QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER AND THE SPECIAL MEETINGS

Q. Why am I receiving this document?

A. Independent and Benjamin Franklin have agreed to the acquisition of Benjamin Franklin by Independent under the terms of a merger agreement that is described in this document. A copy of the merger agreement is attached to this document as Annex A. In order to complete the merger, Independent's shareholders must vote to approve the issuance of Independent stock in connection with the merger and Benjamin Franklin's shareholders must vote to approve the merger agreement. Both Independent and Benjamin Franklin will hold special meetings of their respective shareholders to obtain these approvals. This document contains important information about the merger, the share issuance in connection with the merger, the merger agreement, the special meetings, and other related matters, and you should read it carefully. The enclosed voting materials for the special meeting allow you to vote your shares of common stock without attending the special meeting.

Q. What will happen to Benjamin Franklin as a result of the merger?

A. If the merger is completed, Benjamin Franklin will be acquired by Independent.

Q. What will Benjamin Franklin's shareholders receive in the merger?

A. Benjamin Franklin's shareholders will be entitled to receive in the merger 0.59 shares of Independent common stock for each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock they own. The Independent common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the trading symbol INDB. Independent will not issue fractional shares of its common stock, but will instead cash out any fractional shares at a price determined by the average closing prices of Independent common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for the twenty-five (25) trading days ending on the fifth (5th) trading day immediately preceding the completion of the merger.

Q. What will Independent's shareholders receive in the merger?

A. Each share of Independent common stock outstanding held by Independent's shareholders immediately before the merger will continue to represent one share of Independent common stock after the effective time of the merger. Accordingly, Independent's shareholders will receive no consideration in the merger and the merger will not change the number of shares an Independent shareholder currently owns. After the merger, however, the current shareholders of Independent as a group will own approximately 77.9% of Independent, a percentage ownership of the combined organization smaller than such shareholder's percentage ownership of Independent before the merger.

Q. When will the merger be completed?

A. We expect the merger will be completed when all of the conditions to completion contained in the merger agreement are satisfied or waived, including obtaining required regulatory approvals, the approval of the merger share issuance by Independent's shareholders at the Independent special meeting and the adoption of the merger agreement by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting. We currently expect to complete the merger during the second calendar quarter of 2009. However, because fulfillment of some of the conditions to completion of the merger, such as receiving required regulatory approvals, is not entirely within our control, we cannot predict the actual timing.

Q. Who is being asked to approve matters in connection with the merger?

- A. Independent's shareholders and Benjamin Franklin's shareholders are being asked to vote to approve the merger-related proposals.

Under rules of The NASDAQ Stock Market, Inc., Independent's shareholders are required to approve the issuance of Independent common stock to the shareholders of Benjamin Franklin in connection with the merger. By this joint proxy statement/prospectus, Independent's board of directors is soliciting the proxies of Independent's shareholders to provide this approval at the special meeting of Independent's shareholders discussed below.

Under Massachusetts law, the merger cannot be consummated unless Benjamin Franklin's shareholders vote to adopt the merger agreement and approve the merger. By this joint proxy statement/prospectus, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors is soliciting proxies of Benjamin Franklin's shareholders to provide this approval at the special meeting of Benjamin Franklin's shareholders discussed below.

Q. Should Benjamin Franklin shareholders send in their stock certificates now?

A. No, Benjamin Franklin shareholders should not send in any stock certificates now. If the merger is approved, Independent will send Benjamin Franklin's shareholders written instructions on how to exchange their stock certificates for the merger consideration.

Q. Will I be able to trade the shares of Independent common stock that I receive in the merger?

A. You may freely trade the shares of Independent common stock issued in the merger, unless you are deemed an affiliate of Independent. Independent shares are quoted on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol INDB. Persons who are considered affiliates (generally directors, officers and 10% or greater shareholders) of Independent may resell shares of Independent common stock received in the merger only if the shares are registered for resale under the Securities Act or an exemption is available. We will notify you if we believe you are deemed an affiliate of Independent as a result of the merger.

Q. What are the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to me?

A. We expect the merger to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. If the merger qualifies as a reorganization, the exchange of your shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock for shares of Independent common stock will result in neither a gain nor loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes, except with respect to any cash received in lieu of fractional shares of Independent common stock and cash received in connection with the exercise of dissenter's rights.

Benjamin Franklin shareholders are urged to read the discussion in the section entitled "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger" beginning on page 86 of this document and to consult their tax advisers as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger, as well as the effect of state, local, foreign and other tax laws and of any proposed changes to applicable tax laws.

Q. Are there any risks that I should consider in deciding whether to vote for approval of the merger?

A. Yes. You should read and carefully consider the risk factors set forth in the section in this document titled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 8.

Q. When and where will Benjamin Franklin's shareholders meet?

A. Benjamin Franklin will hold a special meeting of its shareholders on [], 2009], at [:] a.m., Eastern Standard Time, at [] located at [].

Q. What matters are Benjamin Franklin's shareholders being asked to approve at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting pursuant to this joint proxy statement/prospectus?

A. Benjamin Franklin's shareholders are being asked to adopt the merger agreement and approve the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger. We refer to this proposal as the "Benjamin Franklin merger agreement proposal."

Benjamin Franklin's shareholders also are being asked to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to permit further solicitation of proxies in favor of the Benjamin Franklin merger agreement proposal, which we refer to as the Benjamin Franklin adjournment proposal.

Q. What does Benjamin Franklin's board of directors recommend with respect to the two proposals?

- A. Benjamin Franklin's board of directors has unanimously approved the merger agreement and determined that the merger agreement and the merger are fair to, advisable and in the best interests of Benjamin Franklin and its shareholders and unanimously recommends that Benjamin Franklin's shareholders vote FOR the Benjamin Franklin merger agreement proposal.

Benjamin Franklin's board of directors also unanimously recommends that Benjamin Franklin's shareholders vote FOR the Benjamin Franklin adjournment proposal.

Table of Contents

Q. Who can vote at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting?

- A. Holders of record of Benjamin Franklin common stock at the close of business on [], 2009], which is the record date for the Benjamin Franklin special meeting, are entitled to vote at the special meeting.

Q. How many votes must be represented in person or by proxy at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting to have a quorum?

- A. The holders of a majority of the shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the special meeting, present in person or represented by proxy, will constitute a quorum at the special meeting.

Q. What vote by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders is required to approve the Benjamin Franklin special meeting proposals?

- A. Assuming a quorum is present at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting, approval of the Benjamin Franklin merger agreement proposal will require the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock. Abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as shares voted against the merger agreement proposal.

Assuming a quorum is present at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting, approval of the Benjamin Franklin adjournment proposal will require the affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power of the shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote on the adjournment proposal. Abstentions will have the same effect as shares voted against the Benjamin Franklin adjournment proposal, and broker non-votes will not affect whether the Benjamin Franklin adjournment proposal is approved.

The Merger and the Merger Agreement (see pages 38 and 69)

The terms and conditions of the merger are contained in the merger agreement, which is attached as Annex A to this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Please carefully read the merger agreement, as it is the legal document that governs the merger. Under the terms of the merger agreement, a newly formed, wholly owned subsidiary of Independent will merge with and into Benjamin Franklin (the merger) and Benjamin Franklin will survive the merger as a wholly owned subsidiary of Independent. Upon completion of the merger, each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock will be converted into the right to receive 0.59 shares of Independent common stock, plus cash in lieu of any fractional share.

All outstanding unvested Benjamin Franklin stock options will become fully vested upon approval of the merger agreement and the merger by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders. With certain exceptions, holders of Benjamin Franklin options will be given the opportunity to elect to exchange their options for options to purchase Independent common stock. The per share exercise price of such options will be adjusted by dividing such exercise price by the exchange ratio of 0.59 per share, and the number of shares covered by such options will be adjusted by multiplying the number of Benjamin Franklin shares covered by such option by 0.59. All options exchanged for options to purchase Independent common stock will remain outstanding until two years following the effective time of the merger, regardless of continuation of employment. If an option holder does not elect to exchange his or her Benjamin Franklin options for Independent options, such holder's options will be cancelled upon consummation of the merger, and the holder will receive a cash payment upon such cancellation in an amount equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock provided for by such option and (ii) the excess, if any, of (a) the closing value of the merger consideration over (b) the exercise price of the option. For this purpose, closing value of the merger consideration means the product of (x) the average closing prices of Independent common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for the twenty-five (25) trading days ending on the fifth (5th) trading day immediately preceding the completion of the merger, multiplied by (y) the exchange ratio of 0.59 per share.

The holders of Independent common stock receive dividends as and when declared by Independent's board of directors. Independent declared quarterly cash dividends of $0.17 per share of common stock for each quarter in 2007 and dividends of $0.18 per share of common stock for each of the first three quarters of 2008. Following the completion of the merger, subject to approval and declaration by Independent's board of directors, Independent expects to continue paying quarterly cash dividends on a basis consistent with past practices.

Prior to completion of the merger, Benjamin Franklin's shareholders will continue to receive any regular quarterly dividends declared and paid Benjamin Franklin, at a rate not to exceed $0.08 per share of Benjamin Franklin common stock.

Financial Adviser Opinion Presented to the Independent Board of Directors (see page 48)

Robert W. Baird & Co. Incorporated (Baird) has provided an opinion to Independent's board of directors, dated as of November 8, 2008, to the effect that, as of that date and based upon and subject to the assumptions made, procedures followed, methodologies used, factors considered and limitations upon the review undertaken by Baird as set forth in its opinion, the exchange ratio pursuant to the merger agreement of 0.59 shares of Independent common stock per share of Benjamin Franklin common stock was fair, from a financial point of view, to Independent. Baird was not requested to express, and did not express, any opinion with respect to any of the other terms, conditions, determinations or actions with respect to the merger. Additionally, Baird's opinion does not address the underlying business decision of Independent to proceed with or effect the merger or the relative merits of the merger as compared to other transactions that may have been available to Independent. We have attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex B, the full text of Baird's opinion, which sets forth, among other things, the assumptions made, procedures followed, methodologies used, factors considered and limitations upon the review undertaken by Baird in connection with its opinion. We urge you to read the opinion in its entirety. Baird's opinion is addressed to Independent's board of directors, is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the exchange ratio to Independent and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how any shareholder should vote with respect to any matter relating to the merger agreement or the merger. Baird has assumed no responsibility for updating or revising its opinion based on circumstances or events occurring after the date of its opinion. Independent has agreed to pay Baird a fee, a substantial portion of which is only payable upon completion of the merger or receipt of a termination fee from Benjamin Franklin.

(KBW), has provided an opinion to Benjamin Franklin's board of directors, dated as of November 8, 2008, to the effect that, as of that date and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth in the opinion, the exchange ratio pursuant to the merger agreement of 0.59 shares of Independent common stock per share of Benjamin Franklin common stock was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Benjamin Franklin common stock. We have attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex C, the full text of KBW's opinion, which sets forth, among other things, the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken by KBW in connection with its opinion. We urge you to read the opinion in its entirety. KBW's opinion is addressed to Benjamin Franklin's board of directors, is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the exchange ratio to the holders of Benjamin Franklin common stock and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how that shareholder should vote on the merger agreement. Pursuant to an engagement letter between Benjamin Franklin and KBW, Benjamin Franklin has agreed to pay KBW a fee, a substantial portion of which is payable only upon completion of the merger.

Recommendation of Benjamin Franklin's Board of Directors and Reasons for the Merger (see page 46)

Benjamin Franklin's board of directors has unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the merger are fair to, advisable and in the best interests of Benjamin Franklin and its shareholders and accordingly unanimously recommends that Benjamin Franklin's shareholders vote FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

In determining whether to approve the merger agreement, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors consulted with certain of its senior management and with its legal and financial advisers. In arriving at its determination, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors also considered the factors described under The Merger Recommendation of Benjamin Franklin's Board of Directors and Reasons for the Merger.

Interests of Benjamin Franklin's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger (see page 65)

Some of the directors and executive officers of Benjamin Franklin have financial interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, the interests of other Benjamin Franklin's shareholders generally. These interests include rights of executive officers under their existing employment, change-in-control and supplemental retirement agreements, which rights are being provided through settlement agreements executed in connection with the merger agreement; rights under Benjamin Franklin's equity-based benefit programs and awards; rights under Benjamin Franklin's director fee continuation plan; rights to continued board service (with respect to Thomas R. Venables and two other Benjamin Franklin representatives selected by Independent); and rights to continued indemnification and insurance coverage by Independent after the merger for acts and omissions occurring before the merger.

The boards of directors of Independent and Benjamin Franklin were aware of these interests and considered them, among other matters, in approving the merger agreement and related transactions.

Table of Contents

Benjamin Franklin Directors and Certain Executive Officers Have Agreed to Vote in Favor of the Merger Agreement (see page 84)

On November 8, 2008, the directors and certain executive officers of Benjamin Franklin had sole or shared voting power over 667,268 shares, or approximately 8.5%, of the outstanding shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock. Boards of Directors after the Merger (see page 69)

Contingent upon consummation of the merger, Mr. Venables and two other Benjamin Franklin representatives will be elected to the boards of directors of Independent and Rockland Trust. Independent will select the two other individuals who, in addition to Mr. Venables, will serve as directors following consummation of the merger in its sole discretion from among the Benjamin Franklin directors other than Mr. Venables who meet the qualifications described in the merger agreement and Benjamin Franklin's Chief Financial Officer. The three directors will be eligible to serve an initial term, with commercially reasonable efforts to be used to nominate each of them for an additional term so long as they remain qualified to serve, with one director's initial term to expire at the 2010 annual meeting of shareholders and the other two directors' initial terms to expire at the 2011 annual meeting of shareholders.

Non-Solicitation (see page 76)

Benjamin Franklin has agreed that it will not solicit or knowingly encourage any inquiries or proposals regarding any acquisition proposals by third parties. Benjamin Franklin may respond to unsolicited proposals in certain circumstances if required by Benjamin Franklin's board of directors' fiduciary duties. Benjamin Franklin must promptly notify Independent if it receives any acquisition proposals.

the receipt and effectiveness of all regulatory approvals, registrations and consents (none of which shall contain a burdensome condition, as defined in the merger agreement), and the expiration of all waiting periods required to complete the merger;

Termination of the Merger Agreement (see page 80)

Independent and Benjamin Franklin may mutually agree at any time to terminate the merger agreement without completing the merger, even if Independent's shareholders or Benjamin Franklin's shareholders have approved the merger transactions. Also, either Independent or Benjamin Franklin can terminate the merger agreement in various circumstances, including the following:

if any regulatory approval necessary for consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement is not obtained;

if the merger is not completed by April 30, 2009;

if the other party breaches the merger agreement in a way that would entitle the party seeking to terminate the merger agreement not to consummate the merger, subject to the right of the breaching party to cure the breach by the earlier of 30 days following written notice or two business days before April 30, 2009 (unless it is not possible due to the nature or timing of the breach for the breaching party to cure the breach);

if Independent's shareholders do not approve the issuance of Independent common stock in connection with the merger and the transactions contemplated thereby; or if Benjamin Franklin's shareholders do not approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

Additionally, Independent may terminate the merger agreement if:

Benjamin Franklin has materially breached its non-solicitation obligations described under The Merger Agreement - No Solicitation of Alternative Transactions beginning on page 76;

Benjamin Franklin's board fails to recommend in this joint proxy statement/prospectus the approval of the merger agreement;

Benjamin Franklin's board of directors recommends, proposes or publicly announces its intention to recommend or propose, to engage in an Acquisition Transaction with any party other than Independent or a subsidiary of Independent; or

Benjamin Franklin breaches its obligation to call, give notice of, convene and hold a meeting of shareholders for the purpose of approving the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

Benjamin Franklin may also terminate the merger agreement if it enters into a Superior Proposal as described under The Merger Agreement - No Solicitation of Alternative Transactions, so long as it pays a termination fee of $4.5 million to Independent.

Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger (see page 64)

Completion of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement is subject to various regulatory approvals, including approval from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Board of Bank Incorporation of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Commissioner of Banks, and the Federal Reserve Board. Independent and Benjamin Franklin have completed, or will complete, filing all of the required applications and notices with regulatory authorities. Although we do not know of any reason why we would not be able to obtain the necessary regulatory approvals in a timely manner, we cannot be certain when or if we will receive them.

Rights of Independent Shareholders Differ from Those of Benjamin Franklin Shareholders (see page 95)

When the merger is completed, Benjamin Franklin's shareholders who receive Independent common stock as consideration in the merger will automatically become Independent's shareholders. The rights of Independent's shareholders differ from the rights of Benjamin Franklin's shareholders in important ways. Many of these differences relate to provisions in Independent's articles of organization and bylaws that differ from those of Benjamin Franklin. Some of these provisions are intended to make a takeover of Independent harder if Independent's board of directors does not approve it.

Table of ContentsThe Merger Generally Will Be Tax-Free to Holders of Benjamin Franklin Common Stock to the Extent They Receive Independent Common Stock (see page 86)

Independent and Benjamin Franklin have structured the merger with the intent that the merger qualify as a tax-free reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. If the merger so qualifies, receipt of shares of Independent common stock by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders in exchange for their shares of Benjamin Franklin stock generally will not be a taxable exchange for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Benjamin Franklin's shareholders, however, will be taxed on any cash they receive instead of fractional shares of Independent stock and in connection with the exercise of dissenter's rights. Tax matters are complicated, and the specific tax consequences of the merger to each Benjamin Franklin shareholder will depend on the facts of the Benjamin Franklin shareholder's own situation. If you are a Benjamin Franklin shareholder, you are urged to read carefully the information regarding U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger contained in this document, and to consult with your tax adviser regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to you, as well as the effect of state, local, foreign and other tax laws and of any proposed changes to applicable tax laws.

Dissenters' Rights of Appraisal (see page 32)

Benjamin Franklin has concluded that shareholders may be entitled to assert appraisal rights under Sections 13.01 to 13.31 of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act. However, the relevant sections of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act have not yet been the subject of judicial interpretation. Any shareholder who believes he is or may be entitled to appraisal rights and seeks to assert them in connection with the merger must deliver to Benjamin Franklin, before the vote is taken at the special meeting, written notice of his intent to demand payment for his shares in the manner specified in the statute, and must not vote his shares in favor of the merger. A copy of the applicable Massachusetts Business Corporation Act provisions is attached as Annex D to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Table of ContentsRISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, including the matters addressed under Forward-Looking Information, Independent's shareholders should carefully consider the following risks before deciding whether to vote for approval of the issuance of the shares of Independent common stock in the merger and Benjamin Franklin's shareholders should carefully consider the following risks before deciding whether to vote for adoption of the merger agreement. In addition, shareholders of Independent and Benjamin Franklin should read and consider the risks associated with each of the businesses of Independent and Benjamin Franklin because these risks will relate to the combined company. Certain of these risks can be found in Independent's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007, which is incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and in Benjamin Franklin's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007, and quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2008, which reports are incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. You should also consider the other information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the other documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. See Where You Can Find More Information and Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference beginning on page 104.

Risks Related to the Merger

Benjamin Franklin's shareholders will receive a fixed ratio of 0.59 shares of Independent common stock for each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock regardless of any changes in the market value of Benjamin Franklin common stock or Independent common stock before the completion of the merger.

Upon completion of the merger, each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock will be converted into the right to receive 0.59 shares of Independent common stock. There will be no adjustment to the exchange ratio (except for adjustments to reflect the effect of any stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reclassification or other similar transaction with respect to Benjamin Franklin common stock), and the parties do not have a right to terminate the merger agreement based upon changes in the market price of either Independent common stock or Benjamin Franklin common stock. Accordingly, the dollar value of Independent common stock that Benjamin Franklin's shareholders will receive upon completion of the merger will depend upon the market value of Independent common stock at the time of completion of the merger, which may be different from, and lower than, the closing price of Independent common stock on the last full trading day preceding public announcement that Independent and Benjamin Franklin entered into the merger agreement, the last full trading day prior to the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus or the date of the shareholder meetings. Moreover, completion of the merger will occur some time after the requisite shareholder approvals have been obtained, since certain regulatory approvals will not be granted until after the shareholders have voted. The market values of Independent common stock and Benjamin Franklin common stock have varied since Independent and Benjamin Franklin entered into the merger agreement and will continue to vary in the future due to changes in the business, operations or prospects of Independent and Benjamin Franklin, market assessments of the merger, regulatory considerations, market and economic considerations, and other factors both within and beyond the control of Independent and Benjamin Franklin.

Benjamin Franklin will be subject to business uncertainties and contractual restrictions while the merger is pending.

Uncertainty about the effect of the merger on employees and customers may have an adverse effect on Benjamin Franklin and consequently on Independent. These uncertainties may impair Benjamin Franklin's ability to attract, retain and motivate key personnel until the merger is consummated, and could cause customers and others that deal with Benjamin Franklin to seek to change existing business relationships with Benjamin Franklin. Retention of certain employees may be challenging during the pendency of the merger, as certain employees may experience uncertainty about their future roles with Independent. If key employees depart because of issues relating to the uncertainty and difficulty of integration or a desire not to remain with Independent, Independent's business following the merger could be harmed. In addition, the merger agreement restricts Benjamin Franklin from making certain acquisitions and taking other specified actions until the merger occurs without the consent of Independent. These restrictions may prevent Benjamin Franklin from pursuing attractive business opportunities that may arise prior to the completion of the merger. Please see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement – Conduct of Business Pending the Merger" of this joint proxy statement/prospectus for a description of the restrictive covenants to which Benjamin Franklin is subject.

Independent may fail to realize all of the anticipated benefits of the merger, particularly if the integration of Independent's and Benjamin Franklin's businesses is more difficult than expected.

The success of the merger will depend, in part, on our ability to successfully combine the businesses of Independent and Benjamin Franklin. Independent may fail to realize some or all of the anticipated benefits of the transaction if the integration process takes longer than expected or is more costly than expected. Furthermore, any number of unanticipated adverse occurrences for either the business of Benjamin Franklin or Independent may cause us to fail to realize some or all of the expected benefits. The integration process could result in the loss of key employees, the disruption of each company's ongoing businesses or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies that adversely affect our ability to maintain relationships with clients, customers, depositors and employees or to achieve the anticipated benefits of the merger. Each of these issues might adversely affect either Independent, Benjamin Franklin, or both during the transition period, resulting in adverse effects on Independent following the merger. As a result, revenues may be lower than expected or prices may be higher than expected and the overall benefits of the merger may not be as great as anticipated.

The market price of Independent common stock after the merger may be affected by factors different from those affecting Independent common stock or Benjamin Franklin common stock currently.

The business of Independent and Benjamin Franklin differ in some respect and, accordingly, the results of operations of the combined company and the market price of Independent's shares of common stock after the merger may be affected by factors different from those currently affecting the independent results of operations of each of Independent or Benjamin Franklin. For a discussion of the businesses of Independent and Benjamin Franklin and of certain factors to consider in connection with those businesses, see the document incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus and referred to under "Where You Can Find More Information" and "Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference" beginning on page 104.

Some of the directors and executive officers of Benjamin Franklin may have interests and arrangements that may have influenced their decisions to support or recommend that you approve the merger.

The interests of some of the directors and executive officers of Benjamin Franklin may be different from those of Benjamin Franklin's shareholders, and directors and officers of Benjamin Franklin may be participants in arrangements that are different from, or are in addition to, those of Benjamin Franklin shareholders. These interests are described in more detail in the section of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled "The Merger – Interests of Benjamin Franklin's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger" of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The merger agreement limits Benjamin Franklin's ability to pursue alternatives to the merger.

The merger agreement contains provisions that limit Benjamin Franklin's ability to discuss competing third-party proposals to acquire all or substantially all of Benjamin Franklin. These provisions, which include a $4.5 million termination fee payable under certain circumstances, might discourage a potential competing acquiror that might have an interest in acquiring all or substantially all of Benjamin Franklin from considering or proposing that acquisition even if it were prepared to pay consideration with a higher per share market price than that proposed in the merger, or might result in a potential competing acquiror proposing to pay a lower per share price to acquire Benjamin Franklin than it might otherwise have proposed to pay.

Table of Contents

Regulatory approvals may not be received, may take longer than expected or impose conditions that are not presently anticipated.

Before the merger may be completed, certain approvals or consents must be obtained from the various bank regulatory and other authorities in the United States and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. These governmental entities, including the Federal Reserve Board and the Board of Bank Incorporation may impose conditions on the completion of the merger or require changes to the terms of the merger. While Independent and Benjamin Franklin do not currently expect that any such conditions or changes would be imposed, there can be no assurance that they will not be, and such conditions or changes could have the effect of delaying completion of the merger or imposing additional costs on or limiting the revenues of Independent following the merger, any of which might have a material adverse effect on Independent following the merger. Independent is not obligated to complete the merger if the regulatory approvals received in connection with the completion of the merger include any conditions or restrictions that would constitute a Burdensome Condition as defined in the merger agreement.

There can be no assurance as to whether the regulatory approvals will be received or the timing of the approvals. For more information, see the section entitled The Merger Regulatory Approvals Required to Complete the Merger of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The unaudited pro forma financial data included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is preliminary and our actual financial position and results of operations after the merger may differ materially from the unaudited pro forma financial data included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The unaudited pro forma financial data in this joint proxy statement/prospectus are presented for illustrative purposes only and are not necessarily indicative of what the combined company's actual financial position or results of operations would have been had the merger been completed on the dates indicated. The pro forma financial data reflect adjustments, which are based upon preliminary estimates, to record the Benjamin Franklin identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed at fair value and the resulting goodwill recognized. The purchase price allocation reflected in this document is preliminary, and final allocation of the purchase price will be based upon the actual purchase price and the fair value of the assets and liabilities of Benjamin Franklin as of the date of the completion of the merger. Accordingly, the final purchase accounting adjustments may differ materially from the pro forma adjustments reflected in this document. For more information, see the section entitled Summary Historical and Unaudited Pro Forma Financial Information of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

If the merger is not consummated by April 30, 2009, either Independent or Benjamin Franklin may choose not to proceed with the merger.

Either Independent or Benjamin Franklin may terminate the merger agreement if the merger has not been completed by April 30, 2009, unless the failure of the merger to be completed has resulted from the failure of the party seeking to terminate the merger agreement to perform its obligations.

The shares of Independent common stock to be received by Benjamin Franklin shareholders as a result of the merger will have different rights from the shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock.

The rights associated with Benjamin Franklin common stock are different from the rights associated with Independent common stock. See the section of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled Comparison of Rights of Shareholders of Benjamin Franklin and Independent for a discussion of the different rights associated with Independent common stock.

Risks Related to Our Business

A continuation of recent turmoil in the financial markets, particularly if economic conditions worsen more than expected, could have an adverse effect on our financial position or results of operations.

In recent periods, United States and global markets, as well as general economic conditions, have been disrupted and are volatile. This situation is continuing and, since the beginning of the third quarter of 2008, has worsened significantly. The impact of this situation, together with concerns regarding the financial strength of financial institutions, has led to distress in credit markets and issues relating to liquidity among financial institutions. Some financial institutions around the world have failed; others have been forced to seek acquisition partners. The United States and other governments have taken unprecedented steps to try to stabilize the financial system, including investing in financial institutions. Our business and our financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected by (1) continued or accelerated disruption and volatility in financial markets, (2) continued capital and liquidity concerns regarding financial institutions generally and our counterparties specifically, (3) limitations resulting from further governmental action in an effort to stabilize or provide additional regulation of the financial system, or (4) recessionary conditions that are deeper or last longer than currently anticipated.

The soundness of other financial services institutions may adversely affect our credit risk.

We rely on other financial services institutions through trading, clearing, counterparty, and other relationships. We maintain limits and monitor concentration levels of our counterparties as specified in our internal policies. Our reliance on other financial services institutions exposes us to credit risk in the event of default by these institutions or counterparties. These losses could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

There can be no assurance that recent action by governmental agencies and regulators, as well as recently enacted legislation authorizing the U.S. government to invest in, and purchase large amounts of illiquid assets from, financial institutions will help stabilize the U.S. financial system.

In recent periods, various Federal agencies and bank regulators have taken steps to stabilize and stimulate the financial services industry. Changes also have been made in tax policy for financial institutions. In addition, on October 3, 2008, President Bush signed into law the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 (the EESA). The legislation reflects an initial legislative response to the financial crises affecting the banking system and financial markets and going concern threats to financial institutions. The EESA provides the U.S. Treasury with up to $700 billion for various measures intended to stabilize the financial markets. As an initial program, the U.S. Treasury is exercising its authority to purchase an aggregate of $250 billion of capital instruments from financial entities throughout the United States. There can be no assurance, however, as to the actual impact that the EESA will have on the financial markets, including the extreme levels of volatility and limited credit availability currently being experienced. The failure of the EESA to help stabilize the financial markets and a continuation or worsening of current financial market conditions could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, access to credit or the trading price of our common stock.

Participation in the Treasury's Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP) may have a dilutive effect on current shareholders.

On October 14, 2008, the Treasury announced that as a part of the EESA, it will offer to qualifying U.S. banking organizations the opportunity to issue and sell preferred stock to the Treasury under the TARP Capital Purchase Program. In conjunction with the purchase of preferred stock, the Treasury will receive warrants to purchase common stock with an aggregate market price equal to 15% of the preferred stock investment. Participating financial institutions will be required to adopt the Treasury's standards for executive compensation and corporate governance for the period during which the Treasury holds equity issued under the TARP Capital Purchase Program. Independent has applied to participate in the TARP Capital Purchase Program. However, there can be no assurance that we will participate in the program and will receive funds under the program. In addition, if Independent participates in the TARP Capital Purchase Program, Independent will issue preferred stock and warrants to purchase common stock to the Treasury, which will have a dilutive effect on Independent's shareholders. Participation in the TARP Capital Purchase Program may also restrict Independent's ability to increase dividends it pays on its common stock.

We may elect or need to seek additional capital in the future, but that capital may not be available when needed.

We are required by federal and state regulatory authorities to maintain adequate levels of capital to support our operations. In the future, we may elect or need to raise additional capital. Our ability to raise additional capital, if needed, will depend on conditions in the capital markets at that time, which are outside our control, and on our financial performance. Accordingly, we cannot assure you of our ability to raise additional capital if needed on acceptable terms. If we cannot raise additional capital when needed, our ability to expand our operations through internal growth or acquisitions could be materially impaired.

Changes in interest rates could adversely impact our financial condition and results of operations.

Independent's ability to make a profit, like that of most financial institutions, substantially depends upon its net interest income, which is the difference between the interest income earned on interest earning assets, such as loans and investment securities, and the interest expense paid on interest-bearing liabilities, such as deposits and borrowings. However, certain assets and liabilities, may react differently to changes in market interest rates. Further, interest rates on some types of assets and liabilities may fluctuate prior to changes in broader market interest rates, while rates on other types of assets may lag behind. Additionally, some assets such as adjustable-rate mortgages, have features, and rate caps, which restrict changes in their interest rates.

Factors such as inflation, recession, unemployment, money supply, global disorder such as that experienced as a result of the terrorist activity on September 11, 2001, instability in domestic and foreign financial markets, and other factors beyond our control, may affect interest rates. Changes in market interest rates will also affect the level of voluntary prepayments on loans and the receipt of payments on mortgage-backed securities, resulting in the receipt of proceeds that may have to be reinvested at a lower rate than the loan or mortgage-backed security being prepaid. Although Independent pursues an asset-liability management strategy designed to control its risk from changes in market interest rates, changes in interest rates can still have a material adverse effect on our profitability.

The first nine months of 2008 were highlighted by disruption and volatility in the financial and credit markets, primarily due to the fallout associated with rising defaults within many subprime mortgage-backed structured investment vehicles (SIVs). A major consequence of these market conditions has been significant tightening in the availability of credit, especially as it relates to the activity of the secondary residential mortgage market. These conditions have been exacerbated further by the continuation of a correction in (mostly residential-related) real estate market prices and sales activity and rising foreclosure rates, resulting in considerable mortgage loan related losses incurred by many lending institutions. The present state of the mortgage market has impacted the global markets as well as the domestic markets and has led to a significantly tightened environment in terms of credit and liquidity during the first half of 2008. In addition, economic growth has slowed down both nationally and globally, leading many economists and market observers to conclude that the national economy is bordering on recession.

We do not originate subprime mortgages to hold within our residential mortgage portfolio and we aim to diversify our entire lending portfolio, to the extent possible, across a variety of different loan types including: small business lines and loans, commercial & industrial lines and loans, commercial real estate mortgages, construction loans, direct and indirect consumer loans, residential mortgages and home equity loans. Nevertheless, there are risk elements that we may not be able to fully diversify out of our portfolio, such as its geographic concentration in southeastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Consequently, the credit quality and the continued performance of our lending portfolio is susceptible to the effects of general economic weakness and, in particular, a downturn in the housing industry, especially as these weaknesses relate to Independent's primary geographic markets of southeastern Massachusetts and

Rhode Island. During the first nine months of 2008, Independent experienced incremental increases in both non-performing loans and net loan charge-offs, as compared to prior periods. No assurance can be given that the economic and market conditions precedent will improve or will not further deteriorate. Hence, the persistence or worsening of such conditions could result in an increase in delinquencies, could cause a decrease in our interest income, or could continue to have an adverse impact on our loan loss experience, which, in turn, may necessitate increases to our allowance for loan losses.

If we have higher loan losses than we have allowed for, our earnings could materially decrease.

Our loan customers may not repay loans according to their terms, and the collateral securing the payment of loans may be insufficient to assure repayment. We may therefore experience significant credit losses which could have a material adverse effect on our operating results. We make various assumptions and judgments about the collectability of our loan portfolio, including the creditworthiness of borrowers and the value of the real estate and other assets serving as collateral for the repayment of loans. In determining the size of the allowance for loan losses, we rely on our experience and our evaluation of economic conditions. If our assumptions prove to be incorrect, our current allowance for loan losses may not be sufficient to cover losses inherent in our loan portfolio and adjustment may be necessary to allow for different economic conditions or adverse developments in our loan portfolio. Consequently, a problem with one or more loans could require us to significantly increase the level of our provision for loan losses. In addition, federal and state regulators periodically review our allowance for loan losses and may require us to increase our provision for loan losses or recognize further loan charge-offs. Material additions to the allowance would materially decrease our net income.

A significant amount of our loans are concentrated in Massachusetts, and the adverse conditions in this area could negatively impact our operations.

Substantially all of the loans we originate are secured by properties located in or are made to businesses which operate in Massachusetts. Because of the current concentration of our loan origination activities in Massachusetts, the current adverse economic conditions and downward pressure on housing prices, as well as increased unemployment may affect Massachusetts and the ability of property owners and businesses in Massachusetts to make payments of principal and interest on the underlying loans. We may experience higher rates of loss and delinquency on our loans than if our loans were more geographically diversified, which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations or financial condition.

Impairments in the value of our securities portfolio could adversely affect our results of operations.

Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, we are required to review our investment portfolio periodically for the presence of other-than-temporary impairment of our securities, taking into consideration current market conditions, the extent and nature of change in fair value, issuer rating changes and trends, volatility of earnings, current analysts' evaluations, our ability and intent to hold investments until a recovery of fair value, as well as other factors. Adverse developments with respect to one or more of the foregoing factors has required us to deem particular securities to be other-than-temporarily impaired, with the reduction in the value recognized as a charge to our earnings. Recent market volatility has made it extremely difficult to value certain of our securities. Subsequent valuations, in light of factors prevailing at that time, may result in significant changes in the values of these securities in future periods. Any of these factors could require us to recognize further impairments in the value of our securities portfolio, which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations in future periods.

We operate in a highly regulated environment and may be adversely impacted by changes in law and regulations.

We are subject to extensive regulation, supervision and examination. Any change in the laws or regulations and failure by us to comply with applicable law and regulation, or a change in regulators supervisory policies or examination procedures, whether by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Banks, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve Board, other state or federal regulators, the

United States Congress, or the Massachusetts legislature could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

We have strong competition within our market area which may limit our growth and profitability.

We face significant competition both in attracting deposits and in the origination of loans. Commercial banks, credit unions, savings banks, savings and loan associations operating in our primary market area have historically provided most of our competition for deposits. Competition for the origination of real estate and other loans come from other commercial banks, thrift institutions, insurance companies, finance companies, other institutional lenders and mortgage companies.

Our success is dependent on hiring and retaining certain key personnel.

Our performance is largely dependent on the talents and efforts of highly skilled individuals. We rely on key personnel to manage and operate our business, including major revenue generating functions such as loan and deposit generation. The loss of key staff may adversely affect our ability to maintain and manage these functions effectively, which could negatively affect our revenues. In addition, loss of key personnel could result in increased recruiting and hiring expenses, which could cause a decrease in our net income. Our continued ability to compete effectively depends on our ability to attract new employees and to retain and motivate our existing employees.

- (1) Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation (FIN) No. 46 Revised. Consolidation of Variable Entities an Interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletin FIN. 51 (FIN 46R) required Independent to deconsolidate its two subsidiary trusts (Independent Capital Trust III and Independent Capital Trust IV) on March 31, 2004. The result of deconsolidating these subsidiary trusts is that trust preferred securities of the trusts, which were classified between liabilities and equity on the balance sheet (mezzanine section), no longer appear on the consolidated balance sheets of Independent. The related minority interest expense also is no longer included in the consolidated statement of income. Due to FIN 46R, the junior subordinated debentures of the parent company that were previously eliminated in consolidation are now included in the consolidated balance sheets within total borrowings. The interest expense on the junior subordinated debentures is included in the calculation of net interest margin of the consolidated company, negatively impacting the net interest margin by approximately 0.13% for the twelve months ending December 31, 2004 on an annualized basis and 0.16% for the fiscal years to follow. There is no impact on net income as the amount of interest previously recognized as minority interest is equal to the amount of interest expense.

Table of ContentsUNAUDITED PRO FORMA FINANCIAL DATA

The following unaudited pro forma condensed combined consolidated balance sheet as of September 30, 2008 and unaudited pro forma condensed combined consolidated statements of income for the nine months ended September 30, 2008 and the year ended December 31, 2007 combine the historical financial statements of Independent and Benjamin Franklin. The unaudited pro forma financial statements give effect to the proposed merger of Benjamin Franklin with and into Independent as if the merger occurred on September 30, 2008 with respect to the balance sheet, and on January 1, 2008 and January 1, 2007 with respect to the statements of income for the nine months ended September 30, 2008 and the year ended December 31, 2007, respectively. The pro forma calculations, shown below, assume a closing price of $31.17, which represents the closing price of Independent's common stock on September 30, 2008. The unaudited pro forma financial statements give effect to the proposed merger under the acquisition method of accounting.

The unaudited pro forma information, while helpful in illustrating the financial characteristics of the combined company under one set of assumptions, does not reflect the benefits of expected cost savings or opportunities to earn additional revenue and, accordingly, does not attempt to predict or suggest future results. It also does not necessarily reflect what the historical results of the combined company would have been had our companies been combined during this period.

In December 2007, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Standards (SFAS) No. 141 Revised (SFAS 141R), which replaced SFAS 141, Business Combinations, for periods beginning on or after December 15, 2008, (January 1, 2009 for Independent) but retains the fundamental requirements in SFAS 141, that the acquisition method of accounting (which SFAS 141 called the purchase method) be used for all business combinations and for an acquirer to be identified for each business combination.

SFAS 141R revises the definition of the acquisition date as the date the acquirer obtains control of the acquiree. This is typically the closing date, and is used to measure the fair value of the consideration paid. When the acquirer issues equity instruments as full or partial payment for the acquiree, the fair value of the acquirer's equity instruments will be measured at the acquisition date, rather than an earlier measurement date as currently required under SFAS 141. Under SFAS 141R all loans are transferred at fair value, including adjustments for credit and no allowance is carried over. Transaction costs are excluded from the acquisition accounting. They are instead accounted for under other generally accepted accounting principles, which may mean the costs are expensed as incurred (e.g., due diligence costs), or, to the extent applicable, treated as a cost of issuing equity securities. Statement 141R nullifies EITF No. 95-3, Recognition of Liabilities in Connection with a Purchase Business Combination and requires costs associated with restructuring or exit activities that do not meet the recognition criteria in SFAS 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities as of the acquisition date to be subsequently recognized as post-combination costs when those criteria are met.

SFAS 141R also retains the guidance in SFAS 141 for identifying and recognizing intangible assets separately from goodwill. However, SFAS 141R's scope is broader than that of SFAS 141, which was applied to only business combinations in which control was obtained by transferring consideration. As the transaction is expected to close after January 1, 2009, the application of SFAS 141R was considered in arriving at the unaudited pro forma results in the tables provided below.

The acquisition method of accounting requires that all of Benjamin Franklin assets and liabilities be adjusted to their fair market values as of the date of acquisition. For purposes of the unaudited pro forma financial statements, fair market value of September 30, 2008 assets and liabilities has been estimated by management of Independent using market information available on September 30, 2008. Accordingly, these adjustments are only approximations. This information may not necessarily be indicative of the financial position or results of operations that would have occurred if the merger had been consummated on the date or at the beginning of the period indicated or which may be obtained in the future. Upon consummation of the merger, Independent will make adjustments as of the date of consummation based on appraisals and estimates.

Dissenters' Rights of Appraisal

Section 13.02(a)(1) of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act generally provides that shareholders of Massachusetts corporations are entitled to assert appraisal rights in the event of a merger. An exemption set forth in Section 13.02(a)(1)(A) of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act provides that shareholders are not entitled to appraisal rights in transactions that result in shareholders receiving marketable securities of the surviving corporation in exchange for marketable securities held by them. We believe that this exemption would clearly apply to the merger if it were structured as a direct merger of Benjamin Franklin into Independent. However, the merger is structured as a so-called reverse triangular merger, where Merger Sub will merge into Benjamin Franklin. As a technical legal matter, Independent will not be the surviving corporation in the merger, so the receipt of shares of Independent common stock by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders may not be deemed to constitute receipt of shares of the surviving corporation as provided for in Section 13.02 of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act.

Section 13.20 of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act requires us to report to shareholders our conclusion as to whether shareholders are, are not, or may be entitled to assert appraisal rights. We believe that the legislative intent was to provide an exemption from appraisal rights in transactions such as the merger. However, in light of the language of the statute as described in the previous paragraph, and since Section 13.02 has not yet been the subject of judicial interpretation, Benjamin Franklin has concluded that shareholders may be entitled to assert appraisal rights in connection with the merger.

If you believe that you are entitled to appraisal rights, you should do the following pursuant to Part 13 of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act:

deliver written notice of your intent to demand payment for your shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock to Anne M. King, Secretary, Benjamin Franklin Bancorp, Inc., 58 Main Street, Franklin, MA 02038 before the vote on the approval of the merger agreement is taken;

NOT vote for the approval of the merger agreement; and comply with other procedures as are required by Part 13 of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act.

As long as you do not vote for the approval of the merger agreement, failure to vote against the approval of the merger agreement does not constitute a waiver of your appraisal rights. However, in order to exercise any appraisal rights you may have, you must comply with the procedures as required by Part 13 of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act.

Table of Contents

Part 13 of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act requires that we deliver, within 10 days after the effective date of the merger, a written appraisal notice and forms containing certain information to all shareholders who have properly demanded appraisal rights. If appraisal rights are available in connection with the merger:

each shareholder that has properly perfected his appraisal rights will be entitled to a cash payment of the estimated fair value of the shares, plus interest but subject to any applicable withholding taxes, within 30 days of the written appraisal notice and forms due date;

a shareholder that fails to execute and return the forms, and comply with the terms stated therein, will not be entitled to such a payment; and if dissatisfied with the payment or offer, shareholders may demand further payment.

The foregoing summary is not intended to be a complete statement of the procedures for exercising appraisal rights under Part 13. Any shareholder who believes he or she is entitled to appraisal rights and who wishes to preserve those rights should carefully review Sections 13.01 through 13.31 of Part 13 of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act, attached as Annex D to this joint proxy statement/prospectus, which sets forth the procedures to be complied with in perfecting any such rights. In light of the complexity of Part 13 (and in particular, Section 13.02) of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act, those shareholders who may wish to dissent from the merger and pursue appraisal rights should consult their legal advisers, as failure to strictly comply with the procedures specified in Part 13 would result in the loss of any appraisal rights to which such shareholder may be entitled. Shareholders should also consult their tax advisers with regard to the particular federal, state, local, foreign and other tax consequences to them of exercising their appraisal rights under Massachusetts law.

Stock Certificates

You should not send in any certificates representing Benjamin Franklin common stock at this time. If the merger is approved, you will receive separate instructions for the exchange of your certificates representing Benjamin Franklin common stock. For more information regarding these instructions, please see the section in this document titled "The Merger Agreement - Exchange of Benjamin Franklin Stock Certificate for Independent Certificates" beginning on page 70 of this document.

Proposal to Approve Adjournment of the Benjamin Franklin Special Meeting

Benjamin Franklin is submitting a proposal for consideration at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting to authorize the named proxies to approve one or more adjournments of the Benjamin Franklin special meeting if there are not sufficient votes to approve the Benjamin Franklin merger agreement proposal at the time of the meeting. Even though a quorum may be present at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting, it is possible that Benjamin Franklin may not have received sufficient votes to approve the Benjamin Franklin merger agreement proposal by the time of the meeting. In that event, Benjamin Franklin would need to adjourn the Benjamin Franklin special meeting in order to solicit additional proxies. The adjournment proposal relates only to an adjournment of the Benjamin Franklin special meeting for purposes of soliciting additional proxies to obtain the requisite shareholder vote to approve the Benjamin Franklin merger agreement proposal. Any other adjournment of the Benjamin Franklin special meeting (e.g., an adjournment required because of the absence of a quorum) would be voted upon pursuant to the discretionary authority granted by the proxy. If the Benjamin Franklin special meeting is adjourned for 30 days or less, Benjamin Franklin is not required to give notice of the time and place of the adjourned meeting if the new time and place is announced at the meeting before adjournment, unless the board of directors fixes a new record date for the Benjamin Franklin special meeting.

The Benjamin Franklin adjournment proposal relates only to an adjournment of the Benjamin Franklin special meeting occurring for purposes of soliciting additional proxies for approval of the Benjamin Franklin merger agreement proposal in the event that there are insufficient votes to approve that proposal. Each of the Benjamin Franklin board of directors and the presiding officer of the Benjamin Franklin special meeting retains full authority to the extent set forth in Benjamin Franklin's bylaws and under Massachusetts law to adjourn the Benjamin Franklin special meeting for any other purpose, or to postpone the Benjamin Franklin special meeting before it is convened, without the consent of any Benjamin Franklin shareholders.

Independent will bear the entire cost of soliciting the proxies from Independent's shareholders, including the expense incurred in connection with the filing of the registration statement of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part. In addition to solicitation by mail, directors, officers and employees acting on behalf of Independent may solicit proxies for the Independent special meeting in person or by telephone, facsimile or other means of communication. Independent will not pay any additional compensation to these directors, officers or employees for these activities, but may reimburse them for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Independent will make arrangements with brokerage houses, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for forwarding of proxy solicitation materials to beneficial owners of shares held of record by these brokerage houses, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries, and Independent will reimburse these brokerage houses, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the solicitation.

Independent has also engaged Georgeson Inc., proxy soliciting firm, to assist in the solicitation of proxies for a fee of $6,000 plus per item and out-of-pocket expenses.

Proposal to Approve Adjournment of the Independent Special Meeting

Independent is submitting a proposal for consideration at the Independent special meeting to authorize the named proxies to approve one or more adjournments of the Independent special meeting if there are not sufficient votes to approve the Independent merger share proposal at the time of the meeting. Even though a quorum may be present at the Independent special meeting, it is possible that Independent may not have received sufficient votes to approve the Independent merger share proposal by the time of the meeting. In that event, Independent would need to adjourn the Independent special meeting in order to solicit additional proxies. The adjournment proposal relates only to an adjournment of the Independent special meeting for purposes of soliciting additional proxies to obtain the requisite shareholder vote to approve the Independent merger share proposal. Any other adjournment of the Independent special meeting (e.g., an adjournment required because of the absence of a quorum) would be voted upon pursuant to the discretionary authority granted by the proxy. If the Independent special meeting is adjourned for 30 days or less, Independent is not required to give notice of the time and place of the adjourned meeting if the new time and place is announced at the meeting before adjournment, unless the board of directors fixes a new record date for the Independent special meeting.

The Independent adjournment proposal relates only to an adjournment of the Independent special meeting occurring for purposes of soliciting additional proxies for approval of the Independent merger share proposal in the event that there are insufficient votes to approve that proposal. Each of the Independent board of directors and the presiding officer of the Independent special meeting retains full authority to the extent set forth in Independent's bylaws and under Massachusetts law to adjourn the Independent special meeting for any other purpose, or to postpone the Independent special meeting before it is convened, without the consent of any Independent shareholders.

Table of ContentsTHE MERGER

The discussion in this joint proxy statement/prospectus of the merger and the principal terms of the merger agreement are subject to, and are qualified in their entirety by reference to, the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A and is incorporated into this joint proxy statement/prospectus by reference.

General

The merger is structured as an all-stock transaction. Before entering into the merger agreement, Independent formed Independent Acquisition Subsidiary, Inc. (Merger Sub). Under the terms and conditions set forth in the merger agreement, Merger Sub will merge with and into Benjamin Franklin, as a result of which Benjamin Franklin will become a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Independent. At the effective time of the merger, each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time will, by virtue of the merger and without any action on the part of the shareholder, be converted into the right to receive 0.59 shares of Independent common stock. The exchange ratio may be adjusted to reflect the effect of any stock split, split-up, reverse stock split, stock dividend, reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, or other similar change with respect to the common stock of Independent or Benjamin Franklin that occurs before the merger. Independent will not issue any fractional shares of its common stock in the merger, but will instead pay cash (determined on the basis of the average closing prices of Independent's common stock during a twenty-five day measurement period ending five days before the closing of the merger) for any fractional share a Benjamin Franklin shareholder would otherwise receive after aggregating all of his or her shares.

With certain exceptions, holders of Benjamin Franklin options will be given the opportunity to elect to exchange their options for options to purchase Independent common stock. The per share exercise price of such options will be adjusted by dividing such exercise price by the exchange ratio of 0.59 per share, and the number of shares covered by such options will be adjusted by multiplying the number of Benjamin Franklin shares covered by such option by 0.59. All options exchanged for options to purchase Independent common stock will remain outstanding until two years following the effective time of the merger, regardless of continuation of employment. If an option holder does not elect to exchange his or her Benjamin Franklin options for Independent options, such holder's options will be cancelled upon consummation of the merger, and the holder will receive a cash payment upon such cancellation in an amount equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock provided for by such option and (ii) the excess, if any, of (a) the closing value of the merger consideration over (b) the exercise price of the option. For this purpose, closing value of the merger consideration means the product of (x) the average closing prices of Independent common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for the twenty-five (25) trading days ending on the fifth (5th) trading day immediately preceding the completion of the merger, multiplied by (y) the exchange ratio of 0.59 per share.

The Benjamin Franklin shareholders' approval of the merger will cause the acceleration of vesting of all outstanding unvested stock options under Benjamin Franklin's 2006 Stock Incentive Plan. As of December 4, 2008, unvested stock options for approximately 352,466 shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock were outstanding under such plan. The Benjamin Franklin shareholders' approval of the merger will also cause the acceleration of vesting of all outstanding unvested shares of restricted stock. As of December 4, 2008, 131,373 unvested shares of restricted stock were outstanding under such plan. At the effective time of the merger, each of the 131,373 currently unvested shares of Benjamin Franklin restricted stock outstanding under the 2006 Stock Incentive Plan will be converted into the right to receive 0.59 shares of Independent common stock.

Based on the number of shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock outstanding on December 4, 2008, it is expected that approximately 4,626,789 shares of Independent common stock will be issued to Benjamin Franklin shareholders in connection with the merger, which would represent approximately 22.1% of the outstanding Independent common stock (based on the number of shares of Independent common stock outstanding as of December 4, 2008). The merger agreement provides that the exercise of options to purchase

Benjamin Franklin common stock may result in the issuance of additional shares of Independent common stock. As of December 4, 2008, approximately 317,196 additional Independent shares would be issuable to former Benjamin Franklin option holders, assuming satisfaction as of that date of the applicable vesting, exercise price payment and other conditions to which the exercises of such options are subject. If all of these additional Independent shares were issued, former Benjamin Franklin shareholders would own approximately 22.8% of Independent's common stock outstanding immediately after the merger.

Effective upon the consummation of the merger, the Benjamin Franklin tax-qualified employee stock ownership plan (the ESOP) will terminate immediately. As of December 4, 2008, there were 475,695 shares held by the ESOP. At the consummation of the merger, each share held by the ESOP will be converted into the right to receive 0.59 shares of Independent common stock.

Background of the Merger

Since its conversion to a public company on April 5, 2005, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors and senior management have considered and implemented various business strategies available to Benjamin Franklin for increasing long-term shareholder value and remaining an independent community-oriented bank. Such strategies have primarily focused on enhancing earnings internally, by increasing the emphasis on higher-yielding commercial loans, growing core deposits, and reducing expenses. Given the success of Benjamin Franklin's Chart Bank acquisition in 2005, management has also looked for opportunities for further growth through strategic acquisitions or affiliations with other entities, but found few in-market banks that might be acquisition targets for a company of Benjamin Franklin's size.

In late 2007 and early 2008, the board of directors held a series of meetings with various investment banking firms to review market conditions and competitive challenges facing Benjamin Franklin. These meetings were held in recognition that the three-year anniversary of Benjamin Franklin's mutual to stock conversion was imminent, and that such anniversary would mark the expiration of certain regulatory restrictions imposed on the acquisition of shares of Benjamin Franklin. The board believed that it needed to be prepared to respond in the event that a third party were to make a proposal to acquire, or enter into a strategic affiliation with, Benjamin Franklin.

As the board was focusing on learning about the bank merger market, Thomas R. Venables, the President and Chief Executive Officer of Benjamin Franklin, was receiving periodic calls from the President of another New England financial institution (Company A), who expressed an interest in exploring a business combination between their two institutions. In late 2007, the President of Company A asked Mr. Venables if Benjamin Franklin would consider seeking a regulatory waiver enabling it to enter into a business combination prior to April 5, 2008. Although Mr. Venables declined the suggestion, he and the President of Company A continued their informal discussions about a possible business combination. On March 21, 2008, Benjamin Franklin and Company A entered into a confidentiality agreement to enable them to share non-public information in order to further explore a potential transaction between the two institutions.

In light of the upcoming three-year anniversary of the mutual to stock conversion, and the overtures from Company A, in March 2008 the Chairman of the board of Benjamin Franklin appointed an ad hoc planning committee of the board for the purpose of consulting with management between full board meetings with respect to any third party strategic affiliation proposal. Thereafter, Mr. Venables and Claire S. Bean, the Chief Financial Officer of Benjamin Franklin, took steps to ensure that the company would have a team of professional advisers in place, including updating Benjamin Franklin's legal counsel, Foley Hoag LLP, about recent developments, and interviewing two investment banking firms to replace the recently retired investment banker who had advised the company in the past.

On March 20, 2008, Independent's board of directors met for a regularly scheduled meeting. At that meeting, Christopher Oddleifson, the President of Independent, and Denis K. Sheahan, the Chief Financial Officer of Independent, reviewed with Independent's board the potential advantages of a transaction between Benjamin Franklin and Independent.

In April, 2008, Mr. Venables was contacted by Mr. Oddleifson. Mr. Venables and Mr. Oddleifson, who were already acquainted through trade association activities, met on April 16, 2008, and discussed in general terms the two companies' business philosophies and cultures and their complementary geographic and product franchises. At that meeting, Mr. Oddleifson indicated that he was interested in exploring a possible combination of Benjamin Franklin and Independent. The executives agreed that it would be appropriate to sign a confidentiality agreement to enable them to share non-public information in order to explore a potential business combination. The confidentiality agreement was executed with an effective date of April 25, 2008.

Given the activity in March and April, the planning committee held its first meeting on April 21, 2008. At the meeting, Mr. Venables updated the committee on his recent discussions with Company A and Independent. Also, the committee interviewed each of the two financial advisers who had previously been interviewed by management, and voted to recommend that the board engage Keefe Bruyette & Woods (KBW) to guide the company in exploring strategic alternatives. The board voted to engage KBW at its regularly scheduled meeting on April 23, 2008.

In May, 2008, Mr. Venables met again with each of Independent and Company A. The meeting with Independent also included Ms. Bean and Mr. Sheahan and focused on sharing information about their companies' financial condition, earnings and business operations. The meeting with Company A (which included a representative of KBW and one of Benjamin Franklin's directors) was primarily a social occasion, although the President of Company A made clear that Company A continued to have strong interest in pursuing a possible business combination with Benjamin Franklin.

On June 5, 2008, the planning committee met with representatives of KBW. After Mr. Venables had updated the committee on recent meetings with Company A and Independent, the KBW representatives presented an analysis of possible business combinations between Benjamin Franklin and eleven (11) different financial institutions, including Company A and Independent. KBW walked the committee through its analysis of the financial impact that an acquisition of Benjamin Franklin would likely have on these institutions, at various assumed per share exchange ratios and cash purchase prices. Of the financial institutions discussed, it appeared from KBW's analysis that Independent was most likely to have both a strong strategic interest, and the ability to make an attractive offer. At the end of the meeting, the committee reaffirmed management's authority to continue to explore various strategic alternatives, including with Independent.

KBW representatives met with Benjamin Franklin's full board on June 25, 2008 and made a presentation similar to the June 5, 2008 planning committee presentation. At that meeting, the board discussed the turbulent market conditions and concluded that there were a limited number of institutions that would likely have the strategic interest and financial ability to pursue a business combination with Benjamin Franklin on terms that would be attractive for Benjamin Franklin's shareholders. The board decided, on the recommendation of senior management and KBW, that it would not be appropriate to initiate a formal process seeking expressions of interest from multiple parties. The board directed management to stay the course with respect to its informal discussions, in order to keep the door open for the possibility of more serious discussions in the future.

From mid-June through mid-August, Mr. Venables (together with other Benjamin Franklin representatives) continued to have informal meetings with other bank executives for the purpose of exploring possible strategic affiliations. These meetings included two meetings with Mr. Oddleifson (on June 23, 2008 and August 20, 2008); another social meeting with the President of Company A (on August 22, 2008); meetings with the presidents of two of the other institutions that KBW had analyzed for the planning committee and board; and a meeting with a banking professional (Banker A) who shared his plans to organize an investment fund for the purpose of acquiring banks and banking assets. On June 24, 2008, Ms. Bean also met with Mr. Sheahan.

On June 19, 2008 and August 21, 2008, Independent's board of directors met for regularly scheduled meetings. At the June 19, 2008 meeting, Mr. Oddleifson updated Independent's board on the status of his discussions with

Mr. Venables. At the August 21, 2008 meeting, Mr. Oddleifson and Robert D. Cozzone, Independent s Treasurer, reviewed the potential financial and other advantages of a transaction with Benjamin Franklin with Independent s board.

On August 29, 2008, Mr. Oddleifson contacted KBW and said that Independent was very interested in pursuing a business combination with Benjamin Franklin in a stock-for-stock transaction pursuant to which Independent would issue 0.59 shares (fixed exchange ratio) of Independent common stock for each outstanding share of Benjamin Franklin common stock. Mr. Oddleifson said that the proposal represented Independent's best offer, and included a commitment to honor all of Benjamin Franklin's employment contracts and a willingness to add Benjamin Franklin representatives to Independent's board of directors.

At around the same time, the President of Company A contacted KBW and indicated that Company A was prepared to make a proposal for a business combination with Benjamin Franklin. The following week, Company A's financial adviser communicated to KBW a proposal with the merger consideration to be paid 80% in stock and 20% in cash.

Mr. Venables promptly requested a meeting with the planning committee to discuss the Independent and Company A proposals. At that meeting, which was held on September 11, 2008, a KBW representative walked the committee through a detailed presentation regarding the financial terms of both proposed transactions. Based on the closing prices of the Independent and Company A stock on September 10, 2008 and the exchange ratios proposed by the two companies, the value of the Independent proposal was $16.93 per share and the value of the Company A proposal was $13.50 per share. At the end of the meeting, the committee invited KBW to the September 24, 2008 board meeting to make a presentation to the full board of directors, focusing primarily on the Independent proposal given the significant difference between the value of the two proposals.

In mid-September, Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean met again with Banker A, who reiterated his general interest in a cash acquisition of Benjamin Franklin, but confirmed that his proposed investment fund was still in the preliminary organizational and regulatory stage. A few days later, Mr. Venables also met with another banking professional (Banker B), who shared his plans (similar to those of Banker A) to organize an investment fund for the purpose of acquiring banks and banking assets, and indicated an interest in Benjamin Franklin. Banker B appeared to Mr. Venables to be further along with the organizational and regulatory work necessary to launch his investment fund and to begin making acquisitions.

On September 4, 2008, the executive committee of Independent's board of directors met for a regularly scheduled meeting. At that meeting, Mr. Oddleifson updated the executive committee on the status of discussions regarding a potential transaction with Benjamin Franklin.

On September 18, 2008, Independent's board of directors met for a regularly scheduled meeting. At that meeting, Mr. Oddleifson updated Independent's board on the status of discussions regarding a potential transaction with Benjamin Franklin. On September 19, 2008, Independent formally engaged Robert W. Baird & Co. Incorporated to act as its financial adviser in connection with a potential transaction with Benjamin Franklin.

On September 24, 2008, the Benjamin Franklin board of directors met, together with representatives from KBW and Foley Hoag. Mr. Venables updated the board on his recent communications with Independent and Company A, and on his discussions with Banker A and Banker B (including his understanding of the status of their respective organizational efforts). He addressed the recent extraordinary developments in the capital markets, and the impact those developments might have on the company's strategic alternatives.

Mr. Venables then turned the meeting over to the KBW representative, who began his presentation by recapping the discussions with Company A and Independent over the previous several months. The KBW representative then presented to the board an updated analysis of eleven New England companies (previously discussed with the planning committee on June 5, 2008) that might have an interest in, and the financial capacity for, a possible combination with Benjamin Franklin (including Independent and Company A). His analysis included an assessment of these companies' financial condition, how much they could likely pay, and what their strategic interest might be in Benjamin Franklin's franchise, in part based on recent discussions he had had with several of the companies' CEOs. The KBW representative also gave his assessment of the overtures by Banker A and Banker B.

The Foley Hoag representatives then went over the fiduciary responsibilities and other considerations that the board of directors and management should focus on in considering a possible merger or acquisition of the company.

The KBW representative then discussed the oral expressions of interest that he had received from each of Company A and Independent. Based on then-current stock prices, the value of the Company A proposal was $13.99 and value of the Independent proposal was $17.70. As requested by the planning committee and management, the KBW representative focused most of his presentation on a detailed analysis of Independent and its proposal, in light of the significant difference in value between the two proposals. The presentation included a discussion of Independent's financial performance, its market performance and the price and form of consideration offered and the impact that paying such consideration would likely have on a combined institution and its shareholders. Mr. Venables advised the board that Mr. Oddleifson had contacted him on September 19, 2008 and indicated that Independent was not willing to leave its expression of interest outstanding indefinitely, and that he needed a response soon. After a lengthy discussion involving all members of the board, the board voted to authorize Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean to go back to Independent with a counter proposal for a transaction in which (i) the exchange ratio would be 0.60, (ii) three Benjamin Franklin representatives would be added to the Independent and Rockland Trust boards, (iii) all of Benjamin Franklin's existing severance and retirement arrangements would be honored, and (iv) an appropriate walk-away right would be included in the event of a material decline in Independent's stock price prior to closing. They also directed Mr. Venables to keep his previously scheduled September 26, 2008 appointment with Banker B, to learn more about Banker B's timing and level of interest.

After the September 24, 2008 board meeting, the KBW representative communicated the board's vote to Independent's financial adviser Baird. Independent indicated that it would need more detailed financial information to determine if it would be able to increase the exchange ratio as the board had requested, and the parties scheduled a meeting for September 26, 2008 for that purpose. Also, on September 25, 2008, Mr. Venables, Ms. Bean and Benjamin Franklin's senior loan officer met with Mr. Oddleifson and Independent's senior loan officer to provide the two loan officers with the opportunity to compare the credit and lending functions and cultures of the two institutions.

On the morning of September 26, 2008, Mr. Venables, Ms. Bean and a KBW representative had a meeting with Banker B and some of his associates, at which they signed a confidentiality agreement and shared non-public financial information intended to permit Banker B to formulate a proposal. Consistent with the board's request, the KBW representative asked Banker B if he could give a sense of the merger consideration that his investment fund (when organized) might be willing to pay. The following Monday, September 29, 2008, Banker B contacted the KBW representative and indicated that, based on the information provided, it was his sense that cash consideration for Benjamin Franklin would likely fall in the range of $14.50 to $16.00 per share.

Immediately after the meeting with Banker B on September 26, 2008, Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean and representatives of Independent met at the offices of Foley Hoag, along with their financial advisers. At that meeting, Ms. Bean provided Independent's senior financial officers with additional budget and earnings projection information in an effort to demonstrate the appropriateness of increasing the proposed merger consideration from 0.59 to 0.60 shares of Independent common stock for each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock. Although the additional information provided by Ms. Bean to Independent at the meeting was well received by Independent, at that meeting the parties realized that there had been a misunderstanding as to the number of outstanding shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock. The original 0.59 exchange ratio had been based on a number of outstanding shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock that did not include shares of unvested restricted stock.

On September 30, 2008, Independent agreed to increase the aggregate merger consideration by maintaining the 0.59 exchange ratio for the corrected (larger) number of outstanding shares, but indicated that its model would not support both an increase in the total outstanding shares and an increase in the per share exchange ratio to 0.60. Independent further agreed to add three Benjamin Franklin representatives to its board of directors, and confirmed that it would

honor all of Benjamin Franklin s severance and retirement

arrangements. However, in light of the turbulence in the stock market, Independent would not agree to any walk-away provision that would allow Benjamin Franklin to terminate the transaction on the basis of a significant decline in Independent's stock price. In addition, Independent conditioned its proposal on a $4,500,000 termination fee payable by Benjamin Franklin if a merger agreement between the parties were terminated under certain circumstances involving a third party acquisition proposal.

On October 1, 2008, the Benjamin Franklin board held a special meeting, via conference telephone, at which management, KBW and Foley Hoag updated the board on the developments since the September 24, 2008 board meeting. The board discussed the Independent proposal at length, in particular the lack of a walk-away provision based on a decline in Independent's stock price. The board discussed with its financial and legal advisers the other protections that Benjamin Franklin would have in a definitive agreement, including the ability to terminate such an agreement in the event of a material adverse change in Independent's financial condition. The board further discussed the proposed termination fee required by Independent, the appropriateness of the proposed fee in light of the anticipated deal value, and the legal and fiduciary issues raised by agreeing to such a fee. After discussion, the board voted to authorize management to continue negotiations with Independent on the terms presented, and to commence more in depth due diligence, with the understanding that such negotiations would proceed on an exclusive basis as long as the parties continued to negotiate in good faith. Also on October 1, 2008, Independent's legal counsel circulated an initial draft of an exclusivity agreement, which was negotiated over the ensuing week and executed on October 10, 2008.

In the period from mid September onward, Mr. Oddleifson periodically updated the Chairman of Independent's board on an informal basis about the status of discussions regarding a potential transaction with Benjamin Franklin. On October 2, 2008, the executive committee of Independent's Board met for a regularly scheduled meeting. At the October 2nd meeting, Mr. Oddleifson, Mr. Sheahan and Edward H. Seksay, Independent's in-house General Counsel, updated the executive committee on the status of discussions regarding a potential transaction with Benjamin Franklin. On October 14, 2008, Mr. Venables met with Mr. Oddleifson, Mr. Seksay, the nominating committee of Independent's board of directors and other members of Independent's board to discuss a potential transaction between Independent and Benjamin Franklin.

Commencing the week of October 6, 2008, and continuing over the next several weeks, the parties and their respective advisers engaged in mutual due diligence of each others' business and financial condition, including lengthy interviews of each others' senior management teams and detailed on-site review of each others' loan files. An important part of Independent's diligence was to undertake (with the assistance of an outside accounting firm and in consultation with Independent's own independent registered public accounting firm) an analysis of Benjamin Franklin's balance sheet, to determine the impact of, and the appropriate method to follow in, marking-to-market Benjamin Franklin's assets and liabilities as required under purchase accounting. This undertaking was particularly important, and difficult, in light of a recently revised accounting standard that is being applied for the first time in the current challenging economic environment. As a result, this matter was not resolved until November 6, 2008.

Merger agreement negotiations also commenced on October 6, 2008, when Independent's legal counsel circulated a first draft of the definitive merger agreement. Following the exchange of written comments and preliminary oral negotiations between the parties, on October 20, 2008 Independent's legal counsel circulated a revised draft of the definitive merger agreement.

On October 16 2008, Independent's board of directors met for a regularly scheduled meeting. At that meeting, Mr. Seksay described the status of Independent's due diligence investigation and presented the terms of the proposed transaction to the board, including a review of Benjamin Franklin's severance and retirement arrangements and potential payouts in connection with the potential merger. The Independent board discussed the proposed business terms and the potential advantages and risks associated with a transaction with Benjamin Franklin.

The October 20, 2008 merger agreement draft was distributed to the Benjamin Franklin board in advance of its regularly scheduled October 22, 2008 meeting. At that meeting, legal counsel reviewed the terms of the draft merger agreement in detail, and discussed the terms that remained subject to negotiation. The board also discussed the U.S. Treasury's capital purchase program (CPP) under the Emergency Economic Stabilization

Act of 2008, and determined that in light of Benjamin Franklin's capital levels, the company should not apply to participate in the CPP.

Following the October 22, 2008 Benjamin Franklin board meeting, the parties continued to work to complete negotiations with respect to the definitive merger agreement, and to prepare related disclosure schedules. The parties also negotiated the terms of the voting agreements and the settlement agreements that would set forth the parties' understanding with respect to payments that would be triggered under Benjamin Franklin's employment, change-in-control, and supplemental retirement agreements with its senior officers.

On November 4, 2008, the financial adviser to Company A notified KBW that Company A expected to submit a revised indication of interest within the next few days. At that time, Independent and Benjamin Franklin's merger agreement negotiations were substantially complete, but Independent and its accounting advisers had not yet completed their discussions about the implications of the new accounting standard. On November 6, 2008, the accounting issues were resolved and Independent and Benjamin Franklin each called a special board meeting to be held on Saturday, November 8, 2008. Copies of the definitive merger agreement and the voting agreement, together with the then current draft of Benjamin Franklin's disclosure schedules, were sent to Benjamin Franklin's directors for delivery on Friday, November 7, 2008.

On November 7, 2008, Company A delivered the promised letter outlining the terms of its revised indication of interest. In the letter, Company A proposed nominal consideration of $17 per share, 65% in stock and 35% in cash, with the stock portion subject to a floating exchange ratio with a collar establishing a minimum and maximum exchange ratio (as a result of which any decline in the Company A stock price after the date of the letter would have reduced the value of the stock consideration below $17 per share). The letter was conditioned on Company A's ability to raise capital through the U.S. Treasury's capital purchase program (CPP), among other potentially significant conditions.

On November 8, 2008, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors held a special meeting. The first order of business was to discuss the renewed indication of interest from Company A. The board reviewed Company A's November 7, 2008 letter, and KBW delivered a presentation of the financial terms of the proposal, a pro forma financial analysis of the combined institution that would result from such a transaction. While agreeing that the proposal could be attractive to the Benjamin Franklin shareholders if it were feasible to accomplish, the board concluded that the significant risks of the proposal outweighed the possible benefits. In particular, the board was concerned that the proposal was conditioned upon Company A's receipt of CPP funds from the U.S. Treasury, even though Congressional leaders had recently made public statements that such funds should not be used to acquire healthy banks. The board was also concerned that the terms of the transaction would make it difficult for Company A to obtain the necessary approval of its shareholders, and was concerned that Company A's letter contained a potentially significant erroneous assumption about the cost of settling certain of Benjamin Franklin's employment-related obligations.

The board then turned to the review of the proposed Independent transaction. First, Ms. Bean and Mr. Venables presented the results of the due diligence review that management and its advisers had conducted on the financial condition and operations of Independent. Benjamin Franklin's legal counsel, Foley Hoag, then reviewed the terms of the merger agreement, focusing on the areas that had been negotiated since the October 22, 2008 meeting, and also reviewed the terms of the voting agreement and the settlement agreements with executive officers. The representative of KBW then made a detailed presentation regarding the financial terms of the proposed transaction, and advised the board that KBW would deliver a written fairness opinion at the end of the meeting stating that, based upon and subject to the considerations described in its opinion, the exchange ratio offered by Independent is fair, from a financial point of view, to the Benjamin Franklin shareholders. During the course of the meeting, the board discussed the transaction at some length, including the terms of the merger agreement, the potential advantages and risks associated with the merger and the financial analyses of KBW. The board recognized that the nominal value of the merger consideration

(based on the closing price of the Independent common stock as of November 7, 2008) was $15.77 per share, and that such value would fluctuate prior to closing based on fluctuations of Independent's stock price. It was the consensus of the board that, regardless of the Independent stock price on any given day, their decision should be focused on the long term value of an investment in the combined institution. Following such discussion, the board unanimously voted to approve the merger agreement and to recommend that the Benjamin Franklin shareholders approve the merger agreement and the merger.

On November 8, 2008, Independent's board of directors held a special meeting. Prior to the meeting, copies of the definitive merger agreement were provided to the members of the board for their review. At the special meeting, Mr. Seksay summarized the results of Independent's due diligence investigation and reviewed, in detail, the terms of the merger agreement and the legal duties of the board of directors in considering the transaction. Mr. Sheahan then reviewed the financial aspects of the proposed transaction in detail. Edward F. Jankowski, the Chief Technology and Operations Officer of Independent's wholly-owned bank subsidiary Rockland Trust Company, then presented the board with a risk assessment of the proposed transaction. Baird next discussed the financial terms of the merger in detail. Baird then stated to the board of directors that it was prepared to render a written opinion stating to the board to the effect that, as of that date and based upon and subject to the assumptions made, methodologies used, factors considered and limitations upon the review undertaken by Baird as set forth in its opinion, the exchange ratio was fair, from a financial point of view, to Independent. Following a discussion of the terms of the merger agreement and the financial analyses of Baird, the board unanimously voted to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the issuance of Independent common stock in connection with the merger and the recommendation to the Independent shareholders to approve the share issuance in connection with the merger.

Shortly thereafter, the parties executed the merger agreement. A joint press release publicly announcing the transaction was released on Sunday, November 9, 2008, prior to the next opening of the stock market.

Effective as of December 4, 2008, to correct an inadvertent error, Independent, Merger Sub, Rockland Trust Company, Benjamin Franklin, and Benjamin Franklin Bank executed and delivered an Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger.

Recommendation of Independent's Board of Directors and Reasons for the Merger

Independent's board of directors determined that the merger agreement and the merger are advisable and in the best interests of Independent and its shareholders. Accordingly, Independent's board of directors adopted and approved the merger agreement, and unanimously recommends that Independent's shareholders vote FOR approval of the issuance of Independent common stock in connection with the merger.

The Independent board of directors unanimously approved the merger agreement and the merger because it determined that the merger should strengthen Independent's existing franchise and increase long term shareholder value because Benjamin Franklin is, like Rockland Trust, a financially healthy, well-run bank that is deeply committed to its customers, employees, and the communities that it serves. The merger is consistent with Independent's geographic expansion strategy, should help Independent accelerate loan and deposit growth in the contiguous, attractive markets where Benjamin Franklin is now located, and should provide Rockland Trust with greater access to customers and potential customers in the suburban communities west of Boston, Massachusetts. The merger should, in particular, significantly improve Independent's deposit market share in Norfolk County, Massachusetts. The transaction is financially attractive to Independent and its shareholders because it allows Independent to add Benjamin Franklin's loan and deposit base to that of Independent while simultaneously providing Independent with the opportunity to maintain and deepen relationships with Benjamin Franklin's customers by offering Independent's deeper set of products. The Independent board of directors believes that the combined company should have the potential to realize a stronger competitive position and improved long-term operating and financial results, including revenue and earning enhancements.

After taking into account these and other factors, the Independent board of directors determined that the merger agreement and the merger were in the best interests of Independent and its shareholders and that Independent should enter into the merger agreement and complete the merger. Independent's board of directors evaluated the factors described above, including asking questions of Independent's management and Independent's legal and financial advisers, and reached the unanimous decision that the merger was in the best interests of Independent and its shareholders, its employees, its customers and the communities served by Independent. This discussion of the factors considered by Independent's board of directors is not exhaustive, but includes all material factors considered by the board. Independent's board of directors considered these factors as a whole, and overall considered them to be favorable to, and to support, its determination. Independent's board of directors did not consider it practical to, nor did it attempt to, quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors that it considered in reaching its decision. In considering the factors described above, individual members of Independent's board of directors may have given different weights to different factors. Independent's board of directors considered these factors as a whole, and overall considered them to be favorable to, and to support, its determination.

Recommendation of Benjamin Franklin's Board of Directors and Reasons for the Merger

After careful consideration, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors determined that the merger agreement is advisable and in the best interests of Benjamin Franklin and its shareholders. Accordingly, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors adopted and approved the merger agreement, and unanimously recommends that Benjamin Franklin's shareholders vote FOR approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

In reaching its determination that the merger agreement is advisable and in the best interests of Benjamin Franklin and its shareholders, Benjamin Franklin's board consulted with senior management and Benjamin Franklin's financial and legal advisers, and drew on its knowledge of the business, operations, properties, assets, financial condition, operating results, historical market prices and prospects of Benjamin Franklin and Independent. In connection with its review and approval of the merger agreement and in the course of its deliberations, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors also considered numerous factors, including the following positive and negative factors:

Positive Factors

The value of the merger consideration being offered as compared to the book value, earnings per share and historical trading prices of Benjamin Franklin's common stock.

The fact that Benjamin Franklin's shareholders will experience an increase in the liquidity for their shares as Independent's common stock is traded on the NASDAQ Global Select Market and, historically, has a much larger volume of shares traded on a daily basis than trades in Benjamin Franklin common stock.

Benjamin Franklin's positive perception about Independent due to its understanding of, and review of information concerning, the management, business, results of operations, financial condition, competitive position, growth potential and future prospects of Independent, including the results of its due diligence review of Independent.

The fact that Benjamin Franklin's shareholders may receive dividend income from such investment in the future, which dividend income on an exchange basis is currently $0.42 per Benjamin Franklin share on an annual basis.

Benjamin Franklin's board of directors' belief that, given the current prospective environment in which Benjamin Franklin operates, including the economic, competitive and regulatory conditions facing financial institutions generally and the trend toward consolidation in the banking and financial services industries, pursuing the merger with Independent would be more beneficial to shareholders than continuing to operate as an independent financial institution.

The types of business that Independent conducts in the region, and the expanded service Independent can provide to Benjamin Franklin's customers and the communities it serves.

The compatibility of the respective business philosophies and cultures of Benjamin Franklin and Independent.

The perceived ability of Independent to receive the requisite regulatory approvals in a timely manner.

Independent's agreement that Benjamin Franklin representatives, including its President and Chief Executive Officer, would be elected to Independent's board of directors.

Table of Contents

The terms and conditions of the merger agreement, including the parties' respective representations and warranties, the conditions to closing and termination provisions which the board believed provided adequate assurances about the current operations of Independent and its ability to consummate the merger in a timely manner without any extraordinary conditions.

The fact that the transaction eliminates the necessity and business risks associated with Benjamin Franklin undertaking the additional capital investment necessary to expand Benjamin Franklin's product offerings as well as the expansion of its branch and technology infrastructure in order to continue to grow the business franchise and shareholder value.

The alternatives of Benjamin Franklin continuing as an independent community-focused banking company or combining with other potential merger partners, as compared to the effect of Benjamin Franklin combining with Independent pursuant to the merger agreement, and the determination that the transaction with Independent presented the best opportunity for maximizing shareholder value and achieving Benjamin Franklin's other strategic goals.

The written opinion of KBW that the consideration to be received by the Benjamin Franklin shareholders pursuant to the merger agreement was fair to them from a financial point of view.

Negative Factors

The fact that the merger agreement provides for Benjamin Franklin's payment of a $4.5 million termination fee to Independent if the merger agreement is terminated under certain limited circumstances, although this factor was mitigated somewhat by the fact that such circumstances would generally involve the receipt of an acquisition proposal from a third party.

The fact that the merger agreement limits Benjamin Franklin's ability to solicit or discuss alternative transactions during the pendency of the merger, although this was mitigated by the fact that Benjamin Franklin's board is permitted, in certain circumstances in the exercise of its fiduciary duties, to engage in discussions with parties who submit an unsolicited proposal.

The fact that the Benjamin Franklin shareholders will receive a fixed ratio of 0.59 shares of Independent common stock for each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock regardless of any decline in the market value of Benjamin Franklin common stock or Independent common stock before the completion of the merger, and the lack of any "walk-away" provision that would enable Benjamin Franklin to terminate the agreement based on a decline in the market price of Independent's common stock, including a decline relative to the market prices of the common stock of peer institutions.

The potential job loss among Benjamin Franklin employees.

Some of Benjamin Franklin's officers and directors may be deemed to have interests in the merger, described under "Interests of Benjamin Franklin's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger" beginning on page 65 of this document, that are in addition to or different from their interests as Benjamin Franklin's shareholders generally. This discussion of the information and factors considered by Benjamin Franklin's board of directors is not exhaustive, but includes all material factors considered by the board. In view of the wide variety of factors considered by Benjamin Franklin's board of directors in connection with its evaluation of the merger and the complexity of these matters, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors did not consider it practical to, nor did it attempt to, quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors that it considered in reaching its decision. Benjamin Franklin's board of directors evaluated the factors described above, including asking questions of Benjamin Franklin's management and Benjamin Franklin's legal and financial advisers, and reached the unanimous decision that the merger was in the best interests of Benjamin Franklin and its shareholders, its employees, its customers and the communities served by Benjamin Franklin. In considering the factors described above, individual members of Benjamin Franklin's board of directors may have given different weights to different factors. Benjamin Franklin's board of directors considered these factors as a whole, and overall considered them to be favorable to, and to support, its determination.

Opinion of Independent's Financial Adviser

Independent's board of directors retained Robert W. Baird & Co. Incorporated as its financial adviser in connection with the merger and to render an opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to Independent of the exchange ratio of 0.59 shares of Independent common stock for each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock to be paid by Independent pursuant to the terms of, and subject to the conditions set forth in, the merger agreement.

On November 8, 2008, Baird rendered its oral and written opinion to Independent's board of directors to the effect that, subject to the contents of such opinion, including the various assumptions made, methodologies used, factors considered and limitations set forth therein, Baird was of the opinion that, as of such date, the exchange ratio to be paid by Independent was fair, from a financial point of view, to Independent. Baird was not requested to express, and did not express, any opinion with respect to any of the other terms, conditions, determinations or actions with respect to the merger.

As a matter of policy, Baird's opinion was approved by its fairness committee, a majority of the members of which were not involved in providing financial advisory services on Baird's behalf to Independent in connection with the merger.

The full text of Baird's written opinion, dated November 8, 2008, which sets forth the assumptions made, general procedures followed, methodologies used, factors considered and limitations upon the scope of review undertaken by Baird in rendering its opinion, is attached as Annex B and is incorporated herein by reference in its entirety. Baird's opinion is directed only to the fairness, as of the date of the opinion and from a financial point of view, to Independent of the exchange ratio to be paid by Independent in the merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how such shareholder should vote with respect to the merger, the merger share proposal or any other matter. The summary of Baird's opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such opinion attached as Annex B. Independent shareholders are urged to read the opinion carefully in its entirety. Baird has not assumed any responsibility for updating or revising its opinion based on circumstances or events occurring after the date of its opinion.

In conducting its investigation and analyses and in arriving at its opinion, Baird reviewed such information and took into account such financial and economic factors, investment banking procedures and considerations as Baird deemed relevant under the circumstances. In that connection, Baird, among other things:

- (i) reviewed certain internal information, primarily financial in nature, including financial forecasts (the "Forecasts"), concerning the business and operations of Benjamin Franklin and Independent and the strategic and operating benefits and cost savings and synergies associated with the merger (the "Synergies"), all as prepared and furnished to Baird by senior management of Independent for purposes of Baird's analysis;
- (ii) reviewed certain publicly available information including, but not limited to, Benjamin Franklin's and Independent's then recent filings with certain regulatory agencies and with the Securities and Exchange Commission, as well as then recent equity analyst research reports covering Independent and Benjamin Franklin prepared by various investment banking firms, including Baird;
- (iii) reviewed the exchange ratio set forth in the draft merger agreement in the form presented to Independent's board of directors;

(iv) compared the financial position and operating results of Benjamin Franklin and Independent with those of other publicly traded companies Baird deemed relevant and considered the market trading multiples of such companies;

(v) compared the historical market prices and trading activity of Benjamin Franklin and Independent common stock with those of other publicly traded companies Baird deemed relevant;

(vi) compared the exchange ratio with the financial terms of other business combinations Baird deemed relevant;

Table of Contents

(vii) considered the present values of the forecasted cash flows of Benjamin Franklin as set forth in the Forecasts; and

(viii) reviewed certain potential pro forma financial effects of the merger as prepared and provided to Baird by senior management of Independent.

Prior to rendering its opinion, Baird held discussions with members of Benjamin Franklin's and Independent's respective senior managements concerning Benjamin Franklin's and Independent's historical and then current financial condition and operating results, as well as the then expected future prospects of Benjamin Franklin and Independent, respectively. Baird also considered such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria which it deemed relevant for the preparation of its opinion.

In arriving at its opinion, Baird assumed and relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that was publicly available or provided to Baird by or on behalf of Benjamin Franklin and Independent, including the Forecasts, the Synergies and the potential pro forma financial effects of the merger. Baird was not engaged to independently verify, and did not assume any responsibility to verify, assumed no liability for, and expressed no opinion on, any such information or the estimates or judgments on which they were based, and Baird assumed that neither Benjamin Franklin nor Independent was aware of any information prepared by it or its advisers that might be material to Baird's opinion that was not provided to Baird. Baird also assumed that:

(i) all material assets and liabilities (contingent, derivative, off-balance sheet or otherwise, known or unknown) of Benjamin Franklin and Independent were as set forth in their respective financial statements;

(ii) the financial statements of Benjamin Franklin and Independent provided to Baird presented fairly the results of operations, cash flows and financial condition of Benjamin Franklin and Independent, respectively, for the periods and as of the dates indicated and were prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied;

(iii) the Forecasts for Benjamin Franklin and Independent were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best available estimates and good faith judgments of Independent's senior management as to the future performance of Benjamin Franklin and Independent, and Baird relied upon such Forecasts, without independent verification, in the preparation of its opinion;

(iv) the Synergies and potential pro forma financial effects of the merger, all as then contemplated by Independent's senior management, would be realized in the amounts and over the time periods then contemplated by Independent's senior management, without independent verification;

(v) the merger would be consummated in accordance with the terms and conditions of the draft merger agreement presented to Independent's board of directors without any material amendment thereto and without waiver by any party of any of the material conditions to their respective obligations thereunder;

(vi) in all respects material to Baird's analysis, the representations and warranties contained in the draft merger agreement presented to Independent's board of directors were true and correct and that each party would perform all of the covenants and agreements required to be performed by it under the merger agreement; and

(vii) all material corporate, governmental, regulatory or other consents and approvals required to consummate the merger have been or will be obtained without impacting the exchange ratio, the terms and conditions of the merger or the conclusions reached from Baird's review of the information described above.

Baird relied as to all legal and tax matters regarding the merger on the advice of counsel to Independent. In conducting its review, Baird did not undertake or obtain an independent evaluation or appraisal of any of the assets or liabilities (contingent, derivative, off-balance sheet or otherwise) or solvency of Benjamin Franklin or Independent, including particularly any mark-to-market balance sheet adjustments resulting from the merger, market conditions or otherwise, nor did Baird make a physical inspection of the properties or facilities of Benjamin Franklin or Independent. Baird did not make an independent evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses of Benjamin Franklin or Independent and Baird did not review any individual credit files relating to Benjamin Franklin or Independent. Baird assumed, without independent verification, that the respective allowances for loan losses for both Benjamin Franklin and Independent were adequate to cover such losses. Baird did not consider the impacts of merger costs, including certain change-in-control and severance payments payable to certain of Benjamin Franklin's executives and employees, in connection with Baird's evaluation of the exchange ratio. Moreover, Baird expressed no opinion about the fairness of the compensation to any officers, directors or employees of Independent or Benjamin Franklin, or any class of such persons, relative to the exchange ratio, Independent's shareholders or otherwise. In each case above, Baird made the assumptions and took the actions or inactions above with Independent's consent.

Baird's opinion necessarily was based upon economic, monetary and market conditions as they existed and could be evaluated as of the date of its opinion, and Baird's opinion did not predict or take into account any changes which may occur, or information which may become available, after such date. Furthermore, Baird expressed no opinion as to the price or trading range at which any of Benjamin Franklin's or Independent's securities (including Benjamin Franklin common stock and Independent common stock) would trade following the date of its opinion, including any earnings or ownership dilution that may result from Independent's issuance of its common stock in the merger. Although subsequent developments may affect the aggregate dollar value of the Independent common stock to be issued pursuant to the exchange ratio, Baird does not have any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm its opinion. Moreover, Baird's opinion stated that the unprecedented nature of the current market conditions for financial service companies and, in particular, financial institutions, banks and bank holding companies, and their uncertain future potential impact on the value, volatility and viability of such types of financial institutions, including Independent and/or Benjamin Franklin, may render many customary and accepted valuation criteria and metrics less reliable as traditional measures of assessing the fairness, from a financial point of view, of a transaction such as the merger.

Baird's opinion was prepared at the request and solely for the information of Independent's board of directors. Baird's opinion was only one of many factors considered by Independent's board of directors in its evaluation of the merger and should not be viewed as being determinative of the views of Independent with respect to the merger or the exchange ratio. Baird's opinion did not address the relative merits of: (i) the merger, the merger agreement or any other agreements or other matters provided for or contemplated by the merger agreement; (ii) any other transactions that may be or might have been available as an alternative to the merger; or (iii) the merger compared to any other potential alternative transactions or business strategies considered by Independent's board of directors and, accordingly, Baird relied upon discussions with the senior management of Independent with respect to the availability and consequences of any alternatives to the merger. Baird was not requested to, and did not, recommend a specific exchange ratio or the agreed upon exchange ratio, which was determined through negotiations between Independent and Benjamin Franklin.

The following is a summary of the material financial analyses performed by Baird in connection with rendering its opinion, which is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such opinion attached as Annex B and to the other disclosures contained in this section. The following summary, however, does not purport to be a complete description of the financial analyses performed by Baird. The order of analyses described below does not represent any relative importance or weight given to the analyses performed by Baird. Some of the summaries of the financial analyses include information presented in a tabular format. These tables must be read together with the full text of each summary. The tables alone are not a complete description of Baird's financial analyses. Except as otherwise noted, the following quantitative information was based on market and financial data as it existed on or before November 7, 2008 and September 30, 2008, respectively, and is not necessarily indicative of current or future market conditions.

Implied Valuation, Transaction Multiples and Transaction Premiums

Based on the exchange ratio of 0.59 shares of Independent common stock for each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock and Independent's stock price of $26.73 as of November 7, 2008, the implied per share purchase price of Benjamin Franklin common stock pursuant to the merger as of such date was $15.77 per share. Baird calculated the implied equity purchase price (defined as the per share purchase price multiplied by the total number of fully diluted common shares outstanding of Benjamin Franklin, including gross shares issuable upon the exercise of stock options and warrants, less assumed option and warrant proceeds) of Benjamin Franklin pursuant to the merger to be approximately $125 million. Baird then calculated the multiples of the per share purchase price to Benjamin Franklin's diluted earnings per share (EPS) for the last 12 months (LTM) ended on September 30, 2008 and Benjamin Franklin's book value per share (BVPS) and tangible book value per share (TBVPS) at September 30, 2008, as provided to Baird by the senior management of Independent and Benjamin Franklin. Baird also calculated the core deposit premium for the transaction where core deposit premium was defined as transaction value less tangible book value divided by core deposits. Core deposits were defined as total deposits less time deposits greater than $100,000 and brokered deposits. These transaction multiples are summarized in the table below:

Transaction Metric	Multiple
Price/LTM Diluted EPS	25.0x
Price/BVPS	114.2%
Price/TBVPS	172.0%
Core Deposit Premium	9.7%

Baird reviewed the historical price and trading activity of Benjamin Franklin common stock and noted that the high, low and volume-adjusted average closing prices for Benjamin Franklin common stock were $16.93, $9.80 and $13.88, respectively, over the last three years. In addition, Baird noted that the Benjamin Franklin common stock outperformed an index of selected companies (listed below) on a total return basis over the last three years.

Benjamin Franklin Selected Publicly Traded Company Analysis

In choosing comparable companies to analyze, Baird selected a peer group of publicly traded thrifts operating in the New England region of the United States with assets between $500 million and $3 billion and a ratio of non-performing assets to assets of less than 1.5%. The selected comparable companies for Benjamin Franklin included:

Berkshire Hills Bancorp, Inc.	Legacy Bancorp, Inc.
Brookline Bancorp, Inc.	LSB Corporation
Chicopee Bancorp, Inc.	New England Bancshares, Inc.
Danvers Bancorp, Inc.	New Hampshire Thrift Bancshares, Inc.
Hampden Bancorp, Inc.	United Financial Bancorp, Inc.
Hingham Institution for Savings	Westfield Financial, Inc.

Baird chose these companies based on a review of publicly traded companies that possessed general business, operating and financial characteristics representative of companies in the industry in which Benjamin Franklin operates. Baird noted that none of the companies reviewed was identical to Benjamin Franklin and that, accordingly, the analysis of such companies necessarily involved complex qualitative considerations and judgments concerning differences in the business, operating and financial characteristics of each company and other factors that affect the public market values of such companies.

To perform this analysis, Baird used financial information at or for the LTM ended on September 30, 2008, if available (and if not available, used financial information as of June 30, 2008), as indicated in the tables below. Market price information was as of November 7, 2008. Certain financial data prepared by Baird, and as referenced in the tables presented below, may not correspond to the data presented in Benjamin Franklin's and Independent's historical financial statements, or to the data prepared by KBW presented under the section Opinion of Benjamin Franklin's Financial Adviser, as a result of the different periods, assumptions and methods used by Baird to compute the financial data presented.

Benjamin Franklin Selected Acquisition Analysis

Baird reviewed publicly available information for 10 transactions it deemed relevant involving, as acquired institutions, publicly traded thrifts based in the New England region of the United States that were announced from November 1, 2003 to November 7, 2008 with target assets greater than $150 million. The group of selected acquisition transactions is listed below:

AcquirorTarget

Eastern Bank Corporation	MASSBANK Corp.
Assabet Valley Bancorp	Westborough Financial Services, Inc.
Webster Financial Corporation	NewMil Bancorp, Inc.
Berkshire Hills Bancorp Inc.	Woronoco Bancorp, Inc.

Banknorth Group, Inc.	BostonFed Bancorp, Inc.
Sovereign Bancorp, Inc.	Seacoast Financial Services Corporation
Independent Bank Corp.	Falmouth Bancorp, Inc.
Banknorth Group, Inc.	Foxborough Savings Bank

Baird chose these acquisition transactions based on a review of completed acquisition transactions involving target companies that possessed general business, operating and financial characteristics representative of companies in the industry in which Benjamin Franklin operates. Baird noted that none of the acquisition transactions or subject target companies reviewed was identical to the merger or Benjamin Franklin, respectively, and that, accordingly, the analysis of such acquisition transactions necessarily involved complex qualitative considerations and judgments concerning differences in the business, operating and financial characteristics of each subject target company and each acquisition transaction and other factors that affect the values implied in such acquisition transactions.

For each transaction, Baird calculated multiples of each target company's purchase price per share to its LTM diluted EPS and its BVPS and TBVPS. In addition, Baird calculated the core deposit premium of each transaction where core deposit premium was defined as transaction value less tangible book value divided by core deposits. Core deposits were defined as total deposits less time deposits greater than $100,000 and brokered deposits. Baird also calculated the acquisition premiums paid in such transactions where the target companies were publicly traded. Baird then compared the transaction multiples and premiums implied in the merger with the corresponding acquisition transaction multiples and premiums for the selected acquisition transactions. Stock market and historical financial information for each selected transaction was based on

In addition, Baird calculated the implied exchange ratios based on the acquisition transaction multiples of the selected acquisition transactions and compared such values to the exchange ratio of 0.59 in the merger. The implied exchange ratios, based on the multiples that Baird deemed relevant, are summarized in the table below:

Benjamin Franklin Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

Baird performed a discounted cash flow analysis to estimate a range of implied exchange ratios for Benjamin Franklin. In this analysis, Baird assumed discount rates ranging from 11.5% to 15.5% to derive: (i) the present value of the estimated free cash flows that Benjamin Franklin could generate over the five-year period beginning April 2009 and ending March 2014, including certain expenses and Synergies forecasted by Independent's management as a result of the merger, and assuming excess capital generated at time zero after a target tangible equity to tangible asset ratio of 6.0% and (ii) the present value of Benjamin Franklin's terminal value calculated in year five. Terminal values for Benjamin Franklin were calculated based on a range of 11.0x to 15.0x estimated Benjamin Franklin earnings for the LTM ending March 31, 2015. In performing this analysis, Baird used Independent and Benjamin Franklin managements' standalone earnings estimates for Benjamin Franklin for the five-year period. Certain data was adjusted to account for certain restructuring charges anticipated by Independent's management to result from the merger and Independent's management's assumptions of the Synergies resulting from the merger. Based on these assumptions, Baird derived a range of implied exchange ratios from 0.54 to 0.79, as compared to the exchange ratio of 0.59 in the merger.

Table of Contents

The discounted cash flow analysis is a widely used valuation methodology, but the results of such methodology are highly dependent on the assumptions that must be made, including earnings growth rates, terminal values, and discount rates. The analysis did not purport to be indicative of the actual values or expected values of Benjamin Franklin.

Pro Forma Merger Analysis

Baird analyzed the estimated financial impact of the merger on Independent's 2009 and 2010 estimated diluted EPS. For Independent, Baird used Independent's management's estimates of diluted EPS for 2009 and 2010; for Benjamin Franklin, Baird used Independent's and Benjamin Franklin's managements' standalone estimates of EPS for 2009 and 2010. In addition, Baird assumed that the merger would result in Synergies equal to Independent's management's estimates. Based on its analysis and such assumptions, Baird determined that the merger would be accretive to Independent's diluted EPS in 2009 and 2010, excluding Independent's management's estimated one-time after-tax transaction charges expected to occur in 2009.

Furthermore, the analysis indicated that Independent's leverage ratio, Tier 1 risk-based capital ratio and total risk-based capital ratio would all remain above regulatory minimums for well capitalized institutions. This analysis was based on internal projections provided by Independent's and Benjamin Franklin's senior management teams. For all of the above analysis, the actual results achieved by Independent following the merger may vary from the projected results, and the variations may be material.

Contribution Analysis

Baird analyzed Independent's and Benjamin Franklin's relative contribution to the combined company in terms of assets, gross loans, deposits, tangible equity and 2009 generally accepted accounting principles estimated earnings as provided by the managements of Independent and Benjamin Franklin. As a result of the merger and the number of shares of Independent common stock to be issued in the merger pursuant to the exchange ratio, Benjamin Franklin shareholders will own approximately 22% of the pro forma outstanding Independent common stock. Independent's and Benjamin Franklin's contributions to the combined company are summarized in the table below:

Category	Independent	Benjamin Franklin
Assets(1)	78.0%	22.0%
Gross Loans(1)	79.2%	20.8%
Deposits(1)	79.3%	20.7%
Tangible Equity(1)	71.6%	28.4%
2009 Estimated Earnings (GAAP)(2)	85.7%	14.3%
Estimated Pro Forma Ownership	77.8%	22.2%

(1) As of September 30, 2008.

(2) Based on standalone estimates provided by the managements of Independent and Benjamin Franklin.

Note: Except for estimated pro forma ownership, contribution percentages do not include purchase accounting adjustments.

Other Analyses

Baird reviewed the relative financial and market performance of Independent and Benjamin Franklin to a variety of relevant industry peer groups and indices. Baird also reviewed earnings estimates, balance sheet composition, historical stock performance and other financial data for Independent.

The foregoing summary does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by Baird or its presentations to Independent's board of directors. The preparation of financial analyses and a fairness opinion is a complex process and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analyses or summary description. Baird believes that its analyses (and the summary set forth above) must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of such analyses and other factors considered by Baird, without considering all of such analyses and factors, could create an incomplete and/or misleading view of the processes and judgments underlying the analyses performed and conclusions reached by Baird and its opinion. Baird did not attempt to assign specific weights to any particular analyses, but rather made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis. In its analysis, Baird made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, financial and economic conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of Baird. Because these assumptions are inherently subject to uncertainty, Baird does not assume any responsibility or liability if future results are materially different from such assumptions. Any estimates contained in Baird's analyses are not necessarily indicative of actual results or values or predictive of future results or values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than as set forth therein. Estimates of values of companies do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which companies may actually be sold. Because such estimates are inherently subject to uncertainty, Baird does not assume any responsibility or liability for their accuracy.

As part of its investment banking business, Baird is engaged in the evaluation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive biddings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes. As compensation for its services in connection with the merger, Baird received a fairness opinion fee of $150,000, which was paid upon delivery of its opinion, and a financial advisory fee of $150,000, which was paid upon execution of the merger agreement. Baird also will receive a transaction fee of $300,000 upon closing of the merger. Baird also will receive a fee if Independent receives a termination fee from Benjamin Franklin. In addition, Independent has agreed to reimburse Baird for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify Baird against certain liabilities that may arise out of its engagement, including liabilities under the federal securities laws. In the past, Baird has provided investment banking and financial advisory services to Independent for which Baird received customary compensation. Specifically, within the past two years, Baird provided investment banking and financial advisory services to Independent in connection with Independent's issuance of $30 million of subordinated debentures and its acquisition of Slade's Ferry Bancorp. in 2008. Baird received customary fees from Independent in connection with its financial advisory role in Independent's acquisition of Slade's Ferry Bancorp. Baird received a customary referral fee from the purchaser of Independent's subordinated debentures. Baird has never provided investment banking or financial advisory services to Benjamin Franklin.

Baird is a full service securities firm. As such, in the ordinary course of its business, Baird may from time to time trade the securities of Independent or Benjamin Franklin for its own account or the accounts of its customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold long or short positions or effect transactions in such securities. Baird has in the past prepared equity analyst research reports from time to time regarding Independent, and likely will continue to do so in the future.

Opinion of Benjamin Franklin's Financial Adviser

On May 7, 2008 Benjamin Franklin engaged Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc. (KBW) to render financial advisory and investment banking services to Benjamin Franklin. Pursuant to that engagement, KBW agreed to assist Benjamin Franklin in assessing the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger with Independent to the shareholders of Benjamin Franklin. Benjamin Franklin selected KBW because KBW is a nationally recognized investment banking firm with substantial experience in transactions similar to the merger and is familiar with Benjamin Franklin and its business. As part of its investment banking business, KBW is continually engaged in the valuation of financial services companies and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions.

As part of its engagement, a representative of KBW attended the meeting of the Benjamin Franklin board held on November 8, 2008, at which the Benjamin Franklin board evaluated the proposed merger with Independent. At this meeting, KBW reviewed the financial aspects of the proposed merger and rendered an opinion that, as of such date, the exchange ratio offered to Benjamin Franklin shareholders in the merger was fair from a financial point of view.

The Benjamin Franklin board approved the merger agreement at this meeting.

Table of Contents

The full text of KBW's written opinion is attached as Annex C to this document and is incorporated herein by reference. Benjamin Franklin shareholders are urged to read the opinion in its entirety for a description of the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered, and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by KBW. The description of the opinion set forth herein is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such opinion.

KBW's opinion speaks only as of the date of the opinion. The opinion is directed to the Benjamin Franklin board and addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the consideration offered to the Benjamin Franklin shareholders. It does not address the underlying business decision to proceed with the merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any Benjamin Franklin shareholder as to how the shareholder should vote at the Benjamin Franklin special meeting on the merger or any related matter.

In rendering its opinion, KBW:

reviewed, among other things,

the merger agreement,

Annual Reports to shareholders and Annual Reports on Form 10-K for the three years ended December 31, 2007 of Independent,

Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q of Independent,

Annual Reports to shareholders and Annual Reports on Form 10-K for the three years ended December 31, 2007 of Benjamin Franklin, and

Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q of Benjamin Franklin;

held discussions with members of senior management of Benjamin Franklin and Independent regarding past and current business operations,

regulatory relations,

financial condition and

future prospects of their respective companies;

reviewed the market prices, valuation multiples, publicly reported financial condition and results of operations for Benjamin Franklin and Independent and compared them with those of certain publicly traded companies that KBW deemed to be relevant;

compared the proposed financial terms of the merger with the financial terms of certain other transactions that KBW deemed to be relevant; and performed other studies and analyses that it considered appropriate.

In conducting its review and arriving at its opinion, KBW relied upon and assumed the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information provided to or otherwise made available to KBW or that was discussed with, or reviewed by KBW, or that was publicly available. KBW did not attempt or assume any responsibility to verify such information independently. KBW relied upon the management of Benjamin Franklin and Independent as to the reasonableness and achievability of the financial and operating forecasts and projections (and assumptions and bases therefor) provided to KBW. KBW assumed, without independent verification, that the aggregate allowances for loan and lease losses for Independent and Benjamin Franklin are adequate to cover those losses. KBW did not make or obtain any evaluations or appraisals of any assets or liabilities of Independent or Benjamin Franklin, nor did it examine or review any individual credit files.

The projections furnished to KBW and used by it in certain of its analyses were prepared by Benjamin Franklin's and Independent's senior management teams. Benjamin Franklin and Independent do not publicly disclose internal management projections of the type provided to KBW in connection with its review of the merger. As a result, such projections were not prepared with a view towards public disclosure. The projections were based on numerous variables and assumptions, which are inherently uncertain, including factors related to general economic and competitive conditions. Accordingly, actual results could vary significantly from those set forth in the projections.

For purposes of rendering its opinion, KBW assumed that, in all respects material to its analyses:

the merger will be completed substantially in accordance with the terms set forth in the merger agreement;

the representations and warranties of each party in the merger agreement and in all related documents and instruments referred to in the merger agreement are true and correct;

each party to the merger agreement and all related documents will perform all of the covenants and agreements required to be performed by such party under such documents;

all conditions to the completion of the merger will be satisfied without any waivers; and in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory, contractual, or other consents or approvals for the merger, no restrictions, including any divestiture requirements, termination or other payments or amendments or modifications, will be imposed that will have a material adverse effect on the future results of operations or financial condition of the combined entity or the contemplated benefits of the merger, including the cost savings and related expenses expected to result from the merger.

KBW further assumed that the merger will be accounted for as an acquisition under generally accepted accounting principles, and that the conversion of Benjamin Franklin's common stock into Independent common stock will be tax-free for Independent and Benjamin Franklin. KBW's opinion is not an expression of an opinion as to the prices at which shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock or shares of Independent common stock will trade following the announcement of the merger or the actual value of the shares of common stock of the combined company when issued pursuant to the merger, or the prices at which the shares of common stock of the combined company will trade following the completion of the merger.

In performing its analyses, KBW made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, which are beyond the control of KBW, Benjamin Franklin and Independent. Any estimates contained in the analyses performed by KBW are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by these analyses. Additionally, estimates of the value of businesses or securities do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which such businesses or securities might actually be sold. Accordingly, these analyses and estimates are inherently subject to substantial uncertainty. In addition, the KBW opinion was among several factors taken into consideration by the Benjamin Franklin board in making its determination to approve the merger agreement and the merger. Consequently, the analyses described below should not be viewed as determinative of the decision of the Benjamin Franklin board with respect to the fairness of the consideration.

The following is a summary of the material analyses presented by KBW to the Benjamin Franklin board on November 8, 2008, in connection with its fairness opinion. The summary is not a complete description of the analyses underlying the KBW opinion or the presentation made by KBW to the Benjamin Franklin board, but summarizes the material analyses performed and presented in connection with such opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex analytic process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. Therefore, a fairness opinion is not readily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. In arriving at its opinion, KBW did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor that it considered, but rather made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. The financial analyses summarized below include information presented in tabular format. Accordingly, KBW believes that its analyses and the summary of its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and factors or focusing on the information presented below in tabular format, without considering all analyses and factors or the full narrative description of the financial analyses, including the methodologies and assumptions underlying the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the process underlying its analyses and opinion. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses.

Summary of Proposal

Based on Independent's closing stock price on November 7, 2008 of $26.73, the exchange ratio represents a value of $15.77 per share to Benjamin Franklin.

For each precedent transaction, KBW derived and compared, among other things, the implied ratio of price per common share paid for the acquired company to:

the earnings per share of the acquired company for the latest 12 months of results publicly available prior to the time the transaction was announced;

book value per share of the acquired company based on the latest publicly available financial statements of the company available prior to the announcement of the acquisition.

tangible book value per share of the acquired company based on the latest publicly available financial statements of the company available prior to the announcement of the acquisition.

tangible equity premium to core deposits (total deposits less time deposits greater than $100,000) based on the latest publicly available financial statements of the company available prior to the announcement of the acquisition.

Financial Impact Analysis

KBW performed pro forma merger analyses that combined projected income statement and balance sheet information of Independent and Benjamin Franklin. Assumptions regarding the accounting treatment, acquisition adjustments and cost savings were used to calculate the financial impact that the merger would have on certain projected financial results of Independent. In the course of this analysis, KBW used earnings estimates for Independent for 2008 and 2009 from a nationally recognized earnings estimate consolidator and used earnings estimates for Benjamin Franklin for 2008 and 2009 from Benjamin Franklin's management. This analysis indicated that the merger is expected to be accretive to Independent's estimated earnings per share and cash earnings per share in 2009. Cash earnings were estimated by adding both the anticipated core deposit intangible amortization expense and Independent's existing core deposit intangible expense to GAAP earnings. The analysis also indicated that the merger is expected to be accretive to book value per share and accretive to tangible book value per share for Independent and that Independent would maintain well capitalized capital ratios. For all of the above analyses, the actual results achieved by Independent following the merger will vary from the projected results, and the variations may be material.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

KBW performed a discounted cash flow analysis to estimate a range of the present values of after-tax cash flows that Benjamin Franklin could provide to equity holders through 2013 on a stand-alone basis. In performing this analysis, KBW used earnings estimates for Benjamin Franklin for 2009 from Benjamin Franklin's management and applied a range of long-term growth rates from 4.0% to 12.0% thereafter. The range of values was determined by adding (1) the present value of projected cash dividends to Benjamin Franklin shareholders from 2009 to 2013, assuming an annual dividend payout ratio (percentage of earnings per share payable to shareholders) of 42.1% and (2) the present value of the terminal value of Benjamin Franklin's common stock. In calculating the terminal value of Benjamin Franklin, KBW applied multiples ranging from 12.0x to 16.0x to 2014 forecasted earnings. The dividend stream and the terminal value were discounted back to present value using an 11% discount rate calculated using the capital asset pricing model. This resulted in a range of values of Benjamin Franklin from $8.50 to $15.34 per share.

KBW stated that the discounted cash flow present value analysis is a widely used valuation methodology but noted that it relies on numerous assumptions, including asset and earnings growth rates, terminal values and discount rates. The analysis did not purport to be indicative of the actual values or expected values of Benjamin Franklin.

Dividend Accretion Analysis

KBW calculated the increase in dividends per share for Benjamin Franklin by multiplying Independent's annualized most recent dividend of $0.72 by the 0.59 exchange ratio, and dividing the product by Benjamin Franklin's annualized most recent dividend of $0.32. The result was a 32.8% increase in dividends to Benjamin Franklin's shareholders.

Other Analyses

KBW reviewed the relative financial and market performance of Benjamin Franklin and Independent to a variety of relevant industry peer groups and indices. KBW also reviewed earnings estimates, balance sheet composition, historical stock performance and other financial data for Independent.

The Benjamin Franklin board has retained KBW as an independent contractor to act as financial adviser to Benjamin Franklin regarding the merger. As part of its investment banking business, KBW is continually engaged in the valuation of banking businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive biddings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes. As specialists in the securities of banking companies, KBW has experience in, and knowledge of, the valuation of banking enterprises. In the ordinary course of its business as a broker-dealer, KBW may, from time to time, purchase securities from, and sell securities to, Benjamin Franklin and Independent. As a market maker in securities KBW may from time to time have a long or short position in, and buy or sell, debt or equity securities of Benjamin Franklin and Independent for KBW's own account and for the accounts of its customers.

Benjamin Franklin and KBW have entered into an agreement relating to the services to be provided by KBW in connection with the merger. Benjamin Franklin paid KBW a cash fee of $150,000 concurrently with the execution of the merger agreement, and agreed to pay a cash fee of $150,000 promptly after the mailing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Finally, Benjamin Franklin will pay to KBW at the time of closing of the merger a cash fee (Contingent Fee) equal to 1.00% of the market value of the aggregate consideration offered in exchange for the outstanding shares of common stock and options of Benjamin Franklin in the merger, where aggregate consideration means the total amount of cash and the fair market value on the date of closing of the Independent common stock paid or payable by Independent to Benjamin Franklin's shareholders and option holders in connection with the merger. The fees paid prior to the Contingent Fee payment will be credited against the Contingent Fee. Pursuant to the KBW engagement agreement, Benjamin Franklin also agreed to reimburse KBW for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements incurred in connection with its engagement and to indemnify KBW against certain losses, claims, damages and liabilities relating to or arising out of its engagement, including liabilities under the federal securities laws.

Regulatory Approvals Required to Complete the Merger

The merger is subject to the condition that all consents and approvals of any governmental authority required to consummate the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement shall have been obtained and remain in full force and effect and all statutory waiting periods in respect thereof shall have expired or been terminated. The merger also is subject to the condition that none of such regulatory approvals shall impose a Burdensome Condition, which is defined in the merger agreement to mean any term, condition or restriction upon Independent or any of its subsidiaries that Independent reasonably determines would prohibit or materially limit the ownership or operation by Benjamin Franklin or any of its subsidiaries, or by Independent or any of its subsidiaries, of all or any material portion of the business or assets of Benjamin Franklin or any of its subsidiaries or Independent or its subsidiaries, or compel Independent or any of its subsidiaries to dispose of or hold separate all or any material portion of the business or assets of Benjamin Franklin or any of its subsidiaries or Independent or any of its subsidiaries.

Table of Contents

The consents and approvals of governmental authorities that Independent and Benjamin Franklin believe are required to consummate the merger are as follows:

the approval of the Board of Bank Incorporation of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to merge Merger Sub with and into Benjamin Franklin, with Benjamin Franklin becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of Independent;

confirmation from the Massachusetts Housing Partnership Fund (the Housing Partnership Fund) that Independent has made arrangements satisfactory to the Housing Partnership Fund; and the approval or waiver of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956.

The consents and approvals of governmental authorities that Independent and Benjamin Franklin believe are required to consummate the merger of Benjamin Franklin Bank with Rockland Trust (which are not conditions to consummation of the merger) are as follows:

the FDIC's approval of the merger of Benjamin Franklin Bank with and into Rockland Trust; and the approval of the Massachusetts Commissioner of Banks to merge Benjamin Franklin Bank with and into Rockland Trust, with Rockland Trust being the surviving entity.

The parties have filed all applications and notice materials necessary to obtain these regulatory approvals or non-objections, including a request for a waiver from the application requirements of the Bank Holding Company Act. The merger cannot be completed until the first three approvals and non-objections listed above have been obtained, are in full force and effect and all statutory waiting periods in respect thereof have expired, and the merger between Rockland Trust and Benjamin Franklin Bank (the bank merger) cannot be completed until after the last two approvals listed above have been obtained. The merger may not be consummated until 30 days after the approval of the Federal Reserve Board (or such shorter period as the Federal Reserve Board may prescribe with the concurrence of the United States Department of Justice, but not less than 15 days), during which time the Department of Justice may challenge the merger on antitrust grounds. The bank merger (the completion of which is not a condition to the merger) may not be consummated until 30 days after the approval of the FDIC (or such shorter period as the FDIC may prescribe with the concurrence of the United States Department of Justice, but not less than 15 days), during which time the Department of Justice may challenge the bank merger on antitrust grounds. The commencement of an antitrust action by the Department of Justice would stay the effectiveness of the Federal Reserve Board or FDIC approval, as the case may be, unless a court specifically orders otherwise. In reviewing the merger and the bank merger, the Department of Justice could analyze the merger's effect on competition differently than the Federal Reserve Board and the FDIC, and it is possible that the Department of Justice could reach a different conclusion than the applicable banking regulator regarding the merger's (or the bank merger's) competitive effects.

Independent and Benjamin Franklin cannot assure you that all required regulatory approvals or non-objections will be obtained, when they will be obtained or whether there will be conditions in the approvals or any litigation challenging the approvals. Independent and Benjamin Franklin also cannot assure you that the United States Department of Justice or the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts will not attempt to challenge the merger on antitrust grounds, or what the outcome will be if such a challenge is made. Independent and Benjamin Franklin are not aware of any other government approvals or actions that are required prior to the parties' consummation of the merger. It is currently contemplated that if any such additional governmental approvals or actions are required, such approvals or actions will be sought. There can be no assurance, however, that any such additional approvals or actions will be obtained.

Interests of Benjamin Franklin s Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger

Benjamin Franklin s executive officers and directors have interests in the merger that may be different from, or in addition to, the interests of other Benjamin Franklin s shareholders generally. The Benjamin Franklin board of directors was aware of these interests and considered them, among other matters, when it approved the merger agreement.

Equity Plans

All outstanding unvested Benjamin Franklin stock options will become fully vested upon approval of the merger agreement and the merger by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders. With the exception of options held by Thomas R. Venables and Claire S. Bean, as described below, holders of Benjamin Franklin options will be given the opportunity to elect to exchange their options for options to purchase Independent common stock. The per share exercise price of such options will be adjusted by dividing such exercise price by the exchange ratio of 0.59 per share, and the number of shares covered by such options will be adjusted by multiplying the number of Benjamin Franklin shares covered by such option by 0.59. All options exchanged for options to purchase Independent common stock will remain outstanding until two years following the effective time of the merger, regardless of continuation of employment. If an option holder does not elect to exchange his or her Benjamin Franklin options for Independent options, such holder's options will be cancelled upon consummation of the merger, and the holder will receive a cash payment upon such cancellation in an amount equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock provided for by such option and (ii) the excess, if any, of (a) the closing value of the merger consideration over (b) the exercise price of the option. For this purpose, closing value of the merger consideration means the product of (x) the average closing prices of Independent common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for the twenty-five (25) trading days ending on the fifth (5th) trading day immediately preceding the completion of the merger, multiplied by (y) the exchange ratio of 0.59 per share.

Pursuant to the merger agreement, Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean may not elect to exchange the options held by them into options to purchase Independent common stock. All options held by Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean will be cancelled in exchange for a cash payment, as described above.

The Benjamin Franklin shareholders' approval of the merger will cause the acceleration of vesting of all outstanding unvested stock options under Benjamin Franklin's 2006 Stock Incentive Plan. As of December 4, 2008, unvested stock options for approximately 352,466 shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock were outstanding under such plan. The Benjamin Franklin shareholders' approval of the merger will also cause the acceleration of vesting of all outstanding unvested shares of restricted stock. As of December 4, 2008, 131,373 unvested shares of restricted stock were outstanding under such plan. At the effective time of the merger, each of the 131,373 currently unvested shares of Benjamin Franklin restricted stock outstanding under the 2006 Stock Incentive Plan will be converted into the right to receive 0.59 shares of Independent common stock. The merger agreement provides for the immediate termination of the tax-qualified employee stock ownership plan of Benjamin Franklin subject to, and effective upon, the consummation of the merger. See Merger Agreement Employee Benefits Matters below.

The following table sets forth, as of December 4, 2008, the total number of options held by the named executive officers of Benjamin Franklin, the executive officers of Benjamin Franklin as a group and all non-employee directors of Benjamin Franklin as a group, as well as the value of cash payments to be received upon cancellation of such options assuming the option holder does not elect to exchange such options for options to purchase Independent common stock. In addition, the following table reflects the number of unvested shares of restricted stock held by the named executive officers of Benjamin Franklin, the executive

Settlement Agreements

Independent has agreed to honor Benjamin Franklin's pre-existing employment agreements, change in control agreements and supplemental retirement agreements with Thomas R. Venables, Benjamin Franklin's President and Chief Executive Officer, Claire S. Bean, Benjamin Franklin's Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, Mariane E. Broadhurst, Benjamin Franklin's Senior Vice President and Retail Banking Officer, Rose M. Buckley, Benjamin Franklin's Senior Vice President and Senior Lending Officer, Michael J. Piemonte, Benjamin Franklin's Senior Vice President and Risk Management Officer, and two other Benjamin Franklin officers. In connection with the merger agreement, Independent and Benjamin Franklin have entered into settlement agreements (that include waiver and release provisions) with these officers for the purpose of setting forth, and avoiding any future disagreement with respect to, the lump sum payments and continuation of health insurance benefits that the executive officers are entitled to receive under their agreements with Benjamin Franklin. Pursuant to the settlement agreements, the pre-existing agreements will terminate at the closing of the merger (other than the survival of certain specified provisions) and the officers will look solely to the terms of the settlement agreements to determine their rights to receive severance and other payments and benefits related to the termination of their employment.

Under these settlement agreements, in settlement of certain portions of their existing employment agreements or change in control agreements with Benjamin Franklin, lump sum cash payments will be made immediately prior to closing to these executives, in the amount of $1,518,945 for Mr. Venables, $1,069,567 for Ms. Bean, $408,400 for Ms. Broadhurst, $449,600 for Ms. Buckley, $127,050 for Mr. Piemonte and $262,325 in aggregate for the other two Benjamin Franklin officers. The settlement agreements also confirm these officers' rights under their existing employment and change-in-control agreements to receive continuation of their health benefits for the following periods: Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean thirty-six (36) months; Ms. Broadhurst and Ms. Buckley twenty-four (24) months; and Mr. Piemonte and the two other Benjamin Franklin officers twelve (12) months. In the case of Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean, these payments will not be made directly to the officers but will be deposited into a trust, which will make the payments to the officers six months after closing.

Table of Contents

Independent has also agreed to honor the supplemental retirement agreements (SERPs) between Benjamin Franklin and each of Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean. Pursuant to the settlement agreements with these executives, as full settlement of the SERPs, a payment will be made into a trust in an amount equal to approximately $6,969,394 and $3,351,884 for the benefit of Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean, respectively (with such payments to be distributed by the trust to the officers six months after closing). Each of Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean has also agreed to be bound by non-competition and non-solicitation provisions contained within their settlement agreements for a period of one (1) year following the merger for which they will be paid a total of $400,000 and $250,000, respectively, with such amount paid in equal monthly installments in arrears.

In addition, as provided in their existing employment agreements, Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean will be provided with an indemnification payment for the excise taxes imposed under Section 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code so that, after payment of the excise tax and all income and excise taxes imposed on the indemnification payments, the executive will retain the same or approximately the same net-after tax amounts that he or she would have retained if there were no 20% excise tax imposed under Section 280G. The amount of this indemnification payment is currently estimated to be approximately $3,397,209 for Mr. Venables and $1,768,726 for Ms. Bean. The amounts payable to Ms. Broadhurst, Ms. Buckley, Mr. Piemonte and the other two Benjamin Franklin officers will be reduced, if necessary, to ensure that no portion of the amounts payable to them would be subject to excise tax under Section 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code or would be non-deductible to the payor by reason of Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code. It is not expected that any such reduction will be necessary.

Director Fee Continuation Plan.

Each non-employee director of Benjamin Franklin whose service as a director is terminated in connection with, or within three years following, the merger will be entitled to accelerated vesting and the receipt of a lump sum benefit under Benjamin Franklin's existing director fee continuation plan. The lump sum benefit will be equal to the average total annual fees for services as a director received by the director for the three calendar years preceding the termination of the director's services, multiplied by five. On average, the payments per director will be approximately $147,000, and range from a low of approximately $113,000 to a high of approximately $180,000.

Indemnification and Insurance

The merger agreement provides that Independent will indemnify and hold harmless the present and former officers and directors of Benjamin Franklin and its subsidiaries against costs or expenses, judgments, fines, losses, claims, damages or liabilities incurred in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, arising out of or pertaining to matters existing or occurring at or prior to the merger, whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the effective date of the merger, to the extent such indemnified party would have been indemnified, as a director or officer of Benjamin Franklin or any of its subsidiaries under Benjamin Franklin's bylaws. Independent will also continue to cover those persons for a period of six years following the effective date of the merger arising out of actions or omissions occurring at or prior to the merger, except that Independent is not required to expend more than 225% per year of the current amount expended by Benjamin Franklin to maintain such insurance.

THE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following summary describes certain aspects of the merger, including material provisions of the merger agreement. This summary is not complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached as Annex A to this document and is incorporated into this document by reference. You should read the merger agreement in its entirety, as it is the legal document governing the merger.

The Merger

Each of Benjamin Franklin's board of directors and Independent's board of directors has unanimously approved the merger agreement, which provides for the merger of Merger Sub, a newly formed, wholly owned subsidiary of Independent, with and into Benjamin Franklin. Benjamin Franklin will survive the merger as a wholly owned subsidiary of Independent. Each share of Independent common stock issued and outstanding at the effective time of the merger will remain issued and outstanding as one share of common stock of Independent, and each share of Benjamin Franklin common stock issued and outstanding at the effective time of the merger will be converted into 0.59 shares of Independent common stock, as described below. See Consideration To Be Received in the Merger below.

The merger agreement provides that Independent may change the structure of the merger as long as such change does not alter the kind or amount of merger consideration to be provided under the merger agreement, or materially delay or jeopardize receipt of any required regulatory approvals or adversely affect the tax treatment of Benjamin Franklin's shareholders as a result of receiving the merger consideration.

Effective Time and Completion of the Merger

The merger will be completed and will become effective upon the acceptance for filing by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of the articles of merger related to the merger. However, the parties may agree to a later time for completion of the merger and specify that later time in the articles of merger in accordance with Massachusetts law.

We currently expect that the merger will be completed in the second quarter of 2009, subject to Independent's shareholders' approval of the share issuance pursuant to the merger agreement and Benjamin Franklin's shareholders' approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, the receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals and the expiration of all regulatory waiting periods. However, completion of the merger could be delayed if there is a delay in obtaining the required regulatory approvals or in satisfying any other conditions to the merger. There can be no assurances as to whether, or when, Benjamin Franklin and Independent will obtain the required approvals or complete the merger.

Board of Directors of Independent

Prior to completion of the merger, Independent's board of directors will increase by three the number of directors constituting the entire board of directors, effective as of and contingent upon the occurrence of the effective time of the merger. Independent will elect Thomas R. Venables and two other Benjamin Franklin representatives (selected in Independent's sole discretion from among the Benjamin Franklin directors other than Mr. Venables who meet the qualifications described in the merger agreement and Benjamin Franklin's Chief Financial Officer) to fill the vacancies and thereby become directors of Independent, effective as of and contingent upon the occurrence of the effective time of the merger. One such director will be elected to serve a term to expire at the 2010 annual meeting of Independent's shareholders and two directors will be elected to serve a term to expire at the 2011 annual meeting of Independent s shareholders. Independent will use commercially reasonable efforts to nominate each of them for at least one additional three-year term so long as they remain qualified to serve.

Consideration to Be Received in the Merger

In the merger, each outstanding share of Benjamin Franklin common stock will be converted into the right to receive 0.59 shares of Independent common stock. Independent will not issue any fractional shares of its common stock in the merger, but will instead pay cash (determined on the basis of the average closing prices of Independent's common stock during a twenty-five day measurement period ending five days before the closing of the merger) for any fractional share a Benjamin Franklin shareholder would otherwise receive after aggregating all of his or her shares.

Exchange of Benjamin Franklin Stock Certificates for Independent Stock Certificates

On or before the closing date of the merger, Independent will cause to be delivered to the exchange agent certificates representing the shares of Independent common stock to be issued in the merger. In addition, Independent will deliver to the exchange agent an aggregate amount of cash sufficient to paid in lieu of fractional shares of Independent common stock. Independent has selected Computershare Limited to act as the exchange agent in connection with the merger.

If the merger is approved, Benjamin Franklin's shareholders will receive separate instructions for the exchange of certificates representing Benjamin Franklin common stock. No later than five business days following the effective time of the merger, the exchange agent will mail to each Benjamin Franklin shareholder of record at the effective time of the merger who did not previously surrender Benjamin Franklin stock certificates, a letter of transmittal and instructions for use in surrendering the shareholder's Benjamin Franklin stock certificates. When such Benjamin Franklin shareholders deliver their Benjamin Franklin stock certificates to the exchange agent along with a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal and any other required documents, their Benjamin Franklin stock certificates will be cancelled and in exchange they will receive:

an Independent stock certificate representing the number of whole shares of Independent common stock that they are entitled to receive under the merger agreement; and a check representing the amount of cash that they are entitled to receive in lieu of fractional shares, if any.

No interest will be paid or accrued on any cash constituting merger consideration.

Benjamin Franklin's shareholders are not entitled to receive any dividends or other distributions on Independent common stock with a record date after the closing date of the merger until they have surrendered their Benjamin Franklin stock certificates in exchange for an Independent stock certificate. After the surrender of their Benjamin Franklin stock certificates, Benjamin Franklin shareholders of record will be entitled to receive any dividend or other distribution, without interest, which had become payable with respect to their Independent common stock.

Independent will only issue a stock certificate for Independent common stock or a check for cash in lieu of a fractional share in a name other than the name in which a surrendered Benjamin Franklin stock certificate is registered if the exchange agent is presented with all documents required to show and effect the unrecorded transfer of ownership, together with evidence that any applicable stock transfer taxes have been paid.

Stock Options and Restricted Stock

Stock Options

All outstanding unvested Benjamin Franklin stock options will become fully vested upon approval of the merger agreement and the merger by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders. With the exception of options held by Thomas R. Venables and Claire S. Bean, as described below, holders of Benjamin Franklin options will be given the opportunity to elect to exchange their options for options to purchase Independent common stock. The per share exercise price of such options will be adjusted by dividing such exercise price by the exchange ratio of 0.59 per share, and the number of shares covered by such options will be adjusted by multiplying the number of Benjamin Franklin shares covered by such option by 0.59. All options exchanged for options to purchase Independent common stock will remain outstanding until two years following the effective time of the merger, regardless of continuation of employment. If an option holder does not elect to exchange his or her Benjamin Franklin options for Independent options, such holder's options will be cancelled upon consummation of the merger, and the holder will receive a cash payment upon such cancellation in an amount equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock provided for by such option and (ii) the excess, if any, of (a) the closing value of the merger consideration over (b) the exercise price of the option. For this purpose, closing value of the merger consideration means the product of (x) the average closing prices of Independent common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market for the twenty-five (25) trading days ending on the fifth (5th) trading day immediately preceding the completion of the merger, multiplied by (y) the exchange ratio of 0.59 per share

Pursuant to the merger agreement, Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean may not elect to exchange the options held by them into options to purchase Independent common stock. All options held by Mr. Venables and Ms. Bean will be cancelled in exchange for a cash payment, as described above.

The cash payment will be made without interest and will be net of all applicable withholding taxes. Benjamin Franklin will request each option holder who does not intend to elect to exchange his or her options for Independent stock options to provide a written acknowledgement of the cancellation of such options and payment for such options as described in this section. As of December 4, 2008, there were outstanding options to purchase 537,620 shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock.

Restricted Stock

All outstanding unvested shares of Benjamin Franklin restricted stock will become fully vested upon approval of the merger agreement and the merger by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders. All of such shares will be treated as outstanding Benjamin Franklin shares for all purposes under the merger agreement, including for purposes of the holder's right to receive the merger consideration. As of December 4, 2008, there were 131,373 shares of unvested Benjamin Franklin restricted stock outstanding.

Representations and Warranties

The merger agreement contains customary representations and warranties of Independent and Benjamin Franklin relating to their respective businesses. With the exception of certain representations that must be true and correct in all material respects or true and correct except to a de minimis extent, no representation or warranty will be deemed untrue or incorrect as a consequence of the existence or absence of any fact, circumstance or event unless that fact, circumstance or event, individually or when taken together with all other facts, circumstances or events, has had or is reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the company making the representation or its ability to timely complete the merger and the bank merger. In determining whether a material adverse effect has occurred or is reasonably likely, the parties will disregard any effects resulting from (1) changes in banking and similar laws of general applicability or interpretations thereof, (2) changes in generally accepted accounting principles or regulatory accounting requirements applicable to banks or bank holding companies generally, (3) any modifications or changes to Benjamin Franklin's valuation policies and practices in connection with the merger or restructuring charges taken in connection with the merger, in each case in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and with Independent's prior written consent, (4) changes after the date of the merger agreement in general economic or capital market conditions affecting financial institutions or their market prices generally and not disproportionately affecting Benjamin Franklin or Independent, including, but not limited to, changes in levels of interest rates generally, (5) the effects of compliance with the merger agreement on the operating performance of Benjamin Franklin or Independent, including the expenses incurred by Benjamin Franklin or Independent in consummation of the merger, and (6) the effects of any action or omission taken by Benjamin Franklin with the prior consent of Independent, and vice versa, or as otherwise expressly permitted or contemplated by the merger agreement.

enter into any contract with respect to, or otherwise agree to do any of the actions prohibited by the preceding bullet points.

Independent has agreed that, except with Benjamin Franklin's prior written consent, Independent will not, among other things, undertake the following actions:

except as may be required by applicable law or regulation, take any action or fail to take any action that is intended or reasonably likely to result in: a delay in the consummation of the merger or the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement; any impediment to its ability to consummate the merger or the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement; any of its representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement becoming untrue in any material respect at or prior to the effective time; any of the conditions contained in the merger agreement not being satisfied; or a material violation of any provision of the merger agreement; or

enter into any contract with respect to, or otherwise agree to do any of the actions prohibited by the preceding bullet point.

Independent has also agreed to keep the Chief Executive Officer of Benjamin Franklin informed with respect to, and include him in board discussions relating to, any plans that Independent is seriously considering (and that would, if consummated, be commenced prior to or immediately following the closing of the merger) with respect to a material sale of additional shares of Independent capital stock or a material acquisition of another whole bank by merger or otherwise.

The merger agreement also contains mutual covenants relating to preparation of this document, access to information of the other company, public announcements with respect to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, regulatory filings and consents, notification of certain changes, information systems conversion, and coordination of dividends and agreements by Benjamin Franklin allowing Independent access to Benjamin Franklin's customers and suppliers and to conduct environmental assessments of certain real property owned by Benjamin Franklin.

Shareholder Approval

Independent has agreed to convene a special meeting of its shareholders to consider and vote upon approval of the share issuance of Independent common stock in connection with the merger. Independent agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to convene the meeting within 45 days following the time when the registration statement becomes effective. Independent has agreed to take all lawful action to solicit shareholder approval of the share issuance of Independent common stock in connection with the merger agreement.

Benjamin Franklin has agreed to convene a special meeting of its shareholders to consider and vote upon approval of the merger agreement and any other matters required to be approved by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders in order to permit consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Benjamin Franklin agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to convene the meeting within 45 days following the time when the registration statement becomes effective. Benjamin Franklin has agreed to take all lawful action to solicit shareholder approval of the merger agreement, although under certain circumstances Benjamin Franklin's board of directors may recommend to Benjamin Franklin's shareholders a Superior Proposal (as defined below) in the exercise of its fiduciary duties, as described below under No Solicitation of Alternative Transactions.

Under the merger agreement, Independent's board of directors must, at all times prior to and during the special meeting, recommend approval of the issuance of Independent common stock pursuant to the merger agreement and may not withhold, withdraw, amend or modify its recommendation in any manner adverse to Benjamin Franklin or take any other action or make any other public statement inconsistent with its recommendation.

Under the merger agreement, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors must, at all times prior to and during the special meeting, recommend adoption of the merger agreement by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders and may not withhold, withdraw, amend or modify its recommendation in any manner adverse to Independent or take any other action or make any other public statement inconsistent with its recommendation, except as and to the extent described below under No Solicitation of Alternative Transactions. Notwithstanding any change in recommendation, the merger agreement must be submitted to Benjamin Franklin's shareholders for their approval.

No Solicitation of Alternative Transactions

With certain exceptions described below, Benjamin Franklin has agreed that it, its subsidiaries and their officers and directors will not, and Benjamin Franklin will use its reasonable best efforts to cause each of its and its subsidiaries representatives not to, directly or indirectly:

solicit, initiate or knowingly encourage any inquiry with respect to, or the making of, any proposal that constitutes or could reasonably be expected to lead to an Acquisition Proposal (as defined below);

participate in any negotiations regarding an Acquisition Proposal with, or furnish any nonpublic information relating to a Acquisition Proposal to, any party that has made or, to the knowledge of Benjamin Franklin, is considering making an Acquisition Proposal; or engage in discussions regarding an Acquisition Proposal with any party that has made, or, to Benjamin Franklin's knowledge, is considering making, an Acquisition Proposal.

However, prior to the time that Benjamin Franklin's shareholders approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, if Benjamin Franklin receives a written and unsolicited Acquisition Proposal that Benjamin

Franklin's board of directors reasonably believes to be credible, which the board of directors determines in good faith (after consultation with its financial advisers and outside counsel) is or could reasonably be expected to result in a Superior Proposal, Benjamin Franklin may take the following actions:

furnish nonpublic information to the party making such Acquisition Proposal, but only if (1) prior to so furnishing such information, Benjamin Franklin has entered into a customary confidentiality agreement

with such party, and (2) all such information has previously been provided to Independent or is provided to Independent prior to or contemporaneously with the time it is provided to the party making such Acquisition Proposal; and engage or participate in any discussions or negotiations with such party with respect to the Acquisition Proposal.

Benjamin Franklin must promptly advise Independent of the receipt of:

any proposal that constitutes or could reasonably be expected to lead to an Acquisition Proposal and the material terms of the proposal; and any request for non-public information relating to Benjamin Franklin or any of its subsidiaries other than requests for information not reasonably expected to be related to an Acquisition Proposal.

Thereafter, Benjamin Franklin must keep Independent reasonably informed on a reasonably current basis of the status of any such Acquisition Proposal (including any material change to the terms thereof).

Except as described below, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors may not:

withhold, withdraw or modify (or publicly propose to withhold, withdraw or modify), in a manner adverse to Independent, its recommendation that Benjamin Franklin shareholders approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby; or approve or recommend (or publicly propose to approve or recommend) any Acquisition Proposal.

Benjamin Franklin may not, and its board of directors may not allow it to, and Benjamin Franklin may not allow any of its subsidiaries to enter into any letter of intent, memorandum of understanding, agreement in principle, acquisition agreement, merger agreement or other agreement (except for customary confidentiality agreements as described above) relating to any Acquisition Proposal.

Notwithstanding the previous paragraph, Benjamin Franklin's board of directors may, prior to the time Benjamin Franklin's shareholders approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, (1) change its recommendation that Benjamin Franklin shareholders approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby or (2) terminate the merger agreement, in either case if and only if the board of directors has determined in good faith, after consulting with its outside counsel, that the failure to take such action would be inconsistent with the directors' fiduciary duties. However, the board of directors may not take any such action in connection with an Acquisition Proposal unless:

the Acquisition Proposal constitutes a Superior Proposal (as defined below);

prior to terminating the merger agreement, Benjamin Franklin provides written notice to Independent at least three business days in advance of its intention to take such action (which notice must specify all material terms and conditions of the Superior Proposal, including documentation related thereto and the identity of the party making the Superior Proposal);

during the three-day notice period, Benjamin Franklin negotiates with Independent in good faith if Independent proposes to make adjustments in the terms and conditions of this merger agreement so that the Acquisition Proposal ceases to constitute a Superior Proposal; and the Acquisition Proposal continues to constitute a Superior Proposal after taking into account any amendments that Independent agrees to make to the merger agreement.

As used in the merger agreement, the term Acquisition Proposal means any proposal or offer with respect to any of the following involving Benjamin Franklin:

any merger, consolidation, share exchange, business combination or other similar transaction;

any sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, transfer or other disposition of assets and/or liabilities that constitute a substantial portion of the net revenues, net income or assets of Benjamin Franklin in a single transaction or series of transactions;

any tender offer or exchange offer for 20% or more of the outstanding shares of Benjamin Franklin's capital stock or the filing of a registration statement under the Securities Act, in connection therewith; or any public announcement by any party of a proposal, plan or intention to do any of the foregoing or any agreement to engage in any of the foregoing.

As used in the merger agreement, the term "Superior Proposal" means any bona fide written Acquisition Proposal with respect to more than 50% of the combined voting power of the shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock then outstanding or all or substantially all of the assets of Benjamin Franklin:

that is on terms which Benjamin Franklin's board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with its financial adviser, to be more favorable from a financial point of view to Benjamin Franklin's shareholders than the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;

that constitutes a transaction that, in the good faith judgment of Benjamin Franklin's board of directors, is reasonably likely to be consummated on the terms set forth, taking into account all legal, financial, regulatory and other aspects of such proposal; and for which financing, to the extent required, is then committed pursuant to a written commitment letter.

Employee Benefits Matters

Benefit Plans

The merger agreement provides that following the effective date of the merger, Independent will provide those individuals who are employees of Benjamin Franklin and its subsidiaries and who continue as employees of Independent or any of its subsidiaries with employee benefit plans of general applicability for which Independent has analogous plans (other than stock options and other equity-based plans) with such employee plans being either those of Benjamin Franklin or Independent as selected by Independent coverage; provided, however, that within one year of the completion of the merger, all such employees will be entitled to participate in all benefit plans of general applicability then maintained by Independent to the same extent as similarly-situated employees of Independent. Independent will make all commercially reasonable efforts to cause each benefit plan providing medical or dental benefits to continuing employees to waive any preexisting condition limitations relating to any conditions that were covered under the applicable medical or dental plans of Benjamin Franklin and its subsidiaries, take into account all eligible expenses incurred for purposes of satisfying the deductible and coinsurance and waive any waiting period limitation or evidence of insurability requirement which would otherwise be applicable to the continuing employee.

Severance Pay Plan

Independent has agreed to assume and honor the Severance Pay Plan of Benjamin Franklin. The Severance Pay Plan provides for severance benefits for eligible employees not covered by any contractual severance arrangement in connection with certain terminations of employment that occur within one year after the effective date of the merger. Under the Severance Pay Plan, eligible employees who are not paid on a commission-only basis and whose employment is terminated without cause during the one year following the merger would be entitled to receive severance pay in a lump sum. The amount of this lump sum payment would be equal to two weeks' salary per year of service up to a maximum of fifty-two (52) weeks, with certain minimum benefits being provided based upon an individual's title if this yields a greater benefit.

In addition to the severance benefits provided above, employees who receive a lump sum severance payment will also be eligible to receive continued medical, dental and life insurance coverage for the greater of (i) six (6) months or (ii) the number of weeks of their cash severance benefit. Commission-only employees whose employment is terminated without cause during the one year following the merger would be eligible to receive continued medical, dental and life insurance coverage for six (6) months with no cash severance paid.

Employee Stock Ownership Plan

The merger agreement provides for the immediate termination of the tax-qualified employee stock ownership plan of Benjamin Franklin (the ESOP) subject to, and effective upon, the consummation of the merger. All shares held by the ESOP will be converted into the right to receive the 0.59 shares of Independent common stock. All accounts under ESOP will vest in full upon the termination of the ESOP. Any surplus unallocated assets held in the ESOP upon termination will first be used to satisfy the outstanding loan that was incurred by the ESOP to purchase shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock, as well as any administrative costs of the ESOP. Any remaining surplus assets will then be allocated to the accounts of ESOP participants in proportion to their account balances at the time of the ESOP s termination. Upon the receipt of a favorable determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service related to the ESOP s termination, the amounts held in the ESOP will be distributed to the account holders.

Conditions to Complete the Merger

Our respective obligations to complete the merger are subject to the fulfillment or waiver of mutual conditions, including:

receipt of approval of our shareholders;

the effectiveness of the registration statement of which this document is a part, with respect to the Independent common stock to be issued in the merger under the Securities Act, and the absence of any stop order or proceedings initiated or threatened by the Securities and Exchange Commission for that purpose;

the receipt by each party of a legal opinion from its counsel with respect to certain U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger;

the receipt and effectiveness of all regulatory approvals, registrations and consents, and the expiration of all waiting periods required to complete the merger; and the absence of any statute, regulation, rule, decree, injunction or other order in effect by any court or other governmental entity that prohibits completion of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Each of Benjamin Franklin s and Independent s obligations to complete the merger is also separately subject to the satisfaction or waiver of a number of conditions, including the performance by the other party in all material respects of its obligations under the merger agreement, and the other company s representations and warranties in the merger agreement being true and correct in all material respects (except that no representation or warranty will be deemed not to be true and correct unless the failure of such representation or warranty to be true and correct, together with all other failures, would have a material adverse effect on the company).

Independent s obligation to complete the merger is further subject to the conditions that the number of outstanding shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock shall not exceed 7,842,015, except to the extent increased as a result of the exercise of stock options outstanding on the date of the merger agreement.

We cannot provide assurance as to when or if all of the conditions to the merger can or will be satisfied or waived by the appropriate party. As of the date of this document, we have no reason to believe that any of these conditions will not be satisfied.

Table of Contents

Termination of the Merger Agreement

General

The merger agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the completion of the merger by our mutual consent authorized by each of our boards of directors, as determined by a vote of a majority of its respective members, or by either Independent or Benjamin Franklin if:

a governmental entity which must grant a regulatory approval as a condition to the merger denies approval of the merger or any governmental entity has issued an order prohibiting the merger and such action has become final and non-appealable;

the requisite shareholder approval is not obtained from either Independent's shareholders or Benjamin Franklin's shareholders;

the merger is not completed by April 30, 2009 (other than because of a material breach of the Agreement caused by the party seeking termination); or the other party breaches the merger agreement in a way that would entitle the party seeking to terminate the agreement not to consummate the merger, subject to the right of the breaching party to cure the breach by the earlier of: 30 days following written notice or 2 business days before April 30, 2009 (unless it is not possible due to the nature or timing of the breach for the breaching party to cure the breach).

The merger agreement may also be terminated by Independent if Benjamin Franklin has materially breached its non-solicitation obligations; the Benjamin Franklin board has failed to recommend in this proxy statement the approval of the merger agreement, or has withdrawn, modified or qualified, or has proposed to withdraw, modify or qualify, in any manner adverse to Independent, its recommendation that its shareholders approve the merger agreement; the Benjamin Franklin board has recommended, proposed or publicly announced its intention to recommend or propose, to engage in an Acquisition Transaction (as defined below under Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursement) with any person other than Independent or a subsidiary or affiliate of Independent; or the Benjamin Franklin board has failed to call the special meeting of Benjamin Franklin shareholders.

The merger agreement may also be terminated by Benjamin Franklin if it receives a proposal that its board concludes is a Superior Proposal, so long as it complies with the requirements of the merger agreement in connection with such proposal and pays the termination fee described under Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursement, below.

Effect of Termination

In the event the merger agreement is terminated as described above, the merger agreement will become void and neither Independent nor Benjamin Franklin will have any liability under the merger agreement, except that:

both Independent and Benjamin Franklin will remain liable for any willful breach of the merger agreement; and designated provisions of the merger agreement, including those relating to the termination fee, the payment of fees and expenses, non-survival of the representations and warranties, and confidential treatment of information will survive the termination.

Table of Contents

Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursement

Conditions Requiring Payment of Termination Fee

Benjamin Franklin has agreed to pay a termination fee in the amount of $4.5 million to Independent in the following circumstances:

if Benjamin Franklin terminates the merger agreement because Benjamin Franklin's board of directors has approved, and Benjamin Franklin enters into, a definitive agreement with respect to a Superior Proposal (as defined above under "No Solicitation of Alternative Transactions"); or if Independent terminates the merger agreement because:

Benjamin Franklin materially breaches its non-solicitation obligations;

Benjamin Franklin's board of directors fails to recommend that Benjamin Franklin shareholders approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, or the board withdraws the recommendation or modifies it in a manner adverse to Independent;

Benjamin Franklin's board of directors recommends, proposes or publicly announces its intention to recommend or propose, to engage in an Acquisition Transaction (as defined below) with any party other than Independent or a subsidiary or affiliate of Independent; or

Benjamin Franklin materially breaches its obligations to call, give notice of, convene and hold a meeting of Benjamin Franklin shareholders in order to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

In the event that:

(1) an Acquisition Proposal, whether or not conditional, has been publicly announced (or any person has publicly announced an intention, whether or not conditional, to make an Acquisition Proposal) or (2) Benjamin Franklin's board of directors has withheld, withdrawn or modified (or publicly proposed to withhold, withdraw or modify) its recommendation for the merger, prior to or on the date of the special meeting or at any adjournment or postponement thereof at which the vote on the merger agreement is held; and the merger agreement is terminated:

by Independent or Benjamin Franklin because shareholder approval is not obtained by both Independent's shareholders and Benjamin Franklin's shareholders;

by Independent or Benjamin Franklin because the merger is not completed on or before April 30, 2009; or by Independent because Benjamin Franklin willfully breaches the merger agreement in a way that would entitle Independent not to consummate the merger, subject to the right of Benjamin Franklin to cure the breach; and within 12 months following the date of termination, Benjamin Franklin enters into a definitive agreement with respect to any Acquisition Transaction, or Benjamin Franklin consummates any Acquisition Transaction, then Benjamin Franklin must pay the termination fee to Independent. The amount paid will be offset by any amount previously paid for expense reimbursement as described below. Benjamin Franklin must pay the termination fee prior to the earlier of Benjamin Franklin entering into a definitive agreement for or consummating such Acquisition Transaction.

As used in the merger agreement, the term Acquisition Transaction means any of the following involving Benjamin Franklin:

any merger, consolidation, share exchange, business combination or other similar transaction;

any sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, transfer or other disposition of assets and/or liabilities that constitute a substantial portion of the net revenues, net income or assets of Benjamin Franklin in a single transaction or series of transactions; or any tender offer or exchange offer for 20% or more of the outstanding shares of Benjamin Franklin's capital stock or the filing of a registration statement under the Securities Act, in connection therewith.

Conditions Requiring Expense Reimbursement

If the merger agreement is terminated by Independent because:

Benjamin Franklin willfully breaches the merger agreement in a way that would entitle Independent not to consummate the merger, subject to the right of Benjamin Franklin to cure the breach;

shareholder approval is not obtained by both Independent's shareholders and Benjamin Franklin's shareholders; or the merger is not completed on or before April 30, 2009;

and prior to such termination,

an Acquisition Proposal, whether or not conditional, has been publicly announced (or any person has publicly announced an intention, whether or not conditional, to make an Acquisition Proposal); or

Benjamin Franklin's board of directors has withheld, withdrawn or modified (or publicly proposed to withhold, withdraw or modify), its recommendation for the merger, prior to or on the date of the special meeting or at any adjournment or postponement thereof at which the vote on the merger agreement is held but the $4.5 million termination fee has not been paid and is not payable because Benjamin Franklin has not entered into a definitive agreement with respect to, or consummated any Acquisition Transaction, then Benjamin Franklin must pay as promptly as possible (but in any event within three business days) following receipt of an invoice therefor, up to $750,000 of Independent's reasonably documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) actually incurred by Independent prior to the termination of the merger agreement proximately in connection with the negotiation, execution, delivery and performance of the merger agreement by Independent.

Amendment of the Merger Agreement

We may amend the merger agreement at any time prior to completion of the merger. However, after any approval of the merger by the Independent shareholders and the Benjamin Franklin shareholders, there may not be, without further approval of the shareholders, any amendment of the merger agreement that requires such further approval by shareholders under applicable law.

Fees and Expenses

Except as described above under Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursement, each party will bear all expenses incurred by it in connection with the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including fees and expenses of its own financial consultants, accountants and counsel.

Restrictions on Resales by Affiliates

Shares of Independent common stock to be issued to Benjamin Franklin shareholders in the merger have been registered under the Securities Act, and may be traded freely and without restriction by those shareholders not deemed to be affiliates (as that term is defined under the Securities Act) of Independent after the merger. Any subsequent transfer of shares, however, by any Benjamin Franklin shareholder who is deemed an affiliate of Independent after the merger will, under existing law, require either:

the further registration under the Securities Act of the Independent common stock to be transferred; or the availability of another exemption from registration.

An affiliate of Independent is a person who directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, Independent. These restrictions are expected to apply to the directors and executive officers of Independent and the holders of 10% or more of the outstanding Independent common stock. The same restrictions apply to the spouses and certain relatives of those persons and any trusts, estates, corporations or other entities in which those persons have a 10% or greater beneficial or equity interest.

Independent will give stop transfer instructions to the exchange agent with respect to the shares of Independent common stock to be received by persons subject to these restrictions.

Table of Contents

VOTING AGREEMENTS

Concurrently with the execution of the merger agreement, the directors and certain executive officers of Benjamin Franklin separately entered into voting agreements with Independent under which they agreed to:

restrict their ability to transfer or dispose of their shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock;

appear at the special meeting or otherwise cause their shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock to be counted as present thereat for purposes of calculating a quorum;

vote their shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock in favor of adoption and approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby;

vote their shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock against any action or agreement that would result in a breach of any covenant, representation or warranty, or other obligation or agreement, of Benjamin Franklin contained in the merger agreement; and vote their shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock against any proposal to acquire Benjamin Franklin by any person other than Independent or against any action, agreement or transaction intended to, or could reasonably be expected to, materially impede, interfere or be inconsistent with, delay, postpone, discourage or materially and adversely affect the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

The voting agreements were executed as a condition of Independent's willingness to enter into the merger agreement, and as an indication of the directors' and executive officers' support for the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by it and their willingness to vote their shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock in favor of the merger agreement at the special meeting.

On November 8, 2008, the date upon which these agreements were executed, these directors and executive officers of Benjamin Franklin had sole or shared voting power over 667,268 shares, or approximately 8.5%, of the outstanding shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock.

No separate consideration was paid to any of the directors or executive officers for entering into these voting agreements. However, the directors and executive officers of Benjamin Franklin may be deemed to have interests in the merger as directors and executive officers that are different from or in addition to those of other Benjamin Franklin shareholders. See The Merger Interests of Benjamin Franklin's Executive Officers and Directors in the Merger beginning on page 65 of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

ACCOUNTING TREATMENT

Independent will use the acquisition method of accounting for the merger, in accordance with the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 141 (Revised) Business Combinations, which Independent will adopt effective January 1, 2009. As of the date of the merger, Benjamin Franklin's assets and liabilities will be recorded at their respective estimated fair values. To the extent that the purchase price exceeds the estimated fair value of the net assets acquired, Independent will allocate the excess purchase price to all identifiable intangible assets. Any remaining excess will then be allocated to goodwill. In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the goodwill resulting from the merger will not be amortized to expense, but instead will be reviewed for impairment at least annually. To the extent goodwill is impaired, its carrying value would be written down to its implied fair value and a charge would be made to earnings. Core deposit and other intangibles with definite useful lives will be amortized to expense over their estimated useful lives.

Amongst the significant changes in accounting for business combinations as a result of SFAS 141R that have materially impacted the pro forma financial information disclosed in this document are as follows:

Prior to the adoption of SFAS 141R, equity consideration was measured using the price a few days before and after the measurement date, or the date when the terms and conditions of the acquisition have been agreed and the acquisition is publicly announced. As a result of SFAS 141R, common stock issued by Independent as consideration for the merger is measured at fair value as of the acquisition date on the relevant unaudited pro forma financial statements.

Prior to the adoption of SFAS 141R, direct acquisition-related costs would be included in the purchase price. As a result of SFAS 141R, direct acquisition-related costs totaling $1,640,000 are being shown as expenses.

As a result of SFAS 141R, all loans are transferred at fair value, including adjustments for credit. An allowance for loan losses is not carried over. The estimated fair value adjustment on loans is $(6,817,000), and Benjamin Franklin's Allowance for Loan Loss at September 30, 2008 was $6,853,000.

The financial statements of Independent issued after the merger will reflect the results attributable to the acquired operations of Benjamin Franklin beginning on the date the merger is completed. The unaudited pro forma financial information contained in this document has been prepared using the acquisition method of accounting. See Unaudited Pro Forma Financial Data beginning on page 22 of this document.

MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE MERGER

The following section describes the anticipated material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders (as defined below) of Benjamin Franklin common stock. This discussion addresses only those holders that hold their Benjamin Franklin common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Internal Revenue Code), and does not address all the U.S. federal income tax consequences that may be relevant to particular holders in light of their individual circumstances or to holders that are subject to special rules, such as:

financial institutions;

insurance companies;

individual retirement and other tax-deferred accounts;

persons subject to the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Internal Revenue Code;

persons eligible for tax treaty benefits;

entities treated as partnerships or other flow-through entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes;

foreign corporations, foreign partnerships and other foreign entities;

tax-exempt organizations;

dealers in securities;

persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar;

traders in securities that elect to use a mark to market method of accounting;

persons who are not citizens or residents of the United States;

persons that hold Benjamin Franklin common stock as part of a straddle, hedge, constructive sale or conversion transaction; and

Persons who acquired their shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock through the exercise of an employee stock option or otherwise as compensation.

The following is based upon the Internal Revenue Code, its legislative history, Treasury regulations promulgated pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code and published rulings and decisions, all as currently in effect as of the date of this document, and all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect, and to differing interpretations. Tax considerations under state, local and foreign laws, or federal laws other than those pertaining to U.S. federal income tax, are not addressed in this document.

Holders of Benjamin Franklin common stock should consult with their own tax advisers as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger as well as the effect of state, local, foreign and other tax laws and of proposed changes to applicable tax laws, in light of their particular circumstances.

For purposes of this discussion, the term "U.S. holder" means a beneficial owner of Benjamin Franklin common stock that is:

a U.S. citizen or resident, as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes;

a corporation, or entity taxable as a corporation, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States; or otherwise subject to U.S. federal income tax on a net income basis.

The U.S. federal income tax consequences of a partner in a partnership holding Benjamin Franklin common stock generally will depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. We recommend that partners in such a partnership consult their own tax advisers.

Table of ContentsTax Consequences of the Merger Generally

It is a condition to Independent's obligation to complete the merger that Independent receive an opinion of its counsel, Hogan & Hartson LLP, dated the closing date of the merger, substantially to the effect that the merger will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. It is a condition to Benjamin Franklin's obligation to complete the merger that Benjamin Franklin receive an opinion of its counsel, Foley Hoag LLP, dated the closing date of the merger, substantially to the effect that the merger will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. In rendering these opinions, counsel may require and rely upon representations contained in letters and certificates to be received from Independent and Benjamin Franklin. None of the tax opinions given in connection with the merger or the opinions described below will be binding on the Internal Revenue Service. Neither Independent nor Benjamin Franklin intends to request any ruling from the Internal Revenue Service as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger. Consequently, no assurance can be given that the Internal Revenue Service will not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of those set forth below. In addition, if any of the representations or assumptions upon which those opinions are based is inconsistent with the actual facts, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger could be adversely affected.

The determination by tax counsel as to whether the proposed merger will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code will depend on the facts and law existing at the effective time of the proposed merger. The following discussion assumes that the merger will constitute a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The following material U.S. federal income tax consequences will result from qualification of the merger as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code:

Independent, Merger Sub, Benjamin Franklin and Independent shareholders will not recognize any gain or loss as a result of the merger;

Benjamin Franklin shareholders will not recognize any gain or loss upon receipt of solely Independent common stock in exchange for their Benjamin Franklin common stock pursuant to the merger, except with respect to any cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Independent common stock;

the aggregate tax basis of the shares of Independent common stock received by a Benjamin Franklin shareholder in the merger (including any fractional share deemed received and redeemed, as described below) will equal the aggregate tax basis of its Benjamin Franklin common stock surrendered in the merger;

the holding period of the shares of Independent common stock received by a Benjamin Franklin shareholder in the merger (including any fractional share deemed received and redeemed, as described below) will include the holding period of the shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock exchanged therefor;

generally, cash payments received by Benjamin Franklin shareholders in lieu of fractional shares of Independent common stock will be treated as if such fractional shares were issued in the merger and then redeemed by Independent for cash. In general, this deemed redemption will be treated as a sale or exchange, provided the redemption is not essentially equivalent to a dividend. The determination of whether a redemption is essentially equivalent to a dividend depends upon whether and to what extent the redemption reduces the Benjamin Franklin shareholder's deemed percentage stock ownership of Independent. While this determination is based on each Benjamin Franklin shareholder's particular facts and circumstances, the Internal Revenue Service has ruled that a redemption is not essentially equivalent to a dividend and will therefore result in sale or exchange treatment in the case of a shareholder of a publicly held company whose relative stock interest is minimal and who exercises no control over corporate affairs if the redemption results in any actual reduction in the stock interest of the shareholder. As a result, the redemption of a fractional share of Independent common stock will generally be treated as a sale or exchange and not as a dividend, and a Benjamin Franklin shareholder

generally will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the basis in its fractional share of Independent common stock as set forth above. This gain or loss generally will be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the effective date of the merger, the holding period for the shares is greater than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations; and

A Benjamin Franklin shareholder who perfects dissenter's rights and who, as a result, receives cash in respect of the holder's Benjamin Franklin stock generally will recognize capital gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the adjusted tax basis of the holder's Benjamin Franklin stock surrendered. This gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if the shares of Benjamin Franklin stock have been owned by the holder for more than one year as of the effective date of the merger. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. If the cash received has the effect of the distribution of a dividend with respect to a holder, part or all of the cash received may be treated as a dividend and as ordinary income to the holder.

For purposes of the above discussion of the bases and holding periods for shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock and Independent common stock, Benjamin Franklin shareholders who acquired different blocks of Benjamin Franklin common stock at different times for different prices must calculate their basis, gains and losses, and holding periods separately for each identifiable block of such stock exchanged, converted, cancelled or received in the merger.

Reporting Requirements

A Benjamin Franklin shareholder who receives Independent common stock as a result of the merger will be required to retain records pertaining to the merger. Certain Benjamin Franklin shareholders are subject to certain reporting requirements with respect to the merger. The following description of the Independent capital stock does not purport to be complete and is qualified in all respects by reference to Independent s articles of organization and bylaws, and the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act.

Common Stock

General

Each share of Independent s common stock has the same relative rights and is identical in all respects with each other share of common stock.

Voting Rights

Each holder of common stock is entitled to one vote in person or by proxy for each share held on all matters voted upon by shareholders. Shareholders are not permitted to cumulate votes in elections of directors.

Preemptive Rights

Holders of common stock do not have any preemptive rights with respect to any shares that may be issued by Independent in the future. Thus, Independent may sell shares of its common stock without first offering them to the then holders of common stock.

Liquidation

In the event of any liquidation or dissolution of Independent, whether voluntary or involuntary, the holders of Independent s common stock would be entitled to receive pro rata, after payment of all debts and liabilities of Independent (including all deposits of subsidiary banks and interest on those deposits), all assets of Independent available for distribution, subject to the rights of the holders of any preferred stock which may be issued with a priority in liquidation or dissolution over the holders of common stock.

Preferred Stock

The Independent board of directors is authorized, subject to limitations by its articles of organization and by applicable law, to issue preferred stock in one or more series. The Independent board of directors may fix the dividend, redemption, liquidation and conversion rights of each series of preferred stock, and may provide for a sinking fund or redemption or purchase account to be provided for the preferred stock. The board of directors may also grant voting rights to the holders of any series of preferred stock, subject to certain limitations in Independent s articles of incorporation. Specifically, the holders of any series of preferred stock may not be given the right to more than one vote per share on any matters requiring the approval or vote of the holders of Independent's common stock, except as otherwise required by applicable law, the right to elect more than two Independent directors or, together with the holders of all other series of preferred stock, the right to elect in the aggregate more than six Independent directors.

Series B Junior Participating Cumulative Preferred Stock

General

Independent's articles provide for 15,000 shares of non-redeemable Series B Junior Participating Cumulative Preferred Stock (the "Series B Preferred Stock").

Table of Contents

Dividends

When and if a quarterly cash dividend is declared by the board of directors, the holders of shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends in an amount per share described in Independent's articles of organization, subject to the rights of the holders of any shares of any series of preferred stock ranking prior and superior to the Series B Preferred Stock with respect to dividends. The amount per share of the dividend to which the holders of Series B Preferred Stock will be entitled is equal to the greater of (a) $1.00 or (b) 1,000 times the aggregate per share amount of all cash dividends and non-cash dividends or other distributions declared on the common stock since the immediately preceding dividend payment date for the Series B Preferred Stock (other than dividends payable in shares of common stock), subject to adjustment as provided in the articles of incorporation.

Dividends will accrue and be cumulative on outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock as provided in Independent's articles of incorporation. Accrued but unpaid dividends do not bear interest. Dividends paid on the shares of Series B Preferred Stock in an amount less than the total amount of such dividends accrued and payable on such shares shall be allocated pro rata on a share-by-share basis among all such shares outstanding at that time.

Voting Rights

Each share of Series B Preferred Stock shall entitle the holder thereof to 1,000 votes on all matters submitted to a vote of the shareholders of the Corporation, which number of votes is subject to adjustment from time to time under Independent's articles of incorporation. In general, the holders of shares of Series B Preferred Stock and the holders of shares of common stock and any other capital stock of Independent with general voting rights will vote together as one class on all matters submitted to a vote of shareholders of the Corporation.

If dividends or distributions payable on the Series B Preferred Stock have not been paid when due, until all accrued and unpaid dividends and distributions, whether or not declared, on shares of Series B Preferred Stock outstanding are paid in full, Independent may not declare or pay dividends on, make any other distributions on, or redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire for consideration any shares of stock ranking junior to the Series B Preferred Stock as to dividends or upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up, may not declare or pay dividends on or make other distributions on any shares of stock ranking on a parity with the Series B Preferred Stock as to dividends or upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up, other than dividends paid ratably on the Series B Preferred Stock and all such parity stock on which dividends are payable or in arrears in proportion to the total amounts to which the holders of all such shares are then entitled. Further, in such a situation, Independent may not redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire for consideration shares of any stock ranking on a parity with the Series B Preferred Stock as to dividends or upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up, unless the shares are exchanged for shares of Independent stock ranking junior to the Series B Preferred Stock as to dividends or upon dissolution, liquidation or winding up and may not purchase or otherwise acquire for consideration any shares of Series B Preferred Stock, or any shares of any stock ranking on a parity with the Series B Preferred Stock as to dividends or upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up, except in accordance with a purchase offer made to all holders of such shares upon terms that the board of directors determines in good faith will result in fair and equitable treatment among the respective series or classes.

Liquidation, Dissolution or Winding-Up

In the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of Independent, the holders of Series B Preferred Stock shall receive an amount equal to accrued and unpaid dividends and distributions thereon, plus an amount equal to the greater of (1) $1,000.00 per share, subject to the adjustment as provided in the articles of incorporation, or (2) an aggregate amount per share equal to 1,000 times the aggregate amount to be distributed per share to the holders of common stock, subject to adjustment as provided in the articles of incorporation, or to the holders of stock ranking on a parity with the Series B Preferred Stock (other than distributions made ratably on the Series B Preferred Stock and all other such parity stock).

Table of Contents

Consolidation or Merger

If Independent enters into any consolidation, merger, combination or other transaction in which the shares of Independent common stock are exchanged for or converted into other consideration, the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock shall at the same time be similarly exchanged for or converted into an amount per share equal to 1,000 times the aggregate amount of consideration into which or for which each share of common stock is exchanged or converted, plus accrued and unpaid dividends, if any, payable with respect to the Series B Preferred Stock, subject to adjustment as provided in Independent's articles of incorporation.

Priority

The Series B Preferred Stock will rank junior to any other series of Independent's preferred stock later issued for the purpose of paying dividends and distributing assets on liquidation, dissolution or winding up, and shall rank senior to the common stock for these purposes.

Amendment

The holders of two-thirds or more of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock, voting separately as a class, must affirmatively vote to amend Independent's articles of organization in a manner that would materially alter or change adversely the powers, preferences or special rights of the Series B Preferred Stock.

Other Provisions

The articles of organization and bylaws of Independent contain a number of provisions that may have the effect of discouraging or delaying attempts to gain control of Independent, including provisions:

COMPARISON OF RIGHTS OF SHAREHOLDERS OF BENJAMIN FRANKLIN AND INDEPENDENT

This section describes the differences between the rights of holders of Benjamin Franklin common stock and the rights of holders of Independent common stock. While we believe that the description covers the material differences between the rights of the holders, this summary may not contain all of the information that is important to you. You should carefully read this entire document and refer to the other documents discussed below for a more complete understanding of the differences between your rights as a holder of Benjamin Franklin common stock and your rights as a holder of Independent common stock.

As a shareholder of Benjamin Franklin, a Massachusetts corporation, your rights are governed by Massachusetts law, Benjamin Franklin's articles of organization, as currently in effect, and Benjamin Franklin's bylaws, as currently in effect. When the merger becomes effective, you will become a shareholder of Independent, also a Massachusetts corporation, when you receive Independent common stock in exchange for your Benjamin Franklin shares. Independent's common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol INDB. As an Independent shareholder, your rights will be governed by Massachusetts law, Independent's articles of organization, as in effect from time to time, and Independent's bylaws, as in effect from time to time.

The following discussion of the similarities and material differences between the rights of Benjamin Franklin shareholders under the articles of incorporation and bylaws of Benjamin Franklin and the rights of Independent shareholders under the articles of organization and bylaws of Independent is only a summary of some provisions and is not a complete description of these similarities and differences. This discussion is qualified in its entirety by reference to Massachusetts law and the full texts of the articles of organization and bylaws of Benjamin Franklin and the articles of organization and bylaws of Independent.

Capitalization

Benjamin Franklin.

The total authorized capital stock of Benjamin Franklin consists of 75,000,000 shares of common stock, no par value per share. As of [], 2009], there were [] shares outstanding.

Independent

The total authorized capital stock of Independent consists of 30,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share and 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share. As of [], 2009], there were [] shares of common stock and no shares of preferred stock outstanding.

15,000 shares of the preferred stock are designated as Series B Junior Participating Cumulative Preferred Stock (Series B Preferred Stock). The holders of the Series B Preferred Stock, in addition to all voting rights required by Massachusetts law, are entitled for each share of such stock to 1,000 votes on all matters submitted to a vote of the shareholders, subject to adjustment for stock dividends and stock-splits. The board of directors of Independent may issue additional shares of preferred stock without shareholder approval.

Preemptive Rights

A preemptive right allows a shareholder to maintain its proportionate share of ownership of a corporation by permitting the shareholder to purchase a proportionate share of any new stock issuances. Preemptive rights protect the shareholders from dilution of value and control upon new stock issuances. Under Massachusetts law, unless the articles of organization say otherwise, shareholders have no preemptive rights. Neither Benjamin Franklin nor Independent has a provision authorizing preemptive rights; in fact, both Independent's and Benjamin Franklin's articles of organization contain provisions specifically denying them. Accordingly, neither Benjamin Franklin nor Independent shareholders have preemptive rights.

Dividends and Other Stock Rights

Benjamin Franklin

Holders of Benjamin Franklin common stock are entitled to receive and share equally in such dividends as the board of directors of Benjamin Franklin may declare out of funds legally available for such payment. If Benjamin Franklin issues preferred stock, holders of such stock may have priority over holders of common stock with respect to payment of dividends.

Independent

When and if a quarterly cash dividend is declared by the board of directors, if any Series B Preferred Stock were outstanding, the holders of shares of Series B Preferred Stock would be entitled to receive dividends in an amount per share described in Independent's articles of organization, subject to the rights of the holders of any shares of any series of preferred stock ranking prior and superior to the Series B Preferred Stock with respect to dividends. The amount per share of the dividend to which the holders of Series B Preferred Stock would be entitled is equal to the greater of (a) $1.00 or (b) 1,000 times the aggregate per share amount of all cash dividends and non-cash dividends or other distributions declared on the common stock since the immediately preceding dividend payment date for the Series B Preferred Stock (other than dividends payable in shares of common stock), subject to adjustment as provided in the articles of incorporation. Shares of Series B Preferred Stock, if issued, would not be redeemable.

Right to Call Special Meetings of Shareholders

Benjamin Franklin

Special meetings may be called:

by the president;

by a majority of the board of directors; and at the direction of holder(s) of at least 80% of the voting capital stock of Benjamin Franklin at the time issued and outstanding (or such lesser percentage, if any, (but not less than 40%) as determined to be the maximum percentage permitted by applicable law to establish for the call of such a meeting).

Independent

Special meetings may be called:

by the chairman of the board, if any;

by the president;

by a majority of the directors; and by the clerk or other officer at the written direction of the holders of at least two-thirds of the capital stock of the Independent entitled to vote at the meeting.

For shareholders to call a special meeting, Independent requires the written application of the holders of at least two-thirds of the capital stock, as opposed to the 80% of voting capital stock required by Benjamin Franklin (which may be reduced as low as 40%, if required by law). Therefore, it may be more difficult for Independent shareholders to call a special meeting.

Board of Directors Number and Term of OfficeBenjamin Franklin

Benjamin Franklin's articles of organization, as well as Section 8.06(b) of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act, require that Benjamin Franklin have three classes of directors, with one class elected at each annual meeting of shareholders to serve for a three year term. Benjamin Franklin's articles provide that the number of directors and their respective classifications will be fixed from time to time by the board of directors. If there is an interested shareholder, the vote of a majority of the independent directors then in office is also required to set the number and classification of directors. The current number of directors is set at 14. The vote of a plurality of the votes cast at an annual meeting is required to elect directors of Benjamin Franklin. No director shall be qualified to be elected to serve once he or she attains the age of 78.

Benjamin Franklin's articles of organization, as well as Section 8.06(e) of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act, also provide that any vacancy occurring in the board of directors, including vacancies resulting from an increase in the number of directors, may be filled only by a vote of a majority of the directors (even if such directors do not constitute a quorum). The articles of organization further provide that if, at the time a board vacancy occurs, there is an interested shareholder, the vacancy may be filled only by vote of a majority of the independent directors then in office. Since Section 8.06(e) does not include a similar provision requiring the vote of the independent directors if there is an interested shareholder, this provision of the articles of organization will not be effective unless the board of directors or the shareholders by a two-thirds vote elect to opt out of Section 8.06(b) of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act. A director elected to fill a vacancy will be elected to serve for the remainder of the full term of the class of directors in which the vacancy occurred or the new directorship was created.

Independent's bylaws and articles of organization provide that the number of directors shall be between three and 25 as fixed from time to time by vote of the board of directors at any regular or special meeting thereof. The board may increase or decrease the number of directors in one or more classes to ensure that the three classes shall be as nearly equal as possible. Preference Stock Directors are those who may be elected by the holders of any class or series of stock having a preference over the common stock as to dividends or upon liquidation. Directors other than Preference Stock Directors shall be divided into three classes as nearly equally as possible, creating a staggered board. At each annual meeting of shareholders, the successors of the class of directors whose term is expiring shall be elected by a plurality of the shareholders for a term of three years. No director shall continue to serve once he or she attains the age of 72. Except for Preference Stock Directors, newly created directorships and vacancies on the board shall be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors then in office, even though less than a quorum. Any director so elected shall hold office for the remainder of the full term of the class of directors in which the new directorship was created or the vacancy occurred.

The bylaws and articles of organization of both Benjamin Franklin and Independent provide for boards divided into three classes. Independent provides for an additional class of directors, the Preference Stock Directors, elected by preferred stock holders.

Table of ContentsBoard of Director NominationsBenjamin Franklin

Nominations for election to the board may be made only by or at the direction of the majority of the board of directors or a designated committee of the board of directors (if there is an interested shareholder, the affirmative vote of a majority of the independent directors is also required) or by any shareholder entitled to vote for the election of directors at the meeting who provides notice to the secretary. Notice must be delivered to, mailed or received in writing at the principal executive offices of the corporation not less than 120 days nor more than 150 days in advance of the date of Benjamin Franklin's proxy statement which was released to the shareholders in connection with the previous year's annual meeting of shareholders. If no annual meeting was held in the previous year or the date of the annual meeting has been changed by more than 30 days from the date of the previous year's annual meeting, notice must be received not later than the close of business on the 10th day following the date on which notice of the date of such meeting was publicly disclosed. The notice must set forth (a) the name, age and address of each nominee and shareholder proposing or supporting such nominee, (b) the principal occupation or employment of each nominee, (c) the class and number of shares of capital stock of the corporation beneficially owned by such nominee and shareholder proposing or supporting such nominee as of the date of such notice by the shareholder and (d) any other information relating to such nominee as would be required to be included in a proxy statement or other filings required to be filed pursuant to the proxy rules contained in the federal securities laws. The board of directors may reject a shareholder's nomination if the shareholder does not fully and timely comply with the notice requirements set forth in the bylaws.

Nominations for election to the board at the annual meeting of shareholders may be made by or at the direction of the board of directors, the nominating committee, or by any shareholder entitled to vote for the election of directors at the time of the nomination and at the time of the meeting who provides appropriate written notice to the clerk. Notice shall be delivered to or mailed and received at the principal executive offices of the corporation not less than 75 nor more than 125 days prior to the anniversary date of the immediately preceding annual meeting of shareholders; provided, however, that in the event that the meeting is called for a date more than 75 days prior to such anniversary date, notice must be so received not later than the close of business on the 20th day following the day on which notice of the date of the meeting was mailed or public disclosure of the date of the meeting was made, whichever first occurs.

The notice shall set forth (a) as to each person whom such shareholder proposes to nominate for election or re-election as a director, (i) the name, age, business address and residence address of the person, (ii) the principal occupation or employment of the person, (iii) the class and number of shares of capital stock of Independent, if any, which are beneficially owned by the person, (iv) any other information regarding the nominee as would be required to be included in a proxy statement or other filings required to be filed pursuant to the proxy rules, and (v) the consent of each nominee to serve if elected; and (b) as to the shareholder giving notice, (i) the name and record address of the shareholder, (ii) the class and number of shares of capital stock of Independent beneficially owned by the shareholder as of the record date for the meeting (if such date has been made publicly available) and as of the date of such notice, (iii) a representation that the shareholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the meeting to nominate the person or persons specified in the notice, (iv) a representation that the shareholder (and any party on whose behalf or in concert with whom such shareholder is acting) is qualified at the time of giving such notice to have such individual serve as the nominee of such shareholder (and any party on whose behalf or in concert with whom such shareholder is acting) if such individual is elected, accompanied by copies of any notification or filings with, or orders or other actions by, any governmental authority which are required in order for such shareholder (and any party on whose behalf such shareholder is acting) to be so qualified, (v) a description of all arrangements or understandings between such shareholder and each such nominee and any other person or persons (naming such person or persons) pursuant to which the nomination or nominations are to be made by such shareholder and (vi) such other information regarding such shareholder as would be required to be included in a proxy statement or other filings required to be filed pursuant to the proxy rules contained in the securities laws.

Removal and Resignation of Directors

Benjamin Franklin

Benjamin Franklin's bylaws provide that a director may resign at any time by giving written notice of his or her resignation to the President, the Secretary or the board of directors.

Benjamin Franklin's articles of organization, as well as Section 8.06(d) of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act, provide that directors may be removed only for cause and only by the shareholders. The articles of organization require a two-thirds vote of the shareholders to remove a director, while Section 8.06(d) requires only a majority vote of the shareholders. The majority vote provision contained in Section 8.06(d) will govern (rather than the two-thirds vote provision contained in the articles of organization) unless the board of directors or the shareholders by a two-thirds vote elect to opt out of Section 8.06(b) of the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act.

Independent

Independent does not make specific provision for a method of resignation, but the bylaws do provide that vacancies can arise from resignation. A director may be removed for cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of all shares of the corporation outstanding and then entitled to vote generally in the election of directors.

Amendment of Bylaws

Benjamin Franklin

Benjamin Franklin's bylaws may be amended or repealed by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors, unless at the time of such action there shall be an interested shareholder, in which case action shall also require an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the disinterested directors. The bylaws may also be amended or repealed by an affirmative vote of the holders of seventy-five percent (75%) of the total votes eligible to be cast at the meeting expressly called for such purpose, provided, however, if two-thirds of the disinterested directors recommend such amendment, such amendment will only require the affirmative vote of a majority of the total votes eligible to be cast by the shareholders.

Independent

The bylaws may be amended by the shareholders if appropriate notice has been given setting forth the substance of the proposed change. The bylaws, except those provisions that specify otherwise, may be amended or repealed by the board of directors.

Benjamin Franklin's bylaws provide that shareholders may amend or repeal the bylaws. The directors generally may also amend or repeal the bylaws, but must do so by a two-thirds majority rather than the simple majority required for transaction of other business. Independent's bylaws provide that the shareholders may amend the bylaws, but make no provision for repeal by the shareholders. Independent's bylaws may be amended or repealed by the directors.

Amendment of Articles of Organization

Benjamin Franklin

The articles of organization may be amended by the vote of seventy-five percent (75%) of the votes eligible to be cast by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders or, if two-thirds of the independent directors vote to recommend that the shareholders approve such amendment, the vote of a majority of the votes eligible to be cast by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders. In addition, any provision of the articles or organization that requires a greater than majority vote of shareholders can only be amended by such greater vote. Benjamin Franklin's articles or organization also provide that they may be amended by the board of directors without shareholder action to the fullest extent permitted by the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act.

Independent

Generally, the articles of incorporation of Independent may be amended or repealed only by a majority vote of the shareholders. Sections 4 and 5 of Article VI, dealing with preemptive rights and the amendment of the articles of incorporation, may be amended or repealed only by a two-thirds majority vote of the shareholders. Additionally, the articles of organization of Independent provide that they shall not be amended in any manner which would materially alter or change the powers, preferences or special rights of the Series B Preferred Stock so as to affect them adversely without the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds or more of the outstanding shares of Series B Preferred Stock, voting separately as a class.

Indemnification

Benjamin Franklin

Benjamin Franklin's bylaws provide that directors and officers at the level of vice president or above shall be indemnified by Benjamin Franklin to the maximum extent permitted by law. The board of directors may, in its discretion, indemnify officers serving below the level of vice president and employees of Benjamin Franklin. Massachusetts law applicable to Benjamin Franklin generally provides that a corporation may indemnify a director or officer who is a party to a threatened, pending or completed proceeding if he conducted himself in good faith and reasonably believed that his conduct was in the best interests of the corporation or that his conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, or, in the case of a criminal proceeding, he had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. Benjamin Franklin's bylaws also provide for payment of expenses incurred by a director or officer at the level of vice president or above, and in the board of director's discretion, for any officer serving below the level of vice-president or any employee of Benjamin Franklin, in connection with any threatened, pending or completed proceeding in advance of or after the final disposition of the proceeding, but only if such person undertakes to repay the amount advanced if it is ultimately determined that the person is not entitled to indemnification.

Independent's bylaws and articles of organization provide for the limitation on liability of directors and officers. Under the bylaws a director or officer shall not be personally liable to Independent or its shareholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer. However, the bylaws do not eliminate or limit the liability of a director or officer (i) for any breach of the director's or officer's duty of loyalty to the Independent or its shareholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) for improper distributions under Section 6.40 of Chapter 156D of the General Laws of Massachusetts, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director or officer derived an improper personal benefit. The stated intention of the bylaw provision is to limit the liability of a director or officer to the maximum extent allowed by law. To that end, the bylaws further provide that if the Massachusetts Business Corporation Act is amended to authorize the further elimination of, or limitation on, the liability of directors or officers, then the liability of a director or officer of Independent, in addition to the limitation of personal liability provided herein, shall be limited to the fullest extent permitted by such amendment or amendments.

The bylaws further provide that a director's or officer's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan for a purpose he or she reasonably believed to be in the interests of the participants in, and the beneficiaries of, the plan is conduct that satisfies the requirement that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of Independent.

Except in the circumstances described above, Independent may only indemnify a director or officer if so ordered by a court.

The determination of whether an officer or director has met the requirements for indemnification shall be made (i) if there are two or more disinterested directors, by the board of directors by a majority vote of all the disinterested directors, a majority of whom shall for such purpose constitute a quorum, or by a majority of the members of a committee of two or more disinterested directors appointed by vote; (ii) by special legal counsel; (iii) by the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director may not be voted on the determination. Independent may, in some circumstances, advance expenses to a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding.

Approval of Business Combinations

Benjamin Franklin

Benjamin Franklin's articles of organization generally require that approval of a merger, share exchange, consolidation or sale of substantially all of the assets of Benjamin Franklin requires the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the total votes that may be cast by Benjamin Franklin's shareholders on such a transaction. However, the two-thirds vote requirement does not apply, and only a majority shareholder vote is required, if the transaction has been recommended to the shareholders for approval by two-thirds of the directors then in office (unless there is an interested shareholder, in which case the recommendation to shareholders must also be approved by the vote of a majority of the independent directors then in office).

Benjamin Franklin's articles also provide that certain mergers, acquisitions, stock issuances, dispositions of assets, liquidations or recapitalizations involving an interested shareholder must be approved by the affirmative vote of holders of at least seventy-five percent (75%) of the outstanding voting shares of Benjamin Franklin common stock. However, the seventy-five percent (75%) vote requirement does not apply, and only a majority shareholder vote is required, if the proposed business combination with the interested shareholder is approved by two-thirds of the independent directors then in office, or if certain procedures and price requirements are met.

The bylaws and articles of organization of Independent do not contain any special provisions relating to the approval of business combinations.

Independent does not contain supermajority voting approval requirements for certain transactions as does Benjamin Franklin; therefore, it may be easier for Independent to engage in business combinations with interested persons.

Independent has adopted a shareholder rights plan, the rights under which become exercisable if an individual or group acquires beneficial ownership of 15% or more of Independent's outstanding common stock without prior approval of the board of directors. The rights would entitle each holder of common stock other than the acquirer to purchase our stock or stock of our successor on terms that would likely be economically dilutive to the acquirer.

SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

Independent

The time for Independent's shareholders to submit proposals for inclusion in Independent's proxy statement for Independent's 2009 annual meeting of shareholders in accordance with the standards contained in Securities and Exchange Commission Rule 14a-8 and Independent's bylaws has passed. Accordingly, no new shareholder proposals may be submitted to Independent for inclusion in Independent's proxy statement for Independent's 2009 annual meeting of shareholders. However, if the date of Independent's 2009 shareholder meeting is for a date more than 75 days prior to the date of the prior year's meeting, then notice must be received no later than the close of business on the twentieth (20th) day following the day notice of the date of the meeting was mailed or such public disclosure was made, whichever occurs first. You may contact the Independent corporate secretary at Independent's principal executive offices for a copy of the relevant provisions of Independent's bylaws regarding the requirements for making shareholder proposals and nominations for directors.

Benjamin Franklin

Benjamin Franklin will hold an annual meeting in the year 2009 only if the merger is not completed. If the merger is not completed, in order to be included in Benjamin Franklin's proxy statement and proxy card for the 2009 annual meeting or to be presented to the shareholders without inclusion in the proxy statement and proxy card for the 2009 annual meeting, proposals which shareholders intend to present at that meeting must be submitted in writing to the secretary of Benjamin Franklin on or before December 10, 2008. Nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to require Benjamin Franklin to include in its proxy statement and proxy card for such meeting any shareholder proposal which does not meet the requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission in effect at the time. Any such proposal will be subject to Rule 14a-8 of the rules and regulations promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission

ARTICLE II

MERGER CONSIDERATION; EXCHANGE PROCEDURES

Section 2.01 Merger Consideration. Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, at the Effective Time, automatically by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of Buyer, Company or any shareholder of Company:

(a) Each share of Buyer Common Stock that is issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall remain outstanding following the Effective Time and shall be unchanged by the Merger.

(b) Each share of Merger Sub Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be cancelled and retired at the Effective Time and automatically converted into one validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable share of common stock, $0.01 par value per share, of the Surviving Entity. Each certificate evidencing ownership of a number of shares of Merger Sub Common Stock shall be deemed to evidence ownership of the same number of shares of common stock, $0.01 par value per share, of the Surviving Entity.

(c) Each share of Company Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall become and be converted into, as provided in and subject to the limitations set forth in this Agreement, the right to receive 0.59 shares (the Exchange Ratio) of Buyer Common Stock (the Merger Consideration).

Section 2.02 Rights as Shareholders: Stock Transfers. All shares of Company Common Stock, when converted as provided in Section 2.01(c), shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be cancelled and retired and shall cease to exist, and each Certificate previously evidencing such shares shall thereafter represent only the right to receive for each such share of Company Common Stock, the Merger Consideration and any cash in lieu of fractional shares of Buyer Common Stock in accordance with this Article II and the right to receive any unpaid dividend with respect to the Company Common Stock with a record date occurring prior to the Effective Time. At the Effective Time, holders of Company Common Stock shall cease to be, and shall have no rights as, shareholders of Company, other than the right to receive the Merger Consideration and cash in lieu of fractional shares of Buyer Common Stock as provided under this Article II and the right to receive any unpaid dividend with respect to the Company Common Stock with a record date occurring prior to the Effective Time. After the Effective Time, there shall be no transfers on the stock transfer books of Company of shares of Company Common Stock, other than transfers of Company Common Stock that have occurred prior to the Effective Time.

Section 2.03 Fractional Shares. Notwithstanding any other provision hereof, no fractional shares of Buyer Common Stock and no certificates or scrip therefor, or other evidence of ownership thereof, will be issued in the Merger. In lieu thereof, Buyer shall pay to each holder of a fractional share of Buyer Common Stock an amount of cash (without interest) determined by multiplying the fractional share interest to which such holder would otherwise be entitled by the average of the last sale prices of Buyer Common Stock, as reported on The Nasdaq Global Select Market (Nasdaq) (as reported in The Wall Street Journal or, if not reported therein, in another authoritative source), for the twenty-five (25) Nasdaq trading days ending on the fifth trading day immediately preceding the Closing Date, rounded to the nearest whole cent (the Average Closing Price).

Section 2.04 Exchange Procedures.

(a) On or before the Closing Date, for the benefit of the holders of Certificates, (i) Buyer shall cause to be delivered to the Exchange Agent, for exchange in accordance with this Article II, certificates representing the shares of Buyer Common Stock issuable pursuant to this Article II (New Certificates) and (ii) Buyer shall deliver, or shall cause to be delivered, to the Exchange Agent an estimated amount of cash to be paid in lieu of fractional shares of Buyer Common Stock (such cash and New Certificates, being hereinafter referred to as the Exchange Fund).

(b) As promptly as practicable, but in any event no later than five (5) Business Days following the Effective Time, and provided that Company has delivered, or caused to be delivered, to the Exchange Agent all information that is necessary for the Exchange Agent to perform its obligations as specified herein, the Exchange Agent shall mail to each holder of record of a Certificate or Certificates who has not previously surrendered such Certificate or Certificates, a form of letter of transmittal (which shall specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates shall pass, only upon delivery of the Certificates to the Exchange Agent) and instructions for use in effecting the surrender of the Certificates in exchange for the Merger Consideration into which the shares of Company Common Stock represented by such Certificate or Certificates shall have been converted pursuant to Sections 2.01, 2.03 and 2.04 of this Agreement. Upon proper surrender of a Certificate for exchange and cancellation to the Exchange Agent, together with a properly completed letter of transmittal, duly executed, the holder of such Certificate shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor, as applicable, (i) a New Certificate representing that number of shares of Buyer Common Stock to which such former holder of Company Common Stock shall have become entitled pursuant to this Agreement and/or (ii) a check representing the amount of cash payable in lieu of a fractional share of Buyer Common Stock which such former holder has the right to receive in respect of the Certificate surrendered pursuant to this Agreement, and the Certificate so surrendered shall forthwith be cancelled. No interest shall be paid or accrued on any cash to be issued in lieu of fractional shares and any unpaid dividends and distributions payable to holders of Certificates. For shares of Company Common stock held in book entry form, Buyer shall establish procedures for delivery of such shares, which procedures shall be reasonably acceptable to Company.

(c) No dividends or other distributions with a record date after the Effective Time with respect to Buyer Common Stock shall be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered Certificate until the holder thereof shall surrender such Certificate in accordance with this Section 2.04. After the surrender of a Certificate in accordance with this Section 2.04, the record holder thereof shall be entitled to receive any such dividends or other distributions, without any interest thereon, which theretofore had become payable with respect to shares of Buyer Common Stock represented by such Certificate. None of Buyer, Company or the Exchange Agent shall be liable to any Person in respect of any shares of Company Common Stock (or dividends or distributions with respect thereto) or cash from the Exchange Fund delivered to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar law.

(d) The Exchange Agent and Buyer, as the case may be, shall not be obligated to deliver cash and/or a New Certificate or New Certificates representing shares of Buyer Common Stock to which a holder of Company Common Stock would otherwise be entitled as a result of the Merger until such holder surrenders the Certificate or Certificates representing the shares of Company Common Stock for exchange as provided in this Section 2.04, or, an appropriate affidavit of loss and indemnity agreement and/or a bond in such amount as may be required in each case by Buyer (but not more than the amount required under Buyer's contract with its transfer agent). If any New Certificates evidencing shares of Buyer Common Stock are to be issued in a name other than that in which the Certificate evidencing Company Common Stock surrendered in exchange therefor is registered, it shall be a condition of the issuance thereof that the Certificate so surrendered shall be properly endorsed or accompanied by an executed form of assignment separate from the Certificate and otherwise in proper form for transfer, and that the Person requesting such exchange pay to the Exchange Agent any transfer or other tax required by reason of the issuance of a New Certificate for shares of Buyer Common Stock in any name other than that of the registered holder of the Certificate surrendered or otherwise establish to the satisfaction of the Exchange Agent that such tax has been paid or is not payable.

(e) Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains unclaimed by the shareholders of Company for six (6) months after the Effective Time (as well as any interest or proceeds from any investment thereof) shall be delivered by the Exchange Agent to Buyer. Any shareholders of Company who have not theretofore complied with Section 2.04(b) shall thereafter look only to the Surviving Entity for the Merger Consideration deliverable in respect of each share of Company Common Stock such shareholder holds as determined pursuant to this Agreement, in each case without any interest thereon. If outstanding Certificates for shares of Company Common Stock are not surrendered or the payment for them is not claimed prior to the date on which such shares of Buyer Common Stock or cash would otherwise escheat to or become the property of any governmental unit or agency, the unclaimed items shall, to the extent permitted by abandoned property and any other applicable law, become the property of Buyer (and to the extent not in its possession shall be delivered to it), free and clear of all claims or interest of any Person previously entitled to such property. Neither the Exchange Agent nor any party to this Agreement shall be liable to any holder of shares of Company Common Stock represented by any Certificate for any consideration paid to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar laws. Buyer and the Exchange Agent shall be entitled to rely upon the stock transfer books of Company to establish the identity of those Persons entitled to receive the Merger Consideration specified in this Agreement, which books shall be conclusive with respect thereto. In the event of a dispute with respect to ownership of any shares of Company Common Stock represented by any Certificate, Buyer and the Exchange Agent shall be entitled to tender to the custody of any court of competent jurisdiction any Merger Consideration represented by such Certificate and file legal proceedings interpleading all parties to such dispute, and will thereafter be relieved with respect to any claims thereto.

(f) Buyer (through the Exchange Agent, if applicable) shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from any amounts otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder of shares of Company Common Stock such amounts as Buyer is required to deduct and withhold under applicable law. Any amounts so deducted and withheld shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the holder of Company Common Stock in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made by Buyer.

Section 2.05 Anti-Dilution Provisions. In the event Buyer changes (or establishes a record date for changing) the number of, or provides for the exchange of, shares of Buyer Common Stock issued and outstanding prior to the Effective Time as a result of a stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reclassification, or similar transaction with respect to the outstanding Buyer Common Stock, the Exchange Ratio shall be proportionately and appropriately adjusted for purposes of determining the Merger Consideration and (if applicable) the Average Closing Price shall be appropriately adjusted for purposes of determining the amount of cash paid in lieu of fractional shares and upon cancellation of Options in accordance with Section 2.06; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, no such adjustment shall be made with regard to the Buyer Common Stock if (i) Buyer issues additional shares of Buyer

Common Stock and receives consideration for such shares in a bona fide third party transaction undertaken in compliance with

Section 5.02(c), or (ii) Buyer issues employee or director stock grants or similar equity awards in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice.

Section 2.06 Options and Restricted Stock.

(a) Each option to purchase Company Common Stock (collectively, the Options) granted under Company's 2006 Stock Incentive Plan (the Company Equity Plan), whether vested or unvested, which is outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time and which has not been exercised or canceled prior thereto shall, at the Effective Time, be canceled and, on the Closing Date, Company or Company Bank shall pay to the holder thereof cash in an amount equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Company Common Stock provided for in such Option and (ii) the excess, if any, of the Per Share Merger Consideration over the exercise price per share of Company Common Stock provided for in such Option, which cash payment shall be made without interest and shall be net of all applicable withholding taxes. Per Share Merger Consideration shall be calculated by multiplying the Average Closing Price by the Exchange Ratio.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 2.06(a), in the event that a holder of Options (other than Thomas R. Venables and Claire S. Bean for whom all Options will be canceled and paid in accordance with Section 2.06(a)) so elects pursuant to a written election submitted to the Company at least one business day prior to the Closing Date (Assumption Election), which shall be in such form as shall be prescribed by the Company and reasonably satisfactory to Buyer, each Option held by such holder which is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the Effective Time, whether or not then vested and exercisable, shall cease to represent a right to acquire shares of Company Common Stock and shall be converted automatically into an option to purchase shares of Buyer Common Stock, and Buyer shall assume each Option, in accordance with the terms of the Company Equity Plan and stock option or other agreement by which it is evidenced, except that from and after the Effective Time, (i) Buyer, Buyer's Board of Directors and the Compensation Committee of its Board of Directors shall be substituted for the Company, Company's Board of Directors and the Compensation Committee of the Company's Board of Directors, (ii) each Option assumed by Buyer may be exercised solely for shares of Buyer Common Stock, (iii) the number of shares of Buyer Common Stock subject to such Option shall be equal to the number of shares of Company Common Stock subject to such Option immediately prior to the Effective Time multiplied by the Exchange Ratio, provided that any fractional shares of Buyer Common Stock resulting from such multiplication shall be rounded down to the nearest share, (iv) the per share exercise price under each such Option shall be adjusted by dividing the per share exercise price under each such Option by the Exchange Ratio, provided that such exercise price shall be rounded up to the nearest cent, and (v) the termination provisions of such Option shall be amended to provide that such Option shall remain outstanding until the earlier of the expiration date thereof and two years following the Effective Time, regardless of continuation of the holder's employment or other services to Buyer. Buyer and Company agree to take all necessary steps to effect the foregoing provisions of this Section 2.06(b).

(c) At least 30 days prior to the date of the Company Meeting, Company shall provide written notice to each holder of a then-outstanding Option (which shall be in such form as prescribed by the Company and reasonably satisfactory to Buyer) describing the holder's right to make an Assumption Election, indicating that the Company will provide the holder with a calculation of the Average Closing Price four (4) Business Days prior to the Closing Date, and notifying each holder (i) that the vesting of all Options will accelerate upon approval of the Merger by the Company's shareholders, and (ii) that all Options that remain unexercised as of close of business on the day prior to the Effective Date of the Merger for which no Assumption Election has been timely received will be cancelled as of the effective date of the Merger and the holders thereof will receive payment for such cancelled Option in accordance with the terms of Section 2.06(a). Such written notice will disclose the tax ramifications of receiving payment in accordance with Section 2.06(a), making an Assumption Election, and exercising the Option prior to the Closing Date, and will request each holder of an Option who does not intend to exercise his or her Options or to make an Assumption Election to provide a written acknowledgement of the cancellation of such Options and payment in accordance with the terms of this Section 2.06.

(d) All unvested shares of restricted Company Common Stock awarded under the Company Equity Plan shall automatically vest in full upon the approval of the Merger by the Company's shareholders according to

At the Effective Time, the Company Equity Plan shall terminate and the provisions in any other plan, program or arrangement providing for the issuance or grant of any other interest in respect of the capital stock of Company shall be of no further force and effect and shall be deemed to be deleted.
