COMMODORE APPLIED TECHNOLOGIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)

June 30, 2004

Note A - Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements for Commodore Applied Technologies, Inc. and subsidiaries (the "Company" or "Applied") have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. The financial statement information was derived from unaudited financial statements unless indicated otherwise. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements.

In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. Operating results for the six-month period ended June 30, 2004 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2004.

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited financial statements included in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2003.

Certain prior-year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared under the assumption that Applied will continue as a going concern. Such assumption contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. For the six months ended June 30, 2004, and for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, Applied incurred losses of $1,447,000, $2,957,000, $5,972,000, and $6,554,000, respectively. Applied has also experienced net cash (outflows) inflows from operating activities of $(955,000), $(121,000), and $965,000 for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary should Applied be unable to continue as a going concern. Applied's continuation as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to generate sufficient cash flow to meet its obligations on a timely basis, to obtain additional financing as may be required, and ultimately to attain profitability. Potential sources of cash include new contracts, external debt, the sale of new shares of company stock or alternative methods such as mergers or sale transactions. No assurances can be given, however, that Applied will be able to obtain any of these potential sources of cash.

Anticipated losses on contracts are provided for by a charge to income during the period such losses are identified. Changes in job performance, job conditions, estimated profitability (including those arising from contract penalty provisions) and final contract settlements may result in revisions to cost and income and are recognized in the period in which the revisions are determined. Allowances for anticipated losses totaled $376,000 and $313,000 at June 30, 2004 and December 31, 2003, respectively.

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its majority-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated. The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The Company accounts for stock-based compensation under the recognition and measurement principles of APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related Interpretations. No stock-based employee compensation cost is reflected in net income (loss), as all options vested had an exercise price equal to the market value of the underlying common stock on the date of grant or the date of repricing. No options were issued or vested during the quarters ended June 30, 2004 and 2003, therefore, there would be no effect on net income and earnings per share if the company had applied the fair value recognition provisions of FASB Statement No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, to stock-based employee compensation.

Note B - Supplemental cash flow information

The Company has identified three reportable segments in which it operates, based on the guidelines set forth in the Financial Accounting Standards Board's Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 131. These three segments are as follows: (i) Commodore Advanced Sciences, Inc., which primarily provides various engineering, legal, sampling, and public relations services to Government agencies on a cost plus basis; (ii) Commodore Solutions, Inc., which is commercializing technologies to treat mixed and hazardous waste; and (iii) Corporate overhead and other miscellaneous activities.

Applied evaluates segment performance based on the segment's net income (loss). Applied's foreign and export sales and assets located outside of the United States are not significant. Summarized financial information concerning Applied's reportable segments is shown in the following tables.

Note E - Net loss per common share

Basic net loss per common share ("Basic EPS") excludes dilution and is computed by dividing net loss available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net loss per common share ("Diluted EPS") reflects the potential dilution that could occur if stock options or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock. The computation of Diluted EPS does not assume exercise or conversion of securities that would have an anti-dilutive effect on net loss per common share.

Options and warrants to purchase 123,370,308 and 34,274,905 shares of common stock as of June 30, 2004 and 2003, respectively, were not included in the computation of Diluted EPS. The inclusion of the options would have been anti-dilutive, thereby decreasing net loss per common share.

Note F - Contingencies

Applied has matters of litigation arising in the ordinary course of business which in the opinion of management will not have a material adverse effect on its financial condition or results of operations.

12

ITEM 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview

Edgar Filing: COMMODORE APPLIED TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form 10-Q

Commodore Applied Technologies, Inc. and subsidiaries (the "Company" or "Applied"), is engaged in providing a range of engineering, technical, and financial services to the public and private sectors related to (i) remediating contamination in soils, liquids and other materials and disposing of or reusing certain waste by-products by utilizing SET; and (ii) providing services related to, environmental management for on-site and off-site identification, investigation remediation and management of hazardous, mixed and radioactive waste.

The Company owns technologies related to the separation and destruction of mixed waste, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) and chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs). The Company is currently working on the commercialization of these technologies through development efforts, licensing arrangements and joint ventures. Through Commodore Advanced Sciences, Inc. ("Advanced Sciences") formerly Advanced Sciences, Inc., a subsidiary acquired on October 1, 1996, the Company has contracts with various government agencies and private companies in the U.S. As some government contracts are funded in one-year increments, there is a possibility for cutbacks as these contracts constitute a major portion of Advanced Sciences' revenues, and such a reduction would materially affect the operations. However, management believes its existing client relationships will allow the Company to obtain new contracts in the future.

The Company currently requires additional cash to sustain existing operations and to meet current obligations and ongoing capital requirements. The Company's current monthly operating expenses exceed cash revenues by approximately $100,000.

The Company's auditor's opinion on our fiscal 2002 and 2003 financial statements contains a "going concern" qualification in which they express doubt about the Company's ability to continue in business, absent additional financing. The Company currently requires additional cash to sustain existing operations and to meet current obligations and ongoing capital requirements.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Three and Six Months Ended June 30, 2004 Compared to Three and Six Months Ended June 30, 2003

Revenues were $112,000 and $294,000 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 compared to $132,000 and $296,000 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2003. Such revenues were primarily from the Company's subsidiary ASI.

In the case of ASI, revenues were $112,000 and $254,000 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 as compared with $132,000 and $296,000 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2003. Advanced Sciences has experienced a significant decrease in revenue caused by fewer contracts and overall, less work being performed by Advanced Sciences. The revenues from Advanced Sciences consisted of engineering and scientific services performed for the United States government under a variety of contracts, most of which provide for reimbursement of cost plus fixed fees. Revenue under cost-reimbursement contracts is recorded under the percentage of completion method as costs are incurred and include estimated fees in the proportion that costs to date bear to total estimated costs. ASI has two major customers, each of which represent more than 10% of total revenue. The combined revenue for these two customers was $112,000 and $254,000 respectively, (100% of total revenues) for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004. Cost of sales was $166,000 and $244,000 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 compared to $198,000 and $403,000 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2003. The decrease in cost of sales is due to greater efficiencies in staffing and further reduction of sales associated expenses in the three and six months ended June 30, 2004.

In the case of Commodore Solution, Inc. ("Solution"), revenues were $0 and $40,000 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 as compared with $0 and $0 respectively for three and six months ended June 30, 2003. Solution had one major customer during the three and six-month periods ended June 30, 2004 which accounted for $40,000 or 100% of the total revenues for the period. Revenues, when recognized, are primarily from remediation services performed for engineering and waste treatment companies in the U.S. under a variety of contracts. Cost of sales was $89,000 and $263,000 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 as compared to $0 and $0 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2003. The cost of sales, when incurred, is attributable to sales and marketing expenses for the SET technology. Anticipated losses on engagements, if any, will be provided for by a charge to income during the period such losses are first identified.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2004, the Company incurred research and development costs of $1,000 and $7,000 respectively as compared to $0 and $59,000 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2003. Research and development costs include salaries, wages, and other related costs of personnel engaged in research and development activities, contract services and materials, test equipment and rent for facilities involved in research and development activities. Research and development costs are expensed when incurred, except those costs related to the design or construction of an asset having an economic useful life are capitalized, and then depreciated over the estimated useful life of the asset. The decrease in research and development expense is due to the continued commercialization focus of the Company.

General and administrative expenses for continuing operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 were $472,000 and $918,000 respectively as compared to $472,000 and $686,000 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2003. This difference is primarily due to the increased salaries for the executives of the Company for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2004.

In the case of Advanced Sciences, general and administrative costs for the three and six-month periods ended June 30, 2004 were $19,000 and $121,000 respectively compared to $149,000 and $225,000 respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2003. This decrease is primarily due to the reallocation of salary of the President of Advanced Sciences and the Controller of CASI to CAT G&A. Solution incurred general and administrative costs of $71,000 and $149,000 respectively for the three and six-month periods ended June 30, 2004 as compared to $35,000 and $97,000 respectively for the three and six-month periods ended June 30, 2003. This increase was primarily due to (i) expenses associated with a USEPA demonstration of the SL-2 system at a client location in Clive, Utah for inclusion to the Company's nationwide permit for PCB destruction; (ii) expenses associated with the fabrication, shipment and mobilization of the Large Hot Box and ancillary equipment at a client location in Oak Ridge, Tennessee; and (iii) increased sales and marketing effort for Solution's services, which may result in contracts that will produce revenue in 2004.

Interest expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 was $97,000 and $180,000, respectively as compared to $108,000 and $158,000, respectively for the three and six months ended June 30, 2003. The increase in interest expense of $22,000 is primarily related to higher, amortized non-cash interest costs and exit fees associated with the Milford/Shaar Note and the Weiss Group Note.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

At June 30, 2004 and December 31, 2003 Advanced Sciences had a $17,000 and $64,000 outstanding balance, respectively, on its revolving line of credit.

The Company currently requires additional cash to sustain existing operations and to meet current obligations and ongoing capital requirements. The Company's current monthly operating expenses exceed cash revenues by approximately $100,000 at June 30, 2004.

The Company's auditor's opinion on our fiscal 2002 and 2003 financial statements contains a "going concern" qualification in which they express doubt about the Company's ability to continue in business, absent additional financing. The Company currently requires additional cash to sustain existing operations and to meet current obligations and ongoing capital requirements.
