent Media also provides live telecine services via satellite, using a secure closed network able to accurately transmit subtle color changes to connect its telecine artists with client offices or other affiliated post-production facilities.

Digital intermediates. Ascent Media's digital intermediates service provides customers with the ability to convert film to a high resolution digital master file for color correction, creative editorial and electronic assembly of masters in other formats. If needed, the digital file can then be converted back to film.

Creative editorial. After principal photography has been completed, Ascent Media's editors assemble the various elements into a cohesive story consistent with the messaging, branding and creative direction by Ascent Media's advertising agency clients. Ascent Media provides the tools and talent required to support its clients through all stages of the editing process, beginning with the low-resolution digital images and off-line editing workstations used to create an edit decision list, through the high-resolution editorial process used to complete a final product suitable for broadcast. In addition, Ascent Media is able to offer expanded communications infrastructure to provide digital images directly from the film-to-tape transfer process to a workstation through dedicated data lines.

Visual effects. Visual effects are used to enhance the viewing audience's experience by supplementing images obtained in principal photography with computer-generated imagery and graphical elements. Visual effects are typically used to create images that cannot be created by any other cost-effective means. Ascent Media also provides services on an array of graphics and animation workstations using a variety of software to accomplish unique effects, including three-dimensional animation.

Assembly, formatting and duplication. Ascent Media implements clients' creative decisions, including decisions regarding the integration of sound and visual effects, to assemble source material into its final form. In addition, Ascent Media uses sophisticated computer graphics equipment to generate titles and character imagery and to format a given program to meet specific network requirements, including time compression and commercial breaks. Finally, Ascent

Media creates multiple master videotapes for delivery to the network for broadcast, archival and other purposes designated by the customer.

Distribution. Once a television commercial has been completed, Ascent Media provides broadcast and support services, including complete video and audio duplication, distribution, and storage and asset management, for advertising agencies, corporate advertisers and entertainment companies. Ascent Media uses domestic and international satellite, fiber and Integrated Services Digital Network, or ISDN, Internet access, and conventional air freight for the delivery of television and radio spots. Ascent Media currently houses over 85,000 commercial production elements in its vaults for future use by its clients. Ascent Media's commercial television distribution facilities in Los Angeles and San Francisco, California enable Ascent Media to service any regional or national client.

Sound supervision, sound design and sound editorial. Ascent Media provides creative talent, facilities and support services to create sound for feature films, television content, commercials and trailers, interactive multimedia games and special live venues. Sound supervisors ensure that all aspects of sound, dialogue, sound effects and music are properly coordinated. Ascent Media's sound services include, but are not limited to, sound editing, sound design, sound effect libraries, ADR (automated dialogue replacement, a process for recording dialogue in synchronization with previously recorded picture) and Foley (non-digital sound effects).

Music services. Music services are an essential component of post-production sound. Ascent Media has the technology and talent to handle all types of music-related services, including original music composition, music supervision, music editing, scoring/recording, temporary sound tracks, composer support and preparing music for soundtrack album release.

Re-recording / Mixing. Once sound editors, sound designers, composers, music editors, ADR and Foley crews, and many others, have prepared the elements that will make up the finished product, the final component of the creative sound post production process is the mix (or re-recording). Mixing a film involves the process of combining multiple elements, such as tracks of sound effects, dialogue and music, to complete the final product. Ascent Media maintains a significant number of mixing stages, purpose-built and provisioned with advanced recording equipment, capable of handling any type of project, from major motion pictures to smaller independent films.

Sound effects and music libraries. Through its Soundelux brand, Ascent Media maintains an extensive sound effects library with over 300,000 unique sounds, which editors and clients access through the company's intranet and remotely via the Internet. The company also owns several production music libraries through its Hollywood Edge brand. Ascent Media's clients use the sound effects and music libraries in feature films, television shows, commercials, interactive and multimedia games. Ascent Media actively continues to add new, original recordings to its library.

Negative developing and cutting. Ascent Media's film laboratories provide negative developing for television shows such as one-hour dramas and movie-length programming, including negative developing of dailies (the original negative shot during each production day), as well as the often complex and technically demanding commercial work and motion picture trailers. Ascent Media also provides negative cutting services for the distribution of commercials on film.

Restoration, preservation and asset protection of existing and damaged content. Ascent Media provides film restoration, preservation and asset protection services. Ascent Media's technicians use photochemical and digital processes to clean, repair and rebuild a film's elements in order to return the content to its original and sometimes to an improved image quality. Ascent Media also protects film element content from future degradation by transferring the film's image to newer archival film stocks. Ascent Media also provides asset protection services for its clients' color library titles, which is a preservation process whereby B/W, silver image, polyester, positive and color separation masters are created, sufficiently protecting the images of new and older films.

Transferring film to analog video or digital media. A considerable amount of film content is ultimately distributed to the home video, broadcast, cable or pay-per-view television markets. This requires film images to be transferred to an analog video or digital file format. Each frame must be color corrected and adapted to the size and aspect ratio of a television screen in order to ensure the highest level of conformity to the original film version. Because certain film formats require transfers with special characteristics, it is not unusual for a motion picture to be mastered in many different versions. Technological developments, such as the domestic introduction of television sets with a 16 X 9 aspect ratio and the implementation of advanced and high definition digital television systems for terrestrial and satellite broadcasting, are expected to contribute to the growth of Ascent Media's film transfer business. Ascent Media also digitally removes dirt and scratches from a damaged film master that is transferred to a digital file format.

Professional duplication and standards conversion. Ascent Media provides professional duplication, which is the process of creating broadcast quality and resolution independent sub-masters for distribution to professional end users. Ascent Media uses master elements to make sub-masters in numerous domestic and international broadcast standards as well as up to 22 different tape formats. Ascent Media also provides standards conversion, which is the process of changing the frame rate of a video signal from one video standard, such as the United States standard (NTSC), to another, such as a European standard (PAL or SECAM). Content is regularly copied, converted and checked by quality control for use in intermediate processes, such as editing, on-air backup and screening and for final delivery to cable and pay-per-view programmers, broadcast networks, television stations, airlines, home video duplicators and foreign distributors. Ascent Media's duplication and standards conversion facilities are technically advanced with unique characteristics that significantly increase equipment capacity while reducing error rates and labor cost.

DVD compression and authoring and menu design. Ascent Media provides all stages of DVD production, including creative menu design, special feature production, project management, encoding, 5.1 surround editing and quality control. Ascent Media also prepares and optimizes content for evolving formats of digital distribution, such as video-on-demand and interactive television.

Storage of original elements and working masters. Ascent Media's archives are designed to store working master videotapes and film elements in a highly controlled environment protected from temperature and humidity variation, seismic disturbance, fire, theft and other external events. In addition to the physical security of the archive, content owners require frequent and regular access to their libraries. Physical elements stored in Ascent Media's archive are uniquely bar-coded and maintained in a library management database offering rapid access to elements, concise reporting of element status and element tracking throughout its travel through Ascent Media's operations.

Syndicated television distribution. Ascent Media's syndication services provide AMOL-encoding and closed-captioned sub-mastering, commercial integration, library distribution, station list management and v-chip encoding. Ascent Media distributes syndicated television content by freight, satellite, fiber or the Internet, in formats ranging from low-resolution proxy streams to full-bandwidth high-definition television and streaming media.

Network Services

Ascent Media's network services group provides origination, transmission/distribution and technical services to broadcast, cable and satellite programming networks, local television channels, broadcast syndicators, satellite broadcasters, government, other broadband telecommunications companies and corporations that operate private networks. Ascent Media's network services group operates from facilities located in California, Connecticut, Florida, Minnesota, New York, New Jersey, Virginia and the United Kingdom and Singapore.

Key services provided by Ascent Media's network services group include the following:

Network origination and master control. The network services group provides videotape and file-based playback and origination to cable, satellite and pay-per-view programming networks. Ascent Media accepts daily program schedules, programs, promotional materials and advertising and transmits 24 hours of seamless daily programming to cable operators, direct broadcast satellite systems and other destinations, over fiber and satellite, using automated systems for broadcast playback. Associated services include cut-to-clock and compliance editing, tape library management, ingest & quality control, format conversion, and tape duplication. For programming designed for export to other markets, Ascent Media provides subtitling and voice dubbing. Ascent Media also operates industry-standard encryption and/or compression systems as needed for customer satellite transmission. Currently, over two hundred programming feeds running 24 hours a day, seven days a week are supported by Ascent Media's facilities in the United States, London and Singapore. Ascent Media operates television production studios with live-to-satellite interview services, cameras, production and audio control rooms, videotape playback and record, multi-language prompts, computerized lighting, dressing and makeup rooms and field and teleconferencing services. Ascent Media offers complete post-production services for on-air promotions, including graphics, editing, voice-over record, sound effects editing, sound mixing and music composition.

Transport and connectivity. Ascent Media operates satellite earth station facilities in Singapore, California, New York, New Jersey, Minnesota, Connecticut and Florida. Ascent Media's facilities are staffed 24 hours a day and may be used for uplink, downlink and turnaround services. Ascent Media accesses various satellite neighborhoods, including basic and premium cable, broadcast syndication, direct-to-home and DBS markets. Ascent Media resells transponder capacity for occasional and full-time use and bundles its transponder capacity with other broadcast and syndication services to provide a complete broadcast package at a fixed price. Ascent Media's teleports are high-bandwidth communications gateways with video switches and facilities for satellite, optical fiber and microwave transmission. Ascent Media's facilities offer satellite antennae capable of transmitting and receiving feeds in both C-Band and Ku-Band frequencies. Ascent Media also provides transportable services, including point-to-point microwave transmission, transportable up-link and downlink transmission and broadcast quality teleconference services. Ascent Media operates a global fiber network (branded Global Interconnect) to carry real-time video between its various locations in the US, London, and Singapore. This network is used to provide full-time program feeds and ad hoc services to clients.

Consulting Services. Ascent Media provides strategic, technology and business consulting services to the media and entertainment industry, leveraging the core strengths and knowledge-base of the company. Key practice areas include: digital migration; content delivery strategies; workflow analysis and design; emerging delivery platforms (such as Internet-protocol television, mobile and broadband); technology assessment; and technology-enabled business strategies.

Engineering and systems integration. Ascent Media designs, builds, installs and services advanced technical systems for production, management and delivery of rich media content to the worldwide broadcast, cable television, broadband, government and telecommunications industries. Ascent Media's engineering and systems integration business operates out of facilities in New Jersey, California, Florida, and London, and services global clients including major broadcasters, cable and satellite networks, telecommunications providers, corporate television networks, a major telecommunications company as well as numerous production and post-production facilities. Services offered include program management, engineering design, equipment procurement, software integration, construction, installation, service and support. Ascent Media also designs and constructs satellite earth stations and related facilities.

Network Operations, Field Service and Call Center. The network services group provides field service operations 24 hours a day, seven days a week through an on-staff network of approximately 50 field engineers located throughout the United States. Services include preventative and reactive maintenance of satellite earth stations, satellite networks, fiber-based digital transmission facilities, cable and telecommunications stations (also called head ends), and other technical facilities for the distribution of video content. The group operates a call center 24 hours a day, seven days a week out of its Palm Bay, Florida facility, providing outsourced services for technology manufacturing companies, networks and telecoms. In addition, the group operates a network operations center, providing outsourced services relating to monitoring and management of satellite and terrestrial distribution networks and remote monitoring and control of technical facilities. End users for field service, call center and network operation center services include major US broadcast and cable networks, telecommunications providers, digital equipment manufacturers, and government and corporate operations.

Strategy

The entertainment services industry has been historically fragmented with numerous providers offering discrete, geographically-limited, non-integrated services. Ascent Media's services, however, span the entirety of the value chain from the creation and management of media content to the distribution of media content via multiple transmission paths including satellite, fiber and Internet Protocol-based networks. Ascent Media believes the breadth and range of its services uniquely provide it the scale and flexibility necessary to realize significant operating and marketing efficiencies: a global, scaleable media services platform integrating preparation, management and transmission services; and common best practices operations management across the Ascent Media enterprise. Ascent Media's goal is to be the premier end-to-end digital media supply chain services provider to the media and entertainment industry, creating, managing and distributing rich media content across all distribution channels on a global basis. Ascent Media believes it can optimize its position in the market by pursuing the following strategies:

Grow digital media management business. Ascent Media intends to increase business with major media and entertainment clients by storing, managing and distributing their digital media, which are necessary for repurposing for file-based network origination and other forms of digital distribution. In this regard, it intends to deploy its digital media management system, which is currently deployed in Los Angeles, in the United Kingdom and the East Coast of the U.S.

Increase scale of operations. Ascent Media intends to increase the scale of its operations through a combination of internal investment in facilities plus external investment in companies and joint ventures. Its goal is to attract additional customers in its existing lines of business and expand its business operations geographically.

Expand scope of services. Ascent Media intends to expand the scope of its services by applying its core capabilities to new business activities, providing content management and distribution services based on electronic data files rather than physical tapes, participating in emerging high revenue-generating services such as re-formatting content for distribution to new platforms, and attracting new customers with unique service needs that are less susceptible to competitive threats.

Deploy an interconnected global media network. Ascent Media plans to provide clients access to an Internet-based network that manages and provides solutions for integrated workflows. The network will provide global connectivity and file transport capabilities, which will make client workflows more efficient and enhance Ascent's internal business systems.

Table of Contents

Optimize the organization. In order to reach the strategic goals described above, Ascent Media streamlined its internal organization in 2006. Specifically, Ascent Media re-aligned its divisional structure to become more compatible with its diversified customer base and the integrated file-based solutions that they seek.

Seasonality

The demand for Ascent Media's core motion picture services, primarily in its creative services group, has historically been seasonal, with higher demand in the spring (second fiscal quarter) and fall (fourth fiscal quarter), and lower demand in the winter and summer. Similarly, demand for Ascent Media's television program services, primarily in its creative services group, is higher in the first and fourth quarters and lowest in the summer, or third quarter. Demand for Ascent Media's commercial services, primarily in its creative services group, are fairly consistent with slightly higher activity in the third quarter. However, changes in the timing of the demand for television program services may result in increased business for Ascent Media in the summer. In addition, the timing of long-term projects in Ascent Media's creative services group and network services group are beginning to offset the quarters in which there has been historically lower demand for Ascent Media's motion picture and television services. Accordingly, Ascent Media expects to experience less dramatic quarterly fluctuations in its operating performance in the future.

DISCOVERY

Discovery Communications, Inc. is a leading global media and entertainment company. Discovery has grown from the 1985 launch in the United States of its core property, Discovery Channel, to current global operations in over 170 countries across six continents, with over 1.5 billion total cumulative subscription units. The term "subscription units" means, for each separate network or other programming service that Discovery offers, the number of television households that are able to receive that network or programming service from their cable, satellite or other television provider, and the term "cumulative subscription units" refers to the sum of such figures for multiple networks and/or programming services, including: (1) multiple networks received in the same household, (2) subscription units for joint venture networks, (3) subscription units for branded programming blocks, which are generally provided without charge, and (4) households that receive Discovery programming networks from pay-television providers without charge pursuant to various pricing plans that include free periods and/or free carriage. Discovery operates its businesses in three groups: Discovery Networks U.S., Discovery Networks International, and Discovery Commerce, Education and Other.

Discovery's relationships and agreements with the distributors of its channels are critical to its business as they provide Discovery's subscription revenue stream and access to an audience for advertising sales purposes. There has been a great deal of consolidation among cable and satellite television operators in the United States in recent years, with over 90% of the pay television households in the country now controlled by the top eight distributors. Discovery also operates in certain overseas markets which have experienced similar industry consolidation. Industry consolidation has generally provided more leverage to the distributors in their relationships with programmers. Accordingly, as its affiliation agreements expire, Discovery may not be able to obtain terms in new affiliation agreements that are comparable to terms in its existing agreements.

Discovery earns revenue from global delivery of its programming pursuant to affiliation agreements with cable television and direct-to-home satellite operators (which is described as distribution revenue throughout this report), from the sale of advertising on its networks and from product and subscription sales in its commerce and education businesses. Distribution revenue includes all components of revenue earned through affiliation agreements. Discovery's affiliation agreements typically have terms of 3 to 10 years and provide for payments based on the number of subscribers that receive Discovery's services. Discovery has grown its global network business by securing as broad a subscriber base as possible for each of its channels by entering into affiliation agreements. After obtaining scalable distribution of its networks, Discovery invests in programming and marketing in order to build a viewing audience to support advertising sales. In certain cases, Discovery has made cash payments to distributors in exchange for carriage or has entered into contractual arrangements that allow the distributors to show certain of Discovery's channels for extended free periods. In the United States, Discovery has the necessary audience and ratings for its programming such that advertising sales provide more revenue than channel subscriptions. Distribution revenue still accounts for the majority of the international networks' revenue base, and this is anticipated to be the case for the foreseeable future. As a result, growing the distribution base for existing and newly launched international networks will continue to be the primary focus of the international division. No single customer represented more than 10% of Discovery's consolidated revenue for the year ended December 31, 2006.

Discovery's principal operating costs consist of programming expense, sales and marketing expense, personnel expense and general and administrative expenses. Programming is Discovery's largest expense. Costs incurred and capitalized for the direct production of programming content are amortized over varying periods based on the expected realization of revenue from the underlying programs. Licensed programming is amortized over the contract period based on the expected realization of revenue. Discovery incurs sales and marketing expense to promote brand recognition and to secure quality distribution channels worldwide.

Discovery produces original programming and acquires content from numerous producers worldwide that is tailored to the specific preferences of viewers around the globe. Discovery believes it is generally well positioned for continued access to a broad range of high-quality programming for both its U.S. and international networks. It has assembled one of the largest libraries of non-fiction programming and footage in the world, due both to the aggregate purchasing power of its many networks and a policy to own as many rights as possible in the programs aired on its networks. Discovery also has long-term relationships with some of the world's most significant non-fiction program producers, including the British Broadcasting Corporation, which we refer to as the BBC. Discovery believes the broad international appeal of its content combined with its ability to utilize its programming library on a global basis is one of its competitive advantages. Discovery is also developing programming applications designed to position the company to take advantage of emerging distribution technologies including video-on-demand, IP-delivered programming and mobile.

Discovery's other properties consist of Discovery.com and over 100 retail outlets that offer technology, kids, lifestyle, health, science and education oriented products, as well as products related to other programming offered by Discovery. Additionally, Discovery's newest division, Discovery Education, distributes digital-based educational products to schools and consumers primarily in the United States.

Discovery is a leader in offering solutions to advertisers that allow them to reach a broad range of audience demographics in the face of increasing fragmentation of audience share. The overall industry is facing several issues with regard to its advertising revenue, including (1) audience fragmentation caused by the proliferation of other television networks, video-on-demand offerings from cable and satellite companies and broadband content offerings; (2) the deployment of digital video recording devices (DVRs), allowing consumers to time shift programming and skip or fast-forward through advertisements; and (3) consolidation within the advertising industry, shifting more leverage to the bigger agencies and buying groups.

Discovery Networks U.S.

Discovery networks U.S. currently operates 12 channels and provides distribution and advertising sales services for BBC America and distribution services for BBC World News. The division's channels include the Discovery Channel, TLC, Animal Planet, Travel Channel, Discovery Health Channel, Fit TV and the following emerging digital tier networks: The Science Channel, Discovery Kids, The Military Channel, Discovery Home, Discovery Times and Discovery HD Theater, which we refer to collectively as the emerging networks. All of these channels are wholly owned by Discovery other than Animal Planet, in which Discovery has an 80% ownership interest. Cox Communications, Advance/Newhouse and a subsidiary of Discovery Holding Company, combined, own the remaining 20% interest in Animal Planet. Discovery networks U.S. also operates web sites related to its channel businesses and various other new media businesses, including a video-on-demand offering distributed by various cable operators.

Discovery Networks International

Discovery networks international, or the international networks, manages a portfolio of channels, led by Discovery Channel and Animal Planet, that are distributed in virtually every pay-television market in the world via an infrastructure that includes major operational centers in London, Singapore, New Delhi and Miami. Discovery networks international currently operates over 100 separate feeds in 35 languages with channel feeds customized according to language needs and advertising sales opportunities. Most of the division's channels are wholly owned by Discovery with the exception of (1) the international Animal Planet channels, which are generally 50-50 joint ventures with the BBC, (2) People + Arts, which operates in Latin America and Iberia as a 50-50 joint venture with the BBC and (3) several channels in Japan and Canada, which operate as joint ventures with strategically important local partners. As with the U.S. networks division, the international networks division operates web sites and other new media businesses.

Discovery Commerce, Education & Other

This group includes Discovery commerce, which operates a chain of retail stores in the United States that offer technology, kids, lifestyle, health, science and education-oriented products, as well as products specifically related to programming on Discovery's networks. This division also operates a catalog and electronic commerce business selling products similar to that sold in the Discovery Channel Stores, as well as a business that licenses Discovery trademarks and intellectual property to third parties for the purpose of creating and selling retail merchandise.

This group also includes Discovery education. In 2004, the company expanded beyond its traditional education businesses of airing educational programming on its networks and selling hard copies of such programs to schools and began streaming educational video material into schools via the Internet. Discovery education now operates Unitedstreaming, Power-Media-Plus and Cosmeo, some of the leading educational broadband streaming services in the United States. These services earn revenue through subscription fees paid by schools, school districts and consumers which use the services.

Discovery Stockholders Agreement

A subsidiary of ours, together with a subsidiary of Cox Communications, which we refer to as Cox Communications, and Advance/Newhouse Programming Partnership, which we refer to as Advance/Newhouse, and John Hendricks, the founder and Chairman of Discovery, are parties to a Stockholders Agreement. We own 50%, and Cox Communications and Advance/Newhouse each own 25%, of Discovery. Mr. Hendricks is the record holder of one share of capital stock of Discovery; however, Mr. Hendricks cannot transfer this share, the share is subject to an irrevocable proxy in favor of Advance/Newhouse and the share is subject to a call arrangement pursuant to which Advance/Newhouse can purchase the share. Accordingly, we treat such share as being owned by Advance/Newhouse for purposes of Advance/Newhouse's percentage ownership of Discovery as described in this Annual Report. As a close corporation under Delaware law, the stockholders manage the business of Discovery, rather than a board of directors. The Stockholders Agreement provides that a number of decisions affecting Discovery, such as, among other things, a decision to effect a fundamental change in its business, a merger or other business combination, issuance of Discovery's equity securities, approval of transactions between Discovery, on the one hand, and any of its stockholders, on the other hand, and adoption of Discovery's annual business plan, must be approved by the holders of 80% of its outstanding capital stock. In addition, other matters, such as the declaration and payment of dividends on its capital stock, require the approval of the holders of a majority of Discovery's outstanding capital stock.

Because we own 50%, Cox Communications owns 25% and Advance/Newhouse owns 25% of the stock of Discovery, any one of us may block Discovery from taking any action that requires 80% approval. In addition, because Cox Communications and Advance/Newhouse, on the one hand, and our company, on the other, each owns 50% of the outstanding stock of Discovery, there is the possibility that the stockholders could deadlock over various other matters, which require the approval of the holders of a majority of its capital stock. To reduce the possibility that this could occur, the stockholders have given John Hendricks, the founder and Chairman of Discovery, the right (but not the obligation), subject to certain limitations, to cast a vote to break a deadlock on certain matters requiring a majority vote for approval.

The Stockholders Agreement also restricts, subject to certain exceptions, the ability of a stockholder to transfer its shares in Discovery to a third party. Any such proposed transfer is subject to a pro rata right of first refusal in favor of the other stockholders. If all of the offered shares are not purchased by the other stockholders, then the selling stockholder may sell all of the offered shares to the third party that originally offered to purchase such shares at the same price and on the same terms, provided that such third party agrees to be bound by the restrictions contained in the Stockholders Agreement. In addition, in the event that either Cox Communications or Advance/Newhouse proposes to transfer shares, Cox Communications or Advance/Newhouse, whichever is not proposing to transfer, would have a preemptive right to buy the other's shares, and if it does not elect to purchase all such shares, then the remaining shares would be subject to the pro rata right of first refusal described above.

The Stockholders Agreement also prohibits Cox Communications, Advance/Newhouse and our company from starting, or acquiring a majority of the voting power of, a basic programming service carried in the United States that consists primarily of documentary, science and nature programming, subject to certain exceptions.

In connection with the spin off, Liberty contributed to us 100% of an entity that owns a 10% interest in the Animal Planet limited partnership. Our partners in this entity include Discovery, Cox Communications and Advance/Newhouse. The Stockholders Agreement prohibits us from selling, transferring or otherwise disposing of either of the subsidiaries that hold the Discovery interest or Animal Planet interest, respectively, unless, after such transaction, such subsidiaries are controlled by the same person or entity.

The foregoing summary of the Discovery Stockholders Agreement is qualified by reference to the full text of the agreement and amendments.

Regulatory Matters

Ascent Media

Some of Ascent Media's subsidiary companies hold licenses and authorizations from the Federal Communications Commission, or FCC, required for the conduct of their businesses, including earth station and various classes of wireless licenses and an authorization to provide certain services pursuant to Section 214 of the Communications Act. Most of the FCC licenses held by such subsidiaries are for transmit/receive earth stations, which cannot be operated without individual licenses. The licenses for these stations are granted for a period of fifteen years and, while the FCC generally renews licenses for satellite earth stations, there can be no assurance that these licenses will be renewed at their expiration dates. Registration with the FCC, rather than licensing, is required for receiving transmissions from domestic satellites from points within the United States. Ascent Media relies on third party licenses or authorizations when it and its subsidiaries transmit domestic satellite traffic through earth stations operated by third parties. The FCC establishes technical standards for satellite transmission equipment that change from time to time and requires coordination of earth stations with land-based microwave systems at certain frequencies to assure non-interference. Transmission equipment must also be installed and operated in a manner that avoids exposing humans to harmful levels of radio-frequency radiation. The placement of earth stations or other antennae also is typically subject to regulation under local zoning ordinances.

Discovery

In the United States, the FCC regulates the providers of satellite communications services and facilities for the transmission of programming services, the cable television systems that carry such services and, to some extent, the availability of the programming services themselves through its regulation of program licensing. Cable television systems in the United States are also regulated by municipalities or other state and local government authorities and are currently subject to federal rate regulation on the provision of basic service. Continued rate regulation or other franchise conditions could place downward pressure on the fees cable television companies are willing or able to pay for the Discovery networks. Regulatory carriage requirements also could adversely affect the number of channels available to carry the Discovery networks.

The Cable Television Consumer Protection and Competition Act of 1992 (the 1992 Cable Act) directed the FCC to promulgate regulations regarding the sale and acquisition of cable programming between multi-channel video programming distributors (including cable operators) and satellite-delivered programming services in which a cable operator has an attributable interest. Because cable operators have an attributable interest in Discovery, the Discovery networks are subject to these rules. The legislation and the implementing regulations adopted by the FCC preclude virtually all exclusive programming contracts between cable operators and satellite programmers affiliated with any cable operator and the 1992 Cable Act requires that such affiliated programmers make their programming services available to cable operators and competing multi-channel video programming distributors on terms and conditions that do not unfairly discriminate among distributors. As a result, Discovery has not been, and will not be, able to enter into exclusive distribution agreements, which could provide more favorable terms than non-exclusive agreements. The contract exclusivity restrictions will sunset in 2007, unless extended by the FCC. The FCC is expected to initiate a proceeding to consider the extension of the contract exclusivity rules early in 2007.

The 1992 Cable Act required the FCC, among other things, to prescribe rules and regulations establishing reasonable limits on the number of channels on a cable system that will be allowed to carry programming in which the owner of such cable system has an attributable interest. In 1993, the FCC adopted such channel carriage limits. However, in 2001, the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit found that the FCC had failed to adequately justify the channel carriage limit, vacated the FCC's decision and remanded the rule to the FCC for further consideration. In response to the Court's decision, the FCC issued a further notice of proposed rulemaking in 2001 to consider channel carriage limitations. The FCC issued a Second Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking on May 17, 2005, requesting comment on these issues. If such channel carriage limitations are implemented, the ability of Cox Communications and Advance/Newhouse to carry the full range of Discovery's networks could be limited.

The 1992 Cable Act granted broadcasters a choice of must carry rights or retransmission consent rights. The rules adopted by the FCC generally provided for mandatory carriage by cable systems of all local full-power commercial television broadcast signals selecting must carry rights and, depending on a cable system's channel capacity, non-commercial television broadcast signals. Such statutorily mandated carriage of broadcast stations coupled with the provisions of the Cable Communications Policy Act of 1984, which require cable television systems with 36 or more activated channels to reserve a percentage of such channels for commercial use by unaffiliated third parties and permit franchise authorities to require the cable operator to provide channel capacity, equipment and facilities for public, educational and government access channels, could adversely affect the Discovery networks by limiting their carriage of such services in cable systems with limited channel capacity. In 2001, the FCC adopted rules relating to the cable carriage of digital television signals. Among other things, the rules clarify that a digital-only television station can assert a right to analog or digital carriage on a cable system. The FCC initiated a further proceeding to determine whether television stations may assert rights to carriage of both analog and digital signals during the transition to digital television and to carriage of all digital signals (multicast must carry). On February 10, 2005, the FCC denied mandatory dual carriage of a television station s analog and digital signals during the digital television transition and mandatory carriage of all digital signals, other than its primary signal. Television station owners have petitioned the FCC to reconsider its decision and are seeking legislative change. Those petitions are still pending. In addition, Congress may address this issue.

In 2004, the FCC's Media Bureau conducted a notice of inquiry proceeding regarding the feasibility of selling video programming services a la carte, i.e. on an individual or small tier basis. The Media Bureau released a report in November 2004, which concluded that a la carte sales of video programming services would not result in lower video programming costs for most consumers and that they would adversely affect video programming networks. On February 9, 2006, the Media Bureau released a new report which stated that the 2004 report was flawed and which concluded that a la carte sales could be in the best interests of consumers. Although the FCC likely cannot mandate a la carte sales, its endorsement of the concept could encourage Congress to consider proposals to mandate a la carte sales or otherwise seek to impose greater regulatory controls on how a la carte programming is sold. The programming companies that distribute these services in tiers or packages of programming services could experience decreased distribution if a la carte carriage were mandated.

In general, authorization from the FCC must be obtained for the construction and operation of a communications satellite. Satellite orbital slots are finite in number, thus limiting the number of carriers that can provide satellite transponders and the number of transponders available for transmission of programming services. At present, however, there are numerous competing satellite service providers that make transponders available for video services to the cable industry. The FCC also regulates the earth stations uplinking to and/or downlinking from such satellites.

The regulation of programming services is subject to the political process and has been in constant flux over the past decade. Further material changes in the law and regulatory requirements must be anticipated and there can be no assurance that our business will not be adversely affected by future legislation, new regulation or deregulation.

International Regulatory Matters

Video distribution and content businesses are regulated in each of the countries in which we operate. The scope of regulation varies from country to country, although in some significant respects regulation in Western European markets is harmonized under the regulatory structure of the European Union, which we refer to as the EU. Adverse regulatory developments could subject our businesses to a number of risks. Regulations could limit growth, revenue and the number and types of services offered. In addition, regulation may restrict our operations and subject them to further competitive pressure, including restrictions imposed on foreign programming distributors that could limit the content they may carry in ways that affect us adversely. Failure to comply with current or future regulation of our businesses could expose our businesses to various penalties.

Competition

The creative media services industry is highly competitive, with much of the competition centered in Los Angeles, California, the largest and most competitive market, particularly for domestic television and feature film production as well as for the management of content libraries. We expect that competition will increase as a result of industry consolidation and alliances, as well as from the emergence of new competitors. In particular, major motion picture studios such as Paramount Pictures, Sony Pictures Corporation, Twentieth Century Fox, Universal Pictures, The Walt Disney Company, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Warner Brothers, while Ascent Media's customers, can perform similar services in-house with substantially greater financial resources than Ascent Media's, and in some cases significant marketing advantages. These studios may also outsource their requirements to other independent providers like us or to other studios. Thomson, a French corporation, is also a major competitor of Ascent Media, particularly under its Technicolor brand, as is Kodak through its Laser Pacific division. Ascent Media also actively competes with certain industry participants that have a unique operating niche or specialty business. There is no assurance that Ascent Media will be able to compete effectively against these competitors. Ascent Media's management believes that important competitive factors include the range of services offered, reputation for quality and innovation, pricing and long-term relationships with customers.

The business of distributing programming for cable and satellite television is highly competitive, both in the United States and in foreign countries. Discovery competes with other programmers for distribution on a limited number of channels. Increasing concentration in the multichannel video distribution industry could adversely affect Discovery by reducing the number of distributors available to carry Discovery's networks, subjecting more of Discovery's subscriber fees to volume discounts and increasing the distributors' bargaining power in negotiating new affiliation agreements. Once distribution is obtained, Discovery's programming services compete, in varying degrees, for viewers and advertisers with other cable and off-air broadcast television programming services as well as with other entertainment media, including home video, pay-per-view services, online activities, movies and other forms of news, information and entertainment. Discovery also competes, to varying degrees, for creative talent and programming content.

Discovery's

management believes that important competitive factors include the prices charged for programming, the quantity, quality and variety of the programming offered and the effectiveness of marketing efforts.

Employees

We currently have no corporate employees. Liberty provides us with certain management and administrative services pursuant to a services agreement, which includes the services of our executive officers some of whom remain executive officers of Liberty.

As of December 31, 2006, Ascent Media had approximately 4,000 employees, most of which worked on a full-time basis. Approximately 2,900 of Ascent Media's employees were employed in the United States, with the remaining 1,100 employed outside the United States, principally in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Singapore. Approximately 400 of Ascent Media's employees belong to either the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees in the United States or the Broadcasting Entertainment Cinematograph and Theatre Union in the United Kingdom.

As of December 31, 2006, Discovery had approximately 4,500 employees.

All of our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), including our Form 10-Ks, Form 10-Qs and Form 8-Ks, as well as amendments to such filings are available on our Internet website free of charge generally within 24 hours after we file such material with the SEC. Our website address is www.discoveryholdingcompany.com.

Our corporate governance guidelines, code of ethics, compensation committee charter, and audit committee charter are available on our website. In addition, we will provide a copy of any of these documents, free of charge, to any shareholder who calls or submits a request in writing to Investor Relations, Discovery Holding Company, 12300 Liberty Boulevard, Englewood, Colorado 80112, Tel. No. (866) 876-0461.

The information contained on our website is not incorporated by reference herein.

Item 1A. Risk Factors.

An investment in our common stock involves risk. You should carefully consider the risks described below, together with all of the other information included in this annual report in evaluating our company and our common stock. Any of the following risks, if realized, could have a material adverse effect on the value of our common stock.

We are a holding company, and we could be unable in the future to obtain cash in amounts sufficient to service our financial obligations or meet our other commitments. Our ability to meet our financial obligations and other contractual commitments depends upon our ability to access cash. We are a holding company, and our sources of cash include our available cash balances, net cash from the operating activities of our subsidiaries, any dividends and interest we may receive from our investments, availability under any credit facilities that we may obtain in the future and proceeds from any asset sales we may undertake in the future. The ability of our operating subsidiaries to pay dividends or to make other payments or advances to us depends on their individual operating results and any statutory, regulatory or contractual restrictions to which they may be or may become subject.

We do not have access to the cash that Discovery generates from its operating activities. Discovery generated approximately $480 million, $69 million and $125 million of cash from its operations during the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. Discovery uses the cash it generates from its operations to fund its investing activities and to service its debt and other financing obligations. We do not have access to the cash that Discovery generates unless Discovery declares a dividend on its capital stock payable in cash, redeems any or all of its outstanding shares of capital stock for cash or otherwise distributes or makes payments to its stockholders, including us. Historically, Discovery has not paid any dividends on its capital stock or, with limited exceptions, otherwise distributed cash to its stockholders and instead has used all of its available cash in the expansion of its business and to service its debt obligations. Covenants in Discovery's existing debt instruments also restrict the payment of dividends and cash distributions to stockholders. We expect that Discovery will continue to apply its available cash to the expansion of its business. We do not have sufficient voting control to cause Discovery to pay dividends or make other payments or advances to its stockholders, or otherwise provide us access to Discovery's cash.

We have limited operating history as a separate company upon which you can evaluate our performance. Although our subsidiary Ascent Media was a separate public company prior to June 2003 (when Liberty acquired the outstanding shares of Ascent Media that it did not already own), we have limited operating history as a separate public company. Additionally, the historical financial information included in this annual report for periods prior to our existence may not necessarily be representative of our results as a separate company. There can be no assurance that our business strategy will be successful on a long-term basis. We may not be able to grow our businesses as planned and may not be profitable.

We do not have the right to manage Discovery, which means we cannot cause Discovery to operate in a manner that is favorable to us. Discovery is managed by its stockholders rather than a board of directors. Generally, all significant actions to be taken by Discovery require the approval of the holders of a majority of Discovery's shares; however, pursuant to a Stockholders' Agreement, the taking of certain actions (including, among other things, a merger of Discovery, or the issuance of additional shares of Discovery capital stock or approval of annual business plans) require the approval of the holders of at least 80% of Discovery's shares. Because we do not own a majority of the outstanding equity interests of Discovery, we do not have the right to manage the businesses or affairs of Discovery. Although our status as a 50% stockholder of Discovery enables us to exercise influence over the management and policies of Discovery, such status does not enable us to cause any actions to be taken. Cox Communications and Advance/Newhouse each hold a 25% interest in Discovery, which ownership interest enables each such company to prevent Discovery from taking actions requiring 80% approval.

Actions to be taken by Discovery that require the approval of a majority of Discovery's shares may, under certain circumstances, result in a deadlock. Because we own a 50% interest in Discovery and each of Cox Communications and Advance/Newhouse own a 25% interest in Discovery, a deadlock may occur when the stockholders vote to approve an action that requires majority approval. Accordingly, unless either Cox Communications or Advance/Newhouse elects to vote with us on items that require majority action, such actions may not be taken. Pursuant to the terms of the Stockholders' Agreement, if an action that requires approval by a majority of Discovery's shares is approved by 50%, but not more than 50%, of the outstanding shares then the proposed action will be submitted to an arbitrator designated by the stockholders. Currently, the arbitrator is John Hendricks, the founder and Chairman of Discovery. Mr. Hendricks, as arbitrator, is entitled to cast the deciding vote on matters where the stockholders have deadlocked because neither side has a majority. Mr. Hendricks, however, is not obligated to take action to break such a deadlock. In addition, Mr. Hendricks may elect to approve actions we have opposed, if such a deadlock exists. In the event of a dispute among the stockholders of Discovery, the possibility of such a deadlock could have a material adverse effect on Discovery's business.

The liquidity and value of our interest in Discovery may be adversely affected by a Stockholders' Agreement to which we are a party. Our 50% interest in Discovery is subject to the terms of a Stockholders' Agreement among the holders of Discovery capital stock. Among other things, the Stockholders' Agreement restricts our ability to directly sell or transfer our interest in Discovery or to borrow against its value. These restrictions impair the liquidity of our interest in Discovery and may make it difficult for us to obtain full value for our interest in Discovery should such a need arise. In the event we chose to sell all or a portion of our direct interest in Discovery, we would first have to obtain an offer from an unaffiliated third party and then offer to sell such interest to Cox Communications and Advance/Newhouse on substantially the same terms as the third party had agreed to pay.

If either Cox Communications or Advance/Newhouse decided to sell their respective interests in Discovery, then the other of such two stockholders would have a right to acquire such interests on the terms set by a third party offer obtained by the selling stockholder. If the non-selling stockholder elects not to exercise this acquisition right, then, subject to the terms of the Stockholders' Agreement, we would have the opportunity to acquire such interests on substantially the terms set by a third party offer obtained by the selling stockholder. We anticipate that the purchase price to acquire the interests held by Cox Communications or Advance/Newhouse would be significant and could require us to obtain significant funding in order to raise sufficient funds to purchase one or both of their interests. This opportunity to purchase the Discovery interests held by Cox Communications and/or Advance/Newhouse may arise (if at all) at a time when it would be difficult for us to raise the funds necessary to purchase such interests.

We do not have the ability to require Cox Communications or Advance/Newhouse to sell their interests in Discovery to us, nor do they have the ability to require us to sell our interest to them. Accordingly, the current governance relationships affecting Discovery may continue indefinitely.

Because we do not control the business management practices of Discovery, we rely on Discovery for the financial information that we use in accounting for our ownership interest in Discovery. We account for our 50% ownership interest in Discovery using the equity method of accounting and, accordingly, in our financial statements we record our share of Discovery's net income or loss. Because we do not control Discovery's decision-making process or business management practices, within the meaning of U.S. accounting rules, we rely on Discovery to provide us with financial information prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, which we use in the application of the equity method. We have entered into an agreement with Discovery regarding the use by us of certain information regarding Discovery in connection with our financial reporting and disclosure requirements as a public company. However, such agreement limits the public disclosure by us of certain non-public information regarding Discovery (other than specified historical financial information), and also restricts our ability to enforce the agreement against Discovery with a lawsuit seeking monetary damages, in the absence of gross negligence, reckless conduct or willful misconduct on the part of Discovery. In addition, we cannot change the way in which Discovery reports its financial results or require Discovery to change its internal controls over financial reporting.

We cannot be certain that we will be successful in integrating acquired businesses, if any. Our businesses and those of our subsidiaries may grow through acquisitions in selected markets. Integration of new businesses may present significant challenges, including: realizing economies of scale in programming and network operations; eliminating duplicative overheads; and integrating networks, financial systems and operational systems. We or the applicable subsidiary cannot assure you that, with respect to any acquisition, we will realize anticipated benefits or successfully integrate any acquired business with our existing operations. In addition, while we intend to implement appropriate controls and procedures as we integrate acquired companies, we may not be able to certify as to the effectiveness of these companies' disclosure controls and procedures or internal control over financial reporting (as required by U.S. federal securities laws and regulations) until we have fully integrated them.

A loss of any of Ascent Media's large customers would reduce our revenue. Although Ascent Media serviced over 3,800 customers during the year ended December 31, 2006, its ten largest customers accounted for approximately 48% of its consolidated revenue and Ascent Media's single largest customer accounted for approximately 8% of its consolidated revenue during that period. The loss of, and the failure to replace, any significant portion of the services provided to any significant customer could have a material adverse effect on the business of Ascent Media.

Ascent Media's business depends on certain client industries. Ascent Media derives much of its revenue from services provided to the motion picture and television production industries and from the data transmission industry. Fundamental changes in the business practices of any of these client industries could cause a material reduction in demand by Ascent Media's clients for the services offered by Ascent Media. Ascent Media's business benefits from the volume of motion picture and television content being created and distributed as well as the success or popularity of an individual television show. Accordingly, a decrease in either the supply of, or demand for, original entertainment content would have a material adverse effect on Ascent Media's results of operations. Because spending for television advertising drives the production of new television programming, as well as the production of television commercials and the sale of existing content libraries for syndication, a reduction in television advertising spending would adversely affect Ascent Media's business. Factors that could impact television advertising and the general demand for original entertainment content include the growing use of personal video recorders and video-on-demand services, continued fragmentation of and competition for the attention of television audiences, and general economic conditions.

Changes in technology may limit the competitiveness of and demand for our services. The post-production industry is characterized by technological change, evolving customer needs and emerging technical standards, and the data transmission industry is currently saturated with companies providing services similar to Ascent Media's. Historically, Ascent Media has expended significant amounts of capital to obtain equipment using the latest technology. Obtaining access to any new technologies that may be developed in Ascent Media's industries will require additional capital expenditures, which may be significant and may have to be incurred in advance of any revenue that may be generated by such new technologies. In addition, the use of some technologies may require third party licenses, which may not be available on commercially reasonable terms. Although we believe that Ascent Media will be able to continue to offer services based on the newest technologies, we cannot assure you that Ascent Media will be able to obtain any of these technologies, that Ascent Media will be able to effectively implement these technologies on a cost-effective or timely basis or that such technologies will not render obsolete Ascent Media's role as a provider of motion picture and television production services. If Ascent Media's competitors in the data transmission industry have technology that enables them to provide services that are more reliable, faster, less expensive, reach more customers or have other advantages over the data transmission services Ascent Media provides, then the demand for Ascent Media's data transmission services may decrease.

Technology in the video, telecommunications and data services industry is changing rapidly. Advances in technologies such as personal video recorders and video-on-demand and changes in television viewing habits facilitated by these or other technologies could have an adverse effect on Discovery's advertising revenue and viewership levels. The ability to anticipate changes in, and adapt to, changes in technology and consumer tastes on a timely basis and exploit new sources of revenue from these changes will affect the ability of Discovery to continue to grow, increase its revenue and number of subscribers and remain competitive.

A labor dispute in our client industries may disrupt our business. The cost of producing and distributing entertainment programming has increased substantially in recent years due to, among other things, the increasing demands of creative talent and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements.

A significant labor dispute in Ascent Media's client industries could have a material adverse effect on its business. An industry-wide strike or other job action by or affecting the Writers Guild, Screen Actors Guild or other major entertainment industry union could reduce the supply of original entertainment content, which would in turn, reduce the demand for Ascent Media's services.

Discovery airs certain entertainment programs that are dependent on specific on-air talent, and Discovery's ability to continue to produce these series is dependent on keeping that on-air talent under contract.

Risk of loss from earthquakes or other catastrophic events could disrupt Ascent Media's business. Some of Ascent Media's specially equipped and acoustically designed facilities are located in Southern California, a region known for seismic activity. Due to the extensive amount of specialized equipment incorporated into the specially designed recording and scoring stages, editorial suites, mixing rooms and other post-production facilities, Ascent Media's operations in this region may not be able to be temporarily relocated to mitigate the impacts of a catastrophic event. Ascent Media carries insurance for property loss and business interruption resulting from such events, including earthquake insurance, subject to deductibles, and has facilities in other geographic locations. Although we believe Ascent Media has adequate insurance coverage relating to damage to its property and the temporary disruption of its business from casualties, and that it could provide services at other geographic locations, there can be no assurance that such insurance and other facilities would be sufficient to cover all of Ascent Media's costs or damages or Ascent Media's loss of income resulting from its inability to provide services in Southern California for an extended period of time.

Discovery is dependent upon advertising revenue. Discovery earns a significant portion of its revenue from the sale of advertising time on its networks and web sites. Discovery's advertising revenue is affected by viewer demographics, viewer ratings and market conditions for advertising. The overall cable and broadcast television industry is facing several issues with regard to its advertising revenue, including (1) audience fragmentation caused by the proliferation of other television networks, video-on-demand offerings from cable and satellite companies and broadband content offering, (2) the deployment of digital video recording devices, allowing consumers to time shift programming and skip or fast-forward through advertisements and (3) consolidation within the advertising industry, shifting more leverage to the bigger agencies and buying groups. Expenditures by advertisers tend to be cyclical, reflecting overall economic conditions as well as budgeting and buying patterns. A decline in the economic prospects of advertisers or the economy in general could alter current or prospective advertisers' spending priorities. In addition, the public's reception toward programs or programming genres can decline. An adverse change in any of these factors could have a negative effect on Discovery's revenue in any given period. Ascent Media's business is also dependent in part on the advertising industry, as a significant portion of Ascent Media's revenue is derived from the sale of services to agencies and/or the producers of television advertising.

Discovery's revenue is dependent upon the maintenance of affiliation agreements with cable and satellite distributors on acceptable terms. Discovery earns a significant portion of its revenue from per-subscriber license fees paid by cable operators, direct-to-home (DTH) satellite television operators and other channel distributors. Discovery's networks maintain affiliation arrangements that enable them to reach a large percentage of cable and direct broadcast satellite households across the United States, Asia, Europe and Latin America. These arrangements are generally long-term arrangements ranging from 3 to 10 years. These affiliation arrangements usually provide for payment to Discovery based on the numbers of subscribers that receive the Discovery networks. Discovery's core networks depend on achieving and maintaining carriage within the most widely distributed cable programming tiers to maximize their subscriber base and revenue. The loss of a significant number of affiliation arrangements on basic programming tiers could reduce the distribution of Discovery's networks, thereby adversely affecting such networks' revenue from per-subscriber fees and their ability to sell advertising or the rates they are able to charge for such advertising. Those Discovery networks that are carried on digital tiers are dependent upon the continued upgrade of cable systems to digital capability and the public's continuing acceptance of, and willingness to pay for upgrades to, digital cable, as well as Discovery's ability to negotiate favorable carriage agreements on widely accepted digital tiers.

Our businesses are subject to risks of adverse government regulation. Programming services, satellite carriers, television stations and Internet and data transmission companies are subject to varying degrees of regulation in the United States by the Federal Communications Commission and other entities and in foreign countries by similar entities. Such regulation and legislation are subject to the political process and have been in constant flux over the past decade. Moreover, substantially every foreign country in which our subsidiaries or business affiliates have, or may in the future make, an investment regulates, in varying degrees, the distribution, content and ownership of programming services and foreign investment in programming companies. Further material changes in the law and regulatory requirements must be anticipated, and there can be no assurance that our business and the business of our affiliates will not be adversely affected by future legislation, new regulation or deregulation.

Failure to obtain renewal of FCC licenses could disrupt our business. Ascent Media holds licenses, authorizations and registrations from the FCC required for the conduct of its network services business, including earth station and various classes of wireless licenses and an authorization to provide certain services. Most of the FCC licenses held by Ascent Media are for transmit/receive earth stations, which cannot be operated without individual licenses. The licenses for these stations are granted for a period of fifteen years and, while the FCC generally renews licenses for satellite earth stations routinely, there can be no assurance that Ascent Media's licenses will be renewed at their expiration dates. Registration with the FCC, rather than licensing, is required for receiving transmissions from satellites from points within the United States. Ascent Media relies on third party licenses or authorizations when it transmits domestic satellite traffic through earth stations operated by third parties. Our failure, and the failure of third parties, to obtain renewals of such FCC licenses could disrupt the network services segment of Ascent Media and have a material adverse effect on Ascent Media. Further material changes in the law and regulatory requirements must be anticipated, and there can be no assurance that our businesses will not be adversely affected by future legislation, new regulation, deregulation or court decisions.

Our businesses operate in an increasingly competitive market, and there is a risk that our businesses may not be able to effectively compete with other providers in the future. The entertainment and media services and programming businesses in which we compete are highly competitive and service-oriented. Ascent Media has few long-term or exclusive service agreements with its creative services customers. Business generation in these groups is based primarily on customer satisfaction with reliability, timeliness, quality and price. The major motion picture studios, which are Ascent Media's customers, such as Paramount Pictures, Sony Pictures Entertainment, Twentieth Century Fox, Universal Pictures, The Walt Disney Company, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Warner Brothers, have the capability to perform similar services in-house. These studios also have substantially greater financial resources than Ascent Media's, and in some cases significant marketing advantages. Thus, depending on the in-house capacity available to some of these studios, a studio may be not only a customer but also a competitor. There are also numerous independent providers of services similar to Ascent Media's. Thomson, a French corporation, is also a major competitor of Ascent Media, particularly under its Technicolor brand, as is Kodak through its Laser Pacific division. We also actively compete with certain industry participants that have a unique operating niche or specialty business. If there were a significant decline in the number of motion pictures or the amount of original television programming produced, or if the studios or Ascent Media's other clients either established in-house post-production facilities or significantly expanded their in-house capabilities, Ascent Media's operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Discovery is primarily an entertainment and programming company that competes with other programming networks for viewers in general, as well as for viewers in special interest groups and specific demographic categories. In order to compete for these viewers, Discovery must obtain a regular supply of high quality category-specific programming. To the extent Discovery seeks third party suppliers of such programming, it competes with other cable and broadcast television networks for programming. The expanded availability of digital cable television and the introduction of direct-to-home satellite distribution has greatly increased the amount of channel capacity available for new programming networks, resulting in the launch of a number of new programming networks by Discovery and its competitors. This increase in channel capacity has also made competitive niche programming networks viable, because such networks do not need to reach the broadest possible group of viewers in order to be moderately successful.

Discovery's program offerings must also compete for viewers and advertisers with other entertainment media, such as home video, online activities and movies. Increasing audience fragmentation could have an adverse effect on Discovery's advertising and subscription revenue. In addition, the cable television and direct-to-home satellite industries have been undergoing a period of consolidation. As a result, the number of potential buyers of the programming services offered by Discovery is decreasing. In this more concentrated market, there can be no assurance that Discovery will be able to obtain or maintain carriage of its programming services by distributors when its current long-term contracts are up for renewal.

We have overlapping directors and management with Liberty and Liberty Global, Inc., which may lead to conflicting interests. Five of our six executive officers also serve as executive officers of Liberty and one of our executive officers serves as an executive officer of Liberty Global, Inc., or LGI. LGI is an independent, publicly traded company, which was formed in connection with the business combination between UnitedGlobalCom, Inc. and Liberty Media International, Inc., or LMI. All of the shares of LMI were distributed by Liberty to its shareholders in June 2004. Our board of directors includes persons who are members of the board of directors of Liberty and/or LGI. We do not own any interest in Liberty or LGI, and to our knowledge Liberty and LGI do not own any interest in us. The executive officers and the members of our board of directors have fiduciary duties to our stockholders. Likewise, any such persons who serve in similar capacities at Liberty and/or LGI have fiduciary duties to such company's stockholders. Therefore, such persons may have conflicts of interest or the appearance of conflicts of interest with respect to matters involving or affecting each company. For example, there may be the potential for a conflict of interest when we, Liberty or LGI look at acquisitions and other corporate opportunities that may be suitable for each of us. Moreover, most of our directors and officers continue to own Liberty and/or LGI stock and options to purchase Liberty and/or LGI stock. These ownership interests could create, or appear to create, potential conflicts of interest when these individuals are faced with decisions that could have different implications for our company and Liberty or LGI. On June 1, 2005, the board of directors of Liberty adopted a policy statement that, subject to certain qualifications, including the fiduciary duties of Liberty's board of directors, Liberty will use its commercially reasonable efforts to make available to us any corporate opportunity relating to the acquisition of all or substantially all of the assets of, or equity securities representing control (as defined in the policy statement) of, any entity whose primary business is the acquisition, creation and/or distribution of television programming consisting primarily of science and nature programming for distribution primarily in the basic service provided by cable and satellite television distributors. This policy statement of Liberty's board of directors can be amended, modified or rescinded by Liberty's board of directors in its sole discretion at any time, and the policy automatically terminates without any further action of the board of directors of Liberty on the second anniversary of the distribution date. From time to time, Liberty or LGI or their respective affiliates may enter into transactions with us or our subsidiaries or other affiliates. Although the terms of any such transactions will be established based upon negotiations between employees of the companies involved, there can be no assurance that the terms of any such transactions will be as favorable to us or our subsidiaries or affiliates as would be the case where the parties are completely at arms length.

We and Liberty or LGI may compete for business opportunities. Liberty and LGI each own interests in various U.S. and international programming companies that have subsidiaries or controlled affiliates that own or operate domestic or foreign programming services that may compete with the programming services offered by our businesses. We have no rights in respect of U.S. or international programming opportunities developed by or presented to the subsidiaries or controlled affiliates of Liberty or LGI, and the pursuit of these opportunities by such subsidiaries or affiliates may adversely affect the interests of our company and its shareholders. In addition, a subsidiary of LGI operates a playout facility that competes with Ascent Media's London playout facility, and it is likely that other competitive situations will arise in the future. Because we, Liberty and LGI have some overlapping directors and officers, the pursuit of these opportunities may serve to intensify the conflicts of interest or appearance of conflicts of interest faced by our respective management teams. Our restated certificate of incorporation provides that no director or officer of ours will be liable to us or our stockholders for breach of any fiduciary duty by reason of the fact that any such individual directs a corporate opportunity to another person or entity (including LMI and LGI) instead of us, or does not refer or communicate information regarding such corporate opportunity to us, unless (x) such opportunity was expressly offered to such person solely in his or her capacity as a director or officer of our company or as a director or officer of any of our subsidiaries, and (y) such opportunity relates to a line of business in which our company or any of our subsidiaries is then directly engaged.

It may be difficult for a third party to acquire us, even if doing so may be beneficial to our shareholders. Certain provisions of our restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws may discourage, delay or prevent a change in control of our company that a shareholder may consider favorable. These provisions include the following:

authorizing a capital structure with multiple series of common stock: a Series B that entitles the holders to ten votes per share, a Series A that entitles the holders to one vote per share and a Series C that, except as otherwise required by applicable law, entitles the holders to no voting rights;

authorizing the issuance of blank check preferred stock, which could be issued by our board of directors to increase the number of outstanding shares and thwart a takeover attempt;

classifying our board of directors with staggered three-year terms, which may lengthen the time required to gain control of our board of directors;

limiting who may call special meetings of shareholders;

prohibiting shareholder action by written consent (subject to certain exceptions), thereby requiring shareholder action to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders;

establishing advance notice requirements for nominations of candidates for election to our board of directors or for proposing matters that can be acted upon by shareholders at shareholder meetings;

requiring shareholder approval by holders of at least 80% of our voting power or the approval by at least 75% of our board of directors with respect to certain extraordinary matters, such as a merger or consolidation of our company, a sale of all or substantially all of our assets or an amendment to our restated certificate of incorporation;

requiring the consent of the holders of at least 75% of the outstanding Series B common stock (voting as a separate class) to certain share distributions and other corporate actions in which the voting power of the Series B common stock would be diluted by, for example, issuing shares having multiple votes per share as a dividend to holders of Series A common stock; and the existence of authorized and unissued stock which would allow our board of directors to issue shares to persons friendly to current management, thereby protecting the continuity of its management, or which could be used to dilute the stock ownership of persons seeking to obtain control of us.

Our company has adopted a shareholder rights plan in order to encourage anyone seeking to acquire us to negotiate with our board of directors prior to attempting a takeover. While the plan is designed to guard against coercive or unfair tactics to gain control of us, the plan may have the effect of making more difficult or delaying any attempts by others to obtain control of us.

Holders of any single series of our common stock may not have any remedies if any action by our directors or officers has an adverse effect on only that series of our common stock. Principles of Delaware law and the provisions of our restated certificate of incorporation may protect decisions of our board of directors that have a disparate impact upon holders of any single series of our common stock. Under Delaware law, the board of directors has a duty to act with due care and in the best interests of all of our shareholders, including the holders of all series of our common stock. Principles of Delaware law established in cases involving differing treatment of multiple classes or series of stock provide that a board of directors owes an equal duty to all common shareholders regardless of class or series and does not have separate or additional duties to any group of shareholders. As a result, in some circumstances, our directors may be required to make a decision that is adverse to the holders of one series of our common stock. Under the principles of Delaware law referred to above, you may not be able to challenge these decisions if our board of directors is disinterested and adequately informed with respect to these decisions and acts in good faith and in the honest belief that it is acting in the best interests of all of our shareholders.

Item 2. Properties.

We share our executive offices in Englewood, Colorado under a services agreement with Liberty. All of our other real or personal property is owned or leased by our subsidiaries or affiliates.

Ascent Media's operations are conducted at over 80 properties. In the United States, Ascent Media occupies owned and leased properties in California, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, New Jersey, New York and Virginia; the network services group also operates a satellite earth station and related facilities in Minnesota. Internationally, Ascent Media has owned and leased properties in London, England. In addition, the creative services group operates a leased facility in Mexico City, Mexico, and has a 50% owned equity affiliate with facilities in Barcelona and Madrid, Spain, and the network services group operates two leased facilities in the Republic of Singapore. Worldwide, Ascent Media leases approximately 1.4 million square feet and owns another 325,000 square feet. In the United States, Ascent Media's leased properties total approximately 1.1 million square feet and have terms expiring between March 2007 and April 2015. Several of these agreements have extension options. The leased properties are used for our technical operations, office space and media storage. Ascent Media's international leases have terms that expire between March 2007 and September 2020, and are also used for technical operations, office space and media storage. Over half of the international leases have extension clauses. Approximately 250,000 square feet of Ascent Media's owned properties are located in Southern California, with another 45,000 square feet located in Northvale, New Jersey, Tappan, New York, Minneapolis, Minnesota and Stamford, Connecticut. In addition, Ascent Media owns approximately 30,000 square feet in London, England. Nearly all of Ascent Media's owned properties are purpose-built for its technical and creative service operations. Ascent Media's facilities are adequate to support its current near term growth needs.

Item 6. Selected Financial Data.

Effective July 21, 2005, Liberty Media Corporation (Liberty) completed a spin off transaction pursuant to which our capital stock was distributed as a dividend to holders of Liberty's Series A and Series B common stock. Subsequent to the spin off, we are a separate publicly traded company and we and Liberty operate independently. The spin off has been accounted for at historical cost due to the pro rata nature of the distribution. Accordingly, our historical financial statements are presented in a manner similar to a pooling of interest.

The following tables present selected historical information relating to our financial condition and results of operations for the past five years. The following data should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements.

Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

The following discussion and analysis provides information concerning our results of operations and financial condition. This discussion should be read in conjunction with our accompanying consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto.

Overview

Effective July 21, 2005, Liberty completed a spin off transaction pursuant to which our capital stock was distributed as a dividend to holders of Liberty's Series A and Series B common stock. Subsequent to the spin off, we are a separate publicly traded company and we and Liberty operate independently. The spin off did not involve the payment of any consideration by the holders of Liberty common stock and was intended to qualify as a tax-free spin off. The spin off has been accounted for at historical cost due to the pro rata nature of the distribution. We are a holding company and our businesses and assets include Ascent Media Group, LLC (Ascent Media), which we consolidate, and a 50% ownership interest in Discovery Communications, Inc. (Discovery or DCI), which we account for using the equity method of accounting. Accordingly, as described below, Discovery's revenue is not reflected in the revenue we report in our financial statements. In addition to the foregoing assets, immediately prior to the spin off, Liberty transferred to a subsidiary of our company $200 million in cash.

Ascent Media provides creative and network services to the media and entertainment industries. Ascent Media's clients include major motion picture studios, independent producers, broadcast networks, cable programming networks, advertising agencies and other companies that produce, own and/or distribute entertainment, news, sports, corporate, educational, industrial and advertising content. Subsequent to an operational realignment in 2006, Ascent Media's operations are organized into the following three groups: Creative services, Network services and Corporate and other. Ascent Media has few long-term or exclusive agreements with its creative services customers.

Edgar Filing: Discovery Holding CO - Form 10-K

In 2007, Ascent Media will continue to focus on leveraging its broad array of media services to market itself as a full service provider to new and existing customers within the feature film and television production industry. Ascent Media also believes it can optimize its position in the market by growing its digital media management business. With facilities in the U.S., the United Kingdom, Asia and Mexico, Ascent Media hopes to increase its services to multinational companies. The challenges that Ascent Media faces include differentiating its products and services to help maintain or increase operating margins and financing capital expenditures for equipment and other items to satisfy customers' desire for services using the latest technology.

Our most significant asset is Discovery, in which we do not have a controlling financial interest. Discovery is a global media and entertainment company that provides original and purchased video programming in the United States and over 170 other countries. We account for our 50% ownership interest in Discovery using the equity method of accounting. Accordingly, our share of the results of operations of Discovery is reflected in our consolidated results as earnings or losses of Discovery. To assist the reader in better understanding and analyzing our business, we have included a separate discussion and analysis of Discovery's results of operations and financial condition below.

Acquisitions

AccentHealth. Effective January 27, 2006, one of our subsidiaries acquired substantially all of the assets of AccentHealth, LLC's (AccentHealth) healthcare media business for cash consideration of $46,793,000. AccentHealth operates an advertising-supported captive audience television network in doctor office waiting rooms nationwide. For financial reporting purposes, the acquisition is deemed to have occurred on February 1, 2006, and the results of operations of AccentHealth have been included in our consolidated results as part of the network services group since the date of acquisition.

Cinetech. On October 20, 2004, Ascent Media acquired substantially all of the assets of Cinetech, Inc., a film laboratory and still image preservation and restoration company, for $10,000,000 in cash plus contingent compensation of up to $1,500,000 to be paid based on the satisfaction of certain contingencies as set forth in the purchase agreement. Cinetech is included in Ascent Media's creative services group.

London Playout Centre. On March 12, 2004, Ascent Media acquired the entire issued share capital of London Playout Centre Limited, for a cash purchase price of $36,573,000. London Playout Centre, which we refer to as LPC, is a UK-based television channel origination facility. LPC is included in Ascent Media's network services group.

Operating Cash Flow

We evaluate the performance of our operating segments based on financial measures such as revenue and operating cash flow. We define operating cash flow as revenue less cost of services and selling, general and administrative expense (excluding stock and other equity-based compensation and accretion expense on asset retirement obligations). We believe this is an important indicator of the operational strength and performance of our businesses, including the ability to invest in ongoing capital expenditures and service any debt. In addition, this measure allows management to view operating results and perform analytical comparisons and identify strategies to improve performance. This measure of performance excludes depreciation and amortization, stock and other equity-based compensation, accretion expense on asset retirement obligations, restructuring and impairment charges that are included in the measurement of operating income pursuant to U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, or GAAP. Accordingly, operating cash flow should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, operating income, cash flow provided by operating activities and other measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with GAAP. See note 17 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements for a reconciliation of operating cash flow to earnings (loss) before income taxes.

Results of Operations

Our consolidated results of operations include general and administrative expenses incurred at the DHC corporate level, 100% of Ascent Media's and AccentHealth's results and our 50% share of earnings of Discovery.

Ascent Media's creative services group revenue is primarily generated from fees for video and audio post production, special effects and editorial services for the television, feature film and advertising industries. Generally, these services pertain to the completion of feature films, television programs and advertisements. These projects normally span from a few days to three months or more in length, and fees for these projects typically range from $10,000 to $1,000,000 per project. Additionally, the creative services group provides owners of film libraries a broad range of restoration, preservation, archiving, professional mastering and duplication services. The scope of these creative services vary in duration from one day to several months depending on the nature of the service, and fees typically range from less than $1,000 to $100,000 per project. The creative services group includes Ascent Media's digital media center which is developing new products and businesses in areas such as digital imaging, digital media and interactive media.

The network services group's revenue consists of fees relating to facilities and services necessary to assemble and transport programming for cable and broadcast networks across the world via fiber, satellite and the Internet. The group's revenues are also driven by systems integration and field support services, technology consulting services, design and implementation of advanced video systems, engineering project management, technical help desk and field service. Approximately 60% of the network services group's revenue relates to broadcast services, satellite operations and fiber services that are earned monthly under long-term contracts ranging generally from one to seven years. Additionally, approximately 40% of revenue relates to systems integration and engineering services that are provided on a project basis over terms generally ranging from three to twelve months.

Corporate related items and expenses are reflected in Corporate and other, below. Cost of services and operating expenses consists primarily of production wages, facility costs and other direct costs and selling, general and administrative expenses.

Our consolidated results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2006 include approximately eleven months of results for AccentHealth. The consolidated results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2004 include approximately nine months of results for LPC and approximately two months of results for Cinetech.

Revenue. Our total revenue decreased 0.9% and increased 10.0% for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, as compared to the corresponding prior year. In 2006, creative services group revenue decreased $3,921,000 as a result of (i) an $8,400,000 decline in media services due to lower traditional media and DVD services from major studios partially offset by continued growth in new digital services and (ii) lower television revenue of $2,165,000 driven by declines in the U.K. broadcast work, partially offset by higher television audio and post services in the U.S. These creative services revenue decreases were partially offset by a $6,535,000 increase in commercial services, driven primarily by strong U.S. demand, and higher feature revenue of $1,770,000, driven by an increased number of titles for post production services, partially offset by smaller size feature sound projects and lower home theatre. Network services group's 2006 revenue decreased $2,501,000 as a result of (i) a decline in systems integration and services revenue of $11,080,000, reflecting significant one-time projects in 2005 and (ii) lower revenue in the U.K. of $15,060,000, primarily as a result of termination of content distribution contracts. These network services revenue decreases were partially offset by the acquisition of AccentHealth in 2006, which generated $20,873,000 of revenue, and by increased content distribution activity in the U.S. and Singapore.

In 2005, creative services group revenue increased $16,771,000 as a result of a $7,330,000 increase in commercial revenue, primarily in the U.S., a $4,660,000 increase due to strong sales of U.S. television services from an increased number of shows, and $9,906,000 of higher lab revenue driven by the acquisition of Cinetech. These increases were offset by declining sound services revenue of $2,960,000 resulting from lower sales of services for features and games and lower media services volumes of $2,470,000 from traditional services, subtitling and DVD, partially offset by higher digital services. Network services group's 2005 revenue increased $46,523,000 due to $9,423,000 of revenue related to the LPC acquisition, $33,634,000 from a higher number of large engineering and systems integration projects and $13,083,000 of higher origination business revenue and other new initiatives, partially offset by the $9,550,000 effect of lower renewal rates on certain ongoing broadcast services contracts.

Cost of Services. Our cost of services increased 1.9% and 17.2% for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, as compared to the corresponding prior year. In 2006, the increase in cost of services is driven by the AccentHealth acquisition which contributed costs of $6,439,000 and by changes in foreign currency exchange rates of $1,367,000. The 2005 increase is partially attributable to the 2004 acquisitions discussed above, which contributed $12,109,000 in cost of services. In addition, cost of services increased in 2005 due to a change in revenue mix driven by higher systems engineering and integration projects in the network services group which have higher production and engineering labor and production material and equipment costs.

As a percent of revenue, cost of services was 66.1%, 64.2% and 60.2% for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. The increase in each year is driven by increases in labor costs partially offset by decreases in materials cost. Labor costs have increased as the revenue mix moves toward more labor intensive feature services and as projects have become increasingly more integrated, with complex work flows requiring higher levels of production labor and project management.

Selling, General and Administrative. Our selling, general and administrative expenses (SG&A), (excluding stock-based compensation and accretion expense on asset retirement obligations), increased 2.8% and 11.0% for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, as compared to the corresponding prior year. For 2006, the acquisition of AccentHealth added $6,565,000 of SG&A expense, slightly offset by lower personnel costs and professional fees. The 2005 increase in SG&A expense is primarily attributable to the impact of the 2004 acquisitions of $5,270,000 and the growth in 2005 revenue driving higher labor, facility and selling expenses. As a percent of revenue, SG&A increased from 24.5% to 25.4% for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively, due to the acquisition of AccentHealth in 2006, combined with a slight overall decline in revenue.

Corporate and other operating cash flow improved $4,613,000 in 2006 primarily due to lower Ascent Media corporate expenses, partially offset by an increase in DHC corporate, general and administrative expenses which were $9,360,000 and $6,467,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The 2005 decrease in operating cash flow of $10,315,000 is due to DHC corporate expenses, which primarily relate to the Spin Off ($5,072,000) and charges pursuant to the services agreement with Liberty subsequent to the Spin Off ($876,000), and to higher Ascent Media corporate expenses ($3,848,000) as a result of higher labor, facility, and professional services costs related to reengineering of corporate departments and processes and to a legal settlement.

Depreciation and Amortization. The decrease in depreciation and amortization expense from 2005 to 2006 is due to assets becoming fully depreciated partially offset by capital expenditures and the AccentHealth acquisition. Depreciation and amortization were comparable in 2005 and 2004.

Stock Compensation. Stock-based compensation was $1,817,000, $4,383,000 and $2,775,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively, and is included in SG&A in the Consolidated Statements of Operations and Comprehensive Earnings (Loss). Effective January 1, 2006, we adopted Statement No. 123R. Statement No. 123R requires that we amortize the grant date fair value of our stock option and SAR Awards that qualify as equity awards as stock compensation expense over the vesting period of such Awards. Statement No. 123R also requires that we record our liability awards at fair value each reporting period and that the change in fair value be reflected as stock compensation expense in our consolidated statement of operations. Prior to adoption of Statement No. 123R, the amount of expense associated with stock-based compensation was generally based on the vesting of the related stock options and stock appreciation rights and the market price of the underlying common stock. The expense reflected in our consolidated financial statements was based on the market price of the underlying common stock as of the date of the financial statements.

In 2001, Ascent Media granted to certain of its officers and employees stock options (the Ascent Media Options) with exercise prices that were less than the market price of Ascent Media common stock on the date of grant. The Ascent Media Options became exercisable for Liberty shares in connection with Liberty's acquisition in 2003 of the Ascent Media shares that it did not already own. Prior to January 1, 2006, we amortized the in-the-money value of these options over the 5-year vesting period. Certain Ascent Media employees also hold options and stock appreciation rights granted by companies acquired by Ascent Media in the past several years and exchanged for Liberty options and SARs. Prior to January 1, 2006 we recorded compensation expense for the SARs based on the underlying stock price and vesting of such awards.

On May 24, 2005, Liberty commenced an offer to purchase certain stock options and SARs held by eligible employees of Ascent Media. The offer to purchase related to 1,173,028 options and SARs, and the aggregate offering price for such options and SARs was approximately $2.15 million. The offer to purchase expired at 9:00 p.m., Pacific time, on June 21, 2005. Eligible employees tendered options with respect to 1,121,673 shares of Liberty Series A common stock, and Liberty purchased such options for aggregate cash payments of approximately $2.14 million. In connection with these purchases, Ascent Media recorded 2005 compensation expense of $3,830,000, which included (1) the amount of the cash payments less any previously accrued compensation for the SARs, (2) the previously unamortized in-the-money value related to the Ascent Media Options and (3) ongoing amortization of the unexercised Ascent Media options.

As of December 31, 2006, the total compensation cost related to unvested equity awards was $1.1 million. Such amount will be recognized in our consolidated statements of operations through 2009.

Restructuring Charges. On August 18, 2006, Ascent Media announced that it intended to streamline its structure into two global operating divisions – creative services group and network services group – to better align Ascent Media’s organization with the company’s strategic goals and to respond to changes within the industry driven by technology and customer requirements (the 2006 Restructuring). The operations of the media management services group were realigned with the other two groups, which was completed in the fourth quarter of 2006. As a result of the realignment, Ascent Media recorded a restructuring charge of $12,092,000 during the year ended December 31, 2006, primarily related to severance. These restructuring activities were primarily in the Corporate and other group in the United States and United Kingdom.

During the year ended December 31, 2005, Ascent Media recorded a restructuring charge of $4,112,000 related to the consolidation of certain operating facilities resulting in excess leased space, consolidation expenses and severance from reductions in headcount. These restructuring activities were implemented to improve ongoing operating efficiencies and effectiveness primarily in the creative services group in the U.K. There was no restructuring charge in 2004.

Impairment of Goodwill. As a result of the 2006 Restructuring and the declining financial performance of the media management services group, including ongoing operating losses driven by technology and customer requirement changes in the industry, the media management services group was tested for goodwill impairment in the third quarter of 2006, prior to DHC's annual goodwill valuation assessment of the entire company. DHC estimated the fair value of that reporting unit principally by using trading multiples of revenue and operating cash flows of similar companies in the industry. This test resulted in a goodwill impairment loss for the media management services group of $93,402,000, which represents the excess of the carrying value over the implied fair value of such goodwill.

Share of Earnings of Discovery. Our share of earnings of Discovery increased $23,778,000 or 29.8% in 2006 and decreased $4,201,000 or 5.0% in 2005. The 2006 increase is due to Discovery's higher operating income partially offset by higher interest expense and the change in minority interests in consolidated subsidiaries. Discovery's net income decreased in 2005 as increases in revenue and operating income were more than offset by increases in interest expense and income tax expense.

For a more detailed discussion of Discovery's results of operations, see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of Discovery.

Income Taxes. For the year ended December 31, 2006, we recorded income tax expense of $43,942,000, but had a loss before taxes of $2,068,000. The pre-tax loss resulted primarily from a $93,402,000 goodwill impairment charge recorded in the third quarter of 2006, for which we receive no tax benefit. Our effective tax rate was 59.5% and 34.6% for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively. While we were a subsidiary of Liberty, we calculated our deferred tax liabilities using Liberty's blended weighted average state tax rate. Subsequent to our spin off, we assessed such rate in light of the fact that we are located primarily in California, which has a higher state income tax rate than many of the other states in which Liberty does business, and we determined that our effective tax rate should be increased from 39% to 39.55%. This increase resulted in additional deferred tax expense in 2005 of $15,263,000. Our income tax rate in 2005 was higher than the federal income tax rate of 35% due to state and foreign tax expense.

Net Earnings (Loss). We recorded net earnings (loss) of ($46,010,000), $33,276,000 and $66,108,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. The change between each of these years is discussed in the aforementioned fluctuations in revenue and expenses.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

For the year ended December 31, 2006, our primary uses of cash were capital expenditures ($77,541,000) and acquisitions ($46,793,000). We funded these investing activities with cash from operating activities of $73,633,000 and with our available cash. Of the foregoing 2006 capital expenditures, $20,316,000 relates to the buildout of Ascent Media's existing facilities for customer specific contracts. The remainder of our capital expenditures relates to purchases of new equipment and the upgrade of existing facilities and equipment. For the foreseeable future, we expect to have sufficient available cash balances and net cash from operating activities to meet our working capital needs and capital expenditure requirements. We intend to seek external equity or debt financing in the event any new investment opportunities, additional capital expenditures or our operations require additional funds, but there can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain equity or debt financing on terms that are acceptable to us.

In 2007, Ascent Media and AccentHealth expect to spend approximately $60,000,000 for capital expenditures, which we expect will be funded with their cash from operations and cash on hand.

Our ability to seek additional sources of funding depends on our future financial position and results of operations, which, to a certain extent, are subject to general conditions in or affecting our industry and our customers and to general economic, political, financial, competitive, legislative and regulatory factors beyond our control.

We do not have access to the cash Discovery generates from its operations, unless Discovery pays a dividend on its capital stock or otherwise distributes cash to its stockholders. Historically, Discovery has not paid any dividends on its capital stock and we do not have sufficient voting control to cause Discovery to pay dividends or make other payments or advances to us.

Table of ContentsOff-Balance Sheet Arrangements and Contractual Obligations

Information concerning the amount and timing of required payments under our contractual obligations at December 31, 2006 is summarized below:

	Less than 1 year	Payments due by period			Total
		1-3 years	4-5 years	After 5 years
		amounts in thousands
Operating leases	$ 32,058	56,801	44,026	59,144	192,029
Other		6,100			6,100
Total contractual obligations	$ 32,058	62,901	44,026	59,144	198,129

We have contingent liabilities related to legal proceedings and other matters arising in the ordinary course of business. Although it is reasonably possible we may incur losses upon conclusion of such matters, an estimate of any loss or range of loss cannot be made. In the opinion of management, it is expected that amounts, if any, which may be required to satisfy such contingencies will not be material in relation to the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) has issued interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes – An Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 (FIN 48), regarding accounting for, and disclosure of, uncertain tax positions. FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprise's financial statements in accordance with FASB Statement No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. FIN 48 prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. FIN 48 also provides guidance on derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting for interim periods, disclosure and transition. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. We are in the process of evaluating the potential impact of the adoption of FIN 48 on our consolidated balance sheet and statements of operations and comprehensive earnings (loss), and do not believe this adoption will have a material impact.

Critical Accounting Estimates

Valuation of Long-lived Assets and Amortizable Other Intangible Assets. We perform impairment tests for our long-lived assets if an event or circumstance indicates that the carrying amount of our long-lived assets may not be recoverable. In response to changes in industry and market conditions, we may also strategically realign our resources and consider restructuring, disposing of, or otherwise exiting businesses. Such activities could result in impairment of our long-lived assets or other intangible assets. We are subject to the possibility of impairment of long-lived assets arising in the ordinary course of business. We regularly consider the likelihood of impairment and recognize impairment if the carrying amount of a long-lived asset or intangible asset is not recoverable from its undiscounted cash flows in accordance with SFAS No. 144, Accounting for Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets . Impairment is measured as the difference between the carrying amount and the fair value of the asset. We use both the income approach and market approach to estimate fair value. Our estimates of fair value are subject to a high degree of judgment. Accordingly, any value ultimately derived from our long-lived assets may differ from our estimate of fair value.

Valuation of Goodwill and Non-amortizable Other Intangible Assets. We assess the impairment of goodwill annually and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable. Factors we consider important which could trigger an impairment review include significant underperformance to historical or projected future operating results, substantial changes in our strategy or the manner of use of our assets, and significant negative industry or economic trends. Fair value of each reporting unit is determined through the use of an outside independent valuation consultant. Both the income approach and market approach are used in determining fair value.

Valuation of Trade Receivables. We must make estimates of the collectibility of our trade receivables. Our management analyzes the collectibility based on historical bad debts, customer concentrations, customer credit-worthiness, current economic trends and changes in our customer payment terms. We record an allowance for doubtful accounts based upon specifically identified receivables that we believe are uncollectible. In addition, we also record an amount based upon a percentage of each aged category of our trade receivables. These percentages are estimated based upon our historical experience of bad debts. Our trade receivables balance was $156,481,000, net of allowance for doubtful accounts of $9,045,000, as of December 31, 2006.

Table of Contents

Valuation of Deferred Tax Assets. In accordance with SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes, we review the nature of each component of our deferred income taxes for reasonableness. We have determined that it is more likely than not that we will not realize the tax benefits associated with certain cumulative net operating loss carry forwards and impairment reserves, and as such, we have established a valuation allowance of $96,223,000 and $91,235,000 as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Discovery

We hold a 50% ownership interest in Discovery and account for this investment using the equity method of accounting. Accordingly, in our financial statements we record our share of Discovery's net income or loss available to common shareholders and reflect this activity in one line item in the statement of operations as Share of earnings of Discovery. The following financial information of Discovery for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004 and related discussion is presented to provide the reader with additional analysis of the operating results and financial position of Discovery. Because we do not control the decision-making process or business management practices of Discovery, we rely on Discovery to provide us with financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP that we use in the application of the equity method. The information included in this section should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements of Discovery for the year ended December 31, 2006 included elsewhere herein. The following discussion and analysis of Discovery's operations and financial position has been prepared based on information that we receive from Discovery and represents our views and understanding of their operating performance and financial position based on such information. Discovery is not a separately traded public company, and we do not have the ability to cause Discovery's management to prepare their own management's discussion and analysis for our purposes. Accordingly, we note that the material presented in this section might be different if Discovery's management had prepared it.

The following discussion of Discovery's results of operations is presented on a consolidated basis. In order to provide a better understanding of Discovery's operations, we have also included a summarized presentation of revenue and operating cash flow of Discovery's three operating groups: Discovery networks U.S., or U.S. networks, Discovery networks international, or international networks, and Discovery commerce, education & other.

The U.S. networks is Discovery's largest division. It owns and operates 12 cable and satellite channels and provides distribution and advertising sales services for BBC America and distribution services for BBC World News. International networks manages a portfolio of channels, led by the Discovery Channel and Animal Planet brands, that is distributed in virtually every pay-television market in the world via an infrastructure that includes major operational centers in London, Singapore, New Delhi and Miami. Discovery commerce, education & other includes Discovery's retail chain store operations and other direct consumer marketing activities, as well as Discovery education, which manages Discovery's distribution of education content to schools and consumers.

Revenue. Discovery's consolidated revenue increased 13% for each of the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 as compared to the corresponding prior year. Increased revenue was primarily due to increases of 20% and 23% in distribution revenue for 2006 and 2005, respectively, as well as an increase of 5% in advertising revenue for each of the same periods. Other revenue increased 17% and 12% for 2006 and 2005.

Distribution revenue increased $128,901,000 or 18% and $130,609,000 or 22% at the U.S. networks during the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. These increases are due to an 11% and 10% increase in paying subscription units for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, combined with contractual rate increases. Launch amortization at the U.S. networks, a contra-revenue item, was $72,585,000, $67,750,000 and $93,763,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. Many of Discovery's domestic networks are currently distributed to substantially all of the cable television and direct broadcast satellite homes in the U.S. Accordingly, the rate of growth in U.S. distribution revenue in future periods is expected to be less than historical rates.

At the international networks, distribution revenue increased 23% and 25% during 2006 and 2005, respectively. Such increases were principally comprised of combined revenue growth in Europe and Latin America of $96,897,000 during 2006 and growth in Europe and Asia of $79,767,000 during 2005, resulting from a 2006 increase in paying subscription units of 13% combined with contractual rate increases in certain markets. Discovery also experienced a 2006 full year impact of new channel launches in Italy, France and Germany. Subsequent to December 31, 2006, Discovery completed negotiations for the renewal of long-term distribution agreements for certain of its European cable networks and paid a distributor $185.4 million. Such payment will be amortized over a five year term, resulting in an approximate $35 million annual reduction in international distribution revenue.

Advertising revenue, which includes revenue from paid programming, experienced a 5% increase for each of the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, with a $34,710,000 or 14% increase at the international networks and a $20,879,000 or 2% increase at the U.S. networks from 2005 to 2006. The increase in international networks advertising revenue was due primarily to higher viewership in Europe and Latin America combined with an increased subscriber base in most markets worldwide. The increase in advertising revenue at the U.S. networks was primarily due to higher advertising sell-out rates and higher audience delivery on certain channels. Paid programming, where Discovery sells blocks of time primarily for infomercials that are aired during the overnight hours on certain networks, represented 6% of total advertising revenue for each of the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004.

The increase in advertising revenue during 2005 was primarily due to a 28% increase at the international networks. Over two-thirds of the international networks' advertising revenue is generated by its operations in the United Kingdom and Europe. The increase in international networks advertising revenue was comprised of a $36,926,000 increase resulting from higher viewership in the U.K. combined with an increased subscriber base in the U.K. and Europe. Advertising revenue at the U.S. networks was essentially flat in 2005, increasing $1,316,000, as higher rates at certain of the larger networks, combined with growth at other newer networks, was offset by decreases resulting from lower audience delivery at certain of the larger networks.

With 12 domestic channels, Discovery offers solutions to advertisers that allow them to reach a broad range of U.S. audience demographics in the face of increasing fragmentation of audience share. The television industry is facing several issues with regard to its advertising revenue, including (1) audience fragmentation caused by the proliferation of other television networks, video-on-demand offerings from cable and satellite companies and broadband content offerings; (2) the deployment of digital video recording devices, allowing consumers to time shift programming and skip or fast-forward through advertisements; and (3) consolidation within the advertising industry, shifting more leverage to the bigger agencies and buying groups.

Commerce, education and other revenue increased $10,577,000 and $10,959,000 related to the education business and increased $10,051,000 and $9,163,000 related to the commerce business for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. During the fourth quarter of 2006, Discovery made a number of organizational and strategic adjustments to its education business to focus the resources dedicated to the company's direct-to-school distribution platform, unitedstreaming, as well as the division's other premium direct-to-school subscription services. Subsequent to December 31, 2006, Discovery initiated a strategic review of its commerce business to evaluate potential new operating alternatives with respect to such business unit.

Cost of Revenue. Cost of revenue increased 14% and 16% for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. As a percent of revenue, cost of revenue was 37%, 37% and 36% for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. The $140,612,000 increase in 2006 primarily resulted from a $94,981,000 increase in content amortization expense due to continued investment in original productions across the U.S. networks combined with increases in Europe associated with the launch of several networks to create a package of lifestyle-focused programming, along with a new free-to-air channel in Germany branded as DMAX.

The increase in 2005 primarily resulted from a $106,901,000 increase in content amortization expense due to continued investment across all U.S. networks in original productions and high profile specials and continued investment in the lifestyles category internationally, particularly in Europe. These increases were offset partially by a net aggregate benefit of approximately $11 million related to reductions in estimates for music rights accruals.

SG&A Expenses. SG&A expenses increased 16% and 17% during the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. As a percent of revenue, SG&A expense was 39%, 38% and 36% for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. During 2006, SG&A expenses increased $32,535,000, $67,275,000 and $50,817,000 in the U.S. networks, international networks and education groups, respectively. SG&A expense within the commerce group was relatively consistent with the prior year period. In U.S. networks, the increase is primarily due to a $33,312,000 or 20% increase in personnel expense resulting from compensation increases combined with increased headcount from acquisitions. In international networks, the increase is primarily due to a $38,202,000 or 32% increase in personnel expense, resulting from infrastructure expansions in Europe and Asia which increased headcount and office locations, a $5,888,000 or 7% increase in marketing expense resulting from marketing campaigns in Europe and Asia for the launch of new channels and a $16,920,000 or 16% increase in general and administrative expenses to support the growth of the business, coupled with the effects of foreign currency exchange rates. As a percent of revenue, international SG&A expense was consistent at 43% for both of the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005. In the education group, the increase is primarily due to (i) a $23,539,000 or 98% increase in personnel expense, resulting primarily from a full year of salary expense for headcount hired in 2005 and (ii) a $19,142,000 or 174% increase in marketing expense resulting mainly from Discovery's investment in Cosmeo, a new consumer homework help service. In 2007, Discovery implemented cost cutting measures in its education group which should reduce personnel expense for that group in comparison to 2006.

Within the different business segments during 2005, SG&A expense decreased 2% at the U.S. networks and increased 34% and 65% at the international networks and Discovery commerce, education and other, respectively. The increase at the international networks was caused by a $27,872,000 increase in personnel expense resulting from adding headcount as the business expands, particularly in the U.K. and Europe combined with a $27,124,000 increase in marketing expense associated with branding and awareness efforts related to the lifestyles category initiative. The increase at Discovery commerce, education and other is comprised of a $34,329,000 increase primarily resulting from acquisitions and organic growth in Discovery's education business.

Expenses Arising from Long-term Incentive Plans. Expenses arising from long-term incentive plans are related to Discovery's unit-based, long-term incentive plans, or LTIP, for its employees who meet certain eligibility criteria. Units are awarded to eligible employees and vest at a rate of 25% per year. In August 2005, Discovery discontinued one of its LTIPs and settled all amounts with cash. Discovery established a new LTIP in October 2005 (the 2005 LTIP Plan) for certain eligible employees pursuant to which participants in Discovery's remaining plan could elect to (1) continue in such plan or (2) redeem vested units and convert partially vested units to the 2005 LTIP Plan. Substantially all participants in the remaining plan redeemed their vested units and received partially vested units in the 2005 LTIP Plan. Certain eligible employees were also granted new units in the 2005 LTIP Plan. The value of units in the 2005 LTIP Plan is indexed to the value of DHC Series A common stock, and upon redemption, participants receive a cash payment based on the change in market price of DHC Series A common stock. Under the old plans, upon exercise, participants received a cash payment for the increase in value of the units from the unit value on the date of issuance determined by the year over year change in Discovery's aggregate equity value, using a consistent methodology. The change in unit value of LTIP awards outstanding is recorded as compensation expense over the period outstanding. Compensation expense aggregated $39,233,000 and $49,465,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The decrease is primarily the result of the change in unit value determination for the 2005 LTIP Plan units. If the remaining vested LTIP awards at December 31, 2006 were redeemed, the aggregate cash payments by Discovery would be approximately $36,650,000.

Depreciation and Amortization. The increase in depreciation and amortization for the year ended December 31, 2006 is due to an increase in new assets placed in service combined with acquisition activity occurring during 2006. The decrease in depreciation and amortization for the year ended December 31, 2005 is due to intangibles becoming fully amortized and a decrease in the depreciable asset base resulting from a reduction in the number of retail stores, offset by new assets placed in service during 2005.

Gain on Sale of Patents. In 2004, Discovery recorded a gain on the sale of certain of its television technology patents. The $22 million gain represents the sale price less the costs incurred to sell the patents. The cost of developing the technology had been expensed in prior years to SG&A expense. Discovery does not expect a significant amount of income from patent sales in the future.

Other Income and Expense

Interest Expense. The increase in interest expense during the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 is primarily due to higher levels of outstanding debt in both years combined with increases in interest rates during those periods.

Table of Contents

Unrealized Gains from Derivative Instruments, net. Unrealized gains from derivative transactions relate, primarily, to Discovery's use of derivative instruments to modify its exposure to interest rate fluctuations on its debt. These instruments include a combination of swaps, caps, collars and other structured instruments. As a result of unrealized mark to market adjustments, Discovery recognized $10,352,000, $29,109,000 and $44,060,000 in unrealized gains on these instruments during the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. The foreign exchange hedging instruments used by Discovery are spot, forward and option contracts. Additionally, Discovery enters into non-designated forward contracts to hedge non-dollar denominated cash flows and foreign currency balances.

Minority Interests in Consolidated Subsidiaries. Minority interest represents increases and decreases in the estimated redemption value of mandatorily redeemable interests in subsidiaries which are initially recorded at fair value.

Other. Other income in 2006 relates primarily to Discovery's equity share of earnings on their joint ventures. Other income in 2005 relates primarily to the gain on sale of one of Discovery's investments.

Income Taxes. Discovery's effective tax rate was 46%, 50% and 46% for 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. Discovery's effective tax rate differed from the federal income tax rate of 35% primarily due to foreign and state taxes.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

Discovery generated $479,911,000, $68,893,000 and $124,704,000 of cash from operations during the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. Discovery's payments under its long-term incentive plans were $841,000, $325,756,000 and $240,752,000 for each of the same periods, respectively, driving a significant use of cash in 2005 and 2004. For a further discussion of Discovery's LTIP, please see Note 14 to the Discovery consolidated financial statements.

One of Discovery's primary investing activities in 2006, 2005 and 2004 was payments of $180,000,000, $92,874,000 and $148,880,000, respectively, to acquire mandatorily redeemable securities related to minority interests in certain consolidated subsidiaries. In 2006, $100,000,000 and $80,000,000 was paid for the New York Times and the British Broadcasting Corporation mandatorily redeemable securities, respectively. Discovery also spent $90,138,000, $99,684,000 and $88,100,000 on capital expenditures during the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. During the same periods, Discovery paid $194,905,000, $400,000 and $17,218,000 for business acquisitions, net of cash acquired.

In addition to cash provided by operations, Discovery funds its activities with proceeds borrowed under various debt facilities, including a term loan, two revolving loan facilities and various senior notes payable. During the year ended December 31, 2006, net incremental borrowings under debt facilities aggregated approximately $16,813,000. Total commitments of these facilities were $4,059,000,000 at December 31, 2006. Debt outstanding on these facilities aggregated $2,607,000,000 at December 31, 2006, providing excess debt availability of $1,452,000,000. Discovery's ability to borrow the unused capacity is dependent on its continuing compliance with its covenants at the time of, and after giving effect to, a requested borrowing.

All term and revolving loans and senior notes are unsecured. The debt facilities contain covenants that require Discovery to meet certain financial ratios and place restrictions on the payment of dividends, sale of assets, additional borrowings, mergers, and purchases of capital stock, assets and investments. Discovery has indicated it is in compliance with all debt covenants at December 31, 2006.

In 2007, Discovery expects to spend approximately $100,000,000 for capital expenditures and $180,000,000 for interest expense. Payments to satisfy LTIP obligations are not expected to be significant in 2007. Discovery believes that its cash flow from operations and borrowings available under its credit facilities will be sufficient to fund its working capital requirements.

Contractual Obligations. Discovery has agreements covering leases of satellite transponders, facilities and equipment. These agreements expire at various dates through 2020. Discovery is obligated to license programming under agreements with content suppliers that expire over various dates. Discovery also has other contractual commitments arising in the ordinary course of business.

- (1) Represents Discovery's obligations to purchase goods and services whereby the underlying agreements are enforceable, legally binding and specify all significant terms. The more significant purchase obligations include: agreements related to audience ratings, market research, contracts for entertainment talent and other education and service project agreements.
- (2) The table above does not include certain long-term obligations reflected in the Discovery consolidated balance sheet as the timing of the payments cannot be predicted or the amounts will not be settled in cash. The most significant of these obligations is the $84.5 million accrued under Discovery's LTIP plans. In addition, amounts accrued in the Discovery consolidated balance sheet related to derivative financial instruments are not included in the table as such amounts may not be settled in cash or the timing of the payments cannot be predicted.

Discovery is subject to certain contractual agreements that may require Discovery to acquire the ownership interests of minority partners. At the end of 2006, Discovery estimates its aggregate obligations thereunder at approximately $94.8 million. The put rights are exercisable at various dates. In January 2007, Discovery exercised its rights and paid $44.5 million to acquire certain redeemable equity.

Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk.Foreign Currency Risk

We continually monitor our economic exposure to changes in foreign exchange rates and may enter into foreign exchange agreements where and when appropriate. Substantially all of our foreign transactions are denominated in foreign currencies, including the liabilities of our foreign subsidiaries. Although our foreign transactions are not generally subject to significant foreign exchange transaction gains or losses, the financial statements of our foreign subsidiaries are translated into United States dollars as part of our consolidated financial reporting. As a result, fluctuations in exchange rates affect our financial position and results of operations.

Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data.

Our consolidated financial statements are filed under this Item, beginning on Page II-17. The financial statement schedules required by Regulation S-X are filed under Item 15 of this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Item 9. Changes in and Disagreements with Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure.

None.

Item 9A. Controls and Procedures.

In accordance with Exchange Act Rules 13a-15 and 15d-15, the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of management, including its chief executive officer, principal accounting officer and principal financial officer (the Executives), of the effectiveness of its disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on that evaluation, the Executives concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of December 31, 2006 to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in its reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms.

See page II-15 for Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting.

Table of Contents

See page II-16 for Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm for our accountant's attestation regarding our internal controls over financial reporting.

There has been no change in the Company's internal controls over financial reporting identified in connection with the evaluation described above that occurred during the three months ended December 31, 2006 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, its internal controls over financial reporting.

Item 9B. Other Information.

MANAGEMENT'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Discovery Holding Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over the Company's financial reporting. The Company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of the consolidated financial statements and related disclosures in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of the consolidated financial statements and related disclosures in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; (3) provide reasonable assurance that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company; and (4) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements and related disclosures.

Because of inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies and procedures may deteriorate.

The Company assessed the design and effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2006. In making this assessment, management used the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO) in Internal Control-Integrated Framework.

Based upon our assessment using the criteria contained in COSO, management has concluded that, as of December 31, 2006, Discovery Holding Company's internal control over financial reporting is effectively designed and operating effectively.

Discovery Holding Company's independent registered public accountants audited the consolidated financial statements and related disclosures in the Annual Report on Form 10-K and have issued an audit report on management's assessment of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. This report appears on page II-16 of this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
Discovery Holding Company:

We have audited management's assessment, included in the accompanying Management's Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting appearing on page II-15, that Discovery Holding Company maintained effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2006, based on the criteria established in Internal Control Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). Management of Discovery Holding Company is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on management's assessment and an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control over financial reporting of Discovery Holding Company based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audit included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, evaluating management's assessment, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements and related disclosure in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; (3) provide reasonable assurance that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (4) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, management's assessment that Discovery Holding Company maintained effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2006, is fairly stated, in all material respects, based on criteria established in Internal Control Integrated Framework issued by COSO. Also, in our opinion, Discovery Holding Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2006, based on the criteria established in Internal Control Integrated Framework issued by COSO.

We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the consolidated balance sheets of Discovery Holding Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the related consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive earnings (loss), cash flows and stockholders' equity for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2006, and our report dated February 28, 2007 expressed an unqualified opinion on those consolidated financial statements.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
Discovery Holding Company:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Discovery Holding Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the related consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive earnings (loss), cash flows and stockholders' equity for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2006. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We did not audit the financial statements of Discovery Communications, Inc., (a 50 percent owned investee company). The Company's investment in Discovery Communications, Inc. at December 31, 2006 and 2005, was $3,129,157,000 and $3,018,622,000, respectively, and its equity in earnings of Discovery Communications, Inc. was $103,588,000, $79,810,000 and $84,011,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. The financial statements of Discovery Communications, Inc. were audited by other auditors whose report has been furnished to us, and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for Discovery Communications, Inc., is based solely on the report of the other auditors.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits and the report of the other auditors provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, based on our audits and the report of the other auditors, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Discovery Holding Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2006, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

As discussed in note 3 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements, effective January 1, 2006, Discovery Holding Company adopted SFAS No. 123R, Share Based Payment.

We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the effectiveness of Discovery Holding Company's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2006, based on the criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO), and our report dated February 28, 2007 expressed an unqualified opinion on management's assessment of, and the effective operation of, internal control over financial reporting.

DISCOVERY HOLDING COMPANY AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004

(1) Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements of Discovery Holding Company (DHC or the Company) represent a combination of the historical financial information of (1) Ascent Media Group, LLC (Ascent Media), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty, and Liberty's 50% ownership interest in Discovery for periods prior to the July 21, 2005 consummation of the spin off transaction (the Spin Off) described in note 2 and (2) DHC and its consolidated subsidiaries (including its 50% share of Discovery's earnings) for the period following such date. The Spin Off has been accounted for at historical cost due to the pro rata nature of the distribution. Accordingly, DHC's historical financial statements are presented in a manner similar to a pooling of interests.

Ascent Media is comprised of two operating segments. Ascent Media's creative services group provides services necessary to complete the creation of original content, including feature films, mini-series, television shows, television commercials, music videos, promotional and identity campaigns, and corporate communications programming. The group manipulates or enhances original visual images or audio captured in principal photography or creates new three dimensional images, animation sequences, or sound effects. In addition, the creative services group provides a full complement of facilities and services necessary to optimize, archive, manage and repurpose completed media assets for global distribution via freight, satellite, fiber, and the Internet. The networks services group provides the facilities and services necessary to assemble and distribute programming content for cable and broadcast networks via fiber, satellite, and the Internet to viewers in North America, Europe, and Asia. Additionally, the networks services group provides systems integration, design, consulting, engineering and project management services.

Substantially all of the assets of AccentHealth, LLC were acquired by a subsidiary of DHC in January 2006, and are included as part of the network services group for financial reporting purposes. AccentHealth operates an advertising-supported captive audience television network in doctor office waiting rooms nationwide.

Discovery is a global media and entertainment company that provides original and purchased cable and satellite television programming in the United States and over 170 other countries. Discovery also develops and sells branded commerce and educational product lines in the United States.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenue and expenses for each reporting period. The significant estimates made in preparation of the Company's consolidated financial statements primarily relate to valuation of goodwill, other intangible assets, long-lived assets, deferred tax assets, and the amount of the allowance for doubtful accounts. Actual results could differ from the estimates upon which the carrying values were based.

(2) Spin Off Transaction

On July 21, 2005 (the Spin Off Date), Liberty completed the spin off of the capital stock of DHC. The Spin Off was effected as a dividend by Liberty to holders of its Series A and Series B common stock of shares of DHC Series A and Series B common stock, respectively. Holders of Liberty common stock on July 15, 2005 received 0.10 of a share of DHC Series A common stock for each share of Liberty Series A common stock owned and 0.10 of a share of DHC Series B common stock for each share of Liberty Series B common stock owned. Approximately 268.1 million shares of DHC Series A common stock and 12.1 million shares of DHC Series B common stock were issued in the Spin Off.

The Spin Off did not involve the payment of any consideration by the holders of Liberty common stock and is intended to qualify as a tax-free transaction.

In addition to Ascent Media and its investment in Discovery, Liberty transferred $200 million in cash to a subsidiary of DHC prior to the Spin Off.

Following the Spin Off, the Company and Liberty operate independently, and neither has any stock ownership, beneficial or otherwise, in the other. In connection with the Spin Off, the Company and Liberty entered into certain agreements in order to govern certain of the ongoing relationships between the Company and Liberty after the Spin Off and to provide for an orderly transition. These agreements include a Reorganization Agreement, a Services Agreement and a Tax Sharing Agreement.

The Reorganization Agreement provides for, among other things, the principal corporate transactions required to effect the Spin Off and cross indemnities. Pursuant to the Services Agreement, Liberty provides the Company with office space and certain general and administrative services including legal, tax, accounting, treasury and investor relations support. The Company reimburses Liberty for direct, out-of-pocket expenses incurred by Liberty in providing these services and for the Company's allocable portion of costs associated with any shared services or personnel. Liberty and DHC have agreed that they will review cost allocations every six months and adjust such charges, if appropriate.

Under the Tax Sharing Agreement, Liberty is generally responsible for U.S. federal, state, local and foreign income taxes reported on a consolidated, combined or unitary return that includes the Company or one of its subsidiaries and Liberty or one of its subsidiaries. The Company is responsible for all other taxes that are attributable to the Company or one of its subsidiaries, whether accruing before, on or after the Spin Off. The Tax Sharing Agreement requires that the Company will not take, or fail to take, any action where such action, or failure to act, would be inconsistent with or prohibit the Spin Off from qualifying as a tax-free transaction. Moreover, the Company has indemnified Liberty for any loss resulting from (i) such action or failure to act or (ii) any agreement, understanding, arrangement or substantial negotiations entered into by DHC prior to the day after the first anniversary of the Spin Off, with respect to any transaction pursuant to which any of the other shareholders of Discovery would acquire shares of, or other interests in DHC's capital stock, in each case relating to the qualification of the Spin Off as a tax-free transaction. As of December 31, 2006, no such loss has been incurred.

(3) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies*Cash and Cash Equivalents*

The Company considers investments with original purchased maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Trade Receivables

Trade receivables are shown net of an allowance based on historical collection trends and management's judgment regarding the collectibility of these accounts. These collection trends, as well as prevailing and anticipated economic conditions, are routinely monitored by management, and any adjustments required are reflected in current operations. The allowance for doubtful accounts as of December 31, 2006 and 2005 was $9,045,000 and $7,708,000, respectively.

A summary of activity in the allowance for doubtful accounts is as follows:

	Balance	Charged		Balance

		Expense	Other
			Activity

2005	$ 12,104	(619)	(1,334)	7,708

2004	$ 11,580	555	(31)	12,104
------	-----------	-----	------	--------

Concentration of Credit Risk and Significant Customers

For the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, no single customer accounted for more than 10% of consolidated revenue.

Investment in Discovery

DHC accounts for its 50% ownership interest in Discovery using the equity method of accounting. Under this method, the investment, originally recorded at cost, is adjusted to recognize the Company's share of the net earnings or losses of Discovery as they occur, rather than as dividends or other distributions are received. The excess of the Company's carrying value over its proportionate share of Discovery's equity is accounted for as equity method goodwill, and accordingly, is not amortized, but periodically reviewed for impairment.

Changes in the Company's proportionate share of the underlying equity of Discovery which result from the issuance of additional equity securities by Discovery are recognized as increases or decreases in stockholders' equity. No such adjustments were recorded during the three years ended December 31, 2006.

The Company periodically compares the carrying value of its investment in Discovery to its estimated fair value to determine if there are any other-than-temporary declines in value, which would require an adjustment in the statement of operations. The estimated fair value of the investment in Discovery exceeds its carrying value for all periods presented.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are carried at cost and depreciated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of their estimated useful lives or the term of the underlying lease. Estimated useful lives by class of asset are as follows:

Buildings	20 years
Leasehold improvements	15 years or lease term, if shorter
Furniture and fixtures	7 years
Computers	3 years
Machinery and equipment	5 to 7 years

Depreciation expense for property and equipment was $66,435,000, $74,805,000 and $74,986,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

Goodwill

The Company accounts for its goodwill pursuant to the provisions of SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets (SFAS No. 142). In accordance with SFAS No. 142, goodwill is not amortized, but is tested for impairment annually and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable.

SFAS No. 142 requires the Company to consider equity method affiliates as separate reporting units. As a result, $1,771,000,000 of DHC's enterprise-level goodwill balance has been allocated to a separate reporting unit which includes only its investment in Discovery. This allocation is performed for goodwill impairment testing purposes only and does not change the reported carrying value of the investment. However, to the extent that all or a portion of an equity method investment which is part of a reporting unit containing allocated goodwill is disposed of in the future, the allocated portion of goodwill will be relieved and included in the calculation of the gain or loss on disposal.

Other Intangible Assets

In accordance with SFAS No. 142, amortizable other intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of four to five years, and are reviewed for impairment in accordance with SFAS No. 144, Accounting for Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets (SFAS No. 144).

Long-Lived Assets

In accordance with SFAS No. 144, management reviews the realizability of its long-lived assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. In evaluating the value and future benefits of long-term assets, their carrying value is compared to management's best estimate of undiscounted future cash flows over the remaining economic life. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds the estimated fair value of the assets.

Foreign Currency Translation

The functional currencies of the Company's foreign subsidiaries are their respective local currencies. Assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated into U.S. dollars using exchange rates on the balance sheet date, and revenues and expenses are translated into U.S. dollars using average exchange rates for the period. The effects of the foreign currency translation adjustments are deferred and are included in stockholder equity as a component of accumulated other comprehensive earnings (loss).

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from post-production and certain distribution related services is recognized when services are provided. Revenue on other long-term contracts is recorded on the basis of the estimated percentage of completion of individual contracts. Percentage of completion is calculated based upon actual labor and equipment costs incurred compared to total forecasted costs for the contract. Estimated losses on long-term contracts are recognized in the period in which a loss becomes evident.

Prepayments received for services to be performed at a later date are reflected in the consolidated balance sheets as deferred revenue until such services are provided.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes (SFAS No. 109). SFAS No. 109 is an asset and liability approach that requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been recognized in the Company's consolidated financial statements or tax returns. In estimating future tax consequences, SFAS No. 109 generally considers all expected future events other than proposed changes in the tax law or rates.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs generally are expensed as incurred. Advertising expense aggregated $3,990,000, $3,465,000 and $3,303,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

Stock-Based Compensation

As a result of the Spin Off and related adjustments to Liberty's stock incentive awards, options (Spin Off DHC Awards) to acquire an aggregate of approximately 2.0 million shares of DHC Series A common stock and 3.0 million shares of DHC Series B common stock were issued to employees of Liberty. In addition, employees of Ascent Media who held stock options or stock appreciation rights (SARs) to acquire shares of Liberty common stock prior to the Spin Off continue to hold such options. Pursuant to the Reorganization Agreement, DHC is responsible for all stock options related to DHC common stock, and Liberty is responsible for all incentive awards related to Liberty common stock. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company records stock-based compensation for all stock incentive awards held by DHC's and its subsidiaries' employees regardless of whether such awards relate to DHC common stock or Liberty common stock. Any stock-based compensation recorded by DHC with respect to Liberty stock incentive awards is treated as a capital transaction with the offset to stock-based compensation expense reflected as an adjustment of additional paid-in capital.

In December 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payments (Statement 123R). Statement 123R, which is a revision of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation (Statement 123) and supersedes Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees (APB Opinion No. 25), establishes standards for the accounting for transactions in which an entity exchanges its equity instruments for goods or services, primarily focusing on transactions in which an entity obtains employee services. Statement 123R generally requires companies to measure the cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments (such as stock options and restricted stock) based on the grant-date fair value of the award, and to recognize that cost over the period during which the employee is required to provide service (usually the vesting period of the award). Statement 123R also requires companies to measure the cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of liability instruments (such as stock appreciation rights that will be settled in cash) based on the current fair value of the award, and to remeasure the fair value of the award at each reporting date.

The Company adopted Statement 123R effective January 1, 2006. The provisions of Statement 123R allow companies to adopt the standard using the modified prospective method or to restate all periods for which Statement 123 was effective. The Company has adopted Statement 123R using the modified prospective method, and the impact of adoption was not material.

Liberty calculated the grant-date fair value for all of its awards using the Black-Scholes Model. Liberty calculated the expected term of the awards using the methodology included in SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 107. The volatility used in the calculation is based on the implied volatility of publicly traded Liberty options with a similar term (generally 20%-21%). Liberty uses the risk-free rate for Treasury Bonds with a term similar to that of the subject options and has assumed a dividend rate of zero. The Company has allocated the grant-date fair value of the Liberty awards to the Spin Off DHC Awards based on the relative trading prices of DHC and Liberty common stock after the Spin Off.

Prior to the adoption of Statement 123R, the Company applied the intrinsic-value-based method of accounting prescribed by APB Opinion No. 25, to account for its fixed-plan stock options. Under this method, compensation expense was recorded on the date of grant only if the current market price of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price and was recognized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

The following table illustrates the effect on net earnings for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004 as if the fair-value-based method of Statement 123R had been applied to all outstanding and unvested awards. Compensation expense for SARs was the same under APB Opinion No. 25 and Statement 123R. Accordingly, no pro forma adjustment for such awards is included in the following table.

Earnings (Loss) Per Common Share

Basic earnings (loss) per common share (EPS) is computed by dividing net earnings (loss) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. EPS in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations is based on (1) 280,199,000 shares, which is the number of shares issued in the Spin Off, for all periods prior to the Spin Off and (2) the actual number of shares outstanding for all periods subsequent to the Spin Off. The weighted average outstanding shares for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 were 279,951,000 and 279,557,000, respectively. Dilutive EPS presents the dilutive effect on a per shares basis of potential common shares as if they had been converted at the beginning of the periods presented. Due to the relative insignificance of the dilutive securities in 2006 and 2005, their inclusion does not impact the EPS amount as reported in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations.

Estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (GAAP) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenue and expenses for each reporting period. The significant estimates made in preparation of the Company s consolidated financial statements primarily relate to valuation of goodwill, other intangible assets, long-lived assets, deferred tax assets, and the amount of the allowance for doubtful accounts. Actual results could differ from the estimates upon which the carrying values were based.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) has issued interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes An Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 (FIN 48), regarding accounting for, and disclosure of, uncertain tax positions. FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprise s financial statements in accordance with FASB Statement No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. FIN 48 prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. FIN 48 also provides guidance on derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting for interim periods, disclosure and transition. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years

beginning after December 15, 2006. The Company is in the process of evaluating the potential impact of the adoption of FIN 48 on its consolidated balance sheet and statements of operations and comprehensive earnings (loss), and does not believe this adoption will have a material impact.

(5) Investment in Discovery

The Company has a 50% ownership interest in Discovery and accounts for its investment using the equity method of accounting. Discovery is a global media and entertainment company, that provides original and purchased video programming in the United States and over 170 other countries. Discovery also develops and sells branded commerce and educational product lines in the United States.

DHC's carrying value for Discovery was $3,129,157,000 at December 31, 2006. In addition, as described in note 7, $1,771,000,000 of enterprise-level goodwill has been allocated to the investment in Discovery.

Prior to the Spin Off, it was necessary for Liberty to periodically reallocate its enterprise level goodwill due to changes in reporting units caused by transactions or by internal reorganizations. These reallocation adjustments were made based on the relative fair values of the remaining reporting units in accordance with SFAS No. 142. As a result, there was an $18,000,000 adjustment to the enterprise level goodwill allocated to DHC in 2004. Such adjustment is reflected in DHC's consolidated statement of stockholders' equity.

Summarized financial information for Discovery is as follows:

On August 18, 2006, Ascent Media announced that it intended to streamline its structure into two global operating divisions – creative services group and network services group – to better align Ascent Media’s organization with the company’s strategic goals and to respond to changes within the industry driven by technology and customer requirements.

The operations of the media management services group were realigned with the other two groups and the realignment was completed in the fourth quarter of 2006.

As technology and customer requirements drove changes in this industry, revenue and operating cash flows had been declining for this group. As a result of the restructuring and the declining financial performance of the media management services group, including ongoing operating losses, the media management services group was tested for goodwill impairment in the third quarter of 2006, prior to DHC's annual goodwill valuation assessment of the entire company. DHC estimated the fair value of that reporting unit principally by using trading multiples of revenue and operating cash flows of similar companies in the industry. In September 2006, Ascent Media recognized a goodwill impairment loss for the media management services group of $93,402,000, which represents the excess of the carrying value over the implied fair value of such goodwill.

Included in other assets at December 31, 2006 are amortizable intangibles with a net book value of $5,711,000 and tradename intangibles (which are not subject to amortization) of $6,040,000.

For the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, the Company recorded $1,494,000, $1,572,000 and $2,619,000, respectively, of amortization expense for other intangible assets.

(8) Restructuring Charges

During 2006 and 2005, the Company completed certain restructuring activities designed to improve operating efficiencies and to strengthen its competitive position in the marketplace primarily through cost and expense reductions. In connection with these integration and consolidation initiatives, the Company recorded charges of $12,092,000 and $4,112,000, respectively. The 2006 restructuring charge related primarily to severance in the Corporate and other group in the United States and United Kingdom and to the closure of facilities in the United Kingdom. The 2005 restructuring charge relates primarily to the closure and consolidation of facilities in the United Kingdom.

The following table provides the activity and balances of the restructuring reserve.

(9) Acquisitions

AccentHealth

Effective January 27, 2006, one of DHC's subsidiaries acquired substantially all of the assets of AccentHealth, LLC's (AccentHealth) healthcare media business for cash consideration of $46,793,000. AccentHealth operates an advertising-supported captive audience television network in doctor office waiting rooms nationwide. The Company recorded goodwill of $32,224,000 and other intangible assets of $9,800,000 in connection with this acquisition. Other intangible assets are included in Other assets, net on the consolidated balance sheets. The excess purchase price over the fair value of assets acquired is attributable to the growth potential of AccentHealth and expected compatibility with Ascent Media's existing network services group.

For financial reporting purposes, the acquisition is deemed to have occurred on February 1, 2006, and the results of operations of AccentHealth have been included in DHC's consolidated results as a part of the network services group since the date of acquisition. On a pro forma basis, the results of operations of AccentHealth are not significant to those of DHC.

On March 12, 2004, pursuant to an Agreement for the Sale and Purchase, Ascent Media acquired all of the issued share capital of London Playout Centre Limited (LPC) from an independent third party for a purchase price of $36,573,000 paid at closing. LPC is a UK-based television channel origination facility. The purchase was funded, in part, by proceeds from Liberty. The financial position and results of operations of LPC have been consolidated since the date of acquisition.

(10) Income Taxes

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed annually for differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities that will result in taxable or deductible amounts in the future. Such deferred income tax asset and liability computations are based on enacted tax laws and rates applicable to periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. Income tax expense is the tax payable or refundable for the period plus or minus the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities. Income tax benefit (expense) is as follows:

The Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities are reported in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets as follows:

	amounts in thousands
Current deferred tax liabilities	$ 1,761	3,828
Long-term deferred tax liabilities, net of deferred tax assets	1,174,594	1,127,677

At December 31, 2006, the Company has $76,080,000 and $482,579,000 in net operating loss carryforwards for federal and state tax purposes, respectively. These net operating losses expire, for federal purposes, as follows: $6,836,000 in 2021; $61,542,000 in 2022 and $7,702,000 in 2025. The state net operating losses expire at various times from 2013 through 2025. In addition, the Company has $751,000 of federal income tax credits, which may be carried forward indefinitely. The Company has $2,584,000 of state income tax credits, of which $2,342,000 will expire in the year 2012.

During the current year, management has determined that it is more likely than not that the Company will not realize the tax benefits associated with certain cumulative net operating loss carryforwards and other deferred tax assets. As such, the Company continues to maintain a valuation allowance of $96,223,000. The total valuation allowance increased $4,988,000 during the year ended December 31, 2006 as a result of an increase in deferred tax assets related to acquisitions of $733,000, an increase of current year deferred tax assets of $8,711,000 which affected tax expense, and a decrease of prior year deferred tax assets of $4,456,000 which did not affect tax expense.

During 2006, 2005 and 2004, the Company provided ($776,000), ($34,000) and $1,636,000, respectively, of U.S. tax expense for future repatriation of cash from its Asia operations pursuant to APB 23. This charge represents all undistributed earnings from Asia not previously taxed in the United States.

The Company has deficits from its United Kingdom and Mexican operations and therefore does not have any undistributed earnings subject to United States taxation.

(11) Stockholders EquityPreferred Stock

DHC's preferred stock is issuable, from time to time, with such designations, preferences and relative participating, optional or other rights, qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof, as shall be stated and expressed in a resolution or resolutions providing for the issue of such preferred stock adopted by DHC's Board of Directors. As of December 31, 2006, no shares of preferred stock were issued.

Common Stock

Holders of DHC Series A common stock are entitled to one vote for each share held, and holders of DHC Series B common stock are entitled to 10 votes for each share held. Holders of DHC Series C common stock are not entitled to any voting powers, except as required by Delaware law. As of December 31, 2006, no shares of DHC Series C common stock were issued. Each share of the Series B common stock is convertible, at the option of the holder, into one share of Series A common stock.

As of December 31, 2006, there were 1,943,804 shares of DHC Series A common stock and 2,996,525 shares of DHC Series B common stock reserved for issuance under exercise privileges of outstanding stock options.

(12) Stock Options and Other Long-Term Incentive Compensation

Stock Options

On May 4, 2006, each of the non-employee directors of DHC was granted 10,000 options to purchase DHC Series A common stock with an exercise price of $14.48. Such options vest one year from the date of grant, terminate 10 years from the date of grant and had a grant-date fair value of $4.47 per share, as determined by the Black-Scholes Model.

As of December 31, 2006, the total compensation cost related to unvested equity awards was $1.1 million. Such amount will be recognized in DHC's consolidated statements of operations through 2009.

2006 Ascent Media Long-Term Incentive Plan

Effective August 3, 2006, Ascent Media adopted its 2006 Long-Term Incentive Plan (the 2006 Plan). The 2006 Plan provides the terms and conditions for the grant of, and payment with respect to, Phantom Appreciation Rights (PARs) granted to certain officers and other key personnel of Ascent Media. The value of a single PAR (Value) is calculated as the sum of (i) 6% of cumulative free cash flow (as defined in the 2006 Plan) over a period of up to six years, divided by 500,000 plus (ii) 5% of the increase in the calculated value of Ascent Media over a baseline value determined at the time of grant, divided by 10,000,000. The 2006 Plan is administered by a committee that consists of two individuals appointed by DHC. Grants are determined by the committee, with the first grant occurring on August 3, 2006. The maximum number of PARs that may be granted under the 2006 Plan is 500,000, and there were 398,500 granted PARs as of December 31, 2006. The PARs vest quarterly over a three year period, and are payable on March 31, 2012 (or, if earlier, on the six-month anniversary of a grantee's termination of employment without cause). Ascent Media will record a liability and a charge to expense based on the Value and percent vested at each reporting period. As of December 31, 2006, the Value of the PARs was $0.

(13) Other Comprehensive Earnings (Loss)

Accumulated other comprehensive earnings (loss) included in DHC's consolidated balance sheets and consolidated statements of stockholders' equity reflect the aggregate of foreign currency translation adjustments and unrealized holding gains and losses on available-for-sale securities.

(14) Employee Benefit Plans

Ascent Media offers a 401(k) defined contribution plan covering most of its full-time domestic employees not eligible to participate in the Motion Picture Industry Pension and Health Plan (MPIPHP), a multi-employer defined benefit pension plan. Contributions to the MPIPHP are determined in accordance with the provisions of negotiated labor contracts and generally are based on the number of hours worked. Ascent Media also sponsors a pension plan for eligible employees of its foreign subsidiaries. Employer contributions are determined by Ascent Media's board of directors. The plans are funded by employee and employer contributions. Total pension plan expenses for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004 were $7,868,000, $7,109,000 and $6,485,000, respectively.

(15) Commitments and Contingencies

Future minimum lease payments under scheduled operating leases, which are primarily for buildings, equipment and real estate, having initial or remaining noncancelable terms in excess of one year are as follows (in thousands):

Year ended December 31:
2007	$ 32,058
2008	$ 29,156
2009	$ 27,645
2010	$ 24,590
2011	$ 19,436
Thereafter	$ 59,144

Rent expense for noncancelable operating leases for real property and equipment was $31,355,000, $31,643,000 and $26,487,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively. Various lease arrangements contain options to extend terms and are subject to escalation clauses.

At December 31, 2006, the Company is committed to compensation under long-term employment agreements with its certain executive officers of Ascent Media as follows: 2007, $1,815,000; 2008, $1,760,000; and 2009, $1,565,000.

On December 31, 2003, Ascent Media acquired the operations of Sony Electronic s systems integration center business and related assets, which we refer to as SIC. In exchange, Sony received the right to be paid in 2008 an amount equal to 20% of the value of the combined business of Ascent Media s wholly owned subsidiary, AF Associates, Inc. and

SIC. The value of 20% of the combined business of AF Associates and SIC is estimated at $6,100,000. SIC is included in Ascent Media's network services group.

The Company is involved in litigation and similar claims incidental to the conduct of its business. In management's opinion, none of the pending actions is likely to have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

(16) Related Party Transactions

Certain third-party general and administrative and spin off related costs were paid by Liberty on behalf of the Company prior to the Spin Off and reflected as expenses in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations. In addition, certain general and administrative expenses are charged by Liberty to DHC pursuant to the Services Agreement. Such expenses aggregated $2,260,000 and $5,948,000 for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Ascent Media provides services, such as satellite uplink, systems integration, origination, and post-production, to Discovery. Revenue recorded by Ascent Media for these services for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004 aggregated $33,741,000, $34,189,000 and $41,785,000, respectively.

(17) Information About Operating Segments

The Company's chief operating decision maker, or his designee (the CODM), has identified the Company's reportable segments based on (i) financial information reviewed by the CODM and (ii) those operating segments that represent more than 10% of the Company's combined revenue or earnings before taxes. In addition, those equity investments whose share of earnings represent more than 10% of the Company's earnings before taxes are considered reportable segments.

Based on the foregoing criteria, the Company's business units have been aggregated into three reportable segments: the creative services group and the network services group, which are operating segments of Ascent Media, and Discovery, which is an equity affiliate. Corporate related items and unallocated income and expenses are reflected in the Corporate and other column listed below. As a product of our segment restructuring, the segment presentation for prior periods has been conformed to the current period segment presentation.

The creative services group provides various technical and creative services necessary to complete principal photography into final products, such as feature films, movie trailers, documentaries and independent films, episodic television, TV movies and mini-series, television commercials, music videos, interactive games and new digital media, promotional and identity campaigns and corporate communications. These services are referred to generally in the entertainment industry as post-production services. In addition, the creative services group provides a full complement of facilities and services necessary to optimize, archive, manage and repurpose completed media assets for global distribution via freight, satellite, fiber and the Internet. The network services group provides broadcast services, which are comprised of services necessary to assemble and distribute programming for cable and broadcast networks via fiber and satellite to viewers in North America, Europe, Asia and Latin America. Additionally, the networks services group provides systems integration, design, consulting, engineering and project management services.

The accounting policies of the segments that are consolidated entities are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies and are consistent with GAAP.

The Company evaluates the performance of these operating segments based on financial measures such as revenue and operating cash flow. The Company defines operating cash flow as revenue less cost of services and selling, general and administrative expenses (excluding stock and other equity-based compensation and accretion expense on asset retirement obligations). The Company believes this is an important indicator of the operational strength and performance of its businesses, including the businesses' ability to service debt and capital expenditures. In addition, this measure allows management to view operating results and perform analytical comparisons and identify strategies to improve performance. This measure of performance excludes depreciation and amortization, stock and other equity-based compensation, accretion expense on asset retirement obligations and restructuring and impairment charges that are included in the measurement of operating income pursuant to GAAP. Accordingly, operating cash flow should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, operating income, cash flow provided by operating activities and other measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with GAAP.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Discovery Communications, Inc.:

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and related consolidated statements of operations, of changes in stockholders' deficit, and of cash flows, present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Discovery Communications, Inc. and its subsidiaries at December 31, 2006 and December 31, 2005, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2006 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

DISCOVERY COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

1. Description of Business

Discovery Communications, Inc. (the Company) is a privately-held, globally-diversified entertainment company whose operations are organized into four business units: U.S. Networks, International Networks, Commerce and Education. U.S. Networks operates cable and satellite television networks in the United States, including Discovery Channel, TLC, Animal Planet, The Travel Channel and Discovery Health Channel. International Networks operates cable and satellite television networks worldwide, including regional variants of Discovery Channel, Animal Planet, People & Arts, Discovery Travel & Living, and Discovery Real Time. Commerce operates over 100 Discovery Channel retail stores and manages consumer ventures in the United States. Education provides products and services to educational institutions and consumers.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of all majority-owned and controlled subsidiaries. In addition, the Company evaluates its relationships with other entities to identify whether they are variable interest entities as defined by Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. (FIN) 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, an Interpretation of ARB No. 51 as revised in December 2003 (FIN 46R) and to assess whether it is the primary beneficiary of such entities. Variable Interest Entities (VIEs) are generally entities that lack sufficient equity to finance their activities without additional financial support from other parties or whose equity holders possess rights not proportionate to their ownership. The equity method of accounting is used for affiliates over which the Company exercises significant influence but does not control.

All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results may differ from those estimates and could have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

The Company has issued redeemable interests in a number of its consolidated subsidiaries for which redemption events are outside of the Company's control. Estimating the redemption value of these interests requires complex contract interpretation and the use of fair value and future performance assumptions. Certain of our ventures with the British Broadcasting Company (BBC) are operated under interim or unfinalized agreements, which contribute to the complexity of associated estimates.

Other significant estimates include the amortization method and recoverability of content rights, the valuation and recoverability of intangible assets and other long-lived assets, the valuation of deferred tax assets, the fair value of derivative financial instruments, and the adequacy of reserves associated with accounts receivable and retail inventory.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 (FIN 48), which clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income tax positions. This Interpretation requires the Company to recognize in the consolidated financial statements the impact of a tax position that is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by the applicable taxing authority based on the technical merits of the position. The provisions of FIN 48 will be effective for the Company as of the beginning of the Company s 2007 fiscal year, with the cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle recorded as an adjustment to opening retained earnings. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting FIN 48 on the consolidated financial statements.

Table of Contents

DISCOVERY COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

Revenue Recognition

The Company derives revenue from four primary sources: (1) advertising revenue for commercial spots aired on the Company's networks, (2) distribution revenue from cable system and satellite operators (distributors), (3) retail sales of consumer products, and (4) educational product and service sales.

Advertising revenue is recorded net of agency commissions and audience deficiency liabilities in the period advertising spots are broadcast. Distribution revenue is recognized over the service period, net of launch incentives and other vendor consideration. Retail revenues are recognized either at the point-of-sale or upon product shipment. Educational service and product sales are generally recognized ratably over the term of the agreement or as the product is delivered.

Advertising Costs

The Company expenses advertising costs as incurred. The Company incurred advertising costs of $207.7 million, $208.6 million and $170.3 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Highly liquid investments with original maturities of ninety days or less are recorded as cash equivalents. The Company had $7.1 million and $4.5 million in restricted cash included in other current assets as of December 31, 2006 and 2005. Book overdrafts representing outstanding checks in excess of funds on deposit are a component of accounts payable and total $30.9 million and $40.9 million in 2006 and 2005.

Derivative Financial Instruments

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, requires every derivative instrument to be recorded on the balance sheet at fair value as either an asset or a liability. The statement also requires that changes in the fair value of derivatives be recognized currently in earnings unless specific hedge accounting criteria are met. From time to time, the Company uses financial instruments designated as a cash flow hedge of a forecasted transaction to hedge its exposures to interest rate risks. The effective changes in fair value of derivatives designated as cash flow hedges are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss). Amounts are reclassified from accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) as interest expense is recorded for debt. None of the Company's financial instruments were designated as a hedge in 2006 and 2004 and most of the Company's financial instruments were not designated as a hedge in 2005.

Inventories

Inventories are carried at the lower of cost or market and include inventory acquisition costs. Cost is determined using the weighted average cost method.

Content Rights

Costs incurred in the direct production, co-production or licensing of content rights are capitalized and stated at the lower of unamortized cost, fair value, or net realizable value. The Company evaluates the net realizable value of content by considering the fair value of the underlying produced and co-produced content and the net realizable values of the licensed content at least annually.

The costs of produced and co-produced content airing on the Company's networks are capitalized and amortized based on the expected realization of revenues, resulting in an accelerated basis over four years for developed networks (Discovery Channel, TLC, Animal Planet, and The Travel Channel) in the United States, and a straight-line basis over three to five years for developing networks in the United States and all International networks. The cost of licensed content is capitalized and amortized over the term of the license period based on the expected realization of revenues, resulting in an accelerated basis for developed networks in the United States, and a straight-line basis for all International networks, developing networks in the United States and educational ventures. The costs of content for electronic, video and hardcopy educational supplements and tools for educational ventures are amortized straight-line over a three to seven year period.

DISCOVERY COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

All produced and co-produced content is classified as long-term. The portion of the unamortized licensed content balance that will be amortized within one year is classified as a current asset.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is recognized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of three to seven years for equipment, furniture and fixtures, five to forty years for building structure and construction, and six to thirteen years for satellite transponders. Leasehold improvements are amortized on a straight-line basis over the lesser of their estimated useful lives or the terms of the related leases, beginning on the date the asset is put into use. Equipment under capital lease represents the present value of the minimum lease payments at the inception of the lease, net of accumulated depreciation.

Capitalized Software Costs

All capitalized software costs are for internal use. Capitalization of costs occurs during the application development stage. Costs incurred during the pre and post implementation stages are expensed as incurred. Capitalized costs are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of one to five years. Unamortized capitalized costs totaled $61.4 million and $59.1 million at December 31, 2006 and 2005. The Company capitalized software costs of $21.6 million, $23.2 million, and $28.6 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004. Amortization of capitalized software costs totaled $18.3 million, $19.3 million, and $18.4 million during 2006, 2005 and 2004. Write-offs of capitalized software totaled $1.0 million and $4.0 million in 2006 and 2004; there were no write-offs for capitalized software costs during 2005.

Recoverability of Long-Lived Assets, Goodwill, and Intangible Assets

The Company annually assesses the carrying value of its acquired intangible assets, including goodwill, and its other long-lived assets, including deferred launch incentives, to determine whether impairment may exist, unless indicators of impairment become evident requiring immediate assessment. Goodwill impairment is identified by comparing the fair value of the reporting unit to its carrying value. If the fair value of the reporting unit is less than its carrying value, an impairment loss is recorded to the extent that the implied fair value of the goodwill within the reporting unit is less than its carrying value. Intangible assets and other long-lived assets are grouped for purposes of evaluating recoverability at the lowest level for which independent cash flows are identifiable. If the carrying amount of an intangible asset, long-lived asset, or asset grouping exceeds its fair value, an impairment loss is recognized. Fair values for reporting units, goodwill and other intangible assets are determined based on discounted cash flows, market multiples, or comparable assets as appropriate.

The determination of recoverability of goodwill and other intangible and long-lived assets requires significant judgment and estimates regarding future cash flows, fair values, and the appropriate grouping of assets. Such estimates are subject to change and could result in impairment losses being recognized in the future. If different reporting units, asset groupings, or different valuation methodologies had been used, the impairment test results could have differed.

Deferred Launch Incentives

Consideration issued to cable and satellite distributors in connection with the execution of long-term network distribution agreements is deferred and amortized on a straight-line basis as a reduction to revenue over the terms of the agreements. Obligations for fixed launch incentives are recorded at the inception of the agreement. Obligations for performance-based arrangements are recorded when performance thresholds have been achieved. Following the renewal of a distribution agreement, the remaining deferred consideration is amortized over the extended period. Amortization of deferred launch incentives and interest on unpaid deferred launch incentives was $79.1 million, $74.1 million and $98.4 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004.

Foreign Currency Translation

The Company's foreign subsidiaries' assets and liabilities are translated at exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date, while results of operations are translated at average exchange rates for the respective periods. The resulting translation adjustments are included as a separate component of stockholders' deficit in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss).

Long-term Incentive Plans

Prior to October 2005, the Company maintained two unit-based, cash settled, long-term incentive plans. Under these plans, unit awards, which vest over a period of years, were granted to eligible employees and increased or decreased in value based on a specified formula of Company business metrics. The Company accounted for these units similar to stock appreciation rights and applied the guidance in FASB Interpretation Number 28, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, (FIN 28). Accordingly, the Company adjusted compensation expense for changes in the accrued value of these awards over the period outstanding.

During August 2005, the Company discontinued one of its long-term incentive plans and settled all amounts with cash payments. In October 2005, the Company established a new long-term incentive plan for certain eligible employees. Substantially all participants in the remaining plan redeemed their vested units for cash payment and received units in the new plan.

Under the new plan, eligible employees receive cash settled unit awards indexed to the price of Class A Discovery Holding Company (DHC) stock. As the units are indexed to the equity of another entity, the Company treats the units similar to a derivative, by determining their fair value each reporting period. The Company attributes compensation expense for the new awards on a straight-line basis; the Company attributes compensation expense for the initial grant of partially vested units by continuing to apply the FIN 28 model that was utilized over the awards original vesting periods. Once units are fully vested, the Company recognizes all mark-to-mark adjustments to fair value in each period as compensation expense. In March 2005, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 107 (SAB 107) regarding the classification of compensation expense associated with share-based payment awards. The Company has applied the provisions of SAB 107 and has recorded long term incentive compensation expense as a component of selling, general and administrative expenses. Prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation.

The Company classifies as a current liability 75% of the intrinsic value of the units that are vested or will become vested within one year. This amount corresponds to the value potentially payable should all participants separate from the Company. Upon voluntary termination of employment, the Company distributes 75% of unit benefits. The remainder is paid at the one-year anniversary of termination date.

Mandatorily Redeemable Interests in Subsidiaries

Mandatorily redeemable interests in subsidiaries are initially recorded at fair value. For those instruments with an estimated redemption value, the Company accretes or decretes to the estimated redemption value ratably over the period to the redemption date. Accretion and decreration are recorded as a component of minority interest expense. For instruments with a specified rate of return, the Company records interest expense as incurred. Cash receipts and payments for the sale or purchase of mandatorily redeemable interests in subsidiaries are included as a component of investing cash flows.

Treasury Stock

Treasury stock is accounted for using the cost method. The repurchased shares are held in treasury and are presented as if retired. There was no treasury stock activity for the three years ended December 31, 2006.

Income Taxes

Income taxes are recorded using the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes. Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. A valuation allowance is provided for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not such assets will be unrealized.

4. Business Combinations

During February 2006, the Company acquired 98 percent of DMAX (formerly known as XXP), a free-to-air network in Germany. The results of operations have been included in the consolidated financial statements since that date. The acquisition of a free-to-air network is intended to support the Company's strategic priority of strengthening its global presence. The aggregate purchase price was $60.2 million primarily in cash. Of the $54.3 million of acquired intangible assets, $23.0 million was assigned to contract-based distribution channels subject to amortization with a useful life of approximately 5 years and the remaining balance of $31.3 million to goodwill.

In March 2006, the Company acquired all of the outstanding common shares of Antenna Audio Limited (Antenna), a provider of audio tours and multimedia at museums and cultural attractions around the globe. The results of Antenna's operations have been included in the consolidated financial statements since that date. The Company acquired Antenna to facilitate the expansion of its brand and media content to other platforms. The aggregate purchase price was $64.4 million, primarily in cash. Of the $49.1 million of acquired intangibles, $6.4 million was assigned to assets subject to amortization with useful lives between two and seven years and the balance of $42.7 million to goodwill.

In 2006, the Company also acquired the following four entities for a total cost of $70.4 million, which was paid primarily in cash:

Petfinder.com, a facilitator of pet adoptions and PetsIncredible, a producer and distributor of pet-training videos. The Company also has certain contingent considerations in connection with this acquisition payable in the event specific business metrics are achieved totaling up to $13.5 million over 3 years, which could result in the recording of additional goodwill.

Clearvue and SVE, Inc., a provider of curriculum-oriented media educational products.

Academy123 Inc., a provider of online supplemental, educational content focusing largely on mathematics and sciences.

Thinklink, Inc., a provider of formative assessment testing services to schools servicing students in grades K through 12.

Goodwill recognized for these transactions amounted to $27.9 million. Purchased identifiable intangible assets for these acquisitions are being amortized on a straight-line basis over lives ranging from one to ten years (weighted-average life of 4.4 years).

Amortization of content rights was $696.0 million, $601.1 million and $494.2 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004, and is recorded as a component of cost of revenue. Amortization of content rights includes incremental amortization for certain programs to net realizable value of $34.6 million, $8.0 million, and $18.7 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004.

The Company estimates that approximately 86% of unamortized costs of content rights at December 31, 2006 will be amortized within the next three years. The Company expects to amortize $477.5 million of unamortized content rights, not including in-process and prepaid productions, during the next twelve months.

Depreciation and amortization of property and equipment, including equipment under capital lease, was $89.9 million, $85.0 million and $85.4 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004.

7. Sale of Equity Investments and Long-lived Assets

In April 2006 and January 2005, the Company recorded gains of $1.5 million and $12.8 million, as a component of other non-operating expenses for the sale of certain equity investments, previously accounted for under the cost method. The gains represent the difference between the proceeds received and the net book value of the investments.

In 2004, the Company recorded a net gain of $22.0 million on the sale of certain television technology patents. The transaction closed in August 2004, and the gain represents the sale price less costs to sell. The Company expensed all of the costs to develop this technology in prior years.

Purchase price in excess of the fair value of the assets and liabilities acquired of $101.8 million and $1.1 million was recorded to goodwill in 2006 and 2004. Changes of $8.5 million, $(2.5) million, and $1.6 million in goodwill resulted from fluctuations in foreign currency in 2006, 2005 and 2004.

Goodwill and trademarks are not amortized. Customer lists are amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of three to seven years. Non-compete assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over the contractual term of one to seven years. Other intangibles are amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of three to ten years.

During April 2006, the Company terminated its existing agreement and entered into new agreements regarding its exclusive right to represent BBC America (BBCA), a cable network, in sales, marketing, distribution and other operational activities. In exchange for early termination of the previous agreement, the Company received $93.2 million, resulting in a deferred gain of $27.7 million. This deferred gain is recorded as a component of other current and non-current liabilities, is being amortized on a straight-line basis over the six year term of the agreement, and is reported in other revenue. The cost of acquiring the representation rights was amortized on a straight-line basis over the fifteen-year term of the original agreement, and was reported as a reduction of other revenue.

Amortization of intangible assets including representation rights, totaled $46.0 million, $45.0 million and $41.8 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004. The Company estimates that unamortized costs of intangible assets at December 31, 2006 will be amortized over the next five years as follows: $37.0 million in 2007, $28.3 million in 2008, $13.2 million in 2009, $10.4 million in 2010, and $3.4 million in 2011.

Joint Ventures with the BBC

The Company and the BBC have formed several cable and satellite television network joint ventures, JVP, a venture to produce and acquire factual-based content, and JVN, a venture to provide debt funding to these joint ventures.

In addition to its own funding requirements, the Company has assumed the BBC funding requirements, giving the Company preferential cash distribution with these ventures. The Company controls substantially all of the BBC ventures and consolidates them accordingly. As the BBC does not have risk of loss, no losses were allocated to minority interest for consolidated joint ventures with the BBC, and the Company recognizes both its and the BBC's share of earnings and losses in the equity method venture with the BBC.

In connection with the adoption of FIN 46R, the Company concluded that JVP and APJ are VIEs and the Company is the primary beneficiary. Therefore, on January 1, 2005, the Company began consolidating these entities, which had aggregate fair value net asset balances of $58.0 million. There is no minority interest income or expense for JVP; minority interest for APJ is an expense of $0.3 million in 2006 and income of $1.4 million in 2005 and is reported as a component of minority interest expense. Previously, the Company accounted for JVP and APJ under the equity method of accounting.

Other Ventures

The Company is a partner in other international joint venture cable and satellite television networks. The Company provided no funding to these ventures in 2006. Funding to these joint ventures totaled $0.2 million and $3.3 million during

2005 and 2004. At December 31, 2006, the Company's maximum exposure to loss as a result of its involvement with these joint ventures is the $15.6 million investment book value and future operating losses, should they occur, of these joint ventures that the Company is obligated to fund. These joint ventures have no third party debt. These other ventures do not require consolidation. These other ventures are accounted for under the equity method as the Company does not have a controlling financial interest.

In March 2006, the Company's United Kingdom (UK) subsidiary, Discovery Communications Europe Limited (DCEL), entered into a 70.0 million three year multicurrency revolving credit agreement. In April 2006, the UK credit agreement was amended and restated to provide for syndication and to increase the revolving commitments to 260.0 million. The Company guarantees DCEL's obligations under the UK credit agreement. Borrowings under this agreement bear interest at London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) plus an applicable margin based on the Company's leverage ratios. The cost of the UK credit agreement also includes a fee on the revolving commitments (ranging from 0.1% to 0.3%) based on the Company's leverage ratio. DCEL capitalized £0.7 million (approximately U.S. $1.4 million) of deferred financing costs as a result of this transaction. At the end of 2006 there was £95.9 million (approximately U.S. $187.8 million) outstanding under the multicurrency credit agreement with a weighted average interest rate of 5.91%. The interest rate during 2006 averaged 5.62%. The UK credit agreement matures April 2009.

In March 2006 the Company borrowed additional funds under its Revolving Loan to redeem the maturing $300.0 million Senior Notes. At the end of 2006 there was $1,249.5 million outstanding under the Revolving Loan with a weighted average interest rate of 6.35%. The amount available under the Revolving Loan was $1,302.8 million, net of amounts committed for standby letters of credit of $2.7 million issued under the credit facility. At the end of 2005 there was $1,103.0 million outstanding with a weighted interest rate of 5.32%. The average interest rate under the U.S. Credit Agreement was 6.01% and 4.41% in 2006 and 2005.

In October 2005, the Company refinanced its syndicated bank credit agreement, replacing the existing Term Loan and the Revolving Facility, which had principal payments beginning in 2007 and final maturity in 2009, with a new $1,000 million Term Loan and $1,555 million Revolving Facility, with principal payments beginning in 2008 and final maturity in 2010. The Term and Revolving Loans are unsecured. Interest, which is payable quarterly at a minimum, is based on LIBOR plus a margin based on the Company's leverage ratio or prime. The cost of the Revolving Facility includes a fee on the revolving commitment (ranging from 0.1% to 0.3%) based on the Company's leverage ratios.

In November 2005, the Company modified the outstanding unsecured Senior Notes. In December 2005, the Company issued two series of unsecured Senior Notes, $90.0 million of floating rate Senior Notes due December 2012 and $390.0 million of 6.01% Senior Notes due December 2015. The weighted average interest rate on the floating rate Senior Note was 6.10% at December 31, 2006 and 5.33% at December 31, 2005. The average interest rate under the floating rate Senior Note during 2006 was 5.85%.

The Company capitalized $4.8 million in deferred financing costs in 2005 as a result of these transactions. The Company expensed $4.2 million in capitalized costs as a component of interest expense associated with the refinancing of the previous credit arrangement.

The Company uses derivative instruments to modify its exposure to interest rate fluctuations on its debt. The Term Loans, Revolving Facility, and Senior Notes contain covenants that require the Company to meet certain financial ratios and place restrictions on the payment of dividends, sale of assets, borrowing level, mergers, and purchases of capital stock, assets, and investments.

Future principal payments under the current debt arrangements, excluding obligations under capital leases and other notes payable, are as follows: none in 2007, $242.5 million in 2008, $617.8 million in 2009, $812.0 million in 2010, $220.0 million in 2011 and $715.0 million from 2012 to 2015. Future minimum payments under capital leases are as follows: $9.3 million in 2007, $7.3 million in 2008, $7.3 million in 2009, $5.1 million in 2010, $4.5 million in 2011 and $5.4 million thereafter.

In April 2002, the Company sold a 50% interest in Discovery Times Channel to the New York Times (NYT) for $100.0 million. Due to the NYT 's redemption rights, this transaction resulted in no gain or loss to the Company. In September 2006, NYT exercised its right to put its interest back to the Company for $100.0 million. Prior to the exercised put, the Company accreted or decreted the mandatorily redeemable interest in a subsidiary through the redemption date to its estimated redemption value, never decreting below the NYT 's estimated minority interest. The Company updated its estimate of the redemption value and estimated minority interest each period. The Company recorded decrease of $6.9 million in 2006 as a result of the redemption, and decrease of $19.5 million in 2005 and accretion of $1.3 million in 2004 as a result of valuation adjustments to minority interest expense.

FitTV (formerly known as The Health Network)

Fox Entertainment Group (FEG) had the right, from December 2003 to February 2004, to put its FitTV interests back to the Company. In December 2003, FEG notified the Company of its intention to put its interest in FitTV back to the Company. The Company acquired this interest for approximately $92.9 million in 2005. The Company recorded decrease of $1.1 million in 2004 to minority interest expense.

Animal Planet LLC

In April 2004, the BBC notified the Company of its intention to put its interest in Animal Planet LLC back to the Company. The redemption value of $80.0 million was paid in April 2006. The Company recorded accretion of $30.0 million and $50.0 million in 2005 and 2004 to minority interest expense.

Animal Planet LP

One of the Company's stockholders held 44,000 senior preferred partnership units of Animal Planet LP (APLP) that have a redemption value of $44.0 million and carry a rate of return ranging from 8.75% to 13%. Payments are made quarterly and totaled $4.6 million during 2006 and 2005 and $5.8 million during 2004. APLP's senior preferred partnership units may be called by APLP during the period January 2007 through December 2011 for $44.0 million, and may be put to the Company by the holder beginning in January 2012 for $44.0 million. In January 2007, the Company exercised its call rights and paid $44.0 million plus accrued interest of $0.5 million on January 31, 2007. At December 31, 2006, and 2005, the Company has recorded this security at the redemption value of $44.0 million plus accrued returns of $5.0 million and $4.8 million. Preferred returns have been recorded as a component of interest expense based on a constant rate of return of 10.75% through the full term and aggregated $4.7 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004.

People & Arts Latin America and Animal Planet Channel Group

The BBC has the right, upon a failure of the People & Arts Latin America or the Animal Planet Channel Group (comprised of Animal Planet Europe, Animal Planet Asia, and Animal Planet Latin America), the Channel Groups, to achieve certain financial performance benchmarks to put its interests back to the Company for a value determined by a specified formula every three years which commenced December 31, 2002. The Company accretes the mandatorily redeemable equity in a subsidiary to its estimated redemption value through the applicable redemption date. The redemption value estimate is based on a contractual formula considering the projected results of each network within the channel group.

Based on the Company's calculated performance benchmarks, the BBC has the right to put their interests as of December 2005. The BBC has 90 days following the valuation of the Channel Groups by an independent appraiser to exercise their right. During 2006 the Company was notified that the BBC is evaluating whether to execute their rights under the agreement. As of December 31, 2006, the BBC has not advised the Company of their intention. The Company is now accreting to the 2008 redemption date and has estimated a redemption value of $45.9 million as of December 31, 2006. Accretion to the redemption value has been recorded as a component of minority interest expense of $9.1 million, $34.6 million, and $2.2 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004.

Expenses recorded in connection with operating leases, including rent expense, were $142.5 million, $142.1 million and $127.8 million for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004. The Company receives contributions from certain landlords to fund leasehold improvements. Such contributions are recorded as deferred rent and amortized as reductions to lease expense over the lease term. Certain of the Company's leases provide for rental rates that increase or decrease over time. The Company recognizes operating lease minimum rentals on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The Company's deferred rent balance was $37.4 million and $29.8 million at December 31, 2006 and 2005. The lease term begins on the date the Company has access to the leased property.

In August 2005, the Company subleased rented property and guaranteed third party performance under the lease. The guarantee for the $5.2 million value of the lease is full and unconditional, through March 2008. The Company has other guarantees totaling $4.1 million.

The Company has certain contingent considerations in connection with the acquisition of Petfinder.com payable in the event specific business metrics are achieved totaling up to $13.5 million over 3 years (see Note 4).

In connection with the long-term distribution agreements for certain of its European cable networks, the Company committed to pay a satellite system operator 25% to 49% of the fair value of these networks, if any, as of December 31, 2006. The Company completed negotiations for the renewed distribution agreements including additional European cable networks in January 2007, including an inducement payment of £100.0 million (approximately U.S. $185.4 million), which also settled any liabilities from the prior agreement. The value of the networks, and the Company's liability thereon, are materially impacted by the terms of future renewed distribution agreements with the satellite system operator. The commitment was designed as an inducement for renewed distribution agreements. As of December 31, 2006, the Company has recorded a liability of $10.4 million associated with this arrangement based on the range of estimated values of the networks at the termination of the agreement without renewed distribution agreements. The balance of the inducement payment will be deferred and amortized as a reduction of revenue over a five year period.

The Company is solely responsible for providing financial, operational and administrative support to the JVP, JVN, Animal Planet Latin America, People & Arts Latin America, Animal Planet Asia, and Animal Planet Europe ventures and has committed to do so through at least fiscal 2007.

The Company is involved in litigation incidental to the conduct of its business. In addition, the Company is involved in negotiations with organizations holding the rights to music used in the Company's content. As global music rights societies evolve, the Company uses all information available to estimate appropriate obligations. During 2005, DCI analyzed its music rights reserves and recorded a net reduction to cost of revenue of approximately $11.0 million. The Company believes the reserves related to these music rights are adequate and does not expect the outcome of such litigation and negotiations to have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations, cash flows, or financial position.

13. Employee Savings Plans

The Company maintains employee savings plans, defined contribution savings plans and a supplemental deferred compensation plan for certain management employees, together the Savings Plans. The Company contributions to the Savings Plans were $9.9 million, $8.2 million and $6.8 million during 2006, 2005 and 2004.

Table of ContentsDISCOVERY COMMUNICATIONS, INC.*Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (Continued)*14. Long-term Incentive Plans

In October 2005, the Company established a new long-term incentive plan. At inception of the plan, eligible participants in one of the Company's previously established long-term incentive plans chose to either continue in that plan or to redeem their vested units at the December 31, 2004 valuation and receive partially vested units in the new plan. Substantially all participants in the previously established plan redeemed their vested units and received partially vested units in the new plan. Certain eligible employees were granted new units in the new plan.

Units partially vested in the new plan have vesting similar to units in the previously established plan. New units awarded vest 25% per year. The units in the new plan are indexed to the market price of Class A DHC stock. Every two years, one quarter of the units awarded will expire and the employee will receive a cash payment for the increase in value throughout an eight-year period after the grant date. The Company has authorized the issuance of up to 31.9 million units under this plan.

Prior to October 2005, the Company maintained two unit-based, long-term incentive plans with substantially similar terms. Units were awarded to eligible employees following their one-year anniversary of hire and vested 25% per year thereafter. Upon exercise, participants received the increase in value from the date of issuance. The value of the units was based on changes in the Company's value as estimated by an external investment-banking firm utilizing a specified formula of Company business metrics. The average assumptions used in the valuation model included adjusted projected operating cash flows segregated by business group. The valuation also included a business group specific discount rate and terminal value based on business risk. The intrinsic value for unit appreciation had been recorded as compensation expense over the period the units were outstanding. In August 2005, the Company discontinued one of these plans, which resulted in the full vesting and cash redemption of units at the December 31, 2004 valuation, including a 25% premium on appreciated value.

Upon voluntary termination of employment, the Company distributes 75% of the intrinsic value of the participant's vested units, as participants are required to comply with post-employment obligations for one year in order to receive remaining benefits. The Company's cash disbursements under the new plan aggregated $0.3 million in 2006. There were no payments during 2005 related to the new plan. The Company's cash disbursements under the prior plans aggregated $325.8 million and $45.9 million during 2005 and 2004. Compensation expense under the prior plans was $20.4 million and $68.8 million in 2005 and 2004. The fair value of the units issued under the new plan has been determined using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. The expected volatility represents the calculated volatility of the DHC stock price over each of the various contractual terms. As a result of the limited trading history of the DHC stock, this amount was determined based on an analysis of DHC's industry peer group over the corresponding periods.

In 2006 and 2005, the weighted average assumptions used in this option-pricing model were as follows:

Weighted Average Assumptions	Year Ended December 31,
	2006	2005
Risk-free interest rate	4.79%	4.36%

Edgar Filing: Discovery Holding CO - Form 10-K

Expected term (years)	4.42	4.75
Expected volatility	27.07%	30.36%
Dividend yield	0%	0%

The weighted average grant date fair values of units granted during 2006 and 2005 were $6.48 and $5.83. The weighted average fair values of units outstanding are $6.71 and $6.63 at December 31, 2006 and 2005. Compensation expense in connection with the new plan was $39.2 million in 2006 and $29.1 million in 2005. Included in the 2005 expense is $12.8 million related to the exchange of the partially vested units which represents the difference between the fair value of the award and the intrinsic value of the award attributable to prior vesting. The accrued fair values of units outstanding under the new plan were $84.2 million and $45.5 million at December 31, 2006 and 2005.

The Company has Federal operating loss carryforwards of $56.7 million that begin to expire in 2021 and state operating loss carryforwards of $728.1 million in various state jurisdictions available to offset future taxable income that expire in various amounts through 2025. The Company also has $8.6 million of alternative minimum tax credits that do not have an expiration date.

Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance relating to the state tax benefits attributable to net operating losses in certain jurisdictions where realizability is not more likely than not.

16. Financial InstrumentsDerivative Financial Instruments

The Company uses derivative financial instruments to modify its exposure to market risks from changes in interest rates and foreign exchange rates. The Company does not hold or enter into financial instruments for speculative trading purposes.

The Company's interest expense is exposed to movements in short-term interest rates. Derivative instruments, including both fixed to variable and variable to fixed interest rate instruments, are used to modify this exposure. These instruments include a combination of swaps, caps, collars, and other structured instruments to modify interest rate exposure. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, the variable to fixed interest rate instruments have a notional principal amount of $1,025.0 million and $1,200.0 million and have a weighted average interest rate of 5.09% and 5.82%. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, the fixed to variable interest rate agreements have a notional principal amount of $225.0 million and have a weighted average interest rate of 9.86% and 8.39%. At December 31, 2006, the Company held an unexercised interest rate swap put with a notional amount of $25.0 million at a fixed rate of 5.44%. As a result of unrealized mark to market adjustments, the Company recorded $10.4 million, $29.1 million and $44.1 million in gains on these instruments during 2006, 2005 and 2004. The fair value of these derivative instruments is recorded as a component of long-term liabilities and other current liabilities in the consolidated balance sheets. Changes in the fair value of these derivative instruments are recorded as a component of operating cash flows. These derivative instruments did not receive hedge accounting treatment.

The foreign exchange instruments used are spot, forward, and option contracts. Additionally, the Company enters into non-designated forward contracts to hedge non-dollar denominated cash flows and foreign currency balances. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, the notional amount of foreign exchange derivative contracts was $364.1 million and $91.4 million. As a result of unrealized mark to market adjustments, the Company recognized a $2.0 million gain and $2.3 million and $0.4 million in losses on these instruments during 2006, 2005 and 2004. The fair value of these derivative instruments is recorded as a component of long-term liabilities and other current liabilities in the consolidated balance sheets. These derivative instruments did not receive hedge accounting treatment.

During 2005, the Company entered into several treasury locks to hedge a forecasted debt financing transaction. The value of the hedges at closing was $3.3 million. These derivatives received hedge accounting treatment and the deferred gain has been recorded as a component of Other Comprehensive Income (Loss), net of taxes and is being amortized as an adjustment to interest expense.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair values of cash and cash equivalents, receivables, and accounts payable approximate their carrying values. Marketable equity securities are carried at fair value and fluctuations in fair value are recorded through other comprehensive income. Losses on investments that are other than temporary declines in value are recorded in the statement of operations.

The carrying amount of the Company's borrowings was $2,641 million and the fair value was $2,702.0 million at December 31, 2006. The carrying amount of the Company's borrowings was $2,597.0 million and the fair value was $2,674.0 million at December 31, 2005.

The carrying amount of all derivative instruments represents their fair value. The net fair value of the Company's short and long-term derivative instruments is $(6.5) million at December 31, 2006; 18.0%, 37.0%, 0.0%, 2.0%, and 43.0% of these derivative instrument contracts will expire in 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010 and thereafter. The net fair value of the Company's short and long-term derivative instruments was $(19.8) million at December 31, 2005.

The fair value of derivative contracts was estimated by obtaining interest rate and volatility market data from brokers. As of December 31, 2006, an estimated 100 basis point parallel shift in the interest rate yield curve would change the fair value of the Company's portfolio by approximately $9.5 million.

Credit Concentrations

The Company continually monitors its positions with, and the credit quality of, the financial institutions that are counterparties to its financial instruments and does not anticipate nonperformance by the counterparties. In addition, the Company limits the amount of investment credit exposure with any one institution.

The Company's trade receivables and investments do not represent a significant concentration of credit risk at December 31, 2006 due to the wide variety of customers and markets in which the Company operates and their dispersion across many geographic areas.

17. Related Party Transactions

The Company identifies related parties as investors and their consolidated businesses, the Company's equity investments, and the Company's executive management. The most significant transactions with related parties result from companies that distribute networks, produce content, or provide media uplink services. Gross revenue earned from related parties was $90.0 million, $73.7 million and $71.8 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004. Accounts receivable from these entities were $15.0 million and $17.0 million at December 31, 2006 and 2005. Purchases from related parties totaled $83.3 million, $71.4 million, and $133.2 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004; of these $8.4 million, $23.1 million and $91.0 million relate to capitalized assets. Amounts payable to these parties totaled $2.4 million and $2.3 million at December 31, 2006 and 2005.
