Committees and Meeting Data

During 2006, the full Board of Directors held seven meetings. The Company's Board of Directors established a process whereby shareholders may send communications to the board. That process is set forth in the Policy for Shareholder Communications with Board Members, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit A.

The Audit Committee of the board currently consists of Messrs. Moylan, Constantino, Gould, and Holly all of whom are independent as defined under SEC and NASDAQ rules. The Audit Committee, which met six times during the year, appoints and oversees the work of the Company's independent accountants, as well as oversees that the Corporation has maintained and established processes for reliable accounting policies and financial reporting and disclosure, and such other duties as more particularly set forth in its Charter, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit B. The board has determined that Michael R. Holly qualifies as an Audit Committee Financial Expert as that term is defined by SEC rules.

The Compensation Committee of the board currently consists of Messrs. Constantino, Moylan, and Reilly, all of whom are independent as defined by NASDAQ rules. The Compensation Committee, which met seven times during the year, reviews and sets compensation for the Chief Executive Officer (CEO), all other executive officers of the Company and members of the Company's Board of Directors, establishes compensation, incentive and benefit plans for the CEO and all other executive officers and directors of the Company and approves payments under such incentive plans. The Executive Committee, consisting of Messrs. Mazzella, Constantino and Reilly, has authority to act on behalf of the full Board of Directors during intervals between meetings of the full board. The Executive Committee did not meet in 2006.

Table of Contents

The Nominating Committee consists of all members of the board who are independent as defined by NASDAQ rules. Currently, those individuals are Messrs. Constantino, Gould, Moylan, Holly, and Reilly. The Nominating Committee identifies the slate of director nominees for election to the Company's board, recommends candidates to fill vacancies occurring between annual shareholder meetings, and otherwise establishes and oversees the process for nominations for election to the Company's Board, in accordance with applicable laws and rules. The Nominating Committee met four times during the year. The Charter of the Nominating Committee was included as Exhibit D to the Company's Proxy Statement dated April 6, 2005.

The Nominating Committee will consider candidates recommended by shareholders and the procedures to be followed by shareholders in submitting such recommendations. The Nominating Committee continually seeks to identify qualified candidates for nomination to the Company's board; however it has not established any formal procedure in that regard. All candidates identified as potential nominees for election to the board, whether identified by a shareholder or otherwise, are evaluated in the same manner. Although neither the board nor the Nominating Committee has established any minimum qualifications for director nominees, any potential nominee must have sufficient experience, knowledge, ability and time to fulfill the obligations of a member of the Company's board.

The Company encourages all directors to attend annual meetings, but has not established any formal policy with respect to such attendance. All members of the Company's board attended last year's annual meeting with the exception of Mr. Holly who joined the board subsequent to the 2006 annual meeting.

During 2006, all directors nominated for re-election attended no less than 75% of the total number of meetings of the Board of Directors and any board committee on which he served, with the exception of Mr. Moylan, who missed two (of seven) meetings of the Compensation Committee due to illness.

Audit Committee Report.

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors is responsible for providing independent, objective oversight of the Company's accounting functions and policies, internal controls, and the selection and oversight of the Company's independent accountants, and providing laws, regulations and policies relating to the Company's accounting and reporting practices, and the quality and integrity of the Company's financial reports. The Audit Committee is currently composed of four directors, Messrs. Moylan, Constantino, Gould, and Holly, each of who is independent and meets the requirements of the National Association of Securities Dealers. The Audit Committee operates under a written charter approved by the Board of Directors, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit B.

Management is responsible for the Company's financial reporting process including its system of internal control, and for the preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The Company's independent auditors are responsible for auditing those financial statements. Our responsibility is to monitor and review these processes. It is not our duty or our responsibility to conduct auditing or accounting reviews or procedures. We are not employees of the Company and we may not be, and we may not represent ourselves to be or to serve as, accountants or auditors by profession or experts in the fields of accounting or auditing. Therefore, we have relied, without independent verification, on management's representation that the financial statements have been prepared with integrity and objectivity and in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and on the representations of the independent auditors included in their report on the Company's financial statements. Our oversight does not provide us with an independent basis to determine that management has maintained appropriate accounting and financial reporting principles or policies, or appropriate internal controls and procedures designed to assure compliance with accounting standards and applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, our considerations and discussions with management and the independent auditors do not assure that the Company's financial statements are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, that the audit of our Company's financial statements has been carried out in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards or that our Company's independent accountants are in fact independent.

Table of Contents

In this context, the Audit Committee reviewed and discussed with management the Company's audited financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006. The Audit Committee also met with representatives of the Company's auditors to discuss and review the results of the independent auditors' examination of the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006 and the matters required to be discussed by the Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61 (Communication with Audit Committees). In addition, the Audit Committee reviewed with management and representatives of the Company's auditors each Quarterly Report on Report 10-Q prior to its filing with the SEC.

The Audit Committee has also received from the Company's auditors the written disclosures required pursuant to the Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independent Discussions with Audit Committees) addressing all relationships between the auditors and the Company that might bear on the auditors' independence and has discussed the same with representatives of the Company's auditors.

Based upon the Audit Committee's discussions with management and the independent auditors, and the Audit Committee's review of the representations of management and the report of the independent auditors to the Audit Committee, the Audit Committee recommended that the Board of Directors include the audited financial statements in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006, to be filed with the SEC.

Pursuant to the agreement, in the event of a change in control of the Company, or in the event Mr. Mazzella's management responsibilities are materially diminished, the agreement may be terminated at Mr. Mazzella's option and he will be entitled to separation pay in a lump sum equal to a maximum of three times his aggregate annual compensation (including salary, bonus and benefits). For purposes under the agreement, a change in control of the Company may occur through a sale, merger, consolidation, sale of substantially all assets, the acquisition of more than 20% of the securities of the Company directly or indirectly by any person or entity, or a change within two years of a majority of the Board of Directors. Other provisions of Mr. Mazzella's employment agreement are summarized in the several tables which follow.

The Company has a severance agreement with Mr. LoBiondo which shall be payable in the event Mr. LoBiondo's employment is terminated for any reason other than death, cause, disability, or voluntary resignation. If Mr. LoBiondo's employment with Veramark is terminated for any reason other than those stated, Veramark shall pay Mr. LoBiondo, as severance pay, a lump sum amount equal to his annual base salary as of the date upon which his termination becomes effective. The company shall additionally provide Mr. LoBiondo, for a period of twelve months from the effective date of Mr. LoBiondo's termination of employment, with the benefits for which he was entitled as an employee immediately prior to his employment termination.

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

The following discussion and analysis should be read together with the compensation tables and related discussions and disclosures set forth in this Proxy Statement.

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors (the "Compensation Committee") sets the compensation levels of the Chief Executive Officer and other executive officers, members of the Board of Directors, establishes compensation, incentive and benefit plans for such individuals, and approves payments under such incentive plans. The Compensation Committee is composed of three directors, all of whom are independent non-employee directors with no interlocking relationships as defined by the SEC and applicable NASDAQ rules. The current members of the Compensation Committee are Charles A. Constantino, Chair, Andrew W. Moylan, and William J. Reilly. The Compensation Committee met seven times in 2006 and five times in 2007 to the date of this Proxy Statement. Committee meetings focused primarily on issues of compensation, officer and key management recruitment and development, and succession planning in light of the advent of the end of the term of David G. Mazzella's employment agreement at December 31, 2007. In this latter regard, Mr. Mazzella recently informed the Company of his decision to retire as an employee of the Company on December 31, 2007, and resign his position as President and Chief Executive Officer effective his retirement date and concurrent with the end of the term of his Employment Agreement dated March 28, 2005.

Overall Compensation

The Company's compensation for executive officers consists of base salary, reimbursement for certain benefits and perquisites, annual contingent cash bonus compensation, long-term stock options and supplemental retirement benefits.

In setting compensation of the Company's executive officers, the Compensation Committee seeks to maintain compensation that, in its judgment, is fair, reasonable and consistent with the Company's financial performance, similarly sized or industry related companies, and local conditions, all with a goal of attracting individuals capable of optimizing the Company's performance for the benefit of its shareholders. However, except in limited cases of individual promotion and expanded responsibilities, due to poor industry and Company fundamentals, the compensation paid to executive officers over the past several years has been relatively static.

Annual Salary and Other Annual Compensation

The compensation of Mr. Mazzella was established in his Employment Agreement dated March 28, 2005 and approved by the Board of Directors at that time. Many of the elements of his total compensation were carried over from his prior employment agreements with the Company. In setting Mr. Mazzella's annual salary base under his current agreement, the Compensation Committee reviewed, at that time, the reported compensation paid by comparable entities within the industry, and a number of compensation reports available to members of the committee. From this information, the Compensation Committee believes that Mr. Mazzella's annual compensation was competitive and consistent with the Company's objectives. Modest salary adjustments for other executive officers were approved by the Compensation Committee in 2006, based on recommendation of Mr. Mazzella and in light of individual performance.

Stock-Based Compensation Awards

The Compensation Committee believes that stock options can be an effective long term incentive and tool to recruit and retain employees and over the years stock options were regularly granted. However, in light of industry and Company fundamentals combined with newly adopted regulations regarding financial accounting for options, the Compensation Committee did not grant options pursuant to the Company's Stock Option Plan in 2005 and 2006, with one minor exception. The Compensation Committee granted options to purchase 10,000 shares of the Company's common stock to Michael R. Holly upon his election as a member of the Board of Directors, which grant was significantly less than those granted to new board members in prior years.

Bonuses

The Compensation Committee adopted the 2007 Management Bonus Plan to provide a performance based incentive to executive officers and key managers. The Plan establishes a maximum bonus pool based on achieving targeted Operating Income, as defined in the Plan, with a minimum Operating Income of $500,000 before any bonuses may be paid. The total plan award is allocated to the participants by the Chief Executive Officer and the Compensation Committee based on a review of salaries and individual performance. The Plan is consistent with similar plans adopted in prior years, including 2005, although no payouts were made.

Based on individual performance and recommendation of the Chief Executive Officer, the Company awarded Mr. Martin F. LoBiondo a cash bonus of $10,000 in 2006.

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors has approved a bonus arrangement and opportunity for David G. Mazzella, based on the Company achieving significant improvements in revenue and profitability in 2007. The Compensation Committee established specific minimum levels of reported net sales and operating income for the calendar year ending December 31, 2007. If these specific financial performance goals are achieved, Mr. Mazzella will earn $165,000 under this bonus arrangement. If only one of these goals is achieved, Mr. Mazzella will receive $82,500. In the event one of these goals was not met but the actual achievement was close to the specific minimum level, the Compensation Committee retains the discretion to award a bonus to Mr. Mazzella. In the event the revenue growth objective or the level of profitability is substantially exceeded, the Compensation Committee may, in its discretion, award Mr. Mazzella a higher bonus amount.

Retirement Plans

The Company sponsors a non-qualified unfunded Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan (SERP) which provides certain key-employees, including all of its executive officers with a defined pension benefit. The Compensation Committee believes that the SERP is an important part of its compensation philosophy and necessary for the recruitment and retention of qualified employees.

Compensation Committee Report

In reviewing the total compensation paid to its executive officers, the Compensation Committee believes that it is consistent with the Company's objectives.

This discussion contains forward looking statements that are based on our current plans, considerations, and expectations regarding future compensation programs. Actual compensation programs adopted in the future may differ materially to those currently in place and summarized in this Proxy Statement.

The Compensation Committee has reviewed and discussed with management the Compensation Discussion and Analysis contained in this Proxy Statement and based on such review of and the discussions, the Compensation Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in this Proxy Statement.

Directors' Stock Options. In 2004 and for a number of years prior, each outside director received each year an option to purchase 10,000 shares of the Common Stock at a price based upon the closing price of the Common Stock on the last trading day of the prior year. As well, in 2004, each outside director received a one-time option grant to acquire 30,000 shares of the Company's common stock which vest ratably over a three-year period, at a price based upon the closing price on the date of grant. A similar one-time grant was to be made to any new directors of the Company. The purpose of that grant is to retain (and in the case of new directors, attract) highly skilled individuals and encourage cooperative team efforts, while providing an incentive to enhance long term stockholder value. In 2006 the one-time grant to new directors was reduced to 10,000 shares. The option price of director's grants were 100% of the closing price of the Common Stock on the applicable date if an incentive stock option and 85% of such closing price if a non-qualified option. Outside directors receive $1,000 for each board meeting attended in person and $200 for each meeting attended by telephone conference. Since 2005, in lieu of the annual grant of options previously approved by the Board of Directors, each outside director receives an annual retainer of $10,000, payable quarterly, in addition to fees for each meeting attended. In 2005, the Board of Directors adopted a Directors' Deferred Compensation Plan, pursuant to which a director may elect to defer any portion of the annual retainer and meetings' fees. Deferred amounts, until paid pursuant to the plan, will earn interest quarterly at the same rate as the Company earns on its invested cash during the same period.

Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

The Company has an employment agreement with Mr. Mazzella and a severance agreement with Mr. LoBiondo. See Employment Agreements above.

PROPOSAL NO. 2 RATIFICATION OF APPOINTMENT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

The Audit Committee has appointed Rotenberg & Co. LLP as independent auditors for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2007. Rotenberg & Co. LLP acted as the independent auditors for the fiscal years ending December 31, 2006, 2005, and 2004. Representatives of Rotenberg & Co. LLP are expected to be present at the Meeting. They will be available to respond to appropriate questions and will have an opportunity to make a statement if they so desire.

Although the appointment of independent auditors is not required to be submitted to a vote by stockholders, the Audit Committee believes as a matter of policy that it is appropriate that the stockholders ratify the Board's appointment. If the stockholders should not ratify the appointment of Rotenberg & Co. LLP, the Audit Committee will consider other certified public accountants for appointment.

Audit Fees. During fiscal years 2006 and 2005, the aggregate fees billed to the Company by its independent auditors were $70,500 and $65,200, respectively, for the annual audit of the financial statements and review of the financial statements included in the Company's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q.

Financial Information Systems Design and Implementation Fees. Our independent auditors did not render information technology services to us during the fiscal year ending December 31, 2006.

Tax Fees. The aggregate fees billed by its independent auditors for professional services rendered to us during fiscal years 2006 and 2005, other than the audit services referred to above, were $7,000 for both years, all of which was for tax preparation and tax consulting fees.

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors has considered whether provision of the non-audit related services described above is compatible with maintaining the independent accountants' independence and has determined that those services have not adversely affected Rotenberg & Co. LLP's independence.

It is the Audit Committee's policy, as reflected in its Charter, to pre-approve all audit and non-audit services performed by the Company's independent auditors. Following a presentation by management to the Audit Committee describing the types of services to be performed in connection with, and the projected budget for, a particular engagement, the Audit Committee informs management whether it approves the engagement and the budget.

2. Complying With Law. All employees, officers and directors of the Company should respect and comply with all of the laws, rules and regulations of the United States, foreign countries, and the states, counties, cities and other jurisdictions, in which the Company conducts its business, or laws, rules and regulations of which are applicable to the Company.

While this Code does not summarize all laws, rules and regulations applicable to the Company and its employees, officers and directors, certain laws are summarized below. Please consult with your supervisor or the Company's legal counsel and the various guidelines which the Company has prepared on specific laws, rules and regulations.

Insider Trading. The Company and its employees, officers and directors must comply with the insider trading prohibitions applicable to the Company and its employees, officers and directors. Generally, employees, officers and directors who have access to or knowledge of confidential or non-public information from or about the Company are not permitted to buy, sell or otherwise trade in the Company's securities, whether or not they are using or relying upon that information. This restriction extends to sharing or tipping others about such information especially since the individuals receiving such information might utilize such information to trade in the Company's securities. In addition, the Company has implemented trading restrictions to reduce the risk, or appearance, of insider trading.

Company employees, officers and directors are directed to the Company's Insider Trading Policy or the Company's legal counsel if they have questions regarding the applicability of such insider trading prohibitions.

would not only violate Company policy but could also be a criminal offense. State and local governments, as well as foreign governments, may have similar rules. Your supervisor or the Company's legal counsel can provide guidance to you in this area.

Licensed Third Party Software. Unauthorized duplication of copyrighted computer software violates the law and is contrary to the Company's standards of conduct. The Company disapproves of such copying and recognizes the following principles as a basis for preventing its occurrences:

- w The Company will neither engage in nor tolerate the making or using of unauthorized software copies under any circumstances.
- w The Company will provide legally acquired software to meet its legitimate software needs in a timely fashion and in sufficient quantities for all of the Company's computers.
- w The Company will comply with all license or purchase terms regulating the use of any software the Company acquires or uses.
- w The Company will enforce strong internal controls to prevent the making or using of unauthorized software copies, including effective measures to verify compliance with these standards and appropriate disciplinary measures for violation of these standards.

It is the Company's policy that third party developed software may be used to conduct Company business only if it is (i) authorized and licensed for use by the Company; or (ii) is in the public domain and available for use without royalty by the Company. This policy applies to all Company employees and to all contractors working on the Company's premises or computers.

Conflict of interest may also arise when an employee, officer or director, or members of his or her family, receives improper personal benefits as a result of his or her position in the Company, whether received from the Company or a third party. Loans to, or guarantees of obligations of, employees, officers and directors and their respective family members may create conflicts of interest. Federal Law prohibits loans to directors and executive officers under certain circumstances.

The purpose of business entertainment and gifts in a commercial setting is to create good will and sound working relationships, not to gain unfair advantage with customers. No gift or entertainment should be offered, given, provided or accepted by any Company employee, family member or an employee or agent unless it: (a) is not a cash gift, (b) is consistent with customary business practices, (c) is not excessive in value, (d) cannot be construed as a bribe or payoff; and (e) does not violate any laws or regulations. Please discuss with your supervisor or the Company's legal counsel any gifts or proposed gifts which you are not certain are appropriate.

It is almost always a conflict of interest for a Company employee to work simultaneously for a competitor, customer or supplier. You are not allowed to work for a competitor, as a consultant or board member. The best policy is to avoid any direct or indirect business connection with the Company's customers, suppliers or competitors, except on the Company's behalf.

Conflicts of interest are prohibited as a matter of Company policy, except under guidelines approved by the Board of Directors or committees of the Board. Conflicts of interest may not always be clear-cut, so if you have a question, you should consult with your supervisor or the Company's legal counsel.
